Brigadier Robert A. Wyman, C.N.R. Industrial Agent, Enthusiastic About Prospects—Making Reconnaissance

Impressed with the potential importance of the well-developed port of Prince Rupert and the great potentialities of the central interior and the whole northern part of British Columbia in relation to his newly-assigned task of bringing together interests which seek new industrial opportunities and sites on which to establish them, Brigadier Robert A. Wyman, recently appointed industrial agent of Canadian National Railways for British Columbia with headquarters in Vancouver, is paying his first visit to Prince Rupert today.

This morning, in company with W. T. Moodie, general superintendent for Canadian National Railways, who is with him, Brigadier Wyman spent the morning making a preliminary reconnaissance of the port facilities. This afternoon he is meeting with the council of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other interested local bodies with a view to obtaining their assistance and enlisting their support in his efforts to more fully develop the Jasper-Prince Rupert railway line from an industrial standpoint.

Terrace Confession—RAIL OF FEAR AND ANGUISH LEADS TO STATEMENT SOLVING OLD CRIME

Seventeen years of fear and anguish which caused him to wander from place to place across Canada, shaken by the pangs of his conscience and ever apprehensive of justice overtaking him, led 34-year-old Emil Joseph Gauthier to surrender himself to the provincial police at Terrace on the morning of October 9, 1945, and confess to participation in the iron bar murder and robbery of Mike Pilawski near Saskatoon on the very date in 1928. Gauthier's confession has since led to the arrest at Vancouver of Albert Goulet and now the confession of Goulet and now the confession of Gauthier since the confession can be told. Gauthier and Goulet are now in the provincial jail at Prince Albert awaiting trial on a charge of murder, having been taken from British Columbia to Saskatchewan by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Gauthier's confession to Cpl. D. Brunton and Constable W. Richmond of Terrace, by an enough coincidence, came years to the day after the revelation of the long unexplained mystery of the killing. Up to the time of the revelation, the police authorities of Saskatchewan had had nothing but cold trails. The only clue which ever had been that Pilawski had been seen shortly before he was slain in the company of two strange men. His body was found alongside a highway tracks, it had been thought that he had been killed by a train although an autopsy later showed that his death had been the result of a blow struck several times over the head with a blunt instrument. Further than that investigators never got until Gauthier's breaking down at 11:30 p.m. on the morning of October 9 led to the police officers at Terrace led to what appears to be the solution of the mystery.

United States Wants to Know What Russians Are Doing in Iran

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (CP)—The United States is reported to have sent a message to Moscow asking for information on the operations of the Soviet troops in northern Iran. Washington is said to have asked the Russians whether they denied the Iranian government at Teheran, the right to send reinforcements to their troops in the revolt area in Azerbaijan Province. United States would withdraw all Allied forces from Iran.

Meantime, according to informed Moscow sources, Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov and the Iranian ambassador have conferred fully on the situation in the Russian-occupied northern Iranian province.

TYPICAL SHIPS OF CANADA'S POST-WAR NAVY

While complete details of the actual numbers and names of the warships in Canada's peace-time navy have not been announced, it has been made clear that a solid core of cruisers, aircraft carriers and modern destroyers will be maintained. To supplement these swift, up-to-the-minute vessels, other smaller warships, notably frigates and Albatrosses, will be held in reserve. The frigate, with its great range, adequate speed and seaworthiness, is particularly useful for ocean escort duty, while the Albatross is a dual purpose ship, adaptable to coastal work or minesweeping. Upper Left—Canada has in commission two six-inch gun cruisers—swift, well armed ships, capable of handling any merchant raider likely to appear on the oceans of the world, of giving heavy punishment to shore installations and, what is of immediate importance, providing "big ship" training for naval personnel. Pictured is Canada's first cruiser, H.M.C.S. Uganda. Lower Left—The aircraft carrier is essentially a naval device for increasing the range and speed at which the battle can be carried to the enemy. The Royal Canadian Navy is to have two light Fleet class carriers, carrying aircraft manned by Canadian naval pilots, gunners and observers. Upper Right—The Canadian navy is retaining its newest destroyers and adding to their number. The destroyer has great speed and cruising range and carries a variety of deadly weapons—depth charges, torpedoes, anti-aircraft armament, etc.—not usually gathered together in one ship. The picture is of the Tribal class destroyer H.M.C.S. Micmac, first Canadian-built destroyer. Centre Right—The frigate was a comparative newcomer to the Canadian fleet and embodied every proven idea for anti-U-boat warfare. Approaching the destroyer in size, the frigate has the necessary endurance for mid-ocean escort and striking force duties. The photograph is of H.M.C.S. Orkney. Lower Right—The Algerine dual-purpose escort-minesweeper was the largest warship which could pass through the locks of the St. Lawrence canal system and large numbers of this type of vessel were built in Great Lakes shipyards for the British and Canadian navies. Their moderate draft makes them useful for coastal patrol, coastal escort duties, or minesweeping. H.M.C.S. Sault Ste. Marie is shown here.

Lost Lives As Bus Went Off Road Into Lake Near Wenatchee, Washington

WENATCHEE, Wash., Nov. 26—Between fifteen and twenty children and the driver were drowned in a lake at First Creek near here this morning when a school bus skidded after striking a rock on the highway and plunged over an embankment into the lake. Seven children and one adult escaped through a window, the adult, a woman, pushing the children through before she made her own getaway.

The children ranged from grade to high school age. One family lost three children. The driver of the bus also lost his life.

The vehicle had not been located up to noon but police were grappling for it.

Send $788 to Windsor Strikers

A contribution of $788 was sent by the local Ford strike committee at the week-end to Windsor to assist the striking automobile workers at the Ford plant there. R. H. Adcock, committee secretary, said Sunday. The money was collected in a house-to-house drive coupled with union members' pledges to give one day's pay to the strike fund.

Mr. Adcock said that more individual contributions are expected and will be sent to Windsor. The drive will continue all this week.

In addition to individual contributions, labor unions in Prince Rupert have sent their donations directly to Windsor. It is estimated that about $1,100 has been sent from this city. Response met by the canvassers has been good, Mr. Adcock said.

FIVE PEOPLE CLING TO CAPSIZED LIFEBOAT FOR 2 HOURS IN HARBOR

THREE MEN AND TWO BOYS RESCUED BY 70-YEAR-OLD COUPLE LEFT IN GAS BOAT

Five people, two of them young boys, narrowly escaped tragedy late Sunday afternoon when, almost at the point of exhaustion, they were rescued from the cold waters of Prince Rupert harbor after clutching the sides of a capsized rowboat for more than two hours while other members of the party—a 70-year-old couple—tried frantically to start the engine of a gas boat to make the rescue off the mouth of McNicholl Creek.

Rescued after their rowboat overturned while they were returning to the gasboat Audrey W. from a crab catching expedition to McNicholl Creek were Gil Mason and his 10-year-old son Derrick, Robert Langille, Cpl. George Baker, overseas veteran, and Donny Jordan, age 11. The accident occurred at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Handicapped by gumboots, slickers and heavy clothing, the five clung to the capsized rowboat while 72-year-old Fred Joyce remained on the Audrey W. with Mrs. Joyce and tried to start the gasboat engine. Inexperienced with marine engines, Mr. Joyce was unable to get the Audrey W. moving until two hours after the rowboat had overturned.

He was guided to the drifting rowboat with its exhausted victims by their cries in the darkness. All admitted that they would not have been able to hang on much longer.

The rowboat capsized when a sudden squall raised high waves. The two boys disappeared when the boat upset. Mr. Langille and Cpl. Baker dove into the dark water repeatedly before they were able to find the two boys and bring them to the surface.

Normal School In Northern British Columbia Is Advised

Cameron Report on Educational Costs Released—Would Relieve Municipalities—Lower Minimum Salaries Urged

VICTORIA, Nov. 26—The Cameron report on educational costs, made public today, recommended that a normal school be established in Northern British Columbia.

VICTORIA, Nov. 26 (CP)—The government's share of educational costs should be increased, teachers' minimum salaries should be cut and larger school districts should be established, it is recommended in the Cameron report on education which was released today.

Premier John Hart had indicated his coalition government would put into effect the recommendations made in the report by Prof. Maxwell A. Cameron of the University of British Columbia, who held public inquiries throughout the province last winter and last spring.

Dr. Cameron, professor in the faculty of education at the University of British Columbia, suggested that educational facilities throughout the province be equalized by the province increasing from 82 to 55 per cent its share of the cost and that land owners pay a uniform rate of five mills for education in all municipalities.

The report also suggests that the government pay half of the cost of all new school buildings and of all "special services," such as transportation, which have the object of placing schooling within reach of pupils geographically isolated.

Regarding teachers' minimum salaries, Dr. Cameron recommends the present $1100, $1400 and $1500 scales for elementary, junior and senior schools be respectively reduced to $1,000, $1,200 and $1,300.

Recommending larger school districts, Dr. Cameron suggested that the province be divided into 74 areas and said that careful consideration should be given to the proposal that community

NEWLY BACK FROM JAPAN

Former United States Army Officer Is Revisiting Prince Rupert

Recently returned from the occupation of Japan where he served with the 37th Port Company with which he was stationed in Prince Rupert for two years, Warrant Officer George Glay is revisiting here for the day. Son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Glay, formerly of Prince Rupert and now of Kamloops, Warrant Officer Glay, who has just been discharged from the American Army, arrived on last night's train from Kamloops and will be returning here this evening. His future plans have not yet been decided on but he expects to take up residence in the United States.

Warrant Officer Glay left San Francisco in March 1945 for the Far East after having been in Prince Rupert from September 1942 to September 1944. He was in Dutch New Guinea from March to June 1945 and from there went to Cebu in the Philippines where he spent from June 18 to August 8. He landed at Yokohama September 5 after the surrender of Japan and lived in the Mitsubishi shipyards there. He left the Orient last month and returned to San Francisco on a Liberty ship.

Being with the Transportation corps, Glay says he saw no action. After the surrender the Japanese were very co-operative, he commented.

PALESTINE SITUATION

ROAD OPEN THIS WEEK

A provincial department of public works crew led by Jeff Lambly of Terrace was expected today to clear up a big slide near Amsbury which has been blocking the Skeena River Highway since November 2 and then plough throw a foot or so of snow to Shames River where the bridge was damaged by flood water and requires repairs. Just what in the way of road damage awaits repairs between Shames and Kwinitsa is not definitely ascertained but on it will depend on how long it will take the crews working from Terrace on the one end and Prince Rupert on the other to get the highway reopened and its use between Prince Rupert and Terrace restored. This may be within the coming week, it is hoped.

Meantime, the road was to be reopened today from the east into Terrace following over three weeks of blockade with slides and washouts between Hazelton and Usk.

Forest Conscious . . .

B. C. may expect revolutionary changes in its forest management in the next 12 months, says the Vancouver News-Herald.

Lands and Forests Minister Kenney, who is showing himself a first-class administrator of a heavy department of government, has given a hint that the cabinet is quite prepared to make compulsory reforestation the law of the province next year—with the approval of the Legislature, of course.

The minister, who has made a thorough study of the forest situation, believes this is the only way of preserving our forest wealth for future generations. He believes it is the government's duty to see today that there will be enough lumber in our woods in a century from now.

Mr. Kenney most certainly has public opinion behind him in this. British Columbians have become extremely forest-conscious in the last decade. It might be said they are allergic to the logger's axe. Nothing, it seems, make the public so hopping mad as a hillside completely laid waste by logging or fire—the latter mostly caused by the irate public itself.

If compulsory reforestation becomes law it will be extra expense for the logging companies. We believe most of them are public spirited enough to accept such a law for the good of all.

The MacMillan interests—sometimes much criticized by the public, almost as if they were Public Enemy No. 1—has given a lead in reforestation. MacMillan has accepted seedlings from government nurseries and planted great bare areas on Vancouver Island. Other logging companies could do the same now, but none has shown any interest. If the MacMillan example was followed, many devastated acres would now be sprouting new forests.

A. R. P. APPRECIATION

Editor, Daily News:
The final issue of "The Siren," official organ of the Advisory Council, Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, has been published. It contains letters of appreciation from Hon. John Hart, Premier of B.C., Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, General Alex. Ross, director of Civil Air Raid Precautions, Department of Pensions and National Health, all addressed to W. C. Mainwaring, chairman, advisory council, Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, Vancouver. There are also letters from S. F. M. Moodie, inspector, and W. C. Mainwaring, addressed to all civil defence volunteers of the province.

The keynote of all letters is the acknowledgment of the willing, unselfish service offered by all who were members of the Civil Protection Committee, originally known as A.R.P. Incidentally it is pointed out that there will always be need for fire protection, first aid and other services that the members offered so willingly.

I wish to pass on to all wardens and particularly the district wardens who organized the groups my personal appreciation of the good job they did. As an example of unselfish community service the record stands unsurfearful, Gauthier said, "I would get it next if I did not hit the man."

After the killing of Pilawski, Gauthier and Goulet continued their wanderings over the prairies to Lethbridge and Moose Jaw where Goulet gave Gauthier some money. It was at Moose Jaw that they learned from the newspapers of the finding of Pilawski's body. They went to the Rocky Mountains where Goulet gave Gauthier $20. Back to Ontario and Manitoba Gauthier went after parting company with Goulet. Gauthier spent ten days in jail at Winnipeg on one occasion for drunkenness.

The next year Gauthier was back in his home town of Fort Saskatchewan where a man he believed to be Goulet called for him while he was not in. Later they met in Fort Saskatchewan. Goulet wanted Gauthier to go with him again but the latter refused. The crime was mentioned and Goulet said there was nothing to worry about. In 1930 and 1931 they met again in Calgary and once more the "crime" was mentioned. Gauthier said he never saw Goulet after that.

With the killing ever preying on his mind, Gauthier travelled from place to place during the subsequent years, never staying at one place any length of time although in June 1940 he was married to a girl named Jean Pearl Bouchard at Cavers, Ontario, by whom he had two children. They separated in 1944 and Gauthier left that part of the country.

Eventually Gauthier's peregrinations led him to British Columbia and just before coming to Terrace to take employment in a logging camp he had been employed for a time on the waterfront at Prince Rupert. He had also been on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Gauthier remained in custody with the provincial police at Terrace for ten days until he was removed by Staff Sergeant G. H. Johnson, provincial police, Prince Rupert, and Detective Sergeant J. A. Mesdajh, R.C.M.P. of Saskatoon. The latter took him on to Prince Albert.

Meanwhile Goulet, a veteran of World War I, was tracked down and arrested in Vancouver and is also now at Prince Albert.

IS HONORED FOR PUBLICITY WORK

In appreciation of the wide and favorable publicity given to Prince Rupert through his instrumentalities, Sgt. Ralph M. Browne, formerly with United States Army Public Relations office here, was presented with a stamped leather brief case by Mayor H. M. Daggett at a ceremony in the city hall at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mayor Daggett made the presentation on behalf of the Prince Rupert Public Relations Council.

Feature stories on Prince Rupert, written by Sgt. Browne, with pictures, have been published widely in magazines and newspapers throughout the continent. Mayor Daggett was warm in his praise of Sgt. Browne's efforts in making the city's facilities and attractions known both in Canada and the United States.

Sgt. Browne leaves tonight on the Princess Adelaide for Vancouver on his way to Fort Lewis Washington, for discharge from the Army. In his response to Mayor Daggett's remarks, he said that he hoped to return to Prince Rupert after his discharge. A Canadian Sgt. Browne comes from Fort William, Ontario.

Embossed on the brief case presented to Sgt. Browne was his name and "Thank You!"—Prince Rupert. A letter written

To Prevent Deadly Race . . .

A competitive race for atomic weapons would be the deadliest race in history. National security now hangs by a slender thread. Even if one nation were away ahead in atom bomb production, its cities might be pulverized in a matter of minutes.

Each nation, because of security reasons, will now go into atomic development to her greatest possible extent. One new theoretical principle, not impossibly discoverable tomorrow, might revolutionize the future of nuclear science and development.

There is only one way out of the impending international and national peril. This is a national dedication of will and energy to the goal of internationalization of atomic power. Nothing less is proper to the Atomic Age. The earliest possible announcement of this policy is imperative. The growing cleavage of the One World into Two Worlds must be speedily arrested.

If a new trend of genuine and accelerated international trust and co-operation is firmly established, the benefits to humanity of internationally co-operative work in scientific and industrial development would be incalculable. The danger from a false move is beyond imagination. But the opportunity, too, is beyond parallel. There is no time to lose.

STRONG BONDS ARE FORGED BY FRIENDSHIP

"Depend on Friendship": said Calvert 300 years ago.

CALVERT, famous English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, was one of the earliest pioneers to forge a link of friendship between the Old World and the New, far back in the 17th century. In 1622 Calvert founded a colony in Newfoundland and, a few years later, a colony in Maryland.

"Welcome all friends", said Calvert, counselling his settlers to "promote public benefit".

Through the generations Calvert's ideals have flourished, developing from outposts of friendship 300 years ago into today's great partnership between Britain and America.

Canada... Welder of Friendship

The future security of the world depends largely on continued co-operation and friendship between Britain and America. We of Canada have an important role in the preservation of that great partnership.

United States, Canada's close understanding of her mutual friends, England and America, is recognized by the world.

Bound by historic ties to both nations, Canada welds them together in common purpose, fosters a friendship that will benefit mankind.

MISS THOMPSON GIVEN SHOWER

Delightful Affair at Home of Miss Margaret Smith

Miss Dorothy Thompson, whose marriage is to take place this week, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower on Friday evening given by the girls of the Royal Bank and held at the home of Miss Margaret Smith.

Most of the evening was spent in delving into the mysteries of the ouija board.

The guest of honor was presented with a corsage of carnations and then received an umbrella. Upon opening it, she was "showered" with cards on which were cleverly written verses indicating the senders and hiding places of the various gifts.

The guests included Mesdames Lillian Smith, Edith Bowman, Helen Fureh, and the Misses Dorothy Thompson, Faith King, Alma Manseau, Iris Hanson, Florence Kerr, Alice Barbe, Norma Smith, Mary Peterson, Delphine Balagno, Irene Paulsen, Marjorie Eby and Margaret Smith.

South African News Letter— UNION PAPERS GIVE VAN ZYL MIXED WELCOME

Some South African Papers Approve, Others Attack Appointment of New Governor-General

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 26 (P)—The South African press has given a mixed reception to the appointment of G. B. Van Zyl as governor-general of South Africa. Approving the policy of appointing a South African to the post, the Johannesburg Star said that Van Zyl had a long and distinguished career which trained him for a task of high responsibility.

The Rand Daily Mail of Johannesburg said that the appointment might disappoint English-speaking people who had hoped the post would go to a member of the royal family or a great military leader. The Mail said the appointment was a sound though not a spectacular one to compare with the naming of Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander to Canada and Sir Bernard Freyburg to New Zealand. The Bloemfontein Friend said the new governor general's unspectacular career might make him a more fitting man as he is less identified with political sections.

SOUTH AFRICAN NEWS

Die Transvaler of Johannesburg, however, attacked the choice on the grounds that Van Zyl has been a strong Unionist in the past and a Smuts man. Though bearing an Afrikaans name, he is really English-speaking, said the paper.

Dr. D. F. Malan, Nationalist party leader, said the appointment was a first-class blunder as Van Zyl is a former Unionist who moved in prejudiced circles and is ignorant of the country as a whole.

The Union government will take over and operate the external telegraph and telephone services of the country in the near future, it was announced by Senator C. C. Clarkson, minister of posts and telegraphs.

The postmaster-general has informed the board of Cable and Wireless of South Africa. Limited, that the government will terminate licences held by the company as soon as it is legally possible to do so.

The South African action parallels that of the British government which has announced its intention of taking over Cable and Wireless facilities.

South Africa's manpower is sufficient to deal with the enormous task ahead, Premier Smuts said in a speech at Pretoria. He emphasized the necessity for increasing the population to do justice to future plans of the country. Both the Rand Daily Mail and the Star devoted leading editorials to the subject recently, pointing out the urgency of introducing new blood and new ideas into the Union. The papers said immigrants from Britain with the right training and occupations are most desirable and the government should encourage them to come.

Johannesburg citizens are losing between $1,350,000 and $1,800,000 yearly through burglaries alone, it was reported as South Africa's post-war crime wave continued unabated. These figures cover only normal house and store break-ins in the city and do not take into account the periodic outbreaks of crime during which organized gangs steal thousands of pounds of goods in a week.

The Rand Daily Mail reports that thousands of pounds worth of gold is being smuggled out of the Union annually, most of it going to India. Gold which brings $36.50 an ounce here can be sold on the black markets of Europe, India and Egypt for almost $45.00.

DEVELOPMENT OF PORT

News last night, Brigadier Wyman declared that he had been greatly impressed as a result of observation, so far only cursory, of the hinterland through which he had passed while coming into Prince Rupert.

Explaining that it was the first time in many years that there had been such an industrial department set-up in the railway, Brigadier Wyman stated that his duty was primarily that of liaison to act between outside interests seeking outlets for capital and natural resources and industries seeking development.

"You might be quite surprised," he said "if you knew the great number of inquiries that industrial interests and banks in New York make of our offices as to the possibility of expanding business into Canada.

"My job in British Columbia is to answer as best I can inquiries which are referred to me."

Brig. Wyman admitted that, while his jurisdiction was over all of British Columbia, he was particularly interested in this line of the railway. He saw tremendous potentialities. "It seems to me that greater density of well supported population is the prime requisite, Prince Rupert's future, I would say, depends almost wholly on the development of the hinterland with its farming, lumbering, and mining resources." In passing, he mentioned the idea of plastic plants in connection with the timber resources.

As for the port of Prince Rupert, he commented: "It is a well known fact that the United States intends to exploit the Pacific area and the Orient. Prince Rupert is certainly in an excellent position to participate in that development.

"Do not think that Prince Rupert is by any means forgotten. Everywhere much attention is being paid to your port. Vancouver people, for instance, are keenly interested in it."

It was his job, Brig. Wyman said, to obtain concrete facts to be made available to inquiring industries interested in locating in British Columbia. This data would be collected and filed so as to be in readiness at all times.

At Prince Rupert, for instance, there would be a record of local conditions particularly as to services—power, water, sewers—available for industry, details of available sites, tax rates, labor conditions. In this connection he was most anxious to obtain the assistance and co-operation of local interests.

Distinguished Army Career

Brigadier Wyman was discharged from the Canadian Army on August 6 last after a distinguished career overseas. He commanded the First Armored Brigade in Sicily and Italy from the invasion of Sicily until February 1944. Then he went back to England and was placed in command of the Second Armored Brigade, going ashore in the D-Day invasion of Normandy with his brigade of tanks of which he remained in command until the break-out south of Caen. There he was wounded August 8, 1944. "That was the end of it as far as I was concerned," the brigadier said as he pointed to his right arm in which he was hit, just recently having regained full use of it after having been in hospital for three months followed by the long period of convalescence. In October 1944 he returned to Canada.

Asked to engagements which he considered unique in his active military career, Brigadier Wyman mentioned the 6000 yard advance under cover of darkness on the right-hand side of the Caen-Falaise road during the break-through of Normandy and

"WE NEED A PLACE TO LIVE!"

"WE are living in a tourist cabin. That was all right in the summer months but now, with the approach of winter, I cannot expect my wife and little girl to live there.

"Mr. Canadian home-owner—you cannot imagine what it is like to come home from overseas and not be able to find a place to live. All we need is enough space so that we can be together during the next few months, after five years apart. In the springtime, I am sure the situation will be improved and we can get a proper home of our own."

THIS APPEAL MUST BE ANSWERED

Men who fought for Canada are seeking accommodation from one end of the Dominion to the other. The housing situation is acute due to several reasons:

1. Thousands of boys who went to war as single men are returning to civilian life, having married in Canada or abroad. Many of them have tiny children.
2. Canada's wartime families at home have sought and secured more spacious living accommodation—a great strain on the present facilities.
3. Although thousands of homes have been built during the war, the restrictions on vital materials curbed the building necessary to meet the increasing demand. Government has placed housing on top priority lists, but it will take time to catch up with the demand.

This housing appeal for veterans is only a temporary expedient until Canada gets into high gear on housing. You are only asked to rent available space for a limited period until sufficient homes are ready for occupancy.

If you have space which you can make available, list it with the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, or the local branch of the Canadian Legion; advertise it in the newspapers or list it with a real estate agent.

Inquire at the nearest Rentals Office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board about five months or less rental agreements. These are exempt from normal Wartime Prices and Trade Board non- eviction regulations, and five months tenancy will help many veterans through the winter.

LONE MALE IN WOMEN'S CLASS

Paul Quinton, 19, is Lone Male in Home Economics Course at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Nov. 26 (U)—It's not difficult to understand why 19-year old Paul Quinton finds his classes at the University of Manitoba easy on the eyes. He's one man among many women in the home economics course—the first male to brave the field here in years.

Paul, who has been with the Royal Canadian Navy for the last year, decided to take the course for business reasons.

He intends to follow in his father's dye works and cleaning establishment, and feels he should know about fabrics and dyes, especially now that synthetic materials are appearing on the market.

"This is the only place I can learn what I want," he said, "so here I am."

Paul's sense of humor has so far served him in good stead because he has come across people who think it's funny for a man to crash the field usually considered a monopoly of the fair sex.

"The dean figured it was a big joke when I told him," Paul said. "And when I first walked into class the girls laughed, so I laughed too."

He found it hard to concentrate at first. "I found the classroom rather pleasant on the eyes, if you know what I mean," he grinned. "Maybe I'll get used to it though."

MORE SHOES IN JUNE

TERRACE P. T. HOLDS DANCE

Basket Social in Orange Hall Successful Event

TERRACE, Nov. 26—A well-attended old time dance and basket social was held by the Parent-Teacher Association in the Orange Hall on Friday evening. The hall had been tastefully decorated. Music was provided by Mrs. T. Presby, Rolly Beecher and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kirkaldy. Crowning feature of the evening's program was the auctioning of the artistically decorated baskets by Mr. Beecher. Many people willingly gave their assistance in order to make the dance a success, including Mr. and Mrs. Lindberg, Mr. and Mrs. J. McLeod, Mrs. F. Frank, Mrs. Minshall, Miss James, Miss Macdonald, Mrs. S. Campbell, J. R. Reynolds, Mr. Haaland, Mrs. R. de Kergommeaux, Miss Lips.

The money raised by the Parent-Teacher Association will be used for the benefit of the Terrace schools.
