Each uniform has two pairs of trousers but I sat on the odd cigaret with some. The works for $20 plus this ad, and for $10 more I'll throw in the greatcoat."

Liquor To Be Freer

Federal Restrictions Being Dropped—No Change in British Columbia Yet

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP)—The office of Prime Minister Mackenzie King has announced the repeal of the restrictions on the sale of liquor which were imposed in 1942. The Wartime Alcoholic Beverages Order—except as it applies to advertising—has been revoked. Commenting on the repeal, Ontario Liquor Commissioner W. G. Webster declared that Ontario will do all it can to get more liquor but added that an increase in the liquor ration depends on the quantity of spirits in storage and the capacity of distillers to increase production of beverage alcohol.

NO CHANGE IN B.C.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 6 (CP)—W. F. Kennedy, chairman of British Columbia Liquor Control Board, said that repeal of federal liquor restrictions would mean no change in the August ration.

CAN STRIKE EFFECT HERE

Canneries on the Skeena River and other north coast points so far have felt little restriction from the American Can Co. strike which for the last week has posed a serious threat to operators of fish and vegetable canners in the south. Foresight of cannery operators, combined with the distance from the can manufacturing plant, made it expedient for northern canneries to stock up heavily at the beginning of the season.

Thus, while southern canners, who usually operate "hand to mouth" in the matter of cans, are in a difficult position due to the stoppage, northern canners for a time at least are in a position to continue operations at the height of the salmon run. Some canneries are, however, in a precarious position. So far as is known only two canneries, North Pacific and Inverness, have felt a shortage of cans and that may be rectified. Complicating the strike at the American Can Co.'s Vancouver plant is the sympathetic attitude of longshoremen and seamen's unions which refused to transport or handle "hot" cans.

One prospect which may result from the strike is a lag in availability of cans after the strikers return to work. Undoubtedly southern canners will have first claim on the cans produced at the close of the stoppage which might leave northern canneries short until the southern demands are filled. Negotiations for a settlement of the strike in Vancouver are still deadlocked today.

The conference is being held in the House of Commons chamber with Prime Minister Mackenzie King presiding and the Premiers if all nine provinces, with attending delegations, present. Tomorrow there will be a suspension for the reception to Lieutenant-General H. D. G. Crerar.

PASSING OF MRS. ALDER

Pioneer Friends Will Regret to Learn of Her Death in Victoria Yesterday

Many friends in Prince Rupert from pioneer days will deeply regret to learn of the death which took place in St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, yesterday following a long illness of Mrs. W. J. Alder, wife of the former city commissioner of Prince Rupert. Mrs. Alder lived here in the very early days but had made her home in Victoria for many years, although later revisiting the city.

Mrs. Alder was seventy years of age and was born in Minnesota. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Federa Brynildson of Seattle, and two sons, George Alder of Los Angeles, and Harold Alder, who is in the Canadian Army in the South Pacific. There are two grandchildren, Grace Brynildson in Seattle, and Lucille Alder in Los Angeles.

The funeral will take place from Haywards Undertaking Parlors in Victoria.

Pietro Mascagni . . .

If the father of Pietro Mascagni, who is dead in Rome, had had his way, Italy would have had, perhaps, just another lawyer, but the world never would have heard "Cavalleria Rusticana."

The elder Mascagni, a baker, was willing to make sacrifice to educate his son for a legal career but discouraged the boy's attempts to learn the rudiments of music.

Pietro had manifested an inclination toward that art from childhood, but when his father's opposition became pronounced there was danger of the son's musical career being ended abruptly until the intervention of an amiable uncle. The latter was permitted to adopt Pietro, who then pursued his musical studies diligently and unhampered.

It was in 1889, while thus engaged, that Mascagni composed his one-act opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" and entered it in a contest conducted by a music publisher.

Italy soon lost its head over "Cavalleria Rusticana" and Mascagni was hailed as the successor of Verdi—what Italy had longed for and looked for since days of that great composer.

The popularity of "Cavalleria Rusticana" immediately spread beyond the confines of Italy. Opera-goers in Berlin, London and Paris demanded it. Everywhere it was presented its success was instantaneous.

Italy may have been inglorious in many ways but, through such artists as Mascagni and his works, her culture shall still go down in history.

Popular Smithers Couple Married

SMITHERS, Aug. 6—Wilfred Watson, proprietor of the Hudson Hotel and Miss Stella McIntee, recently clerk in Eby's Hardware store were married at Wainwright, Alberta, home of the bride, on Thursday of last week. They arrived home in Smithers on this Thursday's train. On Thursday evening they were enthusiastically chivvied by a large number of their friends who kidnapped them through town on a decorated barge drawn by a car with much honking of motor horns. The newly married couple later entertained their friends at the Hudson Hotel where they will make their home.

SHOT IT OUT AT TERRACE

Bulkley Valley Pacific Coast Rangers Pay Visit for Competition

SMITHERS, Aug. 6—A team of sharpshooters from No. 52 Company of the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers, comprising two members from each of the four detachments in this company, these being Quick, Telkwa, Smithers and Hazelton, travelled to Terrace by motor car to accept a challenge from No. 70 Company of the Rangers at Terrace to shoot it out with them on the military rifle range near that town.

The boys were headed by Capt. N. H. Kitpatrick and on Sunday morning they went to the rifle range and met their eight opponents who were led by Capt. M. Dubeau of No. 70 Company.

The men from the interior were rather over-awed by the impressive rifle range and butts that were ready for their operations but gave an excellent account of themselves and feel that they would have carried off the honors but for the fact that two of their men got mixed up and fired one competition both on the same target which threw out their scores and left the Terrace boys leading at the final count by 10 points.

They were entertained at a very sumptuous dinner when they got back to Terrace and fraternized with their contemporaries for a time before taking the road back home.

The Smithers men were very pleased with their expedition and with the fine manner in which they were entertained while in Terrace. They are looking forward to meeting the Terrace boys again when they are "Home on the Range," or even again at Terrace on the Terrace range and feel that they can yet take the measure of the Terrace Rangers.

LAKES DISTRICT BEAUTIES HERE

Miss Omineca and Miss Tweedsmuir Park Here From Burns Lake

BURNS LAKE, Aug. 6—Miss Iris Edlund and Miss Virginia Keefe, who will represent the Lakes District at the "Miss America" beauty contest in Prince Rupert this week at the Civic Centre Carnival, left for the coast city at the end of the week. They were given an enthusiastic send-off by many well-wishing supporters. Miss Edlund, as Miss Omineca, and Miss Virginia Keefe, as Miss Tweedsmuir Park, will vie with other beauties of Prince Rupert for the title of "Miss Northern British Columbia" and a trip to Atlantic City.

The local entrants were determined only after an interesting and exacting elimination contest. A close runner-up was Miss Dorothy Scherk of East Ootsa Lake who was, apparently, favored by a large proportion of the audience at the final.

country for that matter) under military dictation is a terrifying one. We have had military dictation long enough. What the world wants now is peace.

My plan would be to have the military personnel pull out of Germany bag and baggage and let the German people direct their own education. Surely Germany has had enough hard experience in the last six years to convince her that she must change her system of ideology. If Germany of the future persists in her pre-war Nazism, her neighbors could then act

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSSES

Closing exercises of the daily interdenominational vacation Bible School, which has had an enrolment of 159 pupils since it opened two weeks ago, were held in the I.O.D.E. Hall Friday night. The exercises created considerable excitement among the 170 children, parents and friends who attended.

The Bible School, which has been conducted under the leadership of Miss Paula Maxwell and Miss Bernice Dalan of Seattle, gave instruction to children from four to 14 in Bible lessons and a variety of handicrafts such as oil painting, construction of Indian tee-pees, foreign headgear, lighthouses, and in folk dances and singing. Instruction was given added interest by the use of lantern slides.

Assisting Miss Maxwell and Miss Dalan in the school were Mrs. R. Green, Mr. Andrew Gatten, Mrs. G. Cook and Miss Loverna Linney who took an active part in the instruction.

A highlight of the Bible School was a picnic on Wednesday morning at which games were played and substantial quantities of ice cream, donated by Henry Friesen, were enjoyed.

Miss Maxwell and Miss Dalan leave on tonight's train for Vanderhoof where they will conduct another summer Bible school.

SOO SUDS TAKE ONE GAME LEAD

Close Play In Intermediate Softball League Semi-Final

With a barrage of hits in the eighth and ninth innings the Soo Suds Intermediates overcame a nine-run deficit to take the opening game of a best two out of three Intermediate Softball League semi-final series 10-9 from the Dry Dock.

Pahl and Wilcox led the Army team in hits, the former collecting three doubles and a triple while Wilcox gathered four singles.

A beautiful running catch by rightfielder, Denman of the Dry Dock headed off a Soo Suds rally that threatened to get started in the seventh inning. The game was played before approximately 500 fans at Gyro Park Sunday afternoon and, if the same brand of ball is dished up for the rest of the series, the spectators are in for a treat. The second game will be played at Algoma Park Wednesday evening. The other series between Fortress and Acropolis M.P.'s opens Monday night at Algoma.
