Fisheries Deadlock Broadens

Tie-up Threatens as Price For Season Still Unsettled

Gillnetters On Both Naas and Skeena Rivers May Become Involved By July 1 Stop Fishing Order

The deadlock which has been paralyzing sockeye salmon fishing in all British Columbia waters since the official opening of the season Sunday night took broader scope last night as leaders of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union and the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia called on spring salmon gillnetters to refrain from fishing on July 1 if representatives of fishermen and cannery operators fail to reach an agreement on 1945 fish prices by that date.

If the order goes into effect, it will mean that more than 180 gillnetters on the Skeena and Naas rivers and the Bella Coola area will cease work. Spring salmon catches in these areas have been profitable this year and would be lost for an indefinite period if the fishermen are called out in a sympathy strike.

In Vancouver last night the negotiating committee of the two fishermen's organizations wired all up-coast locals recommending that they refrain from fishing after July 1 unless an agreement has been reached with canners by that time.

Up to yesterday, spring salmon gillnetters had been advised to remain at work until they received definite word to stop fishing.

Local union and co-operative officials here had been told that the dispute did not affect spring salmon gillnetters but on the Skeena river a feeling of restlessness caused some fishermen to stay ashore in sympathy while other continued fishing.

Last night's order clarifies a situation which, at least to some fishermen, was fraught with confusion.

Yesterday the dispute was referred to the federal Minister of Fisheries by the negotiating committee after it had failed to reach an agreement Monday night. The dispute affects 2,000 sockeye men along the coast.

Today, Fisheries department officials said in Ottawa that they are trying to reach a settlement of the dispute but that they had no official statement to make. There was no indication when a settlement might be reached.

Apparently the latest order by the fishermen's negotiating committee was in no way directed at salmon trollers who fish the outer water along the coast. Questioned this morning on the situation as it affects trollers, Ted Sorenson, Fishermen's Co-operative manager, said that he did not believe they would stop fishing since very few of the trollers were union men.

There are between 400 and 500 trollers in this area, many of whom are connected with the Co-op, the rest being independent.

However, some 90 gillnet boats on the Skeena, about 80 on the Naas and 15 at Bella Coola will come under the strike order if the July deadline is not met.

It was explained here today that agreement had been reached on the sockeye and coho prices. The sockeye price for this district will be 13 1/2¢ per pound and for cohoes 7 3/4¢ until August 4 and 8 1/2¢ after that date. The price for white springs, pinks and chums is still in dispute with 2 1/2¢ per pound for the central area and 2¢ for the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Battle of Japan—Homeland Of Nippon Agitated

New Allied Landings Are Unconfirmed—Okinawa Commander Suicides—More B-29 Blows

GUAM, June 27 (AP)—Japanese broadcasts, entirely without confirmation, tell of new Allied landings in the central Ryukyus Islands near Okinawa. The enemy announcement of an American landing on Jume Island 50 miles west of Okinawa, follows a day of nervous activity on the Tokyo radio.

During the past 24 hours, hundreds of Japanese soldiers on Okinawa have emerged from their hiding places in caves to give themselves up. Biggest find of the day was the discovery of the body of the Japanese commander on the island. He had committed hari-kari.

More blows have been delivered against Japanese homeland targets by approximately 50 American superforts. The American raids are increasing in frequency. Five B-29's failed to return from one mission.

On the island of Borneo big western oil fields are now securely held by Australian forces. When the Australians walked into the oil town of Miri on Sunday, all 300 of its wells were ablaze.

Balikpapan, important oil city on the east coast of Borneo, appears to be "strangely deserted," it was said today. Allied planes have been shelling the area.

The campaign on the Philippines is near its end, General Douglas MacArthur said today.

DIED DURING HEARTY LAUGH

A hearty laugh inspired by a humorous remark was a contributing cause of death for Charles Biehl, 60-year-old former Stewart pack-train operator, testimony at an inquest into Biehl's death revealed yesterday.

A coroner's jury found that Biehl came to his death of "acute heart failure due to coronary disease at approximately 12:35 a.m. Tuesday at 620 Fraser Street."

According to testimony of Charles Young, in whose home Biehl died, Young, Biehl and Michael R. McCarthy were seated at a table in Young's home talking of freight packing in the Stewart district.

When someone made a remark about driving a "15-mule pack train," Biehl burst into a wholehearted laugh, then slumped forward in his chair. A few seconds later he straightened up, collapsing sideways again immediately.

"I thought he was still laughing," Young told the coroner's jury. "The remark seemed absurd to him."

Dr. R. E. Coleman, autopsyist, gave testimony after he had listened to evidence by Mr. Young and Michael McCarthy. "I have delayed giving testimony until I heard witnesses describe Biehl's actions and condition prior to his death so that I could compare them with my own findings," Dr. Coleman said.

Explaining that in his post mortem examination he had found signs of a heart ailment and also that Biehl's stomach was filled with undigested food, Dr. Coleman continued: "Biehl's stomach was filled with food and created a pressure on his heart which caused it to stop beating when he leaned forward during his hearty laugh."

Mr. Young said that he had met Biehl, whom he had known since 1928, in the Royal Hotel beer parlor at 10 o'clock Monday night, and during the interval until the tavern closed he thought Biehl had drunk "10 or 12, maybe more," glasses of beer. Neither Biehl nor anyone else had had anything to eat or drink at the Young residence, he said.

Young said that Biehl had informed him that he was born in the United States and was a veteran of the U.S. Army in the first World War.

When Biehl collapsed, Young said that he thought him to be suffering from an epileptic fit and called Dr. W. S. Kergin who pronounced him dead.

Michael McCarthy testified that he had heard Biehl remark that he was "pretty tired" and was going home. Then he laughed and collapsed.

Jurors at the inquest were: A. S. Nickerson, foreman, Edward J. Turnbull, J. H. Mair, N. M. Carter, Allen Morgan and J. H. Black.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

OTTAWA, June 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King issued a statement following the signing of the United Nations charter at San Francisco. He said that "We hope we may witness the dawn of a new era in the history of the world. Humanity is crying aloud for peace, a peace based upon co-operation and brotherhood among men and nations."

VANCOUVER, June 27 (AP)—There are 6800 vacant jobs for men and 2,000 for women in the Vancouver district. Horace Keetch, manager of the local selective service office, says demand is high for general laborers, men of all skills and semi-skilled help.

CONCILIATION BEING ASKED

Electrical Workers Cannot Negotiate Further With City Council

A special meeting of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers was held on Monday to discuss the latest developments in their dispute with the city council. At the meeting, a letter was read from the city clerk advising the union of a resolution passed at the last city council meeting in which the council was of the opinion that conditions no longer warranted the provision of transportation for telephone operators starting and quitting work at midnight although the council expressed their willingness to continue the arrangements offered to the union at a previous meeting.

The committee reported on the various meetings with the city council and it was the feeling of the meeting that the desired conditions would not be arrived at by any further negotiations. A motion was then passed that the union proceed with their application for a conciliation board and follow the proper legal procedure as instructed by the international vice-president. A motion was then passed that the union ask Mr. E. T. Appleyhate to represent them on the conciliation board.

Plans For Publicity

Local Committee Embarks On Financial Campaign

Prince Rupert Public Relations Committee, which is creating a whole pattern of plans for the city—all of them good—has embarked on the first of its major projects, that of raising funds to implement its work. Finance committee chairman Arnold Platen, who with his fellow committee members L. M. Felsenfeld and Mrs. C. A. Brind, conceived a scheme to raise $15,000 over a three year period to finance publicity for Prince Rupert, is now sending out dozens of letters to individuals, business organizations and other organizations.

The letters outline the aims of the public relations committee and ask stated contributions, either in lump sum or spread over the three year period.

"In order to have an effective program of publicity a considerable sum of money will have to be spent in the near future and on a continuing basis for at least three years," the letter states. "We aim to design our publicity to attract new industries to the area, thereby building up payrolls and increasing the population."

"We hope to bring to this city and district a share of the great tourist traffic by highway, railway and steamship which will be released as soon as the war is over and travel restrictions are lifted."

Methods by which the committee intends to bring Prince Rupert into the interest of people in other parts of the continent are:

- 1. Advertising by newspaper, magazine, radio, moving pictures and other methods.
2. A publicity and information bureau in Prince Rupert.
3. Having representatives at various important meetings of bodies throughout the country as the voice of Prince Rupert and Northern B. C.
4. Development of points of interest with Prince Rupert.
5. The committee is also part of a northern B. C. publicity movement, and district committees throughout the north are becoming active. The district committee was approved by a recent convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Northern B.C.

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—The President of the Canadian Legion, Alex Walker, told the British Empire Service League that Canada will welcome British immigrants. However, Mr. Walker added that first the dominion must look after her own ex-servicemen during what he called the "period of uncertainty" in the immediate future.

EXTENSIVE MINING DEVELOPMENT NEAR STEWART INSPIRES HOPE

Gov't Agent Norman Watt Finds Activity Great, Confidence High Among Miners At Head of Portland Canal

Certain of the immense mineral wealth that lies in the near vicinity of Stewart, residents of that Portland Canal mining town look to the future with a feeling of optimism which has been undimmed by the disappointments of the past, Government Agent Norman Watt said Tuesday after returning from a week's visit to the mining area.

During his visit, Mr. Watt interviewed a number of mining men, obtaining data and opinions which he had every reason to believe authentic.

"The feeling of optimism there is immense, and from what I have gathered I believe that there is good reason for the feeling. A large part of the trouble in the past has been the mismanagement of properties. In earlier mining development schemes a large part of the money that should have gone into the ground was spent in putting up imposing fronts for the companies.

"The men who are developing those properties now have a great deal of faith in them, and are backing up that faith with work and money," Mr. Watt said.

Mr. Watt interviewed Joseph C. Le Francois, who represents Montreal interests which are developing a number of properties around Stewart. Chief among these is a group of claims owned by Gold Drop Mines Limited, situated on Marmot Creek, directly opposite the town of Stewart.

Here, approximately a mile of road has been built from Marmot river to the mines, and a pack trail approximately 1,000 feet long has been built on the mountain slope to reach a tunnel site at an elevation of 1,600 feet. Another trail has been constructed to reach the rich gold mineralization at an elevation of 3,700 feet where it is proposed to drive a second tunnel as soon as snow conditions permit.

The company is planning to spend $75,000 to determine whether or not the mineralization extends at depth. If exploration so indicates, further development capital will be immediately available.

Mr. Le Francois told Mr. Watt that he was confident of the ultimate result, and that the present staff of nine men would be increased shortly.

Development Work Going On

Development work on Mountain Boy mine on American Creek, 12 miles from Stewart is also progressing satisfactorily. Mr. Le Francois reported. The main tunnel is being extended with a view to intercepting the main vein and has already been driven to a depth of 290 feet. It is anticipated that a further 50 feet will reveal the extent of the ore at depth.

A vein has been exposed on the surface averaging approximately 40 feet in width, and the present tunnel has crossed two veins approximately two feet and six feet in width, respectively. Five men have been employed on this development and results obtained thus far have proven highly satisfactory, Mr. Le Francois indicated.

Real Basis of Lasting Peace

We are privileged to have in Prince Rupert delivering his messages an interdenominational evangelist and fact teller of the eminence and first hand experience of Prof-Basil Matthews. The information which he disseminates in his addresses is of the greatest interest but more important is the moral that he draws regarding the essentiality of better Christian understanding and conduct if future world peace is to be assured. Surely no one can deny that no political or economic arrangements can succeed in the way of guaranteeing world peace unless they are cemented with the attitude and consideration—nation for nation and person for person—as implied by true belief and adaptation of Christian principles to every-day living and relationships. And, in the final analysis, those principles and considerations can only be effected by personal acceptance collectively applied. The nation is and does as are and do its individual constituents. If we are all Christian thinkers and doers then our nation is a Christian nation. There is therefore, an individual responsibility for every person.

Capture of Okinawa

By the capture of Okinawa the Americans have received first-class naval advantages, and an island large enough to provide space for airfields capable of maintaining the heaviest machine.

These anchorages and airfields are less than four hundred miles from Japan and the same distance from Formosa, and the nearest point on the southeast coast of China. Thus land-based fighters will be able to support bombers attacking any of these places. Fighter cover can be given to shipping operating in this area, which will be made more dangerous than ever for Japanese shipping.

Okinawa will also be useful as a jumping-off place for future operations. Wherever the next jump lands them, the Americans are likely to meet for the first time the principal land forces of Japan. Thus, it is not improbable that some time will elapse before the capture of Okinawa and further advances.

ST. PAUL'S IS SETTING FOR PRETTY WEDDING

A popular wedding took place in St. Paul's Lutheran Church Monday evening when Kristine Petersen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Petersen, 1136 Ambrose Ave., became the bride of Leading Motor Mechanic John William Hewitt, R.C.N.V.R., son of John Hewitt, Alberni. The rites were performed by Rev. Magnus Anderson before a large number of friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a white gown with fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. Bridesmaid was Johanna Petersen, younger sister of the bride, who wore a pink dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Suzanne Ward was maid of honor and wore a pale blue dress, carrying a bouquet of pink and yellow carnations.

Groomsman was Bandsman George Corbett, R.C.N.V.R., and Bandsman Frank Dutton walked with the maid of honor.

The bride's mother wore a dress of turquoise blue with pink corsage.

A vocal solo, "Because," was sung by Mrs. Ole Wick, accompanied by Peter Lien, organist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the I.O.E. hall where 75 friends paid their compliments to the bride and groom. A toast to the bride was proposed by Peter Lien while a toast to the bridesmaid was proposed by Bill Allen, and a toast to the maid of honor by Helge Holkestad.

NO ONE HAS COMPLAINT

MONTREAL, June 27 — "Enquiry; adjustment; sometimes disappointment; but not a single complaint."

Albert A. Gardiner, general passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, declared that the foregoing sums up the experiences of passenger offices of the National system following the announcement of the curtailment or withdrawal of sleeping and dining car services in order to provide for members of Canada's armed forces returning from overseas.

"Both by telephone and by personal call, the public, especially that portion of it with plans already made or in mind, very definitely registered its interest," Mr. Gardiner said.

"The passenger people showed marked concern as to the possible effect upon them of the condition the emergency has created. In most cases their anxiety was undue. It was possible to assure many enquiries that, so far as could be foreseen, their plans would not be affected by anything it would be necessary to do. In many other cases some slight and not at all inconvenient adjustment of the plans already made or contemplated would meet the situation.

"The outstanding and pleasant fact was this, however. Even where the enforced curtailments and withdrawals of service unavoidably resulted in disappointment—disappointment in many instances that a journey long looked forward to could not be made—there was not a single complaint. The Canadian public generally accepted the situation gracefully. They only had to be shown that the temporary interference with what they had learned to regard as the unchanging nature of Canadian railway convenience was unavoidable if the railways here to serve our returning armed force members with most comfortable facilities.

"Almost invariably their final comment was to the effect that 'Well, that all right, the boys are entitled to it.'"

PORTRAIT OF A LONG-SERVICE SOLDIER

June, 1945: Back home to the happiness of reunion come several thousand of our long-service troops.

Over three hundred thousand more men and women of the overseas army will come after them between now and Christmas.

After the flag-waving and the formal welcomes, the parades and the cheers . . . what then?

Let us be sure that they find this Canada a better place to live in than it was before they went away . . . a nation worthy of the sacrifice made by the thirty-seven thousand who will never come home.

WE'RE IN IT TO THE FINISH!
Canada's part in the Pacific War will add to the laurels this nation has already won in Europe. With war production geared to the new needs—a thirty-five million dollar increase in the 8th Victory Loan over the 7th, no one need fear any slackening in our will to see the war through. The production of highest alcohol at the U.D.L. plants will continue to serve war needs until every requirement is fully met.
