He said that he had found "discrimination" against the Chinese people would still remain on the statute books. Chinese would be able to bring their wives and children to Canada .081% only if they were Canadian citizens while this privilege was extended to Europeans resident in Canada who were not citizens.

Heward Green, Progressive-Conservative member for Vancouver South, demanded that the government withdraw the measure and bring it in as a separate bill to be considered later when wartime control bills have been disposed of. He demanded a full statement on governmen policy as to Chinese immigration.

Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, supported Green's argument that the House was entitled to a full statement from the government before it was asked to pass judgment.

John Diefenbaker, Progressive-Conservative, Lake Centre, Saskatchewan, said that, under the United Nations Charter. Canada was pledged not to discriminate against any race and he urged strict, adherence to that undertaking.

Mr. Green termed the bill "underhand" legislation and said that Chinese immigration had no place in a measure dealing with wartime orders-in-council During somewhat confused discussion, Minister of Labor Humphrey Mitchell warned that, unless Canadians were prepared to fill up the country, they might lose it.

Speech from Throne

British Columbia Legislature, which opened vesterday afternoon at Victoria, indicates a really substantial program of postwar legislation and action projected by the provincial government. For some time, it has been felt that the British Columbia government, long harboring its resources and now in a fine, strong financial position, might be getting started on a progressive and expansionary program in various fields. The Speech from the Throne, covering a wide range of subjects embracing almost all departments and services, indicates that this is now to be done-all of which is welcomed and appreciated.

Some of the items such as the implementing of the Goldenberg Commission provisions for municipal relief, the extension of the scope of the B.C. Power Commission in bringing about power development particularly in the rural areas and for the aid of industry, the further effecting of the, recommendations of the Sloan Commission on forestry particularly in regard to sustained yield, the enlarged program of public works including road building and electoral reform, had already been assured by ministerial spokesmen. They are now confirmed.

Nothing will meet with more general approval than the government's action in increasing the old age pension by $5 per month. This suggests even better things to come for our worthy and, oftimes, . needy elder citizens.

All in all, the Speech from the Throne indicates clearly that British Columbia is again in the forefront in regard to forward looking legislation geared to the changing needs and deserts of the people of the province.

Women's Institutes

DRITISH COLUMBIA WOmen's Institute Week is being observed by the Women's Institutes of this province during the week of February 16 to 22 to celebrate the Golden Jubilee, the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the first Institute at Stony Creek, Ontario, February 19, 1897. This date is named Adelaide Hoodless Day in honor of its founder.

This rural organization in the fifty years of its life has spread across Canada to every province of the Dominion, across to the Old Land, and later into a world-wide federation of country women called the Associated Countrywomen of the World. Its influence is felt most strongly in the country districts, and the province of British Coluhbia now numbers 192 Women's Institutes, which cover the whole of the province from east to west, and from north to south. It is organized in twelve districts, the Peace River, Bulkley - Tweedsmuir, Central Interior, Cariboo, Salmon Arm, Kootenay, Arrow Lakes, Okanagan, the North and South Fraser, and North South Vancouver Island, has district officers in all of these divisions.

strength of the Women's Institute, however, is in their community activities. With their motto, "For Home and Country," and their work improvement of rural conditions, they have a fine tribute to their endeavours in the individual towns and villages, and each one has its own story to tell of individual accomplishment.

PENDERS for Demolition of the old Exhibition Building will be received up to noon Feb. Instructions to be obtained at the office of the City Engineer.

The meeting deplored the disthat, failing the re-establishment of UNRRA or some similar organization, distribution of supplies should be placed under the administration of the Internaional Red Cross.

The meeting went on record as favoring Canadian assistance to starving populations regardless of their political colors but was insistent that such food and supplies should be directed toward individuals, rather than toward governments. To do this, distribution would, necessarily, have to be administered by some impartial, international relief organization to avoid charges that the donor governments were using food as an international diplomatic bludgeon.

Even in the face of the present critical world food situation, there is no need for more stringent rationing in Canada, the meeting agreed. Canada's obligations can be met by increasing production, rather than by decreasing home consumption.

However, the meeting agreed by a narrow margin to a motion by Eric Faure that, while the food crisis exists, speculation in foodstuffs and other critical

You and Company - FOREIGN

Men and women are working for your dimes and dollars in the coffee fazendas of Brazil, the tea gardens of the Far East, the banana plantations of the Caribbean. The seven seas are dotted with ships carrying your orders. You and your family are important operators in the import business.

"But why kiss good-bye to all that good Canadian money?"-you may ask. The answer is-you don't kiss it good-bye. Foreign trade is a two-way business. Those ships inbound with your purchases will sail out again filled with Canadian goods. Your dimes and dollars that went abroad will help to buy Canadian goods. Buy a banana today and you help to finance the export of a Canadian product!

And, if your daily work should seem remote from foreign trade, don't let that mislead you. Actually you're right in the middle of it. For foreign trade creates one-third of all Canadian jobs, builds one-third of our home market, gives you one-third of every dollar you make.

Do all you can to help this vitally important business. Put your best into everything you produce. For, by making Canadian goods desired above all others in foreign markets, you are helping to provide future security, more money, and better living-for yourself!

To help businessmen with foreign trade problems, Canada has Trade Commissioners in 35 Empire and foreign countries. If you seek information on any aspect of world trade, write to-

RUTH WEEPS IN HOSPITAL

NEW YORK-Babe Ruth and baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler broke into tears when Chandler visited the former home-run king's hospital room.

"Babe, you are Mr. Baseball," said Chandler as he was ushered in. "I'm going to say a little prayer for you. God bless you. and may you get well soon."

Ruth, thinned by his long hosital siege, turned his head slightly and went. He pointed to his toothpick arms, but was too chocked up to speak.

Chandler, dabbing his eyes with a handkerchief, was ushered out by a nurse.

French Hospital, where Ruth was operated upon, reported his condition still "fair" and that he is more cheerful.

SAVE SOME FOR 1/1000thelf!

IT'S a melancholy thought... but isn't it true that you are always the last to share in your monthly earnings?

marked for savings?

Yet here's an interesting thing. All through the war you proved, with your Victory Bond purchases, that you could "save some for yourself". In fact, you saved a surprisingly large amount.

You proved, too, that a back-log of savings "does things" to you. It gives a lift to your self-respect . . . to your sense of getting somewhere. It makes you feel less vulnerable - makes you more willing and able to grasp opportunity when it comes along. It gives you peace of mind. Who can say how im- 65 portant these things are, both to your progress and your personal happiness?

Certainly they are well worth working for. And that means owing yourself a certain set sum every month, and then making sure you collect it. So keep up that wartime saving babit. It's one good thing the war taught all of us.

PERHAPS YOU are one of the hundreds of thousands who already keep a Royal Bank savings account. If not, we'd like you to consider this your personal invitation to open one at the Royal Bank branch most convenient to you. The size of your first deposit isn't the important thing, to you or to us.
