STOLEN TRUCK DAMAGED AFTER WILD RIDE

A wild ride through city streets by an unknown man in a stolen truck at midnight last night brought complaints to police from outraged citizens and ended when the vehicle careened onto the Gyro ball park after striking the top of a concrete septic tank at the corner of Sixth Avenue and McBride Street.

The driver was seen running from the truck after the crash, at 12:20 a.m., escaping before the eyewitnesses could catch him. Police had received complaints a few minutes earlier of a truck being driven in a dangerous manner through the streets.

War News Highlights

Russians Reach Gdynia

MOSCOW—A German pocket in East Prussia has been cut in two by Red Army shock troops in a seven-mile breakthrough. The Soviet thrust has reached the coast on a four-mile front, cutting off Koenigsberg from Braunsberg. At the same time, Berlin says the Russians have reached the suburbs of Gdynia, and are pushing across the Vistula Delta near Danzig. Russian mop-up operations in Breslau are progressing street by street.

Yanks Held Up On Mindanao

MANILA—Japanese artillery fire and land mines operated by electricity are holding up the American invaders of Mindanao in the Philippines. Some American units have seized one inland town and taken two coastal towns. Allied bombers have struck Japanese supply and barracks areas at Sarangani Bay on the east coast of Mindanao.

New Weapon Against Japan

NEW YORK—A giant new type of landing ship for use against the Japanese now is being built in British shipyards. This announcement came from the British Information Service in New York last night, only a few hours after Tokyo radio claimed that units of the British Pacific fleet based in Austria took part in the Allied landing on Mindanao. There has been no Allied confirmation of the enemy report.

More About 11-Tonnors

LONDON—The British Information Service has come out with more details on the new eleven-ton bombs being used by the R.A.F. The volcano bombs—as the big ones are called—have the hitting power of a full salvo from the ten fourteen-inch guns of the battleship King George the Fifth. The volcano bomb is designed primarily for attacks on underground structures. It is more than twenty-five feet in length and almost four feet in diameter. It takes a crew of six men a half hour to load the bomb aboard a modified Lancaster bomber. These new modified Lancasters now carry the greatest bomb load of any aircraft in use.

Three-Pronged Air Attack

LONDON—Germany has been pounded by a three-pronged R.A.F. blow during the night. The British raids topped one of the biggest days of the European air war. For the twenty-fourth night in a row, Berlin was under the bombsights of the R.A.F. Mosquito fleet. The other two targets were Hagen, an industrial town on the edge of the Ruhr, and Misbourg, three miles from Hanover. The Misbourg target was an oil refinery but the exact objectives at Hagen were not disclosed. Yesterday, from 6,000 to 7,000 British, Canadian, American and Soviet planes pounded Germany from all directions. Six hundred and fifty American bombers unloaded their tonnage on headquarters of the German army near Berlin. It is believed that high ranking Wehrmacht officers were at the military centre, planning defence measures for both the eastern and western fronts.

Closing In On Highway

PARIS—The United States First Army is closing in for the final push across the vital military superhighway linking the Ruhr with Frankfurt on the main. One First Army unit has struck a hard blow at enemy transport and communications, capturing a junction of six highways east of fallen Honnet. The American Third Army before Coblenz now has penetrated the deepest into German territory of any army on the flaming two hundred mile front. The Third now is 70 miles deep into the Reich as it closes on Boppard, six miles south of Coblenz. There has been no major activity on the Canadian First Army sector at the northern end of the western front.

GRIM TALE OF DEATH AT SEA

James Anslow Tells of Experiences in Whitecliff Island Stranding

From his bed in Prince Rupert General Hospital, James Anslow told B.C. Police how he and "Blackie" MacGee clung to a swamped boat until almost daylight on Monday after the boat ran on rocks off Whitecliff Island Sunday night in a storm. Several times during the night MacGee slipped from the wreckage and was pulled back by Anslow, only to lose his life later while trying to make snore.

Once during their long vigil in the water, a large vessel passed not far away. They signalled to it with a flashlight but their efforts were not seen from the ship. As dawn began to break the two men decided to swim for shore some distance away. Anslow succeeded but MacGee drowned.

Anslow stayed on the small island without shelter until Wednesday night when Allen MacBroom, passing in another boat, saw his plight and rescued him.

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 — Hollywood's studio strike will be continued until it is won, Herbert Sorrell, president of the conference of studio workers, said, despite its characterization as unauthorized by the president of the International Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America.

Enough War News To Fill Library

LONDON, March 16 — Censors for Allied Supreme Headquarters here and along the western front have announced their records show that war correspondents have handed in dispatches totalling more than 100,000,000 words since D-Day equivalent to a library of some 1,700 average length novels. "Cuts" made by the censors have averaged from one to 1 1/2 percent, they said. In the same time, 3,000,000 feet of newsreel film and 1,500,000 photographs have been dealt with.

R. C. ST. CLAIR SAYS FAREWELL TO ROTARY CLUB

In a farewell address to the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday, President R. C. St. Clair told members and guests that during his term of office he had hoped to see the club attain a membership of 60 and identify itself with some continuous community project. He said that, although these goals had not been completely attained, progress had been made and he recommended that it should be continued.

Mr. St. Clair, a member of the local Rotary Club for the last seven years, and its president for the last nine months, is leaving Saturday night on a trip to the interior prior to being transferred to Nelson as District Forester on March 22.

Appreciation of Mr. St. Clair's work as a member of the community and as a Rotarian, was expressed by Very Rev. J. B. Gibson on behalf of club members.

Past President A. S. Nickerson will act as president until the expiration of Mr. St. Clair's term next July.

The program consisted of transcribed talks by Paul Harris, founder of Rotary International, President Dick Wells and Secretary Phil Lovejoy.

Guests were Ted Kingston, A. E. MacMillan, J. E. McCormack, S. J. Jabour and Edward Mapson of Vancouver, Will Robinson of Terrace, George Peters, David Allen and C. C. Mills of Prince Rupert.

TRIBUTE TO OLOF HANSON

Expressed at Liberal Convention Here—Exhorts Continued Support of Party Regret at his retirement and acknowledgment of his splendid services during 16 years of representation of Skeena constituency at Ottawa were formally expressed by testimonial resolution to Olof Hanson at the convention of the Skeena District Liberal convention here. The resolution was passed with enthusiasm. S. E. Parker felt it was fitting that sincere thanks and admiration should be expressed to Mr. Hanson for the ability with which he had carried out his duties. He was a true Liberal—honest, plain man of the people. Others joined in voicing tribute to the retiring member.

In acknowledging the resolution, Mr. Hanson voiced his appreciation for the confidence that had been so consistently bestowed in him. Mr. Hanson expressed confidence that the Liberal party would again win in the forthcoming election because it was the party of the middle class, steering a course between that of the reactionaries of the Victorian era on the one hand and that of the group which would turn over everything at once to bring about first chaos and then dictatorship. The party of safe and sound stability, the Liberals also had an outstanding record of social legislation in building up of a strong and happy nation both of young and old.

"It makes me happy indeed to feel" said Mr. Hanson, "that I have just as many friends today as I did when I started in public life."

As a result of the war there had been development of the facilities of this port and district which had become distinctly better known, said the retiring member. "Now we must see to it that we maintain what we have and get a little more."

The importance of a Liberal being re-elected by a large majority was emphasized by Mr. Hanson. A member who went to Ottawa with a large vote behind him always commanded more attention from the government. Having always been accorded a substantial majority himself, he knew this to be a fact.

One effective way to ensure the future development of this city and riding was to elect a Liberal by a large majority at the forthcoming election.

German Peace Offers . . .

We appear to be making headway as far as Adolf Hitler is concerned. According to a Stockholm dispatch he is ready to "surrender unconditionally" but, to save Germany from chaos, he holds out that he and Heinrich Himmler should maintain power in Germany.

Of course, complete overthrow and elimination of Hitler, his cohorts and all his evil works are an essential part of any armistice. To entertain anything else is stupid even to think about. Hitler goes so far as to admit it is time for unconditional surrender for Germany but, doomed man that he is, he is not ready to go through with the act as far as he is personally concerned. If Hitler's desire to remain in power is the last obstacle to Germany's unconditional surrender, it should not take long to remove it.

Not Just Political Talk . . .

Mr. Churchill, whose war leadership has been so often endorsed in overwhelming measure whenever he chose not to ask for, but demand, a vote of confidence, has now, in his usual blunt and forthright manner, informed the British people that he also intends to guide his people through the trials of peace.

Of course, nobody ever even thinks of a change in the chieftainship of the British state as long as Mr. Churchill lives in health and competence. When the tense days of war are over, however, Mr. Churchill, for all his dogged determination, may meet stronger challenges than are within the range of any probability during the war. Such is the character, leadership and forcefulness of the man, of course, that he may never be overthrown even in a peacetime general election.

Certainly none can rise to say of Mr. Churchill that he is possessed of any other motive than the conviction that his is the right way for his country and that he himself is best able to see by his own personal direction that his way is carried out. With some this might be regarded as egotism. With Mr. Churchill we will have to admit it is sincere conviction.

There is nothing equivocal about Mr. Churchill's feelings towards the Socialists and it might be remembered that in his war cabinet he has some Socialists. Mr. Churchill is all out for free enterprise after the war and he does not mince his words when he says "their (Our Socialist friends') program . . . implies not only destruction of life of the whole of the existing system and society and life and labor but the creation and enforcement of another system or systems borrowed from foreign lands and alien minds." In Canada those words coming from Liberals or Conservatives might be called insincere political talk designed as propaganda to bolster up the capitalistic system.

Mr. Churchill warns against "humbly and blandishment" and cautions his own party against bidding for votes and party popularity by promising what cannot be performed. Mr. Churchill's warnings are as applicable to the body politic in Canada as they are to that of Britain. Canada will soon be in an election campaign where there will be "humbly," "blandishments" and "promises which cannot be performed" and the words of the British Prime Minister are therefore coincidentally timely.

St. Patrick's Day . . .

Canadians of Irish descent along with Irishmen all over the world tomorrow celebrate the feast day of Erin's patron saint, St. Patrick, but appropriately enough the very day of the holiday was decided after a lengthy Irish argument which according to legend ended in a truly Irish compromise.

With their traditional propensity for disagreement on any and all subjects, one faction in Ireland claimed the Saint's birthday fell on March 8, while an opposing party claimed the birthday was really March 9. A Solomon-like Irish priest, Father Mulcahey, is said to have settled the argument by adding the eighth to the ninth to total the seventeenth—the date which was set for the rest of the time.

St. Patrick's Day in Canada this year will be celebrated quietly in the absence of so many young Irish Canadians fighting with their fellow countrymen overseas. But no Irishman in whatever clime he may find himself on the day, will be able to pass it by without a "top of the morning" to the shade of the good saint and his followers who have fanned out all over the globe from the little island of their origin.

In view of the saint's obscure origin argument about the birthday of Patrick is a futile pastime typical of genial Hibernians who are notoriously "agin" accepting anything without a century or so of thorough discussion. His legendary birthplace ranged from Scotland to France. Historians, on the contrary, say Patrick was born about the year 389 in Wales and carried off at an early age by Irish pirates who sold the young Christian into slavery as a swineherd in county Antrim.

Patrick entered the priesthood after his escape to France several years later and returned to Ireland eventually as a missionary. After a remarkably successful career in converting the pagan Irish to Christianity, Patrick died in 461 bequeathing to his converts numerous legends which became more and more elaborate as the years passed.

The shamrock, Ireland's trefoliate emblem, was chosen by Patrick in the course of his work to explain the dogma of the trinity to his listeners. Snakes and toads were banished from Erin by the saint, according to legend, and the fact remains that reptiles are unknown in Ireland although they are found in Scotland and England.

A. B. MATTHEWS

Maj.-Gen. A. B. Matthews, a peacetime investment broker, served with such outstanding ability in the war that he was given command of an overseas division. Son of Hon. Albert Matthews, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, he went from college to the financial field on the staff of Matthews and company forward with the leading infantry to select advanced positions for medium and field regiments of artillery under his command. By this method, his citation said, he was able to bring effective gunfire to bear on enemy points, enabling the infantry to advance with speed.

Gen. Matthews was a star cricketer in his youth and plays a non-handicap round of golf. His wife, Mrs. Victoria Thorne Matthews, lives in Toronto.

Born in Ottawa Aug. 12, 1909, Matthews went to the University of Geneva, Switzerland, after secondary education at Upper Canada College, Toronto.

On going into business he gave his spare time to the army. He won his commission with the 3rd Field Brigade, Royal Canadian Artillery in 1938.

He was mobilized with the rank of major at the outbreak of the war and went overseas with the 1st Canadian Divisional Artillery.

He became second in command of the 1st Medium Regiment, R.C.A. in August, 1940 and following this he commanded the 7th Medium Battery until Sept. 22, 1941, when he was promoted acting lieutenant-colonel and appointed to command the 5th Medium Regiment. He held this appointment until Sept. 4, 1942 when he received an appointment to headquarters, 1st Canadian Corps.

His promotion to the rank of brigadier dates from January 15, 1943, when he became commander of artillery of the 1st Division. He held this appointment in the Sicily and Italian campaigns until March 14, 1943, when he was appointed commander of corps artillery.

Maj.-Gen. Matthews was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for personally reconnoitering ground for the attack on Agira in Sicily when he went

PRINCE GEORGE FESTIVAL OF DRAMA - MUSIC

PRINCE GEORGE, March 16—Schools as far west as Hazelton are hoping to send children to the first annual Prince George District Drama-Music Festival here May 3 and 4.

With between 300 and 400 public school children expected, the festival may well be the biggest of its kind ever held in Central British Columbia.

In the music section, competition in chorus, vocal solo, and rhythm band classes is limited to pupils of grades 7 to 8. In the drama section children and adults will compete.

Entry forms are required to be returned to the festival committee here by the end of March.

All net proceeds from the festival will be equitably distributed among the schools taking part.

JAPANESE QUESTION

Editor, Daily News: I was present at the Liberal convention the other day and heard the discussion on the Japanese question which was given a prominence it did not deserve.

The main resolution was based on ill-tempered revenge and the amendment was charged with a high-tailed disregard of realities. The fundamentals of the question were not at all in evidence.

1. The original Japs who came to B. C. did not come as emigrants with the idea of becoming useful citizens seeking the welfare of their adopted land. They were delegates sent, paid and sustained by the Japanese government with the ulterior purpose of laying the basis for the conquest of the land by the Japs.

2. Their first loyalty has all along been to Japan. They have not encouraged naturalization and even their children are registered with the Japanese council. They are unassimilable and do not intend to be Canadians.

3. They definitely undermine the economic life of the province for their standard of life is far below that of white men.

In Canada they are a form of national exzema, repugnant and irritating, only curable by the explosion of the virus.

LEGION WOMEN'S ANNUAL BANQUET

Enjoyable Affair Held Last Evening

Last evening some forty members of the Women's Auxiliary Canadian Legion gathered for their twelfth annual banquet. Mrs. G. V. Hanley, president, was in charge and gave a short address of welcome, after which Mrs. Charles Barker said grace.

The toast to the King was proposed by the president and was followed by a short and well-timed address by the president, thanking the members for their

Once again we bid goodbye to one of the Area staff. This time it is our very good friend Pat Trant who is travelling south. Pat was at one time in charge of the cafeteria and has been the "Y" man for the forts in the district. Pat will certainly be missed around here and we of the "Y" are very sorry to see him go.

Bingo again tonight in the Upstairs Writing Room.

In the "Y" Gymnasium

There will be floor hockey tonight in the "Y" Gym. In the first game Fortress will meet the 29th Regiment in a four-point game counting the extra two points for a postponed game earlier in the league. If the 29th Regiment should win this game it will put them second in the league standing ahead of Navy with eight points. If Fortress should win it will put them in a tie for second place with Navy with five points.

Friday night a sing-song will be held in the Common Lounge. We shall have as our guests the Order of Jobs' Daughters, a Masonic order for young women.

The Wives' Club held a social evening Thursday in the Ladies' Lounge with a good turnout of members. Whist and small games were played with refreshments served at the close of the program.

Orchids to the Air Force at Seal Cove and special bouquets to all those whose efforts made the Carnival last night such a tremendous success.

There will be a meeting tonight of the newly-formed Khaki Footlight Club.

assistance in the Auxiliary's various undertakings and asking further support for the future, also stressing the need of sewing help.

Following this the president, with a few words of appreciation, presented the past President, Mrs. A. J. Croxford, with a beautiful bouquet of flowers and the past president's gold badge. Mrs. Croxford expressed her pleasure and thanks for the gifts.

A short program followed. Mrs. D. Morrow gave a reading. Mrs. Annie Taylor, the Auxiliary's oldest member, some 82 years, sang "The Washing Cap" with last verse composed by herself. Mrs. Murdoch rendered two songs, "Irish Lullaby" and "Swinging on a Star." Mrs. W. Brass gave a reading. Mrs. R. Murray sang Scotch songs. There was also community singing. Accompanist for all numbers was Mrs. G. V. Hanley.

Bingo and bridge finished the evening much enjoyed by all. Prize winners at bridge were Mrs. R. Murray, first and Mrs. Henry Smith, Jr., second. Bingo winners were Mesdames McGreish, Wide, Killin, Shrubshell, Goodsell, Cox and Barber.

JUST GOOD MILK!

Carnation Milk is just good milk from fine herds—conveniently evaporated to double-richness; with all the food value left in—nothing but part of the natural water taken out. For cream uses—use Carnation undiluted, just as it pours from the can. For milk uses, add an equal quantity of water.

Of course, Carnation has other advantages—sterilized, so that it keeps indefinitely in the unopened can, homogenized for creamy smoothness, and enriched with "sunshine" vitamin D. Write for big, free Cook Book. Address: Carnation Co. Ltd., Vancouver, B.C.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

IMPROVING THE SOIL

Practically everyone knows that a rich, open loam which is easily cultivated, makes the best garden soil. But not so well known among beginners especially is the fact that even the toughest and most barren soil can, with a little skill and care, be made into fine gardens too.

The secret in both cases is cultivation, plus the incorporation of rotted vegetable matter. One of the best treatments, of course, is plenty of barnyard manure, but this is not always available and especially in urban localities. Good substitutes are vegetable refuse like tops of beets, carrots, pea pods, lawn clippings, etc., or specially sown green oats, rye or clover dug or plowed under.

Many experienced gardeners make a regular practice of sowing part of their plots with oats, rye or some other quick-growing crop, and when this is up six inches to a foot, plowing the whole thing under. Strange enough the same works well with sand, putting in some badly needed humus which makes this light soil spongy and more retentive of moisture. Where the soil is very poor, a liberal application of some good chemical fertilizer is advised and a dose of garden lime will also help.

Garden Layouts

Nine times out of 10 an informal layout of flower gardens, lawn and shrubbery about the house gives the best results. The formal garden where there are straight rows, straight paths, and everything is just so is a matter for professionals and large estates. With the average lot in town or country there are too many straight lines in any case, like driveways, foundation walls and fences. The main idea in gardening is to break these and soften them. To do this shrubbery is planted in irregular clumps around, but not too close to, the house, with biggest groupings at the corners and around the front porch. Variety may be added by the odd climbing vine.

Unless the lawn is generous in size, experts advise leaving the centre fairly open, with flower beds and shrubs around the edge and in front of the fences and driveways. Generally the bigger and taller flowers are planted at the back but, for the sake of variety, a few of these should be brought forward. Instead of single plantings groups of individual varieties are advocated. For continuous bloom, consult a good Canadian seed catalogue where such details as season of blooming, color, height, hardiness and other essential facts will be listed.

Vegetable Groups

Vegetables divide themselves into three main planting groups. In the first are the hardy things, those plant just as soon as the soil can be prepared regardless of the weather ahead. These will stand lots of frost and in fact for best results they must make their first growth while the weather is still cool and wet.

In this class are peas, the first onions, carrots and beets, radish, spinach and lettuce. These can be planted just as soon as the soil has worked up nicely and is no longer muddy. Experienced gardeners make a practice of sowing beets, radish, spinach, etc., at least three times, about two weeks apart.

Then there are the semi-hardy things like potatoes, the beans and cabbage. These will stand cool weather but very little frost. At the end of the line are very tender plants that can stand no frost at all.

Sport Chat

Hamilton Tigers went on strike after winning the National Hockey League championship 20 years ago. The club executive refused a bonus to players to meet Victoria Cougars in the Stanley Cup series. Toronto St. Patricks and Montreal Canadiens, second and third place teams in the N.H.L., met for the championship with the Canadiens winning. Cougars defeated the Montrealers.

Rookie Syl Apps of Toronto Maple Leafs drew into a point tie with Marty Barry and Larry Aurie of Detroit Red Wings at the top of the National Hockey League scoring list eight years ago. Sweeney Schriner of New York Americans placed first in final statistics with one point more than Apps.

Babe Ruth took his first salary cut in baseball 13 years ago and agreed to a decrease of $5,000 a year for his services with the New York Yankees. However, that still left him $75,000 a year. Three years later he retired.

DAY FOR FEASTING

In France people used to celebrate the day before Ash Wednesday by parading a fat ox through the streets, then killing it for the feast. This custom gave rise to the name "Mardi Gras" or Fat Tuesday.

More Light and Air In Post-War Houses

Safer Stairs, Floors and Baths Recommended by British Group

LONDON, March 16 (C) — Here are the recommendations of the National Home Safety Committee of the Royal Society for ensuring safe homes in post-war planning:

Adequate natural and artificial light and easily-controlled ventilation; carefully planned staircases with no "odd" steps and with gates at top and bottom; non-slip, easily-cleaned floor coverings; handrails in baths and avoidance of sharp corners in furniture; permanently fixed or sliding guards for open fires and guards for all portable fires or stoves; safety devices for gas and electrical fittings; kitchen utensils designed without long handles which can project over the edge of the stove.

"Badly constructed and poorly equipped houses cause overwork, worry and fatigue," said a committee report. "Until the whole population is properly housed and housewives less overworked and worried, generally on financial and security grounds, accidents will continue to happen."

W.A. MEET CONCLUDES

Mrs. J. B. Gibson Re-elected President of Women's Caledonia Diocese

Concluding business of the two-day annual meeting of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary of Caledonia Diocese included the election of officers which was held yesterday afternoon. The office of Honorary President, ordinarily filled by a Bishop's wife, was left vacant. Other officers elected were as follows:

- Honorary Vice-President, Mrs. R. L. McIntosh.
- President, Mrs. J. B. Gibson.
- First Vice-President, Mrs. C. J. Norrington.
- Second Vice-President, Mrs. J. P. Cade.
- Recording Secretary, Mrs. G. P. Tinker.
- Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. E. W. Scott.
- Treasurer, Mrs. I. Martin.
- Dorcas Secretary, Mrs. Helen Henderson.
- Girls' Secretary, Mrs. A. L. Holtby.
- Junior Women's Auxiliary Secretary, Mrs. W. G. Smith.
- Little Helpers' Secretary, Mrs. C. J. Currie.
- Living Message Secretary, Mrs. W. J. Greer.
- Prayer Partner Secretary, Mrs. J. M. McCormack (Vanderhoof).

Reports presented at the various sessions of the meeting showed continued activity and good work throughout the great diocese.

Delegates came from as far away as the Peace River country and involved airplane travel for Mrs. Fynn of Pouce Coupe and Mrs. Hill of Taylor Flats. The memorial roll of the meeting include the names of such prominent leaders in church work as Mrs. G. A. Rix, Mrs. Thomas Andrew and Miss N. L. Bird who had passed away during the year and for whom silence was observed.

Miss A. M. Hilliard of Vancouver, vice-president of Western Canada for the Dominion Board, was the principle speaker, dealing largely with home and foreign mission work and telling graphically of the experiences of missionaries under trying conditions of war in the Far East.

Mrs. J. B. Gibson presided. The address of welcome was by Mrs. R. L. McIntosh with Mrs. C. A.

Hinchliffe of Dawson Creek responding.

Special events included a luncheon at which Rev. T. Bailey, naval chaplain, was speaker.

There was a reception Wednesday afternoon at the home of Dean and Mrs. J. B. Gibson and a tea yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. L. McIntosh.

His Red Cross Mother

FIGHTING through the mud and icy slush of flooded battlefields, our boys in the front line have learned to bless the tens of thousands of devoted women who labor as volunteer workers for the Red Cross.

Through five years of war, these Canadian "Blue Smock" workers have knitted hundreds of thousands of pairs of socks . . . made millions of other comforting articles of clothing — packed millions of Red Cross food parcels. Other specially-trained volunteer women serve as drivers, as nursing aides, as office workers and dietitians.

Freely giving their time and labor, these hard-working volunteers make your Red Cross dollars stretch farther. Thanks to their efforts, each dollar you give is multiplied three times in the value of food, clothing and medical supplies it buys.

GIVE—and give generously, to support their selfless work. Let your contribution to the Canadian Red Cross be the token of your thanks to these devoted women who serve in very truth, as "another mother" to your boy, or your friend or neighbor in the fighting line.

Spring Fashions Displayed by Rebekahs and Peoples Store

A pre-view of the wide variety of attractive spring fashions available this year was witnessed by 200 women who attended the Centennial Rebekah Lodge Easter fashion show Thursday afternoon in the Oddfellows' Hall. Latest creations in coats, dresses, suits and accessories were displayed by attractive mannequins from the staff of the Rupert Peoples' Store and lodge members.

Arranged in co-operation with L. M. Feisenthal, manager of the Rupert Peoples Store, the show featured the clever designs and warm colors of dresses designed by such well known companies as Billie Burke, Kay Collier and Elaine Bryan of Toronto, and coats by Du Val and Grand Cloak of Montreal.

The show opened with a brief talk by Mrs. F. M. Porter, president of the Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia, who is in the city from Vancouver on an official visit to the Centennial Lodge. She outlined the notable record of war work done by Rebekah lodges in the province. Mr. Feisenthal addressed the audience briefly.

One of the sensational presentations of the show was a coat and suit blending browns and yellows modelled by Mrs. Harry Snow. The yellow coat opened to show a brown suit with yellow blouse creating a much admired effect. The ensemble included a brown and yellow hat and accessories.

Commentator was Mrs. R. R. Strachan, and music was provided by Mrs. J. C. Gilker at the piano. Mrs. Gilker also played two piano selections.

Outfitting was done by Mrs. R. R. Strachan, Miss Verby MacDonald, Mrs. C. Parker, Miss Daisy Sharp and Mrs. Jean Buckhass.

The costumes and mannequins were:
Brown tweed coat, green felt hat, brown accessories—Mrs. F. Morrison.

Black coat, pink and black dress, blue felt hat, pink flower, black accessories—Mrs. M. Pope.
Yellow coat, brown suit, yellow blouse, brown and yellow hat, brown accessories—Mrs. Mary Snow.

FRANCOIS LAKE PIONEER DIES

Jacob William Henkel First White Man to Winter at Ootsa

Death came quietly in his sleep in the early hours of the morning to Jacob William Henkel of Francois Lake, aged 78 years.

Until a few months ago he was in good health and cared for his beautiful garden himself as well as cutting wood and doing other chores. In the fall his health began to fail and for some weeks he had been a patient in Burns Lake Hospital.

Jacob Henkel was born at Wadsworth, Illinois on June 21, 1866. There he was educated.

In March 1893 he went to Dawson City via Fort Wrangell and the Stikine River, Telegraph Creek and Teslin Lake with seven men, 12 oxen and several tons of provisions. It took two eventful years to reach Dawson by this inland route. A pay claim was staked on Green Gulch.

He left the Yukon in 1907 and, on his way down the coast, hearing of the fertile and beautiful Francois Lake district, he stopped off at Bella Coola, bought a year's supply of provisions and started out over the Coast Range through the now-called Tweedsmuir Park. Arriving at the north shore of Ootsa near the present settlement he built the first log cabin and was the first white man to winter in the district.

In 1905 he and George Culp cut out the trail from Cheslatta to Francois Lake where he pre-empted on the north shore of the lake. There he built a beautiful home and farmed for 40 years until his retirement a few years ago, when he and Mrs. Henkel moved to their home nearer the lake shore. Mrs. Henkel has the diary which he kept during his two years in the Yukon.

On July 2, 1917 he married Mrs. J. Colberg Christensen at the little church at Francois Lake and her grandchildren affectionately refer to Mr. Henkel as "Grandpa."

Jacob Henkel was the only man to have taken a canoe from Francois Lake down the Stellaco River, Fraser Lake and the Nechako River to Soda Creek Hospital south of Quesnel where he took an injured man. He was the first justice of the peace in the Francois Lake district, which position he gave up in 1917. He
