Prince Rupert Is Over Quota In Victory Loan

Reached 107 Percent of Objective Yesterday With Many More Subscriptions Still Anticipated

Prince Rupert has gone well over the top in the Victory Loan campaign. Yesterday afternoon subscriptions reached a cumulative total of $747,550, 107 percent of quota of $700,000.

*Loan, being more than $100,000 ahead of the cumulative mark at the corresponding date of $634,100.

Announcing that quota had been achieved in Prince Rupert W. D. Lambie, unit organizer, made the following statement:

"We consider it a very fine tribute to those who have purchased Ninth Victory Loan Bonds.

"However, our work has not yet been completed, as there are parts of the city yet to be canvassed and an opportunity must and will be given to every citizen in Prince Rupert to purchase Ninth Victory Loan Bonds.

"Anyone desiring to purchase a bond may call the Ninth Victory Loan headquarters office, 349, and a canvasser will call upon them. The Banks in Prince Rupert will give every possible service to their customers to assist them in the purchase of Victory Bonds.

We hope to make the Ninth Victory Loan in Prince Rupert the greatest yet."

Many of the injured bore gunshot wounds but it was not clear immediately whether they were wounded by police weapons.

C.N.R. workers contributed $11,174,250 to the total and T.C.A. employees, $575,350.

NAVAL RESERVE GETS TOGETHER

Fifty of Old Boys of Naval Reserve Renew Associations

Old friendships were renewed and a fine spirit of comradeship flourished when about 50 former members of Prince Rupert's pre-war Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve and members of the Fishermen's Reserve with their wives and friends gathered at Reid's Cafe last night for a social evening.

Conversations recounted experiences from the early war years between friends who had been separated during their war service. Andy McNaughton provided music for the dancing. The function was organized by Harry Robb and was the first of what was hoped would be a series of similar pleasant get-togethers.

Among those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. William Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, Robert Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Mardock, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Douglas Christensen, Robert McKay, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, Charlie Ormiston, Ralph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McRae, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McMeekin, Mr. and Mrs. Syd Dickens, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wingham, William Eremner, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. George Dobb.

Federal and Provincial Police Reinforcements Called By City

Clash Between Local Officers and Pickets Brought Issue to Head—Further Strikes Are Threatened

ASKS POLICE TO HOLD OFF

WINDSOR, Nov. 3.—The Windsor city council today appealed to city, provincial and federal police to withhold action in connection with the strike situation at the Ford plant until after a meeting is held tomorrow. Union picketers have expressed determination to hold their lines against all comers. At Ottawa, Angus McInnis, on behalf of C.C.F. members, has called police action at Windsor "unwarranted and unnecessary." He asks that a government controller take over the plant.

WINDSOR, Nov. 3 (CP)—The automotive strike at the Ford plant in Windsor has developed after seven weeks into a crisis. Picket lines around the Ford plant are said to have been swollen by the arrival of so-called "morale" reinforcements. Union men are said to be considering closing of all other

So Say Arbiters Regarding Reported Agreement in Meat Packing Industry

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3 (CP)—E. B. Jolliffe, representing the unions, and L. A. Forsythe, representing the companies in negotiations for a settlement of the dispute in the meat packing industry, said last night that the announcement of a final agreement having been reached was premature. It was stated yesterday by Mr. Justice S. E. Richards that an agreement had been reached between the three big packing companies of Canada and the United Packing House Workers of America C.I.O. The terms were not immediately announced but it was indicated that both company and union representatives would make announcements later. It was believed to be a compromise agreement on a 45-hour week with wage increase of 4 1/2 per cent. This was intimated by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor, at Ottawa.

NORWAY DETERMINED TO REBUILD SAY GIRLS WHO FOUGHT GESTAPO

Two young Norwegian women who fought for three years with the underground army during the Nazi occupation of their homeland, escaping to Sweden under the very noses of the Gestapo Thursday afternoon told a Daily News reporter that stories of hardship and suffering in their liberated country are desperately true.

The young women were Miss Valborg Munthe of Trondheim and Miss Gry Haraldsen of Oslo, whose personal experiences seemed to epitomize the story of all true-hearted Norwegians during the black days of the occupation. And now that the war is over, the struggle to regain a sound peacetime foundation for their pillaged land is at the forefront of their minds.

Greatest need among Norwegians at the present time is for food and clothing, particularly shoes, they agreed. They look for a very difficult future for their homeland, particularly because the countries which ordinarily might help them out are themselves recovering from the effects of German rapacity. "The only shoes that can be got in Norway now are paper ones, although a few people are lucky enough to have leather ones which they saved since before the war," Miss Haraldsen said. She is blonde and pretty and joined the underground movement in Oslo when she was 17. She is now 21.

Railway Tied Up By Slides After Big Rain and Wind Storm

While Prince Rupert was examining itself today to discover the total damage caused by last night's heavy rains and high wind, reports reached the city of a series of earthslides along the Canadian National Railway line which may tie up traffic for an indefinite period.

C.N.R. divisional Superintendent C. A. Berner said today that the slide which extends east from Salvus will definitely stop train service until Monday night.

Last night's train from the east arrived here on time but the eastbound, which left here at 8 o'clock, encountered a slide which held it up at Salvus, 60 miles east of Prince Rupert. It may have to be brought back to the city.

Rockslides on the railway caused keen disappointment to 141 United States soldiers who left on last night's train for Seattle and Fort Lewis, Washington for discharge from the army. Delay on their train may hold up their return to civilian life for several days.

Telephone circuits along the waterfront and in the Cow Bay area were out this morning and repair crews were busy seeking source of trouble and making repairs.

The night was one of the wildest this year, with heavy rains driving down on a wind recorded at the Digby Island Meteorological station as reaching 34 miles an hour. Some people thought this figure conservative. Rainfall for the 24-hour period yesterday totalled 2.72 inches.

Railway Superintendent Berner said this morning that rainfall in the interior for the last few days was "unprecedented."

No extensive property damage was reported in the city in spite of the fact that the wind was strong enough to make the houses shiver and rattle the wail pictures.

Make Peace On Strike Fronts

From some of the strike fronts in Canada and abroad there are encouraging signs of settlement and a new desire to get together and mend differences. The futility of adamant or arbitrary attitudes by one side or the other to disputes might well be realized and adopted instead a new tendency towards conciliation and compromise. It is well that this should be at a time like this when it is so important that there should be no tie-up—directly or indirectly—in the production and distribution of the commodities vital to the maintenance of life itself—commodities which are in a sad state of short supply in so many parts of the world.

In view of all the harm that can be done from industrial tie-ups at this time, and the persons who are responsible for their precipitation often suffer directly themselves, it is particularly important that all resorts to compose differences should be exhausted before any precipitate action is taken.

Growing Socialistic Strength

Great Britain, as indicated by the city and borough elections, is going more strongly Labor in its politics than ever. In view of national control having been seized by the Socialists, it may not be considered surprising that they should have also gained heavily of strength in the municipal governments. Such would be nothing more than the expression of a national tendency to fall in line.

In Canada there is also a socialistic trend which, while not as marked as in Britain, is, doubtless, gradually gaining ground. The speed of its momentum will be governed by the effectiveness or otherwise of the anti-socialistic powers in meeting the worthy needs and just demands of the people.

Dr. Andrew Roddan . . .

An ecclesiastical visitor of prominence and interest is coming to Prince Rupert this week-end in the person of Rev. Dr. Andrew Roddan, crusading pastor of Vancouver's East End First United Church.

Dr. Roddan, besides being an outstanding minister of the gospel, is a leading social worker in Vancouver and was particularly active during the days of the depression. He is a forceful speaker with a real message of evangelism.

His visit to Prince Rupert is to be welcomed and, no doubt, considerable good will accrue from it.

Waterfront Whiffs

Biggest Salmon Pack In Four Years Recorded—No Serious Damage On Waterfront After Big Gale

Total salmon pack for all coast areas reached its highest peak this year since 1941. This year's pack of all varieties from all districts was 1,702,249 cases, greater than last year's pack by more than 600,000 cases but less than the 1941 pack by some 208,000 cases. Total pack for 1941 was 1,910,382 cases. The pack for 1945, according to variety in all districts, was as follows: sockeye, 328,997; springs, 12,201; steelheads, 2,773; bluebacks, 6,661; coho, 208,468; pinks, 823,134; chums, 320,041. It was the catch of pinks that raised this year's total pack to a size comparable with 1941, because comparison with all other varieties during the two seasons shows that the 1945 season was well below 1941 in the pack of all varieties except pinks. This year the pink pack was 823,134 cases, while in 1941 it was 430,825. Sockeye pack in 1941 was 359,474.

Only type of fish in which the final bulletin issued by the Chief Supervisor of Fisheries breaks the pack total down as to districts is the chum pack, which shows that in District Two, centered at Prince Rupert, the pack was 180,027 cases, while in District One it was 88,217, and District Three 51,770 cases.

Last night's wind, which rose to a recorded velocity of 35 miles an hour before midnight, sent many boat owners down to the mooring floats to make their vessels secure. Many remained on board all night to be on hand in case of emergency. No reports of large damage were met with this morning although there were a number of case calls due to snapped mooring lines which might have caused damage among the clustered vessels. Some men followed the usual custom of keeping their engines running in order to be able to control their boats in case the lines broke.

DR. RODDAN AT FIRST UNITED

In the course of an evangelical crusade of central British Columbia which started at Williams Lake in the Cariboo a week ago, Rev. Andrew Roddan, fighting pastor of First United Church in Vancouver's downtown East End and president of the British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada, is due in the city this week-end and tomorrow morning at First United Church here will put on his "Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom," an event which should prove of interest to church-goers generally. From Prince Rupert Dr. Roddan will travel with Rev. Peter Kelly on the mission boat Thomas Crosby to visit various mission stations along the coast.

LETTERBOX

CLAIMS SUN UNFAIR

Editor, Daily News:
In Wednesday's News you published a letter by D. T. Greene of Smithers asking a few pertinent questions about the C.C.F. as compared with the old line parties. I wonder if you can give me and a lot more curious people a breakdown on the following editorial quip published in a recent issue of the Vancouver Sun? The wording is Sun fashion but gives the following list of figures.

| Seats C.C.F. at Stake | Won |
|----------------------------|--------|
| Ontario | 90 8 |
| Dominion | 245 28 |
| Manitoba | 55 9 |
| Nova Scotia | 30 2 |
| British Columbia | 48 10 |

The Sun will simply return any letter to the editor that is friendly to the C.C.F. or even presumes to be, so I am taking the liberty of asking The News to break the above figures down into the total number of votes instead of the number elected, some by a very scant margin. It might make interesting reading and would tend to give a more accurate picture than The Sun's figures have done. Thank you.

F. W. POWERS,
Smithers.

Y.W.C.A. Representative Leaves Prince Rupert

Mrs. Helen Ferguson, Y.W.C.A. war services representative in Prince Rupert, left last night for her home in Toronto. Mrs. Ferguson, who has represented the Y.W.C.A. here since May, earned her popularity justly with her readiness to help and her gracious and friendly personality. Her special duties included room registry for service personnel, a club for service men's wives and supervision of hostesses for service men's dances.

She will be missed by the members of the Y.M.C.A. staff who will now be carrying on her job and by her many friends both in the services and among the residents of Prince Rupert.

Four Tenders For Peace River Road

VICTORIA, Nov. 3—Four tenders for reconstruction of the 26-mile section of the highway to the Peace River Highway between Prince George and Summit Lake have been opened. They vary from $418,085 to $437,047.

NEW HAZELTON

The Omineca Herald says that, if the Canadian National Railway is to maintain any passenger traffic on its northern line to Prince Rupert, it must give definitely better service. "The trains must have at least some cars of comfortable and modern type. The trains must do better than 22 miles per hour. The trains must leave Prince Rupert at a time to give travellers the benefit of the scenery along the Skeena and Bulkley rivers. The cost of train travel must be brought in line with car travel."

Miss M. E. Campbell R.N., formerly lady superintendent of the Hazelton Hospital, is now at Patricia Bay with the Royal Canadian Air Force after having spent most of the past summer on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Roger Walsh, son of Thomas Walsh, pioneer telegraph operator of this district, has joined the staff of the Wew Hazelton railway station.

EFFICIENCY PLUS

DAR-ES-SALAAM — East Africa Military Records Fingerprints Bureau is described as a miracle of simplicity. Giving a press interview, an officer called a native soldier who happened to be passing in the street. His fingerprints were taken, and within five minutes the soldier was told his name, age, unit, home village and other details.

NORWAY DETERMINED

they were with the Norwegian embassy, is still classed as secret, both girls said firmly.

Miss Munthe, whose home is at Trondheim, saw her father taken as a hostage into Germany, and her home occupied by the Germans. She herself was arrested by the Gestapo and later released. She finally escaped to Sweden last November by a fish boat which travelled down the Norwegian coast to a Swedish port.

"Whenever a German boat came alongside the skipper would be pulling on a net and I would be cleaning fish," she said in recounting her escape.

Effective Underground

Her father spent a year as a hostage in Norway and was later re-arrested and taken to Germany. So effective was the intelligence of the Norwegian underground that Mr. Munthe knew of his daughter's brief arrest in Trondheim within a few hours, although he was in Germany.

"Communications were organized so that everybody in the underground knew what was going on," she said.

Attached to Quisling's Camp

On her return to Norway after the German defeat, Miss Munthe was attached to an Oslo prison where Vidkun Quisling, Norway's arch-traitor was imprisoned.

Miss Haraldsen was taken by the Gestapo in 1943 and imprisoned in Grini concentration camp for six weeks. In the camp were 150 women and 3,000 men.

"I was treated just like the rest," she said. "When they could not get any information from me they let me go."

Last December the Gestapo developed an uncomfortable interest in her again and her compatriots spirited her to Sweden. With other escapees she rode in a box car from Oslo to Kongsvinger then walked for 27 hours to Charlottensberg in Sweden.

In the Grini concentration camp, Miss Haraldsen said, the prisoners had radios, and even a transmitter which could broadcast to Britain right under the noses of the German guards. One man, a dental mechanic built a small radio into a set of false teeth.

In Sweden, Miss Haraldsen worked in the office of Col. Bernt Balchen, noted Norwegian military flier, who was engaged in ferrying supplies by air to Norwegian troops fighting in far-north Finnmark, where a brother of Miss Haraldsen was fighting.

Both girls left Norway for this continent on the Norwegian ship Stavangerfjord, on October 12, landing in New York. After a brief stop in the eastern Metropolis they came directly to Prince Rupert.

New York is "too big and too fast for us, but we had a splendid time," Miss Haraldsen said. Canada, she added, is more friendly.

Both girls speak clear but halting English, having been taught the language in school. They relish Canadian food, particularly ice cream. Chewing gum ranks near the top for them, as it does with almost everyone in Norway, particularly the youngsters.

During the occupation, Miss Munthe said, Norwegians grew tobacco in their gardens. Miss Munthe smoked it in a pipe.

"There was no other way to smoke it. Cigarette papers could not be had," she declared.

Both girls will remain here as guests of Dr. and Mrs. Munthe for the next six months, or possibly longer.

W. L. COATES IS NOW ON LEAVE

Retiring C.P.R. Agent Has Been in Company's Service Thirty Years

Although his retirement does not become effective until December 1, William L. Coates, for the past 14 years general agent for Canadian Pacific B. C. Coast Steamship services in Prince Rupert, is spending his last month of service with the company on leave. The office which he has managed here since 1931 is now in charge of Peter A. Hole, another veteran of the B.C. Coast Steamships purser service, who has been appointed to replace Mr. Coates.

After having been identified with the hotel business at Stewart for a time, Mr. Coates joined the company's purser department in 1915 in Victoria and from that time until 1942 he served on practically every C.P.R. boat on the coast, being particularly well known in Prince Rupert as purser on the Alaska boats.

In 1924 he was appointed agent at Juneau, Alaska, where he served until 1931 when he came to Prince Rupert as general agent. The company office at that time was at the corner of Third Ave. and Fourth St. in the building which it occupied from the time the office opened in 1914 until it was transferred into its present quarters in the Killas and Christopher building last year.

During his residence here Mr. Coates has been an active member of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club, serving as secretary from 1932 to 1937 and from 1939 to 1942. He was president of the club for the year 1937-38, and at present is a member of the board of directors.

PRIEST TELLS HOW STRANGE PEOPLE DWELL IN REMOTE WESTERN ARCTIC

Caribou Is Food and Raiment For Western Eskimo—His Life Short But Merry—Shares
His Women and Kills Off His Baby Girls
(By G. A. HUNTER)

It has been said that one half of the world does not know how the other half lives. An interview with Father Raymond Coccola who has been spending a few days in Prince Rupert this week after serving for eight years as a Roman Catholic Church missionary priest to the really aboriginal Eskimos of the Eastern Arctic Ocean at Bathurst Inlet was a reminder that even people of Canada may not realize the primitive mode of existence of some of the human beings who form part of the population of this vast Dominion. Take the case of the Eskimo of the Eastern Arctic Coast. Father Coccola has lived so long among these people that their customs and habits have become quite a matter of course to him but to the curious newspaperman he was a mine of intensely interesting reward for a barrage of questions about the people among whom he has been laboring and like whom, in the course of his ministrations, he has pre-ferred to come to often live.

At the outset, the father drew a definite distinction between the Eskimos of the Western Arctic around the north of Alaska and to the west of the Mackenzie River, who have for many years been in direct contact with the white people and have adopted some of their ways, and those of the eastern Arctic whose existence today is "almost as primeval as it was 1000 years ago." Nevertheless, Father Coccola said that some progress was being made in Christianizing them—slow as the results of the effort may appear in developing.

Eats Caribou
All Day Long
Father Coccola told of the vital part the caribou played in the very existence of these Eskimo people, how they depend upon it for every essential need of human existence—both in food and raiment. The Eskimo of the eastern Arctic eats his caribou meat raw—frozen or dried—"all day long" whenever the need for nourishment makes itself felt. Some times a kind of caribou broth is used. He feeds it to his dogs too. Fish form only a small part of this Eskimo's diet although he does catch a few. In the summer, however, he does relieve the constant diet of caribou meat with a type of hardy Arctic berry.

Green food, fruit, flour all are things unheard of. But, Father Coccola disclosed that, tea in recent years has been introduced among the Eskimos and it has become popular as has tobacco which the Eskimo—man and woman alike—smoke in the form of paper rolled cigarettes. The tea and tobacco are obtained from the Hudson's Bay post which also supplies fire-arms and ammunition.
Liquor is unknown among the Eastern Eskimos. Incidentally, the Eskimo has no idea of money. He never uses it but does his trading in furs on a barter basis like used to be done with the Indians in the old trading days of the new west.

And as the caribou is the predominant constituent of the Eastern Eskimo's food so is it the almost sole source of his wearing apparel. From caribou the women make the caribou socks, trousers, parkas and hoods. Seal skin provides the footwear, a type of knee boot.
Then from the caribou is also rendered the fat used as tallow for the lamps providing such artificial heat as the Eskimo requires since he keeps himself warm in that frigid land almost entirely by means of warm clothing and physical exertion.

In that far off and intriguing part of Canada there are no community dwelling assemblies but the people live singly to themselves in their families who may be a few miles apart. That does not say, however, that they do not mingle freely for they do and enjoy a form of social life even if it but to sit mutely around since their art of conversation is not developed and their means of inter-ex-pression is limited indeed.
The Eskimo couple marry young and their betrothal is pledged by their parents when the children are babies. Around the age of eleven they become married with a form of rite and live happily ever afterward although it is the accepted thing to exchange wives or trade them off for a time—a practice which the good priest, of course, assiduously endeavours to discourage. Father Coccola disclosed that

The Eskimos still retain the custom of killing off the baby girls for a practical enough reason—the food problem. The accepted ratio is ten boys for every girl. There is no com-punction about sharing the girls. Their main value in any case is for the breeding function. Of course, they are expected to keep busy doing the sewing while the stronger sex is engaged in the manly arts of hunting and trap-ping.

Dies Young of Old Age
The Eskimo does not live to a great age. Indeed he usually dies around forty years. He just wears out, when struck by cold.

SUSPEND PLAYERS

Reinstatement Regulations
Were Not Properly Observed

TORONTO, Nov. 3 (C)—Several players of the Quebec Senior Hockey League have been sus-pended. Hanson Dowell, presi-dent of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, has notified Norman Dawe, head of the Que-bec Amateur Hockey Association, of the suspensions.

One of those who has come under the ban is Les Ramsey, who now is playing with Hull Volants in the Quebec Senior Hockey League. Ramsey was sus-pended because he has not been properly reinstated in amateur ranks.
Others suspended were Windy O'Neil of Quebec Aces, Tony Demers and Marcel Laroche, both playing now with St. Hyacinthe.

RUGBY UNION PLAY-OFF PLAN

TORONTO, Nov. 3 (C)—Offi-cials of the Canadian Rugby Union are trying to organize a game between the champions in the West and the winner of the Big Four. The idea is to hold the game on November 17 either in Ottawa or Toronto. Then the winner would play the champion of the Quebec Rugby Football Union.

The Canadian Rugby Union officials have been talking with N. J. Taylor, who is president of the Western Canada Rugby Union. According to A. U. Chip-man, the president of the Win-nipeg Blue Bombers, his team would be prepared to play in a semi-final game and remain for a game the following week if they won.

SPORTS

In the Quebec Senior Hockey League Montreal Royals and Valleyfields Braves played a three-all draw at Valleyfield Thursday. But the Royals col-lected one point which has con-solidated their position at the top of the league standing. The Royals now are three points ahead of the Ottawa Senators.

It is just learned from King-ston, that Jack Parry, the Queen's University backfielder, will be out of the line-up for the rest of the season. X-ray exami-nation shows that a bone in Parry's leg has been fractured—probably in the game he played two weeks ago with University of Toronto. Parry was at practice Thursday but he started to limp after the scrimmage. He has been one of the fleetest perform-ers of the season. In his only ap-pearance this season he flung one touchdown pass and sprinted a total of 130 yards for two others.

Toronto Argos are all set for their first game with Ottawa Rough Riders in the Interpro-vincial Rugby play-offs today. Yesterday they had a two-hour workout but Coach Ted Morris kept scrimmaging to a minimum to prevent injuries. At the same time, the Riders finished their final drill last night and Coach Ross Trimble pronounced them fit and ready. Today's game will mark the first Big Four play-off since the league suspended opera-tions in 1941. It promises to be a sell-out with predictions of a crowd of more than 18,000.

The Chicago Black Hawks ruined the National Hockey League debut of the New York Rangers Wednesday night by handing the Rangers a 5-1 shel-lacing. It was the third game for the Hawks but their first at home. The largest crowd in Chi-cago's hockey history turned out for the affair. The attendance was more than 18,000. In over-whelming the Rangers, last sea-son's cellar occupants, for their second win, the Hawks concen-trated all their power in the first and third periods. The Hawks smashed through the Ranger defence for three goals in the first period and then scored two on goalie Jim Henry in the third. The Rangers scored their lone goal in the first period when Grant Warwick caught the Chicago defence flat-footed. Warwick skated half the length of the ice, then passed to Hank Guldup who fired the puck past goalie Mike Karakas.

In the American Hockey League there were two games on Wednesday night. St. Louis Flyers, at St. Louis, held Pittsburgh Hornets to a 3-3 tie, and at Providence the Reds scored a 2-1 victory over New Haven Eagles.

In the Toronto Maple Leafs' National Hockey League tussle with the Canadiens at Montreal last night, the Leafs had two in-valids on their staff. One was Gus Bodnar who hurt his right knee Wednesday when he crash-ed into the boards while practis-ing at Maple Leaf Gardens. The other was Syl Apps who is not expected to take the ice until next Wednesday. Apps broke his nose during an exhibition game last week and the doctors or-dered him off the ice for a while.

The game for the senior sec-tion title of the Quebec Rugby Football Union was played under lights in Molson Stadium in Montreal Wednesday night. Mc-Gill Tigers defeated McGill Wildcats 20-0. It was the Tigers' third straight victory

In London, Jack Solomons, the promoter, is hoping to arrange a fight between Bruce Woodcock, the British heavyweight champ, and Gus Lesnevich, who is recog-nized in the States as the light-heavyweight champion of the world. In fact Solomons has gone so far as to cable Lesnevich's manager for terms. So far Solo-mons hasn't received the reply from Lew Diamond, who is man-ager for Lesnevich. Diamond's terms are that it will be a non-title fight, he must have a guar-antee of $50,000, and some other items which will probably run into a lot of money.

TORONTO, Nov. 3 (C)—Ontario Football League night Toronto Indians and Windsor Rockets played at lights at Maple Leaf stadium Toronto. The Indians were and moved into a first-place with Toronto Balmby B which means that the Be and Indians have the play-off berths. Last game was the seventh Windsor has played with victory.

HOW CAN I ???
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I soften finger nails?
A. Finger nails that are hard or brittle can be softened if they are immersed in warm olive oil every night. Or try rubbing a little vaseline jelly on them every night.

Q. How can I relieve coughing?
A. When bothered with an irritating cough at night, put a teaspoonful of glycerine in a glass of cold milk and take a few sips at a time until relieved.

Q. How can I make it easy to cut meringue pie?
A. Lemon meringue pie will not be difficult to cut if the pie knife is wet with cold water before using. This prevents sticking.

GARDEN 'NOTEBOOK'

SMALL GROUPS OF LILIES SERVES AS GARDEN ACCENT

Though tulips are again being imported from Holland, with the exception of a very few from England or Mexico, all lily bulbs offered for planting in this country this fall were grown in America.

For many years before Pearl Harbor, lily bulbs imported from Japan, which was the chief source, had proved unsatisfactory for garden use, and American production had been increasing.

While the supply is limited, there are enough to provide a few bulbs for everyone, and a few lilies will go a long way in providing garden beauty. Lilies are not effective in mass plantings. They are best used in small groups, or even single plants, as accents at garden focal point.

Hardy lilies are best planted in the fall. Bulbs are dormant now depending upon them well into September. Regal lily, a queen of lilies, should be in every garden, where its gorgeous pink striped flowers with golden throats are unsurpassed for beauty.

The coral lily of Siberia, Lilium tenuifolium, is the earliest and brightest of the lilies, a beautiful coral red.

The newspapers announced that in the future girds' stockings would be made of nylon. Memo to Jap manufacturers: What are you going to do with your silk... worms!

Three soldiers back from overseas went into a cafeteria and found that the only available table was one that was occupied by a spinsterly miss. Wanting a little privacy, they decided to sit down, hoping by means of their unappetizing conversation to make her finish and leave in a hurry.

"The first veteran said: "Boy, life overseas is sure tough. I didn't have a bath in eight months." "Think that's bad?" said the second. "I couldn't even wash my hands in four weeks." "We were so busy," added the third, "I couldn't change my underwear in five months." At that point the old gal looked up and said, "Would one of you stinkers mind passing the salt?"

Regal, or Royal Lily, one of the best.

and must spend the winter either in the ground or in cold storage. They are better off in the ground.

The notion that lilies are hard to grow has small basis in fact. Quite the reverse is true in the case of most varieties.

If your soil is a good sandy loam it should be suitable for most of the hardy lilies. They do best in a light soil perhaps because of its superior drainage. Most of the lilies dislike wet soil and will show immediately the effects of standing in water. A good loam, rich in leaf mold, is fine for them.

Do not treat the soil to make it acid, as you would for rhododendrons; and do not lime it. A neutral soil is best. Manure should not be used except as a top dressing and then it must be a year or more old and well rotted.

A balanced plant food is fine, and some varieties will need additional spring applications. Use one pint to a bushel of soil. Spade your bed deeply before setting out the bulbs. If you think the ground will be frozen before the bulbs arrive, give the bed a mulch of dry leaves or straw to keep it from freezing until you can get the bulbs in.

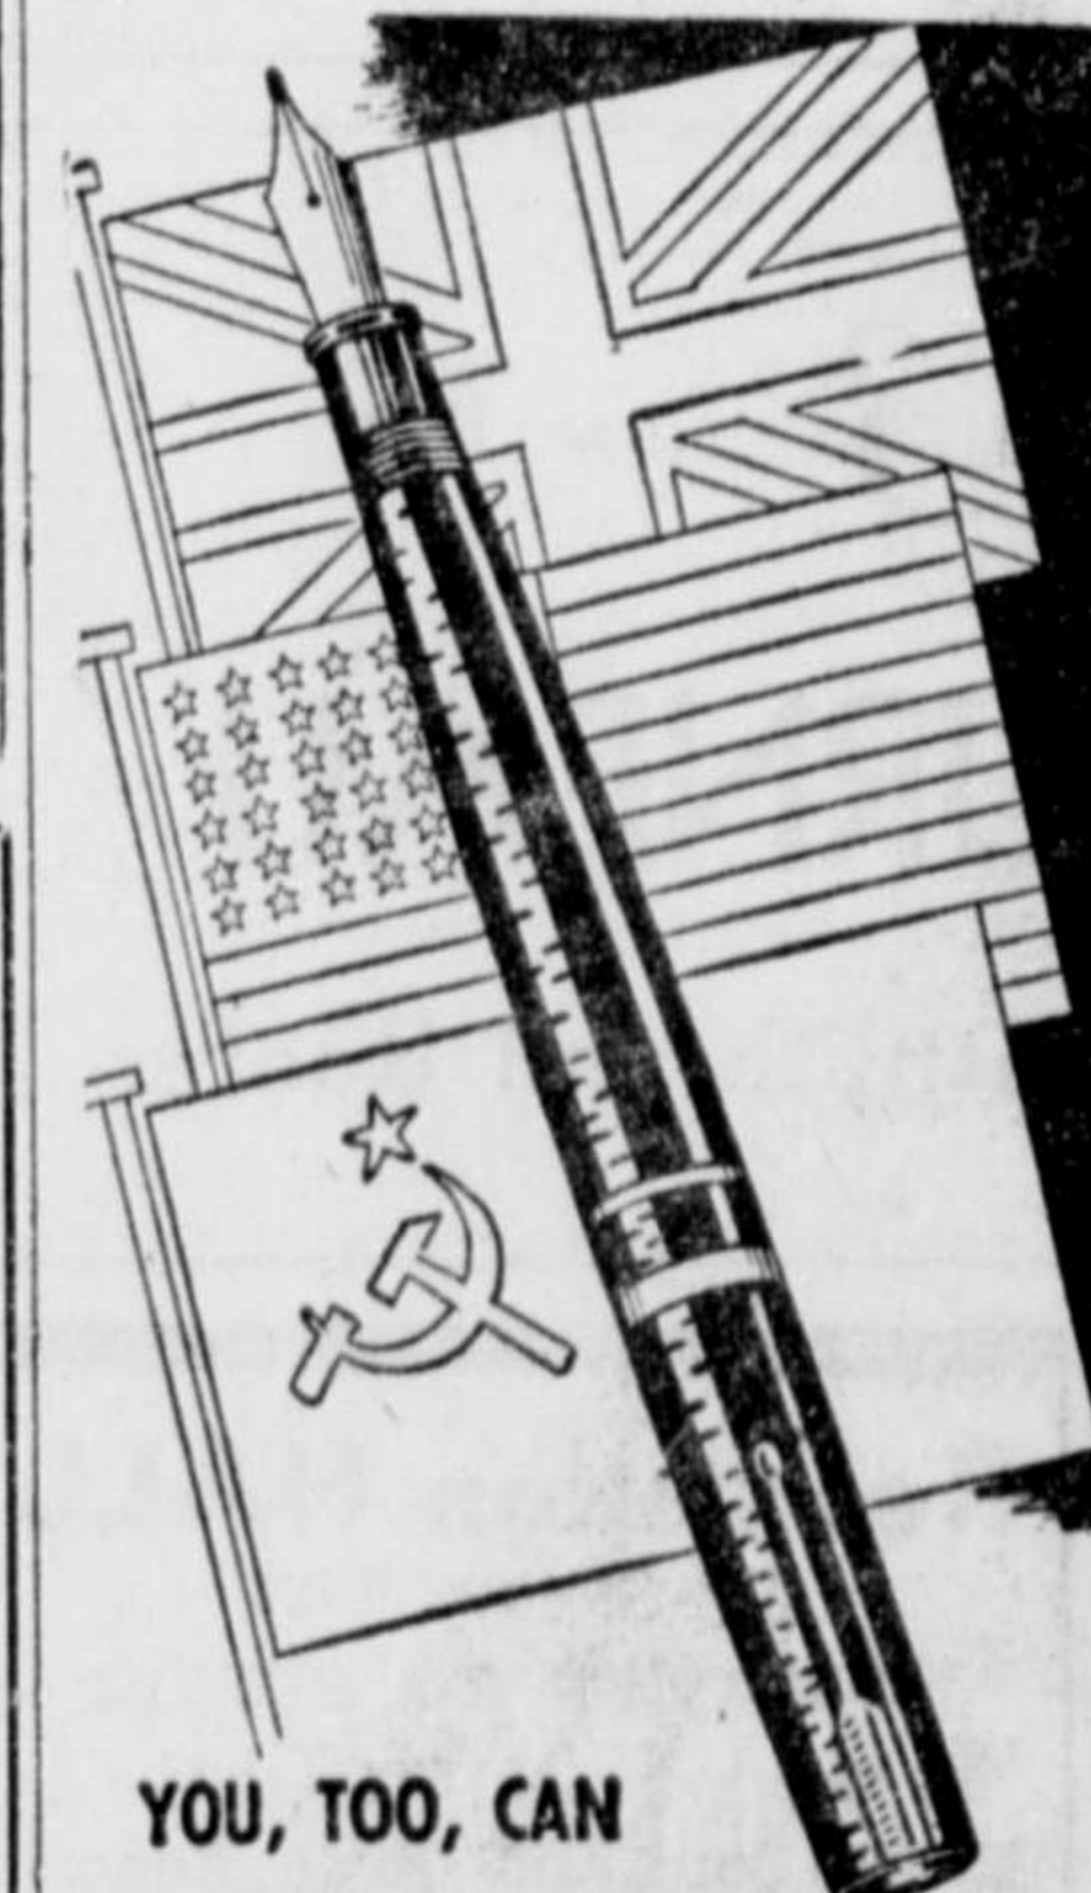

A location where the base of the plant is in light shade is a good one for most lilies. While they dislike standing water, they also dislike drying out, and a summer mulch of peat moss or rotted leaves is appreciated. The depth of planting is important. Lilium candidum, canadense, martagon and superbum should be planted only 3 to 4 inches influenza or pneumonia, expires through simple lack of resistance.

Since the Eastern Arctic winter lasts from September to June, the Eskimo family lives the most of the time in the circular igloo made of blocks of hard snow. The house, which takes only a few hours to build, is changed every month or so. The home igloo is quite a sizeable affair—possibly ten feet or so in diameter. The small igloo, which is run up on the trail while travelling, can be erected in an hour. Into this the family crawls and, oblivious of the rest of the world, lives a seemingly happy existence free of all the worries and responsibilities, the cares and strife, which mark the more enlightened form of civilization.

But there is a brief summer in the Arctic when the tundra-covered ground is actually seen. It is then that the Eskimo, his hard snow gone, makes for the shelter of himself and his family a tent—of caribou hides. Primitive as the Eskimo aborigine may be, nevertheless, his sense of a supreme being—a being for good and a being for evil. However, there is no evident appreciation of the spirit of good but the spirit for bad is very seriously recognized and there is much concern about his appeasement.

The Eskimo may be subject to the ravage of disease and early death but he is an expert in the treatment of fracture and injury. He can skillfully stay the flow of blood and as adeptly splint a fracture so that the member is soon restored to full and uncrippled usefulness. Father Coccola told of one case where a young Eskimo, suffering from frostbite, cut off both his legs, learned to run briskly on his knee stumps and lived for twenty more years.

Father Coccola makes his ecclesiastical headquarters at Burnside Post on the Hudson's Bay Co. at the top of Bathurst Inlet. There the only white inhabitants are the Hudson's Bay factor, his wife and the priest. The priest has his mission house but, in the nature of his missionary work, he spends much of his time on the snow trails and on the icy beaches where he lives like the Eskimos. Coppermine, hundreds of miles distant, is the nearest white community and there the priest journeys once a year to get his mail. He is visited once a year by Bishop Trocellier of Mackenzie Vicariate who journeys from his ecclesiastical seat at Fort Smith over the vast expanses of the Arctic to inspect his widespread missions of which Father Coccola's is by far the most remote.

Burnside Post is 1000 miles from Aklavik, the central community of that section of the Canadian Arctic. One travels 200 miles down the Mackenzie River from Aklavik to Toktuzaktuk on the Delta. From there it is a journey of 800 miles on the 35-ton mission boat to Burnside Post.

Coming out on this trip Father Coccola left Burnside Post August 25 and spent a few weeks at Edmonton before coming on here. He left last night for Vancouver whence he will

Tea Party Furore
Stirs Old Boston

BOSTON, Eng., Nov. 3 — Tea parties in this Lincolnshire town have caused a furore as important, in a local way, as was the famous "tea party" at Boston, Mass.

Mayor J. H. Mountain of Boston and other members of a committee organized to plan homecoming entertainment for returning ex-service men and women heard there were complaints the entertainers were enjoying free hospitality at teas for the veterans. It has been explained for Mayor Mountain that as first citizen he must attend the parties and is really bound to eat. Canon A. M. Cook, another committeeman said that apart from the mayor only three other people attended each function, and each only attended once. Mayor Mountain said: "Members of the British Legion served the drinks and did not drink one. Waitresses from the local cafe and women's voluntary service members waited on table—and did not eat anything. The stewards were the town clerk and the borough treasurer, and they neither ate nor drank. These rumors are unfair and untrue."

"DARK WATERS" CHILL DRAMA

Coming to Capitol Theatre Monday and Tuesday with Merle Oberon and Franchot Tone

The mysterious bayou country of Louisiana forms a background for intrigue and terror in the picture "Dark Waters," adapted from the popular Saturday Evening Post serial, which comes to the Capitol Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

Merle Oberon is said to reach new dramatic heights in the part of the harassed girl with Franchot Tone as the young fighting country doctor who does not lose faith in her. Thomas Mitchell is the cold and calculating villain who tries to steal her plantation from the girl. Others in the cast are Fay Bainter, Elisha Cook, John Qualen, Rex Ingram and Nina McKinney.

After many vicissitudes, happy ending finally comes for the two young lovers.

Pilot (just after take-off): "I bet that 50 per cent of the people down there thought we were going to be killed that time."

Student Pilot: "Yes, sir, and 50 per cent of the people up here thought so, too."

We think it is remarkable. To find a gal who still is shakable!
