Shriners of Gizeh Temple Have Two Memorable Days in Mecca of Rupert

Decorated with flying flags and the bright uniforms of over two hundred Shriners and their wives, the members of the Shrine of the Gizeh Temple pulled up to the Canadian National Dock at 2:15 Friday morning, commencing a memorable two-day pilgrimage to Prince Rupert which kept the city busy until midnight Saturday.

The Shrine of the Gizeh Temple, which was heralded as the most successful yet completely propitious visit to Prince Rupert, was met by blue skies and a warm sun. The visiting delegation, headed by the Shrine of the Gizeh Temple, was met by the Shrine of the Gizeh Temple, which was heralded as the most successful yet completely propitious visit to Prince Rupert.

CANADA PLAYS HOST TO I.A.C.O. GENERAL ASSEMBLY—Garrison Norton, chairman of the United States delegation, is shown as he addressed the first general assembly of the International Civil Aviation organization in Montreal. Three hundred delegates from 42 countries assembled for the meeting. Also shown are: Dr. Edward Warner, president of P.I.C.A.O. interim council (centre) and Dr. Albert Roper, secretary-general.

FRANCE IS RESTLESS

PARIS (CP)—Twin currents of unrest swept through France yesterday in the wake of demonstrations by crowds at Lyon who forced a government official to countermand an order cancelling all bread coupons for May. One element of discontent was spearheaded by the working classes, chronically short of bread and meats, the other by small traders against what they termed "red tape," official "snooping" and high taxation. Many other incidents were reported arising from food shortages.

YUGO SLAVIA IS HELD TO BLAME FOR INCITING OF GREEK FRONTIER TROUBLE

GENEVA (CP)—Russian and United States sources said the United Nations Balkan investigating commission approved by an 8 to 2 vote today the conclusion that YugoSlavia was primarily to blame for the support of guerilla warfare in Greece, Albania and Bulgaria were blameworthy to a lesser degree.

Four Men Recovering Following Tragic Waterfront Fire-Blast

Details of Waterfront Tragedy Which Marred Holiday Week-end—Inquest Started

Four men are still in hospital today recovering from serious burns and injuries received in the explosion, followed by fire, that killed two of their companions, demolished the halibut boat Lorna H. and started an oil fire which destroyed a portion of the Home Oil Co. wharf at 1:45 p.m. Friday just as the son trying to start the engine. ENGINE SEEMED TO BE MISFIRING. "It wasn't starting right, sort of misfiring. There was an explosion. A sheet of flame came right up over the dock toward the office."

Wharf Attendant John Findlay saw the flames and ran to the wharf office, a corrugated iron building near the end of the wharf, to telephone the fire department.

"I tried to get central," he said, "but there was so much noise that I don't know whether I got through or not. I yelled 'send a fire truck to the Home Oil Dock' into the phone a couple of times, then ran for it."

"I was only there a few seconds after the blast, but I had to run through a wall of flames to get to safety."

Neil Stromdal said that John Wick had been blown onto the boat Overtime which was moored beside the Lorna H.

Stromdal, Finlay and Slatta paid tribute to Swindt White, oil company accountant, who ran from the oil dock to the Edmunds and Walker plant of B.C. Packers, got a small boat, and rowed back to the float on the opposite side of the wharf from where the Lorna H. had exploded.

White carried an axe and cut loose four boats which were in danger. Among them was Stan Bjornson's Salal and Alf Jerstad's Hast. Flames licked above him as he cut the boats loose.

Capt. Knutson said later "I don't know what really happened. I started the engine, then it stopped. I started it again and the whole pilot house split wide open and I landed on the fore deck."

WAS CHECKED FOR LEAKAGE. Prior to the explosion, he said, he had checked the boat for gasoline leakage. One tank had overflowed when the boat took on gas a short time before but he had flushed the bilges with water and pumped them out.

Significant Message Sent To Congress by Chief Executive

BULLETINS

MOLDY WINS. TORONTO—The three-year-old colt, Moldy, owned by Colonel R. E. McLaughlin of Oshawa was the surprise winner of the 88th King's Plate race before a crowd of 40,000 in Toronto, on Saturday, May 24th.

CASEY VINK, JR., SHOT. VANCOUVER—Casey Vink, aged 12, was fatally shot by a bullet from a rifle with which his brother, William Vink, 10, was playing. The family formerly lived at Prince Rupert.

FATAL FIST FIGHT. VANCOUVER—A 17-year-old youth, tentatively identified as David Sherlock is lead, and another youth is held in a juvenile detention home following a fatal fist fight in a park last night.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—President Truman today asked Congress to approve a broad program of military co-operation with all western hemisphere countries including the arming, training and organization of armed forces of Latin America and Canada.

Declaring that world developments in the last year give "still greater importance" to close hemisphere collaboration than a year ago, when similar legislation was proposed, Mr. Truman asked for prompt congressional action. Key segment of the program is standardization of armaments throughout the hemisphere and transfer of United States military and naval equipment to sister governments by "sale of other methods."

Mr. Truman said: "This government will not, I am sure, in any way approve or nor will it participate in the indiscriminate or unrestricted distribution of armaments."

Broadening of Chamber Commerce Scope Is Advocated By National President Here

National President Heard By Local Board—Prince Rupert Should Play Greater Part

An appeal to the business men of Prince Rupert to use the machinery of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce of Canada for the betterment of the community was made here Friday evening by C. Gordon Cockshutt of Brantford, Ontario, president of the national Chamber of Commerce during a flying visit to the city.

Mr. Cockshutt was guest of honor at a dinner given by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, attended by 50 members of the senior and junior chambers, and representatives of the Terrace and District Board of Trade and Associated Boards of Trade of Central B.C.

Fellow guests of honor were D. M. Morrell, of Montreal, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Canada, and W. J. Borrie, immediate past president of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

"No community that is progressive can afford to ignore the machinery that has been set up for their use on a national scale—the Chamber of Commerce of Canada," Mr. Cockshutt declared. "The Chamber of Commerce of Canada, while nationwide, is geared to operate on the local level and, Prince Rupert has as much weight as Vancouver or Montreal in deciding policy on the national level."

"In Prince Rupert, you have realized that a community cannot live unto itself, that you must have unity in the district. For that reason, you have created an Associated Boards of Trade to give district leadership."

"I think that Central British Columbia, while still in its infancy, has a tremendous appeal. You represent the youth of this fine country, you represent the youth in the building up of Canada."

He appealed for the creation of the fishermen's floats east of the dry dock, then go to the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. to take on ice, then leave for the grounds.

Neil Stromdal said that when the Lorna H. exploded, it was hurled almost 10 feet out of the water.

The city fire department was on the scene of the blaze within a matter of minutes, turning hose lines on the fire which sent up billows of black smoke high into the sky. (Continued on Page Three)

Children, Adults, Visitors, Enjoy Liveliest Victoria Day in Years

Prince Rupert donned its gala mood and garments Saturday to enjoy what probably was the liveliest Victoria Day celebration in its history and the Kinsmen Club, sponsor of the events, was rewarded with $2,200 toward its boys' summer camp fund in a day that saw thousands turn out in flawless weather.

Climax of the celebration was the coronation of Queen Alice Nickerson at Roosevelt Park at 2 p.m. after a parade which contained scores of colorful entries, large and small, had circled downtown streets packed with citizens in 77 degrees of heat.

Miss Nickerson, Gyro Club candidate, was crowned by 1946 May Queen Sonja Sorenson after she had mounted the coronation dais between an honor guard of sailors from U.S.S. John W. Thomason which previously had led off the parade.

The Kinsmen celebration blended with the visits of the Shriners of Gizeh Temple and U.S.S. John W. Thomason to provide a gala atmosphere that touched residents and visitors of all ages. Perfect weather crowned the success of the day.

The events at Roosevelt Park, supervised by hard-working Kinsmen and volunteer helpers, were primarily for the children and met with unqualified approval of the city's youth. Athletic events included youngsters from every city school. (Continued on Page 3)

Thanks of Shrine Club
 Prince Rupert Shrine desires to express its sincere appreciation to the people of Prince Rupert for the whole-hearted and generous manner in which they co-operated with the Shrine in connection with Gizeh Temple's spring ceremonial. The welcome and hospitalities extended here received enthusiastic acknowledgment from the illustrious Potentate, the Divan and nobility general. They went away with the most friendly and memorable impressions of this community and its people. The Prince Rupert Shrine would express particular appreciation for the cooperation of the mayor and authorities, the Kinsmen Club, the Moose Lodge, municipal and city police, the Centre authorities, the Prince Rupert Club, Capitol Centre, Sea Cadet Corps (Capt. commanding officer) and the business people in the various ways by which they assisted in connection with the welcome and hospitality to the visitors. A. K. NELSON, President, Prince Rupert Shrine Club.

HAREWOOD DIES

LEEDS, Eng.—The Earl of Harewood, 64-year-old brother-in-law of King George, died Saturday at Harewood House, of cardiac complications and asthma.

Waterfront Fire Tragedy

MOST TRAGICALLY unfortunate aspect of the waterfront explosion and fire on Friday was that it cost two valuable lives and caused extremely serious and painful injuries to other victims.

While the inquest which has been started into the incident may or may not definitely establish the cause of this blast and whether or not the exercise of certain precautions might have averted it, the affair focusses attention on the desirability of the utmost of care on vessels using highly combustible or explosive fuel.

In the Lorna H. incident the city fire department did a good and valiant job with the resources at its command—resources of equipment which, under possible different circumstances, might have been pitifully futile even with the utmost valor and resourcefulness.

If the tragedy of the Lorna H. may have any sequel towards preventing further incidents of the kind, there will have been at least some consolation to the whole sorrowful affair.

"THE HEALER" ARRIVES—Clad in flowing robes, Avak, an Armenian who is reputed to heal through prayer, is shown on his arrival in New York.

Reminiscences and Reflections

The only former president of the United States to spend a day in Prince Rupert was the late William H. Taft and he spoke at a luncheon held under the auspices of the Canadian Club presided over by the late Judge F. McB. Young.

But there was nothing stilted. He did not generalize unduly. He was pleasant, seemed to know what would interest the people of Canada, indulged in timely witticisms and, with a deep chuckle, remarked that on his return home "he hoped to shed the light of his intellect on his fellow countrymen."

ing sheet at that. It did business on Third Avenue just east of McBride Street and was called The Journal. It struggled manfully along but fate must have ordained that when two make company, a third is nothing short of being a crowd. And fate decided which would be the crowd in this case.

Fighting one's way up the Skeena River aboard a Foley, Welch & Stewart's teamer in construction days was an experience worth waiting for. So was the thrill of voyaging back, about 'umpteenth times as fast. Hazelton was head of navigation. Bucking the ceaseless force of a powerful mountain stream took all any boat had.

WAR SEEN SURE

OUR ONLY CHANCE to avoid open war with the Soviet Union is to organize the world's free peoples to resist Soviet imperialism . . . Time is running out against us." So warns William C. Bullitt, former Ambassador to Russia and France, in The Reader's Digest for June.

Victory in World War II, Bullitt says, brought us the realization that "the aims of Hitler and the Japanese militarists are united in the person of Stalin." With virtually all of eastern Europe already under Soviet control, and the rest of the Continent gravely threatened, the author holds that the "vital concern" of the United States is to prevent Stalin from uniting Europe, Asia, and Africa for a "final assault on the Western Hemisphere."

Appraising our foreign policy since 1941, Bullitt charges it with "ignorant and reckless disregard of the vital interests of the American people . . . One of the most disastrous errors in history was to treat the Soviet Union as a peace-loving democracy instead of as a predatory tyranny bent on world conquest."

In Stalin's tactics today, Bullitt sees a parallel to Hitler's aggressive pre-war moves. "Our position now singularly resembles that of France in 1936," he says. "Ill-informed Frenchmen believed that Hitler never would attack France—just as today our gazers argue that Stalin never intends to harm the United States."

To Greece and Turkey, "where the deadline of disaster is visibly close, President Truman rightly gave first priority." France should be next on the agenda for U.S. support, Bullitt contends, for "control of France by Stalin would mean a Communist Europe." The Communist Party, while not in the majority, is the largest single party in France and already holds the ministries of National Defence, Labor, Health, and Reconstruction. It controls a substantial part of the French air force, and its "well-armed underground military units contain more men than the regular army in France."

Militarily, Bullitt warns, a Stalin-controlled France would put the Soviet air force at Casablanca and Dakar, and in French Caribbean and Canadian islands—close to the Panama Canal and the St. Lawrence River. "England, facing the prospect of Russian rockets, could hope to survive only as a large bomb-torn Malta."

Bullitt urges all possible U.S. aid to leaders of the non-Communist majority of the French Parliament if they should decide to combine in a single party against Communism. A democratic France, he holds, is the surest means of binding the European democracies for their own defense—"which is our defense."

Our help to free states must consist of superior force, the author says, "not merely military and economic but the force of ideas. We have freedom to offer the world. In the field of ideas, freedom is our atomic bomb."

The ice is still THIN!

Even though the "Danger" signs of Inflation can be taken down now, they have to be replaced with signs reading, "Proceed With Caution." The ice is still too thin for any Canadian to tell himself, "Now, at last, I can go ahead and buy everything I want."

We can't—yet. But we can proceed to enjoy—in moderation—many of the goods and services which were so long in short supply. These good things are ours at moderate prices now because we were moderate in our demands before.

Today, Canadians can indeed be proud of one of this country's finest possessions, which is, as The House of Seagram has long contended, this nation's policy of moderation in all things—in its thinking, in its buying and in its personal habits.

After fire fighters gave assistance and within quarters an hour, the dock had been brought under control.

Fire fighters were to the very edge of the flames to roll away the flames and lubricate the engine with oil, some of which had exploded with the intensity. In many instances, the drums were so hot that they could not be touched and had to be rolled over their feet.

In fighting the fire, the U.S. Navy detachment, John W. Thomason, got up causing steam in the engine room and used her modern fire fighting equipment to the blazing oil.

The fighting ship, quickly to the distance from the wrecked wharf and poured the foam on the wharf, the charred dock with thick milky substance which a sailor described as

BOAT HAS HAD UNLUCKY TIME

The last six months have been unlucky for Capt. Knutson. Friday's explosion was the third mishap to the Lorna H. since last October. Six months ago while beam trawling, the Lorna H. struck a rock near Barks Island and opened her seams. She was beached and brought to Prince Rupert for repairs.

Last Wednesday morning, the vessel lost her rudder while she had 12,000 pounds of fish aboard, and had to be towed to port.

Now, the Lorna H. is just a mass of blackened wreckage. Her third accident was her last.

Inquest into the death of the two victims was commenced Friday evening by Coroner M. M. Stephens and, after the bodies had been identified by Robert Parker, was adjourned until the evening of May 30. The coroner's jury consists of A. B. Love, foreman, David R. Hay, Ronald W. London, Fred Hardy, Ernest Wilding and P. J. McCormick.

Medical attendant had told police that some of the survivors, so extensive and complex were the nature of injuries, would probably be in hospital from six to eight months, their condition being critical in the meantime. Chances for recovery were, however, held out.

Robert Hojston, who went through the Battle of Britain and served in western Europe with the Canadian Army and did not suffer a scratch, leaves a young widow and two sons—one six and one four. He had lived here since early boyhood and is the son of Victor Houston, Canadian Legion president. He was a brother of one of the critically injured, David Houston, who also saw service overseas.

The body of Stan Orvik was recovered from the wreckage of the Lorna H. about an hour and a half after the explosion which started the fire.

STATEMENT TO POLICE

James Irvine, Home Oil dock attendant, who was in the small office shed at the end of the wharf where the Lorna H. was moored, in a statement to the police, said that the Lorna H. had filled up about one hour to an hour and a half before the explosion which came at 1:50 p.m. The skipper started the engine and it ran for about a minute it seemed before the explosion occurred. Meantime, ac-

According to Irvine, there was comment that it sounded like the muffler had blown off the engine. The whole boat seemed to disintegrate with the violence of the blast which could be heard and felt throughout the city. In a matter of minutes, said Irvine, the whole end of the wharf seemed to be in flames. He (Irvine) shut off all valves and the fire department was called. After the fire, the gas line on the dock had, apparently become ignited. Great clouds of black smoke started billowing skyward. It was a calm, warm, bright afternoon.

The Lorna H. had loaded 135 gallons of gasoline.

The favorable weather was a propitious circumstance to aid the fire department in a valiant job in the face of both difficulty and danger. One hundred and fifty barrels of naphtha, coal oil and lubricating oil lay nearby. With the assistance of volunteer workers much of this was rolled away and salvaged although some of the barrels burst by explosion.

Acting Fire Chief Earl Becker directed the fire fighting and Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton, police chief, conducted a general patrol, assisted by Sgt. Jack Henry, a visiting officer from Smithers.

All the city's fire fighting equipment was pressed into service and a fire pumping scow from the nearby dry dock was also used. The United States destroyer J. W. Thomason, which was visiting port, later came alongside and completed the final extinguishment by spraying the entire end of the dock with the foamite.

The assistance of the shore patrol of the U.S.S. Thomason was also acknowledged.

The fire was raging as two coastal liners were arriving in port from Vancouver with over two hundred Gizeh Temple Shriners coming here for a gay ceremonial for which the city had assumed holiday air.

Dr. W. S. Kergin was on hand to attend the injured on the British-American Oil Co. dock as the victims were pulled out of the wreck of the Lorna H. Hours of further treatment and dressing followed in hospital.

EXPLOSION DUE TO FUME ACCUMULATION

The explosion was tentatively attributed to the presence of fumes due to leakage in gas line or fuel tanks. So great was the blast that the pilot house, bilge pump and gas tank were blown clear out of the vessel onto the ramp of the dock. The boat was lifted out of the water and split into two with fragments. Part of the deck remained afloat but the hull sank.

As for the end of the Home Oil wharf, damage was such that considerable renewing of plies and decking will be required.

Sergeant J. Henry of the provincial police detachment at Smithers arrived in the city on Thursday night's train to attend the spring session of Assize Court which opened here today.

Mr. Justice John O. Wilson arrived in the city Sunday evening on the Coquitlam to preside at the spring session of the Assize Court which opened today.

Ted Fairfax, representing the Vancouver Province, was a newspaperman coming north at the end of the week, making the maiden trip on the new steamer Chilliwack with her party of Gizeh Temple Shriners.

Customs Officer S. P. Woodside sailed at the week-end for Ocean Falls for duty on the wrecked American ship North Sea which is being broken up for scrap by a Victoria salvage company.

Constable Walter Strouts of the provincial police detachment at Burns Lake arrived in the city on Thursday night's train escorting Gabriel Jeff Williams, interior native, whose trial on a charge of attempted murder will be held at the spring session of Assize Court this week.

Inspector and Mrs. Ernest Gammon, who have been in the city for the Shrine ceremonial, left this morning by car on their return home.

Children, Adults...

John W. Thomason followed the children's entries, and were in turn followed by the bugle band of Captain Cook corps of Sea Cadets. Prize winning floats were those of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative, and the Canadian Legion.

Entries in the parade were: children with small decorated vehicles and pets; U.S. Navy honor guard. Sea Cadets band; Kinsmen's Royal float; Girl Guides' float; Fishermen's Co-op float; Superior Stores float; Ski Club float; Canadian Legion memorial float; Moosheaven float; A. E. Smith decorated truck; city fire truck; Pioneer Laundry decorated truck; Canadian Legion float; Bob Parker decorated car and truck; Shriners with band and crippled children's hospital float with Solveig Mork as a nurse and the little son Allen and daughter Shirley of Al Morgan as happy children.

Saturday evening, the enterprising Kinsmen employed the open air floor of the former exhibition building to stage a dance which drew a large attendance. Music was provided by record player.

BROWNWOODS WIN SHRINE STORE DISPLAY

Brownwoods Shoe Store, combining a musical theme with the keys to the city, won the Prince Rupert Shrine Club's first prize of $15 for the most imaginative window display welcoming the visiting members of Gizeh Temple at the week-end.

Judges of the contest were George Hill, Inspector H. H. Mansell and Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton.

Second prize was won by the Northern B.C. Power Co. and third by Watts and Nickerson's clothing store.

The prize winning window, a creation of Bobby Woods and George Brown, featured a revolving key in a window with yellow crepe paper background, trimmed with red and green. The key sits before an archway with floral trimmings while the shrine symbols of scimitar and crescent are prominently displayed. The punch line of the display is the legend: "Hello, you Shriners Richards, here's the key to Prince Rupert's doors!"

S. J. Jabour, who came north with the Gizeh Temple Shrine party at the end of the week, is stopping over in the city until the middle of this week on business.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

FREEZE ONLY VEGETABLES FRESH PICKED FROM GARDEN

Vegetables to be stored in home freezing units or lockers should be frozen, just as they should be cooked, as soon as possible after harvesting. This is the recommendation made by experimental studies which have tested loss of flavor, tenderness and vitamin content in vegetables after the harvest.

Prompt handling of garden products from harvesting to freezing is of the utmost importance. For example, holding freshly picked peas in a warm room for three to four hours will materially toughen the skins. Losses of Vitamin C are greatest during this period.

One to two thirds of their original Vitamin C may be lost by vegetables in 24 hours at room temperature. If necessary to hold overnight, they should be placed in a refrigerator or covered with crushed ice. Never try to hold them after shelling, slicing or cooking.

The findings concerning the loss of nutrition are of importance to housewives who harvest or purchase vegetables for the table. Peas are an outstanding example of the loss of flavor due to delay in cooking or processing. Tests by the state experiment station at Geneva, New York, showed that Vitamin C content dropped as peas grew older. In late harvesting at different stages of maturity over a 20 day period, the oldest lots contained 25 per cent less Vitamin C than the youngest. They also lost tenderness, as indicated by a tenderness test of 80 for the youngest and 140 for the oldest. Tenderometer is a new device to measure toughness.

Garden-fresh for freezing means not more than two hours after harvesting.

Peas are sweetest at dawn and if harvested then should be kept in a cold place until cooked, frozen or canned.

Spinach stored at room temperature loses 20 per cent of its Vitamin C content in 24 hours and in six days it loses 50 per cent. Spinach is eaten six days in the way from field to table.

Vegetables recommended for freezing are, in general, the home garden kinds which excel in tenderness and flavor, without regard to their shipping qualities.

The small tender beets, the young tender leaves of all greens, carrots harvested late in the fall and mature but not woody. Grade lima beans and peas by freezing in cold brine and discarding all that sink to the bottom, which will be overmature.

HIGH SCHOOL EMPIRE DAY

Impressive Observance in Capital Theatre Saturday

Although there was an unfortunate delay in the commencement of the Empire Day observances arranged for the students and staff of the South Memorial High School, the final arrival of the spectacular Shriners' Band and their subsequent stirring selections contributed from the stage of the Capital Theatre put all in a responsive mood for the remainder of the program.

Mrs. D. C. Stuart, Municipal Registrar of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire and mistress of ceremonies, explained some of the aims and ideals of the order which she represented, declaring that the young folks must uphold the honor of Canada among the nations.

Mayor Arnold affirmed her pride and special interest in the youth of the city, as a former teacher and present mayor.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson were introduced as special guests by Mrs. Stuart. Mr. Nelson, as President of the visiting Shriners, and Mrs. Nelson as a member of the provincial executive of the I.O.G.E. Mrs. Nelson commended Mrs. E. M. Forde on the fine program which she had arranged.

F. E. Arfield, member for the occasion, chaired the rising generation with the responsibility of reconstructing a better world. "Character, with honor placed above all is the essential basis for the survival of democracy," he declared in an exhortation world which is best with strange doctrines and unknown desires of that, he stressed the value of true patriotism which seeks to serve. "There must be no bowing down to dictatorship of either capitalist or trade unionist," he asserted. "Our Empire must maintain her democratic way of life and we should all strive, with the help of God, to become good citizens of our Empire and of the world."

Several students contributed melodic and talented performances while others capered through dances and drills with crisp precision.

Their program followed: Violin solo by Vaughan Fryer, accompanied by Mary Adcock.

Physical Education display under the direction of Miss Matheson. Taking part were Joyce Pedersen, Diane Gilker, Margaret Wide, Margaret Johansen, Marjorie Thurston, Peggy Stevenson, Doreen Paul, Nellie Pavlich, Genie Windle, Barbara Teng, Ellen Jensen, Florence Nordin, Geraldine Procter, Shirley Hudson, Janet Radlow, Alne Paulson, Shari Lupalis and Margaret Keave.

Irish Folk Dance, directed by Mrs. M. Kreuser, with Joyce Farrington, Leona Webster, Margaret Strachan, Patsy Hill, Isobel Taylor and Inger Pedersen, pianist, Rose-Marie Hartwig. Highland dancing, directed by Captain Flood, with Doreen MacArthur, Doreen Paul, Jean Calderwood, Molly Wood, Astrid Swang and Kathleen Hills. Lorraine Lintay, accompanist. Piano solo with encore by Lorraine Lintay.

The ceremonial itself took place in two services Saturday night. There were 50 initiates in all, 25 from Prince Rupert and 25 from outside points. No less than 20 nobles came to the city from Alaska by ship and plane and the central interior as far east as Enkayla contributed other visitors.

The ceremonial occupied the time until nearly midnight and at 1 a.m. the brightly lighted excursion steamers, further illuminated by pyrotechnic flares and with band leading in facewell airs, sailed away amid cheers and songs, the keynote of which was the old "Will Ye no Come Back Again?" The consensus of all the visitors that it would not be 20 years before Glenah made Prince Rupert its Mecca again.

All in all, it had been one of Prince Rupert's most spectacular and happiest gatherings.

OVER-FENCE HIT WINS PLAUDITS IN BALL PARK

Bench sitters at Roosevelt Park baseball field Sunday afternoon witnessed the second annual performance of the over-fence - and - home drama, starring Ian Dunbar, newly acquired Moose first sacker, who aroused the Loyal Order from its five-inning slump with a clout that put the ball well beyond the left field barrier, and brought in the team's only two runs against Savoy.

Ninth inning tally was: Savoy 10, Moose 2.
For his classic sixth-inning clout, the like of which has been seen only once before, Dunbar won a silver cigarette case, donated by Johnny Odowes in recognition of herculean hitting. Jack Lindsay performed a similar feat in the 1946 season.
Otherwise, the Moose performance was pretty innocuous. Pitcher Stu Henry allowed 13 base hits and struck out 12 batters. Error to coin a phrase, was rife among the Moose fielders. One notable play was the run-down of Savoy runner Boyo Gurvich in the seventh inning. Boyo was tagged in desperate move toward home by Henry in a hot-box play involving Moose shortstop Linney third baseman Dell and catcher Kurdzell.

Dunbar, with his home run, also brought home right fielder Dave Baillie who had got on base with a one-base hit to centre field.
As a matter of fact it was somewhat of a day for home runs. Ted Arney of Savoy set the fashion in the first inning when he blasted one deep into right field, bringing home Bruce Simundson who had got on base on a double and Herb Morgan, who hit a single.
Savoy scored another run in the third, off a single by Foster, then went into a real spree in the fourth, marking up four runs. Jim Forman, who hit a single, scored off a bunt by Morgan, while both Morgan and Simundson, who hit a double, came home on a double by Gurvich.
Savoy's final two runs were scored in the seventh off singles by Scherk and Gurvich.

LOCALS BEAT NAVAL SHIP

Gordon-Anderson Score 17 to 7 Victory Over John W. Thomason

A series of well-placed salvos from the Gordon and Anderson sluggers, sank the castball crew of the S.S. John W. Thomason to the low end of a 17-7 score in an exhibition game played before a large crowd at Roosevelt Park Saturday night.

The first inning was scoreless but in the second Arney of Prince Rupert tallied and McKenny of the Thomason earned a rapid tour of the bases with a homer.
In the third Prince Rupert picked up another run but the Navy men didn't hit the target again until the fourth when they uncorked a broadside that let six of their men hot-foot it over the plate. Vengeance for Prince Rupert came in the first of the fifth when they retaliated with another six Simundson started the parade with a base hit, H. Duncan did a repeat performance and Dunbar drove them both across the plate with a homer.

Prince Rupert shut out the visitors for the rest of the game while scoring four more runs in the sixth, one in the seventh and another four in the ninth. Benny Windle was the man of decision behind the plate and Mike Montesano called the base plays.

C.N.R. WINS OVER NAVY

C.N.R. Railwaymen Shut Out Fastball Players from Navy Friday

The Canadian National Recreation Association fast ball team boned the ball around the lot at Gyro Park Friday night to ring up a 12 to 0 victory over the Navy.
Dunbar, on the mound for the Railwaymen, did not give the Navy sluggers a chance to warm up. He whiffed 22, walked one and allowed only three hits, two of these went to Woodside who stretched both into two-baggers.
From Dumas, C.N.R.A. collected 10 hits and 6 walks with only one man going the strike-out route.
Mead of the Navy sparkled out in centre field where he gathered five flies. Two of them he took over his shoulder while running deep into left field.
Despite the score the tilt was an impressive show. It was the first game of the season for the Navy and the first league fixture for either team.

you have a good thing, why not keep it? To do this, the Board of Trade must be articulate." He urged that the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce employ a full-time, paid secretary. This idea, he said, is being accepted increasingly throughout Canada, and there are now 100 paid secretaries in Chambers of Commerce within the Dominion.

Development of the Chamber of Commerce of Canada was outlined by D. M. Morrell who said that there are now 365 members groups whereas three years ago there were only 145. He assured the meeting that the Chamber of Commerce of Canada is working on a national harbor policy brief as advocated by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

Other speakers were George McAdams, president of the Associated Boards of Central B.C., A. P. Crawley, president of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce, T. W. Sinclair, Vancouver, and Mr. Borrie. Chairman of the meeting was G. A. Hunter, president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. The group, which also included Mrs. Cockshutt and Mrs. Pease, left Saturday morning by aircraft to return to Vancouver. During their brief stay here, the visitors were shown around the city and hospitality was extended the ladies.

A conference was held by Mr. Cockshutt and Mr. Morrell with the Terrace Board visitors, the executive of the Associated Boards of Central British Columbia and the local national affairs committee while here.

FOLLOWING THE BIG PARADE

It needed all the dazzle of Prince Rupert's super-lavish sunshine to rival the glamor and glitter of Saturday's parade.

Marching from McBride Street to Roosevelt Park on a day like May 24 takes some trying—particularly if one is no longer young. And some in the colorful procession would come under that heading. Plenty perspiration!

There was no lack of ingenuity and aptness, as well as good taste seen in the local floats. There was, indeed, a true holiday spirit and responsive crowds. For example, the bathtub and the washtub received spontaneous laughs from everywhere. These touches of levity helped give a balance to the many other, and more serious units.

The bugle band of the Sea Cadet Corps looked and marched well. The occasion was important, and they rose to it.

It was with deep interest the onlookers watched the Shriners drill as they moved along the line of march. Only long practice and experience could give such precision.

"I don't remember feeling the weather any warmer than this even down in San Diego," an American sailor was overheard to say. The detachment of blue-jackets off the visiting destroyer were given good reception as they swung past.

RIVERS ELEVATION 1550 FT ALL VISITING AIRCRAFT REPORT TO "C" FLIGHT

JOINT AIR SCHOOL TO OPEN AT RIVERS, MAN.—The Canadian army and R.C.A.F., together with Royal Canadian navy personnel, are setting up a joint air school at Rivers, Man., which is expected to become operational some time in September. The highly complex problem of land-air defensive and offensive action will be studied and taught at one large school where navy, army and air force are to be completely intermingled. Shown above shaking hands are two of the first members of the school to arrive in Rivers: Lieut. A. W. Currie, of Edmonton, Alta., and Flight-Lieut. C. D. Bricker, D.F.C., of Sudbury, Ont. Flight-Lieut. Bricker was formerly commanding officer of No. 430 Fighter Squadron overseas.

BIRD BERGEN The towhee or swamp robin is a bird ventriloquist.

Well Played, Bobby!

(JAY ESS)

To no section of the community did the news of the tragic death of Bobby Houston come with more sickening force than to the lovers and supporters of sports in the city. The sporting community has lost its brightest jewel.

From his first days at Borden Street School, all through his school career and later in city competition and in the forces, Bobby was known as a good sport. His name was synonymous with the highest tradition of sportsmanship. A natural athlete, he took part in many varieties of sport and excelled in them all. His talent was admired by teammate and opponent alike. Skill in every department of the game coupled with the fullest measure of team work made him invaluable to a team. No captain or team manager could ask for a more loyal player. He played where he was wanted and always gave of his best.

Perhaps it was when the going was hardest that he shone the most. He was always cool. He played hard, he played clean. And always there was the smile of the true sport. He was the referee's ideal player. Decisions were taken without question and he went on "playing the game." I can still see him in tennis games when, instead of claiming his shot as a good one, his remark to his opponent or the umpire was "How was it?"

Our hearts go out to his wife his children and his parents and brother. Our best chosen words in such times are feeble. But we would like to hope that the knowledge that Bobby was such a grand sport, that he was acclaimed by all as such, by his opponents no less than by his fellow players, may be some consolation to them.

His winning of the "Good Sportsmanship" trophy this spring was the tribute of the citizens of Prince Rupert. I know that he treasured it and the spontaneous burst of applause with which the announcement was greeted must have assured him of the respect of us all.

Perhaps the authorities would consider renaming the trophy and calling it the "Bobby Houston Memorial Good Sportsmanship Trophy." The winning of such a trophy would surely be a challenge to the best in every athlete in the city for Bobby Houston's standard of sportsmanship was the ideal of every true sportsman.

Well played, Bobby!
