Britain Has Hurd Winter

Weather Toughest in Years—Ten Beer Freezes in Taverns—LONDON, Jan. 27 (CP)—Britain has been having a hard winter this year that has brought conditions beyond the imagination. A relaxation of censorship has permitted disclosure of weather conditions between then and this morning. It is a secret to everyone but farmers in some districts had to dig their sheep and the out of snowdrifts, while snowsweeps have had to go to the coal because of the shortage of fuel for heating houses in Britain. A near crisis arose in a village in Yorkshire where the snow froze and it took five men with a blow-torch to thaw the pipes out. The chimneys of Big Ben were blown up and unable to peel. Many communities are isolated by drifted snow.

Display Is Impressive

Good Show Illustrating Use of Fighting Arms Staged by Local Reserve Unit Last Night—As a culminating feature of the current recruiting campaign for the Prince Rupert Regiment of Canada's Reserve Army, a public demonstration of arms was presented at the Armory last night. It was a display which intrigued the interest of the uninitiated and won the congratulatory comment of those who were qualified to judge. It showed that the men of the Prince Rupert Regiment are really doing a good job and have achieved a state of proficiency that is a tribute to their own adaptability and enthusiasm as well as to the excellence of the training which they have received. It was a revelation of what may be achieved in a couple of hours or so of spare time training per week.

THIS NAZI WAS PROMISED CHRISTMAS IN PARIS—Suffering a knee wound, this 18-year-old German paratrooper dragged himself painfully across the snow-covered ground to surrender to U.S. forces near Bastogne during the hectic fighting that marked the German breakthrough into Belgium. The youngster said that the German troops taking part in the von Rundstedt drive had been promised Christmas Day in Paris.

The several departments of training which the Reserve Army provides in fitting busy citizens in one way or another to defend themselves and their homes should emergency arise were admirably demonstrated. The staccato crackle of certain types of guns gave a realistic effect. Other weapons were handled silently but all the motions of actual action were shown. Except for one of the sequences, the whole show was put on by the personnel of the regiment under the general direction of Regimental Sergeant Major E. R. Macdonald.

The officer commanding, Major C. J. O. Toms, spoke briefly in welcoming the visitors who were considerable in number. The demonstration proceedings commenced with Private Andrew Derrick, a native soldier, who returned home recently after seeing service with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Italy and who has just joined the local unit, exhibiting a position of rifle and bayonet to win a large measure of applause.

Then came the various demonstrations of use of arms after which an opportunity was given those present to inspect the weapons.

The concluding feature of the evening's program was the serving of refreshments to the guests.

During the course of the evening there were selections by the regimental band under the leadership of Sergeant Peter Lien.

The personnel who took part in the display included Company Sergeant Major W. Davidson, Battery Sergeant Major William Noble, Sergeant Major W. Porayko, Sergeant C. G. Brechin, Sergeant J. P. Carr, Sergeant S. C. Elkins, Sergeant C. G. Ham, Sergeant Stewart Johnson, Sergeant Hugh Ferguson, Sergeant Cliff Wanamaker, Sergeant D. Owens, Sergeant F. O. Bird, Corp. Sam Currie, Corp. Len Brewerton, Corp. J. H. McGlashan, Corp. L. Astori, Corp. J. Reynolds, Corp. R. B. Parsons, Private N. R. Hebb, Private N. Youngs, Private C. Neilson, Private R. Allen, Private M. Allen, Private W. Bates, Private Smith, Private McIntyre, Private Olsen, Private Barker, Private J. S. Collingwood.

A special display was put on under the direction of Capt. G. G. Nichols of the Soo Suds with Sergeant H. M. Lynch, Corp. A. E. Frey, Private I. Bellaban, Private P. F. Bellaban and Private P. Remmor.

During the evening 10 new recruits were signed up—Andrew Derrick, Michael Sanddyke, O. Quast, Norman Casler, Peter Lacharite, Angus McIntosh, Donald L. Jensen, Lorne A. Jensen, Thomas Smith, Harry Young and G. L. Taylor. Of these three are veterans of the present war—Derrick, Young and Lacharite.

GERMAN GENERAL ADVISES PEOPLE TO ABANDON HITLER, END MADNESS

Must Choose Between Perishing With Fuehrer Or Turning Against Him—Front Collapsing Everywhere

MOSCOW, Jan. 27 (CP)—A German General captured by the Russians has urged the people of the Reich to revolt against Hitler and put an end to what the captured Nazi called "this criminal madness."

The one-time commander of the Fourteenth German tank division—Major-General Marin Lattman—declared in a Moscow broadcast that a patriotic and national-minded officer must lead the fight of the army and the people against Hitler.

Lattman, who is a member of the Soviet-sponsored Free German National Committee, asserted that the German people must choose between perishing with Hitler or saving their nation by turning against him.

Lattman declared that the German front has collapsed from the Carpathians to the Baltic Sea.

There have been no details of either operation but Japanese broadcasts assert that Tokyo was the target of the B-29's from the Marianas.

Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Premier Joseph Stalin.

JAP SUICIDE AIRMEN BUSY—Damage Claimed to Have Been Done to Two American Aircraft Carriers and Battleship

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27 (CP)—An unconfirmed Tokyo broadcast intercepted today by the blue network claimed that Japanese suicide air units yesterday heavily damaged two American aircraft carriers and a battleship in Lingayen Gulf off Luzon Island.

Tokyo Hit By Bombs

Mighty Superforts Deliver Two-way Attacks on Japanese

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 27 (CP)—Mighty superfortress bombers have blasted the Japanese from two directions today. B-29's from the Marianas have pounded the Japanese home island of Honshu in a daylight raid and superforts from India have attacked Japanese-occupied Indo-China.

There have been no details of either operation but Japanese broadcasts assert that Tokyo was the target of the B-29's from the Marianas.

German East Wall Has Broken Down

Danzig In Russ Path

Breslau Also in Great Peril as Red Armies Speed Forward

GENERAL COLLAPSE—NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (CP)—A Moscow broadcast declared today that the German East Wall has broken down and the German front has collapsed from the Carpathians to the Baltic Sea.

While there were major breaches in the Nazi defences, the broadcast appeared to be intended for propaganda purposes. There was no official statement from Moscow. The main spearhead of the Russian drive, according to a German communique, is storming along the shortest route to the German capital and has reached or crossed the border of Brandenburg Province which at the nearest point is 91 miles from Berlin.

LONDON, Jan. 27 (CP)—The former free city of Danzig on the Baltic Sea between East Prussia and Germany proper is in the immediate path of the Red Army following Premier Joseph Stalin's announcement Friday that Russian forces had broken through to the Bay of Danzig. The drive has cut off East Prussia completely from the rest of Germany.

Russian tanks have streamed past Poznan in an audacious drive westward toward the frontier of the German province of Brandenburg which Berlin broadcasts say is already threatened. The Russians, in advancing on Brandenburg, are leaving Poznan to be cleared by infantry. Russian artillery has carried the war closer to Berlin than at any time since the beginning of the conflict. At the closest point the Brandenburg frontier is only 91 miles from Berlin. The southern road from Poznan to Berlin is 106 miles and the north, 95 miles. Stalin announces that four more towns on the southeastern approaches to Koingsberg, capital of East Prussia, have been captured. The four towns are Allenburg, Nodenburg, Lotzen and Taplan. Breslau, provincial capital, is likewise in great danger and is reported to be cut off from all direct communication. The American Federal Communications Commission said that Breslau radio went off the air two hours after midnight and has not been heard since. The Germans have severe losses to make up for on the Eastern front. With more than 20 Nazi divisions trapped in East Prussia by a Red Army drive to the Baltic coast, more than 380,000 German troops have been killed or captured during two weeks of the Russian offensive. Moscow has remained silent on enemy broadcasts telling of a Red advance in Poland to the German border west of Posen. The deepest penetration on this sector that has been confirmed officially is a sweep south of Posen to a point 136 miles from Berlin.

LIQUOR MAN IS DONE TO DEATH

Booze Gang Warfare in Montreal and Toronto Seen

TORONTO, Jan. 27 (CP)—The bullet-pierced, battered, and frozen body of Louis Wernick, alleged to be the head of a Montreal-Toronto liquor syndicate, has been recovered from a deep snowdrift on a street in Etobicoke, a Toronto suburb. The body was found by a snow plow crew cleaning out the street for the first time since a heavy snowstorm several weeks back.

Wernick was a former partner of Rocco Perri in the days when Perri styled himself "King of the bootleggers." Perri himself has been missing since April 1944, after he left his Hamilton home to return to Toronto. The similarity between the two disappearances is taken to indicate a liquor-gang war.

3 FINED UNDER CUSTOMS ACT

For Possession of American Liquor and Cigarettes

Three men appeared before Magistrate W. D. Vance Friday afternoon and pleaded guilty to separate charges under the customs act. For possessing 2,300 American cigarettes, Michael Atamanchuk, of 1357 Overlook St., was fined $50, plus $5.25 costs. He was also assessed $64.62, the value of the goods.

Charles Peter Wilson, crew member of the Prince George, pleaded guilty to possession of 6 pint bottles of American whiskey found on him by customs officers on the C.N.R. wharf. He was fined $50, plus $3.25 costs and assessed $27.18, value of the goods.

Sydney George Drinkall, also a crewman of the Prince George, pleaded guilty to possessing five pint bottles of American whiskey. He was in the company of Wilson when accosted by customs officers. Pleading guilty, he was fined $50 plus $3.25 costs and assessed $22.67, value of the goods. Corp. J. F. Piper, R.C.M.P., prosecuted.

Britain Does Not Count Cost . . .

The recent speech of Prime Minister Churchill, while paying great tribute to the courage and skill of the United troops (the Ardennes fighting he described as "undoubtedly the greatest battle of the war . . . an ever famous American victory," also emphasized the magnitude of the war effort of the British Commonwealth and Empire, stressing the great effort pulsating through the heart of "this small island" and the Commonwealth, despite the long fatigues, monotones and wearisome trials which the war imposes, not only on the men fighting, but for the men and women who stay at home and do all that is in them to back the soldiers at the front.

The extent of the British military effort was indicated by Churchill's statement that "in constant or frequent contact with the enemy" are no fewer than 67 divisions and that "upwards of 100 divisions" were being maintained in the field and in the garrisons apart from the vast navy and air forces." Churchill added, "we are fighting unceasingly on three separate fronts, in northwest Europe, Italy and in Burma."

A Tribute and a Hint . . .

It is fitting, after seeing the men of the Prince Rupert Regiment in demonstration with their arms last night, that we should pay tribute to them for the assiduous perseverance and zeal which has brought them to the high measure of proficiency which they displayed. These men may well feel proud of the work they are carrying on in maintaining the home defences and keeping themselves in fighting trim while their brothers of the active forces are winning the battles abroad. They have the personal satisfaction of knowing that they are doing their part at home and will be able to face unashamed the men who will be coming back from the wars one of these days. They will not be in the unenviable position of some Prince Rupert men who still persist, despite the moderate measures that have so far been taken to have them see their line of duty, and in spite of their own consciences, in evading enlistment in the Reserve Army and even now decline to give the comparatively little time and effort which is required to fit themselves for a possible emergency and to maintain the organization of the non-permanent militia during these days of world war.

In saluting those men who are doing their duty as good and patriotic citizens in this respect, we are perhaps not out of place in making a final suggestion as far as the present recruiting campaign for the regiment is concerned that those men who the cap fits and who hesitate may still join up and thus satisfy their own self-respect as well as ensuring the esteem of those who are already doing their duty insofar as it is in their power.

Sudan Will Develop Secondary Education

KHARTOUM, Sudan, Jan. 27 —Gordon Memorial College will be open early in the year on the banks of the Nile north of here, first step in development of the Sudan government's secondary education policy. It is hoped the college ultimately will become Gordon Memorial University, granting its own fully-recognized degrees. Previously established was a Kitchener School of Medicine in Khartoum and an Institute of Education at Bakht el Ruda. The stage thus is set for the training of Sudanese students for all departments of the colony's professional life.

LETTERBOX

INDIGNATION AROUSED Editor, Daily News: Having chafed hands and a lovely, clean, bright washing machine tarnished, I feel it is time I protested this unnecessary undignified, unscented, insult that has been inflicted on the people of Prince Rupert. I might also mention the case of the babies who have to wear certain garments (of necessity) and have to have them washed and rinsed in this unholy chlorinated water. It does not help to recall what lovely water we had before it was polluted by order-in-council. "Beware of the Greeks when they come bearing gifts." I congratulate Mr. Brooksbank for having the fortitude to protest this unwarranted interference with our water system. (MRS.) JANE A. SINCLAIR. Miss N. L. RECALLS BIG SALVAGE JOB

Unique Million Dollar Marine Undertaking Described to Gyro Club

The story of a million dollar marine salvage job which was unique in many respects and which called into play all the courage and ingenuity of the Prince Rupert concern which successfully carried it out was recalled when L. M. Asemissen, manager of the Armour Salvage Co., was the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club on Wednesday.

The ship was the United States Army transport Kvichak which went on rocks at Sisters Island, 146 miles from Prince Rupert, January 28, sank into 90 feet of water from the reef on March 10, started to be raised June 2 and was delivered to the Prince Rupert dry dock July 19.

A "no cure, no pay" gamble, Mr. Asemissen told how Capt. Paul Armour and his crew of three divers and 30 men were engaged for 27 days in the arduous and exacting job of raising the 1800 tons of deadweight off the bottom by means of cables attached to scows which provided the buoyancy to permit the vessel being towed 80 feet below the surface to a beach 18 feet distant. There she was raised a further 40 feet at which depth the bottomless vessel was towed three miles an hour to Prince Rupert. Squeezing the derelict on to the pontoons at the dry dock was another tricky job.

Mr. Asemissen revealed that the Kvichak, later renamed David B. Houston, was in the South Pacific where she was being used as a floating machine shop.

Dr. J. J. Gibson, "president of the club, was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members with one guest in the person of Robert D. Seal, Ketchikan newspaperman.

G. A. Hunter was appointed to represent the club at a meeting of organizations to be held next Monday night to consider the future of the local dry dock.

STUDY COURSES FOR SERVICEMEN ARE UNLIMITED

Educational opportunities provided by Canadian Legion servicemen's courses are "almost unlimited." Flying Officer E. J. Anglin, R.C.A.F. educational officer attached to Seal Cove air base told Rotarians at their weekly luncheon meeting Thursday.

In a brief talk in which he outlined the work being done for educating and rehabilitating service people, the guest speaker described the broad range of subjects available under the Canadian Legion educational program and then explained the system of government grants under which business opportunities could be partially financed after retirement from the armed forces.

"The courses provided cover those taught in public school, high school, university, and trade and technical schools," F/O Anglin said. "Anyone who passes the courses will have his credits recognized just as if he had attended civilian schools."

Most of the subjects were taught by the correspondence method and the instruction was of a very high order, he added.

The duties of an educational officer are to provide personal assistance to the men in choosing courses and in instruction. A school principal in Alberta before he joined the air force in 1941, F/O Anglin achieved his position by working up from the ranks.

If a service man leaving the forces wished to continue with a university education he would receive assistance from the government for as many months as he had been in the service. This includes payment of tuition and living allowances of about $60 a month for a single man and $70 plus dependents allowances for a married man.

High school courses and technical studies are among the most popular with men in the air force, the speaker said.

"However, while there are a large number of men availing themselves of the opportunities, we feel that many more should do so," he added.

The government rehabilitation grants designed to assist men in getting into business or agriculture after they leave the service will prove helpful. These are particularly liberal as applied to farmers and fishermen, he said.

Guests from the services at the meeting were LAC G. G. Burtram and LAC D. A. Beck. Other guests were M. R. Hill and J. P. Hutchison.

TRUE STORIES OF CANADIAN WAR HEROES

By GORDON SINCLAIR Internationally-famous journalist and author of several best-selling books on war and travel.

PRIVATE "SMOKEY" SMITH, V.C.

In the darkness and rain of October 21st, Canada's Seaforth Highlanders stormed the swollen Savo River in Central Italy and established a bridgehead in the muddy goo of the distant bank.

So torrential was that rainstorm that the river rose six feet in five hours, and the banks were so slippery that neither tanks, jeeps nor mules could gain a footing.

With the raging river at their backs, Highlanders who had crossed were attacked by three of Germany's biggest tanks, two self-propelled guns and 30 infantrymen.

Retreat meant death by drowning or gunfire. Into this desperate position stepped Private Ernest A. (Smokey) Smith of New Westminster, B.C., with one anti-tank gun and one companion.

Smith's companion fell, badly wounded, but Smokey leaped into the open. Tommy gun in hand, and crushed ten Nazis who charged from the tank.

Four died in their tracks, the other six crawled away, wounded.

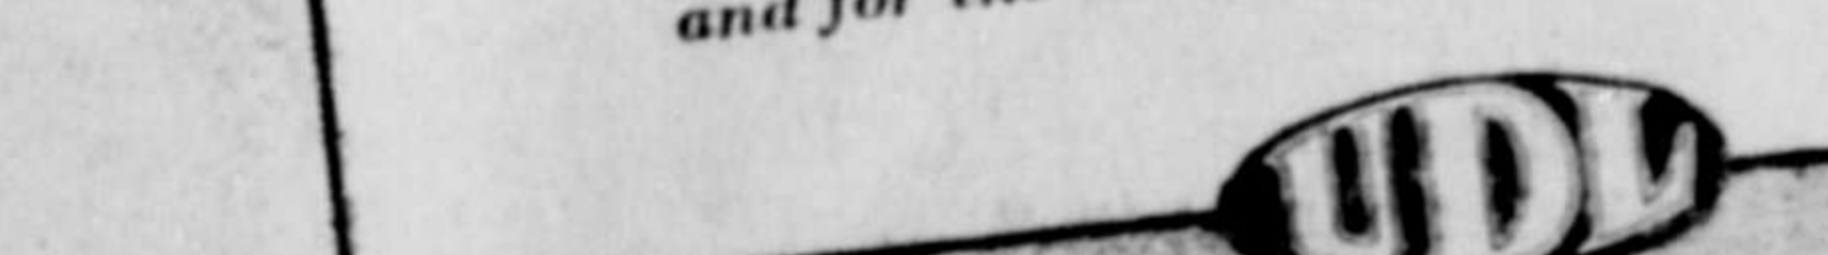

A second tank attacked with guns blazing, but Smokey fearlessly fought this armor until he ran out of ammunition. Then, still unafraid, he retrieved other shells from the rain-filled ditch, resumed firing and put the whole German party to route.

After dressing the wound of his fallen buddy, Smokey Smith made ready to repel a third assault, but Seaforth reinforcements arrived. The position was held, and a further advance began.

For audacity to the point of contempt, Private Smokey Smith was called to Buckingham Palace and there, in private investiture, awarded the Victoria Cross and home leave by a grateful king on behalf of an applauding empire.

Smith was the first Canadian private in this war to win the Empire's most coveted medal, and well he deserved that great honour.

Tribute To Rob't Burns

Fine Affair at Presbyterian Church to Commemorate Scottish Bard
Speaking in response to a toast to the immortal memory of Robert Burns, D. C. Stuart Thursday night paid high tribute to the Scottish ploughman poet. He drew attention to the descriptive beauty and exquisite workmanship of the poems and songs and to the keen and often blunt comments of the epigrams, all marked by a profound disdain for sham and hypocrisy in any form and by homely touches from everyday life which had endeared the writings of Burns to people of all countries.

The occasion was the annual Burns anniversary banquet, held in the hall of First Presbyterian Church by the young women of the congregation. A capacity crowd sat down to enjoy what was unanimously pronounced one of the best banquets in many years and afterwards relaxed to enjoy a delightful and varied program.

The Haggis, traditional Scottish dish, borne aloft by Capt. H. Calderwood, entered the hall to the strains of the pipes and was duly received and addressed in the words of Burns by James McGlashan.

The customary toast to the Lassies was proposed by Fred Conrad, who stressed the great service and inspiration given by the lassies in recent years in business, industry and the armed forces, and not least by those who kept the homes of the land. Mrs. J. G. Garrett responded graciously for the ladies.

Songs by Mrs. J. Naylor Jr., "The Star O' Robbie Burns" and "My Ain Folk" were well received by the audience and later in the program Pte. Florence Fleming, C.W.A.C., delighted the gathering with her renditions of "Gala Water" and "My Highland Lad." LAC Robt. Fleming at the piano provoked gales of laughter with his interpretations of the Grand Opera and his characterizations on the theme of a nursery rhyme.

In an address rippling with humor, W. W. C. O'Neill proposed a toast to Bonnie Scotland. The response, made by Col. C. C. Ferrie, was in the form of reminiscences of a Canadian soldier on leave in Scotland, a timely address which held the close attention of the audience as the courage, endurance and resourcefulness of the Scottish nation in the grim years of 1939-42 was described.

The final toast to the lads and lassies was proposed by George C. Mitchell in a thoughtful address emphasizing the debt of gratitude due to those on active service. Capt. W. D. Rowlands, chaplain of the American Army, obviously enjoying his first Burns banquet, delighted the audience with his reflections and voiced the appreciation of the men and women in uniform.

J. A. Teng concluded the program with two very popular Scottish songs, "Burns and Scotland Yet" and "Afton Water." E. J. Smith expressed the appreciation of the gathering to the young women who had managed the banquet. On being called from the kitchen they were greeted with prolonged applause which bespoke the appreciation of the gathering.

During the evening the chairman, Rev. A. F. MacSween, extended the congratulations and good wishes of the gathering to Wm. Martin who was celebrating his seventy-eighth birthday by attending the banquet.
The banquet was convened by Mrs. T. A. McMeekin and Mrs. R. H. Parker, ably assisted by Mesdames Rod. Smith, S. Saville, J.

Hse Kraupner Is Honored At Shower

Miss Gilda Campagnola and Miss Margaret Windsor were joint hostesses at a very prettily arranged shower held at the home of Miss Campagnola in honor of Miss Hse Kraupner, bride-elect of Leading Stoker William Fudger R.C.N.V.R., whose marriage will take place in early February. The bride-elect was presented with a corsage of carnations and many gifts which were arranged in a daintily decorated basket in pink and white.

Delicious refreshments were much enjoyed later in the evening, the table being centred with a mock wedding cake. The guests numbered 26.

NOTICE TO U.B.C. GRADUATES
The Alumni Association of the University of British Columbia is anxious to obtain names of their graduates residing in Prince Rupert and adjoining districts. If there are sufficient people interested, meetings could be held from time to time to discuss plans being made for future development of the university.

The Alumni Association is actually becoming a powerful influence in the running of the University, and if it is properly organized in the province, the Association could become an even more important factor in its progress.

Please leave your name with Mrs. Frank Capretto, U.S. Army, Statistics Dept., "Prince Rupert, B.C." or call American Signals 171.

"CONQUERING HERO" HERE

In "Hail the Conquering Hero," which comes as the feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, Eddie Bracken plays the part of a disappointed marine, discharged on account of hay fever; who masquerades as a returning hero over his own objections. To make matters worse, his home town neighbors put him up as a candidate for mayor. Behind all the promotion is William Demarest and five other tough companions who are home from the war on furlough. The result of it all makes hilarious comedy involving a love triangle, mistaken identity and a few really serious moments.

Ella Raines plays the part of the girl whom Eddie left behind and among the home town cohorts are Raymond Walburn, Franklin Pangborn, Bill Edwards, Chester Conklin and Victor Potek with the surprise actor Freddie Steele, once a top flight boxer, who plays the part of an orphan who joins the marines and seeks motherly love.

A special attraction at the Capitol next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be an official picture of the provincial Department of Trade and Industry depicting in color the official opening last September of the Skeena River Highway. Its showing has been made possible through the co-operation of Hon. E. T. Kenney and Mayor H. M. Daggett.

HOW CAN I ???
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I drive a nail into plaster, without marring the wall?

A. A nail can be driven into a plastered wall without crumbling the plaster if the nail is put in hot water for a few minutes, or dipped into melted paraffin.

Q. How can I prevent dandruff?

A. Dissolve one ounce of flour of sulphur in one quart of soft water. Do not use it until it is thoroughly mixed and settled. Apply it at night.

Q. How can I successfully launder ties?

A. Before washing ties, baste them carefully, to prevent the lining or padding from becoming lumpy. Remove the basting before ironing and the ties will look like new.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS DISCUSSED

The future operation of the athletic club established by the Boilermakers' Union at the old Seal Cove School was discussed at a meeting held Wednesday night. The boilermakers expect they will have to relinquish in the near future. Present at the meeting were representatives of the Kinsmen's, Gyro and Rotary Clubs, Canadian Legion and Boilermakers' Union.

Whether the various clubs will contribute to the operation of the athletic club is a matter which was left to them to decide. James Nicoll of the Boilermakers' Union presided at the meeting and others present were Bruce Stevens, Clarence Thomson and William Jarmson, representing the Kinsmen; R. C. St. Clair and Crawford Moore, Rotary Club; William Lambie, Gyro Club, and Angus Macdonald, Canadian Legion.

The athletic club has a membership of about 50 children up to 16 years of age with a few young men and a women's class. There is about $600 worth of equipment and the club is well established in its quarters with training staff organized. Physical training and boxing are among the activities.
