SHIPS AND PERSONNEL TO BE EQUALLY DISTRIBUTED

Plans for the disposition of operational warships of the Royal Canadian Navy, which will be implemented this coming summer, have been announced by the Hon. Brooke Claxton, minister of national defence.

Ontario is a "swiftsure" class cruiser whose main armament consists of nine six-inch guns. She is in many respects a more modern warship than the present operational cruiser, Uganda.

PROBLEMS OF EMPLOYMENT

Advisory Committee Takes Up Matters of Local and District Importance

In a busy session last evening the Prince Rupert local Employment Advisory Committee dealt with a number of problems.

The matter of firms with head offices in Vancouver but operating industries in this district, hiring men through the Vancouver employment offices when local labor was available, was the subject of a resolution to be forwarded to the regional office.

WARM WELCOME GIVEN SCHOOL BASKET SQUAD

Cries of "Yay, Yay, Bo-Me-Hi!" greeted the Booth Memorial High School basketball stalwarts Friday afternoon as scores of their schoolmates lined the Canadian National wharf to welcome them back from the provincial high school hoop tournament where they carried the name of Prince Rupert with considerable glory.

The team, apparently rightfully pleased with the showing they made in competition with the finest school teams in the province, waved happy acknowledgement of the noisy welcome they received from shore.

As they came down the gang-plank they were greeted and congratulated by Principal W. W. C. O'Neill of Booth Memorial and were the centre of a pack of fellow students who had kept track of their activities through the press.

Veterans of the championship wars, the team had little difficulty in defeating their permanent adversaries, the Ocean Falls High School aggregation, while the boat stopped there Thursday night. The travellers walked over the paper town team by a one-sided score of 39-30.

This final victory put a keen edge on their eagerness to be back home, despite the fine hospitality they received in the south.

Former Prince Rupert people, including many students attending the university and Vancouver schools, formed a substantial cheering section for the team during the tournament and in the game with U.B.C. intermediates, team members intermeddled.

"It was almost like being home, there were so many Rupert people in the stands," one player said. According to reports current this morning, efforts are being made to match the Rainmakers with the Kincolith team, which won the all-native tournament here this week.

The object, it was understood, was to match them for a feature game in the Civic Centre gym tonight.

ANOTHER HOBBY SHOW NEXT YEAR

Precedents From Inaugural To Be Applied to Civic Centre Hobby Room Power Tools Fund

Further gratifying feature of the arts, crafts and hobby show held at the Civic Centre last week was the fact that, after all expenses were paid, a surplus remained which it has been decided shall be applied to a fund which will be used to purchase power tools for the hobby room of the Centre.

The show was such a success that it has already been decided to have another next year along even larger lines, plans being made to use the auditorium as well as the upstairs rooms. This will allow accommodation adequate to display articles to better advantage.

It is being suggested that the people of Prince Rupert and district might start even now saving articles for display.

VISUAL EDUCATION DEPICTED HERE

Borden Street School Enjoys District Scenes

Probably the highlight of the visual education program regularly enjoyed by the pupils and staff of the Borden Street School was the showing of pictures of Bulkley Valley and the southern interior of the province taken by Sergeant L. Poterton.

The junior school saw first of all an interesting film on "Shelter," one obtained from the Visual Education Department of the Vancouver School Board. Their second picture was the one of Bulkley Valley showing a wide variety of exquisite views in color, taken by Sergeant Poterton. The pictures were a

NEW ALASKA SHIP COMING

Briggs Steamship to Start Rupert Ship Service Soon

The new freighter Southeastern of Briggs Steamship, which has been under reconstruction at San Francisco, will reach Prince Rupert to inaugurate a Rupert-Southeastern Alaska steamship service on March 24, according to word received here today.

Peter Laskie, agent for Canadian National Railways at Prince Rupert, will make the first trip on the Southeastern with Phillip Briggs, head of the shipping company which bears his name.

G. H. Stanbridge is Briggs's agent at Rupert.

SAWLOG SCALE IS DECREASED

Sawlog scale in the Prince Rupert forestry district during February was 11,569,972 board feet, a decrease of more than 6,000,000 board feet under the January production, according to the monthly bulletin issued by District Forester J. E. Mathieson. January scale was 17,623,018.

However, pole and piling production increased by more than three times, being 144,970 lineal feet in February as compared with 40,130 in January.

Comparison with the first two months of 1946 shows that sawlog production for that period was 12,859,560 board feet, as against 29,183,090 this year, and pole and piling cut was 195,100 lineal feet this year as compared with 1,061,364 in 1946.

Railroad tie production last month was 6,982 units as against 11,648 in February, 1946. Cordwood cut last month totalled 326 cords.

Degrees Conferred By Orange Ladies

The Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association held an Orange degree initiation at the regular meeting Thursday evening, Mrs. Henry Smith Jr. being soloist. Plans are well in hand for the spring sale to be held in the Civic Centre April 18, and banquet plans are being made for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the lodge in June. The raffles were won by Mrs. C. Adams and Mrs. H. Killin. The next meeting will be held March 27.

Union Head Steps Down

Pat Sullivan Repudiates Communists; Subversive of Workers' Interests

OTTAWA (CP)—J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, "founder and boss of the Canadian Seamen's Union for twelve years, announced last night that he stepped down from the presidency of that union and out of the Communist party because of the party's "subverting" of labor interests.

Creating a sensation by the move, Sullivan admitted that he had been a member of the Communist party for ten years and had reached the decision to quit "when I became convinced that the interests of organized labor are being subverted by agents of communism to their own ends."

Sullivan's reference to the Communist party is understood to include the Labor-Progressive party in which his statement indicates he was a member.

"From what I have seen of the underground activities of that group I am convinced that, in the interests of Canada and particularly in the interests of organized labor, their activities should be exposed," he stated.

Sullivan was regarded as the Dominion's "No. 2 Red," yielding precedence only to Tim Buck, Labor-Progressive Party leader.

The Communist Party has many secret agents in Canada and extends into the government service, Sullivan said today. He declared that the Canadian Seamen's Union was "in full control of the Communist party." He outlined what he called machinery of the party in that organization and said "the same apparatus is in existence in quite a large number of labor unions throughout the country."

The Labor leader, who was secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said he was making a full public statement "for my own protection."

Sullivan also resigned his Trades and Labor Congress post today.

In his declaration Sullivan said he was also making the public statement to "help in bringing about unity in Canada."

"All available Canadian Seamen's Union forces in Montreal are being thrown into the work of campaigning for the Labor-Progressive party candidate in the Cartier riding in Montreal (where a by-election is being held March 31 to fill the vacated House of Commons seat of Fred Rose)," he said. "It is not in the interests of the Union or the seamen to have anything to do with the Communist attempt to have another Communist succeed Fred Rose."

While he was in internment for being a Communist member between 1940 and 1942, Communist work inside the Seamen's Union was carried on "to a lesser degree," Sullivan said, but he became "quite active" after his release.

Sullivan gave as his reason for resigning the Trades and Labor Congress post "steady pressure to introduce policies which I know would not be in the interests of the Congress." He implied that the "pressure" came from associates in the Communist party that Sullivan had espoused for ten years and which he had left three months ago.

"I think I have become a Canadian citizen," Sullivan concluded.

Up Shamrock's! St. Pat's Day

LEP prechauns and keening banshees lament from Killarney's lakes to Donegal's green hills—there'll be no such sorrowing by sons of the Old Sod come Monday mornin'—for it brings another St. Patrick's Day, the 1,486th to be sure.

Although 'tis said the fairies wept and the little men of the hedges dampened the very peat with their grief when the sainted figure died, sons of Erin from time immemorial have greeted March 17 with gaily, parades, clambakes—and a merry "best to yez" swished down with potable potheen.

And many the black thorn shillelagh has been aimed at the noggins of cynics who dare impugn that St. Patrick was a creature of Celtic myth and fancy.

True, the Welsh, French and Scots all claim him as a native son. The canny Scots are loudest in their claims. They say he was born at Kilpatrick, near Dumbarton, and was named Patricius Magonus Sucatus Calpurnius which any gossoon can see bespeaks Roman ancestry.

Then there are those who, by your leave, prattle that as a Welsh boy of 16, the saint was captured by Irish rovers and brought to Ireland where he learned the language. Later, it is claimed, he fled the land to return about 432 as a missionary representative of Pope Celestine.

That he was a wondrous man with words is told in ancient Eire lore. While preaching to Druid pagans at Tara, chronicles relate, he immortalized the shamrock when he held one up to dramatize the dogma of the Trinity and show the feasibility of three in one and one in three.

Of course, more critical researchers suggest that the shamrock was linked with the saint's ability to banish snakes and toads from out of the emerald acres. Historian Pliny thought the trefol—a kin-neighbor of the Irish emblem—had protective powers against the sting of snakes and scorpions.

Then there are those who question the choice of March 17 as St. Patrick's death day. Well, it seems to have come about something like this:

Sometime after his death at Abbey Saul in County DoDown, Irishmen split on choice of an anniversary day.

A typically Hibernian compromise was made by one Father Mulcahey. After waiting until the lads had tamped down the rich brown twist in their clays, he assumed a Solomon's air and ruled that he would take both debated days—March 9 and 8—add them together. Faith, and so March 17 was chosen.

And, as though the anti-myth folk hadn't done enough mischief, the boys received a rude shaking in recent times when it was said that the good saint's shamrock was named after the Arabic "Shamrakh"—held sacred in Iran as an emblem of the Persian Triads.

Put that shillelagh down! And a happy St. Patrick's Day to yez all!

TRUMAN'S PRESTIGE

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has risen a good deal in stature and prestige since some of the ineptides following closely upon his accession to the Rooseveltian mantle. His dealing with John L. Lewis and the coal miners' strike situation seemed to mark a turning point to his credit. His message to Congress Wednesday asking for aid in the extent of $400,000,000 to Greece and Turkey to save them from defaulting to communistic domination was a momentous and courageous document, no matter whether or not one may agree with its burden.

There had been those who expected Truman and the Democratic party, in administration, might go completely down under the Republican legislative control—that the off-year election results in United States would spell final eclipse for them. But, oddly enough, the reaction seems to have been in exactly the opposite direction. Truman is turning out to be a bigger man than most people had thought him.

WHAT WE CAN DO

WHEN NEW INDUSTRIES come to a place usually some concessions are asked from the community but the new celanese pulp mill project for Port Edward which has been announced appears to involve nothing like that. However, there are things that we can and will be able to do to assist the project. In addition to adjusting business to take care of the new demands, accommodation will have to be provided for the new population.

Possibly one of the things that we could do at once will be to see if improvement cannot be made on the highway connecting Prince Rupert and Port Edward. The magnitude of the undertaking being established at Port Edward and the volume of traffic developing from the commuting and delivery of supplies from here will necessarily make a good road a necessity. British Columbia's newest industry, and, incidentally, one of its very largest, is entitled to a first class hard surfaced road to connect it with its centre of business and residence. It might not be too early right now to request that this be done.

Waterfront Whiffs

Pioneer Waterfront Industry Renewed—Some Anecdotes of Early Days—Fishing at Prudhomme Lake

One of Prince Rupert's oldest industries—interrupted by the war—was resumed on the waterfront this week when Bacon Fisheries re-kindled the oak fires to put the final flavor touch to their smoked fish products which first went on the market here in 1908.

The smoke house went into production recently on the same site as the company's former one although it is now occupying a building built and used by the Royal Canadian Navy during the last conflict. To proprietor Jim Bacon it is a return to normalcy after an interruption of seven years. That condition described as "normalcy" had its foundation laid before Prince Rupert was incorporated.

Mr. Bacon is proud of the fact that his business is as old as Prince Rupert's fishing industry itself, recalling that it was started by himself and the late William Shrusall in 1903 when Prince Rupert was largely a community of tents served by narrow plank sidewalks which bridged gaps in the extremely damp muskeg.

"Our original smokehouse was about 100 yards from its present site," he recalls. "At the foot of McBride Street, where we are located at present, G. W. Morrow had an abattoir where he slaughtered cattle for local use."

In those early days, boats, which incidentally lacked modern fishing gear, could go out in the harbor and catch four or five tons of halibut in a few hours—which they sold to local buyers for two cents a pound. Freezing and shipping facilities were unavailable then.

"Natives used to bring spring salmon down from Port Simpson in canoes, using sails and paddles, and sell them for 25 cents each," Mr. Bacon reminisced. "What ice we had was brought from Wallace Bros. cannery at Claxton."

About that time, Mr. Bacon opened a small fish market up town—across Third Avenue from the late John Houston's budding newspaper office—where, in addition to fish, he sold venison as well as wild ducks and geese. The latter were sold until game regulations were instituted which put a stop to the commercial sale of game meat.

Mr. Bacon also claims the historic distinction of starting the first transfer business in Prince Rupert—using a wheelbarrow as equipment.

"It later bought a pony—also Prince Rupert's first—and hitched it to a small trolley which it pulled along the narrow sidewalks," he chuckled.

Bacon Fisheries first began to produce its "B" brand of smoked fish products on its present site in 1912 when the government wharf was first built. It continued the operation until 1940 when the Royal Canadian Navy took over the wharf facilities at the westerly end of the dock in 1940—including the smokehouse, which was demolished. Its products were distributed widely in Canada and the United States. Billy Bacon is in charge of the present plant.

Completion of the railway in Prince Rupert in 1914 was followed almost immediately by the establishment of the waterfront Fish Exchange, a mart wherein buyers bid for the products of the sea which have been brought spite of the fact that we have stocked the lake with more than 2,500,000 fry at different times." Rainbow Lake, however, is a different matter. Removal of the present logging dam at the outlet of that lake would improve the fishing there greatly. It would lower the water level about six feet, and reveal sand beaches along the shore, hidden since the dam was put in. The fishing then would fulfill any man's dream.

Relieving the Cassiar, which has been withdrawn from service in Vancouver for annual overhaul, Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Lorne Godfrey, arrived in port at 2:45 yesterday afternoon from Vancouver via the south end of the Queen Charlotte Islands. Sailing at midnight for Massett Inlet points, the Cardena will be back here tomorrow morning to sail at midnight Sunday on her return south via the south end of the Islands.

Third liner of the Union Steamship Co.'s coastal fleet to be in port within 12 hours, the steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived at 5 o'clock this morning from Vancouver via Bella Coola and other coastal points and sailed at 7 a.m. on her return south. The Catala followed the Camosun, Capt. Alex McLennan, which arrived at 3 p.m. from Vancouver and Ocean Falls, sailing at midnight for Ketchikan, and the Cardena, which arrived at 2:45 yesterday afternoon and sailed at midnight for Massett Inlet points.

Two new members—Mrs. R. Montgomery and Miss Frances Thompson—were received in the chapter.

Nine small quilts and three large ones, each one as nice as the next, were displayed by the quilting committee and gave ample evidence that these members have been very busy.

Savoys Bowl "Big Game"

Anyone less meticulous with the King's English than the members of the Men's Ten Pin League would have tipped into the vernacular and come up with the comment that the Savoy team was "on the beam" or, perhaps, "up on the bit" during their mildly delicious session with the perforated balls this week. The league scribe, however, chose to state, conservatively, that the hotelmen "rolled a big game." Which was quite true.

Perhaps General Motors, Savoy's opponents, had received some advance warning of the exalted mood of Savoy, because they failed to show up, which left the hotelmen bowling against a lot of theoretical numbers, a large portion of which they proceeded to mark down on the score board.

For instance, without benefit of handicap, the team rolled a three game aggregate of 2,708 points, built up of game scores of 913, 908 and 887. This far outdistanced any of their other aspiring league mates. "Scoop" Bury, whose skill is fast becoming proverbial, starred for Savoys, rolling up the highest single game score of 212 and taking the three-game honors with 582.

On the less rarified elevation populated by the other teams of the league, 99 Taxi administered a 3-0 defeat to B. A. Oil, and Watts & Nickerson took two games from Imperial Oil.

The scoring:

only made possible by his fellow teammates and D. Doolan. Doolan was the playmaker and Gurney was the shot.

Handing the whistle in this hard fought game was in the capable hands of Johnny Comadina and Bobby Houston who dished out a total of 33 fouls. 18 to Aiyansh and the remainder to Kincolith. But the most enjoyable part of this game was the fine display of good sportsmanship shown by the two rivals when the game was over. Both teams joined in a rousing cheer for their rivals, losers congratulated winners and winners congratulated losers: It was wonderful.

Aiyansh—F. Brown 5, C. Clayton, G. Guno 19, B. Wright, J. Davis 10, R. Guno, A. Rush, H. Morven 3, N. Woods 2, D. Guno 1. Total—40.

Kincolith—D. Venn, M. Haldane 14, D. Doolan 13, J. Stevens, S. Doolan, A. Gurney 24, S. Doolan, R. Calder 1, T. Venn 3, H. Haldane, J. Stewart, C. Arton. Total—55.

PORT SIMPSON WINS CONSOLATION

YPEA of Port Simpson battled through to a narrow 38-37 win over a hard working Kitimaat squad to take the top spot in the consolation finals. Once again it was a penalty shot that won the game for Port Simpson. Kitimaat put on a terrific last period bid for the win but the gap in the score was just a little too big and they fell short when just two points from a possible win.

YPEA led through all the quarter with the score standing at 14-12 at the first stanza finish. In the second quarter they moved still farther out in the lead, closing up the first half with a comfortable 22-16 margin. The pace got faster and closer as the third quarter started but still the Simpson squad moved on, this time closing up the frame with a 33-24 lead. Then Kitimaat began to make its bid! Slowly but steadily they battled their way uphill and just as slowly and steadily the score began to narrow down. Then it was all tied up at 37-37. Both teams had opportunities to move ahead as Referee F. Calderone and Umpire V. Ciccone clamped down when the play began to get a little rough. But YPEA made one of their free throws count and that put them in the lead

NATIVES FORM HOOP ASS'N

Success of the native basketball tournament which this week filled the Civic Centre gym for three nights during the playdowns, has inspired the visiting teams to make the thing an annual affair. The Native Basketball Association was formed here Friday afternoon for that purpose.

The officers of the new native association are:

President—Paul Price, Port Simpson.
Vice-President—Frank Calder, Kincolith.
Secretary-Treasurer—George Robinson, Prince Rupert.
Directors—Stanley Shaw, Kitimaat; Wilfred Jackson, Kitkatla; Cecil Ryan, Metlakatla; Reginald Percival, Aiyansh; Johnson Russ, Greenville; R. Sankey, Port Simpson.

COOKING ON GRILLS

In this era of bed-sitting rooms "with cooking privileges," both skill and system are necessary for the girl who must concoct an appetizing meal on a two-burner grill.

The working girl who lives alone and prepares her own evening meal knows she must learn time-saving devices. Otherwise she will be cooking and washing dishes until far, far into the night.

If she's wise she will put those vegetables on to cook the minute she comes in from work. If they're potatoes she may have peeled them in the morning and left them standing in cold water. Now all there is to do is cover them with fresh water and put them on to boil. Incidentally, they will cook more quickly if cut into quarter pieces. The same thing goes for carrots which should be sliced as thinly as possible.

These days individual quantities of meat aren't any easier to buy than larger portions, but round steak minced and small chops are the best selections for the person who's cooking a solitary meal.

The steak can be turned into meat balls which will fry in no time. Salt and pepper and a little chopped onion are the only seasonings needed.

But for the girl who feels like turning out a special dish, here's a recipe for Mock Filet Mignon which will perk up the most lackadaisical appetite.

The ingredients: 1/2 pound minced round steak, 1 tablespoon dry crumbs, 1 tablespoon tomato juice, pinch of salt, pepper and paprika, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1 strip bacon, 1 tablespoon cornmeal, fat or cooking oil.

Mix the meat, crumbs, tomato juice, seasonings and shape into a cake. Bind with the bacon strip and fasten with a toothpick; roll in the cornmeal. Heat the fat in a frying pan, sear the filets on both sides, then fry until brown.

APPLESAUCE

Applesauce just naturally goes with pork, but often the girl who has bought a pork chop for dinner has neither the time, the utensils nor the space to make the necessary sauce. Then she should peel and slice an apple right into the frying pan alongside the sizzling chop. The apples should be left in the pan just long enough to brown, but should still retain some of their crispness.

Health and Welfare Department, in its report on nutrition and the production and distribution of food, suggests that persons buying most of their meals in restaurants should be taught to choose foods for their nutritive value and not merely bulk to satisfy hunger.

Table d'hote specials often include alternatives such as fruit juice or cereal items which bear no nutritional relationship. Price is in most cases the governing factor in lunch selections, and food qualities except for flavor and taste are secondary considerations, the report continues. "Greater availability of low cost balanced meals would make a contribution to nutrition. Too often the choice is between nutritive value and sufficient bulk to satisfy hunger."

EXCITING FILM IS SHOWING HERE

"Cornered," Starring Dick Powell in Highly Dramatic Role, at Capitol Theatre

Mystery, adventure and excitement feature "Cornered," fast-paced melodrama which is being presented at the Capitol Theatre here tomorrow at midnight and on Monday.

Dick Powell, one-time singing star but now establishing himself firmly as a grim dramatist, has the role of a Canadian airman who sets out to avenge the murder of his young French bride who was slain by an elusive assassin. Determined to make the man pay for his crime, the fiercer trails his prey through France and Switzerland to far-off Buenos Aires and becomes involved in a net of intrigue with stirring action and exciting results until final triumph is achieved. Involvement with a sinister group of conspirators in Argentina provides some of the thrills.

Walter Slezak heads the featured cast while Micheline Cheirel, noted French stage and screen actress, making her first American screen appearance. Nina Vale, Morris Carnovsky, Edward Barrier, Steven Geray, Jack Karue, Luther Adler and Gregory Gay have other principal roles.

New Moose Legion Members Welcomed

Following a dinner proffered in honor of prospective candidates for membership in the Legion of the Moose and served at the Three Sisters Cafe on Thursday, members and others present proceeded to the Moose Temple where the Legion met in regular session. On completion of business, the initiation ceremony, under direction of P. J. Bacon, was performed installing 14 Legionaires.

LETTERBOX

MRS. RICHARDSON REPLIES
Editor, Daily News—

Regarding the letter under the heading "Critical of Rupert" and over the name or signature of C. Grieves of Vancouver and which appeared in your paper on Thursday, March 13, I would like to tell C. Grieves that Leonard Campbell had been crippled for nearly five years and yet no one seemed to interest themselves in his case until T. Smith, answering an appeal from the mother, Mrs. Ernest Campbell, asking assistance for her son, started the fund so as to be able to have Leonard examined by Vancouver specialists. It was then we realized how generous the citizens of Prince Rupert were because enough money was raised to take Leonard to Vancouver and also pay for treatments which we are now doing.

Yes, Mr. Grieves, Mr. Traxler deserves a big thank you as you say, but so does every other big hearted citizen who helped. It was I, Mrs. Ross Richardson, who gave the Vancouver Sun the story of Leonard's life in Prince Rupert, hoping to get help for the lad. This "splash," as you call it, Mr. Grieves, was the only means of my getting help for Leonard as everywhere I went no one seemed to want to help me find a home for him and many a door was closed against me just because I met the wrong people. The same applies to any city or town.

As far as taking the credit or getting thanks, all we get is criticism. However, I wish to thank you, Mr. Grieves, for your criticism of the work we have done for Leonard as it shows that the citizens of Prince Rupert are not so bad after all. Thank you, Mr. Editor, for your space in this paper.

MRS. ROSS RICHARDSON.
