BELL PRESENTATION RECALLS SINKING OF FRIGATE HMCS PRINCE RUPERT

Presentation of the ship's bell of H.M.C.S. Prince Rupert by Capt. K. F. Adams of the Uganda to Mayor Arnold, which will take place tonight in the naval drill hall, recalls the brief but distinguished career of the small naval vessel. The bell will be kept in the city archives as a memento of the city's wartime namesake.
Here is the official history of the frigate H.M.C.S. Prince Rupert:
H.M.C.S. Prince Rupert launched in Victoria on February 3, 1943 and commissioned on August 30. She then proceeded to Nanos Bay for trials and speed tests.
Prince Rupert's first port of call was the city after which she had been named. On September 21 she arrived for a two-day stay in Prince Rupert where an official presentation was made to the ship on behalf of the citizens of this northern port.
Prince Rupert sailed for Halifax late in September, arriving on October 18. She was then ordered to Pictou where she underwent her initial working up program before being allocated to a mid-ocean escort group for operational duty. She sailed for St. John's in December, 1944.
Her first two months on the famed "Newfie-Derry" run proved uneventful but March brought action and success.
On May 13, in a position about 440 miles north of the Azores, with a St. John's bound convoy, Prince Rupert sighted a surfaced U-boat and sped to the attack with two accompanying escort ships, the U.S.S. Haverfield, and the U.S.S. Hobson. The sub crash-dived before it could be engaged in a surface battle. After the three ships had carried out several depth charge attacks, the U-boat was forced to the surface and the Prince Rupert's guns went into action, as did those of the two American escorts. Shipyard Violence

Clash Between Two Unions At Yarrow's In Victoria
VICTORIA—Violence marked the second day of the Yarrow's Limited shipyard strike here when American Federation of Labor workers defied the Canadian Congress of Labor picket line today.
The trouble started when sign-carrying pickets formed into a solid phalanx to guard the plant's entrances.
Provincial police on duty quelled the disorder.
"We were outnumbered this time," said Gary Culhane, Union leader. "They won't get through the next time."
Company officials reported that 290 men of the staff of 522 were at work today.
Members of the Machine Workers' Machinists' and Boilermakers' Industrial Union No. 3 (C.C.L.) called a strike yesterday, charging that thirty members of the Union had been locked out of Yarrow's for carrying out "union policy."
H. A. Yarrow, Wallace's president, denied the charge and claimed it was a jurisdictional dispute, an inter-union fight between the C.C.L. and A.F. of L. as to bargaining rights in the yard.
FIRE IN FRISCO
SAN FRANCISCO—Over $400,000 damage was caused by a spectacular fire which raged for three hours through Treasure Island naval base here, destroying five buildings and valuable electronic equipment. Twenty-seven men were treated for injuries ranging from smoke inhalation to burns and fractures.
In ancient Rome mouldy bread was used to hasten the healing of wounds.

Latest Suggestion In Disposition of Colony

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland (CP)—Preliminary steps to determine on what status Newfoundland would be admitted by the United States as a forty-ninth state were taken yesterday in a national convention elected to discuss future forms of government for the colony.
Delegates will confer with London and Ottawa within the next two months on the possibilities of remaining under British commission government, assuming Dominion status or joining Canada as a tenth province.
No action has yet been taken on a United States suggestion that a delegation interview the United States government.

Would Extend Peace Parley

United States Asks That More Than Fifty Countries Be Admitted
MOSCOW, U.S.S.R.—The United States proposed today that more than 50 countries participate in the German peace conference.
Foreign deputies of Great Britain, Russia and France did not immediately accept the plan.
The United States ambassador asked the deputies to approve as members of the peace conference neighbors of Germany and all states at war with Germany including Canada and Latin American countries.
Secretary of State Marshall called on Russia today to cooperate with the United States in restoring the independence of Korea as soon as possible and warned that, in the meantime, the United States intends to go ahead with independence measures in her own zone.
FINN GOVERNMENT RESIGNS
HELSINKI, Finland—The government of Premier Mauno Pekkala, elected in 1946, resigned today. The resignation is described as a domestic political crisis engendered by Finland's post-war economic problems. There is little chance of the general policy of the Finnish government being changed.
Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore arrived in the city on the Cassiar this morning after having attended the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia convention at Massett and will sail by the Catala tomorrow morning on her return to Vancouver.

BILL AROUSES IRE OF CO-OP

Long-Standing Grievance Of Wholesale Fish Buyers Met
VACOUVER—A long-standing grievance of wholesale fish buyers has been met with adoption by the legislature, of an amendment to the Co-operative Associations Act, which prevents fish boat crews from forcing the sale of their catches to co-operatives.
The Fishermen's Co-operative Federation, however, claims that co-operatives throughout Canada will be injured by the legislation.
The amendment was sponsored by wholesale fish buyers who said that they have no control over catches of 400 company-owned fish boats (four-fifths of all boats in operation in Vancouver) if crews decide to dispose of their catches through co-operative marketing organizations.
Before the amendment to the Co-operative Act, it was illegal for a fish company to try to buy from boats whose crews had signed a co-operative contract. This applied even when the fishing companies provided the boats.
The new legislation is condemned by D. G. Macdonald, secretary-treasurer of the Fishermen's Co-operative Federation, which has between 5000 and 6000 members. "It alters the arrangement which has existed for years," he said.

COMBINES TO LOWER COSTS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Truman told a press conference yesterday that, unless prices came down, wage increase will be justified. He said the Department of Justice was studying the question of whether manufacturing concerns can combine to lower prices without running foul of the anti-trust laws.

REGRETS PASSING OF ARCHBISHOP

R. C. Vaughan, C.N.R. President, Sends Message to Church Head
MONTREAL—R. C. Vaughan, C.M.G., chairman and president, Canadian National Railways, today sent the following message to Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, Bishop Suffragan, Church of England, Toronto: "On behalf of the Canadian National Railways and myself personally I would like to express sincere sympathy to all who have been so sorely bereaved by the death of the Most Reverend Derwyn T. Owen. Not only the Church of England but all Canada has lost one of her greatest leaders and a distinguished Christian gentleman. His sudden passing was a shock to all of us."

CITY BEAUTIFICATION CAMPAIGN AND PORT DAY JACEE OBJECTIVES

"Clean-up, paint-up" campaign for 1947 is going to be more than the usual effort of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Prince Rupert this year. It is to be a major undertaking, encompassing various aspects of city improvement and beautification. The campaign begins on May 4 when the Jaycees will set the example themselves by turning out en masse to paint the museum building. Throughout the ensuing week Junior Chamber committees will devote efforts in various ways to see that "clean-up, paint-up" improvements are made in various parts of the city. The chairman of the committee is Harold Hampton.
The Junior Chamber, at its regular monthly meeting last night, while discussing "clean-up, paint-up" matters, decided to write C. A. Berner, local Canadian National Railways superintendent, commending the railway company on the fine work it was doing on rebeautifying its own park.
Jaycee President A. P. Crawley last night set in motion plans for another major effort of the Junior Chamber—the annual Port Day celebration. Suggestions were made whereby this event might be more effectively capitalized from a publicity standpoint. Fred Conrad was appointed chairman of the Port Day program and Stuart Furk accepted the responsibility of secretaryship.
Al Manson, chairman of the Jaycee tourist committee, presented a report which won the plaudits of the meeting. Mr. Manson told the Chamber that the sale of the fish booster signs was meeting with such good response that it seemed assured that some $250 or $300 would be cleared as a fund to finance the erection of tourist welcome arches—one of which was to be up near the railway station and wharf and the other on the highway near the city limits for the benefit of motor tourists.
The meeting decided to enter a float in the Kinsmen's Club annual May 24 children's sports

Aid To Prospectors

CONTINUATION of the "grubstake" program of the provincial department of mines, referred to in our news columns this week, is something to be heartily commended and of which the mining industry will be appreciative. This and anything more that the government can do to assist and encourage prospecting is much to be desired.

The day of the old type of back-packing prospecting may be passing away in this new era of transportation and communication and scientific methods but there is still use and opportunity for the lone traveler who scouts the hills in search of the bonanza. He still can play his part in the mineral development of the country.

There may be many men who feel themselves stifled these days in the confinement and welter and bustle of the city or town life and will welcome the opportunity to partake of the good and healthy life of the great outdoors which makes a man virile and happy if not always wealthy. It may not be gold or it may not be wealth but there is usually fortune of some kind on the prospector's trail if nothing more than peace and satisfaction of communion with nature which is the lure of the real prospector. He is the boss of no man and the servant of none.

THE PRIMATE PASSES

ARCHBISHOP Derwyn Trevor Owen, Anglican Primate for Canada, who died in Toronto, had a notable record of service. Popular with both clergy and laymen, Dr. Owen was known as one of the church's most eloquent orators and as an able administrator. Possessing a magnetic personality, he combined force of character with a fine gift for organization. Proof of his executive ability was seen in his administration of the important dioceses of Niagara and Toronto.

A wide knowledge of the various problems in the church's 27 dioceses, particularly fitted Archbishop Owen for the high office of Primate. In 1927 he was selected as one of three commissioners of the Anglican National Commission appointed to make a survey of conditions in the church from the Maritime Provinces to the Yukon. He visited Prince Rupert during his travels.

Dr. Owen was an indefatigable worker and that characteristic coupled with his personal charm and a deep sense of modesty endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. He was regarded as broad in his theological views.

THE KING'S ORDEAL

SOME BRITONS may kick because the royal family is touring balmy South Africa while back home the country is digging out of the worst winter on record but judging from the photographs and news reels King George and his family probably experience times when they would just as soon listen to the sleet hitting the castle window panes.

Time and again, day after day, the royal family must hustle out in the hot sun, line up and meet the South Africans.

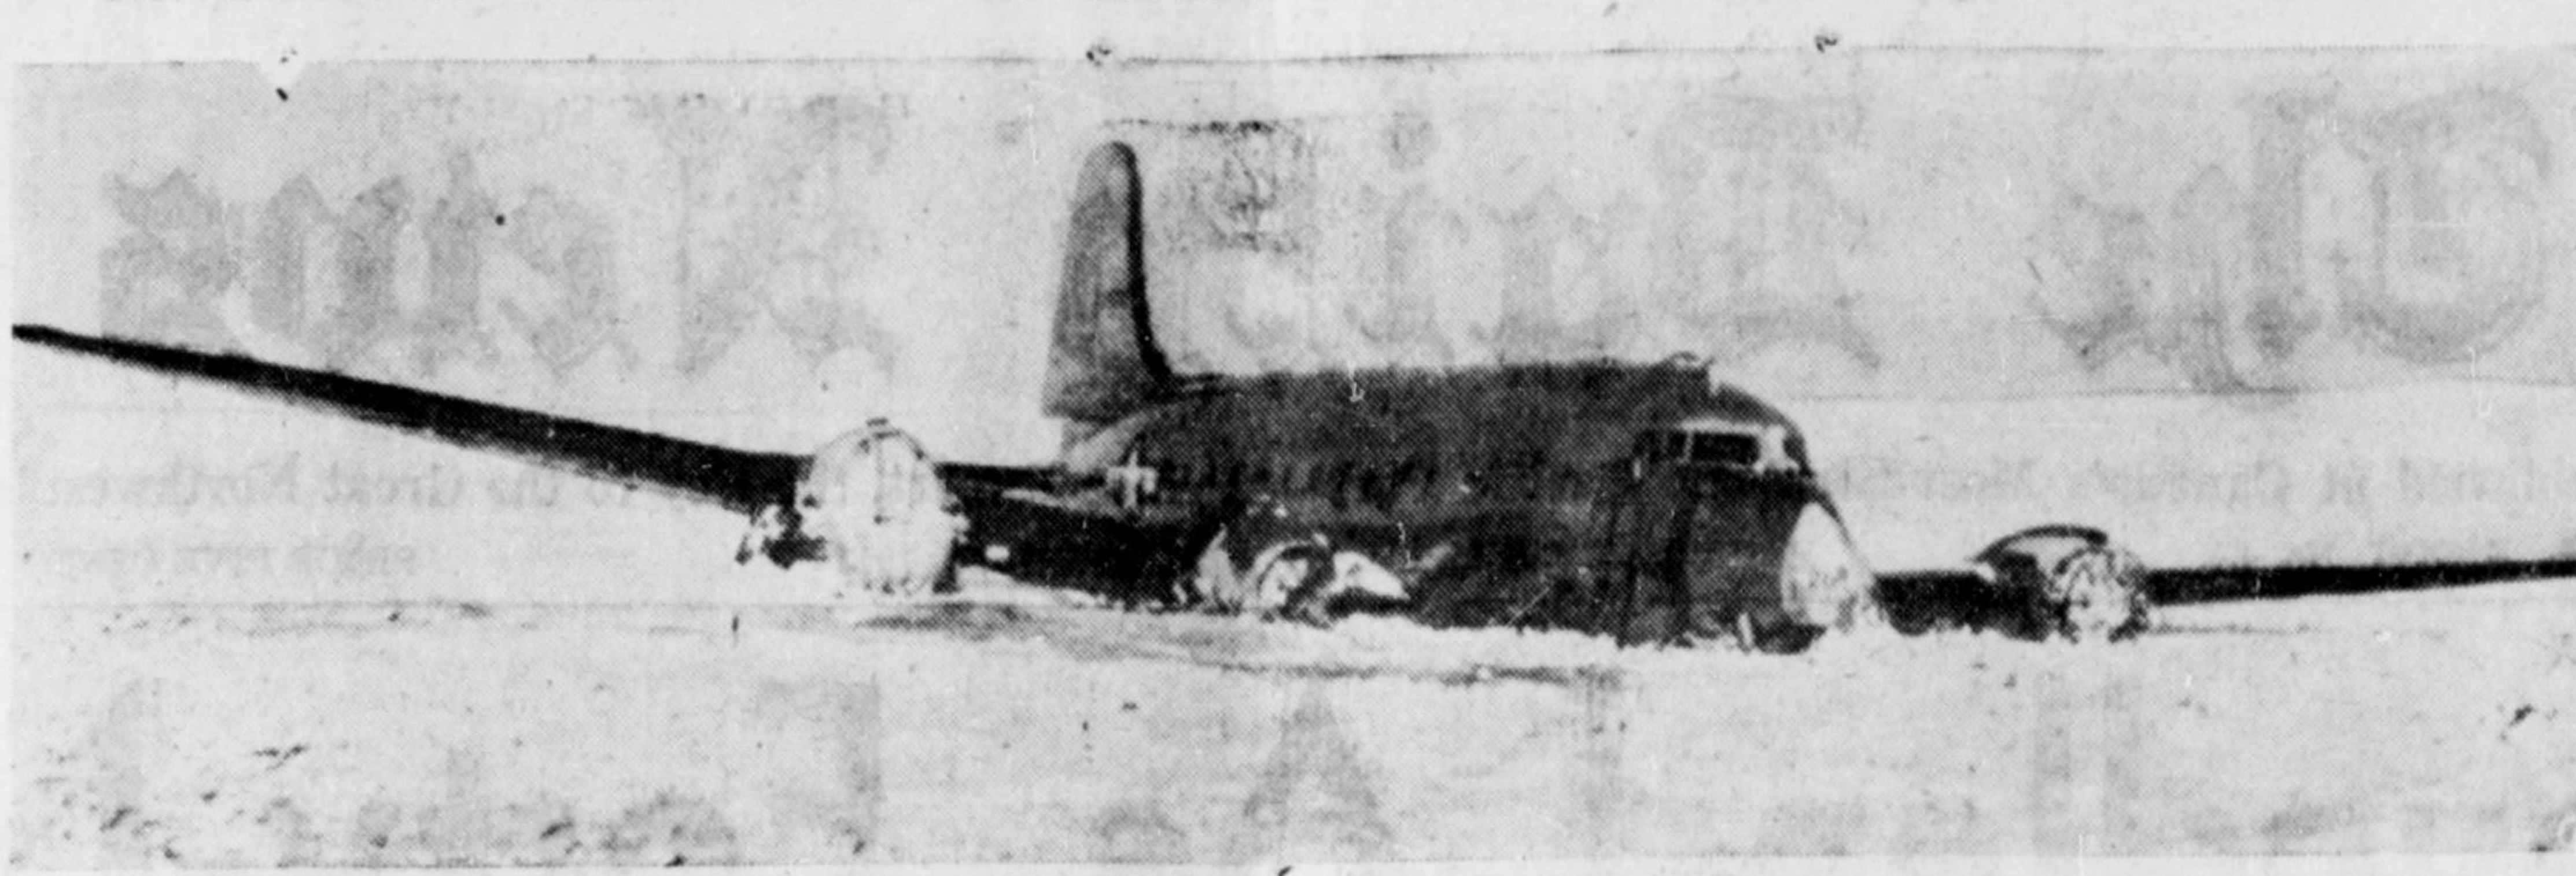

Regardless of the heat, George is usually clad in the garments he wears in England. The queen wears a gown sweeping the ground and the two princesses wear suits with individualistic hats and gloves reaching to the elbows. Princess Margaret usually dons the poke bonnet and jacket.

Everybody shakes hands, and this can be an ordeal when it lasts for hours. It is very stiff. South Africans approach, go into a deep curtsy and then pump the hands of royalty with vigor. That must become tedious in time.

N.S. FISHERMEN END 81-DAY STRIKE—In the galley of their trawler, a couple of Nova Scotia fishermen take time out for tea after reporting for work at the end of the 81-day-old strike of Nova Scotia deep sea fishermen. Cook John Williams of Halifax is seen dishing out to Newfoundlander Stanley Wilson, left, and George White, of Lunenburg, N.S. The strike tied up 30-odd vessels and caused a drop of more than 8,000,000 pounds in the amount of fish landed in provincial ports last month.

This C-54 transport is shown resting on its belly in deep snow, after crashing on the snowy plateau of Newfoundland recently. The plane was on the first leg of a flight from Westover Field,

CONQUER CANCER DRIVE STARTING

Organization Here is Finalized—Canvassers to Start Next Week

Plans for the campaign which will start next week in this city to raise $4,000 for the Canadian "Conquer Cancer" Fund were finalized at a meeting of the executive of the local branch of the Canadian Cancer Society yesterday afternoon in the city council chamber with Mayor Nora Arnold presiding.

With Mrs. J. D. Fraser as campaign chairman, there will be a city-wide canvass. Collectors are being assigned to various parts of the city, several organizations providing the canvassers. The Gyro Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce have undertaken to canvass the business section of the city while workers from women's organizations will do the residential sections.

Campaign headquarters will be in the room in the City Hall formerly occupied by the ration office and Mrs. Fraser will attend there each afternoon during the campaign.

The complete list of canvassers will be announced this week-end.

As a prelude to the campaign, there will be a public meeting this evening at the Civic Centre when speakers will be Dr. John Ganshorn, Vancouver cancer specialist, and Rex C. Mills, executive secretary of the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, a picture dealing with cancer also to be shown.

MORE CANNED MILK WANTED

Larger Quotas Being Sought By Local Distributors With Backing of Chamber of Commerce

In view of a greatly increased industrial activity in fishing, mining and lumbering which is anticipated in Prince Rupert area this year, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is joining with local canned milk distributors in seeking an increase in the quota for the area. The canned milk quota here has never been sufficient to completely meet the normal demand and it is felt that now would be a good time to seek an increase. The administrator of dairy products of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board is being communicated with.

LEGION SMOKER FOR VIMY DAY

The Canadian Legion opened hospitable doors to crew members of H.M.C.S. Uganda and Crescent last night at a Vimy Day smoker in the Legion Hall in which music and comradeship blended. Music was provided by the Prince Rupert Civic Band and Mrs. J. S. Black's orchestra and comradeship blossomed with the refreshments.

The Civic Band received high words of praise from the gathering for its military and singing tunes. The band, led by Bandmaster Peter Lien, however, was forced to retire before the end of the evening because of prior commitments of some of its members.

Mrs. J. S. Black's orchestra, consisting of Mrs. Black at the piano, Mrs. Charles Anderson, violin, Lorne Stevens, accordion, and William Duffus, saxophone and violin, led in community singing and provided pleasing selections during the latter part of the evening.

The program also included songs by Signalmen W. Wallace, T. N. Kelly, Victor and Reg. Duncan. James Nicoll was master of ceremonies. The guests were welcomed by Vic Houston, president of the Canadian Legion local branch.

BETWEEN SCENES—Enjoying a bit of leisure between scenes of their present motion picture, John Dall, while away time in a game of solitaire with Winnipeg-born Deanna Durbin in the role of kibitzer. Production came to a sudden halt the other day when Deanna rushed from the set to her home so that she might see her 13-month-old daughter take her first few steps.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Mitchell sailed last night on the Prince Rupert for a brief trip to Vancouver.

Andy Blomberg sailed last night for a two weeks' holiday trip to Vancouver and Seattle. He accompanied his mother who is returning to Vancouver to resume residence after having been here for the past couple of years.

W. L. Baker, publisher of the Ketchikan Alaska Chronicle, was in the city aboard the Prince Rupert last evening going through to Washington D.C. to attend the congressional hearing on Alaska's petition for statehood. He was accompanied by Mrs. Baker and son and daughter who will visit near Portland, Oregon.

Mrs. Ross Mansell, the former Annette Woods, sailed by the Prince Rupert last night on her return to Vancouver after a brief visit to the city. With her husband, Mrs. Mansell recently returned to Vancouver from a visit in Ba'boa, California. Next Tuesday they will be leaving by car for Hamilton, Ontario, near which city they will pay a three month's visit.

Picturesque York Seeks University

YORK, Eng., ©—A group of York business men and teachers has sent the University Grants Committee in London a petition for establishment of a university or university college in this picturesque Yorkshire city.

Recalling that York was a centre of learning before the Norman Conquest and stating that "nowhere in the north can history be made so real and vivid as in York," the petition says the city of 100,000 has "a social and cultural life of wide variety."

"Here a university would not be aloof from the needs of modern industry," it continues. "It would add to industry, but not be of it. It would have the material for sociological and scientific research near at hand yet be set where the traditions of scholarly and professional life was deeply rooted, and amid a wealth of material for the study of the humanities."

LOCALS WIN
HOOP GAMES

One-Sided Scores But Game
Play Features Engagements
With Visiting Ships

Although the games were one-sided, there were thrills aplenty for the fans who crowded the Civic Centre gymnasium for basketball games between city and Navy. The locals made a clean sweep of it for the night, downing the Uganda-Crescent squad 59-28 in a one-sided Senior affair while Prince Rupert Sea
Cadets defeated visiting Cadets
40 to 21.

Lack of teamwork and shooting brought about the downfall of the Matelots in the Senior game. During the first frame it looked like it might be a pretty close match, the quarter closing at 10-8 for the locals but they were having a hard time of it.

Back of finesse on the part of the Navy lads, was more than made up for by their fighting spirit. Even when they were 20 or 30 points down they kept right on fighting. By the half time breather the score stood at 24-12 with the locals plowing on their merry way.

After the second half got under way the Senior "B" aggregation really ran wild. They outscored their rivals 24 to 7 in this frame alone with the three-quarter score at 48-19. The pace slowed down in the last frame
although the Navy was fighting desperately to narrow the margin down.

E. Pierce of the Senior "B" squad was easily the high man for the night, netting 16 counters, and he was given support by P. Peterson who dropped in 10. For the Navy, the high man was Edge who sank 8 points. Although the play was a little on the ragged side and slightly rough, officials Don Hartwig and B. Pierce handed out only 24 fouls, 13 to the Navy and 11
to the Senior "B" squad.

LOCAL CADETS
DEB VISITORS

The opening battle between the Naval Cadets and the local Sea Cadet teams saw the locals shipping service. Mr. McLeod also spoke in support of the work of the Rod and Gun Club.

R. G. Van De Suijs, whose talents as a dinner speaker are as popular as his ability as a caterer, gave an interesting account of his recent flying trip to Australia. He also catered for the banquet, which was a culinary masterpiece, based on roast moose meat, vegetables and mince pie.

Musical numbers interspersed through the program included
songs by Corporal Wallace, piano-accompanied solos by Eddie Ciccone, and piano solos and songs by Edward Reil. The showing of colorful outdoor films
by Joseph Goscoe concluded the program. The films were provided by the Game Department.

Spokesman for the 'teen age group was Norman Martinson who thanked the club for their

Montreal Maroons concluded their non-stop Stanley Cup title fight with a 4-1 decision over Toronto Maple Leafs in Montreal
12 years ago Wednesday night.
The Montrealers—who held the trophy in 1926—previously scored

Leafs.

Chicago Black Hawks, managed by Tommy Gorman, won the Stanley Cup 13 years ago last night by defeating Detroit Red Wings 1-0 in the final game of the series at Chicago. It was the first time the Hawks had captured the title. The next season
Gorman switched to Montreal
Maroons and won the cup again.

band the visitors a 40-21 drub-

made up mostly of Junior City League players, jumped into an early lead and were out in front
all the way. Lack of teamwork and tough luck on their shooting kept the lads from the ships
on the short side all the way.
The score stood at 19-10 at the first quarter mark with the Sea Cadets in the driver's seat. At the half it was 28-15.

The game slowed down after the breather but the junior composite team kept forging right along with the scoreboard reading 38-19 at the opening of the fourth frame. Only one field basket was dropped in during the last stanza and that was by the Navy but the Sea Cadets dropped in a brace of charity

same.

Leading the scoring parade for

LOCAL SPORTS
OUT TO REVIVE
SOCCER HERE

Coach Syd Woodside's potential Hanson Cup winners face a tough future, even if they do succeed in winning the silver mug from the combined forces of H.M.C.S. Uganda and Crescent in this afternoon's soccer classic. Challenging forces are gathering against them.

These forces are another aggregation of home-grown talent who feel that they have nothing to lose but their lives, so why not spend them reviving soccer
as a vital part of the Prince Rupert summer sport picture.

Thus, since Woodside's Wonders are the only opponents on the horizon, they are to be challenged to a game at Roosevelt Park on Sunday afternoon.
This clash, the challengers anticipate, may strike sparks that will ignite a summer-long interest in soccer.

Ted Arney, spokesman for the newly-organized group, feels that except for football, there will not be much field sport during the next few months. Baseball proved pretty much of a fizzle last summer, and there are no indications that it will be any better this season.

"Soccer used to be the biggest game of the summer here in the old days," Arney recalls. "Everybody took an interest in it, and there were hundreds of fans.
The basketball season is over now, so this is a good time to see if we can't revive soccer."

"As for Woodside's boys, the organization that I represent is obviously superior and will have little difficulty beating them, even if they do manage to win the Hanson Cup."

While Arney was having himself interviewed, his lieutenants were listing a line-up which they felt sure would inspire unassailable in the Woodside aggregation. The following line-up, they felt, will tell an eloquent
story of football prowess:

Bob Moxley, goal; Eddie Dawes, left back; Jack Eby, right back; Pat Wilson, left half; Rupert Holkestad, centre half;

Blind Magistrate
Would Stay On Job

LONDON, 9.—When German invasion of Britain was threatened, it was decided to leave certain magistrates behind to administer justice in seaside towns which might be occupied by the enemy—and one of the four chosen to remain in Brighton was blind.

He was T. W. Curtis-Willson, who recently appeared before a Royal Commission on Justice of the peace to urge that blind persons be allowed to serve as magistrates.

He told the Commission he had served nine years on the blindness and his experience indicated that in 98 per cent of cases there was no evidence which a justice needed to see.

EARLY SOWING SECRET OF SUCCESS WITH GARDEN PEAS

Since only the seed of garden peas are used, the food yield is small compared to the space they take.

They are a cool weather crop, and do best in sections where spring comes so early there is time for them to mature before hot weather arrives; or in the northern parts of the country where summers are relatively cool.

Everywhere the first sowing of peas should be made early as possible, having in mind that the finer varieties, which have wrinkled seed, may decay if the soil remains cold and damp too long after they are sown. Smooth seeded peas will not decay so easily, but they are not of as high quality as the wrinkled kinds.

Where spring comes late, and summer follows quickly, only one crop of peas is likely to be successful, and for this an early dwarf variety should be grown under the most favorable conditions. In new gardens, or old ones where peas have not been grown before, the seed will grow better if inoculated with a bacterial culture which can be obtained for that purpose.

Seed should be sown at least 1 inch apart in the row, in fertile soil. Plant food should be applied at the rate of 4 pounds to 100 feet of row, either mixed well with the soil before sowing, or spread in trenches on either side of the row, a little deeper than the seed are sown. The seed should be covered 1 to 2 inches deep.

In sections where weather conditions are favorable to peas, it is possible to grow them in

TINY CAMERA BUILT FOR O.S.S. AGENTS—Built for O.S.S., this tiny "M.B." camera—no larger than its namesake, a matchbox—could be easily hidden in a man's hand and used to take a picture under the cloak of such a simple gesture as lighting a cigarette or reading. One thousand of these cameras were built for use by O.S.S. agents and underground forces during World War II. Functioning with but a slight click, the "M.B." had no view finder and was operated simply by aiming at the subject, then pushing a small plunger. A wire lever enabled the operator to take time exposures as well.

twin rows six inches apart; in the space between the rows the weeds are pulled, but the soil is not cultivated. In less favorable sections, however, single rows, regularly cultivated, will be found more dependable.

AGRICULTURALISTS TO MEET LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (P)—Between 300 and 450 delegates representing leaders in agricultural research and administration throughout Canada are expected to convene here June 23-26 for the 1947 national convention of the Agricultural Institute of Canada.

Would Finance More Convention Envoys

Opinion was expressed by Bruce Stevens at the monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce that some sort of a fund should be set up to finance the sending of delegates to such meetings as those of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association which is to have a conference in Seattle next week. The matter came up when it was pointed out that difficulty was being experienced in finding a delegate to represent the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia at the meeting. Mr. Stevens felt that it was time Prince Rupert was becoming less penurious about financing the sending of delegates to such gatherings, attendance at which he felt was important to the interests of the city and district.

Attendance at last night's Junior Chamber meeting was adversely affected by other events being held the same evening. President A. P. Crawley was in the chair and guests were David Hay and G. A. Hunter, the latter as representative of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. Carl Hanson and Rev. A. P. MacSweeney were named to represent the Junior Chamber at the monthly meeting of the Senior Chamber next Monday evening.

Tickets for the drawing on the break-up of Francois Lake ice are being absorbed rapidly and the membership of the popular Tweedsmuir Park Rod and Gun Club is mounting steadily. The closing date for tickets is April 15. Guesses are varying from April 15 to May 15 but ice conditions are always uncertain.

Talking of Old Weapons

"Talking Rod, Gun Club Banquet Provokes Reminiscence

Thoughts of duck and deer, canoes and cart-ridges, plover and part-ridges persist today. You see, it's all because of the annual banquet of the Prince Rupert Rod and Gun Club last evening. For that was an occasion of cheer and brisk repartee, and the reawakening of almost forgotten memories.

Dwelling on game and guns, what do you know about Kentucky rifles? The long, sleek weapon took a distinguished part in rolling back the frontiers of America. One can recall a brace of unlovely looking school kids who dwelt, ever so long ago, away down east, and who had as their particular senior pal a gentleman who had seen better days, who had a boy's heart under a man's head and whose trimmed beard was grey.

He had followed the lumber trade, and his modest possessions included a Kentucky rifle—a real one. Would he sell? With due reflection, he decided he would, and at the same time, make it a bargain.

The gun from the blue grass looked the part. Boyish imagination began to play with trappers and buckskin garb, the distant Rockies, Injuns and grizzly bear teeth likewise, the smoke of campfires. There were two barrels, one above the other. The stock had that rich, graceful look. In it, was a small receptacle, where the caps were kept. The ensemble, of course, also took in bullet-mould and ram-rod. And ah, the pride of possession! charm of feeling evoked.

An adult could carry the rifle all day, but the weight was a shade too great for a juvenile, none too large, anyway. The two took counsel and called at the city's largest machine shop, with the request that one of the barrels be removed.

The order was turned in, the owners went away, and never saw their treasured property again. They were bluffed out of it. Too young to realize what they had, and risked losing, its delivery was indefinitely delayed for a variety of reasons that seemed endless. Bluff, just bluff. Today, a weapon with back-

Good materials!
Good tailoring!
Good wear!

That's why I like BOND CLOTHES

says Elmer Ferguson, Sports Editor of the Montreal Herald, and well-known member of the Hot Stove League on National Hockey Broadcasts.

"A sports seer can't always be right when he's calling a hockey race. But it's easy to look right... if you wear Bond tailored-to-measure clothes. They fit just the way a double-column sports scoop fits the sport page. They have that extra special something. Maybe it's that excellent worsted called Bonsted. It sure offers a wide variety of patterns and colours. Maybe it's the real interest in craftsmanship Bond tailors show. Anyway, I can tell you that Bond clothes give you good value for your money, good looks and good wear. Order a Bond tailored-to-measure suit and see for yourself!"
