TRAGIC AIR DISASTER COPENHAGEN-Grace Moore, celebrated operatic star, and Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden, were among the victims of the crash of a Royal Air Lines Dakota Dutch passenger plane at the Copenhagen airport Sunday. Twenty-two persons were killed. It was the eighth air disaster in various parts of the world during a 48-hour period. (It is because of the death of the Swedish Royal Prince that the Swedish flag over the vice-consulate in Prince Rupert is at half mast today).

NO V-BOMB TESTS OTTAWA—Defence Minister Claxton said today that there was "no truth lin a statement that Americans are testing V-bombs on Canadian soil." The statement was issued after a Moscow broadcast which said that jet-propelled bombs were being tested in the vicinity of Churchill, Manitoba, and that the Hudson's Bay port had been "transformed into a base for the American Navy to operate in the Atlantic." PERSISTENT FIRE-BUG VANCOUVER-The home of J. W. McDonald, East Eleventh Avenue, has again been the object of a fire-bug's attempt. During the week-end attempt was made to start a fire under a verandah. Similar attempts had been made three weeks ago and last October. Last summer the garage was destroyed. The Natives Are Right

MATE SYMPATHIZE very much with our Indian VV friends who have resorted to an ingenious and novel means of emphasizing their claims for the franchise. Certainly if the Chinese and the East Indians are to be given the franchise, we would think it to be the fair and just thing that the natives should also have the privilege. As a matter of fact, it seems to us that our native Indians here have a good deal more right to it notwithstanding some of the antiquated and outdated provisions of the Indian Act and its patronizing guardianship. and when we say that the natives have as much light to the franchise as any of us-whether or not the on the reserves which we so generously cave them after we came over here and took over the lands, the prior possession of which they were unable to sustain against our aggression—we think of other privileges and rights that we enjoy while trying to keep the natives in a state of inferior subjection which not only contributes to their continued discontent but tends to their deterioration. We are believers in the theory that, if we saw to it that the Indians received the rights and privileges to which they have every just claim, they would be good and responsible citizens, equal to the best.

ANSWERING MR. PARKS

Editor, Daily News: Answering John Parks letter, 74 years ago we made our long. est treaty in history but it only seems like yesterday when this momentous incident took place. How warm was our handclasp then? And how sincere our promises were, when we shook hands solemnly we uttered the words of our great Indian oath: 'As long as the sun shines, the grass grows and the water flows, I will keep all my promises." The Great Spirit in Heaven listened to those solemn words. Yes, my White Brother, the sun is still doing his duty shining up in the skies, making the grass grow and the water flow.

All this is no news to you, Mr. Parks. But the average man on the street knows nothing of the actual conditions that exist among us. You look upon me as a parasite who depends entirely on the public pocket book in order to live. You also take us as a race of people unable to undertake our daily household duties. You, my brother, have proven to be very industrious and wise. You have certainly made use of this land we loaned you. You have shown wonderful miracles in science and industry. Many millions of your children have been born here to grow up into strong and intelligent people, many of whom have acquired great skill in the gathering of money and property with their brains. I disagree with segregation for this reason, "when an Indian has been given the opportunity, they will acquire equal standing and even higher." Take E. Pauline Johnson for instance, when given the opportunity, she became one of Canada's most outstanding poets. WEIGHT-LIFTING AT ALEXANDRA PALACE - E. Peppiatt, amateur weight-lifting middleweight champion for 1945. At Alexandra Palace recently, a weight-lifting contest took place between W. Watson, the middleweight champion for 1946, and E. Peppiatt. The contest was decided on the three "Olympic Lifts-"The Hands Clean and Press," "Two Hands Snatch," and "Two Hands Clean and Jerk." Each lifter had three trials at each lift, and the best result at each trial was recorded, and at the end the poundage was totalled. It is not enough to be able to lift the weights overhead just anyhow, for when the weights are up to shoulder height, the contestants have to wait for the judge to clap his hands, and then the weights have to be in position for at least two seconds. During this demonstration, the two men almost succeeded in lifting three hundred pounds, but they began to tremble, and it was fortunate that some men were standing by to take the weights, as otherwise the threehundred-pound weights would have crashed right through the floor. Both the men have just represented Great Britain at the World's Championship in Paris, and they told of the Egyptian competitors who called upon Allah for help, and then gripped the weights. Our men felt that this was putting Britain at a disadvantage.
