Seams of Groundhog Are Detailed In Report

The wealth of the Groundhog never has been more surveyed than by the late R. C. Campbell-Johnston whose ability and integrity as a mining engineer were widely known and respected a quarter of a century ago. His surveys of the Groundhog, made at Rhondda, Welsh coal magnate, in 1910 and 1911, revealed the most complete of any ever attempted, and his report is now in possession of his daughter, Mrs. Sadie Armytage-Moore of Vancouver.

The following summary, supplied to the Daily News by Mrs. Armytage-Moore, is one that was published in the British Columbia Magazine of October, 1913, at the time Mr. Campbell-Johnston had completed his survey. The article is re-published in complete form, in three installments, because the editor of the Daily News believes the information contained in it is of vital interest to the development of central British Columbia—indeed, of the province as a whole. This is the third and final installment.

It is now opportune to speak of the sizes of the seams found and already developed in the Groundhog field. The writer had special charge of the survey work on Biernes Creek on behalf of the Columbia Anthracite Syndicate, who are the people, among the most active being Messrs. J. G. Scott, and his colleagues.

Analysis of Lehigh coal, in various sizes for market (and the smaller the greater the ash) is a matter to be noted. There can now be no doubt that the coal is of the highest quality. The reasons given in this article concerning the Groundhog smokeless, hard coal will play a most important part in the world's coal market. The coal is fully analyzed by carefully conducted tests and evidence.

On a daily output of 5,000 tons a yearly profit of over $3,000,000 can be demonstrated, which is equal to ten per cent profit on a capital on paper of $30,000,000, or twenty per cent on a sum of $15,000,000.

Communist Party is Outlawed In Big South American Republic
RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP)—The Brazilian government cracked down hard on the Communist party yesterday with the federal police and troops padlocking 445 Communist clubs or cells to enforce decision by the supreme electoral tribunal outlawing the party in Brazil.

The tribunal approved by a 3 to 2 vote last night, a government petition asking that the Brazilian Communist party, one of the largest in the western hemisphere, be declared illegal and closed.

Thousands of German Workers Walk Off Jobs for Five Hours In Protest Against Shortages

STRIKES SPREAD IN FRANCE

HAMBURG (CP)—Demands that Hamburg and the Ruhr immediately be declared emergency areas and that hoarded food be distributed among the population were made today by Adolf Kummerness, chairman of Hamburg's Trades Union Council as hundreds of thousands of men and women left their jobs in the city's first general strike since pre-Nazi days.

Reports from Frankfurt said that workers in all public and private enterprises in the Hanover city started a five-hour strike at 1 p.m. The strikers marched slowly up and down the streets carrying banners demanding more food, and a crowd of 60,000 gathered in the central railway station to hear Kummerness.

There were shouts of protest when Wilhelm Doerr, chairman of the German employees' union in the British zone, appealed to the workers to return to their factories and offices.

Strikes and unrest are spreading to France because of lack of bread has embarrassed the government of Premier Paul Ramadier as he sought to replace five Communist ministers dropped from the cabinet. The strikes occurred in widespread industries as the workers protested against the shortages.

FIRST HALIBUT SELLS AT 18.3 AND 16 CENTS

First halibut of the season was sold over the Prince Rupert Fish Exchange yesterday morning when the 15,000-pound cargo of the Yankee Boy was disposed of to Bacon Fisheries at 18.3 cents for medium and 16 cents for chicken.

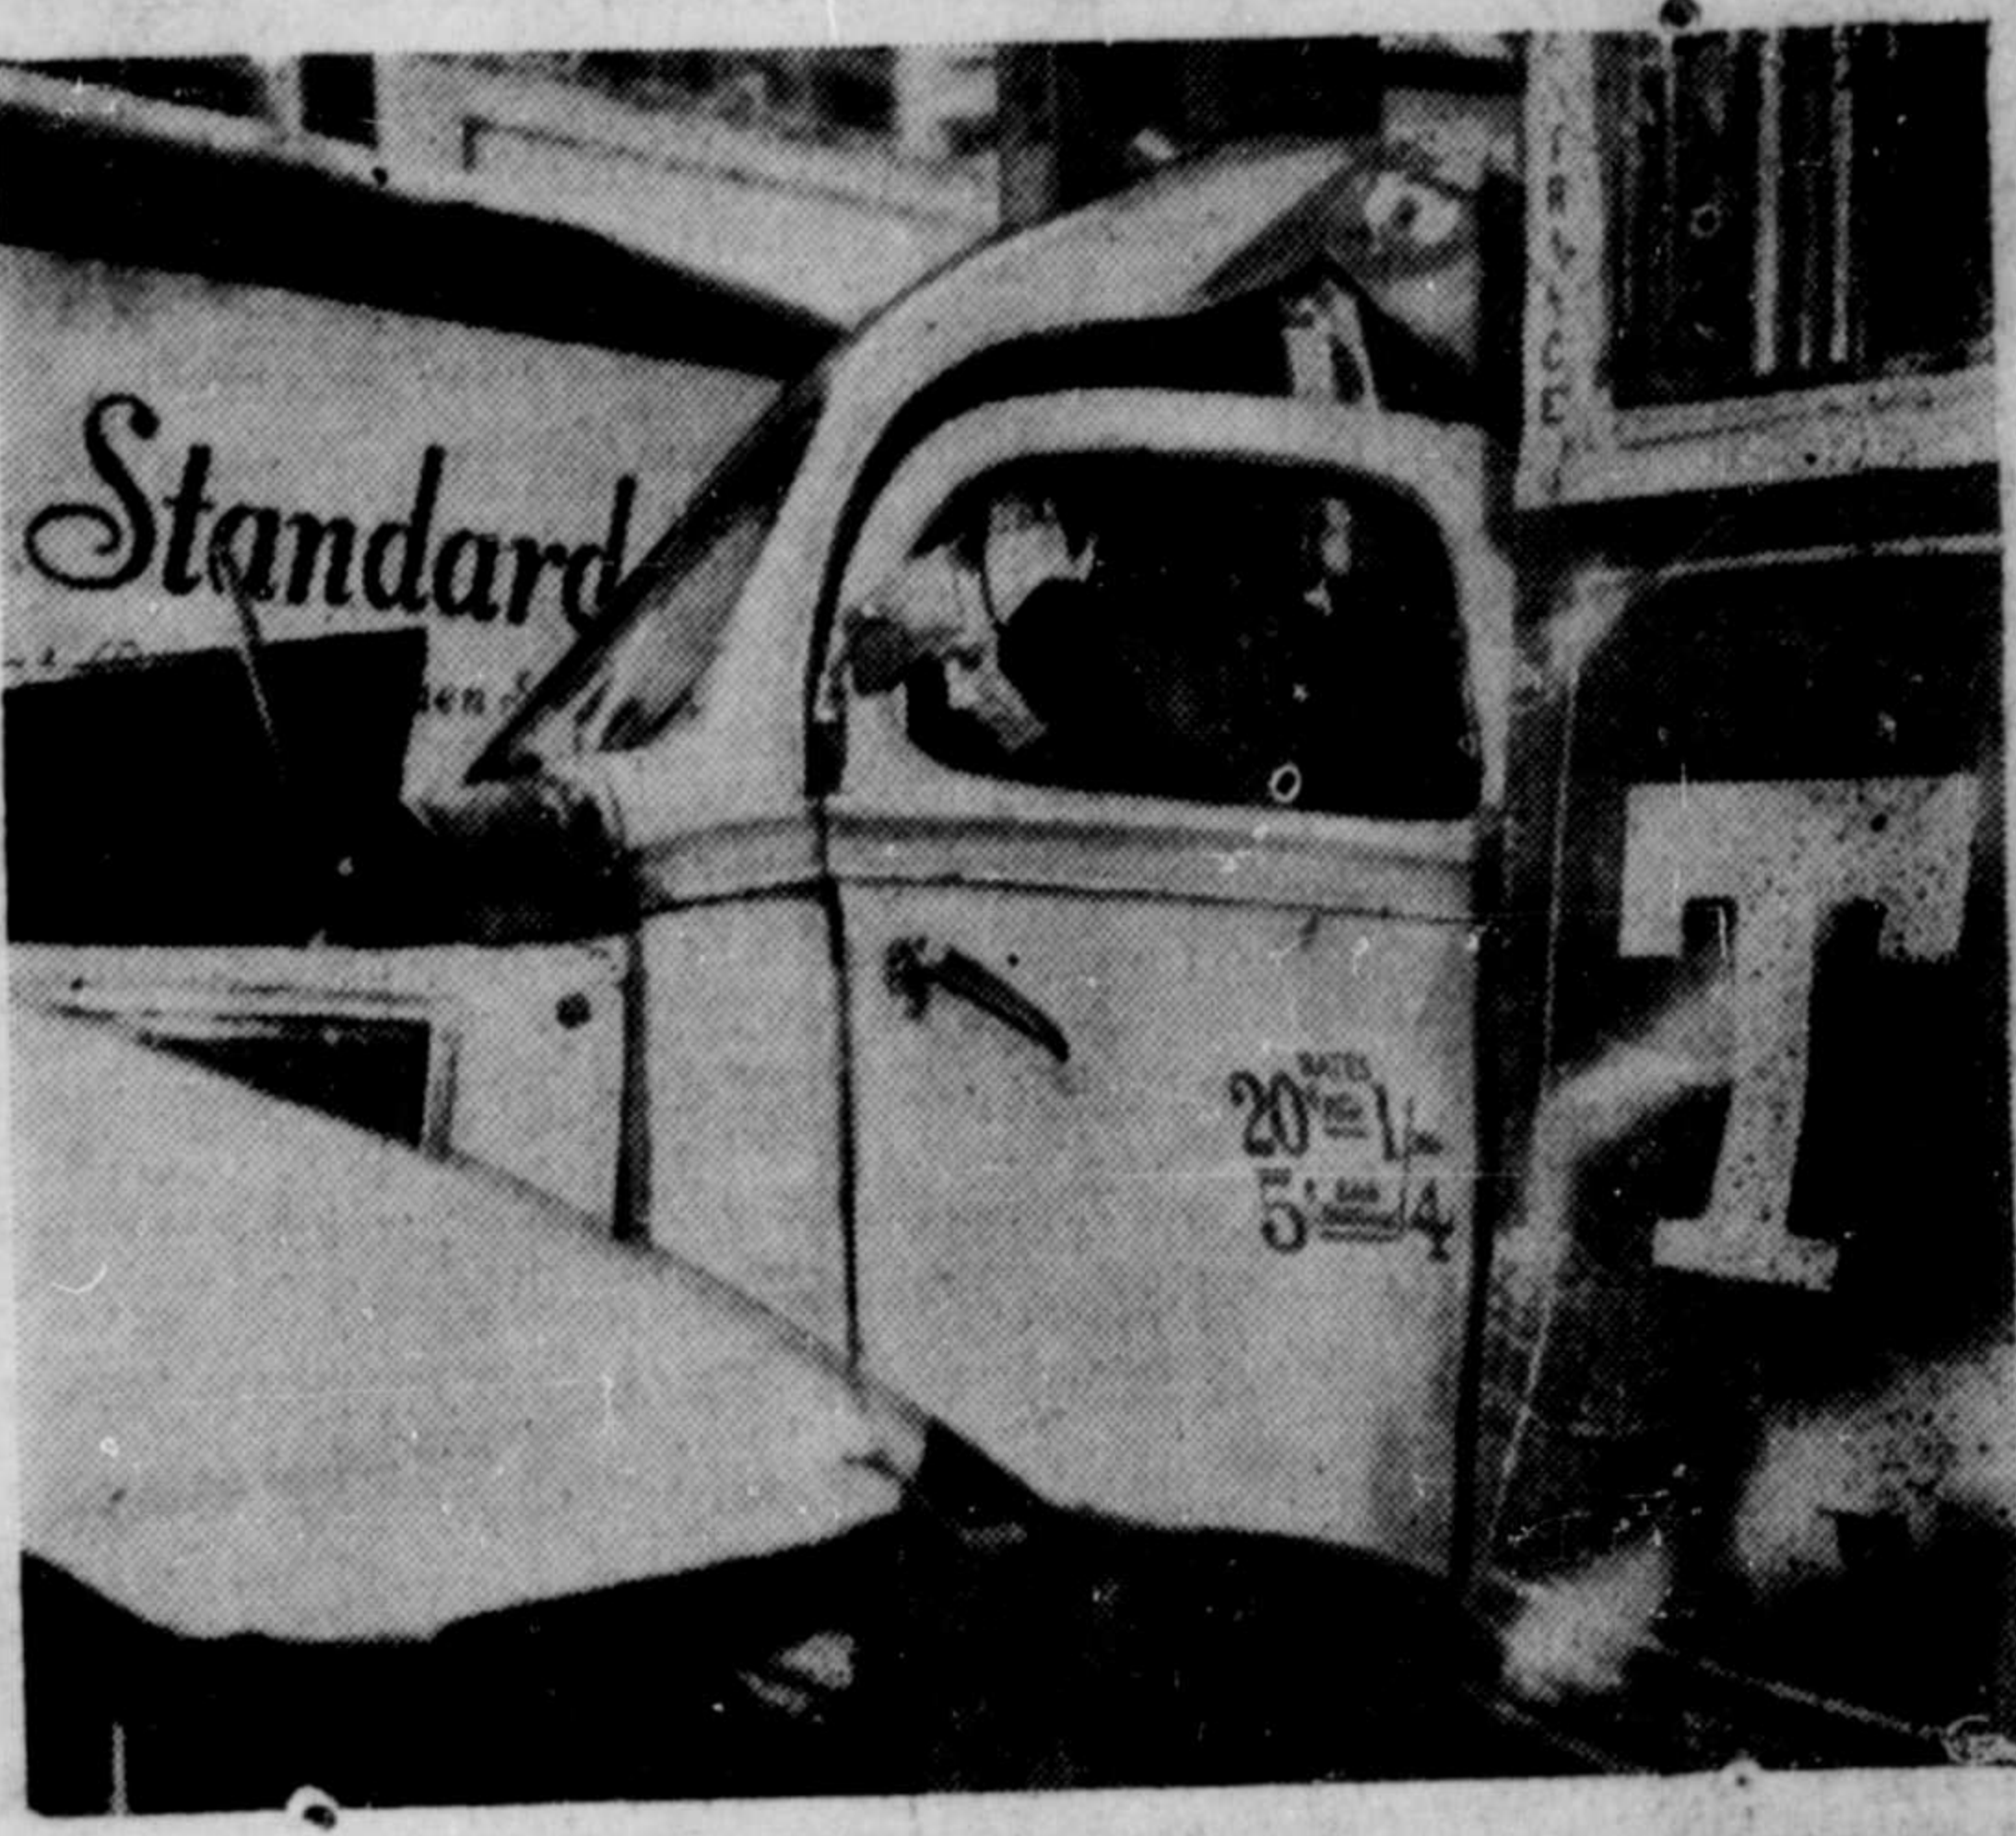

The sale was the first to be made over the exchange on an open basis since wartime regulations stopped the free operation of the market early in the war, and was part of the largest delivery of halibut to be made here so far this year.

Total landings Wednesday afternoon and Thursday were 217,000 pounds, of which 202,000 pounds was delivered to the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op at prices not yet specified.

The vessels were all of the M-to-Z name group of the fleet, which left port prior to last Thursday when the halibut season opened. Here are the arrivals:

WINNIE, AS BOY, HAD FOLLOWING

HARROW, Eng.—Keeper of the "tuckshop" near Harrow's famed public school when Winston Churchill was a student there, J. W. Cooper, 82, died in hospital. Cooper used to describe the wartime prime minister as "a very boisterous boy who always had a party of other lads with him when he visited the shop," and added: "One knew he was there because of the uproar which usually followed."

DRIVER UNHURT IN SQUASHUP—No wonder Cab Driver Patrick McHugh of New York, is scratching his head as he sits in his squashed car. He still can't understand how he happens to be alive, much less unscratched. He had tried to swing out past the truck that was parked on the left when a trolley car tabbed him and pinned the cab against an elevated pillar. The cab was folded in such a manner that only comparison with the proverbial accordion would be descriptive. He was removed by police emergency crews.

MINING IN TEL AVIV

Underground Jews Causing More Trouble in all Hebrew City of Palestine Today

JERUSALEM, (AP)—Officials, having received telephoned warning yesterday that the public information building in the all-Jewish City of Tel Aviv had been mined, immediately ordered it evacuated.

Meanwhile, gangsters fired four Tel Aviv stores. An unconfirmed report said that the raiders were men of the Jewish terrorist organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi, who were incensed by non-payment of protection money.

To Meet Railway

Premier Hart to Discuss Extension of P.G.E. With C.N.R. Vice-President

OTTAWA, (AP)—A statement by Premier John Hart said that negotiations for extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Peace River district had reached a stage where he would confer today with S. W. Feaiweather, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways in charge of research and development.

Mr. Hart will lay before Mr. Feaiweather "in greater detail the plans for future and new information that has been gathered since the joint committee of 1945 studied the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern."

Reluctance In Home Building

Survey by Canadian Press Shows Upsurge In Commercial Construction

TORONTO, (AP)—A coast-to-coast survey by the Canadian Press shows a sharp decline in home building coincident with an upsurge in building activity in the commercial classes.

Various reasons, principally high cost of building materials, and reluctance to build at prevailing rentals, are advanced for the unwillingness to build homes.

No regional pattern in figures was collected in the survey but a marked contrast between home building and construction of non-residential structures was evident throughout the country.

TWELVE YEARS FOR FORGERY

"Negligence and Sloppy Banking Methods" Helped Parmalee in His Frauds

OTTAWA, (AP)—Lucius Alberta (Christmas) Parmalee, internationally known forger, was sentenced today to 12 years' imprisonment on each of four charges of passing forged cheques totalling $17,000. Parmalee had pleaded guilty. The sentences will run concurrently.

Admitting that he had cashed forged cheques to the value of $61,000 and had served terms of seven-and-a-half years in Canada and United States, said "negligence and sloppy banking methods" had aided him in carrying out his frauds.

TRANSACTION IS EXTRAORDINARY

Unusual Incident of Payment Of Consignment Money

WINNIPEG—The Canadian National treasury is $100 richer as a result of a transaction that was extraordinary on two counts. First, the client, who appeared before a ticket office window dressed in working overalls, insisted on overpayment and next he asked to pay full first class fare for rides stolen on freight trains.

What surprised the C.N.R. officers, who are used to receiving conscience money, was the itemized account the man presented detailing rides as long as 500 miles and short as 50. When the score was added up to some eighty odd dollars he insisted on paying $100. "Just in case I forgot one or two rides."

TRUCKING QUESTION

WITH LOCAL TRUCKERS organizing to oppose the application of Canadian National Transportation Ltd. for a scheduled licence to carry freight and express by truck over the highway between Burns Lake and Prince Rupert if not to promote their own applications for licences to operate such service, considerable interest is being aroused in the hearing of the Public Utilities Commission which the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in having transferred from Vancouver to this city.

The local truckers cannot be blamed in their not wanting to be placed in competition with what amounts to the government of the country and they also suggest misgiving that, if given an exclusive franchise, the railway company by reason of a monopoly, might stifle the service, something which is, of course, only but hypothetical conjecture.

Our sympathies may well be very much with the bona-fide local operators and certainly in the past we have taken a lead in criticizing the Canadian National Railways vigorously when we felt such criticism was due, yet the railway company, in an issue of this sort, is just another applicant.

There is one thing on which everyone is agreed, and that is that there should be full assurance of the capability and intention of the concern which gets the contract to carry out a service adequate and compatible with the requirements.

KEEPING TOURISTS HAPPY

CANADA NEEDS better accommodation for her tourists. Canada needs additional accommodation. Canada needs higher standards of catering. Just as our national business success in markets abroad is going to be based upon quality in the products of our fields, mines, forests and factories, so the expansion of our visitor industry is going to be based on quality, on service, on efficiency, on the acceptance of the highest standards that can be prescribed.

Our American customers enjoy the highest average standard of living of any people on earth. They created advertising in its modern form and application, but, conversely, advertising recreated them. They have been sold on the solid creation comforts of life. To be happy, they must sleep comfortably in pleasant surroundings, eat well, and be able to keep clean. The war is over. With our American customers—and they gave us $207,000,000 last year—it is no longer a case of our saying "Here's what we have—take it and like it!" Today it's a case of their saying "Here are our specifications for a vacation—can you fill them?"

Unless Canada, from the angle of accommodation, food, and other essentials tourist services, gears her thought, enterprise and planning to this revised theme song of our major tourist market she may soon regret her inattention.

From coast to coast we must progress beyond the position of allowing some slovenly people, some unsanitary places, and some backward proprietors to spoil a great business for our country. We must take the necessary steps to please, develop and hold the business.

V-E DAY

TWO YEARS have passed since we excitedly and exultantly hailed V-E Day and the end of the European phase of fighting in World War II. It would be easy, and some are doing it, even the Prime Minister of Britain, to say that the danger of war in the world is greater today than it has ever been. Yet, still we cannot admit to ourselves that war will come. In spite of all the face-making and the scares, the ugly disputes and differences, we cannot bring ourselves to admit that any one really wishes to fight notwithstanding all the feinting and the shadow boxing. Many better understandings will, we are sure, come of the present disagreeableness that seems so general and, by the time another V-E Day arrives, the prospect of peace may be on a clearer and a firmer footing.

IT BROUGHT FAME TO PRINCE RUPERT—The basking shark, found on Porcher Island more than ten years ago, which everybody thought was a sea serpent. "W. J." tells about it in his column below. The picture was taken on the government wharf here near the lower fisheries experimental station after the "smelly" marine carcass was brought to the city for pickling.

WOULD LEGALIZE LOTTERIES FOR PUBLIC HEALTH

A resolution favoring the operation of provincial lotteries to aid hospitals and other public health institutions was approved last night by the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce at its monthly meeting in the Commodore Cafe.

The resolution was one which will be considered by the forthcoming convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada, and was submitted by the Shawinigan Falls, Quebec, Junior Board of Trade.

The major part of the business meeting last night was given over to consideration of a number of resolutions which have been submitted to the resolutions committee of the National Junior Chamber for consideration at the convention late this month.

A request from Mayor Nora Arnold in her capacity as a member of the Trans-Canada Highway Association, urging that the Junior Chamber prepare a resolution asking for the completion of the gap between Jasper and McBride in the northern highway system, was approved. The resolutions committee was instructed to draw up such a brief and submit it to the local federal and provincial parliament members and other authorities.

Since it is unlikely that the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber will be able to send delegates to the national convention to be held in Montreal on May 29 and 30, voting power for the local group probably will be turned over to delegates of the Vancouver Junior Board of Trade.

Present at the meeting was Junior Chamber May Queen candidate, Doreen Bateman, of Booth Memorial High School, and W. W. C. O'Neill, Principal, both of whom were introduced to the 25 members and guests. May Queen Chairman Don McEwen appealed for support of the members in the current May Queen competition.

The meeting decided to enter a float in the Kinsmen May 24 celebration, and appointed Mr. George Brown and Stuart Purk to direct construction of the float.

At recommendation of Al Manson, chairman of the highway arch committee, the meeting voted to erect a welcome sign in the form of a large fish at the highway entrance to the city, thus publicizing Prince Rupert's chief industry.

TO STAND ALOOF ON FINANCIAL DRIVES

Discussion of the matter of the Junior Chamber officially taking part in financial canvasses or drives in behalf of other organizations resulted in the meeting voting that further patronage to such campaigns will not be granted although Junior Chamber members might take part as individuals.

In preparation for the annual meeting of the Junior Chamber in June, a nominating committee, consisting of the executive members and Martin Van Cooten and L. M. Felsenthal, was appointed to recommend a slate of officers for 1947.

Volunteers to complete the painting of the museum building were called upon to turn out on Sunday.

Guests at the meeting, welcomed by President A. P. Crowley, were W. F. Stone, representing the Prince Rupert Senior Chamber of Commerce; Miss Doreen Bateman, May Queen candidate; W. W. C. O'Neill, W. A. Thom, Eric Speers, William McKenzie, Victor Morrison.

to the seaboard, one hundred and fifty miles away, also a fleet of steam colliers to convey the product from there to any and all of the ports on the Pacific, where will be established depots for bunker coal to supply steamers, there will be ample sale for such a proposed output, and an immense new market developed on account of the opening of the Panama Canal.

NINE MILLION DOLLARS NEEDED

Working capital of approximately $9,000,000 will be advisable to purchase, develop, equip, construct the railway, terminals, own a fleet and acquire depots abroad, still leaving an attractive margin to cover promotion expenses and produce profits. All these facts and figures given and tabulated can be accurately substantiated later when the many departments are in full swing, and from their compactness offer to the investing public one of the most attractive industrial investments, seldom equalled for permanency and further possibility for enhanced profits. It took years to induce capital to entertain the Crow's Nest scheme of collieries and railway, but this Groundhog coal field, on account of its proximity to seaboard and the special quality and quantity of its coal, cannot long go begging, as its product has few competitors.

Safe Sonic Speed Sought By Science

WEYERIDGE, Surrey, Eng. — To obtain data on flight at supersonic speeds, Vickers-Armstrong, airplane manufacturers, will build three large wind tunnels here at an estimated cost of £200,000 ($800,000). Officials believe tests carried out with models will eliminate almost all hazards of initial flights with aircraft designed for supersonic speeds. First of the tunnels to be built will have a testing section 13 feet by nine feet, an over-all length of 600 feet and a height of 40 feet. A speed of 350 feet a second will be reached in the test section by means of a seven-bladed 24-ft. propeller. A smaller tunnel will be used for routine tests. The third will be used largely to study compressibility phenomena at speeds above and below sonic velocity (726 miles an hour at sea level).

Reminiscences

By W.J. and Reflections

A week or so of near-glory came to Prince Rupert once. But, when stark truth broke, the expected renown faded and died. Today, never even the ghost of a hint of something that might have been, is sensed. It came about like this. The body of a marine creature, found on an island shore, defied definition. Alive to the significance of the strange and unexplainable; the report lost nothing in the telling. All over the globe, science stirred. The London press gave recognition. Queries from distant climes were received. Could it be possible that at last—at last—the fabled sea serpent had actually been found. (Please rush latest particulars) Prince Rupert broke out into a sweat and salty statements multiplied. Then, came the great let-down. A Vancouver Island fisheries research authority pronounced the dead mystery up north just another basking shark, and not fragrant at that.

CONNAUGHT'S VISIT
It was in September, 1912, the Duke of Connaught, as Governor-General, visited Prince Rupert. He landed at the government dock, with most of a ragged population present. An Indian band played, the guard of honor stood at attention, and the Duke, pausing before the wearer of a medal that gleamed like a June morning gazed at his boyish countenance. Then he contemplated the decoration "Would you mind telling me, mylad, in what campaign you won this?"

"Oh sir, that was given me for singing in the choir at New Westminster." This is 1947, and there are many new faces at Prince Rupert. Perhaps they have not already heard this one.

FIRST PLANE
Planes at Prince Rupert made a tame enough beginning. The first ever seen here did not soar across the Heavens at all. It was a frail little contraption, forming part of the deck cargo of an Alaska-bound steamer which called here during the building of the railway. It was, indubitably, a plane, and everyone refused to become excited.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY
Prince Rupert could have had a Carnegie library shortly after the incorporation, but some of the pioneers were allergic to

Andy and they had their way. And so, for years, it was a case of wait and see. An amiable and efficient young librarian, a shack and a haphazard collection of books near the site of the present post office, saw the start, and library affairs have gone a long way since then. The community possesses an establishment and a service meriting every praise.

Local newsstands sell thousands of magazines both grave and gay. Believe it or not, its the lighter type of literature that lures the coin from the deepest recesses of the wallet. Admits, rather than the juveniles, relish a good old ruddy murder yarn or tales which play us confession, intrigue, crime with a kick, and sexy suggestions. Readers who have lived long evidently wish to be entertained in robust style instead of being made to feel sorry for themselves.

No 'yellow hue' thanks to Blue!

S-w-i-s-h! That's all... just a good swish of Blue in the final rinsing water on washday, and clothes come out snowy-white the way they should be! Use Blue to eliminate the yellow tinge that makes clothes look old—it's the sure, quick, and easy way to a really white wash!
P.S.—Seven colours combine to make white, one of these is blue. Blue must be added to make true white.

TRANCE MAN DIES IN PR. RUPERT; BEATS TRAIN ON UP-RIVER RUN

Received this morning John Young, uncle of H. Spencer, passed the Prince Rupert General. Mr. Spencer left at noon and plans to remain to Emmitt, B.C.

The first army building to be moved to its new site on Lakelse Avenue is now being used by Mr. and Mrs. McInnes for their bake shop. Alterations have been to adapt the building for its new use and Mr. McInnes plans eventually to make it like the more up-to-date shops in the east. The McInnes are well pleased with the building.

C. H. Sawle, publisher of the Omineca Herald, came from New Hazelton to Terrace on yesterday's train on one of his periodical visits to the latter town.

Rev. R. A. Wilson plans to sail for Vancouver on Monday to attend the annual provincial conference of the United Church. Mrs. G. Ciccone, who is local lay delegate, sailed last night on the Prince Rupert.

TRIBUTE TO ROAD CREW

Gyros Hear About Reopening Of Prince Rupert Highway From Passenger on First Car

Speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club Wednesday was Will Robinson of Terrace who, with Arthur Kennedy, general road foreman at Terrace, came in with the first car of the season over the newly-cleared highway between Terrace and Prince Rupert. Mr. Robinson told of the final phases of the clearing Monday and Tuesday of the big snowslide at Kwinitsa and paid tribute to the efforts of Arthur Kennedy, Hugo Johnson, bulldozer operator, and Joe Paquette, his assistant. Mr. Robinson admitted that the road between here and Terrace was still rough following winter conditions, being in need of grading, graveling and binding. He suggested patience with the public works department which he felt was doing the very best it could under the circumstances.

President C. G. Ham was in the chair over the luncheon and announced the selection of Alice Nickerson of Borden Street School as Gyro candidate for queen of the Kinsmen's Club's May Day celebration with Jack Bulger chairman of the Gyro campaign committee.

Al Mather, a Pentiction Gyro, brought greetings from that club of which Dr. John Gibson and David Allen, both formerly of Prince Rupert, are now active members. Other guests were Donald Alexander and W. J. Twaites of Vancouver.

Senator Magnuson Is Coming to City

Senator Magnuson has been invited to be one of the guest speakers at the convention.

PLAYER STRIKE IS SAID FALSE

NEW YORK —The purported player strike by the world champion St. Louis Cardinals against the presence of Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodger negro first baseman, was averted by Cardinals owner Sam Breadon. National League president Ford C. Frick said last night. At the same time, Breadon and Eddie Dyer, Redbird manager, denied Frick's report and branded it "ridiculous." "There is absolutely nothing in the story," Breadon said.

Love and Fortune Both Fell On 13TH

CAPETOWN —The figure 13 has no foreboding for J. Cloete, of Tamboers Kloof, Cape Province, who actually thinks it is his lucky number. He and his mother were born on the 13th of the month, and it was on the 13th that his father found his diamond on the diggings. At the age of 13, Cloete fell in love, and 13 years later he married that one and only love. His only son was born on the 13th, and on February 13, Mr. Cloete negotiated a transaction which yielded him a profit of several hundred pounds.

BASEBALL TO START MAY 18

Baseball in Prince Rupert will officially open on May 18, a meeting of the baseball association executive decided last night. The summer schedule will provide for two league games a week, with a third day set aside for playing postponed games. Three teams will be in the league—Savoy, with Alex Bill as manager, Watts and Nickerson, managed by Benny Windle, and Moose, whose manager has not yet been named. In addition to regular league games, the association plans to have series with Ketchikan and Smithers periodically during the summer. Thursday evenings and Sundays will be league nights, with postponed games played on Tuesday evenings. The league will terminate August 17. The meeting appointed Joe Beruschi umpire-in-chief.

BASEBALL BUG HITS

Old Timers And Youngsters To Meet on Sunday

The baseball bug has bit the younger athletes of Prince Rupert and they have decided to get rid of the tick by starting the ball rolling with a pre-season warm-up game with the older and more experienced baseball players, led by Benny Windle, this Sunday afternoon at the Roosevelt Park.

Alex Bill of the younger set, was elected to field a team to oppose Slusher Wendle's old timer nine. Bill was not eager to challenge Windle as he still remembers the drubbing he took last year in a similar game. Last year with Bill pitching the rookies looked good in the pre-game warm-up but by the time the third inning rolled around Bill had yielded to relief pitching with the score reading Veterans 13, Rookies 0. But this year the kids figure they should be able to beat the old timers although Larabee still looks good on the mound for a few innings.

The younger crowd have missed four years of baseball playing on account of the war and figure they need lots of games to attain the efficiency and experience Windle and his cohorts used to and still may be able to show.

Windle will not be able to announce his line-up until Saturday because he figures it will take him that long to scout up enough old ball players.

Bill's line-up for Sunday will be: Jim Forman, 1c; Don Hartwig, 2b; Bruce Simonsen, ss; Ted Arney, 3b; Boyo Gurvich, rf; Pete Postuk, cf; Nick Pavlikis, lf; Herb Morgan, c; Alex Bill, p; Don Scherk, utility.

It is understood that there are a lot of other young players

LABOR COUNCIL ASKS EXEMPTION OF UNION DUES

Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council will seek to have union dues classed as deductible in making out income tax returns, thus placing members of organized labor in a position similar to professional workers whose association dues are exempt. A motion to that effect was passed at a meeting of the council last night.

A letter from the federal government in answer to a request by the council for a national health insurance act informed the meeting that the government is prepared to consider such legislation and has a proposed plan ready to place before the provinces as soon as the Dominion-provincial tax discussions are concluded.

A letter from Mayor Nora Arnold seeking support of the council on behalf of the Trans-Canada Highway Association advocates completion of the McBride-Jasper gap to create a northern transcontinental highway was endorsed.

A discussion took place concerning circulation of the Vancouver Daily Province in Prince Rupert and it was opinion of the meeting that renewed efforts should be made to discourage support of the paper which was described as non-union.

Reports of delegates showed an increasing interest in organized labor among workers in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Sundal of Terrace arrived in the city last night by train and sailed on the Prince Rupert for a trip to Vancouver.

SEEDING IS STILL HELD

But Expected to be General On Prairies Next Week

WINNIPEG — Weather during the past week has not been conducive to land work and as a result, seeding is still not general on the prairies. Seeding should be general, however, in the southern part of all provinces by the beginning of the week and in the northern areas by the end of next week, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways. A decrease is expected in the wheat acreage and a corresponding increase is forecast for barley and flax. Moisture conditions are excellent over the prairies. Soil drifting has occurred over large areas, but little or no damage is reported.

The Okanagan Valley has reported cool weather with occasional frost at nights. Preliminary estimates are for a 15 per cent decrease in the apple crop with a corresponding increase in tree fruits.
