50 Are Fearful Dead In U.S. Aircraft Crash

Wreckage of Airliner Is Sighted On Virginia Mountain Today

LEESBURG, Virginia, (CP)—The shattered wreckage of a Capital Airlines plane, missing since last night was located on a mountain top northwest of here today, and there appeared no hope that any of the 50 persons aboard had survived.

The wreckage was sighted from a search plane, one of many which scoured the area since the plane disappeared last night.

"It looks as though it exploded and was all torn to pieces," said James Franklin, maintenance director for the airlines. He said he could not see how there would be any survivors.

Rescuers are making their way through the rugged country to the scene, but it is expected that it may be many hours before they could complete the journey.

The plane was flying from Chicago to Washington on a murky, rain-swept course. There were 47 passengers, one a 10-month old infant, aboard, and the pilot, co-pilot and stewardess.

Among the passengers was Dr. Courtney Smith, medical director of the American Red Cross.

Police and civilians are heading doggedly to the place where the wreckage was spotted after hours of combing the Virginia hillsides in search of it.

The plane was last heard from last night at a position 65 miles south of Washington. There are believed to be no Canadians aboard.

Highways in the Hillsboro-Purcellville area, where reports told of the crash, were alive with cars.

China correspondents said the trouble started when military authorities arrested the leader of the Buddhist monks, and put him to death.

IMMIGRATION IS DEPLORED

Importation to Canada of European displaced persons "under bondage" was deplored by a meeting of Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council Thursday night and the organization went on record as favoring an immigration policy which would permit quota groups of these persons to enter Canada as "free people."

The group struck specifically at an order-in-council which allowed Quebec mill owner Luder Dionne to "import" a number of Polish women for work in his textile mill. It requested immediate formulation of proper immigration policy.

Letters from the United Textile Workers' Union in Quebec brought to the notice of the council working conditions which were described as deplorable and as a result the secretary was instructed to send a letter of protest to the Quebec government against the conduct of the Quebec provincial police in handling strike situations.

The council also will endeavour to obtain a list of all goods made in Quebec under what are considered unfair labor conditions.

The meeting, under chairmanship of August Wallin, council president, received encouraging reports of labor organization in the city and several new delegates were welcomed to the council.

WOULD EAT MORE FISH

Educational Campaign Proposed in Federal Legislation

OTTAWA, (CP)—An educational program to swell the amount of fish consumed by Canadians from the present eight and a half pounds to eleven or twelve pounds was urged in the House of Commons Thursday night, as members considered a bill to amend the Fisheries Research Board, and bring it more directly under the Federal Fisheries Department control.

Thomas Reid (Liberal-New Westminster) estimated that no Canadian city served the wrong kind of fish "with more impunity" than Montreal.

Major-General Peakes urged the study of methods to keep fish fresh at all distribution points.

UNITED NATIONS GLOBAL POLICE

Russia and Other Nations Do Not See Eye to Eye

LAKE SUCCESS, (CP)—The United Nations Security Council delegates marshalled more arguments yesterday against Russia's insistence that every big power supply exactly the same number of men, ships and planes to the proposed United Nations global police force. Britain and China are among those expected to speak in the general debate and both hold views opposed to those of the Soviet Union. Along with the United States and France, they favor comparable contributions.

VICTORIA CROSS HOLDER VISITOR

H. M. H. McKenzie of Victoria Visitor in City Yesterday

There are few civilian holders of the Victoria Cross in the British Empire but one of them was an interesting visitor in Prince Rupert yesterday. He was H. M. H. McKenzie of Victoria who never served in any armed force but was awarded the Victoria Cross as a result of his work with Sea Scouts in life-saving work off the British coasts. He is also a Companion of the British Empire and holds the Albert Cross.

During World War I life saving services off the British Columbia coast were designated a "fourth service" by the then King and McKenzie was the leader of Sea Scouts operations in connection therewith. He only has one arm, having lost the other by surgery 40 years ago.

McKenzie has lived in retirement in Victoria for some years. He was here while making the round trip north aboard the steamer Catala.

CONVENTIONS FOR MINAKI

Many Gatherings Planned for Popular Ontario Resort

WINNIPEG—Re-opening for its second season since the war on June 20, Minaki Lodge in northwestern Ontario's Lake of the Woods playground is heavily booked for the entire season which closes September 2.

Prior to the official opening, Minaki Lodge will be host to a number of conventions, commencing with the great West Life headquarters staff annual party which will go down on June 14 and the annual outing of the Passenger Club of Winnipeg, which will spend the week-end at this holiday resort.

Other conventions follow to the end of June. They are the Canadian Warehousemen's Association, two groups of the Canadian Medical Association, the Western Canada Fire Underwriters, the Canadian Freight Association, and the Central Life of Des Moines, Ia.

The lodge's regular guests commence arriving July 1 and no more conventions are booked until September 2 when the Western Canadian Association of Broadcasters meets for three days following which the lodge closes its doors.

The sole requirement for a perfect layout at the moment is for hot, sunny days to bring fairways and greens up to the Minaki standards. Fishing is good and anglers have been out for some time in the area.

ATOM TEST "ILLOGICAL"

OTTAWA—A source close to Canada's defence program said Friday, that the establishment of any great testing range for atomic radioactive clouds in the Canadian north was illogical. He was commenting on a London despatch predicting that such a range would be set up in frozen northern wastes.

PICARD TO DESCEND 2 1/2 MILES TO PROBE OCEAN'S MYSTERIES

An Arist's Conception of What the "Bathyscaphe" May Look Like.

The first man to penetrate the stratosphere, Prof. Auguste Picard, will now attempt to descend farther into the sea than any other man. The Swiss scientist expects to have all his equipment ready this autumn, when he will go down in the Gulf of Guinea, off the west coast of Africa, and try to reach a depth of 13,120 feet, in his "Bathyscaphe." The professor's invention, now under construction at Antwerp, Belgium, is a steel sphere about two yards wide with walls five inches thick, surmounted by a reservoir seven yards long containing lighter-than-water gasoline. Two portholes will permit him and a colleague to observe the fish and unknown sea life which live at great depths. The "Bathyscaphe" will sink of its own weight. In order to rise, the occupants will release magnetic ballast by means of an electric switch. They plan to remain submerged for 12 hours. The project is being financed by a Belgian scientific society and the Belgium government.

LAKE ONTARIO LEVEL RISING

TORONTO, (CP)—Flood conditions extended to several points in the Toronto area today following heavy rains which sent Lake Ontario to a new high level. Continuing rain indicated that the situation may be further aggravated during the week-end.

Nearly a thousand homes along the two-mile strip across the mouth of Burlington Bay, near Hamilton, reported flooding basements.

United Nations Meeting Snags

Important Problems Present New Troubles

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., (CP)—Two United Nations became stalled on two international problems—control of atomic energy and production of world armaments—and two United Nations commissions investigating hot spots—Palestine and the Arab higher committee for Palestine formally notified Secretary General Trygve Lie that they intend to boycott the Holy Land inquiry scheduled to get under way Monday.

The Yugo-Slav ambassador, Josip Kossanovic, has charged the conduct of Mark E. Eitel, American member of the International Commission on the Atomic Energy Commission and the international armaments commission remained deadlocked on issues for lack of the issues.

Russia warned yesterday that its armaments commission might not accept the Soviet demand for arms limitation.

HUNGARIAN ARMY PURGED

"Anti-Democratic" Elements Being Cleaned Out

BUDAPEST, (CP)—A purge of "anti-democratic elements" in the Hungarian Army is announced by Premier Lajos Dinnyes in a policy address to the Hungarian National Assembly.

He outlined plans for nationalization of the major banks and bauxite mines of the country.

"First of all," he said, "we wish to maintain friendship with the great Soviet Union." he told the assembly.

The premier declared 80 per cent of the army officers had fled to the west.

ONE DEAD AS CAR-TRAIN HIT

NEW WESTMINSTER, (CP)—Alexander Molnar, 60, of Vancouver, was killed and four other persons injured Friday when their automobile collided with a C.P.R. freight train here. A. S. Beattie of New Westminster, is suffering possible skull fracture. The remainder of the passengers escaped with minor abrasions.

CHILE HAS EMERGENCY

Capital City of Santiago Disturbed by Bus Strike—Four Killed

SANTIAGO, (CP)—This capital city of Chile was placed under a thirty day state of emergency yesterday after an ineffective bus strike which culminated in a gun fight fatal to four persons.

President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla declared Santiago a zone of emergency under command of General Rafael Fernandez Reyes, in the face of open protests by a Communist-headed Labor federation.

One woman was among those killed and another was among three persons wounded severely when several hundred strikers stoned and shot at buses and exchanged gunfire with military guards during the disorders at the peak of the evening rush.

CROPS NOW LOOK WELL

Have Greatly Benefitted From Rain of Past Week

WINNIPEG—General rains over all the prairie area with the exception of northern Saskatchewan have improved the general outlook for the 1947 crop. The warm weather of the last couple of days has speeded up growth and conditions are excellent, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

While the crop is from ten days to two weeks later than normal, a spell of warm, moist weather will bring it along quickly.

Some scattered reports of cutworm damage have been received. Damage due to frost has been much less than anticipated.

Summer fallowing is well under way over most of the prairies.

Cloudy, cool weather with showers has been experienced during the past week in the Okanagan Valley. About five per cent of the cherry crop has been damaged by splitting. Ground crops have benefitted greatly from the rain.

TEMPORARY TEACHERS

Instructions Set Out by Department of Education

A circular letter issued by the Department of Education, recently received by the Board of School Trustees gives instructions regarding the appointment of teachers holding temporary certificates and has a distinct bearing on the local teacher situation.

The reference reads as follows:

"Numerous requests for the renewal of temporary certificates are being received by the Department from teachers and School Boards. It is pointed out that temporary certificates are valid only for the year of issue and for employment with a specific School Board and are issued only when properly certificated teachers are not available. As it is impossible at this date to predict the number of temporary teachers that will be required, no applications for the issue or renewal of temporary certificates will be considered by the department until after August 1. Such applications must be made by school boards and, if possible, be approved by the Inspector of Schools for the school district. Each application must include a statement that the board has been unable to obtain a teacher with an interim or permanent British Columbia certificate."

IMPORTANT SERVICES at St. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

ORDINATION IN MORNING AND INSTALLATION IN AFTERNOON

EARL SOILAND

THEODORE JACOBSON
 Candidate to be Ordained Into the Holy Ministry

Two ecclesiastical events of outstanding interest will make tomorrow a day of exceptional importance in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. One event is the ordination of Sverre Theodore Jacobson of Saskatchewan son of Mr. and Mrs. Sverre Jacobson of this city, into the holy ministry of the church. The other is the induction of Rev. Earl Soiland, coming here from Bellingham, as the new pastor of the church.

To lead in the special services, Bishop H. L. Foss of Seattle arrived in the city yesterday from the south and also here for the occasion and to assist in the rites as assisting pastors are Rev. Arnold Anderson of Vancouver and Rev. Raymond Halvorson of Ketchikan.

The ordination of Mr. Jacobson is being held here instead of at the Lutheran seminary at Saskatoon because the mother of the new pastor, whose home is here, is in such health that it was not possible for her to make the trip to attend. The ordination service will take place in the morning. In addition to the Bishop and assisting clergy, the choir of the church will take an important part in the ordination service, first of its kind ever to be held in a Lutheran Church here. Ober. Hougan is director of the choir and Mrs. Peter Lien is organist.

In the afternoon the installation of the new pastor will take place with Bishop Foss leading in the rites. This will be followed by a dinner to be served by the Ladies Aid of the Church. Mrs. Thor Solthen, president.

Climax of the full day's proceedings will come in the evening with a young people's rally at which there will be addresses by Bishop Foss and each of the visiting clergymen.

Following his installation, Mr. Soiland will return to Saskatchewan and will be back here in August to assume his ministry permanently. Mr. Jacobson will be remaining here for a few weeks visiting with his parents and will preach at St. Paul's June 22 and 29 following the departure of Rev. A. O. Aasen who is going to New York after two years of relief ministry here

THE FINEST "AURORA"

THE FINEST "AURORA" yet may be said of the annual publication of Booth Memorial High School which has just made its appearance and a copy of which was delivered to the Daily News yesterday. The Journalism Club of Bo-Me-Hi was responsible for the 1947 "Aurora" and it has turned out a job which calls for spontaneous and hearty commendation.

Ten-and-a-half by nine inches, with thirty-two pages exclusive of covers, it is the largest "Aurora" to date but its new format is the outstandingly attractive feature. Pictures have been used in profusion and most effectively. Activities of school life are delineated thereby in a most interesting manner. If the pictures are good, so are the texts, producing a combination both ingenious and meritorious.

Arne Lien, editor-in-chief, and Barbara Flaten, business manager, and their staff are due for hearty congratulations on the production and, if any other should be singled out for special mention, it might well be John Wilson who contributed a great job of photography and, in arranging for the presentation, assisted in a fine achievement of make-up. Typographic and mechanical arrangements are also of such excellence as to make it appropriate to point out that Dibb Printing Co. was responsible therefor.

SATURDAY SERMON

TILL DEATH US DO PART

(By REV. BASIL S. PROCKTER, St. Andrew's Cathedral)
 Every so often two people approach a clergyman of one of the more ancient branches of the Christian Church and they want to be married. They are asked if either of them has ever been married before and, if the answer is "Yes," the question comes as to whether the other partner to the former marriage is still living and, if the answer is still "Yes," then the parson is forced sorrowfully to tell them that he is not able to do anything about it. Usually, in such circumstances, the atmosphere is charged with a certain amount of tension so it is seldom possible to say what ought to be said or to have it listened to as it ought to be listened to. The plain and simple fact is that, since somebody said once "till death us do part" they cannot say it again before God's altar until death has parted them. The State has granted a divorce which frees the parties concerned but the words which were said at the original marriage cannot be unsaid, provided that at that time the two people were acting in good faith and

The PRICE TAG of OPPORTUNITY

There are a number of occasions in most every man's life when some "Cash at the Right Time" is really "The Price Tag of Opportunity." In most instances, the element of gain may not be important. The fact that you have immediate cash to take advantage of opportunity at the right time is the important factor.

A great many economists believe that the man who puts away "Inflated Money" now, and "Has Some Cash" at the right time, will be in a most advantageous position at some future date. What is your guess as to what $100.00 put away now, will buy in six—eight—ten—twelve—fifteen years?

We believe that everyone has a better chance to have "The Price Tag of Opportunity" at the right time if he has "A Definite Plan" of accumulation to follow.

Let us show YOU the plans we have to HELP YOU SAVE TO HAVE.

IN CHARGE OF MUSEUM

C. E. Cullin Also to Look After Tourist Bureau

C. E. Cullin has been appointed curator of the Prince Rupert museum, which will be officially opened on Monday. Mr. Cullin, a retired city hall employee, has been a resident of Prince Rupert for more than 30 years, and was among the remaining few men who entered the Klondyke in 1898.

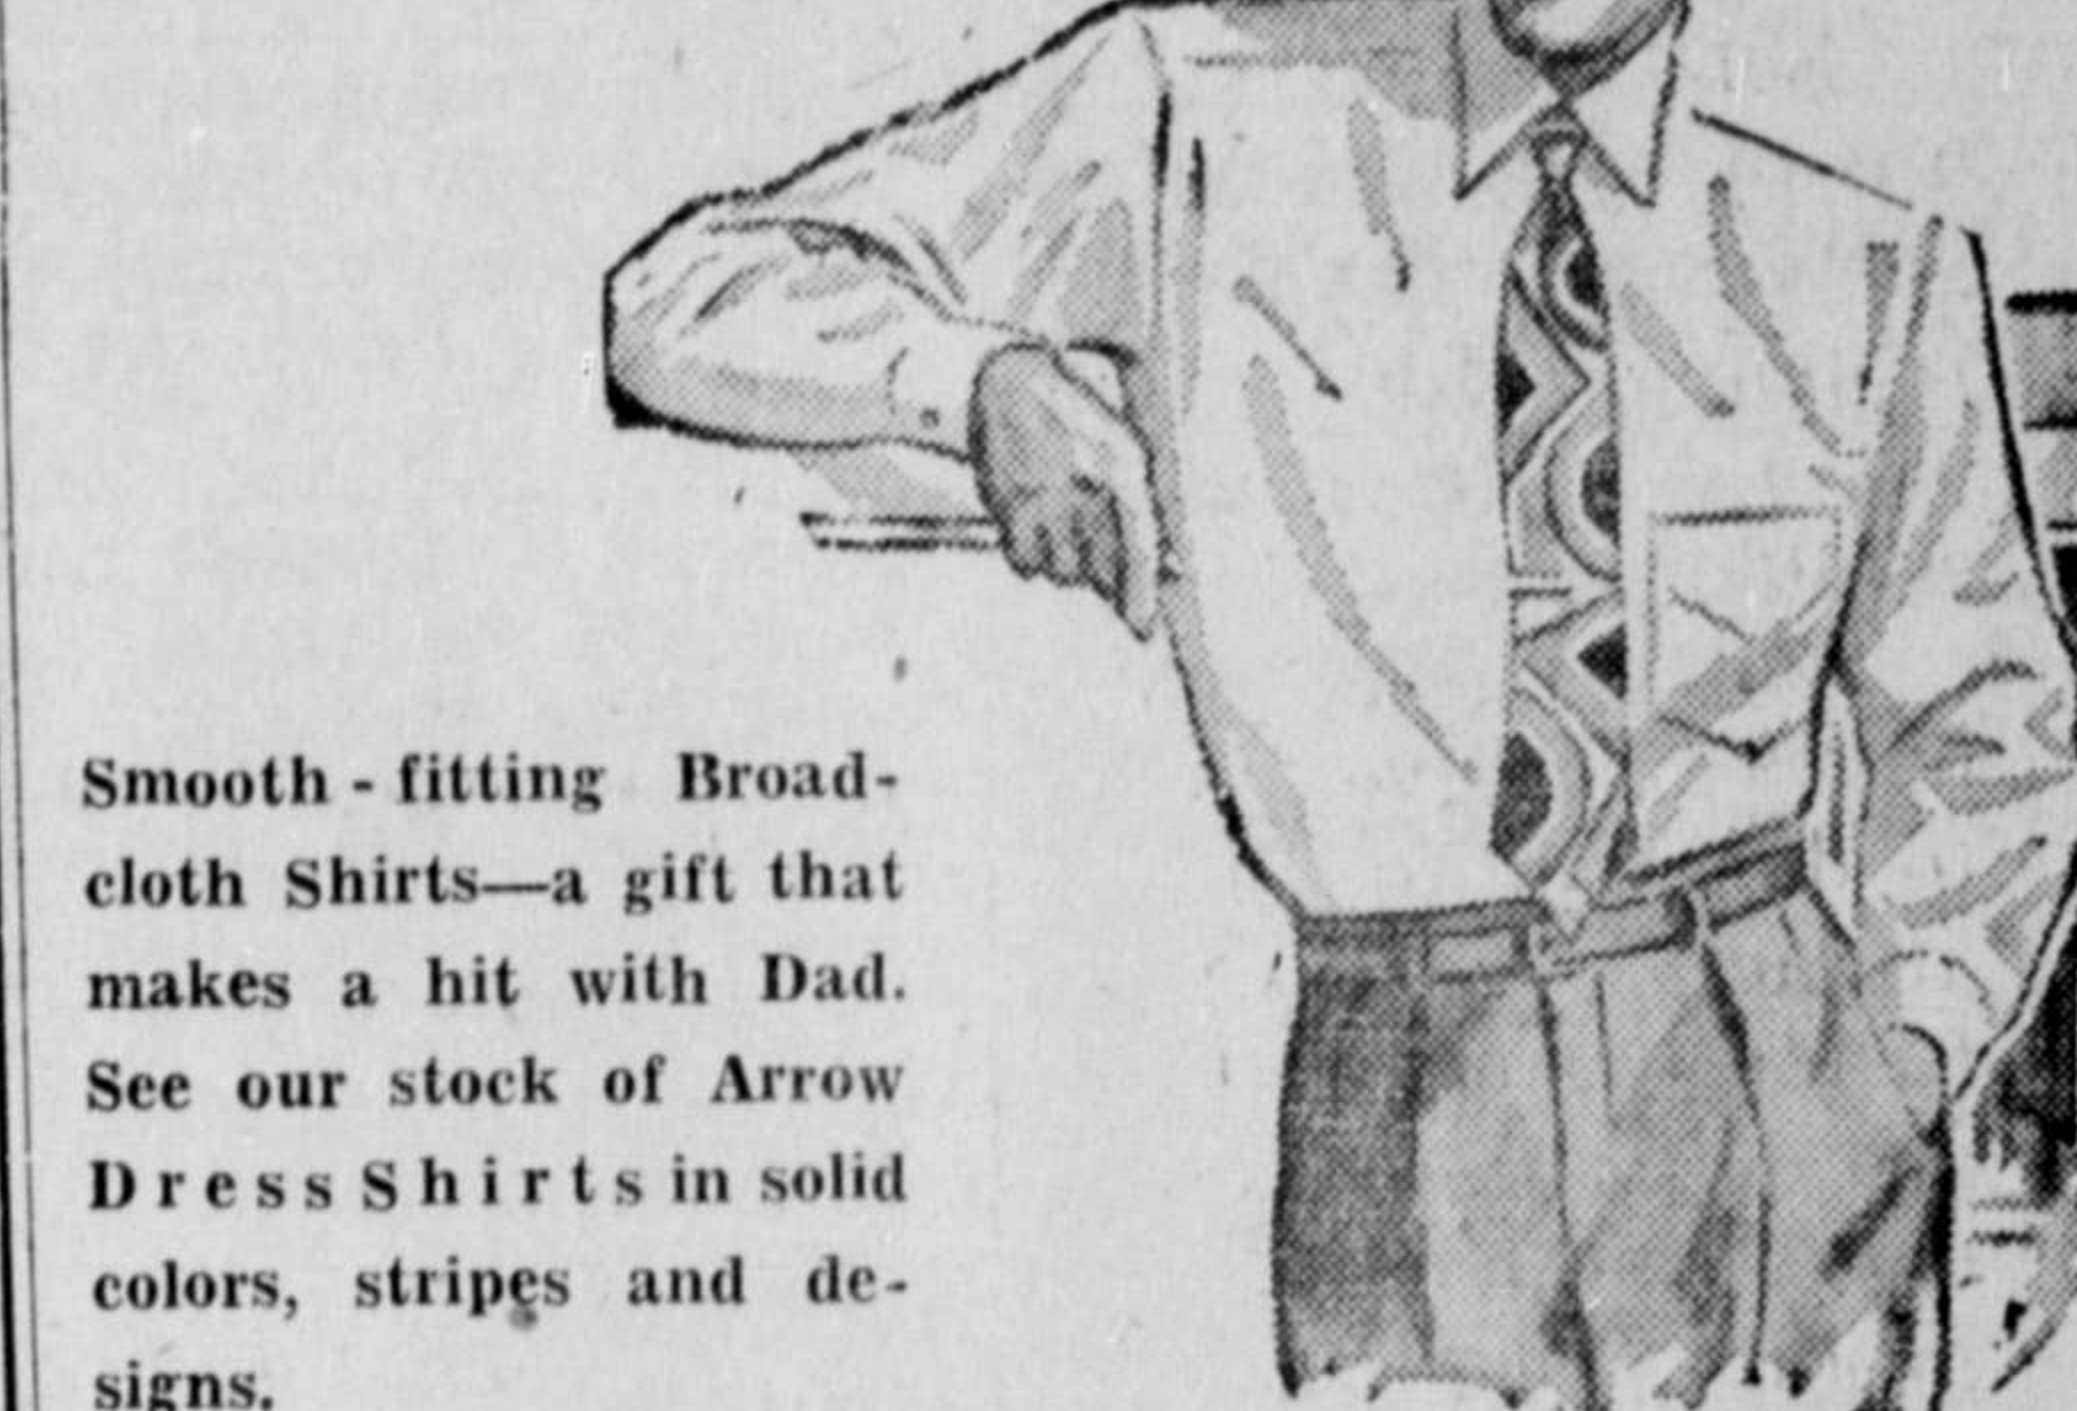

Mr. Cullin also will be in charge of the Public Relations Council's tourist bureau which will occupy an office at the front of the building. The open hours of museum and tourist bureau will synchroize with the presence in port of tourist vessels.

Work on putting the displays in shape was advanced Thursday afternoon when a display case of marine exhibits was brought down by Lieut. Eric Jones and a crew of volunteer helpers.

GARDEN Club Notes

By Prince Rupert Horticultural Society

Now that your tulips have finished flowering, they should be carefully dug up and planted in an unused bed. A trench dug four inches deep, one side straight down and the other sloping, will suffice.

Place the bulbs in this close together and cover the roots and bulbs. They should be allowed to grow until their foliage has withered to brown strips, then be lifted, dried but not sun-burned, then cleaned and stored in a dry place for the summer. Save even the tiniest bulbets as they can be planted in an inconspicuous spot by themselves in the autumn, and allowed to grow into full-sized bulbs.

It is important that tulips be ripened and thoroughly dried before storing. Local gardeners agree that they should be lifted after flowering. It is not so necessary to lift daffodils. Often it is desirable to leave them and the smaller bulbs such as crocuses, snowdrops, etc., undisturbed year after year.

Your dahlias are well above the ground now. Leave only one or two of the strongest shoots, cutting off the weakest as low down in the ground as possible.

When your sweet peas are about 5 inches tall, nip out the growing point cleanly with the finger and thumb to induce side-shoots and stronger plants.

Remember the Garden Club meeting on June 17. J. J. Payne will be in charge of the meeting and will give a talk on types of annuals and perennials most suitable for this climate.

25 YEARS AGO

June 14, 1922
Grant Mahood, Portland Canal mining man, announced a scheme to incorporate a company with a capital of $1,500,000 to develop several mining properties in the Stewart district.

Seventeen days out of Yokohama, the Canadian Government Merchant Marine freighter Canadian Skirmisher arrived in port here for overhaul at the Prince Rupert Dry Dock. She made the trans-Pacific crossing without cargo.

F. L. Buckley of Vancouver, planned the incorporation of a $10,000,000 company to exploit the lumber resources of the Queen Charlotte Islands according to ex-Senator G. H. Stephens of Montana, who also was interested in the venture.

LIFE in this Prince Rupert

by BIDDEE JINKS

Won't it be right fine when the people outside of Prince Rupert get educated about our city to the extent that they give accurate, intelligent replies to intelligent queries?

In thinking of this beyond the two tourists who arrived in the city this week over a non-existent highway, I remember my own arrival by rail. "And where are you bound?" someone was sure to ask. Each time I regretted the candor of my reply, "Prince Rupert?" they would say in unbelief, ominously shaking whichever head it was. "You don't know what you are going into. Why, it's raining!" And each time I felt an additional foreboding, as if I had mentioned having heebies and everybody had screamed: Heebie-jeebies? Don't you know that folks most always die with heebie-jeebies?"

Therefore, neither this city nor the humidity there disappointed me. They couldn't, if you know what I mean. Both did impress me, however for strangely, my informers failed to speak of the setting Nature had given Prince Rupert, of the width and beauty of Third Avenue, or of the up-to-date shops! Neither did they, nor could they, prepare me for the onslaught of rain and wind, in singles or as a united force. Yet those of us who make Rupert our home have learned to compare this whimsical feature to the little girl who had the curl in the middle of her forehead; for when she is good, she is very very good, but when she is bad, is she horrid or is she!

But to come back to our two tourists is to find both cars hail us from San Diego, California—and their occupants knowing certainly the things by popular opinion. Otherwise, we should never have seen them. Setting out together, they drove to the border inquiring futilely along the way concerning the highway to Prince Rupert. There wasn't one, they were told. But they had met folks from Rupert the year before who had driven out so there must be a highway they maintained stoutly. There couldn't be, came as stout a reply. Must have come down to Vancouver by boat and driven down the coast from there.

Leaving Biaine behind, they began to perk up. In Canada people would know. And they hastened to stop at the first likely looking place to inquire again. Amazed, they drove on no wiser—for in New Westminster there was equal emphasis in the reiteration. There was definitely no highway to Prince Rupert.

Having got here, our heroes might expect all and sundry to believe the facts on their say so. And they may be disappointed. This is an age when the common man—some of them—is no longer gullible but must investigate before swallowing. Sometimes they will not bother with so much as a preliminary investigation.

So I found some time ago when on holiday in Alberta. Wishing to book a return passage before proceeding to Vancouver, I went to a great depot with no qualms. I went several times during the next few days. I was sent upstairs, and back down; from one office to the next. I saw more of that building than I had during the years I lived in Calgary—and to no avail. Each was as certain as the last that their company had no boats in service between Vancouver and Prince Rupert. "But I came down on one of them!"

South Africa Calls For Civil Servants

CAPETOWN.—South Africa's civil service badly needs recruits and the Public Service Commission says it has not received a single application for 82 positions declared vacant during the year. The public works department is hiring civil engineers, surveyors and architects on a part-time basis and other departments have also felt the shortage.

On the commission's recommendation, the government has agreed to meet the cost of bringing qualified persons to the country with their families on a three-year contract basis. Efforts are also being made to employ blind and disabled war veterans and civilians.

I exclaimed, presenting my stub, sorry, lady, but there was a mistake somewhere. There had been a boat or two on that run some years before but they were no longer in operation.

In desperation, I wired a friend of mine who was keeping the home fires burning. "If you want to see me before Christmas, book passage—please!" And he must have been missing me all right. He must have been.

Going further East, it gets worse. A neighbor of mine who keeps up in world affairs, read an interesting article about Prince Rupert in a Canadian magazine. It was most unusual. It said that in that far western city, a common wash-house was in operation. Described beautifully, it sounded so beautiful that a short time later when this friend prepared unexpectedly to come to that very spot, she sold her washing machine, and arrived to find that women here was much the same as elsewhere. All except herself. She used the board until such time as washing machines were again available.
