MADAME PETAIN STAYS LOYAL

Seeks to Make Former Vichy Chief of State Happy in Pyrenees Fortress

PARIS, Sept. 20 (P)—Madame Petain, after four years as first lady of France, nine months of exile in Germany and three months in French custody for questioning, now is living obscurely in Paris, momentarily preoccupied with how to get warm clothing for her aged husband in a fortress cell in the Pyrenees.

Her main worry, friends say, is whether she can make practical arrangements for seeing the deposed Marshal as often as possible. Under regular prison rules the former Vichy chief of state, held in Portalet Fortress since commutation of his death sentence for interregnum with the enemy, is allowed visitors only 30 minutes each week and the nearest village is several miles away.

His wife, who is 22 years younger than he, is anxious to learn what quarters she might find near the fortress. There now is talk of moving the 89-year-old prisoner to a warmer climate. Portalet is often blocked by snow-drifts covering the zig-zag uphill road to the fortress for weeks on end.

If medical authorities find Petain unable to stand the rigors of the Pyrenees mountain climate, it is possible he may be moved.

PRO-REC AT SEAL COVE TO OPEN FRIDAY

The Recreational Council is planning to open the Seal Cove School on Friday evening at 7:15. There will be gymnastic classes for boys, under 18. The first session will be one of experimentation to find out how the program can be adapted to the facilities.

Pat Forman, of the local Boy Scout organization, is bringing a group of Scouts along. George McGregor, Physical Fitness Director, says, "If last Wednesday evening is any indication of the local enthusiasm for gymnastics, we should certainly have a busy evening at Seal Cove."

Theodore Bryant, postmaster of Ladysmith, Vancouver Island, who has the distinction of being one of the oldest if not the oldest postmasters still active in Canada, is paying a visit to the city. He arrived by motor last evening from the south and sails tonight by the Prince Rupert for Vancouver enroute home. While here he is visiting his nephew, Reginald Bryant, Seventh Avenue East.

PEtain Pessimistic

Madame Petain received her first letter from her husband recently and he appeared pessimistic and discouraged, friends reported.

Rarely in evidence at Vichy during Petain's rule, Madame Petain, a tall, dignified former society woman, goes about the streets of Paris and rides the subway without ever being recognized.

One of the complications of her life now is the legal confiscation of her husband's property, which is almost inextricably bound with her own under French law. Lawyers are trying to straighten out the legal tangle.

Confiscation holdings include "L'Ermitage," a two-story house and farm on the French Riviera. Petain spent all his holidays at "L'Ermitage" and planned to live there permanently in his retirement. With "L'Ermitage" lost, Madame Petain says she feels no attachment to any particular place and wants only to be near her husband if possible.

FLAG RACES GETTING HOT

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (P)—The American League pennant race is blazing hotter than ever today since Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians set the tired Detroit Tigers down with a 2-0 shut-out. The loss cost Detroit a precious half-game of their lead over the Washington Senators, and they now top Washington by one game. A looping fly ball single into right field was all that kept Feller from the second no-hit game of his career.

In the other American League games, played, Boston took an 11-10 decision from Philadelphia, and St. Louis beat New York twice 6-5, and 4-3. In the National League, Chicago won a vital game from St. Louis, 4-1, to retain the league lead. Boston shut out Philadelphia 4-0 and Brooklyn won over New York, 5-4.

Today's baseball games are as follows:
American League—Washington at New York, Detroit at Cleveland, Philadelphia at Boston.
National League—Chicago at St. Louis, Boston at Brooklyn.

The vicar, however, is using his influence and one of his church wardens has been in touch with the ministry of food which has promised to consider arranging for release of a fish frier from the forces so that Thaxted may again have its fish and chips.

"Here, in the east, our imagination has been stirred by your past and magnificent undertakings. It is the wish of many of us to travel the great Alaska Highway. It is our wish also to welcome you to New Brunswick—one of North America's outstanding playgrounds.

WAY CLEARED FOR HOME BUILDING HERE; NEXT MOVE IS CITIZENS'

Local Housing Association Wants People to Get Together and Act On Progress That Has Been Made

Clearing its way through a mass of initial obstacles, the Prince Rupert Housing Association has been instrumental in extending the National Housing Administration to this city and has interested the Canada Life Insurance Co. to act as agency for the construction of planned homes here.

Now, the committee feels, the move is up to Prince Rupert people. "The machinery is now available," says Maurice Brydges, secretary of the association, whose persistence has done much to dispel official indifference.

"The Canada Life Insurance Co. is definitely interested in acting as financial agency for a community of good homes here. Now it is up to the citizens to get together and decide on what type of project they want."

For this purpose, a meeting of all Housing Association members and other interested persons has been called for Friday night in City Hall council chamber.

Mr. Brydges, who with D. C. Stevenson, president of the Housing Association, is keen on seeing the development of a modern residential subdivision, feels that Friday night's meeting should clear the way for a confident program of homebuilding.

"Scores of people have expressed interest in intent of the National Housing Act and the ways in which it can be applied here. That is the purpose of the meeting," he declared.

Search for a sub-division site has so far pointed to Section Four, west of Acropolis Hill, where there is space for 15 to 20 homes with a magnificent harbor view. Other sections of the city have also been considered.

"However, it is certainly not necessary for everyone to build within a proposed sub-division. They can build wherever they want, providing the site is approved by the National Housing Administration," Mr. Brydges explained. "Our purpose in seeking to build in a new area is that we feel we can build more cheaply by constructing several houses as a unit." The local association has invited F. W. Nicholls, director of

Toronto Out—Montreal Is Hanging On

Canadians Have Bad Day in International Baseball Play-offs

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (P)—In the International League's play-off series yesterday, things went badly for both Canadian teams.

Toronto was knocked out of the running for the Governor's Cup when Newark took a 6-5 win to give them the best of seven semi-final series four games to two. The game was one of the most exciting ever seen in the play-offs. Behind most of the game, Toronto blasted over two runs in the first half of the eighth to tie the score at 3-3. Then, in the first half of the tenth inning, with the score still tied, The Leafs pushed over two more runs, to give them a 5-3 lead. However, Mike Portner of the Bears cracked out a three-run homer in the second half of the tenth to take the game and the series for the American club. Newark now will meet the winner of the Baltimore-Montreal semi-final series.

Ealtimore is leading in the series with Montreal, 3-2 after winning last night 6-4. This game also was broken up by a home run. It came in the tenth inning, off the bat of Sherman Lollar, the league's 1945 batting champion, and finished a game that had been tied at 4-4. One man was on base when Lollar smashed his terrific clout, that went into the left field stands.

Election Lines Drawn . . .

Endorsation by representatives of the Liberal and Conservative executives of Former Premier T. D. Pattullo as Independent candidate in the forthcoming provincial election tends to clarify the local political situation. Mr. Pattullo, tacitly if not officially, will carry the banner of coalition in the contest. At least, that is the present indication.

Rich in experience and an influential, if isolated, figure in politics both provincially and nationally, the former Premier has the qualifications which should still make him a strong candidate for re-election in the riding which he has represented for so many years. The fact that he will be able, if elected, to sit as a private member and devote himself solely to the interests of his own riding, may put him in an advantageous position as a constituency representative.

Lines for the contest seem now to be drawn. Now we can start to consider the records and the issues.

RESTORATION OF VIENNA CHURCH

VIENNA, Sept. 20 (C)—Restoring the shattered beauty of Stefanskirche, which more than any other building breathed the religious spirit of Vienna, will take at least two years, says Ella Buchweiser-Kitchelt.

She is the architect in charge of rebuilding the noted old church ruined by shells and incendiary bombs looted by vindictive SS men retreating as the Russians entered the city.

Her father, Bruno Buchweiser, is a construction engineer and the restoration of Stefanskirche is his biggest project. The daughter, who studied here and in England, with church architecture her hobby, directs a staff of designers and fights a daily battle to get material for the reconstruction.

"Our first job is to get a roof over the building and get the windows rebuilt to save what interior there is left before winter," she says. "Perhaps the Americans and British will help us. Perhaps they will haul material. If they do we might have Stefanskirche rebuilt in two years."

WINNIPEG VS. PRINCE RUPERT

Details of Gory Street Fight Recounted in Assize Court

An exchange of caustic territorial courtesies between former Winnipeg residents and three hometown Prince Rupert men apparently was the spark which set off a bloody Third Ave. tussle last May 24 which is having its sequel in Assize Court here.

Giving evidence in his own behalf, Louis Johnson, snipyard worker, 1117 Seventh Ave. E., who is charged jointly with John Muirhead with committing grievous bodily harm on the persons of Arnie Hedstrom and Robert Morison, told the court that a short time before the encounter, Morison had made a stirring remark about Winnipeg people.

"You're just a bunch of prairie chickens," the defendant Johnson quoted Morison as saying.

"Well, we haven't got our feet in the muskeg," retorted the defendant to Morison.

The two defendants and their wives were walking east on Third Ave. between Sixth St. and Fulton St. when the exchange of remarks took place, testimony revealed.

The attack on Hedstrom and Morison allegedly took place several minutes later on Third Ave. near the intersection of First St., shortly before midnight.

Both Morison and Hedstrom received cuts on their faces, claimed to have been caused by broken beer glasses. Hedstrom testified that as he passed the Fairway Market, a man whom he later recognized as Moorehead "jumped out at me."

"I grabbed his arm and twisted the glass out of his hand," Hedstrom told the court.

Morison and Hedstrom were accompanied by Harry Skogmo, who said that just as they passed the Fairway Market Moorehead "jumped" Hedstrom and Johnson "jumped" Morison.

"As the fight began I heard glass break. It was all over in a few seconds."

"Do you see the parties in the court today who made the attack?" asked Mr. Justice Coady.

"Yes, there," replied Skogmo. "In the accused box?" asked the judge.

"Yes," Skogmo replied. Called by the defence, Mrs. Johnson, wife of one of the accused, said that she and her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Moorehead were walking along Third Ave. when she heard rapid footsteps behind and cried a warning that they were about to be attacked.

A brief scuffle ensued between her husband and Morison and Moorehead and Hedstrom.

Johnson testified that when the scuffle started he had been struck a blow on the face by Skogmo and had then been tackled by Morison.

There was considerable blood in the vicinity of the fight, witnesses agreed.

T. W. Brown is conducting the defence and W. O. Fulton is acting for the crown.

The trial is continuing today. Jurors are James Bremner, foreman, Sigurd Esplin, Robert Parker, Robert A. Beatty, Fred M. Bennett, William S. Bree, Paul Gaudette, Victor Lewis, George Geddes, Wesley Banta, Walter E. Allen, Norman Bellis.

Letter from Mr. Pattullo

To the Electors of Prince Rupert Constituency:

Having represented this Constituency in the Provincial Legislature since 1916, I wish to say that it is my intention to accept nomination on October 4 next, as a candidate in the election of October 25, to represent you in the next Parliament.

I appreciate the confidence which has been placed in me for so long and later on I shall comment upon some of the many activities in which I have taken part upon your behalf. I shall do so both for the information of many newcomers to our city and as a reminder to those who have been here for many years.

One special subject I wish to refer to today because the rumor factory is already at work and statements untrue in substance and in fact have been made even in the Dominion Parliament to make it appear that I have been antagonistic to Labor.

My attitude in respect of Labor, has found expression from time to time in the Statute Law of this Province and it evidences a consistent policy for the advancement of the social and industrial welfare of our people. There are a lot of Labor votes in Prince Rupert and I want to get as many of them as I can. I would be satisfied to get all I think I deserve.

Every year, immediately prior to, or during the session of the legislature, our Government met delegations representing various avenues of endeavor and discussed in detail the recommendations of the delegations. While it was not possible to carry out all of the recommendations at the time they were made, yet some of them would be carried out at the time and some postponed and brought into effect at a later date. Every year progress was made and we moved faster than any other part of the Dominion of Canada. In fact complaint was often voiced to me in the East that we were moving too fast in relation to the rest of Canada.

You will recall that our Province was the first in the Dominion to adopt the Old Age Pension and in recent years I was the first public man in Canada to advocate abolition of a "Means" test in respect of the Old Age Pension; that age should be the sole qualification. This policy has recently been announced in the proposed program of the Dominion Government.

Without detailing all measures covering a period of more than a quarter of a century such as Mothers' Allowances, let me headline some of the accomplishments during my term of office as Premier of the Province:

- (a) Regulations more efficiently enforced with larger inspectors' staff;
- (b) Male minimum wages established and scope widened;
- (c) Board of Industrial Relations set up;
- (d) Wage levels raised;
- (e) Workers' hours regulated;
- (f) Safety Branch minimizes accidents;
- (g) Apprenticeship system established;
- (h) Trade and correspondence schools regulated;
- (i) Domestic employment conditions improved;
- (j) Nurses' working conditions bettered;
- (k) Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration machinery established;
- (l) Benefits of Workmen's Compensation widened.

It is obvious that in varying degrees, we are practically all laborers in our respective spheres and it has been my duty to try to be helpful to everybody engaged in legitimate endeavor, not as representing just one section of the community, but every section.

In our complex society it often happens that various interests

"Bevin Boys" Jump Jobs In Coalfields

LONDON, Sept. 20 (C)—At least 1,000 "Bevin boys"—young men directed to work in coal mines—have left their posts and cannot be traced, out of 22,000 ordered to this employment since October, 1943.

A young pit worker recently was fined $13.50 at Aberdare, Glamorganshire, for absencing himself from work and the prosecutor acting for the ministry of labor said, "a rather serious situation is developing in South Wales."

Hundreds of "Bevin boys" had left their employment in this area. More than 400 are said to have disappeared from Scottish coalfields.

Officials said they believed disappearances are not reported in many cases as colliery owners are not anxious to secure their return to the mines.

clash. This is not surprising when we contemplate that just as no two men look exactly alike, so no two men think exactly alike. The problem, therefore, is to reach common ground.

As we finish the job we are doing today, we tackle the next one tomorrow. Time so flies that tomorrow in a twinkling is today and today just as suddenly falls into the abyss of the past. Can we not profit from reflection on this endless chain of events? So reflecting, I almost surprise myself at the wide range of activities which have fallen to my lot. Later on when I review some of them, I feel sure that they will be of interest to you, and I hope that they will so commend themselves that you will say: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; continue the good work."

Very faithfully yours,
T. D. PATTULLO.

150-Mile Trek of 1,500 Allied Prisoners Described by Ft.-Lt. John J. Walky of Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20 (C)—The story of a 22-day forced march made by 1,500 Allied war prisoners through the bitter cold of a German winter with insufficient food, clothing and medical supplies, while the advancing Russian Army followed a few days behind, have been described by Ft.-Lt. John J. Walky, one of the men who made the trek.

From his diary, Walky told the story of the torture march in a series of articles in the Winnipeg Tribune, a story of slow marches across snow-swept German plains made on scanty food as a result of the 150-mile trek the men were in deplorable condition. They all suffered from extreme malnutrition, and in the hospital of the prison at Luckenwalde there were cases of dysentery, with many prisoners suffering from frostbite, the foot, diarrhoea, bronchitis, rheumatism and numerous other ailments.

At the Russian offensive on Jan. 15, 1945 spread jubilation among the prisoners of the camp near Bankau, 12 miles from the Polish border. But joy turned to fear, then to despair as two days later the Germans ordered them to pack their belongings and prepare to move. The march was Sagan, 150 miles away, and the men walked as far as possible to enhance their chances of being overpowered by the Russians.

Conditions Were Bad

During the first few nights the prisoners collapsed on the road and only sheer will power and courage kept them going. Nights were spent vainly trying to sleep in cold barns, sheds and stalls. During the day the men's minds were occupied solely with thoughts of food. The trading market flourished. Rings, watches and lighters were exchanged for bread. The price of four loaves of bread was a good wrist watch and civilians took full advantage of the men.

Accustomed to the lies of German guards, the prisoners were led in disbelief when told they would march to Sagan and board a train for the rest of their journey. But the news that Sagan had been evacuated and there was no place to go, they marched to the town of Burg where they waited for a train. The freight yards of Burg were used as a parking square and the men were packed into closed freight cars in which the doors were locked.

Because of the close confinement—as many as 65 men were packed into each car—many of the passengers fainted. In addition the guards wouldn't allow the men with dysentery to leave the cars.

On Feb. 8 the haggard group of prisoners were crowded into the barbed wire of Stalag 3. There they were to sleep on the floor, so close together it was impossible to move. German rations were insufficient to restore health but the men were relieved, knowing they would be no more marching.

POST-WAR RANK USE

Capt. John Canuck Back on Civvie Street May Use His Military Title

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (C)—What is known in army parlance as "the telephone book routine order" is coming in for wide usage these days as demobilized servicemen retain their rank in civilian life.

By this order Capt. John Canuck, back in Civvie Street, can use his rank in the telephone directory and in other ways.

The routine order does not provide specifically for recognition of ranks of permanent force officers after they retire from service, but it is a generally accepted rule and as one officer pointed out, "nobody is going to start calling Gen. Crerar, Mr. Crerar after his retirement becomes final."

A permanent force man serves to an age limit, retires and becomes a civilian. He can, however, join the Non-Permanent Active Militia and be re-commissioned and there is nothing to say that he can't use his title.

Officers other than permanent force men—this includes the great number of men who came into the army during the war—are classed as N.P.A.M. men for purposes of retirement and when they apply for discharge they automatically go into the reserve of officers.

The period of national emergency is not considered to be over and while it remains, certain demobilized officers will be placed in the reserve of active officers.

There is also a corps reserve of officers who wish to retain their unit affiliations. These officers can remain on their unit's peacetime reserve.

Then there is a reserve general list of officers for unattached men.

Officers going into these reserves apply each year to remain on the reserve list, submitting medical certificates on their fitness. There is no time limit when they must relinquish their military titles but they automatically are removed from the lists at certain age limits depending on ranks. All these reserve officers in any category can turn out in uniform for mess dinners and ceremonials but in the case of unit reserve officers they do not necessarily take an active part in the routine of their regiments.

For instance, Capt. Jack Canuck can get his uniform out of the mothballs to attend his regiment's annual dress dinner or the local remembrance day ceremonial. He can use the military title—captain—in an advertisement for his insurance business, in the telephone directory and at the golf club. But it is likely that he will never be called upon to perform an active military role again.

Officers, permanent or non-permanent in category, who have been maimed and are therefore unable to qualify for listing on the reserve, are permitted to retain their titles and wear their uniforms on proper occasions.

In the case of non-commissioned officers and men, it was said that they do not retain ranks for use in civilian life. However, if they rejoin N.P.A.M. units, they naturally can use the rank they attain in those units. Men in this category can get permission to wear their old uniforms on ceremonial occasions by writing to the commanding officer of the nearest naval, military or air force district.

4 YEARS OF GOOD GOVERNMENT

The Coalition Government of British Columbia was formed in 1941. Throughout four difficult years it has not only co-operated to the utmost limit with the national war effort, but it has maintained high standards of provincial administration and laid the foundations for a better tomorrow.

At the forthcoming election, the Coalition Government will appeal to the people for a mandate to carry on. It will seek support on the basis of its record and offer a continuation of its programme of sound progressive administration.

These are the highlights of that record:

SOCIAL SERVICES—This Government has managed its finances well and, despite heavy war costs, has advanced every phase of its social services. Old age pensioners now receive up to $60 per month per couple. Pensions for mothers and their dependents and allowances for unemployables have been increased. Hospitalization and medical treatment benefits have been extended.

LABOR'S POSITION—B. C.'s Coalition Government has led the way in giving Labor the charter it sought—freedom to organize and collective bargaining. Workmen's Compensation, because of recent amendments, is the best in America. Wages are generally higher and working conditions are better than in any other province.

VETERAN'S ASSISTANCE—The Coalition Government is giving every possible aid within its authority to veterans. One million acres of fertile land have been set aside for their use under the Veterans' Land Act. Veterans have been given preference in all provincial civil service appointments. These—and many more—things have been done for the returned men, supplementing the Federal Rehabilitation of Veterans Programme.

AGRICULTURE—This government, recognizing the paramount importance of Agriculture, British Columbia's second industry, has assisted with comprehensive legislation and far-reaching planning. $500,000 has been provided for the purchase of machinery to enable farmers to clear their land. Tax exemptions on all farm improvements benefit every farmer, fruit-grower and dairyman. Irrigation problems are being reviewed in order to alleviate financial difficulties.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION—The B. C. Power Commission, established by the Coalition Government, is the most significant contribution to the economic development of this province in its entire history. Its application will bring higher standards of living to rural areas and will aid in the establishment of new industries and employment.

EDUCATION—For teachers in rural areas of B. C. the highest minimum salaries in Canada have been established. Aid is now being given to municipalities and school districts for educational costs and construction of school buildings. A major expansion programme, totalling $5,000,000, for the University of British Columbia has already been started. The Cameron Commission on Education appointed by the Coalition Government has now completed its report.

FINANCE—During the war the provincial revenues have increased very considerably. Under the wise administration of the Coalition Government, British Columbia has made a major financial contribution to the war effort. It has maintained all essential services, yet has instituted many new and progressive measures. It has built up cash reserves and credits which are now available for its reconstruction programme.

● These are but a few of the achievements of four years of Coalition Government — the record of an honest and aggressive Administration.

● British Columbia cannot afford to embark upon any new form of government under untried leadership.

NEW LOCATION FOR LIBRARY

Future Home May be in Building With Other Services

Discussion regarding re-locating the library resulted in a decision by the library board last night to await future developments in respect to a building being secured which would also house other community services. The board was holding its regular monthly meeting. Those present were Aid. N. E. Arnold, chairman, T. B. Black, secretary, Mrs. Arnold Flaten, Mrs. S. Roper and Miss Olive Van Cooten, librarian.

The librarian's reports for the months of July and August were submitted with circulation figures as follows:

- Fiction 1145.
- Non-fiction 242.
- Juvenile 328.
- Pay Section 382.

Several long outstanding books have been returned to the library but there are many uncovered. The board is seeking the co-operation of the public in having borrowed books returned within the usual time limit.

Several worthwhile books have been donated to the library by the Naval service.

SALOME IS AT CAPITOL

Vancouver Girl Is Star of Exciting Color Picture

Yvonne De Carlo, exotic Vancouver girl, is the torrid star of "Salome, Where She Danced," exciting technicolor picture, which is being featured at the Capitol Theatre here this Friday and Saturday.

The British Columbia girl as seen as a Continental dancing favorite brought to America during the post Civil War period. A fugitive from German war lords of the time, she is accompanied by a newspaper reporter on an overland trek to California. Rod Cameron portrays the reporter. It is during the hazardous trip that Salome is forced to dance publicly in a remote Arizona community, the town which consequently changed its name to "Salome Where She Danced."

Young David Bruce is seen as "Salome's" bandit-lover. Walter Slezak, as the Colonel Dimitrioff in the story, appears as another of the dancer's admirers.

San Francisco, in its most colorful era, provides a background for the production's sweeping climax. A Berlin music hall and an early California mansion are among the other special sets.

It is Miss De Carlo's "Salome" dance, however, which is said to arouse the most comment among the moviegoers. The agile young glamour girl delivers a performance both dazzling and torrid.

MISS NORTHERN BRITISH COLUMBIA AT ATLANTIC CITY

Miss Georgina Patterson, second from the left above, was winner of the "Miss Congeniality" award at the recent "Miss America 1945" pageant at Atlantic City. Miss Patterson, while she did not win the major contest, made a fine impression for her beauty and personality at the Atlantic City beauty show and was very popular. She was one of seven girls chosen for photographic attractiveness. Her choice as "Miss Congeniality," carrying $200 in war bonds and a sorority affiliation as prizes, was by choice of other girls in the contest.

Canterbury's Famous Windows Restored

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 — Workmen have begun replacing the priceless stained glass of Canterbury Cathedral, removed as a precaution against air raids. Because of the shortage of craftsmen, it will be five or six years before the famous windows will be in place again.

IS WINNER FOR CONGENIALITY

"Miss Northern British Columbia" Took Distinctive Award at Atlantic City

"Miss Northern British Columbia" (Georgina Patterson of Prince George) won singular distinction at the "Miss America 1945" Beauty Contest in Atlantic City when she was awarded the "Miss Congeniality" prize. This prize was decided upon by the votes of the pageant contestants themselves, the choice being made at a breakfast with the judges on one of the mornings of the contest.

Miss Patterson received a $200 bond and was made member of a sorority.

British Railways Are Brightening Up

LONDON, Sept. 20—The appearance of a new London and North Eastern locomotive in a coat of fresh green gives promise of an early return to the characteristic bright colors of British locomotives and cars. Travellers and railway enthusiasts, weary of wartime black or drab camouflage colors, will welcome the sight of trains speeding across country in their traditional peacetime colors.

LONDON — German submarines which have been touring British ports have so far netted £5,609 (about $25,240) for charities.

BUTTERFLY DAMAGE
LONDON — Serious damage to plants of the cabbage family in Southern England is threatened by white butterfly grubs. Both large and small varieties of the grub are reported usually prevalent.

LATEST NEWS ABOUT Peek Frean

BISCUITS and VITA-WHEAT CRISP BREAD from LONDON, ENGLAND

In the spotless factories where Peek Frean's delicious English biscuits are made, full peacetime production is getting under way. Very soon now, Canadians will be able to go into their favourite store and say: "Peek Frean's Biscuits, please."

DEFLATION INFLATION

YOU CAN'T GAMBLE WITH THE DICE ARE LOADED AGAINST YOU

Canadians are lucky. So far we've prevented inflation and avoided deflation. It's not been just good luck. Your support—everybody's support—of price ceilings, rationing and other controls alone has made it possible.

BUT NOW COMES THE REAL TESTING TIME.

The danger of inflation and its black shadow, deflation, will last as long as goods are scarce and insufficient to meet demands. With the war over and plenty of money in our pockets it's easy to overlook the danger. It's easy to think that paying just a little more to get something we want is unimportant now. It's easy to think that what you do can't hurt—and to forget that careless, extravagant buying is a sure way to help a general rise in prices. That's how inflation gets going.

BUT INFLATION IS ALWAYS FOLLOWED BY DEFLATION.

And deflation brings cancelled orders, bankrupt businesses, mortgage foreclosures, unemployment and distress—distress you can't avoid. Until industry gets back to normal, price ceilings, rationing and other controls are our safeguard.

SO—Keep on watching your buying. Don't rush to buy scarce goods; Keep on saving your money. Put it into Victory bonds and War Savings certificates. Keep on supporting wage and price controls, and rationing. Keep on fighting inflation and its black shadow... deflation.

WHAT BROUGHT HER APPETITE BACK?

● Authorities say the difference between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins.

But vitamins alone are not enough. For authorities now agree that vitamins do not work alone. They work as a team with certain other food elements.

For this reason, thousands are switching to Ovaltine. Unlike mere "vitamin carriers," Ovaltine food beverage contains not only extra vitamins but nearly all the precious food elements needed for health and top vitality. These include Vitamins A, B1 and D, the important minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron, high quality proteins and quick energy fuel—food—a combination of food elements authorities agree are needed for best results.

So, if your child is thin, nervous and not developing properly, why not turn to Ovaltine as thousands are doing. Three normal meals plus two glasses of Ovaltine a day give your child all the extra amounts of vitamins and minerals needed for health and top vitality.

RECREATIONAL WORK STARTS

Course for Leaders Under Way With Enthusiasm Prevailing

The Prince Rupert Recreational Council's course for leaders got away to a good start last night at the "Y" War Service Gymnasium. Twenty enthusiastic young men and women were out to enjoy a varied program of fundamental gymnastics, mat tumbling, box vaulting, parallel bar work and pyramid building.

The leaders were impressed at the versatility of William Noble, chairman of the executive of the Prince Rupert Recreational Council, who proved that he could do handsprings with the best of them. Charles Collins, Mel Bussey and Denis Garon acted as assistant instructors, "spotting" the younger members in apparatus work. Other leaders were A. Arnsten, Rupert Holkestad, Maurice Teng, David Mulloney, Robert MacArthur, Everett Pierce and Gardner Paul.

Misses K. Davidson and Margaret Dixon did excellent work in assisting in women's activities. Among this group were Irene Kildal, Diane Kennedy, Lorraine Youngman, Arletta Hamilton Louise Patrick, Dorothy Hutchison and Chris Curry.

From the enthusiasm shown in last night's class it would appear that the Prince Rupert recreational movement will not suffer a shortage of leaders in either men's or women's activities.

SHORT SPORT

The sportsman's dream of an open-air rifle club for boys that would teach them to become marksmen and eliminate the danger of accidents from firearms in and around Edmonton, came true almost overnight. It is the first club of its kind in Canada. Late in June, D. E. C. (Dan) Campbell, former newspaperman and well-known Dominion marksman, approached Edmonton Police Chief Reg. Jennings with his plan and asked for financial assistance in organizing a junior rifle association. Jennings arranged for a grant of $100 and found a natural range within the city limits. Organizing of the Edmonton City Rifle Club started immediately and today, in little over a month, the club has a membership of more than 250 boys ranging in age from 12 to 18.

For a long time city police had received many complaints of wanton discharge of firearms by boys within the city limits and reports of damage to property. This always seemed to happen when small predatory game was scarce and the old standby—telephone and telegraph wire insulators on poles—got the works. Jennings declared that if any boys were brought before him he was going to "sug-gest" they join the club but in the last month there hasn't been a single complaint registered. "It costs the boys nothing," Campbell says, "and they get the best instructions that Edmonton marksmen can give them." Many of the boys have their own rifles, he added, but non-ownership of a rifle does not bar them from membership. "We'll borrow a rifle for them if they haven't got one." The only expense to the young marksmen is their .22 calibre shells which they can buy through the club.

While on the range instructors are constantly on the job to correct their faults. Range discipline is conducted along the lines of established military range procedure. On the ranges there are enough targets so that there is no tiring waiting to get a few shots in. There are 30 targets on the 25-yard range and relays of boys fire 10 shots at a target. The boys usually spend their time in between relays comparing targets and "spotting" for those firing. Lumber for the targets was provided free of charge and leading Edmonton merchants have offered trophies and prizes for the boys shooting in competition. One of the biggest stores here has offered an inter-city trophy for competition between Edmonton and Calgary—if Calgary organizes a similar club. All new members in the club start in the tyro class and move up progressively. Their targets are turned in after each relay and are witnessed and dated. The boys will eventually reach the stage where they can enter targets in the Dominion small-bore association and shoot for Dominion championships.
