Business Section Virtually Calmed Down

Halifax, May 9 (CP)—This morning Halifax wears a battle look after the city's loudest and most expensive party in history.

...demonstrations, which Monday night and burst into flame yesterday, left downtown business section in a shambles—smashed and ruined—by hundreds of drunken men and civilians. They looted the liquor stores—

...and started out on a tour of destruction. Bands of men roamed up and down the streets, breaking windows, or smashing them with clubs.

...Victory celebrations began Monday night when a car and a police patrol were burned, and three stores were ransacked.

...The streets were lit with torches, and the air was filled with the sound of gunfire and the roar of the crowd.

...The war in Europe was over. From the time that the announcement was first made here shortly after 7 o'clock Monday morning, the atmosphere of elation grew but, unlike many other centres in Canada, there were no spontaneous outbursts of celebration.

...Prince Rupert people were obviously happy, but it would seem, they were also a little humble. They were joyful over the victory and thankful for having been granted it.

...From their reactions they were plainly aware that victory over Germany was still not complete "Victory."

...For the first few hours, confusion reigned in plans for observance of "V-E Day." Coming as it did at an early hour, the surrender announcement was well ahead of any official announcement of "V-E Day" observance.

...In an action designed to cope with the spirit of elation which developed, Mayor H. M. Daggett officially told the Daily News at 9 o'clock that stores, business places, schools and industrial establishments would be closed from 12 o'clock noon. It was announced at the dry dock, however, that it would work throughout the day. The holiday was observed there yesterday.

...However, most of the city's downtown stores closed all day Monday and Tuesday.

...The occasion is worth it. Even if "V-E Day" is officially proclaimed tomorrow, two days of observance of the end of six years of fighting against Germany is not too much, one merchant declared Monday.

...At the start, the war looked to the world, grossly under-rating German preparations, like the throw of a mad adventurer.

...It turned out that the Allies snatched victory only after hairbreadth escape from defeat.

...Hitler opened it with a razzle-dazzle of propaganda, secret weapons, armored spearheads, bombing a r m d a s, parachute troops, fifth columns and political sleight-of-hand which quickly established him as a sinister Barnum of war.

...Before it ended, merged with the war in Asia and the Pacific by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, it had been fought on all the oceans and continents.

...In this war there will be no victors and losers, but merely survivors and annihilated. Hitler threatened, and accordingly he set a pace for ruthlessness and cruelty unprecedented in modern war—and he and his people were annihilated.

...TIVERTON, Eng., (P)—River Dart steamer trips are to be resumed this year after a break of four years.

...LONDON, (P)—The Ministry of Food is going to permit bakers to put jam, cream, icing and disease for which there is no known cure.

...LONDON, (P)—Long queues formed in London stores when a consignment of Canadian apples went on sale.

...IFIELD, Sussex, Eng. (P)—Ifield (pop. 650) is ready for V-night. For weeks residents have been building a huge bonfire which now is 30 feet high and growing daily.

Last stand of Reich was one objective to the three offensives shown on this map. Allied drive in Italy tied with the Anglo-American push from the west and the Russian drive from the east. Map shows strategy designed to close in on Hitler's last "inner fortress."

VICTORY IN EUROPE IS GREETED QUIETLY IN PRINCE RUPERT

Prince Rupert warmed gradually to the realization that the war in Europe was over. From the time that the announcement was first made here shortly after 7 o'clock Monday morning, the atmosphere of elation grew but, unlike many other centres in Canada, there were no spontaneous outbursts of celebration.

V-E Lag Is Felt Here

Importance of Local Campaign Going Over Is Emphasized

"Say Thanks With Bonds."

The Victory in Europe occasion, which swept the Dominion on Monday and Tuesday, knocked the Victory Loan campaign off balance here as well as elsewhere and total sales for the two days dropped to a mere $18,800, local headquarters announced today. The sales total for the corresponding two days in the previous loan was $75,300. The cumulative total in this eighth campaign in Prince Rupert now stands at $667,050—a rather far cry when put against the aggregate of $743,750 at the same time.

With only three days left for buying, local headquarters express concern at the situation and are emphasizing the importance of the public realizing that, in view of still much unfinished war business, including the still unaccomplished defeat of Japan, it is as vital as ever for all to buy Victory Bonds to the utmost of their ability.

Quisling's Surrender

Norway's Traitor Gives Himself Up to Oslo Police

LONDON, May 9 (CP)—The Norwegian News Agency said that Vidkun Quisling, Prime Minister in the German-sponsored Norwegian government, presented himself at Oslo police station today and was arrested. He was scheduled to be arraigned publicly in court some time today.

There were unconfirmed reports of minor shootings in Norway but, on the whole, the situation seemed relatively peaceful.

Because Allied authorities in Norway have been unable to collect enemy arms, many Norwegian cities and towns still see armed German soldiers strolling about the streets, watching jubilant Norwegian celebrations.

Nazi Dream Now Ended

What Has Happened to Hitler's 1000-Year Reich

Germany's dream of world conquest has come to a shattering end with the collapse of the Reich which Adolf Hitler said would endure a thousand years. Ended is the European phase of the Second Great War of the century, a war which is estimated to have cost close to $1,000,000,000,000—one trillion dollars in money, and the lives of more than 6,000,000 men.

At the start, the war looked to the world, grossly under-rating German preparations, like the throw of a mad adventurer. It turned out that the Allies snatched victory only after hairbreadth escape from defeat.

Hitler opened it with a razzle-dazzle of propaganda, secret weapons, armored spearheads, bombing a r m d a s, parachute troops, fifth columns and political sleight-of-hand which quickly established him as a sinister Barnum of war.

Before it ended, merged with the war in Asia and the Pacific by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, it had been fought on all the oceans and continents.

KING PAYS TRIBUTE TO EMPIRE IN BROADCAST "V-E DAY" SPEECH

His Majesty King George VI paid tribute to the steadfastness of the peoples of the British Commonwealth of Nations during the European war and expressed resolve to hurl down the power of the "determined and cruel" Japanese, in a "V-E Day" thanksgiving speech broadcast Tuesday.

In a firm voice, the Empire's leader, speaking from London, requested that the observation of "V-E Day" be a pause for thanksgiving before the resumption of the task of defeating Japan and continuing on to consolidate a just peace.

Following is the text of His Majesty's message: "Let us give thanks to Almighty God for a great deliverance."

"Speaking from the Empire's oldest capital, battered but never for a moment daunted or dismayed, I ask you to join with me in an act of thanksgiving. "Germany, the enemy that drove all Europe into war, has been overcome. In the Far East we have yet to deal with the Japanese, a determined and evil foe. To this we shall turn with the utmost resolve and all our resources. With the dreadful shadow of war removed from our hearths and homes in these islands, let us make a pause for thanksgiving and then turn ourselves to the tasks that a world at peace brings with it. "Let us remember those who will not come back, their constancy and courage in battle, their endurance in the face of a merciless enemy. Let us remember the men and women in all the services who laid down their lives. We have come to the end of our tribulations and they are not with us in the hour of our rejoicing. "Let us salute with proud gratitude the great host of the living who have brought us to victory. Armed or unarmed, men and women, you have fought, striven and endured to your utmost. No one knows that more than I do and with a full heart I thank those who bore arms on land and sea and in the air, and all civilians who shouldered their burdens and carried them without complaint. "Let us think of what upheld us in nearly six years of suffering and peril when everything was at stake—our freedom, our independence, our

GOERING, KESSELING TAKEN INTO CUSTODY BY UNITED STATES ARMY

PARIS, May 9 (CP)—Reichmarshal Hermann Goering and Field Marshal Albert Kesselring have been taken into custody of the United States Army.

National Broadcasting company correspondent Stanley Richardson said that Goering told his captors that he had been sentenced to death by Hitler but has escaped and had been in the area of his capture since last March.

The army announcement quoted Goering as saying that he had been sentenced to death on April 2 for suggesting that he take over leadership of the Reich from Hitler.

"V-E" News Swamps Telephone Exchange

With the announcement of Germany's surrender Monday morning there was a popular rush to the telephone with the result that the local telephone exchange was swamped with more calls than the operators could handle. The situation resulted in telephone superintendent Sam Massey issuing an appeal that subscribers refrain from using their telephones for any but essential calls.

LONDON (P)—Education minister R. A. Butler said 6,000 applications have been received from persons wishing to enroll for the British government's emergency teacher-training course.

OXFORD, Eng., (P)—In three years 10 percent of the elms in Oxford University parks have been destroyed by Dutch Elm disease for which there is no known cure.

Outlaw Resistance Still Going On In Czechoslovakia—Garrisons In Channel Ports Surrender

BERLIN, May 9 (CP)—The final act of military surrender of all Germany's armed forces to the Allied and the Red Army High Command took place in the Berlin suburb of Karlshorst today. The recognized heads of the Nazi army, naval and air force acknowledged themselves as militarily beaten to their knees.

Post-war Problems Here . . .

With the fighting over in Europe and indications that a general demobilization of Canadian forces will very soon be under way, the problems of post-war rehabilitation are falling suddenly and fully upon us. It is the eleventh hour for planning on how we are to receive our thousands of homecoming heroes and how we are to provide for them. The situation which is about to arise is one that will directly affect us all. It will be a situation in the meeting of which we will all have to assume a share of responsibility and in which we will all have to be ready to give and take.

Happily, our authorities have already formulated some definite plans. In the execution of those plans, we will have to be prepared to fall willingly in line and co-operate in the bringing about of the new order of peace—co-operate as wholeheartedly and as spontaneously as we have done in war. For many the problems of peace may prove even more trying and arduous as have those of peace.

The conclusion of war, and the whole war is rapidly coming to an end, even though we still have our enemy across the Pacific to dispose of, will present conditions, particularly of the economic and social type, that will be as difficult as the conditions imposed by war.

It will be few people for whom war's end will not mean a readjustment in the various ways of living. The gearing down from the habits and ways that some have acquired as a result of the war many necessitate some drastic changes.

As we celebrate our victories, we might well be sobered by the thought that there may still be difficult days ahead.

TEEN AGE CLUB

Editor, Daily News:
Followers Today, Leaders Tomorrow—

In those four words you have the reason for the need of a club that would be in the interest of the 'teen agers.

It cannot be denied that this portion of the community is sadly lacking an organization which would not only add to their recreation but also towards the knowledge, training and experience needed by Canada's future citizens and leaders.

We all know that Canada is at this time one of the greatest countries in the world for there are more opportunities ahead of us than any other nation and we have only touched a very small part of our natural resources. To achieve the position that could be ours, that is "The Greatest Country in the World," we must have good leaders.

These leaders will come from the group we now refer to as "the teen agers."

As yet, there has been very little done in this community for the development of future leadership but there is now a movement under way called "The Prince Rupert Teen Age Club" that has taken a step in this direction. Not only would this organization be of help in developing future leaders but it would also assist in keeping our young people off the streets by providing for them recreational facilities that would be to the liking of all.

Ladies and gentlemen, some time in the near future your help will be asked to help set up this club. "Do you think it is worth it? Do you think your children's future worth it? Please think it over. I thank you."

Sgt. Clifford Nevin's Action Prevented Serious Explosion

The Soldier's Medal has been awarded to Sgt. Clifford W. Nevin of the 654th Port Company, a unit which recently left Prince Rupert Sub-Port of Embarkation, for his actions in extinguishing a fire in a car of high explosive ammunition.

The official citation reads in part: "At Prince Rupert, B.C., Canada, on January 9, 1945, a fire broke out in a railway car containing 105-mm ammunition. The burning of the propelling charge of one round caused an explosion resulting in the fire spreading from the container to the wooden lining of the car. There was imminent danger of more violent explosions. Sgt. Nevin's first reaction was to evacuate all personnel from the car. With full realization of danger, he re-entered the car and, with a portable fire extinguisher, fought the flames until more effective fire-fighting equipment was brought to the scene and the fire extinguished."

Prince Rupert and War— PORT TRANSFORMED BY EFFECTS OF CONFLICT; NARROW ESCAPE FROM BEING TARGET OF ATTACK ITSELF

Sent Men, Built Ships, Handled Sinews of War, Produced Materials, Bought Bonds

Prince Rupert felt the full impact of the war except in the actual physical sense of conflict and, back in 1942 as the Japanese essayed their westward campaign and actually effected their landings on the North American continent, it doubtless had a narrow escape from being the target of attack.

But if Prince Rupert did actually escape the physical aspects of the war, it nonetheless felt its full effects in a degree comparable with that experienced by any military or industrial centre having to do with the prosecution of the conflict.

Prince Rupert, when war broke out in 1939, was a struggling fishing port of a little more than 6000. War developed it into a bustling fortress of important naval, military and air force establishments hurriedly organized as only could be done in the case of an emergency.

The Battle of the Oceans resulted in full utilization of the Prince Rupert shipyard and dry dock, increasing its payroll from a retaining skeleton crew of fifty or sixty men to a force of 2000 or more at its peak.

The war in the Pacific speeded port development to make Prince Rupert a point of embarkation for huge quantities of men and materials to Alaska and destinations beyond as the United States girded itself first in the defensive and then in the offensive for the still unfinished war against Japan.

War had its effect also in bringing into an unprecedented measure of production the fisheries and timber resources of the district.

At one time war gave Prince Rupert a congested population of 25,000, taxing its every facility of service and living and trying the patience and capacity of all those having to do there-with.

In short war transformed Prince Rupert. Of course, one of the most notable developments of war for Prince Rupert was the construction of the highway along the Skeena River to connect the city and the coast with the rest of the world, thereby supplementing the transportation facilities afforded by a hard-taxed railway line.

A great industrial achievement by Prince Rupert for the war was that of its shipyard which constructed four minesweepers and thirteen freighters of 10,000 tons. The 20,000-ton floating drydock has handled 815 ships and repairs have been effected on 2,280 floating craft of all sizes.

Prince Rupert Made Full Contribution also made its contribution.

Prince Rupert's greatest contribution was the 641 men and women it sent to the services—168 to navy, 353 to army and 100 to air force. The supreme sacrifice was made by sixteen of these.

Prince Rupert, while giving of its sons to the actual fighting and its efforts in the various phases of war effort, did not hesitate to give its financial backing. Five thousand individuals purchased Victory Bonds in excess of $10,000,000. Its people gave generously to all war causes.

As "V-E Day" was observed Prince Rupert would look back upon a worthy effort in war thus far and anticipate its competence and capacity to see the rest of the conflict through.

Churchill's Frankness

Disaster made Winston Churchill prime minister—the disaster of the collapse in France and the retreat through Dunkerque—and Churchill rode the wave of disaster on a surfboard made of courage, frankness, noble purpose, shrewd strategy and succession of pungent phrases and masterful expositions that kindled the imaginations of the world's free peoples.

"I have nothing to offer but blood and toil, tears and sweat." So said Churchill in the House of Commons the day he became prime minister—May 11, 1940. The words swept the world and the world suddenly was aware that something very important had happened in London when Chamberlain resigned and Mr.

Churchill formed a cabinet. But Churchill had more than blood, toil, tears and sweat to offer. He had a policy and an aim. "You ask what is our policy? I will say, it is to wage war, by sea, land and air, with all our might and with the strength that God can give us, and to wage war against a monstrous tyranny never surpassed in the dark, lamentable catalogue of human crime. That is our policy."

"You ask what is our aim? I can answer in one word. It is victory—victory at all cost, victory in spite of all terrors, victory, however hard and long the road may be, for without victory there is no survival—let that be realized—no survival for the British Empire, no survival for all that the British Empire has stood for, no survival for the urge and impulse of the ages, that mankind will move forward toward its goal."

FRIENDSHIP GROWS ON FERTILE GROUND

The friendship between the British Commonwealth and the United States began generations ago, when courageous pioneers from England first tilled the soil of the New World. This friendship has endured through the years.

Today England and America must remain together for the benefit of world security. Bound by close ties to the historic soil of both nations, we of Canada can help in many ways the growth of this great partnership. Long the friend of both, we can interpret one to the other... foster the mutual understanding that is deep-rooted in the past.

We as individuals... and as a nation... are proud of our privilege to further the comradeship between John Bull and Uncle Sam.

300 years ago Calvert said:
 "I came to sow... to build"

FAR back in the 17th Century, Calvert, a famous statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, was one of the earliest pioneers to plant a seed of friendship between the Old World and the New.

In 1622 Calvert founded a colony in Newfoundland and, a few years later, a colony in Maryland. In a letter to his King he wrote, "I came to build, to set, to sow...". The seeds of friendship between Britain and the United States, sown by Calvert over 300 years ago, have grown and flourished through the ages.

This mutual understanding, fostered three centuries ago by Calvert, thrives mightily today in the combined operations of Britain, America and Canada on the war fronts and at home. That great partnership must and shall endure in the peace that lies ahead.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE FOR ALLIED VICTORY

Thanksgiving for Allied victory in Europe was given formal and sincere expression by more than 1,000 citizens of Prince Rupert at 2:30 Monday afternoon at a community service sponsored by the Ministerial Association and the city.

Held in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. Red Triangle centre, the service was led by members of the Ministerial Association. Mayor H. M. Daggett made a brief opening speech in which he adjured Canadians to remember that there is still another fog in the Pacific to be defeated.

"It means that we here in Canada should see that the Eighth Victory Loan is oversubscribed. On behalf of the Victory Loan committee I urge that you do all you can to accomplish this."

Mayor Daggett recalled the dark days of 1940, "when there was not even a glimmer of light for the future," yet there were still those who had faith that the cause of justice would triumph.

"Today it is fitting that we should humbly give thanks for the great leaders who gave their strength during the trying years," the Mayor said. "This is not a time for rejoicing and merriment, as we still have another foe to conquer. But we can give thanks for victory in Europe and pray that victory in the Pacific may not be long delayed and that lasting peace may be soon established on the earth."

The 45-minute thanksgiving service was led by Very Rev. J. E. Gibson, president of the Ministerial Association, and was begun with a call to worship:

"Oh give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy endureth forever."

Scriptural reading by Rev. Magnus B. Anderson was from the book of Micah: "They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks. Nations shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

The band of the Prince Rupert Regiment (M.G.) accompanied the singing of hymns and massed choirs of city churches sang the anthems "Rejoice Today With One Accord" and "Te Deum." Peter Lien directed both the band and the choir.

Prayers were delivered by Padre Rowlands, A.U.S., Rev. J. A. Donnell, Adj. P. L. Gorrie, Rev. J. Linney, Rev. W. W. Silverthorn, and Rev. E. W. Scott.

LOCAL GIRL IS PRETTY BRIDE

A pretty wedding took place last Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Nickerson, 1714 Atlin Ave., when their daughter, Marie Virginia, became the bride of Sgm. John James Graham, only son of Mr. John J. Graham and the late Sarah Graham of 343 Cumberland Ave. Hamilton.

To the strains of the "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin," the bride entered the room on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white lace and net with a sweetheart neckline and finger tip sleeves. Her halo veil was floor length and she carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride was attended by Miss Alice Barbe who wore a dress of blue net and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Kay Dafeo, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and wore a dress of rose crepe and carried a bouquet of blue iris.

Sgt. Eric Janes and Sgm. Dan McLean were groomsmen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. W. Scott, rector of St. Peter's Anglican Church, under an archway beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers centred with a white wedding bell.

Mr. Scott proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

During the signing of the register L/Cpl. Wallace sang "I Love You Truly."

After some 40 friends and relatives had extended their congratulations and best wishes, the bride and groom cut their three-tiered wedding cake. At the reception which followed, a buffet supper was served.

The happy couple left on the evening train for a honeymoon in the east where they will visit the groom's family. The bride's going-away suit was powder

Sgt. Darrow Gomez of Prince Rupert who has been fighting in Germany with a Canadian anti-tank unit. Born and brought up in Prince Rupert, Sgt. Gomez will probably soon see his home town. "The faster this is over the more of us will see Canada again," he once wrote to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gomez.

blue with matching accessories and a corsage of orchids.

The bride was born and lived all her life in Prince Rupert. The groom is a member of the Royal Canadian Signals and has been stationed here for the past three years. After their honeymoon he will report for overseas duties.

Doctor Becomes Newsboy Again

When the editor of the Daily News called at the Prince Rupert General Hospital Monday with a bundle of V-E Day special papers for the patients he was met by Dr. W. S. Kergin who interestingly recalled that on Armistice Day, November 11, 1918, he was a Daily News selling boy and that day disposed of 256 copies of our paper single-handed. Then "Bill" whisked off along the hospital corridor to hand out papers to the patients and again became an Armistice Day newsboy.

The hospital patients read the great news avidly and even the nurses, rush hour with a capacity house of patients notwithstanding, took a few minutes out to note and rejoice in the glad tidings.

Branishing butcher knife, paring knife and a pair of scissors, a young woman, creating a disturbance in the vicinity of Conrad Street School, was picked up by the police last week. She was obviously in a state of mental stress and is being held for possible committal to asylum.

very existence as a people. Our causes was not this nation's only, not this Empire's and this Commonwealth's only but that of every land where freedom is cherished and where law and liberty go hand in hand. In our darkest hours we knew that the oppressed people of Europe looked to us. Their hopes were our hopes. Their confidence confirms our faith.

"They knew that if we failed, the last barriers against world wide tyranny would have fallen in ruins. But we did not fail. We kept faith with ourselves and one another and unity with our great allies, which carried us to victory through dangers which seemed at times so overwhelming.

"So let us resolve to bring to the tasks which lie ahead the same confidence in our mission. Much hard work awaits us both in the restoration of our own country and in helping to bring peace and sanity to a shattered world. This comes at a time when we have given of our best, after heart and brain, nerve and muscle are directed at the overthrow of Nazi tyranny. Now we turn, fortified by our success to deal with the last remaining foe.

"The days of darkness and danger for our children are over, please God, forever. We shall have failed those who died and their blood will have flown in vain if the struggle does not lead to a lasting peace founded on justice and goodwill.

"Then let us take up our work again and resolve as a people to do nothing unworthy of those who died to make such a world as they would have desired for their children and ours. This is the task to which honor now binds us.

BENEFITS OF CONVENTION ARE REALIZED IN PRINCE GEORGE

Old Prejudices Removed — Local Delegates Interested In Music Festival — See New Homes

PRINCE GEORGE, May 9, (Special to Daily News)—Beneficial effect of the reviving of the annual conventions of the Associated Boards of Trade of Northern British Columbia is already being felt in Prince George.

Business men from this community who attended the Vanderhoof convention were pleased with the spirit of good fellowship that permeated the entire proceedings and the understanding each delegate had for the others.

Enthusiasm of Prince Rupert delegates for the laying of plans toward a North and Central B.C. prosperity program did much toward making the convention a success.

Prince George business men are hopeful that out of the Vanderhoof gathering will come a strong enough force to shatter for all time the walls of provincialism that have existed between communities along the C.N.R. line—walls of mistrust and jealousy that have tended to retard development and greater prosperity for the entire country.

The largest drama and music festival in the province, with some 600 competitors, was held Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Prince George. Standard of talent shown by the school children and adults brought praise from Major L. Bullock Webster, Victoria, Department of Education, Adjudicator of the Drama, and Mrs. Florence Gunn, Victoria, who judged the music section, praised the first annual drama and music festival to be held in Prince George.

Prince Rupert delegates to Vanderhoof convention, who paid a side call to Prince George after the session Friday evening, found themselves dwelling on possibility of Prince Rupert having such a festival in the future.

A number of small but attractive homes built in Prince George under the National Housing program were especially interesting to Prince Rupert, warmed by the assurance that the federal program would be extended to benefit the sunset port city.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan H. Hill-Tout announce the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis Josephine, to Warrant Engineer John Francis Cloke, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cloke, Oak Bay, Victoria, B.C. The wedding will take place on May 17, at Prince Rupert.

IN MEMORIAM

LEE—In beloved memory of Mrs. Charlie Hew Lee, who passed away on May 9, 1943. There is no time that we could set For parting. We who must remain Are never ready for such pain. Even our prayer would be: "Not Yet!

Not yet, dear God—another day With us let our beloved stay." We must believe, when falls the blow That wisely God has willed it so. —Ever sadly missed by her loving husband, Kam, June and Margaret.

the half holiday, Mayor H. M. Daggett announced that the regular meeting of City Council to be held Monday night, had been cancelled, and would be held later this week.

The Prince Rupert Ministerial Association met at 10 o'clock in the morning to lay plans for the observance of the Allied victory. Initial feature was a community service of thanksgiving, held in the YMCA Red Triangle centre at 2:30 in the afternoon when Very Rev. J. B. Gibson, president, and other clergymen led a service attended by hundreds.

Yesterday morning the Canadian armed services had laid no plans for celebrating the day, but were waiting orders concerning its observance.

"Waiting very impatiently," one officer said. "There is a great deal of happiness in the army."
