 Battle For Berlin At Climax
 April 30 (CP) — The American Ninth Army established contact today with the Russians entering Berlin, thus widening the corridor between shrinking northern and southern redoubts to 80 miles.
 It was made three miles west of Wittenburg.

At the same time, five divisions of the American Seventh Army, probably 70,000 men in all, were engaged in a stiff battle in the Munich fringes.
 Indications at Allied headquarters today were that hostilities in Europe would last at most only a matter of days.
 High ranking Nazi survivors were reported to be seeking peace while the western allies drove swiftly into the southern and northern redoubts, advancing almost at will into Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia.
 The German-controlled Oslo radio said today that Russian tanks have smashed into the Tiergarten, Berlin's central park converted into an underground fortress. Moscow reports said that the fall of Berlin is imminent.
 The Moscow newspaper, Pravda, said that the Russians were fighting in the ruins of Unter den Linden, the spacious avenue in the heart of Berlin that terminates at the Tiergarten.
 The Hamburg radio, chief Nazi transmitter still broadcasting in Germany, said that "the hard battle for Berlin has reached its climax today."
 Moscow despatches said that the Russians were going all-out for a May Day victory.

Italian War Now Finished

ROME, April 30 (CP)—General Mark Clark, Fifteenth Army group commander today announced the virtual end of the long and bloody campaign in Italy.
 Declaring that the German armies in Italy have been virtually eliminated as a military force, General Clark said that 25 enemy divisions have been torn to pieces in the 22-day offensive by the Allied Fifth and British Eighth armies. He said that the Germans can no longer effectively resist the Allied armies, but added that scattered fighting may still continue.
 The Fifth Army has reached the Swiss border, and the Eighth Army is approaching a junction with the Yugoslavs.

OTTAWA, April 30—Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of munitions, appealed to Canadian workers to stay on their jobs on "V-E Day." Even with war over in Germany there was another grim enemy to be beaten in Japan. There should be no let-up until that was accomplished.

LOCAL FLIER IN CHINA PENETRATES TO SHANGRI-LA IN INNER TIBET

A flight to "Shangri-La," the mystic territory of innermost Tibet where probably not more than half a dozen outsiders have ever set foot, will undoubtedly remain one of the outstanding experiences of Capt. Cedric Mah, a former Prince Rupert man now serving as a pilot with the China National Aviation Corporation.
 The 22-year-old flier, younger brother of Capt. Albert Mah who was recently in Prince Rupert on leave, made the trip in style. Before they made their final jump-off into Tibet, he and his fellow pilot, an American colonel from Vermont, were guests at the summer villa of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Chek in the border region of western China.
 Purpose of the journey was to return a Tibetan emissary to his home in the mountainous hinterland. The flight was highly dangerous, involving the guiding of a large aircraft through unknown passes with 18,000-foot mountains towering on either side.
 "No one dared think what would happen if we entered the wrong pass," Capt. Mah wrote to his sister, Miss Violet Mah, in Prince Rupert.
 The pilots made one unsuccessful attempt to find the hidden valley where their passenger, who carried the name of Solong-Busong, had his home. Failing that, they turned back to China and picked up a Chinese air force captain, the only outsider who had ever been to that rendezvous.
 "In 1940 this man had been on exploration flight and on landing in the valley the Tibetans brought offerings to him. They thought this bird from the air was a god," Capt. Mah recounted. "He spent three months photographing the area—living like a king. However, after three months the Tibetan bill of fare became unbearable so he left."
 Guided by the Chinese captain, the two pilots made another try to take Solong-Busong home.
 The base from which Capt. Mah and his companion took off for their flights into Tibet was the city where China's Generalissimo has a summer villa. They were guests of the provincial governor, a general who lived in Chiang's summer home. "The hospitality was superb and the food grand," said Capt. Mah.

IS HITLER
 NOW DEAD?

LONDON, April 30 (CP)—Several rumors are current today concerning Adolf Hitler. One totally unconfirmed story declares that Der Fuehrer died yesterday in his underground headquarters in Berlin.
 Another story concerning Hitler—which is likewise without any confirmation—quotes a Stockholm dispatch which says Hitler has suffered a hemorrhage which has left him an invalid.

Little Change On Canuck Front
 WITH THE FIRST CANADIAN ARMY, April 30 (CP)—Little change was reported over the week-end in Canadian Army operations in northwest Germany but the semi-circular front tightened slightly about Oldenburg as the Second Canadian Division pressed east toward Delmenhorst. The Canadian Army is squaring up to the Leorf - Oldenburg - Elsfleth line along which the Germans are basing their defence of the peninsula on which Emden and Wilhelmshaven are located. Continued German demolitions and poor terrain hampered progress of the Canadians.

BENITO MUSSOLINI EXECUTED BY ITALIAN PATRIOTS; BODY IS REVILED IN PUBLIC SQUARE

ROME, April 30 (CP)—It has been confirmed that Benito Mussolini has been executed by Italian patriots. An announcement has been issued by Allied headquarters in Rome quoting two British newsmen who have actually seen the former Duce's body. It is unusual for headquarters to quote war correspondents as the source of an official announcement, but it is evident that in this case Allied officials are satisfied that the facts are true.
 The announcement telling of Mussolini's execution confirms broadcasts made by the partisan-held Milan radio. This is the story of how the 61-year-old Mussolini died. Mussolini and his associates were seized by Italian partisans in the border city of Como while trying to escape into Switzerland. Saturday afternoon the former Fascist dictator and members of his puppet regime were executed by the partisans in a little town near Como.
 Saturday night the bodies were taken to Milan and dumped in the town square for the public to view. They were hung by the toes and later dropped in the mud to be kicked and spat upon.
 Among those executed was a young woman described as the sweetheart of the former Italian leader.
 Benito Mussolini and the sixteen other leading Fascists were executed at Como and their bodies reviled later in a public square in Milan where they were put on view. The executions were by a patriot firing squad after summary trial. Including Mussolini's mistress, all were captured while attempting to escape to Switzerland.
 Senator Connally's Announcement Set World Agog
 A San Francisco report that Germany had surrendered unconditionally touched off subdued reports and short-lived demonstrations in many American and Canadian cities Saturday night. For the most part the demonstrations were a mixture of skepticism and jubilation. All quickly subsided after President Truman described as unfounded a report given to the Associated Press by vice-chairman of the United States delegation to the world security conference, Senator Tom Connally.
 Many American newspapers greeted the first report with extra editions and in some towns church bells pealed and whistles and horns blared. The jubilation lasted about half an hour in New York's Times Square. Thousands of persons cheered and pieces of torn paper rained down from the office buildings.
 In Chicago's Loop district, crowds surged into stores without demonstration. All police leaves were cancelled but the order was rescinded after President Truman's announcement.
 One San Francisco newspaper emblazoned the words: "Nazis quit" in red letters across the front page of its extra edition but, despite a newspaper extra in Washington, milling citizens were skeptical.

Swiftly Moving Developments Point to Germany's Collapse At Any Hour—
 British Cabinet Members Standing By

LONDON, April 30 (CP)—A new surrender offer from Heinrich Himmler, presumably to all three major powers, is understood to be on its way today. Cabinet ministers have been ordered to stand by as swiftly moving developments point to Germany's collapse.
 A commentator on the Hamburg radio, chief remaining voice of Nazi Germany, declared that "everybody knows this war is drawing to its end. This is an irrevocable fact."
 London is outwardly calm even though a "V-E Day" announcement is expected at any hour. There is more ministerial activity in Whitehall than there has been for some time. Indications are that only details of Germany's surrender remain to be worked out. These may concern whether Himmler or any other ranking Nazi leader could give solid evidence that German pockets on the Atlantic coast and in Norway would lay down their arms.
 A Stockholm newspaper says that Count Bernadotte, said to be the man who last week relayed Himmler's offer of surrender to United States and Great Britain, was now meeting with the Gestapo head.
 The Moscow radio, meantime, has given official credence to the report that an offer to surrender Germany unconditionally has been made by Nazi Gestapo Chief Himmler. The Moscow broadcast is the first official confirmation that such a surrender proposal actually had been made.

TORCH PARADE
 SETS COLORFUL
 STREET EFFECT

The glare of red and yellow signal fuses shining through a smoke pall touched off a realistic effect as vehicles from the area fire departments staged a Victory Loan torchlight parade in darkened downtown streets at 10 o'clock Saturday night. Hundreds of spectators witnessed the parade as it snaked along Second and Third avenues to the wail of sirens.
 Streetlights in the downtown area were turned off by the power company to give added effect to the display.
 The parade was led off by an army staff car carrying U.S. Fire Marshal E. Berrling, who acted as parade marshal. City Fire chief H. T. Lock, and other area fire department heads. Following the staff car was a light truck carrying a smoke bomb which spread thick fumes over the parade route.
 The parade which began at the city fire hall, travelled east on Second avenue to the Court House, then raced west on Third avenue to the Park avenue intersection, returning west on Second avenue. The course was traversed twice.
 Taking part were two trucks of the city fire department, two trucks of the U.S. Fire department, and one truck of the Navy and one of the Canadian army fire departments.

Beware of Betrayers . . .

They shot Benito Mussolini in the back, hanged his body by the toes in the public square at Milan yesterday and then cut the remains down and kicked and spat upon them. They will do the same or likewise for Adolf Hitler in a day or so unless, as they say has happened, he has already died in his underground rat hole in Berlin.

Thus comes retribution at long last for the arch traitors—for the betrayers of their people—for the men who sowed the seeds of their fanatical lust for power in the soil of their people's discontent.

They die in dishonor and the deepest of ignominy. And there is something pitiful and pathetic about it all even if there may be some grim feeling of satisfaction within the irony.

How different it could have been for Mussolini and Hitler too if, after achieving the great power that became theirs, they might have used it in different directions!

Who knows that these dictators who became so fanatical, so gross and so completely drunk with power and trust that was imposed in them, might in their day have been inspired with some measure of sincerity and good intention for their people?

Those who consider the history of Hitler and Mussolini may moralize against the danger of being deluded by seeming good intentions into just such deadly and terrible conditions as culminated in these tragedies of Germany and Italy. We might well reflect upon that before we embark upon political experimentations ourselves.

Who seriously believed, a seeming few years ago, although some might have been predicting these very events, that such things would have happened to Italy and Germany and the leaders whom they worshipped and fawned to.

In winning our victory now and with the peace of the world again in sight, we would do well to ensure that we do not sow these very days such seeds as have destroyed these sick and demented dictators and their deluded peoples.

Just a Little Premature . . .

We had the war in Europe almost over Saturday night. It was something of a rehearsal of the "V-E Day" proceedings.

Even here in the Daily News office the telephones were jingling with calls of people hearing the rumors that Germany had surrendered unconditionally to all the Allies and wishing confirmation.

When no less a person than Senator Tom Connelly, chairman of the United States foreign relations committee and vice-chairman of the United States delegate to the San Francisco security conference, came through with the announcement of the surrender, there was some justification to believe that a great day and great hour had come.

It was somewhat of a letdown to be sure to be later advised that it was a false alarm. But we know that the event cannot be far removed even if it may come somewhat anticlimactically in these days of such quickly succeeding world shaking events.

Ontario Elections . . .

What political parties in Ontario think about their own chances in the forthcoming provincial election makes interesting reading. Predictions follow:

Conservatives (38 seats in the last House) "Ontario is traditionally conservative, with both a small 'c' and a capital 'C.'" Its pendulum is now swinging back to normalcy after one or two hysterical lurches in other directions. Another eight seats would give us a clear majority. We'll win that many and 10 more."

Liberals (16 seats in the last House) "Mitch Hepburn is unbeatable—particularly now that he has stonned feuding with Mackenzie King. That 1943 debacle would never have happened to us if Mitch had been at the helm. We'll win 20 seats back from the C.C.F. and another ten from the Conservatives. It's in the bag."

C.C.F. (32 seats in the last House) "Ours is the coming party in every part of Canada. We only struck our stride in 1943; this time we're really going places. We were prepared to take over from Drew and function even as a minority government but after June we'll have a clear majority."

Labor-Progressives: "We had two members in the last House and as our party wasn't organized until the 1943 election that wasn't a bad batting average. We plan to nominate 37 candidates in this campaign and hope to elect as good a percentage. We obviously can't get a majority in a House of 90 but we will probably hold the balance of power."

LETTERBOX

QUALITY OF BREAD

Editor, Daily News:

A news dispatch datelined Terrace, April 26, with the heading "Baker Having Difficulty" calls, we think, for a reply from one directly associated with and in the bakery production at Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert, we think, has undergone one of the most rapid increases in population of any city in the Dominion. When the population was 6,700 persons we enjoyed the services of three bakeries catering to public demands. Shortly after activity commenced one of these bakeries was lost to the civilian trade by being taken over by the armed forces, thus leaving only two bakeries to cater to the increasing trade. At the apex our population was around 22,000 civilians and we received every consideration at the hands of the ration administration when we required sufficient rationed supplies to serve our trade.

This article is misleading in that it attempts to create an impression that a higher quality of bread is being turned out by the Terrace bakery than by other producers of bread in this area. A test conducted by a flour milling company recently in which a score of 90 percent on bread was obtained by the Terrace bakery has been quoted as against the highest score in the Dominion of 92 percent. The writer of this dispatch to be fair to the public and others concerned should have pointed out in the press that all flour milling companies conduct such tests with those using their own brand of flour and tests were made according to the official method of the American Institute of Baking. Under these tests our score has reached a high of 98.6 percent and our lowest score being 93.7 percent, a slightly better record than 90 percent. We point this out from the statement made that, unless the Prices Board can be made to see sense. Prince Rupert and other points will be compelled to keep on using other grades of products. We do not think such advertising is the best means of creating goodwill towards the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and from our experience they have always shown consideration for fair and equitable distribution of all commodities in short supply. There is a job we think as "well done" for our whole Dominion.

The scoring of bread is meant only for the bakers use, to find out any improvements which can be made and certainly is not for publication. It isn't fair to the people who scored the bread.

Thank you, Mr. Editor.

Mah who had just recovered from a five-week bout with malaria in India. "The climate is temperate and dry. The villa sits on a knoll overlooking a beautiful lake with high peaks on all sides. The radio and electric lights made us feel at home. The Colonel remarked that the place reminded him of a mansion back in Vermont.

The governor's son, who was a chemical engineer, showed the fliers two alcohol distilling plants in the valley which provided much of the base for China's munitions industry. Two crops are grown each year, the first, wheat and corn, being used for distillation of alcohol, and the second, rice, for food for the people.

In a nearby village Capt. Mah and his companion discovered members of a hill tribe known as Lolos who had come down to purchase supplies.

"These Lolos are fierce tribesmen who live in the border regions between China and Tibet," he said. "Many an airman has bailed out in their territory—never to be seen again. However, I found them obliging when I asked them to pose for photographs."

"Unlike the Lolos, the Tibetans are not warlike. They are a kind people, honest, and with a well balanced philosophy. Their attitudes make the country a real Shangri-La to outsiders."

In discussion with the governor a former warlord who had adopted a firm attachment to Chiang Kai Chek, Capt. Mah learned that despite its close relationship with China, Tibet's background is closely linked with that of Burma. The governor's son, who had married a Tibetan princess during a seven-year exile from China, explained that the Tibetan alphabet, which consists of 40 characters was brought from Burma by a Lama in the fifteenth century. Much of their religious statuary also shows a Burmese influence.

Commentator Lacks Comment

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Radio Orange, the Netherlands government station in London said in a broadcast that General Kurt Dittmar, German radio military commentator, has been taken prisoner. Radio Orange added: "He has as yet given no comment on this military event."

NEW PEACE RIVER HIGHWAY

traffic in the interior of the province.
Talk Peace
River Link
 The government is hopeful that a way may be found to extend the railway beyond Prince George to the Peace River country and there's also been talk of an extension towards Alaska, although the latter project would probably be of more interest to American roadroading and financial interests.

While the highway to Peace River will open up the country to passenger and light freight traffic, it is realized that the only hope of bringing out the Peace River's agricultural, coal and other products lies in construction of a railroad.
 The highway route will follow the Pine Pass and the government has allocated $6,000,000 for construction. Not only will the road provide access to the Peace River, it will provide the long missing link between southern British Columbia and the Puget Sound country with the Alaska Highway at Dawson Creek.

 In its present uncompleted state the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, which was taken over by the government more than 25 years ago when the contractors went bankrupt, carries only about 75,000 tons of freight annually. If extended to the Peace River it is estimated that annual freight would total at least 500,000 tons.

 Present plans of the government, in anticipation of possible extension into the Peace, are said to contemplate considerable development at Squamish as a coal and bunkering port.

 An alternative is being considered for building a connecting railroad between the P.G.E. at Clinton and the C.P.R. or C.N.R. at Savona or Ashcroft. This would provide for considerable tonnage from the Okanagan orchard country.

Valley Mourns Passing of Another of Its Pioneers — Vocational Guidance Official Visitor to Interior School

E. A. Olsen of Remo, who passed away on April 21 at the Prince Rupert Hospital, was buried on Wednesday in Prince Rupert. For over two years Mr. Olsen has been living alone and during that time, his health has been failing rapidly. He succumbed as the result of a stroke. The Remo people and friends in Terrace had expected the body to be sent back to Terrace for burial as a plot in the cemetery was ready for him. However, his brother in Ladner, who had been notified of his death, had sent back word that he would be unable to attend the funeral. Mr. Olsen was about sixty years old and came to Remo as a young man. He was accompanied by a brother at that time and took up the property on which he was living at the time of his death. He worked hard to improve it and, people who used to come from Prince Rupert to pick strawberries a number of years ago will remember his place very well. In addition to strawberries, he used to send out a considerable amount of agricultural produce. Mr. Olsen did not spend all his time farming. He used to work out at times. He was a very active member of the Remo Farmers' Institute and, for quite a number of years served on the school board. It is known that Mr. Olsen made and destroyed a will a few years back and no other will has as yet been found. Besides his farm, which is now being cared for by Gens Erlandsen, he left money and bonds. Norman Watt of Prince Rupert has been in Terrace and Remo during the week investigating the case.

Harold P. Johns of the Department of Education, Victoria, who is in charge of the guidance program for the British Columbia schools, spent Thursday in Terrace. He had come up to Prince Rupert by boat a few days previously in company with B. Thorsteinson, inspector of schools, and stated that he would be visiting schools and teachers in different parts of northern British Columbia in order to establish more fully the guidance program. He visited the Terrace schools and, during the early part of Thursday afternoon, gave an interesting and much appreciated talk on guidance to the pupils of Division I in the Terrace elementary school. Later in the afternoon he had a special meeting with the High School teachers in which the subject of guidance was fully discussed.

Bob Parker of Prince Rupert, accompanied by two assistants, drove to Terrace on Saturday with a car for Sam Creelman.

Mrs. J. Poole left on Saturday night's train for Pentineton where she will take charge of the sale of her home.

Mrs. A. Kerr, accompanied by a relative of hers from Prince Rupert, left Terrace on Thursday. Mrs. Kerr has been very ill.

Under the auspices of the Y. M.C.A., a bingo party was held for the soldiers on Thursday evening.

Mildred Frank of the Skeena Mercantile arrived home on Tuesday from a trip to Prince Rupert.

On Monday night's train, Mr. and Mrs. McKie left for a visit to their ranch near Cudknife, Sask. Helen McKie accompanied them as far as Edmonton where she will take a course in hair-dressing.

Viola Richmond, W.A.A.C., who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. A. Shaw, left on Monday night's train for her home in Hazelton where she spent a few days before proceeding to her station in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. M. Giggey, who have been holidaying in the south, are expected home this week.

Flying Officer K. K. Knapp, who used to teach in the High School here, is spending his furlough in Terrace with his wife and baby daughter. He is stationed at Yorktown, Sask.

Mrs. T. Brooks (Auntie Add) is being welcomed back to Terrace by her many friends who have had a number of surprise parties in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith have moved from the Sundal Block into their new home.

Mrs. Head is working hard to put over the Eighth Victory loan drive. Terrace's quota is $25,000 and it is hoped that everyone will contribute generously and so speed the victory.

Next Saturday there is to be an innovation brought into the regular Saturday night dance in the Orange Hall. The ladies will pay admission and all members of the forces will be admitted free.

The weather continues cold with intermittent showers. The leaves are beginning to appear on the trees.

What they achieved...we must hold

IN THE YEARS following the Napoleonic wars, high taxes, low wages and unemployment made life almost unbearable for thousands of people in the British Isles. Canada was their land of promise. So by hundreds they came to Quebec, took the river steamer to Montreal, walked nine miles to Lachine where they began the cruel journey up the St. Lawrence in bateaux or Durham boats, lugging their possessions along the shore past the rapids. Finally there was the long journey inland with their supplies on their backs or on ox carts. And in the middle of the forest they made homes for themselves. Just one ideal they sought, and found, in this new land. It was a country where thrift and hard work brought their reward, where each man could profit according to the effort he put forth. Victory Bonds are the means by which each and every one of us can protect this precious heritage handed down to us by those sturdy pioneers. Each bond helps to crush those nations who seek to restrict our freedom. Each bond will assist the men in our armed services to build a happy future in this Canada of ours.

Last Thursday afternoon in the ladies' lounge the Y.W.C.A. Service Wives Club met with an attendance of 24 wives and 14 children. Three new members were introduced. The afternoon was spent in mending socks for Service men. Mrs. Perry was the lucky winner of the raffle which had been donated by the club. Lunch was served by Mrs. Trann Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Pooley, in the absence of Mrs. Noblston, was in charge of the playroom.

The area forts held a very successful ping pong tournament under the direction of Bill Hood, the fort Y man. Refreshments were served at the close of play. An area tournament is to be held shortly.

Badminton drew a good crowd to the gym Sunday afternoon.

Sunday evening Pop Riel presented his Allied Services Show to a capacity crowd which met this excellent show with enthusiastic response. Our congratulations to both Pop and Mrs. Riel and sincere thanks for all their time and trouble to give the service men and their friends such a grand program.

There will be dancing Monday night with Frank Dutton and his boys supplying music for dancing pleasure. Special lighting and prize dances will contribute to the evening's enjoyment.

We have found it necessary to change our music hour from Wednesday to Tuesday evenings. The time and place will be the same, in the common lounge.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Norrington to Make Future Home in Interior Town

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Norrington, esteemed residents of Prince Rupert for the past twenty years during which time Mr. Norrington has been a valued and popular member of the staff of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., at present in the capacity of purchasing agent, are leaving shortly for Terrace to take up residence. Reasons of health are the cause of the move but Mr. Norrington will join the office staff of the Little, Haugland & Kerr sawmilling concern. They own a home at Terrace which they will occupy.

Mr. Norrington has been active in various quarters in Prince Rupert. He is a captain in the Prince Rupert Machine Gun Regiment. For fifteen years he has been secretary of St. Peter's Church Hall committee and has also been a trustee of the Ridley Home. A keen sportsman, he took particular interest in soccer, badminton and tennis.

Mrs. Norrington has been secretary of St. Peter's Anglican Church for five years and organizer of the church for fifteen years. She is also first vice-president of the Diocesan Board of the Women's Auxiliary. An enthusiastic gardener, she has been active in the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society.

76 MILLION IN BONDS FRIDAY

OTTAWA, April 30 (P)—Total sales of Eighth Victory Loan bonds on Friday amounted to $76,603,400, boosting to $365,027,250 the cumulative total for the first five days of the drive, National War Finance headquarters announced. Friday's total was $1,000,000 more than the same day in the previous loan but the cumulative total was about $3,500,000 behind the aggregate at the same stage of the Seventh Loan campaign. Total for the B.C.-Yukon area on Friday was $23,274,900, or 39 percent of quota. The west coast command of the Navy was 130 percent of quota while the air force touched 100 percent. News that his son was coming home from a prisoner of war camp helped T. S. Crack sell more than $16,000 worth of bonds in one day in the Peace River district.

UNION BEGINS VOTERS' DRIVE

VANCOUVER, April 30 (P)—The political action committee of the General Shipyard Workers federation (CCL) have started an intensive voter's registration drive in Vancouver. President Malcolm McLeod said it was not intended at this time to endorse any man or party. "First we propose to see that all qualified voters are registered in their proper ridings," he said.

Liberal Candidate for Skeena in Centre Interior Getting Acquainted

Liberal headquarters here have heard that E. T. Applewhite, the federal election candidate for Skeena, is receiving a gratifying reception and numerous assurances of support in his "get acquainted" tour of the central interior. After visiting Hazelton, Evelyn, Smithers, Gientanna, Telkwa, Houston and Topley, Mr. Applewhite was at Burns Lake at the week-end.

Mr. Applewhite will attend the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia at Vanderhoof this week, being met there by Olof Hanson, the retiring member.

Between now and election day, Mr. Applewhite will be engaged in an intensive campaign tour which will include airplane flights into the Telegraph Creek and Atlin areas.

LOOKING OVER MAJOR LEAGUES

Russ Christopher limited the Boston Red Sox to six hits as the Philadelphia Athletics scored a 5-3 victory to take over second place in the American League Friday. The win was Christopher's third of the season. The Athletics were enabled to pass New York in the standings when Mickey Haefner held the Yankees to nine blows to hurl the Washington Senators to a 6-4 win. Frank Crosetti homered with two or in the eighth for the Yankees.

In the National League, Bill Voiselle hurled the New York Giants to a 5-0 win over Brooklyn Dodgers and held the opposition to eight hits. For the Giants, Mel Ott slugged his third home-run of the season and Flip Filipowicz belted his second. Though making only seven hits off Rip Sewell, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-3 at Chicago as Paul Derringer registered his third victory.

In the only other game, Leo Heusser held the opposition to four hits as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the St. Louis Browns 2-1 at Cincinnati.

Jersey City Giants' string of seven successive victories gives them a comfortable lead in the International League. The Montreal Royals are three games behind the pace-setters and are tied for third place with Newark Bears. The Toronto Maple Leafs continue to occupy the cellar.

GEORGE FORMBY IN NAVY NOW

Popular British Musical Star Coming in "Bell Bottom George"

George Formby, popular British screen, stage and radio star, having already played army and air force starring parts, goes naval in "Bell Bottom George" which is the feature picture at the Capital Theatre for the first of this week.

George, as usual, manages to get into all kinds of chucklesome troubles but for one sequence, in the character of a would-be-matlot, he manages to do all the right things for once, and in a romantic mood, too. The setting is a modern restaurant much featured at an unnamed port by service men and their heart-throbs, smartly decorated and boasting a good band and dance floor.

Here George brings the attractive young Wren, played by Anne Firth, who has stolen his heart but has yet to be won. By the time their evening is over and George has sung a most appealing number, "If I Had a Girl Like You," he has at last succeeded in making the right impression and the girl is all but "aboard the lugger."

However, in the very next sequence he ruins his prospects of getting into the Navy. He is a steward at the Senior Service Club, and the admiral who had half considered helping him to get into the Navy is a member. A series of wildly funny scenes follows, showing the well-intentioned George coming to grief slowly but surely. Not only does he upset the admiral's drinks all over him and his party, but finally crowns him with the black-out shutter.
