Britain-France Sign Aid Treaty

PARIS, France (AP)—Britain and France today signed a 50-year alliance designed to provide mutual protection against any future aggression in Europe. The agreement was signed by Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Bidault. The pact provides for the transfer of a huge amount of military and naval equipment to France. Britain will lend or sell to France the bulk of its fleet of submarines. In Berlin, the British people heard their political leaders raise increasing voices for a voice in the coming deliberations on the foreign ministry council in Moscow.

UNANIMITY OF EFFORT TOWARD BROADER DEVELOPMENT

Message of Optimism and Good Cheer Given to Chamber of Commerce By Newspaper Publisher

Touching his remarks before the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night in a vein of optimistic good cheer as to the certain and inevitable progress along substantial lines of the port of Prince Rupert and the whole of central and northern British Columbia with its abundance of natural resources and potentialities, unmatched anywhere in the world, H. G. Perry, newspaper publisher of Prince George and Prince Rupert, gave rousing admonition to the people here and throughout the area to rise above their immediate personal interests and, with broad vision and community of effort, to work unitedly towards expediting a realization of true destiny and greatness of this God-given country. It was, he declared, a duty to make fuller use of this great new hinterland and its land and resources. "It is a heritage which if we do not make use of ourselves we then have no one to blame but ourselves if someone else comes along and takes it from us," he declared. He advocated, first of all, striving to get in primary industries which he had found meant the coming in of secondary industries and services at a ratio of 4% to one. "Let us not point daggers and bayonets at each other in considering only our own personal advantages. Let us, instead, in spirit of good comradeship and mutual endeavour toward the common good, work toward the realization of those things that will redound to the benefit of us all."

More Earnings You Make Less Government Takes—Pilot Leads "Riley Life"

MONTREAL (AP)—Dig your teeth into this one, folks.

Choice steaks at 10 cents per pound, as much butter as you want at the same price, houses and apartments obtained easily, and the more you make in earnings, the less the government takes away in income tax is the story of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

William (Bud) Gillespie of Moncton, N.B., brings this utopia to light to Canadians and he knows what he is talking about.

The 24-year-old flier, working for the Argentine government, has been living on and off in Buenos Aires since June and says he "leads the life of Riley."

Gillespie reports such things as no rationing and the price of domestic goods incredibly low. A 1946 American automobile can be picked up but at twice the American cost because it is imported.

There is no housing shortage. No one pays more than three per cent of his year's salary in income tax.

Believe it or not, the higher the salary is, the less the government deducts.

Possibly the greatest boon is that filing returns is no worry. Gillespie said as far as he knew no income tax returns were made out. The amount is deducted from the cheque and the matter ends there.

Despite a heavy surface traffic, Buenos Aires' subway system has eliminated congestion. There are no traffic lights or traffic policemen.

However, one situation that would cause trouble if adopted in Canada is that at intersections the automobile travelling the fastest gets the right-of-way.

HAIFA HAVING MORE BOMBINGS

JERUSALEM (AP)—Five hand-grenades were hurled into the British military office at Haifa Monday night shortly after the Jewish underground movement proclaimed that open warfare existed in Palestine. The British government said there were no casualties in the attack.

Anti-British violence claimed new victims in Palestine today. Five British soldiers were wounded, two seriously, when a military truck was wrecked by an explosion today.

Four Arabs were injured when a Royal Air Force vehicle was blown up by a road mine near Ramle.

Jewish underground assertion that "open warfare exists in Palestine" brought a statement from Lt. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan that "there is no question of the army being at war with the Jewish population or anyone else in Palestine."

ETNA ERUPTION LOSS $75,000

ROME (AP)—Damage caused by the eight-day Mount Etna eruption is estimated at almost $750,000, with chief damage done to vineyards and forests. The interior ministry assured Sicilians last night that the eruption was over. The flow of lava, however, was expected to advance a few feet before it cooled and hardened.

COURT CONTEMPT BRINGS ADDED YEAR IN JAIL

OTTAWA (AP)—Judge A. G. McDougall today sentenced David Gordon Lunan, already convicted of espionage activity, to one year additional for refusal to testify in the case of Israel Halperin, former Queen's University professor, charged with conspiracy to communicate confidential information to Russia. Lunan was held in contempt of court. The one-year term will be additional to the five years he is serving for espionage.

SICKNESS BENEFITS DISCUSSED

VICTORIA (AP)—J. H. Crosbie (CCF—Peace River) in the Legislature yesterday called on the government to introduce stricter control of the activities of death and funeral benefit associations and mutual sickness benefit groups. He said that a recent Royal Commission report on their activities showed some were soundly managed. Others openly admitted to be run largely for gain and some were most unbusinesslike.

The extent to which the public supported them was clear in indication, Mr. Crosbie said, of the popular demand for a plan of health insurance.

CARRIED ARMS WITHOUT LICENCE; IS FINED $10

For carrying firearms at the Salt Lake without a license, Frank Bird was fined $10 yesterday by Stipendiary Magistrate W. D. Vance. The prosecution was brought by the Game Department.

Plebiscite Is Proposed By Victoria Women Members

VICTORIA (CP)—Mrs. Nancy Hughes, Coalition member for Victoria, called on the government yesterday to hold a plebiscite on the controversial liquor problem on which some thirty members have already expressed opinions. "No matter what we might decide to do in the House we shall never achieve any improvement in the liquor situation until we have the people solidly behind us," she said.

Mrs. Hughes said she was appalled at the province's soaring drink bill, the frightening increase in serious crime by youthful offenders, broken homes and lives. However, people could not be legislated into sobriety. That comes only from education in the home, school and church. Obviously people wanted to drink. The Legislature should ensure that they get liquor only under the least harmful conditions.

NEW PLANE TO CARRY BIG LOAN

LONDON (AP)—A new British transport plane with 11-ton payload on relatively short hauls developed from studies made with Hamilcar military glider fitted with engine has been announced by General Aircraft Co.

Known as the Universal Transport, the four-engined plane has an all-up weight of 87,300 pounds and is built for bulky loads, its freight-carrying capacity being 10 feet by 15 feet by 36 feet.

Equipped with tricycle landing gear to give level loading floor, the Universal has a built-in loading ramp that retracts into the fuselage in flight and an overhead loading rail with travelling hoist running the length of the cargo compartment.

The manufacturers plan a two-deck, 90-passenger adaptation.

Estimated operating costs, based on 75 per cent load factor, are about three cents a mile for passengers and 25 cents a mile per ton of freight.

Cruising speed of between 170 and 190 miles an hour is provided by four Bristol Hercules engines.

RAIL OFFICIAL IS RETIRING

VANCOUVER—Purchasing agent of the Canadian National Railways in British Columbia since May, 1929, Harold L. Taylor, of Vancouver, retired today after a career of more than 40 years with the National system.

Mr. Taylor, a native of Ramsgate, England, started railroad work in Canada with the Canadian Northern as a clerk in the local freight office at Winnipeg. During construction days he was a buyer for MacKenzie and Mann, railway builders later, he became assistant purchasing agent in Winnipeg for the Canadian Northern Railway and worked in that capacity until his promotion to Vancouver.

During World War II, Mr. Taylor's department here was responsible for purchasing vast quantities of equipment and supplies for all cargo vessels built in British Columbia shipyards. His department was called in to assist in organizing of Canadian Red Cross Society purchasing in this province during the early part of the war.

To mark his retirement, the veteran official was honored by his railway associates at a presentation ceremony.

FEEDER AIR LINES TO ISLANDS AND NORTH FROM HERE BEING PLANNED

Not only does the Canadian Pacific Airlines intend to institute a scheduled main line air service between Vancouver and Prince Rupert by way of Port Hardy and Sandspit early this year but the Queen Charlotte Airlines, which operated a charter service between here and Vancouver last year, contemplates inaugurating two scheduled feeder services out of Prince Rupert as base—one to the Queen Charlotte Islands and the other to Stewart and Observatory Inlet and the Naas River, it was disclosed by George Standbridge, local representative of Queen Charlotte Airlines, at the meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night. Applications for licences for all these services have been before the Air Transport Board of Canada at a recent hearing in Vancouver.

Licences, it was suggested at the meeting, might be expected to be granted within the next month or so in which case operation of the services would probably get under way during the spring or early summer.

The Chamber was advised of effective representation which it had been given at the session of the Air Transport Board in Vancouver in supporting the need of air services to Prince Rupert by R. M. Winslow, former president of the local chamber, now residing in Vancouver, and W. A. Rundle, chairman of the transportation bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade. Letters of appreciation are to be sent to Mr. Winslow and Mr. Rundle.

The Queen Charlotte Airlines, at the outset, was also in the field for the licence for the main line service between Vancouver and Prince Rupert but later withdrew, an official of QCA explaining that "we felt the public interest and convenience could best be served by the other operator."

GUERRILLAS ARRESTED

Clean-up Made in Subversive Movement by Greek Government

ATHENS (AP)—Police announced today that 200 persons had been arrested here and charged with recruiting youths for guerrilla bands and sending arms to guerrilla forces which are battling the government in northern Greece. Arrests were made in a series of raids during the night, the announcement said.

THREE LEAP 10 DEATH IN FIRE

CHICAGO (AP)—Two men and a woman leaped to death and one man was fatally burned in a fire that swept a rooming house here today. Six others suffered injuries as almost 100 tenants fled from the four-storey structure. The trio jumped from third-floor windows in the panic which gripped the tenants as they were aroused by the heavy smoke.

BLIZZARD IS BLOWING OUT

Big Storm in Eastern Canada Nearly Over—Communications and Transportation Are Disrupted

TORONTO (AP)—One of the worst winter blizzards in Eastern Canada is blowing itself out today after snarling up communications and stalling road, rail and air traffic from western Ontario to the Maritimes.

A record fall of 30 inches of snow tangled the Ottawa district, a 66-mile-an-hour wind blew at Quebec City.

Major cities bearing the full blast of the storm were Halifax, Saint John, Moncton, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto.

There were long periods of power failure in Halifax, Moncton and Quebec.

Plane services were grounded and communications were badly interrupted.

More than 100 rural schools were closed in eastern and western Ontario.

Motorists were warned to stay off all Ontario highways.

STRIKE CLOSES COTTON 'CHANGE

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York cotton exchange closed until further notice today as a result of a wage strike. It was the first time that any major exchange here has been closed by labor troubles by members of the United Financial Employees Local 205 (A.F.L.). The strike did not affect New York stock or curb exchanges, which have contracts with the union.

Substantial Tax Lowering Is Anticipated At Ottawa

Pleasant Surprise Expected to Be Implemented By Finance Minister Abbott

OTTAWA (CP)—Hopes for a balanced budget have led to speculations here that substantial tax reductions may be expected this year to become effective almost immediately. Observers believe the government will be able to announce reductions, not only in income tax but possibly in the number of war-imposed levies such as taxation on cigarettes, soft drinks, entertainment and the twenty-five per cent jewelry tax.

Finance Minister Abbott said recently he hoped to give a "pleasant surprise" with regard to tax reduction prospects.

Government revenues topped expenditures by more than $275,000,000 during the nine months of the current fiscal year ending March 31.

BELFAST (AP)—Exports and imports for 1945 were valued at £220,306,000 ($881,224,000)—highest in Northern Ireland's history—the Ministry of Commerce announced.

Prices Increases Are Being Felt

OTTAWA (AP)—A Prices Board spokesman said last night that first price increases sanctioned by the board recently on cotton, wool and rayon wearing apparel were being felt in various parts of Canada as new allotments of non-subsidized materials were being stocked. It is estimated that actual retail price increases will run from five to twenty-five per cent.

Canada Earns Peace Right

Should Be Entitled to Full Share of Drafting Peace Treaties For Germany and Austria

OTTAWA—Defence Minister Claxton told the House of Commons Monday that Canada had gained on the battlefield the right to engage in the drafting of German-Austrian peace treaties. He said there was no proof that withdrawal of Canadian occupational troops from Germany last year had affected that right. The Canadian government had decided it would be better to send food to Europe than keep a small force in Germany where Canada was assigned no zone or effective role in handling the defeated nation.

Mr. Claxton was making reply to a charge by Gordon Graydon, Progressive-Conservative, Peel, that the government had weakened Canada's bargaining position by the withdrawal of troops.

Some Good Advice

IT IS GOOD ADVICE that some of us in these parts might do well to shake out the cobwebs of mere self-interest and get together with broader vision and more generous effort towards the development of community and country so that the interests of both nation and world might be better served and that mutual benefit might at the same time redound.

And what goes for communities and districts of this area might well go for provinces and nations. Certainly, new vision and outlook must be applied along the broadest lines if peace and security are to be achieved and sustained.

Grubbing about among one's own little affairs, unmindful of the greater responsibilities towards the development of God-given heritage, will make neither communities or nations great, nor the world a place of peace and security.

As has been suggested, what some of us may need is not new glasses but radar to extend our limited vision to true perspective and lift us out of our depression complex.

Debased Words

PERHAPS if we were more learned in the science of words, we would hesitate to make the suggestion, but it appears to us that "fascist" and "communist" will shortly have to be removed from circulation as verbal coinage too debased to have any value, says Victoria Times. They have, of course, explicit meanings. But their definite limits have been so stretched that the words have become flaccid, unable to assume correct form and are inclined to create only an amorphous impression.

For instance, when vilification is poured into the mouthpiece of a trumpet in Franco's Madrid, the noise that issues from the bell is "communist." When the same procedure is

Getting Along

AS TIME GOES ON, more and more people are realizing that many of the failures and disappointments of men and women are caused by their inability to get along with other people.

Yes, even body aches and pains often arise because we are worried over our inability to make friends and to be liked by other people. Many times we want so much to be liked that we try too hard and do things that, instead of causing people to like us, cause them to like us even less, and thus fail to find the approval and friendship which we crave.

Because we live in a world in which people are more important than things, and because we have to deal with people whether we like it or not, and whether we know how to or not, it is important that all of us learn how to get along with people.

The better we learn how to do this, the more likely we are to succeed in whatever work we are doing, and we shall be less nervous and worried. Then as we become less worried and more confident because of our success in what we are doing, and in our friendships, we become more able to deal with problems that are bound to come to us, and no longer worry about problems we have not been able to handle.

Cops Wear Chokers Just For Tourists

VICTORIA — The "bobby-type" uniform will be retained for a small part of the Victoria police force, although other constables are now permitted to wear more comfortable uniforms minus the old choker collar and helmets.

As a concession to the tourist industry, it has been decided that at least two constables should be attired in the old type uniform—one to meet incoming boats and the other to be posted strategically in the business section.

TO DRAW UP RESOLUTIONS

Arnold Flaten, W. M. Watts, J. T. Harvey and Earl Gordon have been appointed as a resolutions committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce for the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia to be held in Prince Rupert in August. Mr. Flaten was chairman of the resolutions committee at the Associated Boards' convention in Terrace last year.

IS APPRECIATED AT KETCHIKAN; DON FORWARD TALKS CIVIC CENTRE

Apparently Don Forward, director of the Prince Rupert Civic Centre, made quite a favorable impression at Ketchikan where he went last week to give some expert advice on how a Civic Centre should be organized and operated. At least, that is indicated by Earl Leding, Daily Alaska Fishing News reporter, who wrote as follows:

"Don Forward is a guy who reminds you of our superintendent of schools, Danielson; he knows what he's talking about, he wears well in the public eye and his quiet, modest way of putting an idea over wins him many friends on first sight.

"Don spoke to the members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars here last night in their club-rooms on his Civic Centre in Prince Rupert. Many of the boys knew him, fellows who have invaded our southern neighbor on Ketchikan basketball teams. They not only know the man, but have enjoyed the home atmosphere of his Centre. They know that he's got something to offer us—free.

"Don told of the many stumbling blocks which confront any civic-minded group just getting started in their pursuit of a 'practical program which would be the solution to wasted spare time and various dissenting organization—a Civic Centre.

MANY WAYS TO RAISE MONEY

"He told of the many ways to raise money to finance such a program, and he went on to tell how to keep the project on even keel after the building is acquired.

"Now these Vets have been keeping pace with our local drive and have chipped in their bit, but they have felt just a little undercurrent of personal zeal in other groups in town. I believe such a feeling is justified because all organizations want to help in the promotion of a community enterprise. Mr. Forward had the answer to the situation. He said the very same thing existed in Rupert. There were people who said it couldn't be done. Others stated that the program was too big. Some were just against it because it was not their idea in the first place. Then there were the groups who had something concrete to offer and with them were the passive but potential groups who chose to sit tight until some progress was shown. All these things were noticed by Don as he and his associates dug in to see the completion of a Rupert centre.

"We have the same situation here. But as Forward said last night to the Vets, 'You've got to see the thing in a broad sense. You've got to see it as a group of neighbors banded together in a spirit of co-operation to fulfill their aims. You've got to take in all decent groups, whether they agree with you or not. They have a right to their personal opinions. That is democracy. You will get nowhere pulling apart because of difference of opinion. It's that difference which makes for a solid organization. But you must strive to get all those worthy organizations together. That will be your first objective. Athletics, plays, great artists, camera clubs, all fraternal groups, civic groups, the Territorial government, the city government, all church groups, and music lovers' clubs should all be under the same wing. Any group, partly opposed to a greater and better plan, will be absorbed. This is the beginning of the job. But if that is successfully accomplished, you are well on your way."

"These vets didn't even blink their eyes while the man spoke and smoked his pipe. But when it was over, they bombarded him with questions. Even after the meeting when the club steward served up steaming clam chowder, the boys hammered away at him. They got him in a corner and kept on firing away. You'd think it was the Normandy beach party, the way they were driving.

"I guess they finally got what they wanted. Well, he had 'er, all the dope necessary to start digging foundation trenches tomorrow morning, right on up the line until they out the Brass rail around the Ketchikan Civic Centre. Don told them the works. They absorbed it with interest that I've never seen. A million thanks, Don Forward, for showing the way."

Americans Buy Up U.K.'s Old Books

Fear Few Valuable Works To Be Left In Old Land

EDINBURGH (Reuters) — Americans are "buying up everything in the book line" and if Britons were not willing to spend more money on bibliographical specimens there would soon be few valuable old books left in the country, Professor Dover Wilson of the University of Edinburgh told the Board of Trustees of the National Library of Scotland.

The board was discussing whether to seek an increase in an annual government grant of £75 ($300) toward the purchase of books for the library.

Lord Cooper, chairman, suggested too much money was spent on old books and not enough attention paid modern literature. "Books should be bought to read," he said, "not to look at."

NEWS LACKS HUMAN TOUCH

LANE-DOWNE, Ont., (C)—News today has not as much humor or human interest as it did 40 or 50 years ago in the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. E. Dixon, correspondents in this eastern Ontario community for more than half a century for the Kingston, Ont., Whig-Standard and for its forerunners, the British Whig and the Kingston Standard.

Mr. Dixon said he thought one reason for the lack of humor is that people nowadays have not as much fun as they did in earlier days.

Pun has gone out of politics, too. Mr. Dixon said that was one reason why so many young people took little interest in affairs of the country.

On a friend's suggestion, Mr. Dixon began correspondence for the British Whig in 1896. After his marriage in 1907 to the daughter of the editor of the Breckville Times, his wife took over the job of correspondent for both the British Whig and the Kingston Standard. Mr. Dixon, himself, operates an interior decorating establishment and in his spare time helps his wife gather the news.

Woman Lapidary Likes Her Work

VANCOUVER (C)—Miss Jean Fitch of Vancouver, is working at a job she loves—stone cutting, polishing and mounting semi-precious stones.

After majoring in geology at University of British Columbia, she was not immediately able to find employment as a lapidary and took other positions until opportunity offered to fulfill her life-long ambition.

She finds her work absorbing, an outlet for her creative instincts. She fashions honey and moonstone agets into ring settings. Mexican opals are cut to form pendants and ear-rings. Rocks of multi-colored shapes into book-ends and paper-weights.

Her mother's interest in collecting colorful Nova Scotia stones, and her father's hobby of wood-carving led Miss Fitch to choose her present profession.

What of the boys you cheered so madly?

WITH streaming eyes and hoarse throats a nation thundered its pride and joy on their return. But the "tumult and the shouting" died. Life assumed its normal routine... "The war is over".

THOUSANDS OF VETERANS STILL LYING IN HOSPITALS!

Veterans Affairs Hospitals are giving treatment to an average of 8,000 patients, each with an average of 14 days' stay. To lighten their tedious days, Red Cross workers regularly visit these lads, taking them candy, cigarettes, books and other comforts.

THE RED CROSS LODGES

are in operation across Canada adjacent to Veterans Affairs Hospitals. They provide an escape from hospital routine. Here the boys may relax, enjoy quiet games and music, and entertain their friends.

The Red Cross Lodges also provide overnight accommodation for the patients' out-of-town parents and next of kin, without which many visits would not be possible.

Perhaps you cannot personally visit these veterans, but your dollars, the money you GIVE is your direct share in helping the Red Cross carry on this work.

The Canadian Red Cross urgently needs money to carry on their vast undertakings... won't you give as much as you can spare?

Red Cross Canvass Under Way

Public canvass for funds for the Canadian Red Cross drive in Prince Rupert got under way today with 13 canvassers seeking subscriptions in two zones arranged by Campaign Chairman Stanley Saville. Prince Rupert's quota for the $5,000,000 nationwide campaign is $5,000.

The two zones in which the canvass got under way today are the first of several into which the city will be divided for strategic purposes. Canvassers for the latter have not yet been appointed.

One of the zones in which the canvassers are active embraces the area between Fourth and Ninth Avenues from McBride Street west to the Morse Creek Bridge. In this area there are 10 ladies taking subscriptions. They are Mrs. Alex Mitchell, Mrs. W. J. Richards, Mrs. Frank Ellison, Mrs. W. Geddes, Mrs. W. Graham, Mrs. Robert Parker, Mrs. J. A. Frew, Mrs. K. Daffoe, Mrs. W. W. Smeeten, Mrs. Ray McLean.

In the Westview areas, the canvassers are Mrs. T. B. Black, Mrs. H. D. Thain and Mrs. Howard Hill.

Mr. Saville recalled that last year Prince Rupert filled its quota and he hopes for a similar response this year.

"The need for the Red Cross has not diminished just because the war is over," he said. "The humanitarian work still goes on and it needs public support. I hope that the people of Prince Rupert will respond courteously and generously to the volunteer canvassers who call on them."

Show Keen Interest In Public Affairs

AUCKLAND, N.Z. — "The thing that struck me most at the assembly was the keen interest taken in public affairs by the women representing what we have always considered the backward countries," declared Miss Joan Ratray after attending the International Women's Assembly in the United States as New Zealand delegate.

"All over the world women are beginning to realize that, if the human race is to make any real progress, they must play a far more active part in public affairs than ever before. This attitude of mind was particularly noticeable in the case of women from the small countries."

Large Attendance at Chamber Commerce Meeting—Five New Members Elected

Continuation of renewed interest on the part of business men of Prince Rupert in matters pertaining to the promotion and development of matters of business and public concern was manifested at the monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night which was marked by an attendance of 40 members and at which there were four new elections to membership. Climax of the meeting, which dealt with a wide variety of matters of interest under headings of correspondence and committee reports, was a stirring and optimistic address by H. G. Perry, life honorary president of the Prince George Board of Trade, who spoke with high confidence of the future of Prince Rupert, the great central and northern interior hinterland and Canada as a whole in the bright new world.

President G. A. Hunter was in the chair and he welcomed, besides Mr. Perry as a guest, Hawthorne Graham, representative of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce, and re-

WAR-SHOCKED TOTS GET AID
UNITARIAN COMMITTEE SEND CASH AND GOODS TO CHILDREN
OTTAWA—A total of $250,000 was raised last year in money and clothing by the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada for the relief of war-shocked children of Europe. The amount raised included $70,000 in cash and $180,000 worth of goods including used clothing, pharmaceuticals, food blankets and textiles. Under the committee's foster-parent scheme, 1,100 European children have been adopted in Canada—431 in British Columbia, 84 in Alberta, 217 in Manitoba, 176 in Saskatchewan, 71 in Hamilton, 43 in Toronto, 23 in Ottawa and 23 in Montreal. Responsibility of the committee is growing daily, said Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova, executive-director, who has just returned from a Dominion-wide lecture tour. "I should like to find foster-parents for 2,000 children within the next three months."

"BRIGHTEN UP" CHURCHES TOLD

Urges Electric Signs, Modern Interior Color

LONDON—The church should take a lesson from movie theatres and pubs and take advantage of electric signs and flood lighting to make itself known and attractive, says the Methodist Church department of chapel affairs.

These are some other suggestions in the report: Old stone walls around churchyards should be removed. A "proper, modern use of color" could replace the black-and-gold lettering of notice boards and posters are desirable.

Inside church buildings, simple color could with advantage replace the stencilled designs and texts which often "disfigure" the walls. Provision of a church canteen aids the fellowship life. The church with a stage for production of cheap comedies would be better off without it, but effective use of suitable drama makes a contribution to the life and spirit of the church.

BBC SEEKS HOME FOR TELEVISION

LONDON—The BBC's tenancy of mammoth Alexandra Palace—headquarters of television broadcasts—has expired. Palace trustees plan to recreate the building for its original purpose as an entertainment centre with a rebuilding scheme costing several million pounds. Meanwhile, the BBC is seeking a new home for television, which has suffered from lack of space since the service reopened last summer.

SHIP OF DESERT LOSING TO PLANE

MONTREAL—The ship of the desert is being replaced by the ship of the sky.

Mohsen Shebab-El-Din, Egyptian delegate to the Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization's council, advises that if you wish to visit the stone Sphinx or labor-built pyramids, take an airplane. It's got it all over the camel.

In the subject of aviation generally the Egyptians delegate said: "Cairo is the hub of aviation for the Mediterranean area and the Middle East. We have 10 commercial airlines operating in and out of the city and there is a great deal of military flying."
