Hitler Believed Alive

Russians Think Fuehrer in Spain; Up to British, Americans to Find Him

LONDON, June 9 (CP)—An NBC broadcast from Moscow said today Adolf Hitler is hiding in Europe, possibly in Spain, and it is up to British and American troops to find him. The Russian leader said that Hitler was seen by Eva Braun two days ago in Berlin.

The broadcast quoted Zhukov as saying that his "troops found a number of corpses which had been Hitler's," but he doubts it. Hitler probably died until the last moment, took off in a plane held in readiness.

He thinks that Hitler is in Europe somewhere in Europe, possibly in Spain, and it is up to British and American troops to find him," Zhukov added that the Russians found no corpses which were Hitler's and that, while he is believed dead, it cannot be established as it cannot be confirmed that his body has been found.

Many bodies were found in the ruins of Berlin with names on the clothing which became a joke among the searchers. Every time we found a pair of shoes it turned out to have a name on it," Zhukov said.

PRINCE RUPERT RECREATION COUNCIL ORGANIZES FOR ACTION

Prince Rupert will have an organized youth recreation scheme functioning within a matter of weeks as the plans and enthusiasm of the newly organized Prince Rupert Recreation Council are continued. With 41 people attending the organizational meeting last night in Reid's Cafe as representatives of 17 sections.

These decisions were reached in the course of a two-hour discussion which, in spite of occasionally conflicting opinions on points of policy, was based on a core of unanimity in regard to the importance of youth recreation. Strong support and practical ideas came from representatives of women's organizations. The provincial budget of $500 a month was arrived at after other matters of policy had been ironed out and was based on an estimate of $200 a month for a full time director's salary. The

Mr. Applewhaite, over the radio, stated that he would VOTE AGAINST HIS PARTY, if necessary, for the exclusion of the Japanese from the Coast of British Columbia.

Mr. Harvey's leader, John Bracken, on the public platform in Prince Rupert, made this statement: "The Progressive-Conservative Party stands for the debarring of the Japanese from British Columbia. Only in this way could the people of this Province feel safe from that menace."

How far can Mr. Applewhaite influence his party by refusing to vote with them?

Looks For Good Lead

E. T. Applewhaite Reports Excellent Reception at Ocean Falls and Elsewhere

E. T. Applewhaite, Liberal candidate for Skeena, is reported to have been accorded a flattering reception at Ocean Falls Thursday night when the final campaign meeting was held at the paper town. There were two hundred persons present, the attendance being reported the largest of any meeting held so far at Ocean Falls. In addition to Mr. Applewhaite, speakers were Miss Muriel Cordeaux, former Far East newspaper correspondent, whose thrilling story was received with impressive silence, and Dr. Jack McDougall of Vancouver. Duncan Curran was chairman.

Mr. Applewhaite and the others also addressed a women's meeting at Ocean Falls.

On his final campaign tour of the southern end of the district from which he returned yesterday, Mr. Applewhaite reports having met with very encouraging response leading him to expect a Liberal lead in that part of the riding. Meetings were held at Namu and Rivers Inlet. At both places over fifty attended and gave the candidate attentive hearing and generous applause. Following the meetings question periods and general discussions were held and Mr. Applewhaite created a good impression upon his audience. Calls were made at Dawson's Landing and Wadhams.

SPECULATING ON ELECTION

With the federal election campaign now in its closing phase as the voters prepare to go to the polls on Monday, speculation has become increasingly keen on the outcome.

One typical local observer was questioned by the Daily News this morning as to his opinion of the probable result in Skeena. He gave a definite edge to the Liberal candidate, Applewhaite, providing the anti-C.C.F. vote was not so badly split as to permit the election after all of the C.C.F. candidate.

At all party headquarters confidence is expressed as to the outcome.

O.S. Edward Dawes, who has been spending leave with his father, George Dawes, Fourth Avenue east, leaves tonight for Vancouver where he will spend a few days before returning to his naval duties at Halifax.

LONDON, 9.—Lord Burghley was re-elected president of the Amateur Athletic Association at the annual general meeting here.

JAPAN FACES GRAVE CRISIS

Premier Suzuki To Win Decisive Battle on Home Island

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9—Premier Suzuki of Japan told a specially called session of the Diet today that Japan was facing the gravest crisis in its history. "We will fight to the end and I am convinced that we will smash the enemy in decisive battle on the home island."

The Jap premier told the Imperial Diet that the Allies' "boastful talk about the unconditional surrender of Japan means nothing but the outright death of all the 100,000,000 people of Japan."

CONDEMNED ON SECOND TRIAL

VANCOUVER, June 9.—Daniel Harrison, 29 year-old former Edmonton soldier, was convicted of murdering Clifford Lennox here on May 7, 1944, for the second time on Friday, and was sentenced to hang on September 18. The Assize court jury deliberated seven minutes. After his last trial, Harrison was sentenced to hang January 17, but won an appeal for a new trial.

By his outstanding action, Capt. Schjelderup definitely prevented a breakthrough to the Leopold Canal, and materially assisted the establishment of the bridgehead which later led to the complete destruction of the German forces on the south bank of the Scheldt Estuary.

Capt. Schjelderup was determined to escape with his companions. During the time the goods van in which they were confined as prisoners of war was standing on a siding, he and Sgt. Armando Gri were able to plan their escape. On October 23, 1944, when the train moved off for the prisoner of war camp, Capt. Schjelderup and his companions broke out, and made their escape. Seventy-five days later, on January 6, 1945, Capt. Schjelderup and two companions, after an exhausting journey over the ice and snow, returned to our lines bringing valuable information.

Dangers of Tory-C.C.F.

One Party of Disunity—Other Merely Seeking Political Advantage, Declare L. P. P. Speakers

Clutter up the field of candidates with as many army officers and war medal winners as they might, the Progressive-Conservative party was still the biggest single thorn in the side of the war effort and their policies would have imperilled the lives of thousands of men overseas, declared Bruce Mickleburgh, Labor-Progressive candidate for Skeena, in a public meeting at the Eagle's Hall last night posing as superpatriots in the rest of Canada in their treating of the manpower issue, the Tories consorted politically with those in Quebec who said down with conscription and down with the war effort. "I call on you to defeat the party of international power politics in the voting next Monday," he charged.

While Mr. Mickleburgh was paying his compliments to the Progressive-Conservatives, Fred McNeill of Vancouver, his companion speaker, dealt with the C.C.F. as the party which, having no chance to win itself, would keep the people of Canada in destitution for the next five years in the hope thereby of bringing about a political situation which would result in its capturing power in 1950. He charged that the C.C.F. leadership was not representative of trades unionism. Mr. McNeill called for support of the Labor-Progressive party and its campaign to bring about a coalition of progressive political elements to ensure victory and bring jobs, homes and security to all in the postwar period.

Norman Smith was chairman of the meeting.

MACKENZIE KING FLAYS BRACKEN AS TOOL OF SPECIAL INTERESTS

OTTAWA, June 9 (CP)—"I have at least not kept out of Parliament in order to conceal my disabilities as a leader," commented Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King as he made his final election campaign appeal last night. He charged John Bracken, Progressive-Conservative leader, with avoiding any and every opportunity to enter the House of Commons. Mr. King asked who had financed the publicity and propaganda of "The Great Bracken." If he had such peerless qualities as were claimed for him why had he not led his party in Parliament and assisted to make Canada's war effort even the more successful? Why this concentration on building up John Bracken while nothing was spared to destroy Mackenzie King and the Liberal government? Mr. King suggested that small but powerful financial groups were doing all in the power through the promotion of John Bracken to seize control of the government. Why had George McCullough, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, and not John Bracken delivered the final national network radio message?

It was all a highly financed campaign, declared Mackenzie King, to sell John Bracken to the people by the same methods as might be employed in introducing a new breakfast food or a new brand of soap.

The Progressive-Conservative party had no policy except promises based on actual Liberal performances.

Mr. King described the Liberal performances of social legislation as the most practical and advanced.

The Prime Minister gave maintenance of full employment and high level of earnings as the cornerstone of policy of the present government.

The Liberal party had never taken an extreme position such as the Tories who espoused the cause of free enterprise and capitalism or the C.C.F.—the party of public ownership and socialism.

LABOR and ELECTIONS

This nation's largest labor organization, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, has thrown its support behind the return of the King Government. In a letter recently released for publication, its Political Action Committee, without mentioning the name of the party, strongly advised the 350,000 members of its various unions to vote and work for re-election of the present administration.

The unions which make up the Trades and Labor Congress are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The letter, signed by the Political Action Committee chairman, Ernest Ingles, London, Ont., impliedly declares that the King Government can be trusted to implement its election pledges and warns against putting inexperienced groups into power at this time.

The letter says, in part, as follows:

"We have now reached the period of return from wartime to peacetime economy. The experience gained in moving from peace to war, will prove of incalculable value in making the transition from war to peace. During the period from peace to war, certain obligations were accepted by the Government as to what will be the procedure when the time arrives to go forward to worthwhile peacetime economy. The value of these pledges is enhanced by the fact that the Administration had the experience of going through the war period, and therefore, they will have a better idea of how to redeem those pledges which they themselves gave.

"We are placed in the position of being called upon to determine who can implement those promises best—those who know the reason for the dislocation, or those who could only guess at the reason, but who are not in the possession of facts and experience.

"Those who made those pledges must be given the opportunity to redeem them. They are charged with that responsibility. They must be given the opportunity of keeping faith with the people and establish a peacetime economy that will ensure a free, full and happy life.

"There is a danger that a new group, put into power at this time, would institute policies that might have no relation whatever to the pledges that an overwhelming number of people of this country have put their faith in."

Vote to retain the services of those who have the needed knowledge and experience.

WOMEN TAKE MANY JOBS

Forty per Cent of London's "Home" Announcers Are Women

LONDON, June 9 (C)—The war with its heavy demands upon the nation's manpower, opened or enlarged many fields in Great Britain for women with suitable talents, but in few such activities have women gained so marked an ascendancy as they have in radio broadcasting.

Before the war the British Broadcasting Corporation employed no regular women announcers. One woman was given a tryout back in 1933, but the idea was not popularly favored. Two women were employed, however, in the BBC's television service—an entirely different matter for there it was considered altogether desirable to have announcers pleasing to the eye, even if the voices weren't always equally and lastingly attractive.

Today there are practically as many women announcers at the mike as there are men. Forty per cent of the number of London "home" announcers is female.

In line, and in regional stations such as Manchester, Glasgow and the like, the percentage is as high as 67. Overseas broadcasting, not including continental Europe, boasts 12 women announcers for every 10 men.

GIRL ANNOUNCERS ARE POPULAR

Recruited from the BBC's pre-war staffs of broadcasting assistants and secretaries from such commercial radio stations as existed in those zones before 1939, and from the stage, these women announcers have become enormously popular especially with the armed forces, and their fan mail, in some instances at least, is as staggering as that of a movie star.

Notwithstanding that their ranks have been greatly depleted in the last five and a half years, the men announcers still hold forth exclusively in the sphere of sports, and, except for an occasional discussion of some subject primarily affecting women, they have not yielded to their sister speakers as news commentators.

The women read many of the news messages and headlines, though, and they have been extraordinarily—and understandably—effective in co-ordinating and delivering programs designed for troops and auxiliary services overseas.

They also preside over a wide variety of musical programs ranging from swing sessions to concerts of majestic music, variety shows of the air, and broadcasts from the home front—roundups of regional interest which include community singing, folklore, neighborhood chat, brief talks by local leaders, and family greetings to kin in service.

By means of these typical programs the women announcers have established an unprecedented bond with their masses of listeners. It is a bond that many of those listeners would like to perpetuate. But the BBC says it doesn't know about that. It is unwilling to say whether women announcers would be continued after the war. Perhaps the men will take over as before. Sometimes one gets that impression at the BBC studios. Officially only this is said: "We have to give back jobs to men announcers who are serving with the forces, so there probably will be no alternative."

Nevertheless, quite a few influential persons in the business generally—and in other fields—believe that women announcers are here to stay.

Maybe the fair announcers, in the days to come, won't read the news or discuss the background of what's going on, but they'll be wanted on the air lanes still. They'll be wanted for a further

OVERSEAS OPINION OF KING GOVERNMENT

The following letter was received yesterday by Maj. J. T. Harvey, our candidate in Monday's election:

"Dear Sir:

"I have received a letter from my son overseas the information is so disappointing that I feel I must write to you as an opposition candidate to the Liberal Government.

"He joined up in 1940 and has been overseas since August 1941. He is so homesick that, unable to get by any other way, he has volunteered for service in the

"I quote his words:

"After reading all the literature, etc., on the post-war situation, I decided that I would be glad for the Army of Occupation with little chance of getting home this year, so took the only way out and volunteered for the Far East. Now I know you say that I should let the men have a chance who have never been overseas, but since the government has decided only to send volunteers and not to draft any more soldiers, that was out of the question. Had I been married, I would have had 30 more points and in such case would have been home for Christmas but as it is I want to get back if only for a short time and so the volunteering. Local opinion of the present government is not high, believe me."

"You may publish this if you care to. My son is a member of the Canadian Scottish, First Canadian Army Overseas."

The foregoing letter was entirely unsolicited, contains a voluntary expression of opinion on the part of the Liberal Government by a man who has served country overseas, who is still so serving, and who probably continue to serve for a long time as a result. Mackenzie King's enticing bribe of 30 days home leave route from one theatre of war to another. We commend this expression of opinion to all mothers, wives and hearts of men overseas, and then ask them whether they will vote for the return of a Liberal Government in Canada.

Do you want your Life Insurance Savings used as a GUINEA PIG?

THERE are people in Canada who want to experiment with your life insurance as a part of their plan to socialize all financial machinery and so control the whole national economy. The basis of that plan is to get control of people's savings—your savings. Then they will have the funds for their socialistic experiments.

Do you want them to make a guinea pig of your life insurance? Do you want them to experiment with the systematic savings you have put into it?

Along with four million other Canadians you have put your hard-earned money into life insurance because you knew it was secure. You knew that even in times of calamity and catastrophe—in wars—in panics—in epidemics—in depressions—it has never failed to meet its policy obligations.

When you bought your policy, you were not experimenting. You knew that dollar for dollar the financial protection you were buying through your savings for yourself and your family was assured. No one ordered you to buy it. You acted as a free man in a free society and wisely and thriftily looked after your financial future.

That is the Canadian way of doing things—the democratic way—the way that has built Canada. It is the way that has made life insurance the business of four million people associated in a great and sound financial enterprise for their common good.

It is good citizenship to get out and

Election Day is another "D-DAY" For Canada

JUST ONE YEAR AGO this June the fate of Christian civilization hung in the balance for a few hours, when the vast allied armada invaded the Coast of Normandy. It was the greatest gamble in history, with millions of lives and the fate of 40 nations at stake.

And now, on Monday, almost one year to the day, Canadians will go to the polls to decide, with ballots instead of bullets, whether or not Canada is to continue under its present North American form of Democracy, or whether it is to embrace a European system of "State Socialism" as proposed by the C.C.F.

So, in essence, Monday is another "D-Day" for Canada—a day that will decide the destiny of this nation for years, if not for generations. Hence, it constitutes a great challenge to every voter—male or female. A challenge as to whether or not we will deliberately forfeit the individual freedom which our boys have fought so desperately to preserve.

Good-bye Freedom?

It is not merely a question of voting for or against a political party. We will be voting for or against a new system of living—a foreign brain-child known as "State Socialism." The group of thinkers, or, as they term themselves, the "Professional Social Students," who are sponsoring the C.C.F. Socialist Program are asking us to let them take over control, not only of the Government of Canada but of our everyday lives.

They propose to "plan" everything for us—to control all production and distribution. That is, they will decide what is to be made and by whom—what is to be grown and by whom—the quantities—the styles—the distribution—the selling prices and wages. All these and hundreds of other controls and regulations will become a permanent part of our existence, as decided by the C.C.F. politicians and administered by a vast army of Government agents.

Animals In A Zoo!

Under any such system we would become like animals in a zoo. We would lose our individual freedom just as completely as though we had lost the war! Not one Canadian in one hundred would knowingly vote for any such program, but not many Canadians realize that the C.C.F. platform involves any such scheme, or else they do not believe that the C.C.F. would actually attempt to carry it out.

That is where we may fool ourselves because the C.C.F. National Convention recently went on record that whether it takes five or fifteen years they do intend to put into effect their complete Socialist program.

So, if you prize your individual freedom, be sure to vote on election day against the C.C.F. candidate in your riding, because every such candidate is positively committed to the complete C.C.F. Program of State Socialism. If C.C.F. candidates tell you they are not so committed, they are either misinformed or are misrepresenting the facts, because that is the basic plank in their platform, and any C.C.F. candidate who fails to support their policies is subject to "recall" and is dropped from the party. So! don't fool with that Social dynamite. Get out and vote against the C.C.F. and let the Social Students realize once and for all that Canadians want none of their European and old country nonsense.

Power Need At Terrace

Action From B. C. Power Commission Being Sought

TERRACE, June 9 — Terrace and District Board of Trade held a well attended meeting in Terrace hotel Tuesday evening with Harry King presiding. Though the agenda was shorter than usual some important business was dealt with. Terrace feels the district is handicapped by the lack of adequate electric power. The meeting talked this subject over at some length. Several local business concerns are using what power is available but could use more. Also enquiries are coming in from others who wish to establish here. Quite a number of homes recently built would connect with an electric plant. A motion was finally passed to get in touch with the B. C. Power Commission in the hope it will set the Government machinery moving without further delay. It was also decided to write

INQUEST INTO MINER'S DEATH

An inquest will be held Monday at Premier into the death of Benjamin Stuart, age 47, miner, who died in hospital at Premier following an accident at Nine Mile mine. Stuart was reported to have been assisting in the repair of a trolley line near the mine, when a jin pole snapped, striking him on the head.

The rehabilitation committee along similar lines but with special emphasis regarding the ex-service men who before long will be coming to this part of the country. One instance already in Terrace is the local bakery which is apparently being starved for sugar. Although other bakeries have gone out of business no one knows who is getting the sugar and the present baker who is an ex-service man feels the district is not getting a square deal from the ration board.

BOOTH GRADS HOLD BANQUET AND DANCE

Booth Memorial High School's graduating class topped off its Thursday night's graduation exercises with a banquet and dance last night which for some was the final event of their scholastic careers.

Planned with meticulous consideration for the signs of maturity so important to the youthful outlook, both banquet and dance were pleasant and memorable functions. The banquet was held at the Boston cafe and the dance in the school auditorium.

More than 50 graduating students with the majority of the faculty members attended the banquet which was held in an atmosphere of good fellowship. Tables were fittingly decorated and the teachers, the school and classmates were toasted. Carol Grey, one of the graduates, was mistress of ceremonies.

The dance at the auditorium was a gay affair as members of the graduating class, old grads, and friends danced to the smooth rhythm of the Acropolis Hill Sophisticates' orchestra.

GRIM STORY OF FAR EAST

Miss Muriel Cordeaux Newspaperwoman, Commentator and Author, Heard

Grim first-hand account of ruthless Nazi-inspired intrigue and extreme cruelty and barbarism was given by Miss Muriel Cordeaux, celebrated writer, newspaperwoman and commentator, to a gathering of women at tea in Reid's Cafe yesterday afternoon. What she had learned of the Japanese through several years of residence in the Far East, during which she herself had suffered personal pain and indignity, had constrained her to voluntarily offer her support to the Liberal party and its policy of exclusion of Japanese from Canada. Miss Cordeaux said. Tomorrow afternoon at the Capital Theatre she will tell a public meeting of the experiences.

Mrs. G. C. Mitchell introduced Miss Cordeaux at yesterday's meeting. Mrs. W. M. Watts and Mrs. Robert Gordon received about 100 guests. Mrs. E. T. Applewhite, Mrs. C. C. Mills and Mrs. S. E. Parker poured and served were Mrs. Robert Parker, Mrs. J. Comer, Mrs. Peter DeJong, Mrs. A. D. Ritchie and Mrs. Don Esselmont.

PRINCE RUPERT RECREATIONAL COUNCIL

renting and equipping of three buildings as centres, allowances for costs of outdoor summer recreation and the cost of employing part time instructors, to assist the director.

The budget figure was named so that delegates from clubs and organizations in the city could give their organizations a basis for estimating the size of their contributions.

The constitution and by-laws committee was named to draw up a provisional framework which will be submitted for approval to the next general meeting. The next general meeting probably will be called within the next ten days in order to hasten the date when the council can embark on its enterprises officially.

The temporary constitution committee had originally been charged with the job of also defining an initial budget, but was relieved of his duty when delegates from some groups pointed out that they were attending the meeting for the sole purpose of reporting back to their clubs, and urged that they be given an immediate estimate of the amount of money needed.

Named to the committee were: Mrs. A. Kaspar, Women of the Moose; Maurice Brydges, Gyro; Mrs. D.C. Stuart, I.O.D.E.; Harry Breen, Civic Centre; B. B. Thorsteinsson, Rotary; W. Jamson, Kinsmen; T. N. Youngs, Junior Chamber of Commerce. A brief committee meeting following the general meeting, Harry Breen was appointed chairman.

To Obtain Qualified Training Director

The decision to obtain a qualified training director as soon as possible was unanimous and will be followed through immediately. Provincial Pro Rec director Gerry Matheson stated during a recent visit here that such men were becoming available, being discharged from the armed forces, and it was thought advisable to make immediate application for one, feeling that the Council would be well under way by the time he arrived.

The meeting was clearly in favour of the city having three recreational centres instead of one central institution. Discussion centred around the renting of the Moose Hall. Seal Cove school is already well equipped as a gymnasium and athletic centre and the Westview school is available for such use.

The Kinsmen Club has been operating the Seal Cove School athletic centre which it took over from the Boller-makers' Athletic club six months ago. It has been holding classes for about 30 boys two nights a week.

Eventual recreational centre for the city will be the Y.M.C.A. building which will be taken over after the war, and for this reason, the Recreational Council will operate in close co-operation with the Civic Centre Association, but being, however, an autonomous group.

The meeting adopted a motion by Mayor H. M. Daggett that the

"DISCHARGED PERSONNEL"

That is the official name for Canada's sons and daughters, upon again becoming civilians.

Many steps are necessary to really transform "discharged personnel" into "civilians"—and no step is more important than finding a job, providing work.

Just as our Armed Services must change into civilians once more, to pursue the paths of peace, so must Canada's industry reconvert to peace, after frantic war production.

No device to speed reconversion of our war plants must be overlooked—for we must maintain high production, and high employment.

Following years of labour shortages, industry must be provided now with key men, to make jobs for others—for all coming out of the Forces.

"First in, first out", is to be Canada's general rule of discharge from the Services.

But to help industry provide jobs, to aid quick reconversion, a few key men will be released from the Forces speedily, where employers in industry show that this will mean more jobs for others.

Employers in industry, seeking the release of men for key jobs, will have to prove their case. They must apply for any men they require to—

We Go to Vote . . .

With barrage of publicity, the various parties courting electoral favor at the federal polls next Monday have placed their cases before the people. It is now for the electors, each with his or her say in who will represent them at Ottawa, to decide. On the basis of the choices in the past, the government will be determined. The administration so chosen will be charged with the tremendous and serious business of carrying Canada through the next five years, a period in the Dominion's history which may well be as difficult and as fateful as has been that of the past five years of war. Therefore, this business of exercising the franchise on Monday next constitutes an act of great and solemn importance and duty for every Canadian.

The Daily News so far in this campaign has hesitated to impose much in the way of suggestion upon the electors as to what they should do. We have considered that these electors should be intelligent enough to form their conclusions after hearing the presentations of cases on behalf of the various parties and the candidates. On the eve of election, however, comment on the issues may not be inappropriate.

First we would suggest to the electors that, in making their decisions, they be actuated by a cold survey of the circumstances of the situation, dismissing any sentiments or prejudices they may have and regarding themselves against extraneous considerations which may be put forward to sway their judgments. If the situation is considered with commonsense and in the light of a straight business proposition, measured as one would do in making a serious decision in his own personal affairs, we believe it should not be hard to reach a decision.

Here in Skeena we have the choice of four candidates—duly accredited nominees of parties which have more or less defined lines of national policy—even if some of those lines of policy may be obscure or confused.

There is the Liberal party of Prime Minister Mackenzie King which has led Canada through the war, piloting the Dominion in an effort which has won the acclaim of all the nations of the world and which many of them have frankly endeavored to emulate. In addition to its enviable record of war accomplishment which all admit has done much to lead the Allies to victory, there is a party which has a full and complete post-war program to re-establish the country and its people in a new peacetime era. Further it has the proven ability and the assured experience to see that program through to an effective and successful culmination.

The government party, having through its actions and avowed intentions for the future left little on which the parties which oppose it may base their appeals, these opposition parties, in their campaigning, have been constrained to accentuate themselves in criticism, resorting to tactics of finding imperfections in a government which has had the task of guiding the country through the most difficult years that not only this country but the whole world have had to negotiate. None have suggested for a moment that they would have done any better, knowing full well, of course, that they would not.

We have offering us their services one party whose main campaign has been one of criticism, basing its appeal on a more or less obscure idea of a new deal, a party which these long years has had to scout in the highways and the byways for a leader and which seems to have little to offer us in the way of improved administration either in platform or personnel.

Then there is the party which once seemed to be one of impractical idealism but which has now developed distinctly and openly avowed dictatorial tendencies—the party which does not hesitate to admit that it would control and regiment the individual and his liberties by form of central executive from which there is no recourse of appeal. This is the party which many are not now considering so seriously as they did in view of the disaster that befel it only this week in Ontario and which here in British Columbia has condemned itself in the eyes of so many people through its admitted intention of bringing back the Japanese enemies to the coast and admitting them to the franchise.

Fourth on the list from which the voters of Skeena may choose comes the strange party of the opportunists whose only hope is the possibility of getting in on some sort of a coalition arising out of a fusion of minorities.

If this is a fair estimate of the situation in this federal election it should not be hard for us to make up our minds.

Here in Skeena the campaign has been fought out on reasonably clean and decent lines. We may not have seen eye to eye with some of our friends politically but we believe they are still our friends. We are happy to be able to expect that, after the voting is over and the choice has been made, we will all be able to settle down and work together for the best interests of our community and our country.

Finally, we feel it fitting to urge each and every voter to turn out and exercise that great privilege which democracy affords us—the free and untrammelled act of the franchise, a privilege that perhaps we do not fully appreciate because we take it so for granted. It is a simple enough act, this act of the franchise. To exercise it is a privilege, a duty and a responsibility.

LETTERBOX

DONNELL VOTES LIBERAL

Editor, Daily News:

At the risk or certainty of appearing very egotistic I am asking you to publish this letter about the political situation. I believe that, if Canada rejects the Mackenzie King government next Monday, it will make itself a source of amazement to the other nations. They know and admire a war record which is excelled by no other. The maintenance of effective military forces overseas, the vast production of war material, and at home the prevention of inflation and the skilful management of affairs in the face of well-known disruptive forces—all this commands the admiration of informed observers in other lands. In spite of serious internal difficulties we have emerged from a comparatively obscure position to a foremost place among the nations of the world. I believe this to be in large measure due to the skill, the patience, and the vision of a much-abused and much-misunderstood man—William Lyon Mackenzie King. I believe he will rank in years to come as one of the greatest, if not the greatest of Canadian statesmen. And so, because I can support Mr. King by my vote in no other way, I propose to vote for Mr. Applewhaite on Monday.

But I shall do this only after much self-questioning and only under strong protest. I believe the so-called liberals of Skeena, or many of them, have committed themselves to a most illiberal policy in connection with some of our fellow Canadian citizens. A great British statesman once said: "I do not know the method of drawing up an indictment against a whole people." It is strange that he didn't know. Because it is an age-old practice. From the pages of an ancient literature I take these words: "Go and smite Amalek, and spare them not; but slay both man and woman, infant and suckling." That was an indictment of a whole nation. The Amalekites were all bad. The only good Amalekite was a dead one. There is nothing more common in history than the indictment of a whole people or a whole race. Primitive men know nothing better. We saw the most atrocious modern example of it in Germany a few years ago. The Late R.C.A.F. casualty lists contain the names of one central B.C. man missing on active service and a Prince Rupert man safe after being previously listed as missing. Missing on active service is Flight Lieutenant Barry Desmond Emmet, whose mother, Mrs. B. D. Emmet, lives at Prince George.

Reported as safe is Flight Sergeant Robert James Murray Henderson, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Henderson, live in Prince Rupert.

only good Jew was a dead one.

Of course there is no suggestion that we slaughter all Canadians of Japanese origin. It is just proposed to send them to a country where some of them would probably be slaughtered. It is just proposed to indict them all. All Japanese are bad, there is none good, no not one. It is so easy to generalise. It is so hard to discriminate. The most uninformed, unreflective man in British Columbia can say "The Japanese are all alike." But it takes a certain amount of reflective power to say "Some of the Japanese are bad, brutal, beastly. But others of them are gentle, kindly, honest."

We have in Prince Rupert under liberal auspices Miss Muriel Cordeaux. She has suffered great indignities at the hands of the Japanese and we are informed "has a wonderful story to tell Canadians regarding Japanese mentality." If what Miss Cordeaux has to tell us is discriminating she may do much for real liberalism in Prince Rupert. But if from her own, and perhaps numerous other unhappy or terrible experiences she is going to give a sweeping generalisation, something in the nature of an indictment of a whole people, then she may help get the votes of the many who find it easier to generalise than to discriminate, but she will do the life of British Columbia an incalculable damage. I am voting "Liberal." But with very great regret that the local candidate is not, in respect of racial minorities, following the lead of his great leader, Mr. Mackenzie King.

MR. HANSON'S ADVICE TO SKEENA VOTERS . . .

As your representative at Ottawa for the last three Parliaments I have had ample time and opportunity to study the policies of the different political groups in Canada.

In my opinion LIBERAL policies have given to Canada the BEST administration for the benefit of all Canadians.

Looking then to the future, my belief is that these LIBERAL policies are the only SOUND and PRACTICAL ones being offered at this time.

The social legislation which has been put on the statute books by the last two Parliaments is as far-reaching and advanced as it is healthy for any nation to go at this time.

I have been unable to enter the field again myself but, for these and other good reasons, I am actively supporting MR. APPLEWHAITE, the LIBERAL nominee, and the MACKENZIE KING administration and I am respectfully advising you, the Voters of Skeena, to do likewise in your own best interests.

I believe Mackenzie King will go down in history as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, statesman Canada has ever had, taking into consideration the difficult period through which he has led this country and the many problems which have confronted him.

Again let me urge you to vote for your very able LIBERAL candidate, Mr. Applewhaite.

—OLOF HANSON.

Presentation To Audrey Sessions

At the regular meeting of the Anglican Young People's Association held at the home of Miss Eileen Gibson on Wednesday evening a presentation of a handsome coffee table was made to Miss Audrey Sessions whose marriage to James Bremner is to take place shortly at Terrace. Curtis Sthare, president of the A.Y., presented the gift, expressing felicitations on behalf of the members.

V-E DAY QUIET FOR LOCAL MAN IN GERMANY

Danger of fanatical Nazis resisting the surrender order on V-E day kept men of the Lincoln and Welland regiment on the alert on that historic day, writes Corporal Cecil Hemmons to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hemmons of Prince Rupert, but the day passed without any flare-ups between the beaten Germans and Canadian troops.

The only celebration in his platoon, Cpl. Hemmons said was a victory toast made with half a cup of champagne per man which came from two bottles saved for the occasion. They toasted their comrades who were no longer among them.

Cpl. Hemmons, who was acting sergeant during the final actions before the defeat of Germany, said that the general reaction among the soldiers was "Thank God It's Over".

Shortly after the fighting ceased, Cpl. Hemmons was taken to hospital suffering from tonsillitis. The hospital was on the estate of the Count of Oldenberg, luxuriant with flowering gardens and duck ponds. "Signs of luxury are everywhere," he wrote of the hospital where he spent two days.

MAJOR HARVEY IS HEARD AT OCEAN FALLS

OCEAN FALLS, June 9.—Progressive Conservatives at Ocean Falls held three meetings during the visit of Major J. T. Harvey there this week. On Monday afternoon there was a large gathering of the women of the Progressive Conservative Association and their friends. Mrs. Tillie Rolston M.L.A. gave a vivacious address in which she stressed the need for women to take a live interest in government because government was going to affect them more and more from rationing to the providing of a country in which they would be proud to have their children grow up and take their places. Women should wake up and see that they choose a government that will perpetuate their ideals of sincerity and honesty.

Mrs. Rolston referred to the candidate Major Harvey. She said that, like a considerable number of the Progressive Conservative candidates, Major Harvey was a young man recently returned from overseas. He was thoroughly sincere in his desire to serve his country. Also he had been a resident of this coast for 15 years and, through his varied law practice, has travelled over the large constituency and was familiar with its problems and its industries, whether lumbering, mining, farming or fishing.

As well, he was a clear thinker and an able speaker who would waken Ottawa to the existence of this part of Canada and present clearly and forcibly the great possibilities and very urgent needs of this coast and district.

Evening Meeting Well Attended

Monday evening Mrs. Rolston and Major Harvey addressed a well-attended meeting.

The chairman, A. Harvey, before addressing the speakers, announced the results of the Ontario election which was such a landslide for the Progressive Conservative party.

Major Harvey said in his address that the Ontario results, fought on federal issues, showed very clearly what Canadians think of the Liberal policies, as well as what they think of the C.C.F. and its provincial leader.

Mr. Jolliffe, whose recent politics smacked of the days of the five-cent cigar, the soap box and the brass spittoon.

Major Harvey continued that it was evident from the recent results that the men from overseas were going to get the new deal which they deserved. When Mackenzie King had left them to fight and fight again and suffer heavier casualties for lack of enough reinforcements; when Mackenzie King had neglected them at this moment of urgent need he could not be trusted to give them a square deal when they return from overseas.

When discussing the labor policy put forth by John Bracken and the Progressive Conservative party, Major Harvey emphasized the fact that no trade unions, no matter whether affiliated with the American Federation of Labor or the Congress of Industrial Organizations, supported socialism. They do not support that advocated by the C.C.F. or any other socialist party.

Under socialism the trade unions would lose all their power in a government controlled system. Their gains of past years would be lost and, through inability to strike, they would lose the weapon by which they could make further progress in the future.

All Out To Vote Monday To Win

A Big Majority for MICKLEBURGH

An Open Letter . . .

ABOUT A MAN YOU ALL KNOW

Dear Friends:

I have known Bruce Mickleburgh ever since he first came to Prince Rupert four years ago as a young teacher at King Edward School—not even old enough to vote at that time. Bruce is a product of the depression years but has fought from childhood against those conditions. Through the harsh years of poverty (which I knew so well under John Bracken's government in Winnipeg), he eked out an existence working in bowling alleys and similar work, collecting an armful of scholarships which saw him through college.

For two years he led the Student Christian Movement in Victoria College, and played a leading role in defeating fifth column activities among Japanese and Canadian fascists which had as its objective the involvement of students in an isolationist position. He organized the Canadian Student Assembly on the Victoria campus, and was an original member of the Victoria Youth Council.

Bruce has been "through the mill" and has a history that begins in the era of freight and pogie lines. He joined the Relief Project Workers' Union and there gained his first grounding in trade union principles.

Every teacher in Prince Rupert and hundreds throughout the province know his struggle to better conditions and wages in the schools. While an executive member of the B.C. Teachers' Federation he played a leading role in affiliating that body to the Trades and Labor Congress.

As an executive member of the Rural Teachers' Association, he fought with this body for improved rural teachers' salaries that exist today.

I remember the day back in 1941 Bruce joined the Party of the working class here in Prince Rupert. He was struggling to organize a progressive youth movement here then, a movement which threw all its forces into the critically-needed A.R.P. when Pearl Harbor came. Since then there has scarcely been a single organized effort to better the lives of the people of Prince Rupert with which Bruce has not been associated in some way or other.

His earnest effort and sincere struggle was recognized by our Party when he was elected by a large vote at the provincial constituent convention to be one of B.C.'s ten delegates to the Toronto convention where the Labor-Progressive Party was formed and he is now a tried and tested member of our Provincial Committee.

I have sat in discussions with him through week after week and year after year where he has been raising and carrying proposals to unite labor for the civic elections, to win the CCF to a position of labor unity, to speed the Aid-to-Russia movement, to better housing conditions, to rally Prince Rupert workers in the fight for labor laws with teeth in them, to keep the shipyard going, to gather books for the armed services, to build the co-op movement, to get a functioning rehabilitation program going, to maintain the Skeena highway, to get an auto-ferry service to Haines, Alaska, to ground the workers in the theory and tactics of the working class and a hundred other questions. And as I write these words I know that with every sentence in this paragraph there are scores of people in town who will remember Bruce's work in each of these fields.

As was to be expected Bruce has earned the enmity of small men, partisan politicians and narrow, self-seeking interests who fear the peerless leadership of this young teacher. His name has been the butt of slander and there has been a campaign to "freeze him out" of organizations and positions of influence. The energy devoted to this campaign is a tribute to the man against whom it has been directed.

But the vast majority of Prince Rupert people—friends and foes alike—recognize Bruce's brilliance and incorruptibility and know that he has a big future in the leadership of the people. Heaven knows we need leaders of this type to beat the looming Tory threat into the ground!

Sometimes in the movement we are staggered by Bruce's amazing energy—the way he can keep going night after night, month after month, year after year, with unflagging enthusiasm and cheeriness that inspires us all. He never loses his head and keeps on smiling because he knows that history is on the side of the workers.

That is why I and the members of our party have been out night and day knocking on your doors to tell you to vote for Bruce. That is why hundreds of people who do not even belong to our Party have joined in the campaign to elect this man—loggers, fishermen, cannerymen, pulp and paper workers, railwaymen, shipyard workers, construction workers, miners, farmers, business and professional people. No matter what party they may have belonged to they recognize that Bruce's fighting qualities will assure them a big powerful voice in the next House at Ottawa. With all due respect to the other candidates, I feel you will agree with me when I say that Bruce stands out from among them as the clear choice of the people of Skeena.

I will go so far as to say that not only we in Skeena but Canada as a whole need young men of this type in our post-war House of Commons. Back Bruce Mickleburgh by your vote and influence to give him the big majority he deserves from us on Monday! Let this be our answer to Ontario.

Signed in all sincerity and earnestness on behalf of all our Party members, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

MRS. J. R. BLAKEY.

Take This With You to the Booth for Reference

Many honest CCF'ers and other workers were shocked this week to find a vicious leaflet being circulated in town, signed by CCF Candidate Archibald, filled with four pages of utterly despicable red-baiting in desperate attempt to stampede the people away from rolling up a majority for Bruce Mickleburgh Monday. In this leaflet the CCF appeals for support to stave off "a communist dictatorship on the Canadian people." Surely when a war has been fought to wipe out Hitler, world's champion red-baiter, and the danger of this red-baiting technique in the hands of reactionaries the world over exposed, Prince Rupert people will repudiate this unwholesome injection into the dying hours of the campaign.

MAJOR HARVEY

the Progressive Conservative party offered to labor was based on the principles of co-operation between labor and management under a system of free enterprise.

In New Zealand the socialistic government had increased taxes until they were four times what they had been before, said Mrs. Rolston during her address. In Australia, which had watched this experiment in New Zealand, it was the labor government that had chosen free enterprise in place of socialism.

The needed change was coming next week, she assured the audience, but not to the defeatist policies of the C.C.F., but instead, to the broad, enlightened program of the Progressive Conservative party.

Business Women Tender Supper

On Tuesday, the Ocean Falls Business and Professional Women's Club held a buffet supper in their club rooms in honor of Mrs. Rolston and Major Harvey.

The president introduced Mrs. Rolston who in her address stressed the power held by this women's club. It was the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of B.C. that had forced the provincial government to have three women put on the B.C. Rehabilitation Council which had been formerly composed of seven men. The women had been able to make many helpful suggestions.

Major Harvey spoke briefly, extending his thanks. He said that such a well arranged club would be an excellent voice for suggestions in the interests of working women in particular and the community in general. If he was chosen their representative at Ottawa he would give any communications from this club his earnest attention.
