A Re-Innovation . . .

Believing it fitting that more emphasis should be placed on things spiritual and idealistic at this time when there is certainly no tendency but to accentuate the material and realistic, the Daily News has considered it appropriate to arrange with the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association for its members to furnish us with a weekly sermon for our editorial page. The Association has accepted the invitation and the first appears today. We trust it and the sermons to follow each Saturday will be acceptable and helpful and that they will be read in the same spirit in which they are published. Only the thought that too little attention is being paid to matters religious and spiritual and that there is a real need along these lines has actuated us in the re-innovation of this feature.

Unhealthy Lack of Interest . . .

The calendar has turned to the month of December which reminds us that the annual civic election is now less than two weeks off. But for the casual announcements of a few candidates, no one would know that such an important event was in the offing.

When the war was on, we excused ourselves for lack of interest in local politics but, oddly enough. there appears now to be even less interest than in the war years. It may be in keeping with a state of lethargy which seems to have permeated almost all public affairs in Prince Rupert of late but it is nevertheless deplorable and certainly an unhealthy sign that there should be such an utter lack of interest mani-

There is no need to fight among ourselves on questions of civic policy but we should have at least enough interest to discuss local matters along constructive lines.

Terrace Hospital Need . . .

The good people of Terrace are to be sympathized in the plight in which their up and coming community, centre of an unprecedented industrial activity at the present time, finds itself for lack of hospital facilities. Hundreds of men are being employed in the hazardous sawmilling and logging industries in the immediate neighborhood of the town. The farming areas are commanding a renewed interest and there may be expected to be very soon a considerable augmentation of the existing agricultural population. Terrace, in fact, has grown materially, is continuing to do so and there is little to indicate it will fall back.

Yet this substantial community has its nearest hospital facilities almost 100 miles distant—at Prince Rupert to the west and not quite that distance at Hazelton on the

The situation was accentuated only two or three weeks ago when the town was completely isolated for a few days with the blocking of both railway and highway.

The people of Terrace feel that, if some policy was adopted for use of the now vacant military hospital property there as a national or provincial institution, they would be able to tie in with a local hospitalization scheme of their own.

Any efforts and representations they make along this line should certainly be entitled to serious consideration and every possible sup-

Saturday Sermon THE LIGHT THAT DID NOT FAIL

By REV. A. F. MacSWEEN First Presbyterian Church

"Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. —I Peter 2:9.

The month of June, 1940, brought brilliant sunshine and rich growth to Canada. It was the season for joy and great expectations. But instead, anxiety and an air of grim foreboding hung heavily over the whole land. The Germans had broken through at Sedan. The Maginot Line was broken. The Belgians had quit without warning. their voices the words of Luover Europe." ther's hymn: This phrase stated exactly what was happening. For this was no mere adjustment of geographic boundaries long in dispute but a process that touched every department of life and threatened the whole structure. The press and education were speedily shackled to the will of the Nazi propaganda ministry. Fraternal organizations, service clubs and labor unions and associations were obliged to disband. Their hard won rights swept away before the onrush of this develish doctrine. The lights of civilization were indeed going out. It had been popular in the years before these things to describe the church as "the light that failed." It was everywhere assumed that the church had completely fallen away from any worthwhile significance and that the remaining body had merely to be decently disposed of. There was, of course, a measure of truth in this argument, for churches everywhere were lacking in cohesion, even in the local parishes, and altogether lacking in any sense of real fellowship. They were indeed "sick churches" in comparison with what they should be according to the New

. Testament. But now, in this critical moment of history, when all the other institutions of civilized life were disappearing like flickering lights this almost forgotten body of men and women moved and united by a faith which the world had seen fit to despise and mock arose to resist the aggressor in a manner that thrills the imagination. The church was no longer dumb, for now, when all other voices were stilled, it spoke with a united voice

Two men, Peter and John, were hailed before the authorities of their day, charged with preaching the Gospel of Christ and thereby causing embarrasment to those authorities and were ordered to stop their teaching. Far away in Greece, so different in customs and traditional religious forms from these lands, the same resistance arose. The beloved Damaskinos, now the regent, went to the German gauleiter and pointed out that the death of many of the men then held as hostages would mean great suffering and hardship for scores of families dependent upon them. Since he and his priests were free from such responsibilities they had come to take the place of the hostages. The Germans were completely flabbergasted. LONDON, Dec. 1 (9-If you have an old pool table you aren't using maybe you can whip it up into an evening gown. At least it would be fashionable in London where a Mayfair cress show displayed suits and evening dresses of cloth from a billiard table. As one fashion writer explainen: "Billiard cloth lends itself to graceful drapery, illustrated in an evening dress, the long skirt of which is draped in front and is worn with a black rayon chiffon blouse and a short close fitting bolero."
