

BATTLE OF BERLIN IS NOW UNDER WAY

Lock Over Train Movements Brought About Fresh Crisis

BERLIN (CP)—Conflict between Russia and the Western Powers bottled up western road and rail traffic in and out of Berlin today. The Americans, unwilling to submit to Soviet inspection, resorted to a blockade of passengers and freight. United States and British authorities protested at a sudden Soviet order for inspection of trains effective at midnight last night.

General Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, said that the traffic stoppage could not be broken immediately without the use of force.

British and American authorities ordered that train commanders not yield to the Russian order that all passengers and freight entering the Soviet zone be inspected at border control points.

The result was that four east-bound passenger trains were stopped at Marienborn, Soviet check point five miles east of the British zone boundary.

In Moscow the Communist newspaper Pravda declared that "partition of Germany has become a completed fact."

A Russian-licensed German newspaper suggested that the western Allies get out of Berlin. The western powers have about 35,000 troops and civilians in the German capital.

United States resorted to aircraft today to move traffic over the Russian occupied zone from Berlin. Great Britain has not yet taken such action.

No Fooling, Winter Is Still With Us

Snow began falling in Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon and, as evening came on, the storm grew in severity, and no matter which way one looked, the general setting had a Santa Claus setting. Late at night, three inches had fallen. Skies cleared and there was a touch of frost. Prince Rupert, early this morning, not only looked, but felt cold—no foolin'. The first of April did not suggest spring, the least bit—unless, of course, it was from the blue sky and bright sunshine.

JOHN HLADUN— CANADA UP AGAINST FIFTH COLUMN TRYING TO ESTABLISH 'SUPER RACE'

"What we wish the people to understand is that we are up against a fifth column, a group of Muscovite agents working to penetrate the Dominion with Moscow Imperialism and to establish another 'Super Race' under the camouflage of the name Communism," John Hladun, converted ex-Communist, declared in speaking before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday. "There is really no Communism," asserted Mr. Hladun. "The Karl Marx theory of socialism is not at all compatible with the Russian system of state capitalism which is just another big business. The word communism is used merely to beguile the working classes to thinking that the Muscovite element, which is tightly in control, is working in the interests of the working people whereas actually the aim is to make a Muscovite 'master race' just as Hitler and his Nazis tried to do." Super agents of Moscow Imperialism had already penetrated, skilfully into the Labor movement in Canada and were now trying to infiltrate into the C.C.F. "I know their tricks, having been myself schooled in them, and I certainly am going to expose and fight them as long and as hard as I can," Hladun declared.

INDIFFERENCE SECRET OF SUCCESS

Lack of Interest by Union Members Aids Communists in Taking Over Labor Unions, Says Ex-Red

The insidious manner in which the so-called "Red" labor unions have been taken over by the Communist party by the simple method of filling executive positions was described to a public meeting here Wednesday afternoon by John Hladun, former Communist organizer and now a leading enemy of that party.

Speaking to an audience in the Civic Centre under sponsorship of the Women's Canadian Club, Mr. Hladun laid part of the blame for Communist successes within the labor movement on the indifference of the union membership toward its mena.

Mr. Hladun, who left the Communist Party in a spirit of disillusionment, told how his success in infiltrating the United Mine Workers' Union at Lethbridge in 1929 won him the coveted reward of studying at the Lenin International Institute in Moscow the following year.

It was his experience in the "beautiful state" of Russia that turned him against Marxism, causing him to leave the party and enter business for himself in Winnipeg.

"I joined the Communist Party 20 years ago—in a spirit of adventure. I was taken in by the beautiful picture of a state where equality of opportunity exists and which was painted as superior to anything that capitalism can offer," he declared.

"If this was all on the level, it would not be a bad thing, but it was different, as I found out. My experiences were the same as 95 per cent of those who join the party. I too, had a picture of a beautiful state and of helping my fellow man, but it was not that way at all."

"Communism is simply an effort by the Moscow empire to penetrate other countries with unprincipled use of their nationals as its agents."

The western world does not yet know how to effectively counteract this penetration, but it must learn how to do it quickly, Mr. Hladun declared. He termed it a "bad" penetration because it has "intergrated itself into the labor movement, of which, actually, it is not a part."

"It has infiltrated the labor movement because the labor movement was the only basis on which it could get to large masses of the Canadian people. Communists know how to use people's imaginations. They sell them this picture of a beautiful social order and thereby create fanatics. They know that they must "knock out" God and they replace him with this beautiful picture."

"Communists find a response not only among the workers but among the prosperous and wealthy classes as well."

Sent to Lethbridge in 1929 to "take over" the Miners' Union, Hladun and 23 other Communists found little difficulty.

"I never was a miner in my life. My instructions were to capture the executive committee and replace all the leaders with Communists. We banked heavily on the failure of union members to attend meetings so we 'packed' the meetings and eventually got control of the union."

HOW HE WAS DISILLUSIONED

As a result of this coup, Hladun and Harvey Murphy were chosen to attend the International Lenin Institute for training as "super" agents in political and military leadership. It was during this time, during a visit to his ancestral Ukraine that he found out the truth about Russia's "beautiful state."

"When a holiday, I visited a communal farm of Ukrainians who had farmed in Canada and who had gone back to the Ukraine. I talked to them and started to become disillusioned. They had become rabid anti-communists. I started to question Communism. I wanted to know whether or not it was Communism itself or the people who applied the principle that were responsible for its failure."

Among students at the Lenin University at the same time was a man named Klement Gottwald, who is now Communist premier of Czechoslovakia. "He found that in Russia the same condition existed as in the Communist-dominated labor unions. A small minority of Reds imposed their will on a large majority whose main interests were not political but were dedicated to 'bread and butter.'"

"They have not abolished inequality. Rank now is determined by party membership and party service. Those within the exclusive confines of the party have higher pay and privileges that are awarded at the expense of the masses."

Chairman of the meeting was Mrs. T. N. Youngs, president of the Women's Canadian Club. Mr. Hladun left on last night's train for Prince George and Edmonton where he will also deliver lectures.

MAKING CANDLES — Miss Leontina Eisewerth of Young, Sask., is the only candle-maker in western Canada. She operates a candle factory founded by Father L. H. Shirley, priest of her parish at Young. Fr. Shirley first started making candles in the rectory with the hope of relieving the parish debt. His hopes were not realized and Miss Eisewerth took over in 1946. She uses a former grain elevator engine room for the factory and a filtering plant designed by Fr. Shirley is in the basement of his church.

Smiles and Chuckles

"What are you waiting for?" whispered the wedding guest. "Bride's father's a plumber," replied the verger. "He forgot to bring her."

A man obviously in bad condition from the night before stepped up to a bar and sputtered through trembling lips, "Give-me something for a hangover."

"What do you want?" asked the bartender. "The sufferer could only blurt 'Tall—Cold—and full of gin.'"

"Sir," snapped a drunk standing next to him, "you are referring to the woman I love."

Two Negroes who had not seen each other in five years discovered each had been married during this time.

"What kinda woman did you-all get, Mose?" asked Rastus. "She's an angel, Rastus, dat's what she is."

"Boy, yo sho' is lucky. Mine's still livin'." Rastus muttered sorrowfully.

There's plenty of fun when you ski in the mts. And swimming is fun in the se. There's plenty of fun if you've plenty of mon, Wherever you happen to b.

Two workmen sat down to eat their lunch, and one began unwrapping a parcel about 18 or 20 inches long.

"What's that?" asked his friend. "Well, my wife is away, so I made a pie for myself."

"A bit long, isn't it?" "Of course it's long. It's rhubarb."

The preacher expounded on the evils of gambling and the old lady in the front pew nodded agreement and intoned "Amen!" He launched into a tirade against drinking and smoking and stealing, all the while she nodded and repeated, "Amen, Brother!"

Then he switched to gossiping. Her face reddened, her eyes blazed with anger, and she turned to her neighbor and whispered: "Now the old goat's stopped preaching and started to meddling."

Q. How can I launder a new colored cotton house dress for the first time, successfully?
A. Use one tablespoon of salt to each quart of water. Then in the rinse water use one tablespoon of vinegar to each quart of water. This treatment will keep the colors bright.

Q. What is a silence cloth?
A. A heavy cloth or padding which is placed underneath the tablecloth to deaden the sound of the dishes and to protect the table.

Q. How can I make corn meal mush taste better?
A. When making corn meal mush, add a bit of soda to the water at the same time the salt is added.

PAINTINGS TO BE FEATURE OF HOBBY EXHIBIT

A favorite northern artist, Miss Jean Faure, of Telkwa, plans to place an exhibit in the Prince Rupert art and hobby show which is to be held at the Civic Centre here April 28 to May 1. Miss Faure, who exhibited last year, has a number of new oils and black-and-white drawings of interior and local landscapes.

In addition, she plans to show a number of flower studies which will rival in interest her well-known landscapes. During the last year she has painted in oils careful studies of daffodils, tulips, lilacs, pansies, gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Swelling the artistic displays will be paintings by Miss C. Seaman, Miss Eastwood and Mrs. Simpon, all of Smithers.

Additional hobby entries are expected to result from a visit between April 12 and April 16 of Miss Jean Travis, of the University of British Columbia extension department, who will give a course in leathercraft. Classes will be held in the afternoons and evenings and will be open to the public. High School and adult hobbyists are expected to turn out a few additional articles for display as a result of this instruction.

Merchandise prizes to the value of $10 have been offered by Gordon's Hardware for boys' woodwork displays. Categories will be arranged so that all boys woodwork will be eligible for some prize.

Exhibitors are obtaining their entry forms at the Civic Centre desk. Latest entries are:

A grateful goodbye hug from hubby, sweet kisses from the children, off to school after a hearty breakfast. She smiles at the empty plates, happy in the knowledge that she has pleased and cared for her loved ones; smiles at the memory of the joy which greeted the steaming pancakes and the Crown Brand Corn Syrup on this morning's breakfast table.

You, too, can serve Crown Brand with complete confidence because Crown Brand Corn Syrup has been recommended and used for years, in the bottle feeding of infants and is a favourite with all ages because of its delicious and tempting flavour.

QUICK TREATS WITH BAKING POWDER—HOW LEAVEN CAME ABOUT IS TOLD

It is difficult to believe that the delicious biscuits, Sally-Lunns and breads, so greatly enjoyed, are descendants of the heavy slabs made from hand-ground grain and water and baked in the sun or near an open fire. These "breads" were made without a leavening agent. In the late seventeen-hundreds the first records of leavening in the form of "pearlash" are found. Saleratus, a crude form of our baking soda, was later used but it had some disadvantages. It gave a decided flavor of soda and the products were coarse-grained and streaked with yellow. The use of soda and cream of tartar was first recorded about 1885. These two leavening agents produced most satisfactory results if they were combined in the right proportion but results were often uncertain. When baking powders, with carefully measured and blended ingredients, appeared on the market it met with general approval of home-makers. One of the first uses of baking powder was in the making of batter breads. Baking powder breads are delicious to eat, fine to have on hand and, best of all, they are easily and quickly made. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, say that these rich tender breads deserve three stars as menu glamorizers.

Peanut Butter Bread

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
½ cup peanut butter
1½ cups milk
1 cup chopped dates

Sift first 4 ingredients together. Add peanut butter and mix in as for biscuits; add milk to make soft batter and beat thoroughly. Add dates. Put in greased loaf pan, smooth top and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., about 1 hour. This is best when day old.

Oatmeal Bread

1½ cups all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1¼ teaspoons salt
¼ cup brown sugar
1½ cups fine oatmeal
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon melted fat
Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add oatmeal and stir well. Add milk and melted fat and beat only until smooth. Pour immediately into a greased loaf pan, 8" x 4" x 3". Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for one hour or until done. After removing from the oven, brush the top of the loaf with melted fat. If loaf is to be cut in thin slices, let it cool in the pan.

Whole Wheat Orange Bread

2 orange skins
½ cup sugar
½ cup water
2 tablespoons melted fat
1 egg
1 cup milk
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
5 teaspoons baking powder
1¼ cups whole wheat flour
Put orange skins through a food chopper, add sugar and water. Cook 15 minutes. Add fat and allow to cool. Beat egg and add milk. Sift white flour with salt and baking powder, mix with whole wheat flour. Add half the dry ingredients to the egg and milk, then add orange and remaining dry ingredients, quickly, stirring only until mixed. Bake in a greased loaf pan 4½" x 10" in a slow oven, 325 degrees F., for about 45 minutes.

ANGLO-GERMAN LIBRARY

The Experts Say...

EGGS IN SEASON — Eggs, whether chocolate or colored, are a popular part of Easter season for the kiddies in the family.

In keeping with this egg-eating custom of Easter, home economists of the consumer section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, recommend serving eggs often during the festive season which is actually still on as the holiday continues.

Easter Eggs—Six hard-cooked eggs; two tablespoons chili sauce; salt and pepper to taste; tea biscuit dough (one recipe using two cups flour).

Cut eggs in half and remove the yolk. Mash yolks, add chili sauce and seasoning, and mix well. Refill egg white. Press the halves together to form whole eggs. Roll or pat out dough into rectangle about one-quarter to one-third-inch thick. Cut into six squares. Wrap each egg completely in dough, moistening the edges of squares and pressing them together to seal in the egg. Place on baking-sheet and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Serve hot with well-seasoned tomato sauce. If desired cheese or tomato tea biscuit dough may be used. Six servings.

NOT SO EASY TO COOK—Speaking of eggs, many housewives would be offended if asked whether they knew how to cook this all-round food. But easy as it may seem, do they know how to cook their eggs to bring out the proper flavor, tenderness, and attractiveness.

Boiling water may be used to start cooking eggs in the shell. The water, enough to cover the eggs, should be brought to the boiling point. To prevent cracking of shells, the eggs should be lowered into the water with a teaspoon.

Eggs cooked in the shell should never be boiled, as high temperatures toughen protein.

Broiled Eggs—Heat thin layer of fat moderately hot in a skillet, and then drop the eggs in gently from the cup into which they have been broken. The eggs are cooked about a minute, and then the skillet is placed under the broiler which has been preheated to a moderate temperature. Broil from two to four minutes, or until the desired firmness is reached.

Cream may be added before the eggs are placed under the broiler. A small amount of cream, less than a tablespoon for each egg, may be poured around the eggs after the outer edges are cooked and before the eggs are placed in the broiler.

Variations of broiled eggs are simple to prepare. Buttered bread crumbs or grated cheese, about one teaspoon of crumbs or cheese for each egg, may be sprinkled over the tops of the eggs before they are placed under the broiler. It is best to use a dish for broiling which also can be used at the table.

CANADA UP AGAINST FIFTH COLUMN

Sooner or later we will have to tell them where to stop. "I am not impressed with the Russian ability to fight," asserted Hladun. "They have not the industry to sustain war because it is on a faulty economic basis. Of course, we are not in much of a position to wage war ourselves.

"You cannot drive a bargain with these Russians either. Nor can you appease them for they will not reciprocate.

"Our business must be to clean out this fifth column and render it impotent.

"What we must do is stabilize the great middle class of people, assuring them that our way of life, while it may be abused, is still based on the best philosophy of life, that we are all shareholders in the business of our country and have our responsibilities to see that it is improved. There can never be that cherished privilege of freedom under dictatorship. We, as Canadians, must realize that, while our own system may not be perfect, we have at least something that has never been excelled.

"Our problem is simply to knock out the penetration of a foreign power which has nothing whatever to offer us and whose only aim is to append us for their own benefit.

"If we put our shoulders to the wheel and really meet the situation, Communism can be rendered no problem in Canada within six months," the speaker declared. "Nor should we make it a 'witch hunt' or a 'scalping affair.' What we should do is tell our own people what the Communists really are. If we are responsible and dignified Canadians we can surely handle our own affairs without having agents of a foreign imperialism to tell us what to do."

Hladun told of steps which were now being taken under government auspices, following the revelations of the espionage trials, which were just scratching the surface, to organize against the world-wide movement to undermine the present way of living. There had been some difficulty in ascertaining just where the labor movement ended and the fifth column began. It was well known, however, that the Communist party was at the service of Russia and its state police. Rather than outlaw the party, driving it underground and making martyrs of its members, it had been decided that the best way was to expose them. Once they were thoroughly exposed, there would be nothing to the party. One of the difficulties, however, was that the Communist party influence had now infiltrated to Canadian-born whereas first it had been among the foreign.

infiltration he was one of the active organizers, Mr. Hladun revealed. He spoke of the sensational articles of revelation which he had written for Maclean's Magazine, all statements in which were backed to the hilt with evidence. It was his present task to study reaction throughout the country and, on his return to Ottawa, he would meet with the government and Members of Parliament to discuss legislation. Canadian Clubs, service clubs, Canadian Legion and such organizations were actively co-operating.

Hladun spoke of Tim Buck and the poor showing he had made in the West, particularly at the University of British Columbia meeting in Vancouver. "I don't think you'll see Tim Buck back in the west," he declared.

Speaking of the actual weakness of Russian industry, Hladun declared that in Russia the government had said there was no lend-lease but that war goods from United States, Canada, etc., without which Russia could not have fought, had been made in Russia. Even today the Russian government admitted that conditions in Russia were not good but that they were worse in other countries of the world and the Russians had better be contented.

The rank and file of the Communists might have been captivated by Communist propaganda which appealed to laziness and

In Russia, it had just been a case of one class being abolished and another getting in. "Capitalists" may have been put out but "exploiters" had been put in, with the leaders getting the good things out of life today just as the leaders had done before.

ARE MARRIED IN TERRACE CHURCH

Miss Edna Robson Bride of Howard Fisher at Beautiful Ceremony

TERRACE—At a marriage ceremony, beautiful in its simplicity, Edna Robson became the bride of Howard William (Bud) Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher of Terrace, on the evening of Good Friday.

Playing the bridal music was Mrs. Barr and to the strains of the "Wedding March" from Loheeren, the bride, charming in a queen's blue tulle, pink sheer blouse, hand made, halo style chapeau of bridal pink and a corsage of red rosebuds, entered the church on the arm of Art Kennedy.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher where Mrs. Fisher, in a green printed silk dress, grey, black-trimmed hat and corsage of red rosebuds, received the guests.

The happy couple stood under a large white bell to receive the good wishes of the many guests gathered there.

Rev. J. A. McAllister proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom suitably responded.

Seated at a table decorated with streamers, tall tapers and carnations, Mrs. A. Kennedy and Mrs. Dudley Little poured tea for the guests.

The lovely wedding gifts were on display in the sun porch. The newlyweds left on the evening's train for a honeymoon in the south.

HOOP VISITORS LOSE— Bo-Me-Hi Defeats Vancouver Visitors In Series Opener

Locals Prove Too Much For Cream of Southern City's Basketball Talent

Coach Alex Bill's Booth Memorial High School hoop squad last night took a 40-36 victory from visiting Magee High School, cream of Vancouver high school teams, in a game that probably would have been an even clearer-cut northern victory had not the locals lost two of their strongest players in the fourth quarter through fouls.

The encounter was the first of a two-game series, second game of which will be played tonight at the Civic Centre.

Obviously failing to meet the type of competition they expected and to which they have been used to in the city league, Bo-Me-Hi took an 11-5 lead at the end of the first quarter, a lead that they had little trouble maintaining throughout the game.

Both teams set a terrific pace that continued until the final whistle and both sides played relatively clean ball although Magee players showed plainly that they are used to a less stringent type of refereeing than is normal in northern hoop circles.

By half-time, Bo-Me-Hi had expanded its advantage to 12 points, being on top of the 25-13 score. The visitors rallied briskly in the third quarter to narrow the score to 32-27 but failed to overcome the deficit in the fourth quarter.

Despite the fact that Flaten and Lavigne went to the bench within five minutes of the start of the final quarter, Bo-Me-Hi was able to maintain its lead until the final whistle.

Art Olsen, Bo-Me-Hi guard, put on an outstanding performance, grabbing rebounds from both backboards, a trick that gave his team the advantage time after time.

Mills and Loutit played outstandingly for Magee, both mak-

JUVENILES IN OPENING PLAY

Provided Curtain Raisers in Basketball Last Night

Juvenile and junior hoop teams clashed in two post-season exhibition games which preceded the inter-city high school classic in the Civic Centre gym last night. In the juvenile opener, the "Yellows" defeated the "Blues" by a score of 10-8 while the junior exhibition saw Merchants defeat Morgans 23-21.

In the junior game, Merchants took a slight initial lead ing effective use of their superior height.

Magee scored 12 field baskets and 12 free throws out of 35 shots while Bo-Me-Hi scored 15 field goals and 10 free shots out of 27 throws.

Hudson of Magee scored 11 points while Lavigne and Scherk scored 8 each for Bo-Me-Hi. Magee lost Mills, their centre, in the fourth quarter when he was sent to the bench with five personal fouls.

The scoring: Magee—Hudson 11, Deahlmiers 2, Loutit 3, Southcott, Mills 6, Gutteridge 7, Marshall, Ostrosler 5, Mair 2.

Bo-Me-Hi—Lavigne 8, Shier 4, Flaten 6, Olson 7, Davidson 3, Scherk 8, Carlson, Thompson 4, Spring Boulter.

Game officials were Johnny Comadina and Fred Calderone, referees; Nick Pavlikis, timekeeper; Oliver Santurbane, scorekeeper.

which they managed to maintain but not expand throughout the ensuing four periods. Scherk of Merchants was the hottest marksman on the floor, sinking 18 of his team's 23 points, a scoring record that probably is as good as anything in the Junior League this season.

Ending the first quarter with a 2-0 lead, the Merchants arrived at half time with an 8-4 advantage. Third quarter score was 16-12 in favor of the Merchants.

In the juvenile game, Helin and Letourneau of the Yellows each scored five points, while for the Blues, McKay and Ciccone marked up four each.

Both teams had a scoreless period, the Blues the second quarter and the Yellows the third. While Blues failed to score in the second, the Yellows were marking up an additional three points, bringing the half-time score to 6-2 in their favor. A basket by McKay in the third quarter brought the score to 6-4 in favor of the Yellows.

The scoring:

Juvenile Game
Merchants—Scherk 18, Moore, Sunberg, Owens, Haugan 2, Hebb, Currie 2, Mercer 1.
Morgans—Hill 4, Eldsvik 2, Webster 8, Lien 3, Watson 4, Jones, Scharff, Johnson.

Juvenile Game
Yellows—Helin 5, Smith, Blackaby, Atkins, Letourneau 5, Lesieur, Blackaby, Davidson.
Blues—McKay 4, Parnell, Ciccone 4, Kristmanson, Penoff, Cameron, Becker, Findlay.

SHORT SPORT

With bonspiels all over the country breaking entry records, curling has been enjoying a popularity that has never been exceeded, but it is hard to imagine modern curlers having enough enthusiasm for the "roarin' game" that they would use wooden curling rocks or curl by the light of a stable lantern. Yet that is just what was done back in 1907 in the small Saskatchewan town of Saltcoats. At the official opening of the Yorkton, Sask., bonspiel recently, Alderman Art McBurney heaved a five-pound, 41-year-old wooden rock down the ice and lost a nickel bet for failing to make the button.

Frank Garstone, who brought the wooden rock from Saltcoats to Yorkton, related that it was washed up on the nearby lakeshore last spring and that it was one of 16 made in 1907 when the Saltcoats rock tossers hurried on the lake by the light of stable lanterns. Garstone says that the rock was made with a draw-knife and rasp by Jim Kerr, the village blacksmith. Kerr and two brother Scots made an after-dark raid on timber which the railway was using for bridge pilings. The wooden rock was originally faced with a thin plate and to give it a keen surface was polished with stove lead.

The story goes that in 1907 the Saltcoats curlers, after many practice with their wooden rocks, attended the Northwest Territories bonspiel at Yorkton and won a final 18-end game to take home the winning prize. They used borrowed granites or the occasion.

BASKETBALL CHATTER

If ever Alan Hurst or Alex Bill had reason to be proud and happy they did last night when the final whistle had gone and they found their charges, our Rainmakers, victors over the High School champions of all of British Columbia. It was strictly basketball and sportsmanship which the local boys displayed all evening and that statement may be made admitting at the same time that Magee were on the short end of the stick. Rainmakers were called some 35 times to the visitors 27 but they took those calls. They presented no alibis and when they lost Lavigne and Flaten with five apiece they knew they had it coming to them. On the other hand, some of the aggressive tactics of the visitors were at least a subject of discussion.

Let's hope tonight's game will leave us with a real good impression of High School basketball in the south. To claim a victory for the Rainmakers in this game is to point series at this stage calls for nothing but optimism. Two teams were never more evenly matched and, if anything, it will likely be the breaks that will decide the issue.

POPULAR MELODY NOT MAORI SONG

New Hit Tune Thought to Have Been Written in Australia 35 Years Ago

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP)—Although the popular song "Now is the Hour" now sweeping North America as it has done in many other countries is generally supposed to be a Maori folk-song, it is that by adoption only.

Its origin is disputed but it is generally thought to have been written in Australia about 35 years ago by a Clement Scott, under the title "Swiss Cradle Song."

The song came to New Zealand before the First World War and immediately became popular with the Maoris. Under the name "Haere Ba" ("Farewell") it has been sung by Maori concert parties ever since. It was taken up by the Maori prophet Ratana who instructed that it should be sung as the closing hymn at all services of the Ratana religious sect which still flourishes.

During the Second World War the song swept into popularity in Egypt, Italy and most other countries where New Zealand forces served. As sung by the famous Maori battalion it had a quality which instantly appealed. The Maoris altered the original "Swiss Cradle Song" slightly to conform with their rhythms and music and they gave it a haunting quality which seems to have found a universal appeal. It proved one of the songs of the year in Italy in 1945.

When Gracie Fields, noted English comedienne, visited New Zealand early in 1946 she heard the song at a Maori welcome in Rotorua. She was captivated by the lilting melody and the driver of the government car in which she travelled in New Zealand, Nat Mounsey, taught it to her as they travelled along New Zealand roads.

Gracie Fields sang "Now is the Hour" on a BBC program in England after her return from New Zealand and the instant acclaim it received led to it spreading in an even wider wave of popularity.

Veteran's Body Is Returned to Juneau

JUNEAU—The body of Leroy Vestal, who was killed in action in February, 1944, was returned to Juneau for re-interment. It arrived in this city recently and is the first case of the kind.

Corporal Vestal was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Day of Juneau.

The 21-year old man enlisted in the Army Engineers, proceeding to Kiska and Attu and later to Kwajelin Island.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. What is the correct way for a man to lift a soft hat when speaking to a woman?

A. The hat should be lifted by the crown, not the brim. And above all, the hat should be lifted slightly, not merely a touch of the brim.

Q. When you answer the telephone and someone asks for you, what should be your reply?

A. "This is she speaking," or, "This is Frances Brown."

Q. Is it permissible to send a typewritten invitation?

A. No.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

A huge migration of seals has about reached its peak off the coast of British Columbia. The herds, it is said, number about three million and are bound for the Pribilof Islands. The Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association at Prince Rupert handled more than fourteen million pounds of fish last year. K. F. Harding, general manager, told the Journal of Commerce, in a recent interview. This was more than the combined outputs of two other B.C. co-operatives — the United Fishermen's Co-operative at Vancouver, and the Kyoquot Co-operative at Victoria. Of the three organizations, total production was 26,000,000. Details of Co-op production were published in the Daily News some time ago.

READING, England (AP)—Reading University will establish a large centre for poultry - husbandry research and instruction.

is a bit of a jungle with far too much shade about the house and spindly growth that is liable to fall a prey to heavy storms. With annual flowers and vegetables, proper development is impossible, the vegetables are liable to be stringy and tough, the flowers bunched so closely together that they will not bloom properly.

Generally speaking all plants require at least half as much space between them as they are high at maturity. With big trees this means 20 to 40 feet, with carrots it means only about 2 inches, with corn or staked tomatoes 18 inches. On the seed packet will be given the proper spacing.

With bigger seed like beans, peas, etc., spacing will be easy, but it is much more difficult with the fine seeds of carrot, lettuce or alyssum. Such things can be spread more evenly by mixing with a little dry sand and sowing the mixture. In any case, no matter how carefully we sow some later thinning as the plants develop, will be advisable.

Proper depth in planting is also important. The rule here is about three times the diameter of the seed. With tiny seeds like poppies, alyssum or turnips this means merely pressing the seeds in the soil, with big things like gladioli, bulbs, potatoes and dahlias it means from 4 to 8 inches, with beets, beans, etc., about an inch or cover.

FIRST JOBS

While the frost is in the ground, of course, gardening will be largely confined to planning, but there are some outdoor jobs that can be started almost any time. One of the first will be lawn repairs or the starting of new ones. Grass seed makes its best growth in cool weather, in fact it must be sown just as soon as the soil can be worked. Sweet peas also must go in early for best results. They need to develop their deep growth before the soil gets warm. If hot-bed is attempted one should get a government bulletin on how to build it.
