An Alaska Reaction

EARLY THIS YEAR, the Cellanese Corporation of America, which had investigated the possibility of putting in a large pulp operation in Southeast Alaska, announced that it was investing considerable millions in a plant near Prince Rupert, British Columbia, only a short distance from Ketchikan, Alaska, says the Juneau, Alaska, Empire editorially.

At the time the manager of the Alaska Development Board sought to keep up the hopes of Alaskans by hailing the Prince Rupert project as proof that the establishment of such an industry in Alaska was not far off, since this investment was only a few hundred miles south of Alaska.

We failed to see it that way. To us it was nothing to rejoice about. Here was American capital going to Canada within sight of Alaska's front door. The timber available would be no better, perhaps not as good. Pulp prices were the highest they had ever been. Why didn't Ketchikan get the benefit of this new industry employing several thousand men?

An investment running into millions of dollars is made for only one reason—to turn that investment into more money. It isn't made to help any particular area or to employ men or pay taxes supporting any governmental unit, American or foreign.

The sooner everyone in Alaska, and Alaskan officials in Washington realize that the sooner we will get a pulp industry. We must provide the opportunity for investors in this industry to make money in Alaska before they will invest.

What advantages does British Columbia have over Alaska?

Lower transportation costs enter into the picture to a considerable extent.

The muddled state of the land available for the pulp industry in Alaska gives Canada another advantage. Aboriginal claims to much of the land available for pulp mills in Southeast Alaska are still not settled. This problem was brought upon us by the former administration of the Department of the Interior and the present administration has made practically no progress toward settlement. We don't seem to know who the land belongs to and aren't making much progress towards finding out.

There is also a great deal of Federal government red tape involved in securing leases and land titles in Alaska which have not been corrected.

Finally, the attitude in the legislative halls of Alaska for the last seven or eight years have been antagonistic toward his business. Potential pulp investors probably think they will not get the same treatment. It would be much to Alaska's advantage to adopt a law exempting new pulp investments from Alaska taxes for a certain period of years. British Columbia has done this to encourage mining. We doubt if a pulp mill pays very much in taxes in Canada.

However, many Alaskans have been making the mistake of looking upon new business investments as tax sources, primarily.

The salmon industry in Alaska pays taxes several hundred per cent greater than it would pay in British Columbia. This fact is noted by other potential investors.

New industry should not be looked upon as a source for additional taxes but rather as the means of employing more men and adding to the permanent population of Alaska. Reasonable taxes can be expected, but this is of minor importance in weighing the value of new industry.

American capital is not coming to be invested in Alaska just to help Alaska. American business isn't that nationalizing. American capital will come to Alaska when it can be shown that the investment will produce a good profit. Otherwise the money will remain in the continental United States or go to Canada or some other country where it can make a profit and get the most for its investment.

INHALATOR NEEDED HERE

RECENT SERIOUS FIRES here remind us that Prince Rupert lacks inhalator equipment, the presence or absence of which might at any time mean the difference between life and death from suffocation or drowning. The fact that there may have been no incidents to date where an inhalator was required should be taken as a piece of good fortune rather than an excuse for not having it. Since the cost is not great, it might be well if the addition of such equipment, which is standard for most of modern fire departments, was considered without further delay here.

Cranbrook Paper Sees New Era Here

Prince Rupert has had several ups and downs since the town was started back in 1910 but now it would seem that the place is to have an industry that is permanent. An American corporation is planning to build a $15,000,000 plant which will employ a thousand men in producing celanese for chemical purposes. The plant will be eight miles from Prince Rupert, but most of the business will centre at Prince Rupert, as it is not the intention to establish a company town.—The Cranbrook Courier.

ENTHUSES OVER PRINCE RUPERT

Noted Toronto Musician Notes Great Improvement in Twenty Years

Reginald Geen, Toronto Conservatory of Music examiner who visited Prince Rupert last week, could not restrain himself from enthusing over and over at the delights of the city and the great improvement which it shows since last he had been here 20 years ago. He extolled the weather and the natural beauties and was especially impressed with the fine Civic Centre building in which he gave a recital while here.

An interesting incident of Mr. Geen's visit was his renewal of friendship with H. B. Wallace with whom he went to school when they were small boys in Belleville, Ontario. Even then young Geen had started his musical career and was a church organist at the age of nine years. Incidentally, he since was the music teacher in the Ontario city of Mr. Wallace's nephew.

THE COAL MINER THE NICKEL WORKER depend on each other

sand pumps and other equipment subject to grinding wear.

Large quantities of Canadian Nickel from these same plants find their way into the rugged equipment used to mine and transport coal. Nickel steel makes coal cutters, drills, mine cars, crushers and shafting lighter and stronger. Nickel cast iron prolongs the life of crusher rolls,

So the coal used by the Nickel industry creates employment for coal miners; the Nickel used in the coal mines creates employment for nickel workers. Each and every industry in this country creates employment in other industries. No matter how we earn a living, we are all one family, each depending on the others.

BETTER, SAFER HOME CANNING ALWAYS with a National PRESSURE COOKER

For safety and economy in your home canning (and cooking, too) use the scientifically designed, perfectly constructed NATIONAL PRESSURE COOKER. Leading food authorities say that pressure cooking is the only safe way to preserve non-acid foods, including vegetables, meats, fish and fowl. Halibut Fishing in Area No. 2 Ends—Chilcotin Inaugurates New Run

Halibut fishing in this area came to the end of the season for 1947 at midnight last night but landings will continue from this area during the next week or so. The season was a short and a busy one, with Prince Rupert getting the great bulk of the business in comparison with the ports of Vancouver and Seattle. In 1939, the Area No. 2 season lasted for 42 days. This year, it had been reduced, in length of time, to 39 days. Fishing from Area No. 3, so far little touched, of course, continues.

Operating on a revised time table which eliminates some of the calls between Vancouver and Prince Rupert and adds Alice Arm to Stewart and other points on the turn north of here, Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 4:30 yesterday afternoon from the south, sailing north at 8 p.m. The vessel is due back here tomorrow morning and will sail at 1:30 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

With a full list of passengers, comprising mostly round trip tourists, C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. Graham Hughes, arrived in port at 9:30 this morning from Vancouver and sailed at noon for Alaska ports whence she is due back here Saturday afternoon southbound.

Friday afternoon saw two Union coastal liners in port in quick succession. Camosun, Capt. Harry McLean, arrived in port at 4 p.m. and sailed at midnight for Ketchikan when she was back Saturday evening southbound. Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived at 5 p.m. from the south via coast cannery points and left two hours later on her return to Vancouver.

Inaugurating Union Steamships new coastal cruise for tourist pleasure, the new steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Alex McLennan, is due in port at 4:30 this afternoon from Vancouver and Alert Bay with a full list of marine holiday makers and will sail later in the afternoon to make a cruise part way up Portland Canal this evening before heading for Ketchikan where six hours will be spent tomorrow. Late tomorrow evening the Chilcotin will call here to enter and clear as she makes her return cruise south.

Ketchikan motorship Sidney was in port from 4 to 11:30 p.m.

Whaler Swamped By Gust of Wind

A strong gust of wind swamped a Sea Cadet whaler which Midshipman Leonard Youngman and Charles Currie were sailing in the harbor at 1 o'clock this afternoon, throwing both boys into the water. They were rescued by a nearby packer shortly afterward, apparently unharmed. The half-sunken boat and the two Sea Cadets were brought to shore by a small boat which put out from the government dock.

H. D. Thain, city clerk, returned to the city on the Coquitlam yesterday afternoon from Victoria where he attended a convention of municipal officials.

D. G. Stenstrom returned to the city Saturday evening from a motor trip to Terrace in connection with the local pulp mill undertaking. He was accompanied by C. A. Berrer.

SERVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES LIMITED

Chemistry? WELL, I'VE HEARD OF IT!

Yes, EVERYONE has heard of chemistry but few of us realize the part it plays in our daily lives. Countless products are entirely chemical. It improves and reduces the cost of many things. It creates jobs.

At home, chemistry becomes personal. It purifies the water we drink, improves the food we eat, the clothes we wear. It comes to us as salt and in soap. We meet it in "Cellophane", nylon, paint and plastic form. This would be a drab life without chemistry.

Regardless of world conditions, this progressive science drives ahead towards the goal of better working and living conditions... with the C-I-L oval trademark as symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For Instance... AMMUNITION

Never content with things as they are, chemistry, the restless science, is constantly producing better sporting ammunition; for instance, waterproofed shot shells were developed by Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, 1135 Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal.

CARE IN CANNING NECESSARY; SOME OF LATEST PROCESSES

All life is made up of what is commonly termed "vicious circles" . . . although in reality they are not all victims. Even canning is a part of one of these circles, for we plant, can and eat. The planting season is now with us, and in most homes the supply of canned foods has reached the low level of the year. With the maturity of the fruits and vegetables in their season, the problem of preserving summer's bounty for winter use presents itself once again.

There are many factors which enter into successful canning. It is a process in which each step must be followed meticulously. Unapproved short cuts may result in failure and loss.

Pt. Edward Athletics Defeat Inverness

PORT EDWARD—Port Edward Athletics defeated Inverness by a score of 10-8 in a baseball game here Saturday afternoon.

ATHLETIC CLUB AT PORT EDWARD

First Major Undertaking Will Be Dominion Day Celebration

Port Edward Athletic Association, which came into being not so long ago, is planning its first major undertaking—the celebration of Dominion Day in Prince Rupert's industrial annex community. The program will include baseball and football games and marine and field sports.

The officers of the Port Edward Athletic Association are: President, Eli Turner (Hazelton); Vice-President, Matthew Stewart (Kincolth); Secretary, John Moore (Canyon City); Manager, Ralph Clayton (Kincolth); Assistant Manager, Jack Wright (Hazelton); Football Captain, Arthur Leeson (Greenville); assistant captain, Wallace Danes (Hazelton); Softball Captain, Chris Trim-

be (Kincolth); assistant captain, Robert Jackson (Hazelton). Baseball Captain, Wallace Danes (Hazelton); assistant captain, Peter Campbell (Hazelton). Technical Advisers—Dennis Morven (Aiyansh) and Jack Wright (Hazelton).

Benefit Ball Game Is Postponed

The Bobby Houston baseball benefit game was postponed until Sunday, June 15, after a persistent downpour drenched players and a few early-arriving fans who took a chance on the weather yesterday afternoon at Roosevelt Park. The benefit game between Old Timers and Rookies was to have replaced the league game between Savoy and Watts and Nickerson which will be played Tuesday night.

PORT EDWARD BEATS TERRACE

Terrace Canadian Legion baseball team travelled to Port Edward Sunday for a game which resulted in a 6-3 defeat for the visitors after seven innings of good play which included a double play by Port Edward in the sixth. The double play was a Daniels-to-Danes-to-Jackson combination.

Battery for Terrace was Glen on the mound with Hipp catching, while Port Edward used Bobby Stevens for the first three innings, replacing him with Bert Rowbotham. Charlie Alexee was catcher.

SHORT SPORT

Pearl Diver, this year's Derby winner, is owned by Baron G. De Waldner and was ridden by George Bridgeland. The horse was quoted as high as 40 to 1 in earlier call-overs and was winner of the only one of the last three starts. Pearl Diver won by four lengths. Five Canadians carried sweepstake tickets on Migoli, second place winner but none on Sayajirao or Pearl Diver. The five lucky winners whose tickets are worth $10,000 ($40,000) were "White Heather" (KL18372), "Wasp" (BC9332), "Lucky" (BA47674), "Indian" (BP19786) and "Win" (BG13673).

Lawson Little, winner of the Canadian Open in 1936, shot a great two-under-par 70 score on a muddy Cleveland course, seven years ago today to defeat Gene Sarazen for the United States Open Golf Championship, after finishing in a tie for 72 holes. Ed Oliver, also tied with the leaders, was disqualified for starting the final round before the allotted time.

Archworth and about $12,000 of the bettors' money were left at the post in the running of the $5,000 added Open Memorial Handicap at Toronto's Long Branch track eight years ago. The 1939 King's Plate winner slipped far behind in a race that saw the runner-up in the 1939 Plate race, Mona Bell, head the field.

SPEEDERS BEWARE OF RADAR—Standing beside a radar device that will be used on Connecticut roads to cut down on speed motorists is one of the state troopers now learning how to operate the new gadget. Known officially as the electronic speed meter, it can compute the m.p.h. of cars as its wartime cousin figured the speed of approaching planes.
