Question of Berlin Crisis Still Unsettled

Southeastern Is Ashore

Briggs Steamship Co. Vessel Stranded Down Coast

SEATTLE, (CP)—The United States Coastguard reported today that the Seattle motorship Southeastern is aground near Kiltik Creek on Hunter Island above Queen Charlotte Sound and 295 miles northwest of Vancouver. The vessel does not appear to be in any great danger.

The Southeastern, which belongs to the Briggs Steamship Co. and is under charter to carry emergency supplies to Alaska, was on her way from Seattle to Ketchikan.

Suspend Sentence In Scalding Case

A year's suspended sentence was handed out by Judge W. O. Fulton in County Court this morning to Harry Robert Wright after he had been found guilty of a charge of negligence in connection with the scalding of a 17-year-old girl aboard the fish packer Pine Leaf in harbor here on September 25.

Wright was acquitted of a charge of assault occasioning actual bodily injury to Ruth Leavitt, a visitor aboard the Pine Leaf, who was burned about the face, and legs by scalding water.

Wright was released on his own recognizance to allow him time to arrange for the payment of "reparations" to Miss Leavitt, suggested by Crown Counsel T. W. Brown. He will inform the court of the terms of payment agreed between himself and the girl when he appears before the court Wednesday morning.

Mr. Brown told the court that the payment of hospital and doctor's bills by Wright might not be adequate. Inconvenience and anguish caused by the scalding also should be a consideration.

Miss Leavitt was burned when Wright spilled a pail of hot water in the galley of the Pine Leaf on September 25 when six people were in the galley. Wright was cook aboard the boat.

In passing sentence, Judge Fulton said that, if the incident had been purely accidental, there would have been no reason to call the police but, apparently, the attitude of everyone present was that the police should be called.

"Even the accused apparently expected to be taken to the police court," the Judge said.

BRUSH FIRE CAUSES ALARM

A householder's land clearing operations were responsible for a false alarm which sent the city fire department to the 1500 Block on Sixth Avenue East at 1:30 Sunday afternoon. A nearby resident turned in an alarm when he mistook a fire which had been started to burn stumps and brush for a house fire. Huge clouds of smoke billowed up Saturday afternoon at 5:30 the firemen responded to a call to the home of H. Trudeau, 1443 Piggott Place, where a metal chimney had caught fire. There was no damage.

PARACHUTE WAS BALLOON BOMB

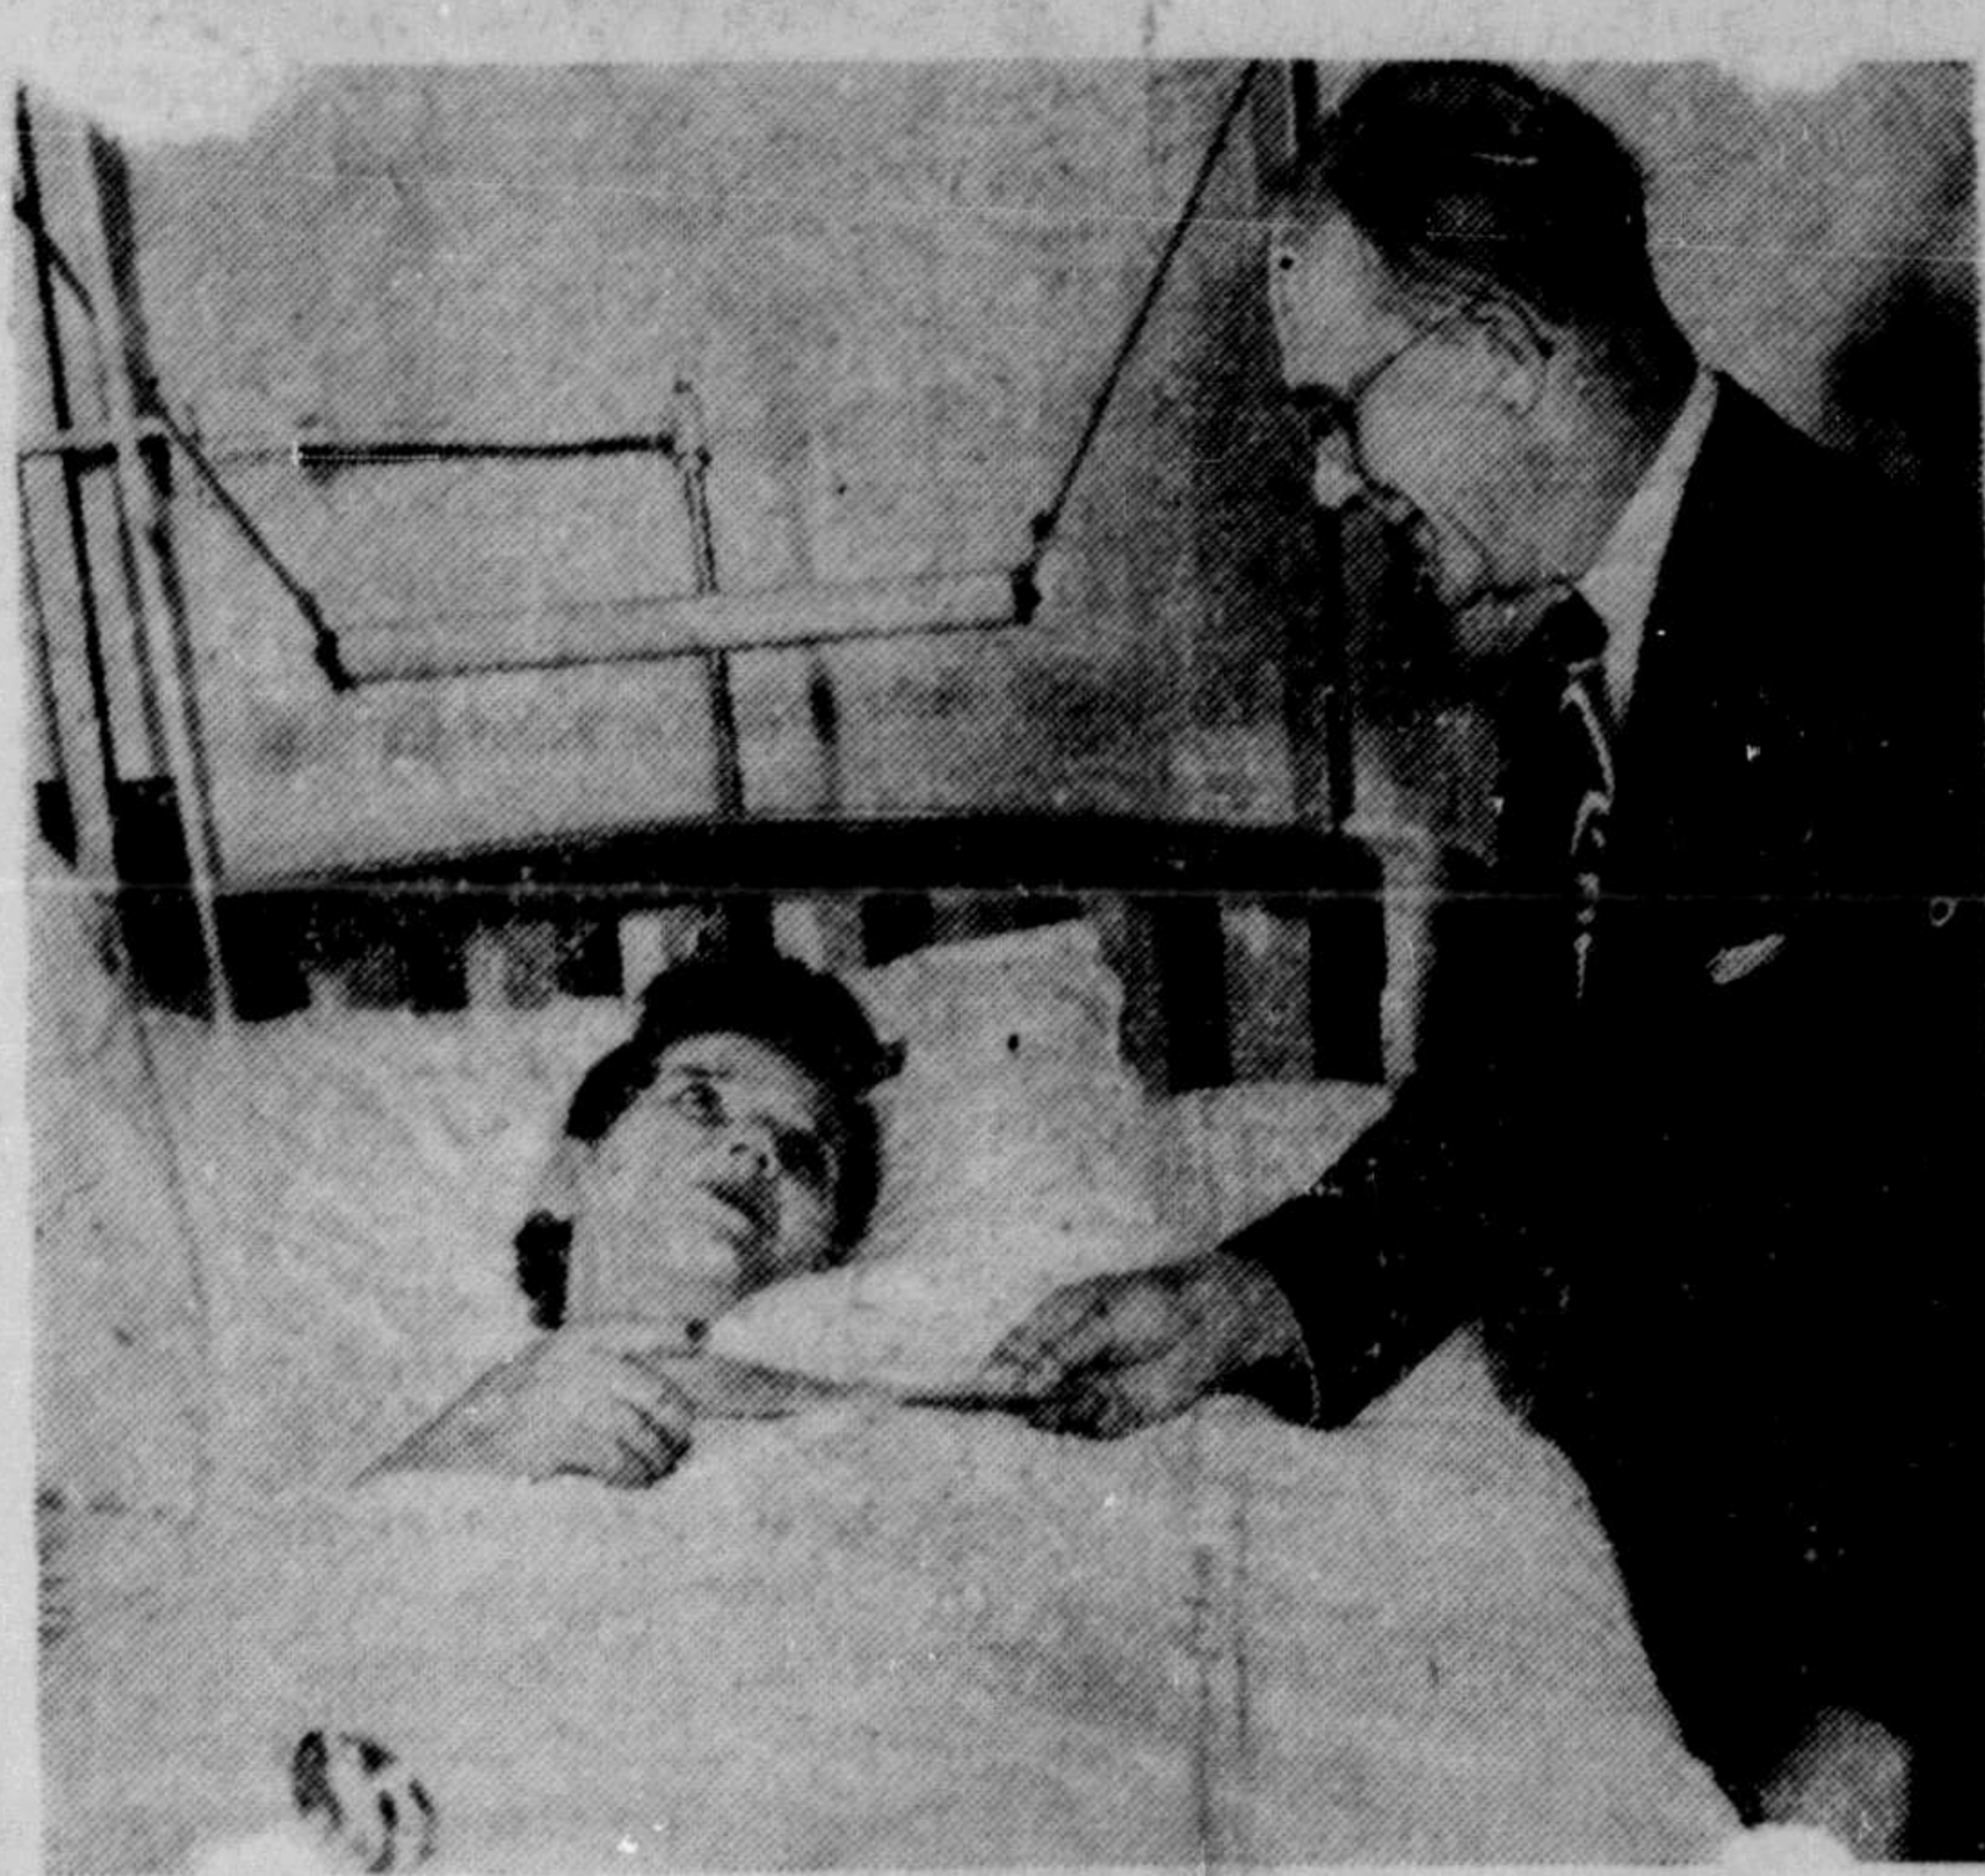

Mysterious Object in Trees Near Lytton Accounted For

LYTTON, (C)—The mysterious white "parachute" which was sighted in tree tops on a nearby mountain by a civilian pilot last week was reached Saturday by a Royal Canadian Air Force ground search crew and was discovered to be a wartime Japanese balloon bomb. An Army demolition crew will dispose of it. Fourteen such bombs had previously been accounted for in British Columbia.

The victory also sends the Tribe into the World Series with the first game against Boston Braves at the Brave's field on Wednesday.

YUGOSLAVS ARE PUZZLING

Resignations and Disappearances From Legation at Ottawa

OTTAWA (C)—The rift between Russia and Yugoslavia has started a strange puzzle of diplomatic resignations and disappearances in the Yugoslav legation in Ottawa. Seven Yugoslav officials are reported to have resigned.

YugoSlav Minister Mato A. Jaksic says they "are gone back to Yugoslavia." The strange activities began when a signed statement was received Sunday by the Ottawa Citizen and Journal. In it Pavle Lukin, legation counselor, said he and six others had resigned.

PIERRE DE GAULLE IN NEW YORK FOR JUBILEE—Pierre de Gaulle, president of the Paris municipal council, an office equivalent to mayor, arrived in New York from Paris with his daughter, Chantal, to participate in New York's Golden Jubilee celebration. He was greeted by Grover Whalen, chairman of the mayor's committee on the Golden Jubilee, and Ludovic Chancel, French consul-general in New York. Mr. De Gaulle, who is a brother of General Charles de Gaulle, will spend 10 days in New York as guest of the city. In picture, left to right are: De Gaulle, his daughter, Chancel and Whalen.

PERU REVOLT IS PUT DOWN

LIMA, Peru, (C)—Government troops held full control over the troops held full control over the bloody revolution by sailors and civilians.

Insurgents had seized and used full fire power of warships and heavily-armed installations to launch the revolt Sunday.

There is no official estimate of casualties but the number is large.

President Jose Luis Bustamante Rivero said the opposition party "inspired and directed" the revolt.

BULLETINS

BRITONS NOT EVACUATING

LONDON — A government spokesman today jeered at the suggestion that war plans had reached a stage where evacuation of some of the government departments to Canada had been discussed. "We didn't do it in the last war and there is little likelihood that we would do it if another came," he said.

PLANE DOWN AT SEA

MIAMI—A twin-engine chartered air liner with 21 persons on board is "presumed down at sea" today after it sounded distress calls somewhere between Charlestown, South Carolina, and Nassau in the Bahamas.

YUKON POWER SURVEYS

EDMONTON—The Edmonton Bulletin said today that the Dominion government was making surveys of possible power sites in the Yukon Territory to furnish electric energy to silver and lead mines near Mayo. It said the engineers were exploring the Stewart and Pelly Rivers for hydro sites.

NORTH COAST TUNA FISHERY NOW ENDED

The fisheries protection vessel Kitimaat, Capt. C. W. Earnshaw, arrived here at the weekend after concluding her season's tuna fishery investigation of the Queen Charlotte and Vancouver Islands which was partly instrumental in opening prospects for a north coast tuna fish industry.

Rough weather in the open water off the west coast of the Queen Charlottes has caused fishermen to head for port, thus bringing to an end the first season in which albacore have been landed here.

The fisheries protection vessel Laurier, Capt. Llewelyn Sheppard, also took part in the investigation, cruising, in cooperation with the Kitimaat, waters from the Oregon coast north to Langara Island at the northern tip of the Queen Charlottes.

As a result of the activities of the two vessels, a northern tuna fishery this summer was established which may result in a permanent secondary fishery, although further investigation is required to confirm this.

The Queen Charlotte Islands tuna fishery this summer was concentrated off Tassu Harbor where times during the late summer, the fish came as close as three miles inshore.

WHITACRE, Eng., (C)—Charlie Tonks, 69, who as caretaker of a stretch of line between Whitacre and Hampton in Arden, has been waiting 16 years for a train that never came, retires in six weeks. Traffic was diverted to a new main line in 1932, but Tonks stayed on the job.

Russia Would Re-open Four-Power Negotiations

Meanwhile United Nations Security Council Opens Debate On Question

PARIS (CP)—British, United States and French foreign ministers met today to discuss Russia's call for a resumption of Big Four talks over Berlin and Germany. They met while the security council of the United Nations was opening debate on the Berlin crisis. There was no announcement following the meeting of the foreign ministers although a French official said that it had been decided not to take the matter back to Big Four conference as long as the blockade of Berlin continued.

LADY SPY — Elizabeth T. Bentley, New York, 36-year-old secretary, and a 1930 graduate of Vassar College, whose testimony, according to the U.S. House Un-American Activities Committee, was responsible for unveiling a far-flung Red espionage ring in the U.S. which had many connections in high government circles. She has already testified before the special federal grand jury which indicted 12 top-flight Communists in that country. She is described as a member of an old American family who found herself head of a Red spy ring of 50 persons during the war and later, suffering from pangs of conscience, went to the F.B.I. and told her story. When questioned again, she calmly admitted she had collected wartime information from government employees in Washington and passed it along regularly to Russia.

Russia proposed that the Four Power council of foreign ministers meet again to consider the Berlin crisis and the whole German situation. The proposal was contained in a note in reply to western power notes of September 26, breaking off the Four Power negotiations and announcing that the question would be taken to the United Nations security council.

The Russian note said that the United States government's statement that a situation threatening world peace had arisen did not correspond with the real state of affairs. It said that this charge constituted nothing more than means of pressure and an attempt to use the United Nations for the achievement of aggressive aims. The Russians claim that the United Nations security council has no right to deal with the Berlin dispute.

SALMON SEASON NEARING CLOSE

Only Two Areas Still Open—Trolling Activity Falling Off

Closure of salmon seining in the southern area of Queen Charlotte Islands brought more than a dozen seiners to port here Saturday. The vessels had been fishing in Hecate Strait off Skidegate Inlet and Moresby Island where they did fairly well during the late summer.

At times as many as 75 seiners were in operation during the season, and catches of dog salmon were fairly good.

Closure of the southern Queen Charlotte Islands area leaves only two areas in Fisheries District Two open to seine nets. These are at Rivers Inlet and the northern area of the Queen Charlottes.

At Rivers Inlet, a few dog salmon are reported. Nine seiners in that region averaged 1,500 chums each last week. The fish were unusually large, weighing about 15 pounds each.

The whole of District Two is now open to trolling but there is not much activity reported off the mainland. On the Queen Charlottes, however, the catches are reported to be good.

The New Leader

IN A STORMY and colorful political career George Alexander Drew, the new Progressive-Conservative leader, (before entering politics a Toronto lawyer) has often found himself at odds with the federal Liberal government and even at times with leaders of his own party.

Mr. Drew's major break with his own party came in 1936 when he split with it over the question of whether the Committee for Industrial Organization should be tolerated in Ontario. Hon. Earl Rowe, then leader of the party in the Ontario field, declared the party's stand was for the right of labor to organize into unions of its own choice.

In the election that followed Mr. Drew ran as an independent Conservative in Wellington South, unopposed by an official Conservative, but was defeated by a Liberal. Two years later he was chosen leader to succeed Mr. Rowe.

He was first elected to the Ontario legislature in 1939 and he led the Progressive-Conservative party to power in 1943, 1945, and 1948. But in the 1948 election he suffered personal defeat in his own riding of High Park, a Toronto constituency. He was still without a Legislature seat at the time of the national party convention. Now, of course, he will seek a federal seat.

His arguments with the federal government touched mainly on three matters:

1. The pre-war granting of defence contracts.
2. The fitness of Canadian expeditionary force to Hong Kong.
3. Dominion-provincial relations.

In 1938 Mr. Drew's article "Canada Armament Mystery" attacked the contract under which the department of national defence agreed to buy 7,000 Bren guns from the John Inglis Company, Limited, Toronto.

After hearings spread out over months, Commissioner H. H. Davis recommended that a defence purchasing board be set up, a recommendation later implemented by legislation. The commissioner said it was beyond his jurisdiction to comment on the conduct of individuals but he found that no defence department official was guilty of corruption or anything in the nature of corruption.

Mr. Drew started the long drawn out Hong Kong controversy with a speech on January 12, 1942, in which he charged that untrained men had been attached to the force. A Royal Commission report found that the expedition was well-trained and well-equipped but Mr. Drew took issue with almost every point in the report. Because the British government would not release five secret British dispatches touching on the expedition, the controversy was left vaguely unsettled.

The Ontario premier attracted increased national attention in 1946 when the Dominion-provincial conference to revise wartime tax agreements foundered on the refusal of Quebec and Ontario to agree to federal proposals. Mr. Drew claimed the Dominion was solely responsible for the conference failure because it adopted a "rigid" position.

He later called for the reconvening of the conference but the Dominion administration set about negotiating individual agreements with the provinces and signed up all but the two central provinces.

Outside the political field, Mr. Drew attracted attention with his books and articles. A veteran of the First World War, the premier wrote three books on the conflict—"The Truth About the War," "Canada's Part in the Great War," and "Canada's Fighting Airmen." His article "Salesmen of Death," an expose of the profits made in munitions during the First World War was translated into 30 languages.

In 1936, Mr. Drew married Fiorenza d'Arneiro Johnson, daughter of Edward Johnson, manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and the late Viscountess d'Arneiro of Lisbon. They have a son and a daughter.

IT MIGHT HAPPEN

THE WORLD is familiar with what happened at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. It may be remembered that war ceased not so long after human beings had been introduced to the atomic bomb. Thousands of those who survived Hiroshima and Nagasaki are still suffering, and will to the end of life. The bombs that sent thrills of terror through Japan were regarded as the ultimate in horror. They are worse today. Russia last week gave a broad hint that she, like United States, has a supply. The nations have a clear picture. There is no peace on earth. There may be goodwill—perhaps calculated. There is no excuse today, for anyone not being able to visualize what might occur.

Mr. Crinella is the proprietor of a number of auto courts and has an automobile agency as well.

RECORD BLACK BEAR IS KILLED IN TWEEDSMUIR PARK — 700 POUNDS

BURNS LAKE—Charles W. Summers and Tom Van De Car of Hutchinson, Kansas, have just returned from a fall hunt during which they were guided by Buster W. R. Harrison of Wistaria. Among the hides they brought in was an exceptionally large black bear skin which it is believed would crowd the American record both in length and width. It dressed out over 700 pounds. The highly valued bear grease will be taken back to Hutchinson, Kansas.

The party brought in the hides of three mountain goats and two black bear. They passed up three bull moose as not having exceptional heads.

Interviewing the President of the Tweedsmuir Park Rod and Gun Club, members of the party voiced their disappointment on learning that there is a closed season on cariboo, a head of which they particularly desired. They requested that the Rod and Gun Club endeavor to have the regulations made public a year ahead or at least in the spring of each year in order to give both guides and hunters a

NEW PASTOR HEARD HERE

First Presbyterian Church yesterday welcomed its new pastor, Rev. George E. Sendall, with good-sized congregations at morning and evening services and a reception following the evening services. The young ex-serviceman minister made a good impression and was received warmly.

Elaborating in his morning sermon on the Biblical story of Esau's sale of his birthright to his twin brother, Jacob, for a mess of pottage, Mr. Sendall dwelt on the importance of the spiritual and permanent values over the material and temporal. Without these spiritual values, civilization must surely perish. In the evening Mr. Sendall's subject was "The Historical Christian Faith," in the discussion of which he appealed for an acceptance of God's word over man's in these times of world crisis.

At an enthusiastic meeting at the week-end attended by no less than 35 prospective players, the Civic Centre Adult Badminton Club was organized with officers as follows:

President, Emil Blain. Secretary, Leah Basso-Bert. Treasurer, Ronald McClymont.

There will be organized play Wednesday nights and Sunday afternoons in gymnasium and auditorium and Friday nights when the auditorium is available.

Play will start this Wednesday. Miss Frances Cross, Mrs. M. C. Kullander, and Robert McKay, jr., were named a games committee.

Hunting with bow and arrow has nothing to do with archery. One is the taking of life, if possible. The other is sport. If one must hunt, do it with a gun, and see that you kill it. It is not necessary to use the weapons of centuries ago but some seem to think so. There are those who range the shores and woods of British Columbia and take it out on the beautiful and harmless creatures living there. If there are no such people, then why was a badly maimed seagull found near Vancouver the other day? An arrow had been driven partly through the bird's body.

It may now be said that the long mooted St. Lawrence Waterway project, the achievement of which would form a continuous fresh water highway two thousand miles long from the heart of the continent to the open sea has at least two influential friends. In Canada, one is a gentleman known as George Drew, while in the United States it is a sutured and noted citizen called Thomas Dewey.

Sport Shots

Most cricketers hold the bat with its handle running across the palm of the right hand and resting against the ball of the right thumb. But the great Don Bradman is different. He turns the handle over so that the handle presses against the thumb; as the grip tightens to play a shot, pressure becomes more intense. The left wrist is turned behind the handle. This means that whether attacking or defending against a rising ball, danger to the fingers and back of the hands is reduced to a minimum. It also leaves the bat sloping at an angle of about 45 degrees to the ground, and so keeps the ball down, ensuring in both hook and cut that the blade is turned over the ball.

Play in a recent Division II soccer match between Nottingham Forest and Barnsley was twice halted by the referee because a jackdaw persisted in fluttering about the players' legs. Finally the bird perched on the Barnsley goal. "That the safest place for you," jeered one of the fans. Nottingham, who lost the match 1-0, had scored only one goal in their last five appearances.

We wish to announce that, starting immediately, all gas and oil sales and service jobs will be on a cash basis unless satisfactory arrangements are made in advance for credit. This is the same regulation that has been in effect in nearly all interior points for the past year. The fact that all wholesale houses as well as the oil companies are tightening up on their credit has made it necessary that we follow the above regulations if we are to remain in business.

Deadlock In Pennant Race

Sudden Death Game Between Indians and Red Sox For Right to Enter World Series

BOSTON—For the first time in baseball history a post-season play-off is called for to decide the American League pennant and the right to enter the World Series. Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox are meeting in such a sudden-death game here this afternoon following final games of league schedule yesterday which resulted in the two clubs becoming deadlocked.

The Cleveland Indians, who went into yesterday's game one full game ahead of the Boston Red Sox and needing only a victory for themselves or a defeat for Boston to clinch the flag, missed on both counts. They lost 7 to 1 to the Detroit Tigers while the Red Sox walked the New York Yankees 10 to 5.

The winners of today's game will go against Boston Braves in the World Series starting in Boston Wednesday with the National League pennant winners—the Boston Braves—as home team.

Bob Feller was belted out of the box after the third inning yesterday by a barrage of Detroit hits. Hal Newhouse of the Tigers hand-cuffed the tribe on five hits.

Cleveland looked like they had the flag sewed up last week but now they are having to fight it out today in the precedent-shattering play-off with the Red Sox.

Will traffic problems be solved tomorrow?

BROADER, safer highways — a vital aid to progress today — will be needed even more urgently in the future.

Each year there will be more goods to bring to the nation's markets... more materials to haul for expanding industries... more people travelling between growing towns and cities... and, probably, a larger number of tourists.

To handle this increased traffic, Canada will have more of these modern highways — built with the aid of life insurance dollars. For, on behalf of policyholders, life insurance companies invest large sums in provincial bonds which finance new road construction.

This is just one of the ways in which part of every dollar you pay in life insurance premiums is invested to help develop industries and public works from coast to coast.

So Life Insurance serves you in two ways. It offers financial protection to you and your family. And it helps make Canada a better land to live in.

A message from the life insurance companies in Canada and their agents.

It was also decided to advertise locally for someone to run the canteen at the Civic Centre.

ARE WEDDED AT SANDSPIT

Canadian Legion Hall
Made Beautiful Setting

SANDSPIT — The Legion Hall at Sandspit, Queen Charlotte Islands, was made into a beautiful setting for an all-white autumn wedding on the thirty-first wedding anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kirby, when Marjorie Violet Kirby exchanged nuptial vows with Chris Vernon Dahms, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dahms of Wetaskiwin, Alberta, under an archway of evergreens and autumn flowers.

The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Basil Procter of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Prince Rupert.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, George Kirby, to the strains of the Wedding March played by Mrs. Barbara Ward. She was lovely in a floor length gown of white satin and a full-length net veil of orange blossoms which was carried by her two nephews, Masters David and Donald McLeod, acting as train bearers. Her only ornament was a crystal necklace with matching earrings and her bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Miss Louise Morrow, the flower girl, wore a floor-length white taffeta gown styled with a bow bustle and carried a nosegay of flowers similar to that of the bride.

Mrs. Lillian Crozier, matron of honor, wore a white sheer floor-length gown with a chapel veil held in place by white gardenias. She carried pale pink and white carnations.

The two bridesmaids, Mrs. Beatrice Kirby and Mrs. Gladys McLeod, wore similar white sheer floor-length gowns and chapel veils held by white gardenias and carried pink carnations.

George Kirby, brother of the bride, attended the groom as also did Jack Liding and Earl Hodgkinson.

Ushers were T. Crozier and A. McLeod.

To receive the guests Mrs. Kirby wore a two-piece grey crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The wedding supper was served at the home of the bride with a three-tier wedding cake adorned the bridal table. Mr. Procter proposed a toast to the bride and it was responded to by the groom.

A wedding dance and reception was held in the Legion Hall in the evening. Music was provided by the Harmony Boys.

BASKETBALL AT TERRACE

Local Teams Help to Open
Season At Interior Town

On Saturday three of the Prince Rupert basketball teams visited Terrace to help open the season there. In the first game of the evening, Gyros of the local Junior League played the Terrace All-Stars and won 56 to 18. Merchants and Morgan's of Prince Rupert's Intermediate League played in the wind-up, the former winning 54 to 52.

The Purple and Gold clad team was much too strong for the interior lads even though they were badly out-sized in some departments. Gyros displayed a very nice brand of basketball, sparked by Bud Ratchford and Harold Marshall with a superior exhibition of Helin at guard. The Terrace boys played hard and had quite as much of the play territorially but were baffled by a defence that shifted from zone to man to man. The Terrace boys definitely, by good coaching, may learn the finer points of the game.

Morgan's and Merchants of the Prince Rupert Intermediate League put up a battle that savored more of mid-season play. The game developed into a close checking duel between the two Scherk brothers, Don and Syd, with Syd taking the final honors by two points. All the players put up a good show with speed definitely predominating. Brew played an outstanding game for Morgan's as did Youngman of Merchants.

Scores:
Terrace—Dave Gillanders 5, Kirkaldy 3, Clifford Haugland 5 Johnson, Toop 3, deKergommeaux, Hobenshield, Don Gillanders 2. Total 18.

Gyro—Sather 8, Ratchford 15 Young 7, Marshall 14, McAra 5; Helin 2, Large 6, Hills. Total 56
Morgan's—D. Scherk 18, Webster 4, Eldsvik, Brew 16, Hill 5. Scharffe, McChesney 6. Total 52.
Merchants—Anderson 5, Sunberg 10, Youngman 17, Scherk 20, Hebb, Owens 1, Moore 1. Total 54.

The Prince Rupert teams left by highway Saturday afternoon and returned home last evening.

Nootka Had Mishap at Skagway—Petersburg Canned Salmon Landed

Southbound from Skagway where she went to discharge coal and general cargo for the Yukon and Northern British Columbia and to load caterpillars, piping and other material from the dismantled Canol project at Whitehorse for Vancouver, C. P.R. freighter Nootka, Capt. L. W. McDonald, operating under charter to the Frank Waterhouse line, arrived in port at 7:45 last evening from the north. After loading 4000 cases of canned salmon from the ocean dock here, the Nootka sailed this morning for Port Edward to load more canned salmon and will proceed from there to Butedale to take on further quantities of the commodity for Vancouver. The Nootka, which has been in Alaska waters for two weeks, had to leave behind some of the caterpillars at Skagway when the coupling of her main large boom was broken and the big derrick dropped to the deck. A winch was smashed in the impact but, fortunately, no one was hurt. Repairs will be made in Vancouver or Victoria.

Pacific American Fisheries motorship Tolstoy arrived in port at 6:30 last evening with four carloads of canned salmon for delivery into the ocean dock here and ultimate shipment to the United States. The Tolstoy, which has several trips to make

LEGION BENEFIT SOCIAL ENJOYED

Large Turn-out at Affair in Aid of Doug Christison

On Friday an enjoyable evening was spent at the Canadian Legion Hall by Legion members and their wives and Legion Auxiliary members and their husbands, the occasion being a benefit social evening to augment the funds being raised towards the hospital expenses of Doug Christison, the Legion's popular centre-forward, who sustained a badly broken ankle in the final football match of the season which will keep him away from his work for several weeks.

Vic Duncan, who acted as master of ceremonies, provided a full evening's musical program in which the ladies took the largest share and contributed greatly towards the success of the evening. Mrs. J. S. Black, president of the Women's Auxiliary, acted as pianist throughout the entire evening while David Jones and his "electro-mono-cats" also gave their services for this worthy cause and earned the plaudits of an appreciative audience for their novel presentation of their well-known songs and airs. Besides community sing of familiar war songs, the program included songs by Mesdames Ralph Smith, Peggy Andrews, Myra Gilchrist, Florence Smith and Mrs. Norman Murdoch, piano recital and songs by Mr. and Mrs. Don Nixon, impersonations by Ralph Gillies, Leslie Parks and his "balancing act," as well as songs by the "two Jimmies"—Green and Kelly. Miss Hazel Drummond, a member of the nursing staff of Miller Bay Hospital, again showed her skill as a doll maker and, in the short time at her disposal, executed two excellent replicas of the popular "Panchito" and "Joe Carico" which were raffled and brought a valuable contribution to the fund. Mrs. Nellie Anderson was the lucky winner of "Joe Carico" while "Panchito" was won by Mrs. Anne Karasosky.

BALCONIES ARE COMING BACK IN VOGUE—The robust gent in the uniform who is speaking here is Soviet Lieutenant-General Godeyev, head of the Russian delegation to the big Communist rally staged in the Soviet sector of Berlin last week. Although only 100,000 turned up to whoop it up for dear old Joe instead of the expected 400,000, General Godeyev pulled out all the stops, denounced the U.S. as a Fascist state comparable to Nazi Germany and said all kinds of nasty things about the western democracies. The flowers in foreground are wreaths in memory of the victims of Nazi concentration camps. The balcony scene is more than faintly reminiscent of the days of Benito

MANCHESTER, Eng. — When Martha Kelly, 19, kicked and struggled "like a woman gone mad," four policemen took off her shoes and carried her out of a cafeteria.

By the time the final tallies are made it is probable it will be found that at least 2,000,000 pounds of tuna have been landed in British Columbia. In canned form, the catch will have a value of $1,000,000. About half the landings were at Prince Rupert.

The marine strike, affecting United States ports on the Pacific, is far reaching. Because of it, it became necessary to postpone the hearing of jury cases at the Ketchikan fall term of the Federal Court until January. Owing to the strike, and the tie-up of steamers, the transportation of witnesses and others connected with trials had to be delayed.

For the first time in five years whaling in the north Pacific attained substantial figures during the 1948 season. The total catch will be around 160 or 170.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide is due in port at 5:30 this afternoon from the south and will sail at 10 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived in port at 4 o'clock yesterday morning from the south and sailed at 11 a.m. on her return to Vancouver.

'Margie' Brain Is Seen In News Reel

Prince Rupert's beauty queen, Miss Margaret Brain, who won the province-wide competition, appeared in the news reel at the Capitol Theatre during the week-end. The pictures were viewed with decided interest. They showed "Margie" at Hollywood, the kindly attentions given her, the daily routine in the studios and Hollywood, the city. She was shown alighting from her plane and in company with Alan Ladd and other celebrities.

5,800 CASES OF ALASKA SALMON

To the already heavily laden ocean dock was added Saturday 5,800 cases of canned salmon from the Alaska Steamship Co. freighter Coastal Ranger which docked here in the morning to unload Alaska salmon, sailing again late in the afternoon. The ocean dock is filled almost to capacity with Alaska canned salmon which has been pouring in in large shipments for movement by rail to the United States.

I Like Monaseal

"I guess it's my economical nature. Monaseal LASTS LONGER on my walls and ceilings. Proves the old saying—the better the quality, the less it costs. Saves me time and work too... I'd rather do a good job with Monaseal because I know it will stay beautiful longer."

Going Steady... with British Columbia

THINK of British Columbia's great lumbering, mining and fishing industries, and you'll see that our province is blessed with all the natural resources but one. As yet no productive source of oil has been found. There is, however, a great demand for petroleum products in B.C.; in fact, industry literally rolls on oil.

CRUDE oil is brought to Stanovan, Standard of B.C.'s refinery on Burrard Inlet, by tanker from the world's most economical sources of supply. The alternative would be to bring in refined products... but refining the crude oil in the province makes jobs in, and produces buying power for, British Columbia.

PETROLEUM products are made at Stanovan for British Columbians by British Columbia engineers and skilled workers. B.C. has an important industry which materially benefits the province as a whole—the refining of crude oil into gasoline and a long list of useful by-products including bitumens and asphalts.

THE story of the oil industry is one of venture-capital at work, creating the products people want, selling them in open competition with other companies. We believe that this system offers the greatest incentives, the highest standards of living, the best job-security and individual freedom of opportunity.
