Campaign Finds Cards Stacked Against Truman

Hard-Working President Another 'Happy Warrior' of United States Politics

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON—They used to call Al Smith "The Happy Warrior" of United States politics. One of these days someone will coin a phrase like that to describe Harry S. Truman. Truman entered the current campaign as Democratic candidate for re-election as president with the cards stacked against him, an underdog presidential candidate if there ever was one. He went into it smiling, wise-cracking, confident and serene.

CONSERVATIVE RESOLUTIONS

Committee of 193 Men Goes to Work On List of 500

OTTAWA—A resolutions committee of 193 men will start to work today on 500 resolutions submitted for insertion in the Progressive-Conservative party's platform. They form an advance guard for the national convention to be held September 30, October 1 and 2. Resolutions on communism loom as a major bulk.

The Wallace Progressives were dragging away at his normal leftist and Liberal support. The Southern Democrats had deserted in force and even wiped his name off the ballot in one state. Public opinion polls and the great bulk of newspapers were against him. Campaign donations were scanty and the party treasury was low.

MAN OF THE PEOPLE

Truman is a man of the people. He was born in humble circumstances, had a high school education, went to war and did all right, came home a cavalry major, was a small town business man and a county court judge. Then, through the friendship of political boss Tom Pendergast of Kansas City, he got a shot at the United States Senate and won election easily. By hard work and a deep interest in government affairs, Truman succeeded as a senator and got the chairmanship of a committee set up to watch government expenditures during the Second World War. That made him a big shot. The brass hats and top government officials, some of them

PHONE SYSTEM IS HEAVILY LOADED, UNABLE TO TAKE NEW SUBSCRIBERS

Already burdened beyond its efficient operating peak, Prince Rupert's telephone system has reached its absolute limit of expansion, city council was told last night by Telephone Superintendent Bruce Love in a report that dashed prospective subscribers' hopes of getting telephones for at least two years.

Mayor Nora Arnold told council that the gloomy substance of the report should be known by the public so that it would understand that telephones are not being denied new subscribers at the will of council but because it is physically impossible to open new lines.

"We feel that the situation regarding telephones should be widely known by the public. Every day we get personal requests to try and get telephones for someone but we cannot open new lines," the Mayor said.

Alderman T. B. Black calculated that at present the system is 40 percent overloaded above good operating conditions. "It is not that we refuse to supply new telephones," he declared. "It is that we just cannot spare any of the few remaining lines because they might be needed at any moment to replace defective ones."

According to Mr. Love's report, Prince Rupert's switchboard has five operators' positions and a capacity of 1,000 lines for local subscribers, plus 11 toll lines. At present, there are 60 spare lines, 20 of which are defective, with more expected to become defective in the near future.

Repair parts for the defective lines have been on order in some cases for two years or more.

"For efficient operation of a telephone system, the switchboard should not be loaded to more than 80 percent of its capacity, which would, in this case, be 800 lines. This would mean that there would be 1,924 instruments in use."

At present, there are 2,352 (Continued on Page Six)

THROWN INTO SLAVE CAMPS

Russia is Continuing Ruthless Purge in Eastern Germany

BERLIN, (CP)—The Socialist press Monday claimed that the Russians are throwing thousands of new victims into concentration camps in eastern Germany's intensified purge of anti-communists.

An official Social Democrat described "transports of misery" headed for Buchenwald.

Burned to Death At Firemen's Ball

WARSAW, (CP)—Twenty persons were burned to death and 30 injured when fire broke out in a dance organized by a voluntary firemen's organization at nearby Osuchow last night.

COUNCIL PROTESTS LIVING COST

Time That Government Should Do Something to Protect People

Acting on instructions received from council two weeks ago, Alderman Arthur Brooksbank last night presented his colleagues with a resolution protesting the high cost of living, assuring them that it was carefully worded so that it carried no suggestion of "Communist influence."

Council adopted the resolution unanimously and agreed with Alderman Brooksbank that it should receive wide circulation. Individually typed copies will be sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, all federal cabinet ministers, leaders of the Opposition parties, all members of the B.C. Legislature and to 20 cities and towns throughout British Columbia. The latter will be asked to endorse the resolution and take similar action.

The resolution:

"WHEREAS, while it is always desirable that there should be a minimum of interference and control by the state in the daily lives and occupations of the people; and while no request is hereby being made for any system of overall control of the country's economy, still it is essential that there should be intervention or assistance by the government when required to meet the needs of the people.

"WHEREAS there is widespread and general hardship, apprehension and worry caused by the great increase in the cost of living during the past few years.

"WHEREAS recent increases in the cost of living (due to several causes) are rapidly undoing all the good work of the Government of Canada in previous years, when inflation was to a very large extent, avoided.

"WHEREAS there can be no real feeling of social security and no assurance of a permanent decent standard of living if the basic cost of living continues to increase.

"WHEREAS a large portion of the population of Canada is living on a fixed income, such as monthly salary, pension, fixed commission or other static remuneration, although other parts of the population, including the greater proportion of wage-earners, have, from time to time, been able to have their incomes increased.

"WHEREAS inflationary conditions have already caused certain industries to discontinue business on account of inability to meet competition from the U.S.A. and other countries.

"BE IT RESOLVED that the Government of Canada be urged to take immediate and vigorous action to stop the rise in the cost of living and to reduce such cost where reductions can be effected without hardship to primary producers and other workers, and that provision be made immediately so that where prices are proven to be unreasonably high, selective price controls may be re-imposed for the protection of the consuming public."

New State of Israel Has No Desire to Interfere With Any

TEL AVIV, (CP)—The Israeli ministry of religion has affirmed that Christian and Moslem minorities will enjoy full control over their religious affairs in the new Jewish state.

"The Jewish religion has never had a tendency to convert others," said Rabbi Judah Leib Fishman. "On the contrary our wish is that each individual preserve his own faith, tradition and customs."

COUNCIL HITS U.B.C.M. ATTITUDE TOWARD INCREASING OF POLL TAX

Aldermen Re-affirm Their Stand On Having It Abolished

The poll tax came under the sternly critical eye of city council last night after the aldermen had heard a report of its delegates to the recent Union of B.C. Municipalities which recommended that the tax be extended to cover women and that it be increased from its present $5 to $10.

The resolution was included among 63 considered by the convention and was opposed by Mayor Nora Arnold and City Clerk H. D. Thain who, in their report, recommended that a study of the poll tax situation be made with the object of having it repealed.

Alderman George Casey led the aldermanic objections to the Union's attitude and moved that the city act immediately on the matter and that its objections should be made directly to the government and not through the U.B.C.M. The other aldermen agreed.

The delegates told the meeting that they believed the U.B.C.M. convention had approved the motion to extend and increase the poll tax because its members looked on the tax as a nuisance and they believed that, if the nuisance was accentuated, public opinion would lead to its withdrawal.

The aldermen looked on this as "careless and faulty" thinking and proceeding with their plans to urge its removal.

Sees Security on Less Than Universal Basis

PARIS (CP)—Individual nations must seek security on a basis "less than universal" when the United Nations is unable to provide that security, Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada told the United Nations general assembly today.

In what was probably his last speech as head of the Canadian government, Mr. King called for a world-wide community sense "among the countries of the world" and suggested the British Commonwealth of Nations as an example.

As things now stand, said Mr. King, a world stalemate had resulted from the use of the veto by some powers "to further some particular interest." If the stalemate continues, he said, the threat to freedom would inevitably arise.

Mr. King's speech was interrupted twice by applause and at the close he received an ovation from which it was noted, however, the Russian nations abstained.

RUSS MONEY IS DECLINING

BERLIN, (CP)—Berliners have lost some of their faith in Russia issued currency of their city following break-up of the Four Power talks on the Berlin blockade. The "Ostmark" is steadily dropping in value. Last night it was quoted on the black market exchange as 3.9 to one Deutsche mark.

Little change in temperature with lows tonight and highs Wednesday: Port Hardy 42 and 55, Massett 45 and 53, Prince Rupert 43 and 55.

OCTOBER 24 TO BE 'U.N. DAY'

Sunday, October 24, will be proclaimed "United Nations Day" by Mayor Nora Arnold as a dedication to the cause of world peace. Its objective is to create support for the aims of the United Nations among the common people of the world.

The dedication was supported by council at the request of the United Nations Association which had a letter before last night's meeting. Mayor Arnold's proclamation will recall the ideals and point out the accomplishments of the U.N. since its beginning in 1945.

"I would like the Mayor to take such action," commented Alderman McKay as the council considered the request.

Alderman T. B. Black declared that "we should reflect on Mr. Bevin's words—it is up to the common people to maintain peace."

tion on the poll tax as "ill-worded and inadequate" and also suggested that the council make an individual representation to the government protesting the institution of daylight saving time. His motion was supported.

A suggestion in the delegates' report urged that the government either abolish daylight saving time or submit a plebiscite to the electors of the province to obtain a majority opinion on the subject.

Report of the fate of Prince Rupert's six resolutions at the convention showed that two had been approved, two defeated and one withdrawn. Another, the delegates learned, already is in effect.

Mayor Arnold acted as chairman of a committee at the convention to consolidate resolutions dealing with social services. The consolidated resolution, which was approved, urged that the "provincial government be asked to bear the full cost of transportation and treatment of tuberculosis, and cancer patients and the entire cost of children who have become wards of the municipality."

It also asked that the province bear 80 percent of the cost of indigent funerals in addition to a similar share of medical and drug expenses as now in force and that all municipalities be given the option of having the province assume the cost of investigating and administering social assistance in return for payment by the municipalities of 15 cents per capita.

At present, the provincial government pays the large part of social assistance in cities under 10,000 but above 10,000 the cost to the cities becomes greater. Mayor Arnold and City Clerk Thain were cordially thanked for their report on the convention.

U. S. TUG SINKS SOUTH OF HERE

HEAVY FINES ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Heavy penalties were handed out by Magistrate W. D. Vance in police court Monday to three men who pleaded guilty to liquor charges.

Lee Chong, a Chinese, was fined $300 and costs or three months in jail after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping liquor for sale.

Walter Johnson, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to a charge of supplying an Indian and was fined $100 and costs or two months in jail.

Norman Jaffray, a fisherman who pleaded guilty to supplying a native, was fined $150 and costs or two months in jail.

U. S. Coastguard Is at Scene In Arthur Pass

A United States Army tug is reported to be in a sinking condition today on Herbert Reef in Arthur Passage, 20 miles south of Prince Rupert. The United States Coastguard said a ship was at the scene and had sent a message that "she is sinking and now the full stern is under water."

All but two members of the crew have been removed.

Port of Embarkation authorities at Seattle identified the vessel as being the tug LT822. The Coastguard dispatched the tenders White Holly and Thistle from Ketchikan.

The tug hit the reef, which is in Arthur Passage between Kennedy and Lewis Islands, while on "stand by" duty with another tug towing a 200-foot floating steel dry dock.

Weather and water are reported calm.

Quarrel Over Berlin

THE PRESENT QUARREL over Berlin is not between the two ideologies of Communism and Capitalism. Stalin, Molotov and Vishinsky are not idealists. They have proved themselves to be unscrupulous liars and schemers whose sole object is to extend their power. They have no humanitarian sympathies for the Germans or for any other of the peoples whose territory they occupy or whose governments they control. They have no respect for mutual agreements or signed pacts, and they regard themselves as being above international law. Their blockade of the British, American and French zones of Berlin was an outright act of war. If the western powers had been seeking a quarrel, they would have been justified in resisting the blockade by force of arms. In refusing to be intimidated by that overt act, they have displayed forbearance and restraint for which the whole world, including Russian people, may well be thankful.

Polonius said to his son: "Beware of entrance to a quarrel; but, being in, bear it that the opposed may beware of thee." The western allies have been following that advice. They have not been trying to appease the Soviet, but they have tried to avoid entrance into a quarrel. Having been forced into it, they are bearing the quarrel with dignity and patience, but also with a firm display of strength that the Soviet may beware of further aggression.

In the present tense world situation, Time is on the side of peace. Time, with his accomplice, Death, has recently removed two of the worst trouble-makers in the Soviet hierarchy—and even Stalin himself is mortal. Time has tired Tito of being bossed from Moscow, and Poland is growing restless. The death of Benes has stirred the people of Czechoslovakia to the depth of their national soul, and Gottwald may be due for a violent death.

The longer the Russians remain in Berlin the less they will like it, and that goes for Poland, Czechoslovakia and the "cockpit" of the Balkans. It is one thing to conquer a country by force of arms, and it is quite another to hold a civilized people in permanent subjection by the same means. Moreover, the Russian armies in Germany are as far removed from their base as were Hitler's armies at Stalingrad, and the winters will be just as bad as ever. Stalin also has enough to occupy his attention at home, for it would appear that all is not well and communistically ideal with the Politburo. Time is also working behind the Iron Curtain with the Russian people who, being human, will not endure their slave-drivers forever.

NEW STEAMER SERVICE

UNION STEAMSHIP CO. appears to have reached effective solution of the problem of providing a service for the Queen Charlotte Islands compatible with the economic aspects of maintaining a run which, owing to lack of revenue through falling off of traffic due principally to aircraft competition, has become something of a financial headache. Of course, it is quite impossible to give the Islands everything in the way of steamship service they desire and would no doubt get if the traffic was there.

However, for Prince Rupert the schedule readjustment which is being brought about is something better than we have had for some time. The Union company speeds up the service between Vancouver and Prince Rupert with a fast run both north and south by the steamer which will carry on the Island run out of here each week. For some Queen Charlotte Islands points it amounts, by virtue of the Port Clements-Queen Charlotte City road, to a weekly service with the steamer one week going to Massett Inlet points and the next to Skidegate Inlet.

The Prince Rupert business community can be expected to take the fullest advantage of the improved new service.

The Union company's two fast runs weekly between Vancouver and Prince Rupert will compensate to some extent for the Canadian Pacific scrapping the service which the Princess Adelaide has maintained for so many years. With the weekly Canadian National service, the sailings between here and Vancouver will be nicely spaced out.

SCHOOL BOOK TAX PROTEST

Application of the provincial three per cent sales tax to children's school books will be protested by the city council. The aldermen last night approved a resolution by Alderman Ralph Morin protesting the tax on school books as "unreasonable." "Children should be getting their school books free, let alone having to pay taxes on them," Alderman Morin declared. "Parents pay the tax on their children's clothes and everything else. School books certainly should be exempt."

Wm. H. Francks OPTOMETRIST OF VANCOUVER

Will be making his regular fall visit to Prince Rupert September 30 to October 6 inclusive for the purpose of Examination of the Eyes and adjustment of glasses if needed.

Appointments can be made at Hotel Prince Rupert desk by asking for Mrs. Campbell or Mrs. Bryant. (230)

What City Council Did

... Heard a report by Mayor Arnold and City Clerk Thain regarding their attempt to float a loan for rehabilitation of the telephone system. Absence of the Ministers of Municipalities and Finance from Victoria made a conference impossible while the two delegates were in the south but Mayor Arnold assured the meeting that they have communicated with the Superintendent of Municipalities and they will report to council as soon as they receive a reply. The report was adopted.

... Ordered filed a letter from the Petersburg, Alaska, town council asking for support in its efforts to have the American government complete a harbor dredging project begun several years ago. The letter was filed because the aldermen agreed that a Canadian body could have no influence with the American government on internal matters. However, a letter stating Prince Rupert's position with expressions of sympathy for Petersburg's problem will be sent to the Alaska town.

... Received and adopted the city engineer's routine report for the period September 9 to September 23.

... Decided to investigate a revision of the city's trade li-ensing bylaw at the suggestion of Alderman T. B. Black, who told council that the present bylaw contains many inequalities and is in need of being brought up to date.

... Approved a recommendation of the board of works that city Sanitarian A. G. Boas be appointed plumbing inspector, assisting the city engineer.

... Approved the issuance of a trade license to Arthur H. Cornish for rug and chertfield cleaning, as reported by the licensing committee.

Provincial Constable Gordon Simons and Mrs. R. C. Good, as police matron, left last night by train for Prince George, having in their charge Ruby Leigh, a woman who is to serve six months at the women's jail there.

millionaire dollar-a-year men, squirmed before him and his associates investigating expenditures of public money.

But he never really got high-hat and he did not make important enemies. He did make a lot of friends and it has been said his committee saved the United States from a lot of expensive mistakes in wartime.

During her husband's 10 years in Washington as senator, Mrs. Truman did their own housework in a modest five-room apartment where they lived with their only child, Margaret. There was no change when he was elected vice-president in 1944. He still helped Mrs. Truman with the dishes.

President Roosevelt's death snatched them into the White House April 12, 1945, and probably no more humble and reluctant family ever took up residence in that old mansion.

HOMESPUN PRESIDENT

Except for Margaret's tentative plunge into an operative career, the family has remained humble and homespun and Truman has retained the same gusty enthusiasm for friends of the days when he was a haberdasher as for the greatest in the universe who come to him as president of the United States.

He worked a farm in his native Independence, Mo., near where he was born 64 years ago, worked as a bank clerk, did many odd jobs and lost $20,000 in a haberdashery store partnership, after getting out of the army.

Truman married his childhood sweetheart, Bess Wallace, whom he met at Sunday school class and grade school. He is proud of his daughter, Margaret and they are great pals. It is known that he would have liked a son too.

Recently a Canadian resident correspondent in Washington took his son, a cub reporter on a Canadian paper to a White House press conference. Afterwards he introduced the son to the president.

Truman greeted the young reporter heartily, then the smile left his face and his eyes lost their usual twinkle. Seriously he looked at the older Canadian and said: "It must be a grand feeling to have a fine son at your elbow."

Truman took office at a critical time in the world's history and crisis has piled on crisis since. He has given his work everything a sober, intelligent, God-fearing, every-day man could give. It is unlikely anyone will ever accuse him of insincerity or self-seeking.

YOU CAN'T BUY A BETTER MOTOR OIL

Lower operating costs . . . improved performance . . . safety factors—no matter how you look at it, Peerless is tops because it is "ALLOYED" by an extraordinary process that not only prevents any chance of oil failure but helps to endow your motor with new life . . . new power . . . new performance. Peerless lowers operating costs because it lubricates better. And better lubrication means less piston trouble, less ring sticking, less bearing failure. Peerless offers greater factors of safety because it helps to keep your motor ready to respond to any emergency, under all conditions of temperature or season. It takes a great oil to give such performance.

EVACUEE BOY IS MARRIED

Victor Simmons, Who Came Out From England During War, Wedded in Manitoba

Victor Roland Simmons, who came to Prince Rupert in August 1940 as an evacuee boy from a village in Surrey, England, during the early days of World War II and took up residence near here with his uncle and aunt, the late S. E. Sunbury and Mrs. Sunbury, was married at Hodgson, Manitoba, on September 4, to Miss May Smith of Hodgson. The couple first met in Prince Rupert where the bride was employed for 18 months at the Pioneer dry cleaning plant. Rev. G. C. Smith of Winnipeg officiated at the service in St. Philip's Church at Hodgson. The church was crowded with friends and well-wishers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in white satin wedding dress with veil and she carried a bouquet of dark red roses. She was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Dora Abes who was dressed in pale blue and carried pink chrysanthemums.

Morris Smith, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. More than 150 guests attended a reception which was held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride and groom receiving congratulations from friends and opening about 80 wedding presents which included chinaware, glassware, linen, washing machine, furniture and checks.

Later there was an outdoor dance with about 250 persons present.

The couple left later for Princeton where they are now residing.

The groom's mother, Mrs. R. H. Simmons, was unable to attend the wedding owing to the illness of her sister, Mrs. S. E. Sunbury, who is in St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons came out from England over a year ago to reside in Canada and are at present in Vancouver. Mr. Simmons, before leaving England, was a member of Esher Urban District Council in England.

Provincial President to Visit City—Local Council Arranges Program

At a meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Council Monday evening in the Civic Centre, arrangements were made for the forthcoming visit of Mrs. W. D. McLeod, president of the British Columbia Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Mrs. McLeod will attend the national convention of Parent-Teacher Federations in Winnipeg and is returning to British Columbia by way of Prince Rupert. She will arrive here on October 12 and will leave for Vancouver on the night of October 14. Arrangements are being made not only for members of the Parent-Teacher Association in Prince Rupert to hear Mrs. McLeod but an invitation is being extended to all interested to attend a public meeting which is scheduled for October 13. Mrs. McLeod is noted as a capable, fluent speaker and her address should be of great value and interest to all who are interested in linking up the home and the schools. Representatives from Massett and Terrace are expected to attend.

Reports were given by local Parent-Teacher Association representatives with Mrs. G. A. Hill reporting for Booth Memorial High School P.T.A., Mrs. William McLeod reporting for Borden Street P.T.A., Mrs. Robert Cameron for Conrad Street P.T.A. and R. G. Moore for King Edward P.T.A. All reported good and interesting meetings at their initial gatherings with every indication of active participation throughout the year.

The local associations will be asked to consider a resolution originating at the King Edward School P.T.A. asking that the 3 per cent sales tax be remitted on the sale of school books and materials required for the construction and maintenance of schools. The supporting arguments suggested that the imposition of such a tax on books and school construction materials was actually defeating the objective of the tax, which was to afford more social services to the community.

Mrs. Earl Becker was in the chair, with Mrs. S. J. Anderson, secretary. Others present were Mrs. George A. Hill, Miss Townsend and Rev. Basil Prockter, Booth High School; Mrs. H. Flood, Mrs. Wm. McLeod, Mrs. J. Linney, Borden Street P.T.A.; Mrs. R. Cameron, Mrs. H. Marchildon and Martin Stuart, Conrad Street School P.T.A.; R. G. Moore, King Edward School P.T.A.; A. T. G. Baileman, principal, Conrad Street School and J. S. Wilson, principal, Borden Street School. Miss Hart and Miss Sweeney of King Edward School P.T.A. presented the resolution from that school P.T.A. on the sales tax remission.

Mrs. Becker appointed a nominating committee which will present a slate of names for the various offices to be filled at the next meeting of the council.

A request from the program director of the Civic Centre, Rowland Miles, for participation in the Discussion Group Course sponsored by the Department of University Extension and to be held in the Civic Centre October 13 to October 19 aroused much interested comment and the Council will try to arrange to have several members attend the course.

OLD SWIMMING HOLE COPPERMINE, N.W.T. — Even in this Arctic outpost 1,000 miles north of Edmonton, residents know how to celebrate summer. They had 10 days of swimming in water that reached a temperature of 67 degrees, the warmest in local history.

RUMMAGE SALE IS SUCCESSFUL

A successful rummage sale, organized and conducted by the Women's Association of First United Church, was held Saturday and Monday in a Third Avenue building made available by Harry Nelson.

Goods ranging from second-hand mouse traps to new bedroom lamps and from slightly worn shoe rubbers to ladies' well tailored suits were contributed by local merchants, members of the church and their friends. Bulk of the stock consisted of women's and children's clothes but toys, books and kitchen gadgets helped add variety to the display of sale merchandise.

On Saturday, from opening time at 10 a.m. until 6 p.m., the ladies of the Association were kept fairly busy waiting on customers and as contributions turned out to be greater than anticipated, it was decided to continue the sale on Monday afternoon.

Assisting at the sale were Mrs. H. E. Amos, president; Mrs. E. Pederson, Mrs. R. B. Skinner, Mrs. A. Thompson, Mrs. R. Webber, Mrs. D. Santerbarne, Mrs. G. Clecone and Mrs. J. S. Irvine.

Canadian Goods To British Guiana

MONTREAL — The Canadian National Steamships Canadian Challenger left this port today on its fourteenth voyage to British Guiana via the British West Indies. The vessel is under the command of Captain P. L. Scott, O.B.E., and is carrying a heavy cargo of grain, flour, canned goods, lumber, newsprint and a variety of Canadian manufactured goods.

YOU can become a SAILOR

Fresh from the sea, this Naval Reservist, tanned by the ocean's sun and wind brings to his life ashore new health and vigor. He may be an office worker, a mechanic, store clerk or university student, but on his annual cruise with the R.C.N., he has been a salt water sailor... experiencing the life of the sea.

His time with the Navy is making him a better citizen and fitting him for increased responsibility. This man's spare time pays dividends.

HOME FROM THE SEA

When you join the Royal Canadian Navy (Reserve), you, too, will qualify for the Navy's training cruises which took Reservists this year to Panama, Mexico, Bermuda, Prince Rupert, Alaska, San Francisco and other U.S. ports, steaming over 32,000 miles during the summer months.

You will learn the crafts of the sea and acquire new skills of lifelong value.

You will earn extra money in your own home town in your own spare time at regular Navy pay.

You'll prepare yourself for a better future whether in the Navy or in civilian life.

RIVAL CAPTAINS SHAKING HANDS—That's Virgil Wagner of the Montreal Alouettes (left) shaking hands with Jack Wedley of the Toronto Argonauts. This bit of friendliness took place just before the two teams met in a "Big Four" encounter at Toronto's Varsity Stadium last Saturday. Argos took the game by a score of 20-7, and then moved into a first-place tie with the Ottawa Rough Riders by defeating the Hamilton Wildcats in Hamilton on Labor Day to the tune of 14-7. Both Argos and Ottawa are undefeated to date.

Sport Shots

Sometimes, it seems, a half-breed is better than a thoroughbred. At least that's what British breeders are beginning to think. Their "half-breeds"—horses not eligible for the General Stud Book—are stealing England's richest races from the blue bloods. The latest horse laugh came from Black Tarquin, whose St. Leger triumph wrapped up a $61,072 prize for owner William Woodward, a New York banker. Black Tarquin was bred in the United States and is barred from Britain's official thoroughbred register. Any horse so barred is likely to be referred to in Britain as a half-breed, even though horsemen in the tight little isle will tell you that the Stud Book isn't intended to reflect racing quality.

The Stud Book first went snooty in 1911. Then as now, British thoroughbreds were confronted with a lot of competition from foreign-bred horses. So the late Lord Jersey drafted an amendment to one of the volumes of the Stud Book. It declared that no horse or mare could be eligible for admission unless "it can be traced without flaw on both sires' and dams' sides of the pedigree to horses and mares already accepted in earlier volumes."

So if a horse wasn't in the Stud Book—often referred to as the Debrett of thoroughbred racing—the horse's progeny couldn't make it either. Only difficulty was it didn't stop the outlaw breeds from winning. Now that Black Tarquin's victory has really set the seal on things the Jockey Club bosses are doing some heavy thinking. A committee has been appointed to determine whether the

Old Mounty Recalls Notorious Gambler

Four Days Before Killing, He Told Soapy Smith to Leave Town

EDMONTON ☐—The days when Soapy Smith, notorious gambler, ruled Skagway are gone forever but they linger in the memory of Col. F. L. Cartwright, who served as an inspector in the North West Mounted Police and saw the famous outlaw four days before he was shot.

Col. Cartwright, retired at 73, is on his way back to his old beat at White Pass Summit where he administered law and kept order among a none-too-willing settlement of gold seekers.

Son of Sir Richard Cartwright, minister of trade and commerce in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's cabinet, Col. Cartwright joined the force in 1897 and was sent with a group of 20 men to the Yukon. Their duties ranged from collecting customs, banking gold dust, keeping law and even burying those unfortunates not fast enough on the draw.

"In fact, we did everything except marry people," the veteran police officer said.

It was in 1898 that Canada was trying to protect her claims to the Yukon and Col. Cartwright served as practically every department of government.

Soapy Smith was one of the toughest problems of the outpost settlement and when he appeared in White Pass Summit one day Col. Cartwright warned him to leave. Four days later the gambler met the fate of so many of his kind—he found that a bullet beat a royal flush.

Commissioner S. T. Wood, present chief of the R.C.M.P., has made it possible for Col. Cartwright, who has been living in England, to make a trip to Dawson City with R.C.M.P. officials.

Commissioner Wood's name is not unfamiliar to Col. Cart-

TACOMA WINS

VICTORIA—Chuck Congdon of Tacoma Saturday won the $10,000 Canadian open golf championship, shooting a torrid eight under par of 280 for the 72-hole medal tournament. Dick Metz, Virginia Beach, the tourney's leader for three days, finished in a three-way tie for second place, three strokes behind Congdon. Metz, Vic Ghezzi of Englewood, New Jersey, and Ky Laffoon of Chicago collected $1066 each for second place.

WEDDING ON O.C. ISLANDS

Miss Marjorie Violet Kirby
Becomes Bride of Chris
Vernon Dahms

Queen Charlotte Island logging community of Sandspit was the scene of a pretty and interesting marriage ceremony on Saturday evening of last week when Rev. Basil S. Prockter of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, Prince Rupert, officiated at the nuptial rites of Miss Marjorie Violet Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kirby of Sandspit, and Chris Vernon Dahms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Julius Dahms of Wetaskiwin, Alberta. The wedding, which, incidentally, was on the thirty-first anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents, took place in the Canadian Legion Hall at Sandspit and practically the entire community turned out for the service and the proceedings which followed. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Thomas Crozier. George W. (Dave) Kirby, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Mrs. Ward played the Wedding March.

Serving of refreshments followed the ceremony and due felicitations were observed including the toast to the bride which was proposed by Mr. Prockter and responded to by the groom. Dancing and music followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Dahms are taking up residence at Sandspit where the groom is a welder for Northern Pulpwoods.

OBJECTION TO CITY FIREMAN'S OUTSIDE WORK

Objection by Prince Rupert's commercial photographers to a city employee soliciting work for an outside photographic firm will bring a request that such practice be discontinued.

The city photographers had a letter before council last night complaining that a member of the fire department has been soliciting for an outside company and asked council to do something about it. The aldermen decided to bring the matter to the attention of the Prince Rupert local of the International Firefighters' Union.

Alderman A. S. Nickerson declared that he objected to a city employee soliciting for an outside firm when local photographers pay city trade licenses.

In suggesting that a letter be written to the Firefighters' Union, Alderman T. B. Black pointed out that "one man on one job has always been one of the statutory planks of organized labor."

FRAUD HEARING IS PROCEEDING

Case of James Howard Foster of Smithers Going On At Assizes

Zinje Utsunomiyo, Japanese resident of Smithers, told Assize Court Monday that receipt purportedly made out by him to James Howard Foster, former Smithers baker, for $1,500 was actually written in the Chinese language which he does not understand.

The Japanese was plaintiff in a criminal case in which Foster is charged with having obtained $1,640 from him by false pretenses with intent to defraud at the interior town in August, 1947.

The receipt, presented by Foster to Utsunomiyo on the witness stand, was suggested by Foster to be one which Utsunomiyo had given him when he returned the $1,500 which he had borrowed to pay a mortgage on a bakery business which they planned to purchase as partners.

Denying the money had been returned or that he had made out such a receipt, Utsunomiyo added through Sadao Suga, an interpreter: "That is written in Chinese. I cannot read the Chinese language."

The Crown contends that Foster obtained the $1,500 plus various smaller sums totalling $140 from Utsunomiyo with fraudulent intent. The $1,500 which Foster received in cash was said to have been meant to pay off a mortgage which the Crown suggests was non-existent.

On the witness stand, Utsunomiyo said that he had met Foster at Smithers in August, 1947, and that Foster had suggested that they go into partnership in the bakery business. Prior to that time, Foster had been a baker in the Wilson Bakery at the interior town.

Utsunomiyo was to put up the money and be a "silent partner" while Foster arranged the deal. The Japanese then gave him $10 to pay notary fees and a few days later $20 "because he was broke." Later, he gave Foster $30 to pay for a consignment of lard which was said to have arrived from Edmonton and still later $80 to go to Prince Rupert because of a legal contention with his former employer, George Wilson.

According to Utsunomiyo, when Foster returned from Prince Rupert, he borrowed $1,500 from him to pay off a mortgage on the Wilson Bakery business which he said he proposed to buy. Utsunomiyo gave him the money and received a receipt.

George Wilson, proprietor of the bakery business, and Albert E. Day, a former owner, both denied that there was a mortgage on the business. Wilson told the court that Foster had had the privilege of buying the business for $1,500 cash. Sale of the building and land, which was the property of Mrs. Wilson, was not mentioned.

Shortly after he had borrowed the money from the Japanese, Foster moved from Smithers to an auto camp at Lake Kathryn, four miles distant. After a brief stay there, he went to Vancouver where he remained throughout the winter.

Mrs. Rose Marie Olsen, proprietor of the auto camp, told the court that during his stay there, he purchased a truck from her for $700, which, he told her, he planned to use to bring in some equipment for the bakery he planned to start. William Grant, notary public of Smithers, identified the agreement drawn up between Foster and Utsunomiyo as one which he had prepared for Foster. Foster had signed the document in his presence. Grant said he did not know the Japanese whose signature also was on the contract, or when he signed it.

Several letters, purportedly written from Vancouver by Foster to Utsunomiyo, were read to the court after being presented by Crown Counsel T. W. Brown. One of these spoke of the difficulties which Foster was encountering and said that he would be back in Smithers soon.

Another stated that Foster did not know Utsunomiyo was a Japanese and that he had thought him a Chinese. It asked Utsunomiyo to send Foster the agreement and Foster's receipt for the money and that the money would be returned to the Japanese, less some expenses incurred by Foster in promoting the enterprise. The case adjourned late Monday afternoon after all the Crown witnesses had been heard. It resumed again at 10:30 this morning. Mr. Justice N. W. Whittaker is presiding.

AIR BASE IS BEING LEASED

City council last night gave first reading to a bylaw authorizing the leasing of the Seal Cove air base from the Department of Transport for $1 a year, plus responsibility for maintaining certain buildings. The city has leased the hangar to Canadian Pacific Airlines and oil storage facilities to Imperial Oil which nets the city about $250 a year.

telephones of all classes in use in the city.

OPERATORS OVERTAXED

"It is not unusual for an operator on any of the five positions to have the 15 cords of her position in use at once, thereby having to wait till a conversation is completed before being able to take another call," the report continued.

"A thoroughly experienced operator in standard telephone practice is expected to handle 200 to 210 calls an hour. By actual count, operators in this exchange handle during the busy periods 254 calls an hour."

"The telephone department is handicapped by always having at least one beginner in training. It takes an average of six weeks for a beginner to learn the bare rudiments of operating. Then they must develop speed. Only after a year can an operator be considered experienced in local and long distance traffic handling."

At present, according to the report, there are 21 regular operators and one chief operator. Of the 21, eight are inexperienced in long distance operating and five in local operating. By next January 1, at least four experienced operators will be leaving the department.

"During the vacation period, if it had not been for assistance given by former operators, now married, the department would have faced a very serious, in fact, tragic situation," the report stated.

A situation which causes much confusion is the continual changing of subscribers' addresses. Since the last issue of the directory, there have been 59 single changes and 75 instances where subscribers have changed their address more than once. In addition, there have been 237 new listings. This makes a total of 371 subscribers who are not listed in the latest directory, causing delay in handling calls while the operator seeks the unlisted number.

Currently, the city is seeking to float a self-liquidating loan to permit the rehabilitation of the telephone system along the
