British Troop Train Is Blown Up in Palestine

Ten and Possibly More Perish in Railway Blast

JERUSALEM (CP)—A British troop train en route from Egypt to Palestine was blown up today southeast of Tel Aviv and officials in their figures listed ten as dead and about twenty injured. A British spokesman, however, said that "casualties may be considerably more."

BULLETINS

CUSTOMS OFFICER

OTTAWA—A customs officer is to be assigned to Dawson Creek in the Peace River Block of British Columbia in connection with the transfer to truck from railway of bonded goods from the United States for delivery into Alaska over the Alaska Highway.

IMPORTANT VOTE ON

WASHINGTON—United States Senate is voting this afternoon on the important bills for aid to Greece and Turkey. One amendment would deny military aid to either Greece or Turkey. Another would refuse all aid to Turkey.

Four train coaches were reported wrecked by the blast which was attributed to a series of electrically-operated mines.

The train was the Egypt Express from Cairo to Haifa and it had both troops and civilians on board.

A spokesman blamed the mining on the Irgun Zvai Leumi, militarist Jewish underground organization which threatened vengeance for the execution of four members last week. Curfew had been declared in Tel Aviv as the city is combed for the perpetrators.

At the same time another official announcement disclosed that a ship carrying about 730 uncertified Jewish immigrants was spotted by British naval craft near the Palestine coast.

Earlier officials disclosed that two condemned Jewish extremists had committed suicide in a Jerusalem prison by blowing themselves up with explosives pressed to their bodies.

Texas City Hit Again

Ammonium Nitrate Warehouse Bursts Into Flames

TEXAS CITY, Texas (CP)—A warehouse of the Texas City Terminal Railway, stored with ammonium nitrate, burst into flames today seven days after last week's disastrous explosions caused by the same chemical, killed an estimated 575 persons.

The cause of today's fire is not determined.

Huge smoke clouds again obscured the tragedy-torn town.

C.N.R. REPORTS 1946 DEFICIT OF $8 MILLION

OTTAWA (CP)—The annual report of Canadian National Railways was tabled today, showing that the publicly-owned system came out of 1946 with a deficit of $8,961,570, compared with a profit of $24,756,130 earned in 1945 and with predictions that its outlook for 1947 was not financially bright.

President R. C. Vaughan reported that savings in operating costs were "far more than offset by increased rates of pay and increased prices for fuel and materials used in railway operation and maintenance."

"Wage increases of June 1, 1946, will be in effect for a full year in 1947," he said. "It is estimated that material prices will be 10 per cent higher. Thus operating costs will be some $20,000,000 greater than in 1946."

Included in the C.N.R.'s 1946 operating results as compared with the previous year were: Operating revenues $400,586,025 in 1946 compared with $443,773,393 in 1945. Operating expenses $357,236,718 in 1946, compared with $355,294,048 in 1945. Net operating revenue $43,349,307 in 1946, compared with $78,479,345 in 1945.

EX-WRE... APPLY EPICURES WITH FAVOURITE DINNERS

West coast gourmets are now smacking their lips over just less than three hundred ducks a month from the Burnaby, B.C. ranch of WRCNS veterans Gertrude Nunn of Vancouver (left) and Elizabeth Wimpey, Toronto, whose immediate objective with existing stock and facilities is a 400-a-month turnover. They started up last fall with well-adapted local stock after completing under DVA credits a seven-month course in animal husbandry at the University of British Columbia. They work unassisted and the present forty-five-bird flock is kept healthy and happy in the duck pond (top right) which the girls created themselves by damming the creek which runs through their three-and-a-half-acre property. At lower left, Miss Nunn gathers eggs for the incubators. All but a few of the eggs are hatched to increase live selling stock and young ducklings (lower right) are nurtured carefully in brooders for several days before being let outside. Eight weeks later they are ready for market.

Thirty-one Await Trial for Buchenwald Camp Deaths

GHASTLY RECORDS OF NAZI MEN AND WOMEN WILL BE BARED BEFORE U.S. MILITARY COURT

MUNICH (Reuters)—Men and women with ghastly records are among leading S.S. men and others who will shortly stand trial before a United States military court at Dachau. The charges against them arise from the killing of thousands of Allied subjects at the notorious concentration camp of Buchenwald, near Weimar.

For months three American officers have been collecting evidence against the accused. They have heard hundreds of witnesses from every country in Europe, many now occupying important positions, who were prisoners in Buchenwald.

Most of the victims who survived have suffered permanently in health. In the main they are free from hatred and desire for revenge, but when confronted with their former torturers many have great difficulty in suppressing their emotions.

Officers responsible for the prosecution are the chief prosecutor, William D. Denson, Robert L. Kunzig, and Solomon Surovitz.

Thirty-one principal accused are charged with violation of laws and usages of war in their treatment of Allied subjects, including Americans, Britons, Poles, French, Norwegians, Greeks, Yugoslavs and Belgians. They are accused of carrying out killings, beatings, tortures, starvation, abuses and indignities.

The prisoners comprise almost all who were responsible for running the concentration camp at Buchenwald, the missing few being mostly dead. Among the dead is camp commandant Koch, who ruled Buchenwald for many years and whose 40-year-old widow, Ise Koch, or "Lampshade Ise," is the only woman prisoner.

MARCH OF DEATH IS RECALLED
The two leading accused are S.S. Oberfuehrer (leader) Josias

FISH WORKERS SEEKING NEW AGREEMENT

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Negotiations for a new master agreement covering wages and working conditions are being carried on between the United Fishermen and Allied Workers and the fishing companies, according to Stan Boshier, secretary of the Prince Rupert local. Talks between the two groups are being held in Vancouver today.

Contained in the proposed agreement which is being offered by the union, are recommendations presented by the Prince Rupert local which represents 300 fishermen and shore workers. Basis of the negotiations is the 1946 agreement which allowed the shore workers wage increases of 10 per cent and a 44-hour week.

The Prince Rupert local held its annual election of officers at the week-end, electing Robert Montgomery president, John Schroeder, vice-president, James Nicoll, recording secretary, and Stan Boshier, secretary-treasurer.

In addition to the officers, the executive committee will consist of one shop steward from each of the fishing company plants, who will be named by the plant workers. Mr. Boshier is now full-time secretary-treasurer of the local.

A review of the year's activities by the retiring officers revealed that in 1946 the union signed an agreement with the companies allowing a wage schedule 10 per cent higher than previously, and a 44-hour week.

Pride was expressed by union members in the fact that donations to other unions and to charitable causes totalled $828 pointed doctor of the so-called Little Camp where he is alleged to have sent thousands of prisoners to their graves either through experiment or neglect.

Austria To Be Dropped

MOSCOW (CP)—The foreign ministers' council today abandoned talks on the Austrian peace treaty after winding up a second secret session and failing to announce any conclusive results. They will now turn to the question of Germany.

The ministers, meanwhile, are reported to be holding a meeting today to consider a financial report submitted by the internationalized port of Trieste.

Reliable informants, however, said that vital questions and territorial claims remained deadlocked.

CANCER CAMPAIGN

MORE THAN 1,300 PERSONS DIE annually of cancer in this province. Cancer claims approximately as many men as women. It kills more children from 5 to 19 years of age than the combined death toll in the same age group from scarlet fever, infantile paralysis, typhoid, peritonitis, dysentery and diarrhea.

The need and value of early diagnosis and treatment becomes apparent when it is realized that cures are affected when the disease is caught early.

In order to control this distressing death rate the B.C. Cancer Foundation and the B.C. Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society have launched a $300,000 fund-raising campaign which is now in progress in this province with $4000 as Prince Rupert's objective.

Monies raised will be added to a capital fund established in 1946 for the construction of an urgently needed cancer hospital in B.C. and will provide funds for vital cancer education.

The B.C. campaign is an individual part of a Canada-wide drive to Conquer Cancer this month. A similar drive is in full swing in the U.S.

PROBLEMS OF EMPLOYMENT

Local Employment Advisory Committee Provides Valuable Contacts

At the regular monthly meeting of the local employment advisory committee it was agreed that employers, employees and indeed citizens generally are not aware of the duties of the committee or its potential value to the community. The local committee consists of two representatives of employees, two representatives of employers, a representative of the Canadian Legion, officials of the National Employment Service in a consultative capacity, a secretary and a chairman. In Prince Rupert the representatives of employees are James S. Black and George Anderson. Representatives of employers are J. C. Glicker and Alderman Robert McKay. James Nicol represents the Canadian Legion. E. V. Whiting, manager of the local office of the National Employment Service, acts in a consultative capacity. H. J. Whiffin is secretary. J. S. Wilson, formerly personnel manager at the dry dock and a veteran teacher in the city, is chairman.

The local officers hear views of employees and employers and make recommendations to the Pacific Regional Office at Vancouver. The regional committee reviews reports from various parts of the province and advises the local committees of situations in these other parts. The regional office also communicates views of the locals to the head office of the Department of Labor in Ottawa. In this way a direct and continuous interchange of information is maintained between all parts of the province and the Dominion labor officials.

The requirements of local employers are considered and the state of the local labor situation is reviewed. One problem that is serious throughout the province and indeed throughout Canada is the employment of men and women over 40 years of age. A research into the solution of this problem is being undertaken. Employers and the public alike, it is felt, should recognize that the age of a man is not necessarily any handicap in the labor world. A willingness to work, the value of experience, steadiness and reliability often make the older worker as valuable as the younger, more active but inexperienced worker. There should be a place for both the young and the old to engage in gainful occupation.

In this community there are men who could do part-time work, such as gardening and household repairs, and there are householders who want just this type of work done. The community should be able to bring the would-be worker into touch with the would-be employer to the benefit and satisfaction of both parties. This is a situation that local initiative should recognize and solve.

The committee has also frequently discussed the need for apprenticeship or similar training in the trades. It learned with pleasure that recently two apprentices were engaged locally and there is a good prospect of a third being taken on.

The need for a Dominion-wide retirement pension fund with compulsory contributions has been the subject of recommendations. This would apply where a man moves from one job to another or from one province to another.

The local committee feels it can play an important part in the economic life of the community and the community should in turn recognize the importance of the committee, all the members of which serve without any remuneration but with the desire to be of service to their fellow citizens.

ARE PLANNING CIVIC CENTRE

TERRACE—Tentative plans, as drawn up by Alf Yoxall and James B. MacKay for the Civic Centre to be established in the old Army drill hall here at an estimated cost of $15,000, were considered at a meeting of the general committee last night. Now the big problem is the ways and means of how the necessary money is to be raised. The substantial fund already raised by cash contributions is expected to be further bolstered by the proceeds of the Kinsmen Club's Victoria Day and May Queen festival celebration on May 24.

Plans for the division of the 120 by 120 foot building provide for a main auditorium and dance hall 67 by 76 feet with 25 by 35 foot stage, gymnasium and basketball floor 52 by 86 feet, four bowling alleys, lounge and dressing rooms, kitchen and suitable foyer.

The appointments and improvements will be undertaken progressively as funds become available with the essentials coming first.

Prince Rupert may not be going to the dogs. Nevertheless, it has a substantial canine population. Dog license fees collected by the city last year totalled $777.

... "And Then There Were None"

Harold was just an old sheep-counter. Every night, before he got to sleep, he counted thousands of sheep...

Then one day an Experienced Friend suggested maybe it was the caffeine in the Tea and Coffee he drank that kept the sheep jumping over the fence...

So Harold STOPPED tea and coffee, and changed to POSTUM...

And right away he only got a few hundred sheep over the fence before sleep overcame him...

And in a few nights only a dozen...

And then there were none!

Many people can safely drink tea and coffee. But others are upset by the caffeine these beverages contain. If you find yourself sleepless, nervous, irritable—try changing to Postum. You'll like its rich, heart-warming flavor. Not like tea, not like coffee, just a grand flavor all its own.

Easy to fix—make Postum right in the cup just by adding boiling water or hot milk. Costs less than 1¢ a serving.

B.C. Conquer Cancer Campaign Publicity Director

An all-out intensive campaign to further the conquest of cancer is now in full swing. In short, your donation is solicited to help achieve British Columbia's $300,000 objective.

In British Columbia the B.C. Cancer Foundation and the B.C. Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society are uniting forces to combat Canada's No. 2 Killer, which annually takes a terrible toll of the lives of more than 14,000 Canadians, over half of whom could have been saved had they been diagnosed properly early enough and received prompt and adequate treatment.

Cancer is a subject which vitally concerns every one of us because ONE OUT OF EVERY EIGHT CANADIANS WILL DIE OF CANCER, in fact, 37 minutes after you have read this a Canadian will die from this scourge.

The average Canadian can do little to help, but the little he can do is important because self-awareness and constant vigilance may mean the saving or prolonging of his own life or the lives of his loved ones.

The first step for the layman is to make an annual medical check-up a "must" on his health calendar. After reaching the age of 40 years, the medical check-up should be semi-annual.

The second step is to be ever on the watch for the seven early unmistakable warning signals which may indicate the presence of cancer, and to seek immediate medical diagnosis if one or more appear.

These signs are:

1. Sores which do not heal, particularly on tongue, lips, or mouth.
2. Painless lumps or thickening, especially on breast or thumb.
3. Discharge from any body aperture.
4. Progressive change in color or size of mole, wart, or birthmark.
5. Persistent indigestion, especially over 40.
6. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Any radical change in normal bowel habits.

Presence of one or more of the above does not necessarily mean cancer has been contracted, but it is not safe to delay in seeking medical advice.

The success of the second annual Conquer Cancer Campaign depends upon the whole-hearted support of every British Columbian.

CAMPAIGN HEAD HERE IS MRS. J. D. FRASER

Mrs. J. D. Fraser, well known Prince Rupert social worker whose tireless efforts have sparked other local organizations to success, is chairman of the local Conquer Cancer Campaign.

Mrs. Fraser is being greatly assisted by Mayor Nora Arnold, and Mrs. J. C. Gilker, secretary of the local branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, as well as by scores of voluntary canvassers whose names have appeared previously.

In a statement today Mrs. Fraser expressed optimism that the drive would meet with good measure of success.

"The money asked for," she said, "is a trifling sum in relation to the value of the services and protection it will return us."

She pointed out the fact that no one escapes the threat of cancer, and that everyone will benefit from a concentrated attack on the disease.

Cancer kills more than 1,300 men, women, and children in British Columbia every year.

Prince Rupert Drive Aims For $4000 2nd Major Campaign

1 in 8

CANCER

DRIVING HOME the warning to thousands of British Columbians that unless action is taken more than 200,000 men, women, and children now alive in B.C. will die of cancer, is this illustration appearing now in every newspaper in the province.

The government does not finance cancer clinics because cancer is not a communicable disease, and the government has not set up any machinery to handle non-communicable diseases. It's up to us to deal with this dread disease ourselves.

E. E. BUCKERFIELD, Vancouver, is provincial chairman of the Conquer Cancer Campaign. In a recent statement Mr. Buckerfield pointed out that in view of statistics which show that one person in every eight will die a victim of cancer, it is the "personal responsibility of each one of us" to support the campaign.

Everyone Asked to Aid Hospital Education Fund
Because one out of eight persons in this country will die of cancer "we act," a $4000 Conquer Cancer drive has been launched here in conjunction with similar drives throughout the province.

Every person here will be asked to give to this drive, the second major campaign against cancer in Canada.

With Mrs. J. D. Fraser, campaign chairman, there is a city-wide canvass. Collections have been assigned to various parts of the city. The City and Junior Chamber of Commerce have undertaken to canvass the business section, workers from women's organizations will carry out the dental canvass.

Campaign headquarters occupy the former ration office in the City Hall. Mrs. Fraser will attend there every afternoon during the campaign which runs till the end of the month.

Contributions will help a capital fund established in 1946 for a cancer hospital in B.C. At present no such hospital exists and many thousands of the dread disease are unable to obtain proper treatment.

Part of the funds raised go toward vital cancer education in B.C. This work is essential in view of the fact that hundreds of people in this province each year allow cancer to too strong a foothold because they actually know the disease.

Braved Ice, Fire Girls Win Awards

TORONTO (C)—Two Ontario girls have won Canadian Council, Girl Guides Association, awards for lifesaving. They are Brownie Mary Jane Hatton of Napanee and Guide Barbara Garr of Aldershot.

Mary Jane won the silver cross award for saving Donna Asselstine, 11-year-old Guide, from drowning Dec. 27, 1946, when she fell through the ice on the swift-running Napanee River.

Realizing her companion's danger, Mary Jane crawled out on the ice pushing a ski pole ahead of her until Donna grasped it. Then she crept back drawing her friend along to safety.

The gilt cross was won by Barbara Garr for her part in averting death by fire of five neighbor's children Feb. 15, 1947.

While passing the neighbor's house she noticed a flickering light in a window. Curious, she called to another girl and entered. The house was full of smoke and a mattress was in flames. Barbara carried two of the children out. Persons nearby rescued the other three children after the alarm had been given. The five tots were alone at the time of the blaze.

PERT TAR SPARKS DEEP-SEA CRAFT

Wireless Telegraphy Gives Toronto Girl Chance to See the World

TORONTO (C)—Elizabeth Prescott always wanted to go to sea. Wireless telegraphy gave her an opportunity and since the end of the war she has travelled on Norwegian ships to many parts of the world.

An experienced wireless operator and secretary, the 24-year-old girl has visited Germany, Belgium, France and the British and Dutch West Indies. Early in her career at sea she was injured and flown to her Toronto home for an operation. On her recovery she got a job on an oil tanker.

Elizabeth found wartime work in a munitions factory tedious and took a wireless course. As a full-fledged graduate she obtained a job—on land—at Air Observers School in Quebec.

Her first sea job came just before the end of the war when she signed on as one of the two women operators aboard the Norwegian vessel Honningsvaag, bound for Britain with a cargo of benzene.

VE-Day found the Toronto girl visiting an aunt in Scotland and she was in Bremen when Japan surrendered.

On her fourth voyage Elizabeth was injured during a storm and following a plastic surgery operation did secretarial work with CBS at Toronto. She returned to sea aboard the Harald Torsvik, an oil tanker. The only girl in the ship, she combined secretarial duties with her work as chief operator. Her latest ship is the Apollo, a converted war cargo carrier.

Miss Prescott, who wears a trim uniform with gold braid on the sleeves, admitted she was "terribly seasick" on her first voyage. Her parents get letters only occasionally, but they do not worry. They know she is happy doing the job she likes best.

Your donation today to B.C.'s Conquer Cancer Campaign may pay you or a loved one a life saving dividend.

RUP REC MASS DISPLAY TO FEATURE TRIED GYMNASTIC TRAINING SHOW

A "visual summary" of progress made by Rup classes at the Civic Centre during the winter season is to be presented publicly on Friday and Saturday evenings when representative trainees of classes will present a mass display arranged by Director Neil Ross.

The program will contain all the latest items to illustrate various types of training and on among almost every group in the city. Because of space limitations in the gymnasium, however, the display will present only a portion of more than 300 persons who have been enrolled for Rup Rec classes.

Standing from the standpoint of co-operation between city schools and the Civic Centre will be the marching and fundamental gymnastic displays by the boys and girls of King Edward elementary school, who have taken part in weekly gym classes at the Civic Centre as part of their regular school instruction.

Girls from grades four, five and six will present a fundamental gymnastics display under the instruction of Miss Doreen Edmunds, Rup instructor while King Edward boys from the same classes will present a marching drill under the instruction of Director Neil Ross. Miss Eleanor Moxley will be pianist for the displays. There will be 70 children in each display.

WORKING INNOVATION IN TOTS' CLASS

One of the most striking innovations of the year has been the tots' class, which began in 40 and 50 pre-school children have attended during the past months under Mrs. S. J. and Mrs. Neil Macdonald, who have acted as leaders during the regular Friday morning classes, this group will present a display of singing and elementary tumbling. Robert Cameron will be pianist for the exercises.

An illustration of its varying program, the Rup junior girls' class, under the instruction of Miss Doreen Edmunds, will put on an attractive and folk dancing

MAPLE LEAFS WORLD CHAMPS

TORONTO—Toronto Maple Leafs are professional hockey champions of the world as a result of their 2 to 1 victory over Montreal Canadiens Saturday night in the sixth game of the Stanley Cup series. It was in the closing minutes of a thrilling game that Kennedy slammed in the winning counter as the great crowd in the Maple Leaf Gardens went virtually wild. Toronto won the series four games to two.

SHORT SPORT

British boxing fans are another group of sports lovers who appear eager to see an alteration in sporting rules. Main sore points are the color bar and bad decisions—both of which were emphasized by a lightweight battle between the Negro Cliff Anderson and British champion Al Phillips last month. This fight brought an immediate demand from fans that all color bar obstacles be removed from fights for British boxing crowns, but the earliest rule changes may be made to improve the efficiency of decisions.

Jack Solomons—king of British fight promoters—has set his stamp of approval on a plan that may do much to avoid unpopular decisions in the future. The system—invented by a former British boxing champion and advocated by Solomons—would include the installation of a scoring indicator outside the vision of the fighters. This, advocates say, would show the marks awarded each fighter at the end of every round and afford the spectators a true picture of what the judges thought. The indicator would also prevent onlookers from forgetting that a man who had outclassed his opponent in early rounds could still win a fight on the basis of points even though he faltered in the closing rounds. It must be admitted, however, that the device still might not make the judges' decision popular with the fans even though it would give them an insight into the judicial point of view.

Polished gymnastic work by the young men's and young women's Rup Rec groups will be featured in the final display. This will include advanced work on the vaulting box and parallel bars by 10 Rup Rec men under Neil Ross, and buck vaulting and advanced tumbling by five leaders of the Rup Rec girls leaders class.

Billy Reid's Angling Prowess Is Rewarded

Billy Reid and Allan McDonald went fishing on Cloyah Creek the other day. Soon, something was hooked. Whatever it was had a mind of its own, an inborn stubbornness and considerable weight. The fish was sighted between a couple of rocks. This left little room for manoeuvring.

Deciding on close action, Billy drew nearer to the rocks and became wet enough to disregard any additional moisture. Right there, the fishing trip changed into a battle royal. Dripping and determined, the Reid offensive was pushed home. The cornered fish was seized, hugged, dragged out, slain and, later on, carefully weighed. It was a 12-pound steelhead.

PUPIL-CRITICS APPRECIATE ART CLASS LECTURES

"Why Is Genius Never Recognized During Lifetime," Scholar Asks After Viewing Masters' Works

By ENR NEMY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG — An art appreciation project—the only one of its kind in Canada—has brought the genius of old masters and modern painters to thousands of Winnipeg school children.

Inaugurated 10 years ago by the Junior League of Winnipeg, the idea began on a small scale. At first only grades five and six were visited but gradually interest became more general until now every elementary class in Winnipeg's 52 public schools receives two calls each year.

The two girls, employed by the Junior League, who visit the schools with prints of paintings by different artists of all countries and ages, are graduates of the Winnipeg School of Art. Helen Wodlinger of Leask, Sask., near Saskatoon, and Margaret Milne of Keyes, Man., took their three-year course together and started their present work after graduation in 1943.

"The children are exceptionally observant and responsive and they get a big kick out of the paintings. Actually, they teach us as much as we teach them," they say.

STIMULATE INTEREST

Basic idea of the project is to interest not only those children who have a talent for art but to stimulate and encourage youngsters who are not artistically inclined.

When they enter a classroom, they give a short introductory talk and then ask several children to choose their favorite picture. A discussion period follows, during which pupils are asked why they like a certain print and dislike another. Then the children are told how to look at a picture, something about color contrast and given a little background on the artist.

Comments by pupils are a continual source of amazement. One question that the girls admit had them stumped was from a little boy who asked, "Why is a genius never recognized during his lifetime?" They are also rather partial to the comment by a young girl who looked at a Van Gogh painting and said, "It's so bright it makes me dizzy."

The girls make two rural visits yearly and take in four towns on each trip. And every morning during the school year they conduct classes through the Winnipeg Art Gallery. In their moments of relaxation, they paint—Helen does landscapes and Margaret, portraits.

LACK IMPORTANT FOOD

Two-thirds of the children studied in a recent survey were found to be on border-line diets, declare national nutritionists. The children were lacking from one to three of the important food groups.

Travels 30,000 Miles for Wife, Finds Tax-Free Island Instead

PIETERMARITZBURG, South Africa — A former British Army officer, who has been travelling around the British Commonwealth since the end of the war looking for "the perfect woman for a wife" and the "right" place in which to live, thinks he will settle in Norfolk Island, without a wife.

He is Maj. James Hordern, who returned to England after the war and found himself the owner of a large estate left by an aunt.

Major Hordern has covered 30,000 miles in the last year. He says that he will know his future wife instinctively and he won't care if she is poor as a church mouse. She is not in New Zealand or Australia, but she may be in Capetown.

He has found his ideal home. It is Norfolk Island, almost in the middle of the Pacific Ocean.

He intends to tell all his tax-burdened friends in England that they should go to Norfolk Island, where they will be well off with only a few shillings.

The only taxation imposed on Norfolk Island is on men between the ages of 21 and 55. They are called on to do nine days' work in the year under administrative supervision or pay $1.20 a day for nine days.

All salaries earned on Norfolk Island are free of taxation, but anyone who earns money outside the island is subject to taxation. Only four articles are liable for tax, the biggest being liquor. The main occupations on the island are sleeping, going to parties and fishing.

OIL FIELD HEAD TOP SHOW MAN

Trinidad's "Chief Servant" Butler Leads Demonstration With Hymns

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad — After years of wartime inactivity, Tubal Uriah Butler, flamboyant, bearded leader of thousands of Trinidad oil-field workers and self-styled "Chief Servant" of the British Empire Workers and Citizens Home Rule Party, is back in the news of this colony.

By his actions the dark-skinned politician and labor leader is known to all Trinidadians although the man himself is hardly ever seen except when addressing a meeting of his followers in his high-pitched, emotional voice.

Some of his opponents call him a religious leader also because at political meetings he often expounds teachings which they claim are inspired by Father Divine, American Negro cult leader.

Butler always opens his meetings with the mass singing of "Lead Kindly Light" and he usually leads the singing himself with Bible in hand. In a political emergency he has been known to raise his hand and ask for prayers and mass hymn singing.

And he loves showmanship. When police were making an island-wide search for him following riots by his oil-field workers in which a policeman was killed, Butler disappeared but soon after gave himself up with a flourish.

He communicated with the police saying he would arrive in Port of Spain on a certain day and at a certain hour. At the appointed time he drove into town in an impressive-looking open car, bade farewell to his followers, and then bowed politely into the custody of waiting policemen.

News men in the city, who have followed his activities closely, report Butler is more of an emotional person with great insistence for what he considers his basic rights rather than a political leader.
