The measure reproduces in this province all the major provisions of a highway safety responsibility scheme that has been in operation in Manitoba for more than a year. Council Sustains New Option
Policy by Narrow Vote Margin

City Council's newly-defined policy on granting land options in the business district came through its first test by a narrow margin last night during a special meeting called to consider an application made on March 10 by Allan Morgan and T. E. Hill for options on two lots at the northwest corner of Third Avenue and McBride Street.

Mr. Morgan and Mr. Hill made their applications for options on lots 13 and 14, block 18, section 1, two days before Hon. E. T. Kenney announced that a pulp mill was to be built at Watson Island. However, they did not come before council until March 24, after the aldermen had revised the city's option-granting policy.

However, between March 12, when the pulp mill was announced, and March 24, when the new option policy was approved, five other applications were received from prospective purchasers for options on business property. There was a strong possibility, the aldermen felt, that these latter applications had been made for purposes of speculation.

Alderman T. N. Youngs moved that Mr. Morgan and Mr. Hill be given 60-day options on the lots they sought at their assessed value of $2,750, declaring that he believed they had made the application with a legitimate intention of starting a new business on the land.

"I doubt if these people had any knowledge that there was going to be a pulp mill here two days in advance of the actual announcement," he said. "I think it was a well-kept secret and that not even any of us knew that it was coming."

Alderman Youngs urged that the council's new option policy be made retroactive to March 12, the day that the pulp mill project was announced, basing his contention on the possibility that applications for options made after that date might have been done so for speculative purposes.

This would have allowed the granting of the Morgan-Hill options but would have outlawed five other applications made between March 12 and March 24.

ALD. YOUNGS CHALLENGED

Alderman Arthur Brooksbank challenged a statement by Alderman Youngs that, if Mr. Morgan's application had been addressed to city council and not to the finance committee, it would have come up at the March 10 council meeting and been approved on a year-length basis.

"I think Mr. Morgan is presuming if he claims that there would have been no objection to granting a year's option on March 10," Alderman Brooksbank declared. "I would have objected. I always have been

of Ultimatums—France Also Criticized

MOSCOW (CP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall, in his bluntest speech at the foreign ministers' conference, denounced Soviet Russia today for delivering an "ultimatum" to the council. "We can never reach real agreement," General Marshall said in commenting on the Russian position, "on the basis of ultimatums or immovable positions."

OPTIONS AND PUBLIC INTEREST

DURING a recession of business and a stalemate in the market for real estate there might have been some doubtful justification for allowing short term options to prospective purchasers of city-owned property.

There is no justification, however, for long term options. The only just reason for granting a short term option would be in the case where a new enterprise requires a short time for inquiry into factors surrounding the construction of its proposed property.

The only basis of any policy by the city council is that which best serves the public interest. We believe they agree.

Th public interest in respect to city-owned property, acquired by the city through failure of owners to pay their taxes, is in disposing of the property to the highest bidder and getting it back on the tax rolls to the end that taxation can be shared by others than those still owning property.

If a person gets an option to purchase property even though for only sixty days he can not be placed on the tax roll for that period. He becomes a speculator, encouraged by the option granted by the city council, and escapes taxation for the period of the option if he fails to take up the same.

The city council should not enter the field of speculation nor encourage the same by a policy of options on public property; a method which is indeed frowned upon by most private owners of property.

There may be, but we do not know of any other cities which have such a policy. In fact the question of the power of a city council to grant options might well be looked into.

This old policy, however, of granting options on property owned by the community through its city corporation is out of line with the otherwise progressive policies of the city council and should be abandoned as quickly as possible.

For nowhere can we find justification for it—in the public interest—with the one exception mentioned above.

And whether legal or otherwise, there is no justification of any sort for continuing a policy of optioning city property at this particular time.

PREPARE FOR GAGS

DON'T tap that egg! Don't snatch that purse! Oh, no! put that stogie down! Instead, make for the hills, men!

It's April Fool Day tomorrow—the day when poker-faced wags, gagsters and cards, urchins and sardonic characters the world over give mankind the hot-foot.

And while screams of anguish, howls of disappointment and silly giggles echo through the house, just remember folks, this day of ribald ribbing has been going on for a long time—too long, you say?

Although April Fool Day is not a holiday in any legal sense, from the time Zeus, that Olympian jester, pulled a dilly on the Greeks it has been a field-day for pranksters.

Legend has it that the jovial god bumped into his puckish son Hermes one dull day. Hermes agreed with his immediate superior to let earth-bound citizens hear it was going to rain buckets—but only fools would get wet. Everybody got soaked, except one sly ancient who had sense enough to sneak into a doorway.

Leaving the Olympians behind, we find that several centuries ago in the land of the tartan, the day was given over to hunting the gowk—or "cuckoo." The idea was that the gullible lad chosen as the gowk was sent on a merry roundabout chase for an unobtainable item. Weakened, famished and minus shoe leather, the poor "cuckoo" would return empty-handed to be the butt of Scottish guffaws.

In France the victims of Latin waggery are charmingly referred to as "poisson d'avril"—April fish!

An inventive chap named Bell gave April Fool sports a new spurt with the telephone. Dog pounds, butchers, undertakers and aquariums on this day will agree that Alexander Graham Bell should have left well enough alone. "Is A. Stiff there?" "No? then what are you in the undertaking business for?" See what we mean?

Therefore, a timely tip: Beware dribble glasses, hand buzzers, explosive fags, elastic chewing gum, "lost" wallets—and don't kick any brick-mined hats left on sidewalks.

SUB-ARCTIC GOLD DIGGER

Randi Andersen of Montreal, only girl photographer who rigorously covers assignments in Canada's sub-Arctic, has met with good fortune in the form of Fernie Calverly, old-time prospector, who made a rich strike at Gold Pan, near Bissett, Man. Here she stakes her first corner post within a stone's throw from where Calverly made his strike at Gold Pan, and stakes nine claims, about 50 acres each; area equivalent to about 500 city blocks. Stakes are marked with prospector's name, mining license number, date and time stake was set. Cost? Five dollars for a miner's license, $5 to record each claim; total for 500 "city blocks" of gold country, $50.

Randi uses a dog-team, bush plane and snowshoes to get to Winnipeg where she records her claim at the recorder's office. To hold the claims, assessment work of clearing the property, diamond drilling or other development must be done each year.

CANADIANS AND BOSTON

BOSTON—"If you scratch a citizen of Massachusetts, there is one chance in four that he is of Canadian birth or descent. The people of Massachusetts do not think of Canadians as strangers or even neighbours. We regard you as relatives and friends." This was the declaration of the governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in welcoming the party of distinguished Canadians, including Premier Angus L. Macdonald, of Nova Scotia, and Premier J. Walter Jones, of Prince Edward Island, who came to Boston at the week-end on the inauguration of the new service of Trans-Canada Air Lines linking New England with Halifax, Saint John, Yarmouth and Sydney.

A luncheon, tendered by the Canadian Club of Boston, was attended by all the leading officers of the state as well as business leaders. J. Ernest Kerr, past president of the Canadian Club, presided, and the speakers included, in addition to Governor Bradford, the lieutenant governor, Arthur C. Coolidge.

Premier MacDonald of Nova Scotia thanked the state on behalf of the Canadian party for the cordial welcome extended. "I know the air line will not only be successful commercially, but will add to the happy relations between New England and the Maritime provinces," he said.

Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island pointed out that the Maritime Provinces afforded excellent facilities for vacations and said that he had already booked Governor Bradford as a visitor to Prince Edward Island and other points in the Maritimes this summer.

Walter S. Thompson, C.B.E., director of public relations for Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines, represented H. J. Symington, C.M.G.

K.C., president of T.C.A., and Air Vice-Marshal A. T. Cowley, director of air services, Department of Transport, Ottawa, represented Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction and supply, at the luncheon.

Mr. Thompson outlined the progress of Trans-Canada Air Lines since its inception 10 years ago. "The Boston-Maritimes service," he said, "was the fulfillment of a long cherished hope on the part of the air line and as well as adding another bond between Canada and the United States provided through its company's transatlantic services, another weld in the structure of the International Commonwealth of Nations."

The Canadian party left Halifax on Saturday morning and arrived in Boston in time for luncheon. In the evening, they attended the play-off hockey game between the Boston Bruins and the Montreal Canadiens as guests of Governor Bradford. The party left Boston Sunday afternoon on the homeward leg of their flight over the new T.C.A. route. The seventh international service to be operated by the company.

E. F. BIART IS TRANSFERRED TO VANCOUVER

With the closing here of the branch sales office of War Assets Corporation, E. F. Biart, who has been here as branch sales manager for the last year is leaving Tuesday for Vancouver where, it is expected, he will take up similar duties at the Vancouver office. War Assets sales at Prince Rupert will in future be handled through the regional sales office at Vancouver although it is rumored that a policy of "spot selling" on the warehouse floor may be put into effect here, thus making it unnecessary for such transactions to be done through the Vancouver office. Mr. Biart came here last April from Vancouver to take charge of the local sales office.

OOLICHAN RUN GOING STRONG

Native people from the Naas River, Port Simpson and elsewhere on this part of the coast are gathered two hundred or more strong and in as many as fifty boats at Fishery Bay at the mouth of the Naas River for the annual harvest of the delicate oolichan fish, some of which have reached Cow Bay here to be dispensed direct from the boats. Yearly at this time, the natives gather at Fishery Bay for the infallible oolichan run. These fish, rendered into grease and some dried, are a traditionally important part of the natives' store of food.

BASKETBALL PLAY-OFFS—

Bo-Me-Hi Wins Again; Are Nearing The Senior "A" Title

MACEY'S AND GYROS ALSO WINNERS SATURDAY NIGHT

Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers pounced on the hapless Savoy squad in the opening phrase of the Senior "A" basketball championship finals, downing their rivals 67-47 in a fast and furious battle Saturday night. Mel Thompson was the star for the lads from Bo-Me-Hi, racking up 20 counters for his team. Savoy could not get rolling as the High School quintet threw a hex on the hotelmen, outscoring them in every frame. In their effort to take the win, the students ran afoul of the referees and were handed 25 of the game's 37 fouls. Two lads from the campus were banished on five fouls as Forman and Ciccone, the two defensemen, played the last quarter of the game from the bench.

In the opening minutes of the mix-up, Savoy was momentarily in the lead but then the High School steam roller got moving and before the first frame was ended, they had the lead 11-9. Displaying their famous "fire-horse" tactics, the Rainmakers gave the fans a thrilling display of sensational shooting. By the time the first half ended the students were well out in front 25-16. After the breather Thompson of the Rainmakers began to find his range and, from here on in, it was Thompson leading the way.

Savoy were left still farther behind as this third quarter proceeded with the students keeping up their drive by outscoring the hotelmen 20-10. This brought the third frame to a close 45-26.

Savoy came out of their slump in the last period but still they could not catch up to the high flying Rainmakers. Although they, dropped in 21 points the effort was a little too late.

The usual power line for the Savoy squad T. Arney, Morgan and R. Holkestad, was held practically to a standstill although Holkestad was not enough to net 15 points. But Morgan and Arney were checked down to a mere 5 and 6 points respectively. One outstanding feature of this match was that every player on the floor was dished out at least one foul by referee Johnny Comadina and umpire Vern Ciccone. Still the game was decidedly clean, featuring very little rough play.

The win gives High School the edge when the two clubs clash again on Tuesday night. Savoy have to win on Tuesday or else High School will be the Senior "A" hoop champions of Prince Rupert.

Scorer for the match was Syd Woodside with Don Forward handling the time.

Savoy—T. Arney 5, M. Holkestad 10, Morgan 6, D. Arney 3, R. Holkestad 15, Murray, Haugan, Davis 8. Total 47.

Bo-Me-Hi—Hartwig 7, Lavigne 14, Thompson 20, Forman, Ciccone 11, Flaten 8, Davidson 2, Skog 3, Infernela 2. Total 67.

CLOSE SENIOR "B" ENCOUNTER
Setting a record in the foul department with 50 divided between each club, Co-Op and Macey's battled through four furious periods which were somewhat marred by too much whistle blowing in the opening game of the Senior "B" finals, before the upturn boys were able to walk off with a 49-46 win. It was the closest game of the night with neither squad ever having a very big edge at any moment.

In the opening frame Macey's came out on top with the score standing at 10-9. Then in the second frame Co-op leapt out in front to lead 21-20 at the half-time breather. Again in the third stanza the Co-op shots kept them out in front and the frame closed up with Macey's on the short side 39-36.

The pace in the last stanza was really terrific and the result of it was the showers for four players, two from each squad. This was when Macey's forged into the lead. With two minutes yet to go, Co-op elected to take a penalty shot from the side and try for the field basket, but the attempt was unsuccessful. Almost immediately afterwards they were given the same chance and again they tried to even the score up. But still they were to be denied. Then Macey's dropped in another free throw and that gave them a three point lead and suddenly the game was over.

Actually Co-op lost this match because of their poor free-throwing ability. Macey's dropped in 11 out of 25 attempts while Co-op only converted 8 from their 27 attempts.

On Tuesday night these two rivals will go into battle in the second match of their three-game series.

Officials in the game were Boyo Gurvich, referee, Don Hartwig, umpire, Sid Woodside, scorer and Ratchford, timer.

Co-op led in the scoring honors with Sheppard and Slatta netting 15 and 14 points respectively.

Macey's—Menzie 11, Gill 7, Haugan 4, M. Pierce 4, Teng, James 8, B. Pierce 11, Arnsen 4. Total 49.

Co-op—Menzie 6, Slatta 14, Sheppard 15, Petersen 2, Ciccone 6, Viereck 3, Leland, Pavlikis. Total 46.

GYROS WIN
After getting off to a very slow start, Gyro swept through the Legion for a 39-22 win in the Junior League's opening play-off match. D. Scherk and Haugan were the net experts for the night with 12 points apiece.

Legion's usual high man, Boulter, went through the night without being able to find the hoop for a single field basket. In fact Legion in the whole first half had only had one basket to their credit.

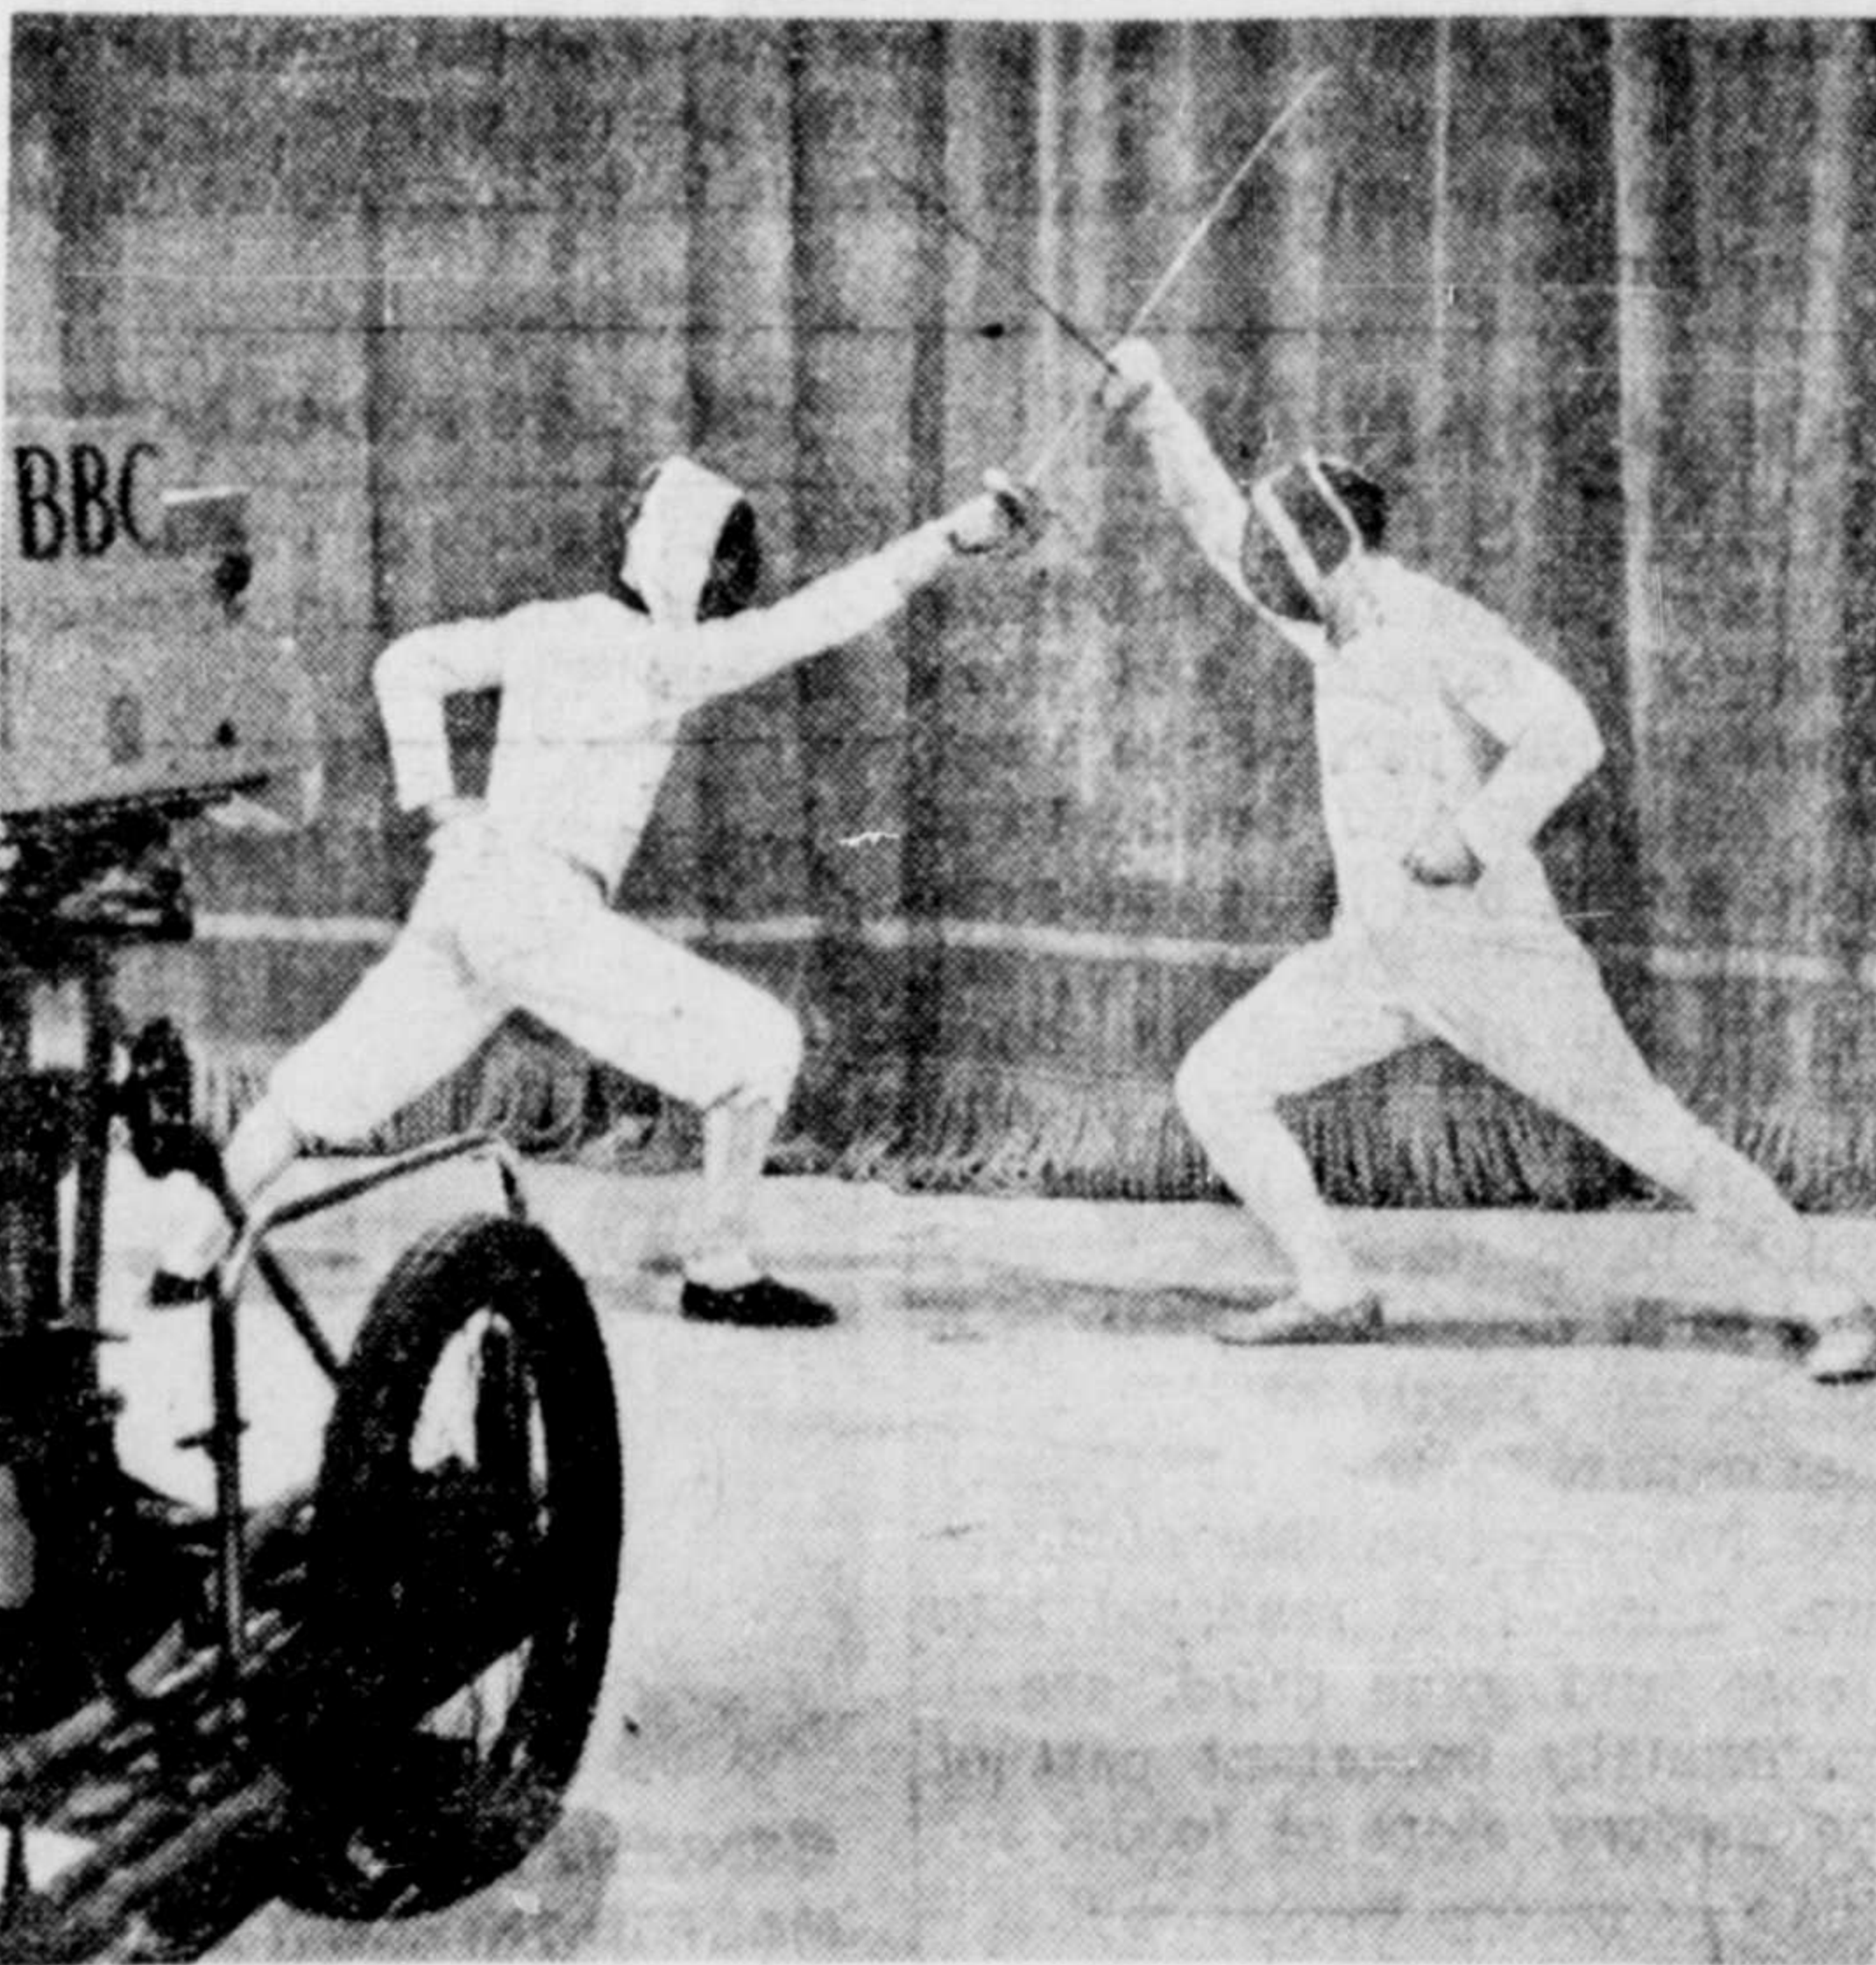

Gyro were held in the first quarter to only two free throws and this was the only frame in which Legion held the lead. The stanza closed up with a 4-2 reading for the Legionaires.

From here on it was Gyro setting the pace. At the half the score was 12-5 for Syd Woodside's lads. The third frame was disastrous for the Legion as Gyro swept through for 19 counters while only 6 were racked up by the losers. This brought the score to 31-11. Legion put on a feeble attempt in the last frame and, although they outscored Gyro 11-8, it was not a very serious threat.

QUINTUPLETS A BOVINE RARITY—Dr. L. J. Smith may never become as famous as Canada's renowned late Dr. Dafoe, even though both participated in births of almost equal rarity. With Dr. Smith, however, the quintuplet birth occurred in the bovine world. He is shown with the big five Nebraska quintuplet calves born Nov. 26, 1945, on the farm of Leo Schmoldt, Fairbury, Neb. This is the second case of quint calves recorded in the world and the first in the U.S. They are the only ones to live more than eight days. They caused so much commotion that farmer Schmoldt claimed the public was unsettling his farm and sold the quint calves to Dr. Smith, who is credited with saving their lives. The names of the calves are: L. to R., Russia, England, China, France, and the United States.

jured in the last frame but returned to the match as soon as he was bandaged.

These two squads will meet again on Tuesday for the second game of their finals.

Legion—Olson 4, Lien 3, Wong 6, Hill 2, Boulter 2, Forman 4, Eldsvick 1, Davies. Total 22.

Gyro—Scherk 10, Haugan 12, D. Scherk 12, Sunberg, Mercer 4, Moore 1, S. Scherk, Sharpe, Donaldson. Total 39.

Final Rites for Late James Lee Bethurem Held Sunday

TERRACE—Following funeral service at Usk on Saturday, interment of the late James Lee Bethurem, sawmill operator and business man of Usk, whose death occurred suddenly last week, took place in Kitsumkalum Cemetery here yesterday afternoon. There was a large gathering in attendance for the final rites.

Mr. Bethurem died suddenly on Friday morning at 8:45 at his sawmill. He had gone as usual to the mill which he and W. R. Adams operate and, after spending some time in the office, left to go to the washroom. As he entered this building he collapsed and died almost immediately.

Later in the morning Coroner Will Robinson, Dr. S. G. Mills and police officers proceeded from here to the scene of death and the coroner, by inquiry, established that death was due to natural causes.

Mr. Bethurem was 59 years of age. He had spent the most of his life on the Skeena River, having been at Kitselas during the steamboat days. When the railway opened he moved to Usk and established the pioneer department store there. He also served as postmaster, mining recorder and commissioner of oaths. For the last few years he had been actively engaged in the lumber manufacturing business with W. R. Adams.

Deceased leaves his widow, one daughter and stepsons and stepdaughters.

Princess Kathleen to Run Here —Week-end Shipping Activity

While the immediate plan is to operate the vessel again on the triangle run from Vancouver to Victoria and Seattle, C. P. R. steamer Princess Kathleen, which is undergoing an extensive remodelling at Victoria after having been in naval service throughout the recent war, is intended to be used in the Alaska service through Prince Rupert, starting 1948, and the work on the vessel has been planned with that end in view, according to word received here. The Princess Kathleen is to have accommodation for 300 passengers and a large proportion of her rooms will have private baths. Two new ships are being built in the Old Country for the Triangle Run which will be handled this summer by the Princess Kathleen and Princess Charlotte.

Her passengers consisting chiefly of Yukon & White Pass Route employees going north to make ready for the season's operations, which are expected to be back again this summer pretty much on the pre-war basis of catering to large numbers of tourists, C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. Graham Hughes, was in port from 9:30 to 11:30 Sunday morning northbound. In all the vessel had on board 117 passengers when she arrived here, one dis-embarking at this port. Six proceeded north from Prince Rupert on the vessel which had 200 tons of freight for Skagway. Southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, the Princess Norah is due back here Thursday afternoon. The Norah will be taken over by the larger Princess Louise. The Louise and Norah will again carry out the Alaska tourist service of the company during the summer.

Union Steamer Cassiar, Capt. Lorne Godfrey, returned to port at 11 o'clock yesterday morning from Massett Inlet points and sailed at midnight last night for Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Island points. Southbound, the Cassiar is making a special call at Massett today with further delegates for the annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia, this being in addition to the regular south end of the Island calls.

Delayed by having had extra calls to make on the way up the coast, Union steamer Coquitlam arrived in port at 11:30 last night from Vancouver and way-points, some three hours or more behind usual arrival time, and sailed early this morning for Stewart and other northern points where she will return here tomorrow morning to sail south at 1:30 p.m.

Veteran Master of Big American Freezer Ship Loves Canadians

CAPT. OSCAR PETERSON ADMIRES PRINCE RUPERT PEOPLE FOR FRIENDLINESS—ONCE OPERATED HALIBUT BOAT HERE

"I love Canadians. They are so friendly and courteous to everybody. Believe me, you don't find people like that everywhere—seafaring men at least don't." So said Capt. Oscar Peterson, raw-boned and weather-beaten sixty-year-old skipper of the Northland Transportation Co.'s big refrigerator ship Lucidor which was in port during the week-end with 30 carloads of various types of frozen fish from Alaska for transshipment East over the Canadian National Railways.

Capt. Peterson, as he reminisced with a Daily News representative Sunday morning, was directing his remarks of appreciation directly to Prince Rupert, to which port he is, indeed, no stranger. Although master of one of the largest vessels which now calls frequently at his port, he spoke also as a small boat operator for, prior to World War II, he owned and operated the well known Seattle halibut boat Superior which used to make this her regular port for delivery of catches. "You people here," he remarked "have a good name among the Americans for your courtesy and consideration of the small boats, something which cannot be said of all ports."

Capt. Peterson is a native of Sweden and he came out from the Old Country when he was 17 years of age. He obtained his master's ticket in sail. "You know," he confided to the newspaperman, "I was in my day one of those 'tough' mates you sometimes heard and read about." He told of knocking around the world first in sail and later in steam until he became interested in the halibut fishing on this coast. He recalled how at Prince Rupert during

FUR YIELD IS LOW THIS YEAR

Trapping season in the western district has now closed with an output which is considerably below average this year because of such factors as low price, bad weather and exceptionally heavy snows. However, the season for beaver, otter and muskrat is still open in the eastern district and, when the snow gets a little lower, it is expected a number of trappers will be going out.

World War I he received for one of his catches the highest price ever paid for halibut—23c a pound straight. Capt. Peterson disposed of the Superior in 1939 and, during World War II, sailed all over the world in transport service. Last year he took over command of the Lucidor at San Francisco for the Northland Transportation Co.

BIG LOAD OF FISH FOR PRINCE RUPERT

The Lucidor's run now consists of moving United States Army supplies northward from Seattle to Whittier in Prince William Sound and filling up with Alaska frozen fish southbound. Coming in here at noon Saturday she had on board a full cargo—about half of which was discharged here for transshipment. Sailing at 3 o'clock yesterday with the other half of the cargo, ultimately destined for Seattle still on board, the Lucidor is going back to Juneau to pick up another 30 cars for delivery here and will then go on to Seattle with the balance.

The fish which the Lucidor discharged here at the week-end came principally from Pelican, Sitka and Juneau with one car from Ketchikan.

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (C)—A six-month-old pup bit his master's child just once too often the other day. Owner J. B. Tough asked the police to destroy the dog and said it had bitten the child "on several occasions."

"Open the Door, Richard"

The great outdoors calls, so "Pidge," the pet of little Donald and Sandra Jean Robinson of Lincoln, Mass., gives out with the feline version of the current song hit. The photographer did not disclose whether his youthful owners answered the plea.

VETERANS' COMEBACK

Moving Story of Rehabilitation Showing at Capitol Theatre

The moving story of how three ex-service heroes solve the problems of readjustment to peacetime life is the theme of the romantic drama "Till the End of Time," feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here this Tuesday and Wednesday. The heroes are Guy Madison, Robert Mitchum and Bill Williams while Dorothy McGuire dominates the romantic interest.

Each of the returned men have their separate and distinct problems which they elect to solve in their own way. Madison is disturbed by his fond parents who want him to settle into a job and get married almost before he takes off his uniform. Miss McGuire is a young war widow with whom he falls in love and who, with patience and understanding, steers him into clear waters.

Mitchum has some expensive fun before buying a farm and settling down. Williams is an ex-pugilist who has lost both legs and hope as well but who, with the help of his friends, wins through.

ANCIENT SUN-BATHS
