Local Man Starts Drive for National Housing Act Here

Leonard W. Leigh Leads Bureau, Loan Companies In Effort to Build Home Under Government Plan

The design for a home, published in the Daily News this week has inspired Leonard W. Leigh of 1345 Sixth Avenue East, to spearhead a campaign to learn why Canada's National Housing Act—created to facilitate home construction—cannot be made applicable to Prince Rupert.

Mr. Leigh, who is an accountant at Atlin Fisheries, went into action when he saw in the Daily News the plans and description of an N.H.A. "Home of the Month" which he decided was ideally suitable for his family. He decided to find out why such a home could not be built in Prince Rupert under N.H.A. sponsorship.

"I have only been in Prince Rupert a few months," he said, "but I feel that I will be living here a long time. I have tried to buy a house but there has been nothing for sale that I felt justified in putting money into. I feel the only way to get what I want is to build."

At present, Mr. Leigh, who came from Vancouver, is living in a wartime house with his wife and two sons. The temporary nature of the house has added to his desire to possess his own home here.

Aware that an organization known as the Prince Rupert Housing Association had previously started action to have N.H.A. made available here, Mr. Leigh went to the secretary of that association and had the background of its negotiations outlined to him. Its failure to get results started him off on a one-man campaign.

He went to a bank where he was informed by the manager that the law does not permit banks to make loans under the National Housing Act. The bank manager referred him to a building contractor for more information.

INSURANCE OF HEALTH

Is Fully Debated in Legislature—Opposition Blames the Government for Delay

VICTORIA, — A full health insurance debate developed in the Legislature Tuesday during discussion of estimates of the health and welfare department.

The Opposition criticized the government's failure to implement provisions of the Health Insurance Act placed on the statute books in 1936.

Hon. George Pearson, minister of health, said the government was still gathering information, but announced that plans were under way to extend health units all over the province including isolated districts.

Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. MacKenzie, charged that the medical profession had hijacked the health insurance bill. Doctors should be made to comply with the law.

Don. C. Brown, Coalition, Vancouver-Burrard, charged that the Registered Nurses' Association had issued permits to graduate nurses outside the province but was now telling the permit holders that they must leave positions in training school hospitals.

Mr. Pearson indicated that the government did not intend to erect a new building to replace the Marpole infirmary this year. The question was still under consideration. He said it was impossible to build at the moment.

The minister of health also said that a conference between the government and the Union of British Columbia Municipalities and the British Columbia Hospitals Association would be held soon to discuss new arrangements under which the province would meet eighty per cent of the cost of social assistance under the terms of the Goldenberg Commission recommendations.

HOUSING PROBLEM

WITH large scale industrial activity now assured for Prince Rupert, housing will once again become a major problem here. We recall how difficult the housing situation was during the recent war days. Then the demand was principally for temporary accommodation for workers in the war industries, many of whom were temporary residents with little or no intention of remaining permanently, or families of members of the forces, who were not much more than campers.

The new population of Prince Rupert which is now about to come, however, will be permanent people with good jobs and they will intend to stay. As the supply of good houses is so limited already, many of them will want to build. In fact, there are people here already who would build and again thought turns to the possibility of doing so under the provisions of the National Housing Act, attempts to avail ourselves of which have already been made on several occasions here, always bogging down for some reason or other.

One prospective home builder under the National Housing Act, who is in a position to go ahead under such government financing, has agreed to co-operate with the Daily News reportorial staff while proceeding with his negotiations. Arrangements have been made whereby his progress will be followed step by step and recorded in our news columns. Thereby, we are hoping to keep the public informed as to just what happens and clarify what real obstacles, if any, may arise to prevent prospective home builders in Prince Rupert from availing themselves of government aid in solving their own housing problems.

Often the guy who seems to be so fairminded never seems to have a mind of his own about anything.

National Housing—

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a crown company, and an approved lending institution," Mr. Leigh said. "I decided to see if I could get a lead from the local office of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which is represented by Wartime Housing."

"At the Wartime Housing office, I was told that it was doubtful if the corporation would do anything to build homes here, since there are so many wartime houses available. However, I was referred to D. H. Back, director of housing, Vancouver."

Mr. Leigh's first out-of-town project in his quest for an N.H.A. home is to communicate with Mr. Back.

From information garnered by the Prince Rupert Housing Association, it would appear that one of the prime requirements to making N.H.A. available here is that there must be a sufficient number of prospective builders in order to justify the start of a project. The Housing Association itself contained more than 30 members who had expressed an interest in building homes.

"I don't think that we would have any trouble finding enough prospective builders to justify a project if N.H.A. would move in," Mr. Leigh said confidently. "I know of several who are eager to build permanent homes."

The "approved lending corporation," through which loans must be negotiated, is the key to the situation, in the opinion of members of the Prince Rupert Housing Association. The association's correspondence indicates that if some insurance company would make N.H.A. loans in Prince Rupert, other problems would be secondary.

The association's efforts to interest the Sun Life Assurance Co., which is operating Prince George's N.H.A. project, so far have been barren. Other companies have expressed mild interest, but have taken no action.

As a starter, Mr. Leigh plans to write Sun Life Co.'s investment department at Vancouver asking what would be the specific requirements of the company to start the N.H.A. ball rolling in Prince Rupert.

Mr. Leigh feels that in the light of announced industrial developments in the Prince Rupert area, permanent housing may become an even more acute problem. It is a problem he wants to beat.

TWO "BILLS OF RIGHTS" FAVORED

By Citizens' Forum
At Meeting Last Night

In discussing the question "Does Canada Need a Bill of Rights?" last night, members of Prince Rupert's Citizens' Forum went first class. They decided that Canada needs two Bills of Rights. One should be a civil bill which would affirm the ancient civil liberties and the second should be a "social" bill, which would define the social responsibilities of society to its members.

Wartime regulations, which in some instances are being embodied in the post-war laws of the country, and a "craze for legislation" which is allegedly afflicting the country's lawmakers, are tending to obscure, if not disregard, the civil rights of the people, the meeting felt.

Employment of these regulations could easily establish precedents in which basic rights might be considered secondary to expediency, as was illustrated in last year's espionage arrests, when Canadian citizens and others were reported arrested and held incommunicado as Russian spies. Some were later found innocent.

A civil Bill of Rights, on a federal basis, embracing the whole of Canada would be desirable, rather than a series of provincial bills, as a means of affirming the ancient British civil concepts, the meeting agreed.

In addition, however, a "Social" bill, which would have as its basis the principle that the aged and infirm should be accorded full personal and economic dignity by law, that Canada owes to its weaker citizens the right to decent living standards, was favored by the meeting. Men and women who have labored to the country's benefit should be accorded the dignity of good living standards after their days of usefulness are over. People who arrive at such a condition, whether through age or illness, should be looked after by the country rather than be thrown on friends or other individuals.

The meeting agreed that the conception of "social" rights was divided from "civil" liberties, but that they were no less important.

Chairman of the meeting, which was held in the Civic Centre, was George Mayers.

Uncover Old Carving In Bombed Cathedral

MANCHESTER, Eng. (C)—A German bomb which shattered part of Manchester Cathedral six years ago has led to the discovery of a 15th century carving of the head of Ralph Langley—its warden from 1465 to 1481. In the medieval woodwork for which the cathedral is famed, workmen found the rich ornamental carving buried under a thick layer of dust. Cathedral records show that Langley was one of a trio of Lancashire men responsible for building the church in its present form.

FIRE DESTROYS WANTAGE CABIN

A cabin on Wantage Road, occupied by Tony Webster, was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon after city firemen, who raced to the blaze, were able to put up only a feeble battle due to the fact that the building was a great distance from the nearest water hydrant. The water carried by the pumper truck was insufficient to put out the fire which had gained considerable headway before the fire department was called. The cabin was too far from the nearest hydrant to connect hose-line. Damage to the building was complete, although most of its contents were saved by Webster and his neighbors. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

REDDY KILOWATT — Your Electric Servant

"Well, first of all" says Reddy
"The whole set-up is clear:
The heat is clean, electric heat:
No flame nor fumes to fear,"

"Hot water as you need it,
From early morn till night;
For dishes, laundry, baths and such,
It is a wondrous sight!"

"And though you may not think it,
The cost is mighty low,
For an automatic heater that is Always on the go."

Yes, an automatic electric water heater is a necessity in almost any home. It's so nice to get up in the morning to steaming water for your shower—with plenty of hot water all through the day for household needs and still more for the children's baths at bedtime. Just a few cents worth of electricity heats enough water to float young Johnnie and his whole fleet of wooden ships!

Basketball— Savoy Wins Over High

Rainmakers Show Strain of Long Grind—Other Thrilling Hoop Games

The strain which the Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers have been under for the past two weeks showed its effects in last night's Senior "A" battle as Savoy nearly walked away with the 55-43 win. Savoy had it all over the students in the first three frames of the game but in the last period, although it was much too late, the students of the green and gold suddenly came to life and made the hotel men fight hard to take the win.

It was an entirely different kind of game that started out last night with neither squad displaying their usual tactics. High School tried out some pretty strange defense moves while Savoy had switched over from working the ball in to long distance shooting. The first frame ended up with an 8-7 lead for the Savoy squad.

In the second period the students fell apart and, when the half time breather had arrived they were on the short end of the 19 to 10 score.

Even more disastrous for the lads from Booth was the onslaught of the third frame as Savoy swept through for 20 points while the winners of the second half managed to net only 7. This brought the score to 39-17 at the three-quarter mark. As the last frame got under way the fans were treated to the brand of ball playing that they had come to see—wide open play with both teams streaking up the floor and no reserves about it. This was definitely the Rainmakers' style and they made the most of it. Booming in 26 points to Savoy's 16, they crept; with in 12 points of the winners, but they had led the game go too far to have much hope of any catching up to the high-flying Savoy quintet. However, by putting on this last period drive, the fans were assured that whoever gets into the playoffs with High School—Savoy or B. C. Packers—it will be wide open ball and nothing but!

Heib Morgan was the power man of the night, racking up a modest 14 points to lead the parade with M. Holkestad and J. Davis also of Savoy running together in the second place spot with ten points each.

Johnny Comadina and Bobby Houston were in charge of the whistle blowing end of the game, and in this capacity they were really kept busy. They dished out a total of 37 personal fouls—20 to High School and 17 to the Savoy. At the same time they sent four men to the showers by way of personal foul circuit—two from each squad.

Rainmakers—Thompson (5) 8; Lavigne (1) 6; Hartwig (3) 9; Ciccone (4) 9; Forman (5) 6; Platen (2), Skog 5; Intermela, Davidson. Total 43.

Savoy—R. Holkestad (5) 4; T. Arney (1) 8; M. Holkestad (2) 10; D. Arney, Murray (2) 9; Morgan (2) 14. Total 55.

EXHIBITION IN SENIOR "B"

Macey's fabulous record of 18 straight wins was stopped last night as a rejuvenated Co-op squad downed them 38-26 in an exhibition Senior "B" game, taking the place of the regular league fixture between Co-op and Port Edward.

Co-op started off with a vengeance and had topped an 11-4 lead by the end of the first frame. Macey's fought back in the second period, but could not narrow the gap down as the first half of the ball game came to a close with the Co-op still on top 21-14. Checking hard, but still keeping up their offensive, Co-op stretched their lead to 28-18 at three-quarter time. Fighting hard to keep up their fine winning streak, Macey's fell apart in the last frame as the pace began to tell on the tiring line. With only six players the uptown boys made a valiant attempt to keep in the running and for a while they crept up to within four points of their victors. But Co-op got rolling again and, when the game came to an end, they were the conquerors of the Senior "B" second half winners.

The win for the Co-op last night sharpens the interest in the Senior "B" play-offs which are scheduled to get under way this Saturday night. If Co-op can down Port Edward in the semi-finals and, if they do meet Macey's in the finals, their three game series will definitely be an interesting series to watch. The high scorers for the night shared the spotlight with Petersen and Ciccone of Co-op and B. Pierce of Macey's each making ten points apiece. Handling the whistles was in charge of N. J. Gurvich and A. S. Bill.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS WIN

The fairer sex put on an interesting show in their last game of the current season with the Bo-Me-Hi Rainbirds coming out on top of Peoples Store 24-15.

In the opening period the Peoples Store quintet outshot the Co-ops in field baskets but the girls from the High School made good use of their free throws and had the lead 5-4 at the first quarter breather. In the second frame Peoples Store got the jump and moved into a 10-9 lead at the half. After the half the Rainbirds walked away with the game as the uptown girls were held to only five free throws in the remaining part of the match. The third quarter ended in a 15-15 tie. Then, in the last eight minutes of the mixup, High School broke loose and took over the lead without the Peoples Store making any real serious drive against the Co-ops.

Jackie Budinich kept up her reputation by dropping in her customary 14 points last night to once again lead in the scoring.

Peoples Store—Grey 4; Sandahls 3; Bill 4; Berg 3; Thornton 1; Balagno, Vuckovich. Total 15.

High School—B. Hamilton 4; R. Thain 4; J. Budinich 14; N. Bill 2; McKenzie, Howe, A. Ham-

JUNIOR GAME WAS THRILLER

The Junior game started the night of upsets as Watts and Nickerson squeezed out a narrow 36-34 overtime win against their cellar neighbors, Grotto.

It was as thrilling a game as has ever been displayed in the Civic Centre gym, with Ray Spring of the Watts and Nickerson squad pulling the game out of the fire for the clothiers with a beautiful one-handed push shot in the closing seconds.

It was a wide-open brand of ball that was displayed as the match got under way with Watts and Nickerson having a three-point lead at the first quarter mark, 16-13. By checking hard and moving on to a fast offensive attack the clothiers jumped way out in the lead with the half time score standing at 26-15. But the cigar store lads came roaring back in the third frame to whittle their rivals' lead down to three points with this stanza coming to a close at 30-27. The last period drive put on by the Grotto paid off when in the closing seconds the game was all tied up at 32-32.

After checking the scorebook, referee Vern Ciccone started the overtime period which saw the two squads square off for that little extra drive to try and snatch the win. R. Anderson of the Grotto dropped in a quick shot to put the loserz up a couple of points. Kelly of the clothiers evened things up with a lovely shot. In the dying moments of the overtime with the score all levelled off, Ray Spring broke loose and swished a looper in almost from the centre line. Then with just three seconds to go, Grotto tried vainly to even it up but the checking of Watts and Nickerson sewed the ball up tight and the game was over.

Youngman of the Grotto squad walked off with the high score, netting himself 13 points. Ray

Clash of Interests in Beam Trawl Fishing UNIONISM and FISHERMEN'S CO-OPERATIVES

Can a Union Actively Supporting One Business Negotiate Fairly for the Employees of Competing Businesses?

In the highly competitive fishing industry of British Columbia, all fishing companies must work towards the same objectives:

- 1 to provide the most favorable conditions and the highest returns to the individual fisherman in order to maintain goodwill and thus obtain fish.
- 2 to conduct the most efficient and economical plant and distribution system.
- 3 to sell to the best possible advantage in the uncertain and highly competitive North American fish markets.

The independent fishing companies believe they should have the right to buy fish from any beam trawl vessel that wishes to sell to them at open market prices.

This is the right that the Union continues to give exclusively to the co-operatives while it demands that the independent companies sign a contract guaranteeing a fixed minimum price.

The United Fishermen & Allied Workers' Union apparently has rejected the policy of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, of which it is a part.

Mr. Green said: "We believe that private business and private industry have made tremendous contributions to the development of our country in the past and will take advantage of the glowing opportunities for even greater growth in the future. For these services to the people, we concede that the owners and managers of private property are entitled to a fair profit. We of the American Federation of Labor will oppose any attempt to abridge, restrict or interfere with the functions of free enterprise."

But here is what Mr. George Miller, president of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, wrote in an article for "The Fisherman", (published jointly by the Union and the fishermen's co-operatives):

"There can be no separation of interests in the Co-op and Trade Union field because their interests as workers are identical. On the one hand they are striving to better conditions through signed agreements with the operators, and this can only be achieved by the Union; and on the other, to eliminate private capital and handle business directly from producer to consumer."

The independent fish buyers and fishing companies have no quarrel with the fishermen's co-operatives. But they do not think that the interests of fishermen and plant employees are best served when Fishermen's Union officials become deeply involved in fishermen's co-operatives.

Will such a Union, which is committed to the building of co-operatives, deal fairly with independent companies?

Can this Union negotiate fairly with independent companies concerning the livelihood of its own Union members who are employed by independents in processing plants?

Can it do justice to the independent fishermen who wish to sell their fish to competing independent companies and to avoid a monopoly on buying?

What do you think?

Two Hundred Attend Tuesday Afternoon Affair at Civic Centre

The Civic Centre Cafeteria was the venue for more than 200 co-operators and their friends yesterday afternoon at the "Get Acquainted With Your University" tea, given under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative. Receiving the guests were Miss Lin Brown and Doug. Clark, U.B.C. Field Workers in Co-operative Education.

"One of the primary purposes of a university," declared Miss Brown in a brief address, "is to help direct the economic and cultural activities for the betterment and advancement of the people."

Posters were displayed to arouse interest in the various phases of the University Extension Department, particularly in the Consumer's Co-operative Movement more especially in Prince Rupert.

Other topics dealt with were a conference on school buildings, grounds and equipment, April 10, 11, 12; summer school in radio writing July 7 to Aug. 16; workshop in international relations, July 7 to Aug. 8.

THE SCARS OF WAR ARE DEEP
.. will you help heal them?

The war isn't over for many of our veterans. Many of them, are still in hospital. It's tedious, lying in a hospital bed, and that's where the Red Cross steps in. Red Cross workers regularly bring our men candy, cigarettes, books and other comforts. Patients who are able, get handicraft supplies and instructions to keep them occupied through the long days in bed. The Red Cross has established lodges at veterans' hospitals, where ex-service men and their families may visit together in pleasant, homelike surroundings. Overnight accommodation is provided for next-of-kin visitors. The Red Cross can carry on these works of mercy only with your help... won't you do your part?

"CENTENNIAL SUMMER" HERE

Colorful Picture With Brilliant Cast and Tunesome
Music Coming to Capitol

Brilliant filmization in technical color of a best-selling novel embellished with tuneful new melodies of Jerome Kern, "Centennial Summer," with a cast of such stars as Jeanne Crain, Cornell Wilde, Linda Darnell, William Eythe, Walter Brennan, Constance Bennett and Dorothy Gish, is an outstanding attraction for the screen of the Capitol theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The story is that of the amusing and romantic adventures of one Philadelphia family in 1876, the year of the great centennial Exposition. Jeannie Crain is the dreamy, romantic and forthright younger daughter of the family, Cornell Wilde has the part of the Parisian who learned about love in Philadelphia. Linda Darnell is the capricious older sister whose eyes set off a fierce romantic competition. William Eythe is the up and coming young doctor who is determined to become Philadelphia's first specialist in obstetrics. Walter Brennan is the harassed head of the family about which the story revolves, while Dorothy Gish is the mother. Constance Bennett is the playful widow from Paris.

From The Waterfront

After putting up an average pack, Nelson Bros. Fish Canners at Port Edward wound up herring canning for the season last week-end and will commence now getting the plant in readiness for the salmon canning season. Two freighters will call at Port Edward later this week to load canned herring for Vancouver where it will be transhipped to England. The freighters will be the Frank Waterhouse vessel Chilliwack, which is due here tonight or tomorrow morning, and the British Columbia Steamship Ltd. Alaska Prince.

On her regular weekly voyage, C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Ernest Caldwell, arrived in port at 11 o'clock this morning from Vancouver and Ocean Falls with an average-sized list of passengers and will sail at midnight for Ketchikan whence she will return here tomorrow night southbound.

DEAD AT 85

W. C. Durant, Who Twice
Controlled General Motors,
Passes in East

NEW YORK — William C. Durant, 85, shrewd "bull market" operator, who twice held and twice lost control of General Motors, died Tuesday in a quiet Gramercy Park apartment where he spent his last few years after a declaration of bankruptcy.

"He had been ill since October, 1942."

Durant was organizer of General Motors Corporation in 1908. Starting in 1886 with $1,000 capital, partly borrowed, he built and lost fortunes which at one time amounted to $90,000,000. He filed bankruptcy statements in 1936.

Seeks Music Career As Eyesight Fails

MELBOURNE, Australia — Eric Hailes, former member of the Royal Australian Air Force, is preparing for approaching blindness by training as a pianist and piano-tuner. Hailes, who joined the air force in 1942 was discharged two years ago after a blow had caused the failure of one eye and the trouble started to spread to the other. He took up the piano and piano-tuning through the government rehabilitation service which supplied him with a piano. Blind instructor George Findlay who has charge of Hailes says he is making good progress.

SUNDERLAND, Eng. — Shipyard workers on the river Wear have a program of orders that will take nearly three years to complete.

REGINA — The first blind persons' cribbage league in Canada is under way in Regina with members of the Canadian National Institute of the Blind meeting once a week for play on a special cribbage board introduced from England. Only differences between the special board and ordinary boards are the raised eyelets around each hole. It was brought to Regina, head office of the C.N.I.B., by Stan Edminson, executive officer of the association.

Fear Heavy Snow
May Cause Flood

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. — With snowfall in Saskatchewan this winter more than three times normal to date, thousands of small irrigation dams built under Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration are expected to receive severe tests with the spring run-off. The federal experimental farm station here warned farmers that spillways of earth dams should be checked between now and spring. Farmers have been advised to do some snow shovelling in the spillways. It is recommended that they dig a three-foot wide channel in the snow-drifted spillways.
