Hirohito And MacArthur Get Together

Constitutional Future Of Japan Is Discussed

Emperor Believed to Have Expressed Desire to Abdicate—New Mode of Rule Is Being Drafted Up Already

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (CP)—British Broadcasting Corporation quoted its Tokyo correspondent today as saying it was "strongly believed that Emperor Hirohito expressed his will to abdicate" during a meeting last night with General Douglas MacArthur and "redrafting of the Japanese constitution is already taking place."

Montreal Violence

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 (V)—Violence has flared up in the strike of Montreal meat dealers protesting the government's rationing system. Montreal butchers, claiming the support of longshoremen who quit work on the Montreal waterfront earlier in the day, raided packing houses and garages of meat distributing companies last night. They also smashed the windows of several North End stores which had ignored the close-up or-else order of roaming gangs. Police protection is now being given stores which remain open including St. James Street Market. Fifty-five arrests were made when the T. Eaton meat department was charged.

A meeting of 500 striking meat dealers in the city was also held last night, and they decided to carry their protest shut-down strike into a fourth day. Strike leaders told the meeting that a telegram will be sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King requesting an interview with the federal cabinet in Ottawa Friday morning.

Meantime, the National Harbors Board has announced that it will combat with its police force any attempt by recalcitrant longshoremen to disrupt grain handling in either elevators or aboard ships in the port of Montreal.

Three thousand longshoremen quit loading twenty-eight ships in Montreal yesterday, in a move which spokesmen said was a protest against the butchers' strike. Most of the ships involved were loading foodstuffs and grain for Europe.

STATE OF SIEGE IN ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 27 (V)—The military government of Argentina has re-imposed a state of siege, suspending most of the peoples' liberties. The government's move came just one day after it was disclosed that the Cordoba Army garrison had put down an attempted revolt Monday.

The state of siege, which had been lifted last July after being in effect for more than three and a half years, suspends constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of assembly.

AWARDED $8,000 FOR LAND USED AS AIR PORT

An award of $8,000 for the value of his farm which was expropriated for use as part of an airport in 1942 was granted to Samuel W. Cocker of Vanderhoof in Exchequer Court by Mr. Justice A. C. Cameron on Tuesday. In addition, Mr. Cocker was granted interest totalling $400 plus buildings which he had already moved off the expropriated property.

Declining to take the government's offered price of $6,400, Mr. Cocker had asked $15,350 for the 160 acres which he occupied between 1916 and 1942.

Mr. Justice Cameron ordered that each side stand its own court costs.

MINERS GO ON STRIKE

Latest Repercussions to Meat Rationing Closes Alberta Collieries

CALGARY, Sept. 27 (V)—Most of the southern Alberta's coal mines are idle today, as several thousand men went out on strike in protest against meat rationing. They contend that the ration does not give a miner enough meat to sustain him at his work. Practically all the mines on the Alberta side of the Crow's Nest Pass, including Drumheller and Calgary, ceased work at midnight Wednesday. A total of four thousand workers are involved.

AMERICAN SHIP JUSTIFIES PORT'S DEMAND FOR U.K. OCEAN TRADE

An American merchant vessel standing in Prince Rupert harbor today presents ample justification for this city's demands for a steamship service between this port and the United Kingdom. She is the ss Charles Scribner, her holds emptied after bringing a full cargo of war materials to Port Edward from England. The cargo will be transhipped to the United States by rail.

CANDIDATE BRETT—William H. Brett, C.C.F. candidate for Prince Rupert in the provincial election, is a native of Newfoundland and came to the West in 1919. He served three and a half years in World War I. He has been a member of the C.C.F. since its inception. He was six years president of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union and first president of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Credit Union, also four years a member of the Board of Directors of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association and now general manager of the Prince Rupert Co-operative Association. He has been alderman on the City Council for the last three years. He is married and has one son.

Travelling from England to Prince Rupert with a full cargo, the 4,380-ton vessel has done what local businessmen claim should be a regular voyage for deep sea vessels.

The Charles Scribner unloaded her cargo of munitions, withdrawn from Europe, at Port Edward, after travelling across the Atlantic and through the Panama Canal. She came directly here from Balboa, Canal Zone.

"To my mind, that voyage proves the feasibility of our claim for ocean service between Prince Rupert and the U.K.," a local businessman commented. "If an American vessel can bring cargo here from England, there is no reason why Canadian vessels cannot operate out of this port."

The vessel's cargo was 6,130 tons of war materials. She was scheduled to clear from this port Wednesday afternoon but is now awaiting orders from her owners having suddenly been freed from war service.

Just as she was about to leave, her master, Capt. Arthur H. Hall was informed that the American War Shipping Board had turned the vessel back to her owners, the W. J. Rountree Co., of New York. She had previously been scheduled to sail under military orders.

TELLS STORY OF FORMER RUPERT MEN IN BATTLE

The story of a duel between the 5.5-inch guns of a Canadian artillery battery manned by British Columbia gunners and three German 16-inch guns at Cap Griz Nez, France, in which one of the German monsters was destroyed and the other two held to cover was part of the chronicle of the Third Medium R.C.A. regiment told by Gunner Ivan Adams of Massett.

With a group of other former members of Prince Rupert's 102nd Coast Battery, Gunner Adams fed the guns of the Fifth Battery, Third R.C.A. from Caen, France, to Uden in Germany. He is proud of record set by these former Prince Rupert men.

Little Girl Murdered

Another Brutal Child Slaying Occurs in Fraser Valley

LANGLEY, Sept. 27 (V)—Ten-year-old Doreen Rose Ryan was shot to death late Wednesday before her mother's eyes on a farm at nearby Murrayville and police said that a widespread search is under way for 53-year-old Nobel Monahan for questioning in the case. He was still at large today.

Mrs. Ryan said she saw Monahan fire from a .22-rifle into the child's head as the little girl lay on the floor of a root cellar. Another of her daughters had been threatened, Mrs. Ryan said.

WOULD BOYCOTT VANCOUVER FOR BAD PUBLICITY

A suggestion that, in doing business with Vancouver, Prince Rupert is pouring money into an ungrateful hand was propounded to the Daily News by Frank Dibb, local printer, who feels that this city's interests would be better served if the lines of business were directed east and not south.

"Vancouver!" he says. "What has that city ever done for us but take out money and give us bad publicity in return? They have maligned us for years and it is time we did something to counter it."

Snearing references to Prince Rupert, particularly to its weather, on the part of Vancouver people have been taken seriously by Mr. Dibb, who feels that every loyal Prince Rupert citizen should share his loyalty to their home city.

"I have lived in Prince Rupert for a good many years. It's my home. In my business I spend thousands of dollars in Vancouver but I think that if I and other business people here spent our money in the east instead of Vancouver we would be better off."

This economic weapon, Mr. Dibb believes, would bring Vancouver up shortly.

"Having no thought for our goodwill, they obviously don't appreciate the business we give them. It would be astonishing how quickly their attitude would change if we boycotted them," he asserted. "Edmonton and other eastern centres could supply our needs as effectively as Vancouver and we wouldn't lose a thing."

Weather Forecast

Cloudy and cool northern portion, partly cloudy south portion, light winds becoming moderate tonight. Friday: cloudy with light rain northern half with slightly higher temperatures. Moderate winds locally, fresh southeasterly northern portion.

MINERS GO ON STRIKE

It was in Holland that the Third R.C.A. first came across rockets. Hearing a peculiar roar one night while in an advanced position, they came out of shelter to see them streaking across the sky—toward Germany. It was a battery of Canadian rocket weapons firing into German positions.

Later, they saw hundreds of V2 rockets take off from German sites and thousands of flying bombs pass over their heads, destined for Antwerp.

They were well into Germany on May 4 when they received the "cease fire" order. Later at Uden, a German town, they were visited by Churchill.

Gunner Adams is the son of the late Alfred Adams, outstanding native chief, of Massett. He plans to return to Massett after he is discharged and return to fishing, doing handicraft work with plastic materials on the side.

Body From Ship Fire

Remains of Verdun McDaniels of Vancouver Taken From Prince George

A small wooden box, containing the remains of Verdun McDaniels of Vancouver, 32-year-old fireman victim of the fire which destroyed the steamer Prince George last Saturday, was taken from the hulk yesterday and will be here on the Prince Rupert tonight enroute to Vancouver. McDaniels had been trapped by the flames. No cause of the fire has been determined as yet.

The Prince Rupert is also bringing in officers and members of the Prince George crew from Ketchikan tonight.

FIRE DAMAGES YACHT 'MYSTERY'

The 50-foot yacht Mystery, owned by Leland D. Kish, of Seattle, was badly damaged by a fire which swept through her cabins at 11:30 today as she lay moored at the Prince Rupert Yacht Club floats. The fire was caused by the engine back-back-firing, Kish told city firemen who extinguished the blaze.

Kish said that he had been making adjustments to the engine when it back-fired, igniting gasoline in the engine room. The flames spread quickly through the ship.

The deck housing and luxurious fittings of the vessel were destroyed or damaged. Kish, an employee of the American military service here, lived aboard the vessel. It is expected that there may be considerable damage to the hull as well although no leaks had developed.

The Mystery is a 50-foot transom-stern yacht. Her owner brought her to Prince Rupert about a year ago.

Ottawa—

Delegation Interviews Ministers

Returning to Winnipeg to the Railway Vice-President

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (Special to Daily News)—Prince Rupert business-labor delegation interviewed Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction and Progress, and Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport, at a joint meeting and, on their advice, the delegation is returning to Winnipeg to interview W. R. Devenish, president of the Canadian National Railways, for a joint meeting.

The delegation, while here, called on Hon. J. A. McKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, a deputy minister of national defence in connection with the possibility of retention of defence establishments at Prince Rupert.

WOTERS AT NIGHT POLLS

Large Majority of Prince Rupert Preferences to Be Cast Within City

Eight of the 29 polling divisions in Prince Rupert constituency will not vote cast October 25, provincial election. There will be no votes because there are no voters there.

Of the constituency's 5,447 voters who will vote this year, 4,000 will cast ballots in Prince Rupert. About 800 will vote in the 20 other polling divisions.

Returning Officer Bruce Brown estimates that there will be from 20 polling stations in the city but has not yet decided on the locations.

Oddly in the voting set-up in this constituency is the fact that although Seal Cove is registered as a polling division, there have been no votes cast there many years. In the 1941 provincial election and again in this year, all Seal Cove voters are listed in the Prince Rupert polling division.

It seems silly, but I have to say that arrangements for Seal Cove just like any other polling division," Mr. Brown commented.

In addition to Seal Cove, the other divisions which have no voters registered are Alford, Barrett Rock, Billmor, Dunpoint, Fredrick Point, Gillies, and Skidegate Lake.

Here is a list of the number of voters registered at the other polling divisions:

Prince Rupert City	4,647
Seal Cove	79
Alford	57
Barrett Rock	9
Dunpoint	7
Fredrick Point	14
Gillies	45
Skidegate Lake	115
Alford	22
Barrett Rock	26
Dunpoint	68
Fredrick Point	68
Gillies	43
Skidegate Lake	100
Alford	18
Barrett Rock	16
Dunpoint	21
Fredrick Point	17
Gillies	9

LONDON (V)—Sir George Christopher Clayton, 76, Conservative M.P. for Widnes from 1929 to 1935, died here recently.

DAILY NEWS IS PRAISED

Special Issue of Prince Rupert Paper Excites Favorable Comment at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (Special to Daily News)—Prince Rupert's business-labor delegation, in the course of interviews with cabinet ministers here, heard much favorable comment on the recent special issue of the Prince Rupert Daily News. Each cabinet minister has received a copy of the special edition.

Community Chest Needed . . .

Within a single twenty-four hour period one day this week no fewer than three calls were made at the Daily News office by canvassers for subscriptions for worthy causes. The experience at our office was very likely paralleled at other of the business places along Third Avenue.

Possibly we might not have noticed it so much had the solicitors not been coming so thick and fast all at once. So it was possibly more annoying than it was costly. Had another canvasser happened to come along about the same time, he might have been unceremoniously turned down—no matter how worthy his cause.

With business conditions in Prince Rupert about to return to normal after the war boom years and the possibility that business people may be inclined to consider more carefully these continual outgoes for one fund or another, it might be well to get down to a serious entertainment of the community chest idea which seems to work so admirably in some communities, systematizing and unifying these worthy solicitations and at the same time ensuring fair appropriations for the many causes.

Apparently, to get the community chest in operation in Prince Rupert, only the leadership of some interested organization in taking hold seems to be needed. It would appear to be just the sort of a public service that one of the chamber of commerce organizations might take hold of. There is no doubt the time is ripe for it. Public solicitations for funds and tag days are becoming a real problem.

Salvation Army's Work . . .

The present drive for funds for the Salvation Army Home Front appeal causes some discussion as to the work of the Army and its local application. The more fortunately situated in life do not see much of the works of mercy continually being carried on by the organization.

One example shows the need for generous support to this Drive. During the years 1943 and '44, five unmarried mothers' cases from the City of Prince Rupert were handled by the Salvation Army, involving a total of 808 hospital patient days and a cash cost (at 95c per day), of $767.60 to the funds of the Army.

As this is just one of the many lines of social service continually carried on by this organization, some idea of the need for support can be arrived at.

In the immediate future it is anticipated that a great deal of the time, energy and the funds of the Army will be required for rehabilitation work among returning service personnel. The budget for this purpose last year was $150,000, and that was before either the European or Japanese war had come to an end.

LETTERBOX

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP AND SOCIALISM

Editor, Daily News:
It must be amusing to students of Marxian Socialism to hear the views of despair expressed on one hand and the jubilation of others over the dawn of socialism through the advancement of the C.C.F.

I here again, Mr. Editor, beg leave to state Socialism is not the gift or child of any political party. Socialism, like Capitalism is an economic growth born of social necessity under economic pressure. So, wherever or whenever. Socialism becomes an established fact, it is simply the effect of a good and sufficient cause. Remove the cause and the socialistic germ will die. Do not blame Socialists or Communists for bringing in that dreaded Socialistic state. But rather place the blame or credit on the responsible source—namely, our present mode of wealth production and distribution. Our method of wealth production has increased a thousand-fold in the past century but distribution has sadly fallen in the rear. Hence the problem of purchasing power and its twin brother unemployment and relief.

But let us not be over-ready to accept or subscribe to all remedies offered as a solution. First let it be kept in mind that public ownership in no sense of the word is Socialism. It is still capitalism both in principle and purpose and as such does in no way under Capitalism benefit the working class as a class.

As an example, compare the wages and working conditions of the C.P.R. with those of the C.N.R. Then compare the wages and working conditions of the Ontario Hydro Electric employees with those of the B.C. Electric or West Kootenay Power and Light Co. Or our own Northern B.C. Power Co! While I have no definite knowledge of the working set-up governing the thousands of employees attached to those concerns, I venture to say they are relatively the same. It is simply State Capitalism on the one hand and private Capitalism on the other—both instruments of exploitation of the workers.

If public ownership is a part of Marxian Socialism, then the late Sir Robert Borden, Sir Thomas White, Sir Henry Drayton, Adam Beck, Arthur Meighen, former leaders of the Conservative party, are the greatest Socialists Canada has yet produced.

GEO. B. CASEY.

Another Communication From Mr. Pattullo

To the Electors of Prince Rupert Constituency:

Last week I told you that I would refer later on to some activities which I thought would be of interest to you. As I am leaving for Queen Charlotte Islands tomorrow, I am today enumerating some of them in very brief form. I do so as there is no one else in a position so to do.

Came to Prince Rupert in 1909 before incorporation of City. Through my initiative a telephone system was installed and turned over to City after incorporation. Also Water Rights covering Prince Rupert water supply which had been alienated were re-acquired for City.

After incorporation of City, was a member of first City Council and Chairman of Finance Committee, during which time policy was adopted of grading streets in Section 1, thus putting business section in unified and integrated position for future development.

Caused present Provincial Government buildings to be erected. This took some doing!

Secured Salt Lakes as permanent reserve for benefit of City, also McClymont Park.

Caused site of present Post Office to be conveyed to Dominion without charge, thus insuring immediate construction of this necessary building.

Caused substantial aid to be given Prince Rupert Hospital at a critical juncture in hospital's position.

Gave special assistance to City recently when Prince Rupert bridges were falling down.

Was member of a delegation during First World War to secure shipbuilding here. Also spent several days in Ottawa beginning of recent war urging immediate shipbuilding on this coast with definite successful results.

Caused building of plank road from Port Clements to Tlell and recently secured appropriation to complete a permanent road between these two points, approximate cost $100,000.00.

Requirements of small communities adjacent to Prince Rupert have been reasonably met at all times.

By redefining boundaries of electoral districts, secured additional representation in legislature for Northern British Columbia. Numbers count. Don't forget this.

Negotiated with Dominion Government to extend British Columbia boundaries to take in Yukon but negotiations suspended at my request until Dominion-Provincial financial relations finally adjusted.

Also proposed that Eastern boundaries of British Columbia should be extended following 120th meridian to take in McKenzie Basin.

Fought for Alaska Highway to employ large numbers of young men who would be given training in mineralogy and geology and thereafter would be grub-staked in order to open up mineral possibilities of a vast territory.

Carried out drilling operations for oil in Peace River country. While work was stopped after my leaving office, it is conceded by competent geologists that further work will bring in large bodies of oil. Immense coal deposits were uncovered.

Caused building of Terrace bridge, no mean accomplishment at that time.

Built Pattullo Bridge at New Westminster in face of heavy opposition for which many have since apologized.

Responsible for creation of Greater Vancouver Water District under constant lambasting.

Carried out development of University Endowment Lands in Point Grey than which there is no finer development on North American continent. A vandal chiselled off Crest of Province from stone gateway at entrance.

Initiated irrigation policy which saved life of such towns as Vernon and Kelowna.

Carried out development of South Okanagan Irrigation Project for benefit of Returned soldiers in World War I. This now one of finest districts in British Columbia with 4,000 residents.

Initiated creation of Department of Trade and Industry, and appointment of Economic Council which has resulted in bringing scores of millions of dollars to Province.

Sponsored aggressive policy timber trade extension resulting in building up in British Columbia largest timber exporting organization in world.

Initiated Pro-Rec organization now so beneficial.

Carried out vigorous immigration policy as Minister of Lands and brought in considerable number of settlers outside of Dominion operations. In amplification of immigration policy made two trips to Britain in connection with huge development project especially beneficial to Northern British Columbia and including sale of Pacific Great Eastern Railway. Fall of then British Government precluded further negotiations.

Started National Highway east and built several miles. (Note—Here seems opportune time to state policy. I believe this highway should be owned and maintained by Federal authority, but in any event question should immediately be adjusted between Dominion and Province and thereafter, whoever controlling authority, highway should be properly surfaced without delay. I pledge myself to press for this.)

Played major role in maintaining right of Provinces to participate in direct taxation, thus insuring consideration of whole problem by Dominion Government and provinces in light of peace conditions. This is still unfinished business and I know a lot about it.

Unfinished business also is report of Royal Commission on Forestry to be considered next session. Forestry for 12 years directly under me as Minister of Lands.

There are, of course, innumerable other questions requiring attention.

Every man who follows trend and necessities of our public economy knows that there has been an ever-increasing Governmental control. Discovery and invention have at once simplified and added to complexities of modern society. Am in favor of forward measures and such control as new conditions make necessary, but am opposed to taking over by State of all industries of country. There are several hundred businesses right here on streets of Prince Rupert which are enjoying prosperity under a personal freedom which must forever be cherished. Under State ownership, long nose of Bureaucracy would be stuck into every phase of existence.

I shall have further observations to make from time to time when I return from Queen Charlottes.

Very faithfully yours,
T. D. PATTULLO. (Adv.)

UTAH WOMEN FIGHT POLIO

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 27 (AP)—Utah women from farm and ranch areas, where doctors and nurses are scarce enough in the best of times, are getting into the fight against poliomyelitis. They came as volunteers from all parts of Utah for the first training classes to be held by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Some travelled 500 miles to attend.

A wartime dearth of professional help for polio victims, especially in thinly populated areas, has pointed up the need for substitutes. Already several of the 158 graduates of the four-day school held here are at work in the state's largest polio centre. The work of the volunteers consists in applying hotpacks to infected muscles to prevent spasms and pave the way for physiotherapists to prevent the crippling effects. Special techniques of bedside nursing were also taught.

"TO YANKS IN CANADA"

By HON. T. C. DOUGLAS
Premier, Saskatchewan

It is paradoxical that frequently only adversity brings people close enough to one another to foster friendship and understanding. The war was the ill wind which blew many Canadians to far-distant lands and which, at the same time, brought people from many parts of the world to Canada. Many are the strange places which our people have visited and many are the strangers who came to Canada.
Most of them left their native lands reluctantly and because they were required to assume duties which only war could justify. But it is heartening that after spending several years in Canada, they are no longer strangers and that many have expressed a keen desire to return to a country which was happy to have the opportunity to be their host. It is, therefore, hoped that, after the exigencies of war have passed, the memory of their stay in Canada will impel them to return as old friends who have been absent awhile.

The results of the sojourn of American soldiers in Canada cannot be easily assessed. Undoubtedly their presence strengthened the defences and the striking power of the United Nations and early victory bears testimony to the efficacy of strategy which included their assignment here. But in matters non-military, their influence has been as great. Their presence in Canada, the friendships which they made, the co-operation which they fostered and the work in which they took part, all bear testimony to the great value of a cultural market in which there exists a free exchange of ideas, and in which no restriction is placed upon the free growth and flow of human thought.

Together with all other nations of the world, the United States and Canada can look forward to an era of friendliness and prosperity founded upon the extension of economic and political democracy and planned according to the principles of equality and social justice. For through the war, we have affirmed a principle which we all recognized and accepted as axiomatic, that not in hands shaking together in synthetic affection can peace be established but in hands working together toward the common end which we, and all men of good-will, so sincerely desire.

LONDON, Sept. 27 (P)—Members of the Woman's Auxiliary Air Force now command five stations on which both men and women serve.

At the outbreak of war, servicemen were called out for duty only in domestic and clerical trades, but within a short time they were being given posts of higher responsibility.

The first unit to be commanded by a W.A.A.F. officer was an equipment part at Romney, near Southampton, which supplies all stations within 50 miles with airplane spares and other technical equipment. At one station commanded by a woman, Wy-thall, there are between 200 and 300 R.A.F. members. In all cases, the discipline is reported to be
"excellent."

The Coalition Government is an aggressive Government. It has consistently contributed to the development of the resources of the entire Province.

- The Coalition Government has established a separate Forestry Department and set up the Forestry Commission to place forest products on a sounder economic basis as B.C.'s major industry.
- It has created the B.C. Power Commission to provide power everywhere in the Province, contributing to industrial expansion and increased farm production.
- It is completing the Hope-Princeton Highway to bring the products of the fertile Okanagan closer to their markets.
- It has commenced construction of a six million dollar outlet to the Peace River. This is but a part of the programme to open up the rich north.
- It has set up the Industrial Research Council to promote wider use of our natural resources and expansion of our secondary industries.

Ben Self Hits Jackpot—

WELL KNOWN PIONEER SPORTSMAN OF PRINCE RUPERT IS RETIRING AFTER CLEANING UP BIG FORTUNE

Ben Self, well known pioneer restaurateur and sportsman of Prince Rupert, has made a fortune at the northern Quebec mining town of Val D'Or, where he served as alderman, and retired. True to form he is now embarked on a vacation trip to the United States with the World Series as his immediate objective. Then he will visit his birthtown at Claremore, Oklahoma, before attending the Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

Ben is written up in "Time" and it makes interesting reading for old friends here:

"When Benjamin Self and his stout, hearty wife Viola arrived in Val D'Or, Quebec, eleven years ago, they had $4 in cash and $267 worth of hardware. When the Selfs retired last week and headed for a U.S. vacation (the World Series, Ben's birthplace at Claremore, Okla., the Mardi Gras at New Orleans, then the warm sun of Florida and Cuba), they had $20,000 cash—the price they got for their hardware store—$100,000 in Val D'Or real estate, and an estimated 100,000 shares of 32c-a-share stock in a promising but yet-to-be-developed gold mine.

"No gold miners themselves, the Selfs had cashed in on one of the fastest-growing gold booms in Canada's golden history.

Haircuts and Gold

"The first traces of gold were found in the Val D'Or area, in the heart of Quebec's wild northwestern bush country, as early as 1909, but the town of Val D'Or itself was not really born until 1933, when a peripatetic barber set up a stool on a flat rock and started to work on hairy prospectors. In 1934, the year the Selfs arrived, the town's official population was five.

Then things began to hum. The great Lamaque and Sigma mines were discovered (1939 aggregate production value: nearly $7,000,000). Get-rich-quickers swarmed northward to pick up the nuggets in the wilderness. They stayed because the stories were not too far wrong.

"For a while Val D'Or lived, as boom towns do, at a dizzy pace. In 1936 it had a population of 4,000 and was a hell-roaring mining camp in the middle of nowhere. Beer was $1 a bottle. A town census registered 46 different nationalities. Shady characters prospered like green bay trees. In 1936 the first year that Val D'Or had a police force, Chief Leo Therien led a raid through the town's 300 unpainted board-and-tar-paper shacks, arrested 112 prostitutes, gamblers and bootleggers.

"The town today (pop. 7,500) is still mushrooming—4,000 of its inhabitants work in its mines, and there are hundreds of untested claims. But now trains of the Canadian National streak past its back doors. Val D'Or's dowdiness is gone.

Curfew Sends Kids Home Early

"A shrill curfew whistle sends Val D'Or's moppets kiting home at 9 p.m. The town's Third Avenue (the main stem) has nine hotels (including a Ritz and a Continental), sandwich shoppes and beauty salons, four furniture stores, taxis, even such accoutrements of civilization as a nightclub and a stock exchange (one recent day's business: 29,000 shares, representing $50,000). Val D'Or's drug stores sell barrels of pop. Miners get ice cream sodas at the Splendid Sweets.

"And Val D'Or's boom may not be over. The legend of devout, childlike Pierrette Regimbal (Time, Aug. 27) is bringing tourists by the thousands. Moreover, Val D'Or's buried treasure seems scarcely touched. Geologists, who know more about the area's minerals than anyone else, guess that some day, despite its frigid winters, Val D'Or may be one of the greatest mining cities in Canada. Mayor Joseph Eugene Berard last week solemnly predicted a population of 25,000 within three more years. He said that Val D'Or's six big producing mines (Sullivan, Siscoe, Lamaque, Sigma, Perron, and Golden Manitou) and potential new ones would hire 5,300 new hands now if there were houses for them. To solve the problem, he announced a new mile-square subdivision on which some 2,000 houses will be built."

Belgium—

PROGRESS IS BEING HELD BY ROYALTY

Recovery Made in Many Spheres but Coal and Food Situation Still Serious

BRUSSELS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Belgium, although known for its capacity to work whatever the circumstances, will need months if not years to recover economically.

Recovery efforts are being made in all spheres and optimistic views are expressed that industry and commerce will soon enjoy more normal conditions. But the question of royalty which has troubled the country since the war ended has considerably hampered government action and has caused considerable delay in the solution of many national problems.

Several industries, such as clothmaking, have made a start, but full production will be impossible until there is an adequate supply of coal. Belgian coal production has risen from 30,000 tons a month to over 50,000 but even that is not sufficient for domestic and industrial needs. A level of 80,000 tons a month must be reached if Belgium is to face next winter confidently.

The food situation has improved. Most Belgians now are well fed, although enjoying none or few of the pre-war luxuries. Bread is plentiful and fats available at lower prices, but meat remains very scarce. The tinned meat provided by the Allies is not to everybody's liking. Still, with improving transport and continued Allied help, it is apparent that there will be more food.

Want Early Aid

Before V-E Day some bitterness was expressed that Belgium, starved during five years of German occupation, was not getting aid quickly and extensively enough. But many understood that priority had to be given military transport. Now these people ask only that a big effort be made to feed them properly before the Allies feed the people in occupied enemy territory.

Politically Belgium remains adverse to big and troublesome experiments. The present royal crisis, which in other countries

Called Home By Father's Illness

SMITHERS, Sept. 27 — Pte. Stanley Howell arrived at his home in Quick a few days ago from overseas in response to urgent representations to the military authorities that he was badly needed at home on account of the serious illness of his father, W. J. Howells, who had undergone two major operations in the Bulkley Valley Hospital at Smithers recently. Pte. Howell was given rapid transportation by being placed on a plane and flown from England to Canada. W. J. Howell is now improving in health but will be convalescent for a considerable length of time.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

Steamship and dry dock officials are at present at Ketchikan to inspect the broken and burned hull of the steamer Prince George which was destroyed by fire at the Alaskan port last Saturday. They will recommend what disposal should be made of the twisted ruin which was once one of the coast's finest passenger liners. Among those at Ketchikan in this connection are G. A. McMillan, superintendent, Canadian National Steamships, Vancouver; W. G. Jordan, superintendent, Pacific Salvage Co.; Bernard Allen, manager of the local dry dock; Robert Cameron, dry dock superintendent, and Harry Workman, Lloyds surveyor.

might have brought about big upheavals, has left the average Belgian calm.

The traditional Catholic, Liberal and Socialist parties retain the upper hand. A swing leftward may develop in the next election but as the Socialist are wary in their dealings with the Communists, it seems that the right wing will still be powerful enough to maintain the balance. The resistance movements have proved very divided and it appears that they will not carry the weight such forces did in France.

During the German occupation, resistance movements were supported morally and financially by the exiled government. Most groups now are aligned with some political party.

Was Welcomed By Smithers Friends

SMITHERS, Sept. 27 — The many friends of Pilot Officer Ewart Hetherington were pleased to meet him again in Smithers on Tuesday following his arrival home from overseas. Pilot Officer Hetherington was formerly with the social service of the provincial government and visited Smithers on many occasions in the course of his work. He had the misfortune of being shot down over Germany on his second bombing trip over that country and was a prisoner of war for a short time, being liberated at the end of hostilities.

NATIONAL CLOTHING COLLECTION

For needy and destitute in war-torn lands...
In war-torn countries throughout the world, countless thousands of dazed and destitute people are today without adequate clothing, blankets or footwear. During six horror-filled years of war, the clothes on their backs have been worn to pitiful shreds.
The need is urgent—bitter winter weather is at hand. And the answer to the need lies largely in the clothes closets and attics of Canada—among the serviceable discarded wearing apparel that hangs there, idle and unused.
Look over your family's wardrobe—now! Pick out every garment you can possibly spare—overcoats, suits and dresses, underwear, sweaters and work clothes... anything in usable condition... anything out of date, out of fashion.
There are 125,000,000 men, women and little children in Europe alone who need your help—now! Will you do your share?

SPONSORED BY THE CANADIAN UNITED ALLIED RELIEF FUND ON BEHALF OF U.N.R.R.A.

What YOU Can Do

1. Get together all the serviceable used clothing you can spare—men's, women's, children's, infants'. Also old blankets and footwear.
2. Bundle up your contribution, in readiness for the opening of the Collection Campaign on October 1.
3. Support your local Committee not only with clothing but with your time, effort and energy.

LEADERS FOR MEN FOUND

Six Competent Gymnasts Join Pro-Rec Here

Prince Rupert has no shortage of gymnastic talent. Yesterday, a call was made through this paper for five more leaders which were needed to bring the men's leaders course up to full capacity. The gap was more than filled when six competent gymnasts joined the class last night.

Eric Freeman, one of the former instructors of the talented Kamloops Gym Club, did a splendid job in parallel bar instruction.

An outstanding gymnast was Ted Parkhouse, formerly of the Saskatoon Y.M.C.A., who instructed in mat tumbling.

Another find included Denis O'Neill, a former Pro-Rec man who spent six years as an army physical training instructor.

Husky Don Wilson, formerly of the Royal Canadian Air Force, refuted the theory that well built men are muscle-bound by his skill in all exercises of agility and flexibility.

D. Clark and Bill Collins proved to be expert gymnasts, excelling especially in mat tumbling.

The leaders class of last evening was indeed encouraging.

LOOKING OVER BALL LEAGUES

The Detroit Tigers assured themselves of at least a tie with Washington Senators yesterday as far as the American League pennant is concerned. The Tigers split a doubleheader with Cleveland, taking the first game 11-0, but being nosed out in the second 3-2. Detroit is now one game ahead of Washington, who have finished their schedule and the Tigers have two games left to play. Both are with St. Louis Browns and, if they win one of them, the pennant is theirs. The twin bill between Detroit and Cleveland was the only American League activity yesterday, as Chicago and St. Louis were rained out.

In the National League, the pennant hopes of the hard working St. Louis Cards are a bit brighter today after yesterday's 11-6 victory over the league leading Chicago Cubs. The result leaves the Cards one and a half games behind the Cubs.

In the other National League games, Brooklyn trimmed New York 8-1, and Pittsburgh Pirates split with Cincinnati Reds. The Reds took the first game of a double-header 5-2 and Pittsburgh came back fast to take the second 2-1.

In the opening game of the International League's Governor's Cup final play-off series, Newark Bears walloped the Montreal Royals 7-2. Frank Hiller, who went the distance for the Bears, walked nine men, gave up six hits and was in trouble all the way, but he bore a charmed life and squeezed out of half a dozen jams without being hurt. The Royals left 13 men stranded on the bases.

Here are today's baseball: National League—St. Louis at Pittsburgh; Chicago at Cincinnati (double-header); American League—Cleveland

What Kamloops Has Achieved Is Set as Pictorial Example for Prince Rupert

Members of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, at luncheon yesterday, were shown some interesting moving pictures depicting the proficiency and agility that has been developed at Kamloops in advanced recreational training of children and young people of that city. The pictures were presented by George McGregor, pro-rec director at Prince Rupert, and were timely indeed to the present organizational campaign here.

It might be some time before the high standard of recreational training proficiency at Kamloops might be achieved in Prince Rupert, Mr. McGregor admitted, but he was confident that, given an adequate measure of enthusiastic support, a large measure of success along these lines would be attained here.

Mr. McGregor was assisted by Frank Ryan in the projection of the films. Dr. J. J. Gibson, president of the Gyro Club, was in the chair and luncheon guests were Fred Parker, Kamloops; Jack Anneslev, Edmonton; Ray McLean and Ted Mills.

WAR BEAUTY MAY ENTER PICTURES

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27 (P)—Top honors in a beauty contest at MacDonald Aircraft plant here last summer followed by publication of her picture in Canadian newspapers set off a chain of events that might lead to a Hollywood role for Mrs. Roy Diell of Winnipeg.

Mrs. Diell, formerly Evelyn Sorenson, was married last October, the day after she was chosen pin-up girl by the men of H.M.C. S. St. Francis at Cornwallis, N.S., and H.M.C.S. Kenora at London, Ont. She received letters from every one of the 1,200 sailors.

Last winter crew members of the English ship H.M.S. Banbara sent her picture to Frank Ross productions in Hollywood as their choice in a contest to find the girl to play Salome in "The Robe."

The winner will be decided sometime in September and to date Evelyn has received encouraging letters about her chances from the publicity manager of Frank Ross productions.

She's not counting her chickens yet, however, and realizes she "might not win at all."

SHORT SPORT

Marylebone Cricket Club, supreme British cricket authority, has drawn up the first draft of proposed revision of the 60-year old laws of the game. The draft will be submitted to clubs in Britain and overseas for opinions before the final draft is prepared. At the earliest it is not expected the new laws will come into force before the end of the 1947 season. The draft reduces the number of laws from 60 to 47 and among important changes is the mention of the captain and his deputy for the first time. No longer will teams be able to delay the game because the captain is not present.

Reference to the eight-ball over in Australia and New Zealand is deleted and clubs may use either six or eight-ball overs. Termed a "much-needed definition of the pitch by cricket players, a suggested rule reads: "The pitch is deemed to be the area of ground between the bowling creases five feet in width, on either side of the line joining the centre of the wickets."

M. C. C. proposes to experiment in first-class English cricket, with a clause stating that a new ball may be demanded after 55 (six-ball) overs have been bowled. Under present rules the demand may be made after 200 runs have been scored. Another experiment will be with a rule permitting a declaration on the first day of a three-day match after a side has scored 300 runs.

Presentation of rules is simplified by the draft, which has the general arrangement in five sets—the players, umpires and scorers; implements of the game and the ground; care and maintenance of the pitch; conduct of the game and duties of the umpires. The nine ways a batsman can be out are arranged alphabetically.

Policewoman Says Psychology Counts

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 (P)—Rosemary O'Brien is a detective who doesn't believe in the use of a blackjack to bring the wayward into line.

She prefers to use psychology in her job as a detective in a large Chicago hotel.

In doing "the only work I know," Mrs. O'Brien has proved that a soft word is far more effective than such tactics as jujitsu.

She and three others were employed last January in the first attempt in the country to use women in policing a hotel. Their main efforts were directed against juvenile delinquency.

As Irish as the Blarney Stone, Rosemary's career as a policewoman springs from a heritage of police careerists. Her grandfather, Simon O'Donnel, was chief of police of the city of Chicago from the middle 90's until 1910.
