JUNEAU LUMBER DUE AT 6 P.M.

Tug and barge outfit of the States Steamship Co., bringing an inaugural shipment of upwards of 500,000 feet of spruce lumber from Juneau for transfer to Canadian National Railways and delivery to Eastern States, is due in port about 6 o'clock tonight.

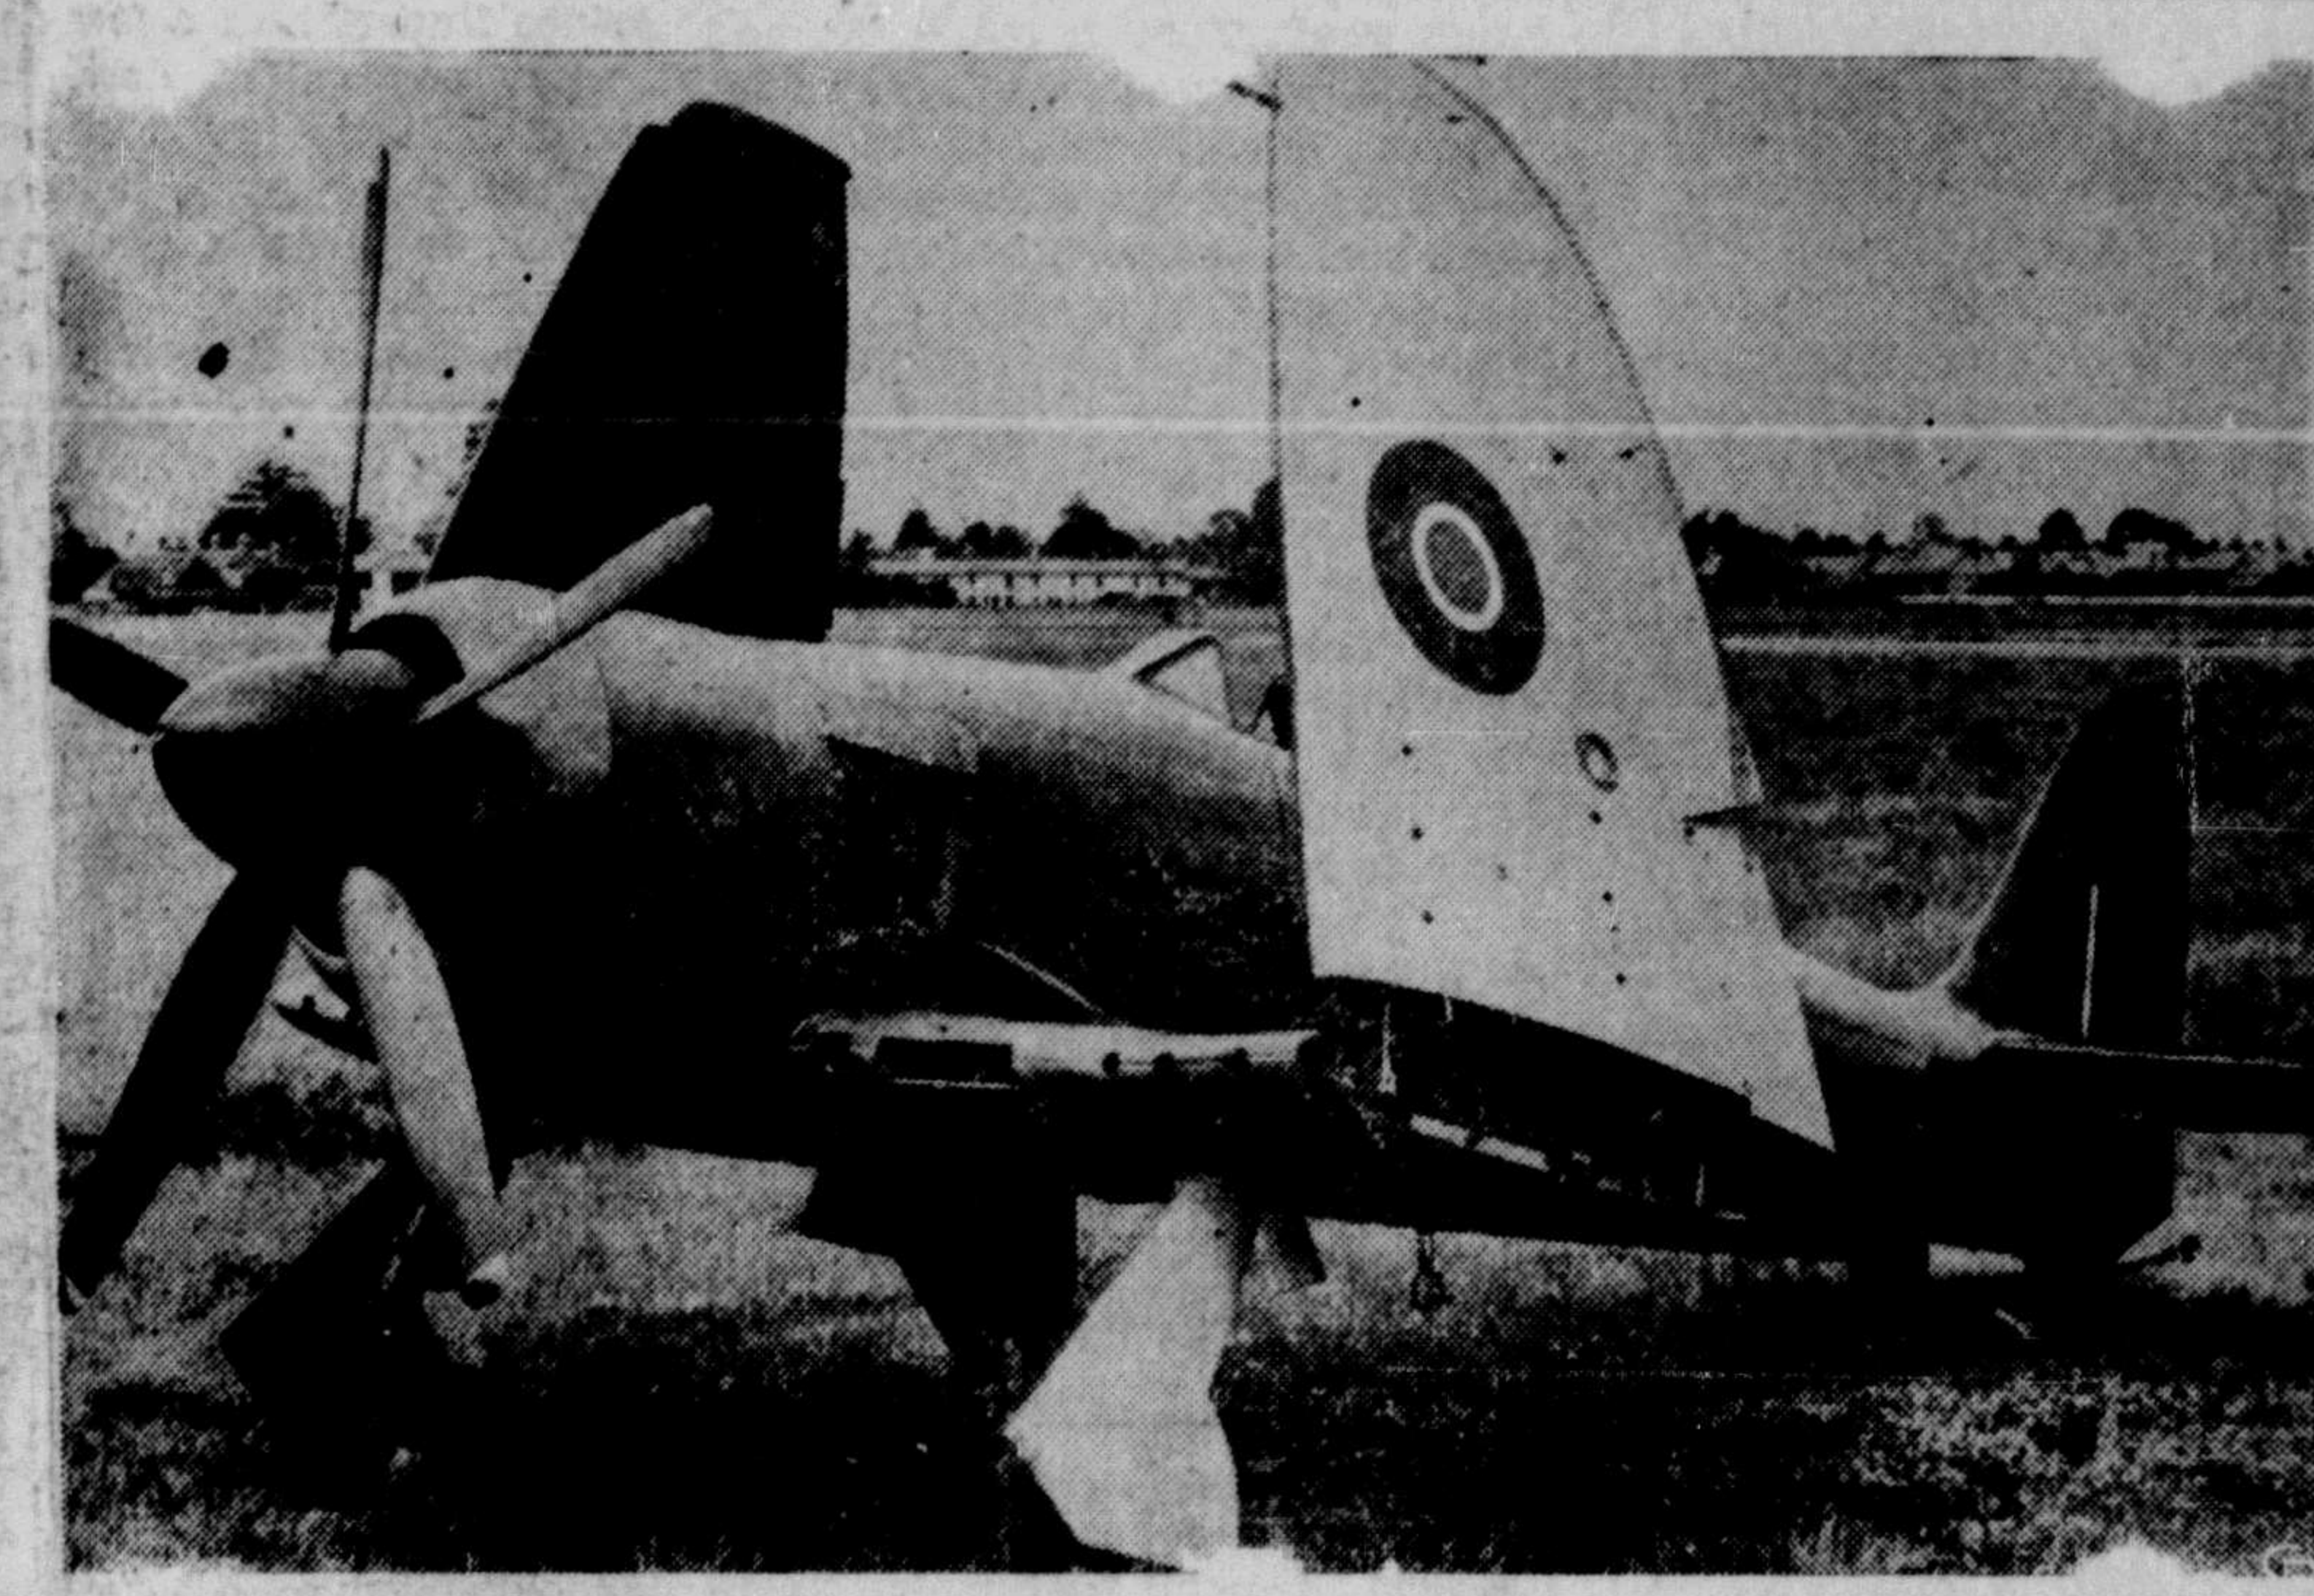

The lumber will be loaded at the local dry dock, where special arrangements have been made to receive it and will later be transferred to railway cars.

It is planned to send some three million feet a month this way.

Sentences On News Men Are Illegal

NEWBURGH, N.Y.—Jail sentences and fines imposed on two newspapermen here for refusing to disclose sources of information have been revealed illegal in a State Supreme Court order.

IS KILLED IN RING
WOLVERHAMPTON, Eng.—Mickey Markey, aged 17, who was knocked out in a boxing match last night, died today without regaining consciousness. He was floored in the sixth round of a featherweight championship bout with Him Stimpson. It was Markey's second professional fight.

CANADA'S NEW AIRCRAFT CARRIER FEATURES SNG STOWAGE—One of the striking features of the Hawker Sea Fury, the single-seater fighter with which Canada's new aircraft carrier, H.M.C.S. "Magnificent" will be equipped, is its capacity for snug stowage in the hangars. Capable of a top speed of 460 miles an hour its folding wings make it possible for it to fit into an 18-foot space when it "goes below." Wingspan in flight is 38½ feet. "Magnificent" will move to Canadian waters next summer.

Sales Tax Approved

Four Efforts to Hoist Contentious Impost Fail
VICTORIA, B.C.—Second reading by 30 to 14 division was given the sales tax bill in the House last night after 18 members had spoken on the measure in afternoon and night sessions.

Four divisions were called as the C.C.F. opposition fought the controversial bill. Four or five coalitionists bolted from the government side each time.

First motion for a six months' hoist was made by W. A. Bennett (Coalition - South Okanagan) who claimed that the government had no mandate from the people for such legislation.

Three other hoist motions came from Mrs. Tilly Rolston (Coalition, Vancouver - Point Grey); E. E. Winch (C.C.F., Burnaby); and Herbert Gargrave (C.C.F.-Mackenzie).

MINERS STILL HOLDING OFF

PITTSBURG, Pa.—Two thousand miners failed to report for work yesterday at three H. C. Frick western Pennsylvania mines, including Robena, the world's largest soft coal mine, despite settlement of a pension dispute which precipitated the nation-wide walk-out a month ago.

Here and there other locals of the United Mine Workers of America indicated they would wait and see what happens to their leader John L. Lewis, under a federal court contempt citation which was scheduled for hearing today.

RUSSIA REJECTS TRIESTE DEAL

MOSCOW—In separate notes delivered simultaneously to the United States, Great Britain and France, Russia yesterday rejected as "unacceptable" the proposal of the western powers for a conference to consider the proposal to return Trieste to Italy. Such action would violate the "elementary principles of democracy," Russian declares, as well as violating treaty terms. Moscow radio announced the rejection.

Government To Weather Storm

Freight Rate Issue Expected To be Surmounted by Narrow Margin at Ottawa
OTTAWA, B.C.—The federal government appeared Tuesday night to have weathered the crisis over the crucial freight rate issue and mustered sufficient strength from dissidents in its own ranks to stave off opposition non-confidence votes.

While the question failed to get a vote in the House of Commons as a lengthening list of speakers blocked a showdown, two Liberal members, who might conceivably oppose freight rate increases and upset the government's balance of power, indicated their support. James Sinclair (Vancouver North) and R. H. Winters (Queens-Lunenburg) said they would oppose non-confidence motions.

FLEET DIVISION MAY BE PUT ASIDE

Halibut Fishermen and Boat Owners at Prince Rupert Favor Dividing the Fleet into Two Sections for the Initial Trip to the Area Two grounds when the season opens on May 1 but refusal of fishermen at some other coast ports may force them to drop the 15-year-old custom this year.

In order to avoid congestion at the fish docks during the first week or two of the season, it has been customary for the fleet to divide in two sections, one leaving for the grounds three or four days prior to the opening of the season and the other leaving on the opening day.

This custom, however, is threatened this season by the apparent refusal of certain groups to abide by it, inspired apparently by the fear that they might lose a trip because of the shortness of the season.

A meeting of the Prince Rupert Deep Sea Fishermen's Union last night favored the divided fleet system but will pursue a cautious "wait and see" policy before committing itself to it.

George Anderson union business agent, told the meeting that he had been advised by the Seattle union Tuesday that a state of "confusion" exists with boat owners opposing division and fishermen favoring it in some ports and both opposing it in others.

In Vancouver, boat owners favor going out all together while the fishermen favor dividing the fleet. Seattle fishermen and boat owners both favor division. Ketchikan, also, is in favor of division while Petersburg is opposed to it.

It is expected that the various groups do get together on the division plan. Prince Rupert A-to-L name group will lead the fleet to the grounds. The M-to-Z group will follow. The two groups alternate yearly in going out first since the division plan was first put into effect in 1934.

Fishermen here expressed apprehension over halibut prices because for the first time since before the war there has been a carry-over of the previous year's halibut. Cold storage plants have considerable quantities of last year's halibut, mainly chicken. This, they fear may depress the fish prices in what is expected to be the shortest Area Two season in the history of the Pacific halibut fishery.

W. H. Pierce, Pioneer Missionary, Called by Death

William Henry Pierce, whose career as a missionary to British Columbia's Indians began in 1837 and who saw its natives stride upward in the century of civilization from savagery during more than a century of missionary labor, died in hospital last night. He was 91 years old.

PASSES AWAY—Rev. W. H. Pierce, veteran missionary of coast, dies.

he was assigned to the steamer Otter. He was to have an hour's lesson a day to keep up his schooling.

For two-and-a-half years he served on the Otter, plying between Victoria and Sitka, then, through the aid of a friend, William Broacher, he learned to read the Bible and, while in Victoria, attended school under Rev. Thomas Crosby pioneer Methodist missionary.

He became interpreter for Mr. Crosby and later attended school at Nanaimo. Later he became a probationer for the ministry and on May 15, 1837 was ordained into the ministry of the Methodist Church.

His first mission was at his old home at Port Simpson where he went as assistant and interpreter for another missionary and later for Rev. Mr. Crosby. Then he was sent to be booming town of Port Essington as a full-fledged missionary.

At his retirement, 50 years later, he was again pastor of the Port Essington church but in the years between he had served Bella Coola, Wrangell, Alaska, Naas River villages, Kitsekukla and Kisplox on the upper Skeena River.

Off Port Simpson one day in 1828 he pointed to land and said to a friend: "Do you see that beach? Right there I saw Indian warriors in a cannibal feast. They had won a great battle and celebrated by eating human flesh."

Mr. Pierce's life was dedicated to enlightening those Indians and bringing them the ways of Christianity and civilization.

A gifted story teller he could recall many fascinating tales of the early days, many of which went into his book. When he first began his travels as a small boy, the only means of transportation was the canoe. When men desired to make a trip to Victoria, as many as 40 canoes would join forces for protection, Mr. Pierce's uncle being the leader.

On August 30, 1890, while serving at Kisplox, he married Miss Maggie Hargrave a charming English girl who was teaching school there. The union was a happy one which lasted until last year when Mrs. Pierce passed away.

When, in 1932, he applied for superannuation from the United Church of Canada, which he followed in 1924 after the Methodist Presbyterian and Congregationalist churches were merged, he was paid this fine tribute, along with a pension: "Not only has Mr. Pierce made a great contribution to the work among the native tribes but as a member of Presbytery and Conference his keen intuition has on many occasions stirred audiences and given leadership in discussion of important issues.

His only son was accidentally killed while doing construction work on the Falls River power dam in 1928.

Public Cold Storage Here

After some delays, construction of Hector Cobb's Rupert Freezing Co. public cold storage locker, sharp freezing plant and retail meat and fish store on the north side of Second Avenue between First and Second Streets is now under way. A $14,500 building permit has been taken out and it will be a two-storey structure 50 by 50 feet of frame construction set on concrete piers. It is to be ready for occupancy and use by the coming summer.

Principal feature of the establishment will be 500 lockers of from 8 to 12 cubic feet capacity. In addition there will be the retail meat and fish store, an office and apartment on the street level which will be the second floor.

There will be four condensing units, two for the lockers which will maintain zero temperature, one for the sharp freezer at 10 below and a fourth for the walk-in cooler, 34 above.

DIFFERENCE ON BILL OF RIGHTS

OTTAWA, B.C.—John Diefenbaker, Progressive-Conservative, Lake Centre, renewed a plea in Parliament for a bill of rights and urged other steps for the safeguarding of Canadian freedoms.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said that rights of individuals should be uniform across Canada.

Rev. E. G. Hansell, Social Credit, Macleod, claimed that little had been heard of bill of rights legislation "until the freedoms of communists appeared to be in jeopardy."

STASSEN WINS IN NEBRASKA

OMAHA, Nebraska, B.C.—Harold E. Stassen lifted himself into top rank for Republican presidential candidates today with a sweeping victory in Nebraska's primary election. The victory is certain to give him support of the state's 15 delegates on the first nominating ballot at the Philadelphia convention.

Incomplete count shows that Stassen with 41,097 votes; Thomas E. Dewey, 29,640; Senator Robert A. Taft, 19,474, with Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Governor Earl Warren of California and House Speaker Joseph Martin far behind.

The hopes of General Douglas MacArthur's supporters are all but snuffed.

With Stassen having won the Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries, interest will next centre on the Oregon primary.

Daily Train Ditched

PRINCE RUPERT'S daily train service, which, long before any press announcements on the matter were made, we heard had been recommended, has been ditched somewhere along the line and yesterday we reluctantly carried an official statement that we are not to have it after all. Of course, this is something that the people of Prince Rupert and district are not going to be very happy about.

We had also heard that officials of the western jurisdiction of the railway were heartily in favor of the improved service and had been confident that it was going through. However, it was turned down somewhere for the reason that the revenue would not justify it.

Possibly, even the railway company itself is not all to blame, since it seems to be so rigidly governed by a set policy, on some occasions at least, of making dollars and cents. National development or spending money to make money does not seem to enter much into the picture now. Gone in Montreal and Ottawa is the spirit in which this railroad was conceived. Instead we seem to have a rigid policy of dollar in sight for dollar spent. It is a policy which, if pursued to its logical conclusion, could conceivably lead to further curtailments not only of this but other services.

Alas and a lack that Lauriers, Hays's and Thorntons, are out of style, that national vision and broad development ideas have given away to actuarial bureaucracies with their rigid economies which are so easy to apply when the spirit moves and the resistance is weak.

OF CONCERN TO HEALTHY BOYS

SIR LYMAN DUFF, who was the commissioner reporting on the Hong Kong inquiry, said that military officials responsible for getting vehicles and other equipment to Vancouver in time for shipment with the troops, were "somewhat lacking in energy." An interesting example of restraint in language.

Likely most people in Canada are willing to forget the whole sorry business. It may be questioned if there is any political dividend to those who enjoy seeing Mr. King squirm. The men who were lost cannot be brought to life. The men who came back from prison are trying not to remember.

The most important phase of the affair should be non-political. It is feared by many that another war is coming. What is the condition of the department of defence? Are the four high officers who still argue as to their respective duties on the job yet? If so, have they learned something of military planning? Have they the energy to see that sound plans are carried out promptly? Or are they still "somewhat lacking in energy?" Are they still of the type described by Stephen Leacock—ones who in the event of war would mount their decks and gallop off in all directions at once?

On the proper answers to these questions may depend the survival of healthy Canadian boys now of the age of 15, or 10, or 5 or 1.

SLEEP WELL

SLEEP OF THE RIGHT KIND is one of the most important essentials to health. This is the time Nature chooses for the re-creation of strength and energy, and the restoration of the body, brain and nerves. Deep, peaceful sleep brings fitness for the duties and tasks of the following day; it starts you off on the right feet every morning and keeps you in step with the activities of the day. So work well by day and sleep well at night.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.I.

Dodge Cove, over on the shores of Digby Island, reminds one, from the harbor, of how Prince Rupert looked about four decades ago. About the only difference is that not a soul, in Dodge Cove has the nerve to ask $20,000 for a two-by-four, muskeg-carpeted lot.

Harry Price, probably the world's chief authority on psychic research, died in London last week. Though many do, he did not deny the existence of a future state. Yes, there are scoffers—but there are few who will spend the night, alone, in a house believed haunted, and not be in a highly jittery state. One may try to read a novel but one thinks of something else.

Prince Rupert is to have signs regulating motor vehicle traffic. This will be all right if some of those who go driving succeed in slowing up sufficiently to be able to read them as they pass.

Charles M. Hays possessed a lot of self-control. He would have needed all of it had he been told in 1909, although trains had been running out of Prince Rupert since 1914, they had not yet got around to a daily service in 1948.

Jim Cornwall, who spent a stormy Sunday afternoon in Prince Rupert years ago and remarked no one would err in tying up with the new port lives in Victoria but many have a suspicion his heart is in the far north. He roamed the Klondyke ahead of the strike and was familiar with Peace River before farmers took a fancy, in that direction. Cornwall has gone back. He was in Whitehorse a few weeks ago. And now, he's somewhere in Arctic regions—perhaps till deep summer.

Prince Rupert had a few days of what was called dust, last week. But did it breeze around in the pantry, or try to go to bed with you, or throw a gritty veil over the butter, or get in your hair and eyes, or blow day and night, for weeks, or howl instead of sighing, or sing jazz instead of Chopin? If it did all this, or more you must have dwelt on the lone prairie.

CRUDE BUT EFFECTIVE PIETERMARITZBURG. South Africa. —Police, suspicious of a wounded native's story that someone had shot him, searched his house and found a home-made .22 pistol. The gun was made from a piece of copper pipe, various pieces of metal and a thick elastic. It apparently worked.

PENALIZING STUDENTS?

Editor, Daily News:
When the prices went up at local theatre, adults paid 2c more and High School students bore a boost of 6c. This is a considerable item considering most of the students are trying to earn their own spending money and certainly don't have a chance to earn much in a few hours after school.

Considering all the extra money the theatre has made in the past from our students one would think they could afford to put on the current play at the regular prices in the special matinee they put on for the High School students.
This is not only my idea but of everyone I have heard speaking of this. They usually add that the quality of the shows in general is very poor in comparison with the service we have always had in the past so the public opinion seems to be that we are not getting satisfaction for our money.

Editor, Daily News:
May I correct a statement attributed to me which appeared in your issue of April 12.

The reported statement was: "However the Bank of Canada has withdrawn its support from provincial bonds causing them to drop to 94 per cent of their par value."

This should have been: "However the Bank of Canada has withdrawn its support of quotations on Dominion of Canada bonds (not provincial bonds) and this was one factor which contributed to the drop in value of provincial bonds."
Another reason was also given.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

For the information of our advertisers, A.B.C. auditors make a complete, annual audit of our circulation

Audited Distribution for your Advertising

GOOD advertising copy and attractive layouts are, of course, essential to the success of your advertising. But from the standpoint of final results the answer depends upon the distribution of your advertising.

When you buy newspaper advertising you are paying for an opportunity to talk to people about your merchandise and service. What you get for your money, therefore, depends upon how many people there are in your audience, where they are, and how this audience was obtained, and many other facts that indicate the value of the circulation as a market for what you have to sell.

In order that our advertisers may have this information and thus be able to invest in advertising in The Daily News on the basis of known, verified facts, we are members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

The Bureau is a national, co-operative association of publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Every year one of the trained auditors employed by the Bureau makes an audit of our circulation records. This audited information is issued in official A.B.C. reports covering each member publication. You avoid guesswork and speculation when you advertise in an A.B.C. newspaper.

PHILADELPHIA — Chemical dyes may prove a powerful weapon in the war against cancer. A doctor risked his life to be of service in an experiment. It had no ill effect, although the gallant doctor turned a handsome shade of blue.

Modern Etiquette

When it is necessary for you to blow his nose in public should he apologize? But try to make the noise as quiet and inconspicuous as possible. Do not imitate.
When calling upon an acquaintance, and some servant opens the door for you, is it necessary to say "Thank you?"
It is not exactly necessary to say "thanks" but it is a faux pas to say "you" for any courtesy.
Should you write letters to announce the birth of a child?
It is usually done by the parents.

Museum Members To Be Admitted Without Charge

Persons taking out membership in the Prince Rupert Museum Board will be entitled to free admission to the Museum of Northern British Columbia, the board executive decided at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. In the past, membership card holders have been charged ordinary admission fees when visiting the building.
The move is designed to stimulate popular interest in the museum and to increase the lagging membership list.
Renovation of the upper floor of the building has been completed with the exception of decorating, which is to be carried out by Junior Chamber of Commerce volunteer workers on Sunday. The board plans to have the walls of the upper room done in pastel green. The lower walls are light blue.
Arrangements for the erection of the two large totem poles at the front of the building are being completed and the job should be under way within a few days.

IS BETTER HERE THAN VANCOUVER

Observation of Local Business Man After Brief Trip South

Prince Rupert business people may be thinking that it is a bit dull just now but one should go to Vancouver to find real quiet and uncertainty, says Jack McRae who returned to the city by yesterday's plane from a brief trip south. Some small stores are closing up altogether, although there are reports of big expansion plans by the large departmental stores.
Mr. McRae paid a brief visit at Duncan with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McRae, who now reside in the Vancouver Island town but are planning to come here about the middle of May for a month's visitation.
In Victoria Mr. McRae, who is president of the Prince Rupert Liberal Association, met the minister of lands and member for Skeena, Hon. E. T. Kenney, who expects to be here soon after the session closes. Mr. Kenney will also visit his constituency. Dr. Jack McDougall, new Liberal organizer for British Columbia, is taking over his office in Vancouver and expects to also visit Prince Rupert and this part of the province before long.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

LAWN IS CENTREPIECE

All informal garden layouts, and the formal type is almost invariably the best, are built around a piece of lawn. Even in the very tiny city gardens, this makes the most effective treatment, the level stretch of green grass setting off the flowers, shrubs, vines and trees which surround it.

If at all possible one should avoid straight lines in these surrounding beds of shrubbery and flowers though rigid fence lines and driveways sometimes make this difficult. Experts advise, however, a curving front to the flower beds rather than a straight one, and both flowers in this and any shrubbery should be planted in clumps rather than in rows. Generally small flowers and smaller shrubbery are brought to the front, though there should be a little variation in this rule just for variety.

SCREENS—

At the back of the flower beds, along the fences or in place of fences one can use growing screens. These may be in the form of permanent hedges, shrubs, vines or high-growing annuals. Even a fence or wall in good condition will look more attractive if partially hidden in this way, and as for the more common type which is not so attractive it can be completely screened by annual or perennial vines. There is all sort of planning material available for this purpose and found listed in any good catalogue. The perennial types are well known. Many people do not realize that one can get quite good and quick results from annuals too. Dahlias, ornamental sun flowers, cosmos, spider plants are only some of many things that will reach three or four feet in height in a few weeks. And there are quick-growing vines too, like scarlet runner beans, sweet peas, hops and morning glories.

GROW FAST FOR TENDERNESS—

The only secret of tender vegetables is quick unchecked growth. This means planting at the proper time, not too early with tender things that frost or cold weather may check, and they must be harvested when just right. One is advised to push growth along with plenty of cultivation, some fertilizer, and watering when necessary and if possible. It is also a good plan to spread sowing out over at least several weeks so that young stuff is coming along continuously. Another is to plant several different types—an early maturing sort, a medium and a late.

PATHS AND DRIVEWAYS—

Even where paths are not absolutely necessary they will add interest to any garden. But they should not be too obvious, and if one wants a curve or two in them then there should be some excuse for that curve, such as a tree or group of shrubbery. What the path will be made of will depend upon how much traffic and what materials are available. Good firm sod will take some wear and if dry will carry an occasional car. For more permanent results and heavier traffic, flag stones, bricks, crushed cinders or well packed gravel are all suitable. Where these act as driveways as well and carry heavy traffic, some foundation and drainage is advisable. Coarse gravel or cinders will do very well.

To keep down dust and weeds in driveways there are many good weed killers on the market. Common salt is also used for this purpose and it has the additional advantage of binding the gravel or cinder and discouraging frost.

CAPTURE MOUNTAIN LION IN SASKATCHEWAN—Robert Tyre, Sask., newspaperman, is shown here with the frozen carcass of the 150-pound cougar, or mountain lion, which was recently caught in northern Saskatchewan. Mountain lions are known to have existed in the Cypress Hills area of Saskatchewan at one time, but they have been extinct in the province for the past 35 or 40 years, it was learned. The cougar is to be mounted for display in the Regina museum at a later date.

Among those kind friends, whom Mr. Olsen would thank if he were able, were Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Hanson and son, Carlo, Mrs. T. Lavigne and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nosum and son, Mr. and Mrs. Arsenault and family, Mr. and Mrs. Odell, Evan Neilson and nephew, Robert Jamieson, Mr. and Mrs. Atkins and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. Evens, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. Halverson and children.

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

April 14, 1923
Laird's Minister T. D. Pattullo, in a speech before the Rotary Club, charged that the federal government was responsible for Prince Rupert's development through its ownership of the railway. "If the railway were in the hands of a private company, it would be fighting for business and would go out and make business."

First class passenger fares between Prince Rupert and Vancouver were reduced from $26 to $24, it was announced by the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific steamship companies. Fares to Ocean Falls were reduced $1 to $12.75.

E. C. Gibbons, S. J. McLeod, C. H. Orme and Hon. T. D. Pattullo left for Ottawa to place Prince Rupert's development case before the federal government.

WOULD WED FOR SHOES

OTTAWA—Mrs. Elsa Goldschmidt, Swedish worker for the "Save the Children" movement in Europe, is in the city to meet the local organization.

She related a few incidents. She told of a boy and girl who asked if arrangements could be made for their marriage. They were aged ten years.

"Are you sure you love one another enough for that?" asked Mrs. Goldschmidt.

"We don't love each other at all but we have heard that married couples get a new pair of shoes," the small boy said.

In a Roumanian village a shipment of pyjamas arrived from Canada. Mrs. Goldschmidt, later on, found many of the youngsters wearing them for every day use.

"They did not know there could be special clothes made to sleep in," she said.

CAMERA CLUB TOURS MOUNT

Snap Shooters Revel in High Altitude Scenery

If the click of a camera was as loud as the crack of a rifle townfolk might have imagined that mountain men were feuding up Mount Hays way last week-end. But there weren't any mountain men or feuding, just the Civic Centre Camera Club shooting scenery and models to the tune of some 30 films.

Nine members of the club, including Miss Joan Miller as chaperone, left town Friday night loaded down with food, clothing and cameras. Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. M. R. R. Van Meers, accompanied by two other members of the club, joined the first party at the Prince Rupert Ski Club Lodge which was generously loaned to the camera enthusiasts for their use during the outing.

Excitement and the high altitude apparently generated early rising qualities in all for everyone was up and ready for action which in this case meant breakfast. The boys attended to the fatigue duties while the girls did the cooking. By 9 a.m. the whole party was on the way up the mountain, with Oddie Eidsvik acting as guide. The long shadows cast on the snow by the trees in the morning sun created innumerable studies for the camera-wielders to work on. A light lunch was enjoyed by the group when they arrived at the peak at noon and there they waited until 1 p.m. to let the shadows lengthen before again making the descent. On the way back to the lodge, Oddie Eidsvik was persuaded to put on a skiing exhibition, permitting some of the members to make action shots.

Before leaving for home the party sat down to another meal and made things ship-shape at the lodge, obeying the unwritten law of the outdoors.

By co-incidence, this camera tour was made just one year to the day since the club made its initial hike up Mount Hays. The day was clear and bright but a haze over the city and adjacent mountains prevented it from being ideal from the standpoint of a photographer. Among those taking part there were all makes of cameras ranging from Zeiss Ikon to Brownie Boxes.

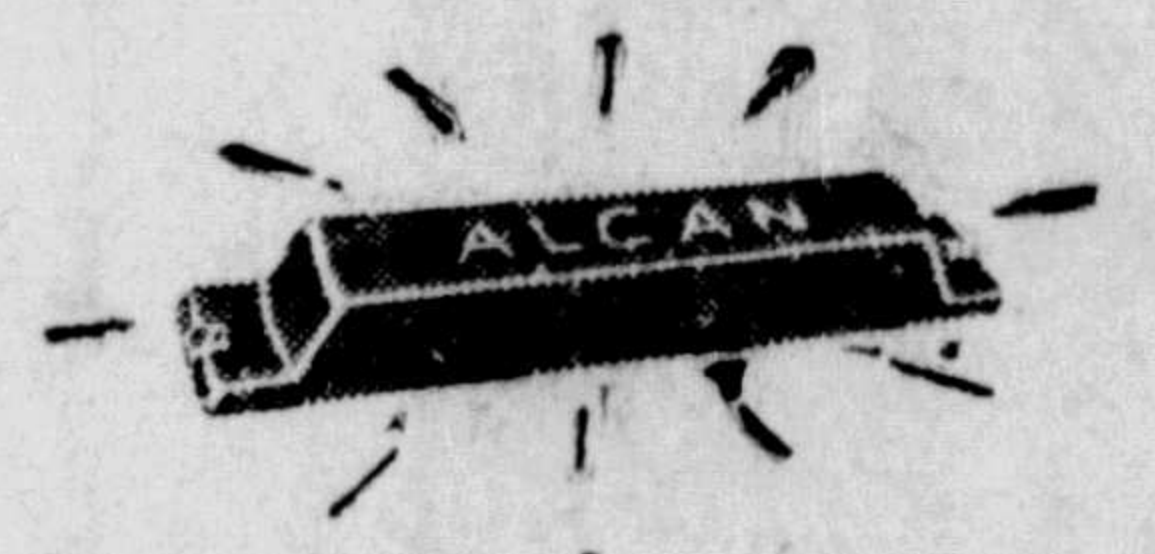

A vote of thanks was expressed by the club for the assistance rendered by the Prince Rupert Ski Club and Mr. Valetin in making the outing a success.

George Furniots, Bruce Mills, Bobo Dolron and Don Saunders were the executive members in charge of tour arrangements. They report that, although time is short, a number of the camera studies made during the trip will be hung among the photographic exhibitions at the Hobby Show.

Look what's new in the Goodwins' garden!

It all starts with ingots...

Ingots of pure aluminum from the world's largest aluminum smelter at Arvida, Canada, form the raw material for more than a thousand Canadian manufacturers. They turn this versatile metal into an almost endless variety of articles used by the transportation, electrical, construction, packaging and other industries... and by you in your own home.

Mr. Goodwin's shiny new aluminum wheelbarrow is the envy of the neighbours. Junior is as proud as a peacock of his miniature version. Mrs. Goodwin dotes on her new aluminum trowel... and her smart new garden chairs, sitting so invitingly in the shade.

Yes, aluminum is a natural in the garden—so light to handle, so perennially rustproof, so enduring. Little wonder it is finding a lot of interesting new uses—in rakes and brooms, lawnmowers and ladders... Little wonder the Goodwins' neighbours are determined that from now on their garden tools are going to be aluminum, too.
