TELESCOPIC ROTOR PROPELLOR MAY REPLACE PARACHUTE—A new invention known as the "Isacco Telescopic Propellers" has been developed in England, which is hoped will constitute the basic invention for various safety devices urgently required today for civil aviation. The apparatus consists of a telescopic rotor, and is thought will supersede the parachute at present in use. Not only is an individual parachute made for personnel, but there is also a cabin, or heavy-weight parachute, which represents the solution for a collective parachute, and will support a cabin able to carry four to six passengers. An advantage over the normal chute is that the direction of fall can be controlled. Vittorio Isacco, the Italian inventor of the rotor, is shown demonstrating one of his propellers.

LABOR CHIEFS GET TOGETHER

William Green, Philip Murray and John L. Lewis meet in New York
WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—American Federation of Labor and Congress on International Organization shock hands yesterday and began talking about a merger. Labor bills in United States Congress hastened the meeting. It was a five-hour meeting.
William Green of the American Federation of Labor met with Philip Murray of the C.I.O. Although it was said definite progress had been made toward an understanding, little optimism could be found in either camp over the prospect of early consolidation of the A.F. of L.'s 7,500,000 and the C.I.O.'s 6,000,000 members. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, was also in attendance.

King Tells Immigration Plans; No Japanese are to be Admitted

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King said Thursday that the present immigration policy of the government necessarily falls into two parts—measures designed for immediate application and long-term policy. He said that transportation difficulties would prevent inauguration of a general policy for some time and stress must be placed on refugees. Mr. King said the government had no intention of revamping its immigration policy to permit any large scale influx from the Orient which could not but change the fundamental composition of Canada's population. Mr. King reiterated a wartime pledge that there would be no postwar immigration of Japanese permitted.

KEEPING UP BIG SEARCH

But Weather Hampers Quest For Missing Transport Near Vancouver—Mount Coquitlam Promising
LAKE BUNTZEN, B.C.—Rugged Mount Coquitlam area still holds the most promising clue to the fate of the TransCanada Airlines plane which has been missing since Monday midnight. What was believed to have been the wing of an aircraft was sighted late last night by land searchers who were unable to continue the quest today because of treacherous weather.
The airliner, with 15 on board, is still the object of the most intensive search from ground, sea and air in Canadian aviation history.
The area of search is from Powell River on the north, Gulf of Georgia on the west, the international border on the south and Princeton on the east.

BY-ELECTION DATE IS SET

Single Vacant Seat in Canadian Parliament—That For Halifax—To Be Filled
OTTAWA, (CP)—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King announced today that the by-election for the federal seat, left vacant by the death last fall of W. C. MacDonald, Liberal member of one of the Halifax seats, will be held July 14. This will fill the only vacancy still left in the House.

ALASKA SLIDING TIE-UP LOADING HERE

Separate maritime agreements expiring on June 1 is feared that there is another tie-up of Alaskan this year, according to Howard Baltzo, president of the Wrangell Chamber of Commerce and general merchant in that town, who was in Seattle today returning home by the south. Mr. Baltzo said with local Chamber of Commerce officials while in Seattle what were the positions of Prince Rupert relative to the Alaska situation.

Unable to Impose Direct Control, Attlee Government Persuades Workers To Voluntary Sacrifice In Crisis
Britain, sapped by two wars and a great depression, is fighting for her national existence in an unprecedented economic crisis. This is one of a series of stories giving a detailed picture of the crisis, its causes, effects and the battle being fought to overcome it.

LONDON (CP)—A Socialist government that cannot impose direct control on labor must persuade 7,000,000-odd trade unionists to sacrifice voluntarily the job-protecting practices for which they fought for years.

What the United Kingdom must have is greater individual output from its working force. There is no hope of getting enough extra manpower to meet the nation's production goals without it.
"There now is no place for industrial arrangements which restrict production, prices or employment," said Prime Minister Attlee's economic White Paper last month. Accordingly:
1. Labor is being asked to work with foreigners brought in from Europe, an "import" it has

ACCUSED OF SWINDLING

OTTAWA, (CP)—Accused perpetrator of a $17,000 bank swindle, Lucius A. Parmalee, 36-year old former bank employee, was arrested at a railway station near here after complaint had been received by Ottawa banks.
Parmalee was awaiting to board a Montreal train and had $17,000 in a satchel and two checks which police stated were similar to those cashed in Ottawa banks.
Parmalee was once described as the cleverest forger in the country. He has served prison terms in United States and Canada.

Shipboard Wren Can't Buy Water

SHOREHAM, Eng. (CP)—When 21-year old Vivian Hopper, former Wren, looks out from her home she sees water everywhere but not a drop to drink. She lives with her mother in a one-time naval craft off Shoreham and the local council, she says, are imposing a "trial by thirst" by refusing her permission to buy drinking water. "When the Admiralty advertised warships for sale we thought it a wonderful solution to our housing problem," Miss Hopper said. "But disillusion set in when we came here. Our application to draw water from a pumping station 20 yards away went unanswered." The council had no comment.

BULLETINS

INTERIOR NEEDS MEN
PRINCE GEORGE—There is a critical shortage of labor here and it is estimated that 1500 to 2000 men will be needed within six weeks on highway construction, building, in logging camps and at saw-mills.

DOCK STRIKE ENDED
LONDON—The four-day dock strike in London ended today. Thousands of dock workers returned to their jobs to unload critically needed cargo ships. Strike leaders, however, said a few hundred stayed out, ignoring the government and union back-to-work pleas.

DIRECT HOUSE LOANS
OTTAWA — Reconstruction Minister C. D. Howe announced in the House of Commons Thursday night that the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation would be empowered to make "direct loans" to individuals to assist in the construction of house or rental housing projects. Up to now the loans have been limited to companies.

INSURED LOSSES TOTAL $24,000

Loss of the Clapp and Shortridge apartments and the adjoining military garage last Friday were the only major entries on the records of Fire Chief H. T. Lock during April. Five other fire calls resulted in negligible damage.
Insurance claimed on buildings and contents totalled $25,350 although the total loss ran to a much greater figure. The Clapp Block was insured for $6,000, the Shortridge Apartments for $6,000. Three residents of the Shortridge Apartments had insurance on the furniture and effects totalling $2,750 and six residents of the Clapp Block had similar insurance totalling $9,600.

"WARRIOR" CAN HANDLE 250 CALLS PER HOUR—A telephone exchange which could adequately serve the needs of a fair-sized town is the nerve centre of the internal communications system on board the Canadian aircraft carrier "Warrior." The main telephone exchange has 138 lines and nine of those are party lines with one or more extensions. During daylight hours the number rises to around 400. In addition to phones on the exchange, there are 45 direct lines between operational centres and 108 lines leading to Damage Control headquarters. Also there is a public address system audible anywhere in the ship. At the switchboard of the main telephone exchange in this picture is Able Seaman Louis Vernerey of Saskatoon, Sask., one of the four seamen of the torpedo branch who operate the switchboard.

BUTTER RATION IS ENDING SOON

This is Suggested as Sequel to Lifting of Ceiling Prices
OTTAWA, (CP) — From many centres came word yesterday of the possibility of a buyers' strike of housewives in protest at the current high prices. Such strike action was considered and intensified as a result of the announcement by Minister of Agriculture J. G. Gardiner of a 10-cent per pound increase in the retail price of butter to a new ceiling of 55c per pound, about a 4c per pound increase in cheese and increase of one cent per tin on evaporated milk.
The higher butter price may presage a removal of butter rationing in the near future, possibly by the end of May.

NOTED JURIST PASSES AWAY

Mr. Justice Denis Murphy Dies at Age of Seventy-Seven VANCOUVER — Mr. Justice Denis Murphy, who for 32 years was a member of the British Columbia Supreme Court bench, trial division, died here last night at the age of 77 years.
His Lordship was born in 1870 at Las la Hache, British Columbia. In 1896 he was called to the bar and practised first in Victoria about a year, moving to Ashcroft where he remained from 1898 to 1909. From 1900 to 1901 he was member of the Legislature for West Yale, resigning two days after being appointed Provincial Secretary. He was appointed judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia in 1909, retiring in 1941 because he felt he was losing the mental alertness and vigor necessary for carrying out his duties.
Mr. Justice Murphy retired from the board of governors of the University of British Columbia last November after serving since 1917.
His Lordship is survived by his widow, two daughters and three sons of Vancouver.

Keeping Prices Reasonable

GOVERNMENT, business, labor and the farmer must share the responsibility for high prices. Getting prices down is not just a business for any one of these. All should realize that vigorous combined efforts to reduce prices voluntarily and gradually now, insofar as it is in their ability to do, may prevent a sharp and forced cut later.

The government can help bring prices down by checking expenses, keeping rent controls, by restraining credit expansion and by not encouraging any of the elements of the population—labor and farmers as well as business—to seek a larger share of the national income.

Food is the biggest item in living costs and food prices are mounting, much of this being due to farm prices. Some farmers at least, should be in as good a position as anyone to begin the price cutting.

Industrial workers have made a good relative gain since the start of the war. Their wages will buy considerably more today than they did then although many may not "feel" richer because of recently increasing costs of living. But they might compare themselves with other sections of the community—especially white collar workers—many of whom are much worse off than when the war commenced.

Profits are booming in some industries and some of them may warrant both wage rises and price cuts.

Indeed, the two groups which have the largest opportunity today are big business and big labor. If they are tempted to look only to their own selfish advantage, they have the power to force short-run gains for themselves at the expense of everybody else.

For that reason some of the agreements for wage increases which are generally applauded should be looked at twice. Everybody is happy to see that they avoid strikes. But wage boosts that prevent price cuts may do real harm.

For price cuts benefit all consumers. Wage increases raise the purchasing power only of those who get the increases. The economists are concerned right now because people cannot buy all that they are requiring—at the prices now asked. We hear of a new-old shortage—lack of purchasing power. The best way to increase purchasing power is to increase it for everybody by lowering prices.

Politicians can play dangerously with theories of purchasing power. They are most dangerous when they seek purchasing power for one bloc or another of producers. Producers may be tempted to think that prosperity lies in high wages or profits on restricted production. But there is more lasting prosperity when it is more widely shared in full production at moderate prices and wages. That is the solid economic and moral basis for a drive to cut prices.

KEEP PUBLICIZING

PUBLICITY and advertising must be continuous, permanent and persistent to be effective. Spurts now and then may draw transient attention but unless there is day in and day out consistency it is soon forgotten.

Editor William Baker of Ketchikan, thinking of all the publicity that many newspapers and publications, including his own and ours, have been giving Prince Rupert and its position with respect to Alaska, was surprised on a recent trip that many Americans, even those in the Pacific Northwest, did not realize one could drive to Prince Rupert and be only ninety miles from Alaska. It just shows that we must go on publicizing the fact in season and out and by every means possible. One good way is by getting the people here so that they will know at first hand and pass the word along.

What is true in advertising our community wares and advantages abroad is also good within the community where business men must be advertising consistently and steadily if the way to their door is to be really beaten. In Prince Rupert there is a tendency both as a community and by individuals not to realize there is nothing like publicity and advertising to pull the business.

DOCTORS' DEVELOPMENT OF VITAMIN E CREATES CONTROVERSY—Dr. Wilfred Shute of Guelph, Ont., and Dr. Evan Shute of London, Ont., are the two Canadian doctors whose experiments with vitamin E treatment for heart conditions has led to a medical controversy. The report of the development of vitamin E has been made to the Kansas medical association by Dr. E. Shute. The brothers worked on the treatment for 14 years, assisted by Dr. Arthur Vogeslang of London, Ont., and Floyd Skelton, a medical student. Mrs. R. J. Shute, 72, mother of Evan and his brother, Wilfred, was one of the first patients to receive vitamin E for her heart condition and testifies that her recovery was a "miracle." She said she was on the point of heart failure when treatments helped her.

TALKS ABOUT INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

Observations on "industrial relations," the delicate balance of employer-employee attitudes, were given to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club Thursday afternoon by Oscar W. Pearson of Vancouver, district manager of Swift Canadian Co., who illustrated his talk with experiences of that company.

IMPORTANT THINGS IN AVERAGE LIFE

Mr. Pearson outlined what experience and observation have indicated to be the most important things in the life of the "average" man:

1. The security that goes with steady employment.
2. The chance of advancement and to know that he can get on in the world.
3. To be treated like human beings.
4. A friendly attitude on the part of the employer which preserves personal identity and does not submerge the individual into the payroll as a mere number.
5. A sense of genuine human dignity—to feel that they are doing a job worthwhile and contributing something to society.

"These are exactly the same things that our father and our grandfathers wanted. They wanted a home; to bring up their families well; to give their children the advantages of the times, and put something away for their old age. That is just what the average man wants now."

Standards of living and education have progressed until today the average man is better educated and more capable of independent thought. These educational factors which are establishing higher living standards are contributing to current unrest, Mr. Pearson said.

"It seems only natural that the desire of human nature to improve itself will manifest itself in some form or other. Surely, no one will quarrel with the right of an individual to join a union or any other organization that is set up under our democratic system of government.

"Unfortunately, the leadership of some of these organizations is not good and often gets into the hands of people who are more interested in politics or selfish motives than they are in the best interests of the membership.

"The worst feature that I see in our present situation is that certain leadership is building up a class distinction between capital and labor. However, I think there is increasing evidence every day that the rank and file of membership of many labor organizations are losing faith in over-radical leadership and that they will take care of some of these problems themselves.

"Relationships between employer and employee must be founded upon what is right and wrong between one man and another and in my opinion such things as closed shop, union maintenance and compulsory check-off are definitely inconsistent with the workings of human nature and out of step with our ideals of personal rights and liberties.

"Most of our problems are arising out of changing conditions which are gradually improving for all of us. We have passed through many phases and will pass through many the Socialist answer. Allocation of coal, electricity and raw materials can be manipulated to limit employment in luxury and semi-luxury trades. Government licences for new factories and machinery can have the same effect.

Government help will be given to the less-pleasant and heavier industries to improve their working conditions. Special concessions may be made for certain labor groups; already extra non-rationed foods and consumer goods have been sent to mining areas.

Today manpower is badly distributed—so far out of line that, even with direct control of placements, ideal distribution would be impossible immediately because of housing shortages.

SEEK MORE LABOR BY VARIOUS MEANS

While key industries are handicapped for want of labor, distribution, catering, entertainment and other consumer services are attracting more than their share. The country-wide football pools employ thousands of women in the Midlands alone—women who otherwise would be available for the cotton mills and other factories.

More men for the coal mines is priority No. 1. The target is 720,000 by the year-end, an increase of 30,000 which is far from enough but as much as the government thinks can be done in 12 months.

Next come agriculture, seriously undermanned and facing the loss soon of 65,000 German prisoners-of-war; and the textile industries, one of the biggest export groups which has only 1,405,000 workers compared with 1,803,600 in 1939.

Britain's working population, at 18,122,000, is more than 1,000,000 higher than before the war; but requirements also are higher. The armed forces, for instance, take 1,000,000 compared with less than half that number. The public service employs 2,130,000 compared with 1,465,000. Raising the school-leaving age this year will keep 160,000 juveniles out of industry.

As demobilization continues this year, the labor force will rise to 18,300,000. Polish ex-servicemen, displaced persons from Europe and part-time employment of women is expected to add another 100,000.

But it will not be enough. "This need to increase the working population is not temporary," Attlee said. "It is a permanent feature of our national life."

Editor, Daily News:

In the recent controversy in Parliament on Japanese-Canadian citizenship, the C.C.F. appears to be making headway in their long and persistent campaign on the principle of one standard of citizenship for all Canadians whether their skins be white or yellow, brown or black. For instance, the case has been emphasized of the speech of one Progressive-Conservative who temporarily deserted his party in defence of the principle consistently maintained by the C.C.F. and the fact that two Progressive-Conservatives, four Liberals and one Social Creditor voted with the C.C.F. This is a signal that the force of light is commencing to take effect. All local Liberals now carry Red membership cards.

Here is an historic picture. It was first published in John Houston's Empire newspaper on December 21, 1907, and had been taken two weeks previous by Rev. W. J. Kidd, pioneer Presbyterian Church missionary with the assistance of the late Dr. J. O. Reddie, whose widow still resides here. It shows all the children who were in Prince Rupert then with the exception of one, baby Lucy Pillsbury who was too young to be brought out on a rainy day. In the lines of the picture the writer prophetically said: "Twenty years from now the boys and girls in the picture will be taking a leading part in business and social life of Prince Rupert or other cities and the man who pens these lines will have passed across the divide to a place where there are no railway townsites or harbor engineers." Three of the children shown above still live here—Sid Anderson, one of the owners of radio station CFPR and Gladys Viereck, now Mrs. Thomas Glenn, and Riley Viereck. Catherine Pillsbury is now Mrs. R. L. Keenleyside, wife of the Canadian minister to Mexico. Richard Pillsbury is a professor at University of British Columbia.

SLIM IS THE WORD for summer fashion. Long middie-tops over pleats stress the importance of a streamlined figure. Designed by Capri of New York, this basic summer dress moulds your figure in clean-cut, clinging lines.

If you want to look your youngest, slimmest, and loveliest in the new fashions... you must watch your diet. And, in any safe diet to gain and keep a lovely figure, you should eat certain special foods because of their "protective" qualities.

That is why Kellogg's All-Bran is included in the new scientific weight-control menus. All-Bran is made only from the outer layers of the wheat grain. This is the vital part so rich in iron and certain other "protective" food elements your body must have if you want to keep your vitality... your very joy in life.

You will be glad to know, too, that All-Bran is guaranteed, on a double-your-money-back basis, to keep you regular naturally. Natural regularity is always advisable, diet or no diet. Ask your grocer for a package of Kellogg's All-Bran today.

Brantford, Ont., feared waters would pass peak of disastrous 1929 flood but they stayed four inches below previous high. Wilfred Good, shown with his nephew, Bill Good, had to go by boat from his home in Birkett's Lane, Brantford, to milk cows which were marooned on a hill.

SKAGWAY FOLK HAVE LONG LIFE

The population of Skagway is slim enough but, evidently, the Alaskan city must be a pretty fair point in which to attain length of days. There are no less than four who have reached and more than reached the eightieth year. These are Frank Fowler, Mrs. Fannie Ungersfren, Bill Sherman and Mrs. Harriet Pullen. The latter will be recalled by many Prince Rupert people who have put up at her hotel. All of the five continue healthy and active.

BAD WEATHER HOLDS SEEDING

WINNIPEG— Seeding is delayed over the whole prairie area this year, due to unseasonable cold weather and extremely good moisture conditions, and will not become general for another ten days to two weeks. Reports indicate that there will be a slight decrease in wheat acreage with a corresponding small increase in the acreage sown to coarse grains, according to the first weekly crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Livestock appears to have wintered well over the whole area in spite of the severe winter. Farm labor and machinery are sufficient to put in this year's crop.

Very little seeding has been done so far in southern Manitoba and it is expected to be another week to ten days before seeding becomes general. No seeding has been done in northern Manitoba and indications are that it will be ten days to two weeks before much work is done on the land.

In Saskatchewan there are reports of isolated seeding in the southern section but in central Saskatchewan the land is still too wet to allow seeding to become general for another ten days. Seeding will not become general in northern Saskatchewan until about the middle of May. Moisture conditions are excellent throughout the province.

Southern Alberta reports indicate that it will be a week to ten days before seeding is general, largely due to wet ground. Wet land is holding up seeding in the Edmonton area and it will be one to two weeks later than last year.

EIGHT ENTRIES FOR FASTBALL CITY LEAGUE

Eight teams—five men's and three women's—have submitted entries for the city fastball league this summer, according to Rup Ree director Neil Ross who was placed in charge of organizing the league a week ago.

Although deadline for entries was last night, Mr. Ross said that he intended to make a final survey of prospective teams before closing the entry list, probably today.

Given authority to appoint commissioners to guide the league, Mr. Ross has appointed J. S. Wilson, R. G. Moore and Walter Landon to fill the three commissionerships suggested by the organizing meeting last week. Administration and judgment of disputes will be in the hands of those three.

Final pre-season meeting of the association, consisting of team managers and voting delegates, will be held in the Civic Centre Sunday afternoon, and play is expected to begin Monday night. Just what teams will meet in the first encounter has not yet been decided.

Teams whose entries have been received so far are Co-op, Gordon & Anderson, High School, Canadian Legion and C.N.R. Athletic Association among the men, while girls' teams are Gordon & Anderson, Khatada Club and a third team which may carry either the banner of the Moose Lodge or the High School.

BROWNWOODS LEAD MIXED "B" BOWLING

In the "B" division of the mixed bowling league, Brownwoods made a clean sweep of three straight games over 63 Cabs, while Bluejays defeated Fighters 2-1 and Whizbangs downed Rebels and Sharps and Flats overcame Hangovers by similar margins.

In the league standings, Sharps and Flats climbed to the top, sharing first place with

HONORED BY ROTARY CLUB

"It seems like you have to go away to find out how much you're appreciated," grinned Rotarian Fred Scadden Thursday afternoon in response to a presentation by club members prior to his leaving on an extended trip to England.

The presentation was made by Club President Dr. L. W. Kergin who informed Mr. Scadden that, since he was leaving his post as sergeant-at-arms, it was his duty to appoint a substitute during his four-months absence.

Fifty faces turned pale as Mr. Scadden scanned the assemblage for a prospective successor. From the cringing mass, he chose William Terry, who will take temporary charge of the cherrywood mace and be responsible for arranging the flags in the Commodore banquet room before each meeting.

granddaughter, also with a mind of her own but unlike her guardian, she "loves music." It is this feeling for music which actually starts the plot off on its way to a dramatic climax.

The travelling musicians enter the scene early in the play.
Harry Seamans takes the part of the maestro who has slid from the top of his profession to the bottom. Bert Cameron is the violinist and unreformed thief. The role of the pianist is taken by Mr. Locke.

The play will be presented tonight in the United Church Hall.
It will be part of an evening's entertainment which will also feature J. S. Wilson singing Irish songs of humor and Mrs.
Brian Higgins, well known for her vocal solos.

Colored films from the National Film Board will be shown by R. E. Moore.

BUT, you know,
IT IS
HAY

... for money to spend wisely on worthwhile things . . . but for the unforeseen emergency—the unexpected opportunity.

During the war years, nearly half a million more Canadians realized that setting aside money in a savings account at the B of M was sound commonsense—like the farmer putting hay in his barn. That makes a million and a half B of M depositors following a policy that is at once in the best interests of the individual depositor and in the best interests of the nation.

For money in the bank doesn't lie idle. It works constantly in two ways. It works for the saver and it works for national prosperity—providing, by loans and investment, the capital that creates employment. It helps to produce goods . . . to produce prosperity.

WHEN we were a bit younger,
"it ain't hay" was a smart way of saying that the money involved was really important.

We'll wager the man who coined the phrase was not a farmer. Because a farmer would see that there is a lot of similarity between the hay in his mow and important money
. . . money in the bank.

For the wise farmer stores hay—not just enough for a mild winter, but enough for the longest, most severe one.

And the wise saver provides not only for the expenditures he plans

KENYA IS SISTER SHIP OF UGANDA

H.M.S. Kenya, on a coast cruise, will stop here from August 18 to August 21, coming from Vancouver. She will leave this port for Alaska, after which she will return south.

A cruiser of the "Colony" class Kenya is identical with H.M.C.S. Uganda, which has visited Prince Rupert several times, and which was taken over by Canada from the Royal Navy during the war.

CONSTRUCTION TOTAL $16,000

Twenty-three building permits, valued at $16,960, issued at the City Engineer's office during April, brought value of construction in Prince Rupert for the first four months of the year to $50,792, a decrease of $21,000 under the same period for 1946.

Construction of three houses totalling $12,500 in cost gave a substantial boost to last month's permit list. Largest item was a $5,500 residence being built by R. L. Eby on Fourth Avenue East. Others were a $4,500 dwelling for T. Johnson, also on Fourth Avenue East and a $2,500 house for A. Bergeron, Eleventh Avenue East.

Here is the April list of building permits:
