BRITAIN AND FRANCE ARE HARD HIT BY STORMS OVER WEEK-END

LONDON (CP)—At least twenty-two persons are dead, crops have been flattened and wide areas flooded following week-end storms in Great Britain and France.

Damage at the French port of Brest alone is estimated at more than one hundred million francs ($300,000).

Severe storms struck Kent and Sussex and waters battered the southeast and east coasts of England.

British farmers surveyed their storm-swept crops and faced back-breaking work with old-fashioned scythes and sickles although they are the most highly mechanized in the world.

SAFE BACK AT JASPER

Three Mountaineers Return to Base After Being Missing

JASPER—A party of three mountaineers, led by E. K. Karcher, of Arlington, Virginia, and reported lost in the Columbia Icefields region of Jasper National Park, have returned safely to their base here.

A rescue party of Swiss guides, under Ernie Nelderer, was scheduled to start out at dawn yesterday but the climbers reported safely before then.

Mr. and Mrs. Karcher, and an unidentified woman friend, all experienced mountaineers, started their climb over the Columbia Icefields on July 26. They had refused the services of a guide and Park officials became anxious for their safety when no word had been received from them over a period of twelve days.

Mr. Karcher said that they had intended to be away for about ten days and had sufficient food for a fifteen-day trip. They were warmly clad and had every kind of mountain equipment necessary.

On their arrival in Jasper village this morning, all in good health, hail and hearty after "a most enjoyable experience through the Icefields region" they immediately reported to Major James Wood, superintendent of Jasper National Park.

Another Momentous Parley at Moscow

Wyman, recently transferred to Kelowna as assistant superintendent. Mr. Harkness comes west after having been with the industrial department in Montreal since 1927. He is a native son of this province, having been born at Trail, and served in both world wars.

Divergence From Gov't

Liberal Convention Has Ideas Differing With Government

OTTAWA—Diverging definitely from declared administration policy, the national Liberal convention passed a resolution before it closed on Saturday calling for a royal commission on the freight rates issue.

The resolution was in line with demands of seven provinces—western and maritime.

The government had since last April been denying the royal commission idea in favor of having a parliamentary committee carry on the investigation.

The freight rates resolution was the foremost in a 21-point all-inclusive platform to which the party put finishing touches. The platform was designed to guide government policy and win the next election.

The platform was largely in line with the present trend of government thinking but of ten resolutions adopted at the final session of the convention on Saturday three definitely strayed from administration policy.

Another resolution contrary to present government intentions would have the administration subsidize low-cost housing, if necessary.

The government strayed from the government line too in the labor field. Into a plank on labor, it wrote a demand for government aid in obtaining "union security" and for government enforcement of the labor laws.

Western Envoys Meet Again With Molotov

Berlin Reports Feverish Activity of Russians In Arming Borders

MOSCOW (CP)—Envoys of the three western powers went again today to see V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, and they conferred for three hours. Immediately after the conference, they went from the Kremlin to their respective embassies. Again there was no announcement of what occurred but it

MAN INJURED IN BOAT BLAST

A gillnet fisherman is in hospital here today recovering from burns received when his boat exploded at 7:30 Sunday morning at Nelson Bros. cannery, Port Edward. The blast destroyed one 32-foot boat and damaged another when fire followed.

Injured was Bert Jorgenson, 52-year-old New Westminster fisherman. He will be in hospital for some time recovering from burns on his face and hands.

Jorgenson apparently went to his boat Sunday morning, opening the cabin door. A short time later there was an explosion which blew open the pilot house and started a fire. A boat which was moored alongside also caught fire, but was moved before it was completely destroyed.

was said unofficially that there had been "hard bargaining" on the Berlin blockade and the question of currency.

It had been authoritatively learned that the embassies had received during the weekend expected instructions from their governments following their reports on last Friday's meeting with Molotov. It is now a week since the envoys had had their previous talk with Marshal Stalin.

The western power envoys, seeking basis for talks with Russia on the German crisis, have now had five meetings here, one with Stalin, three with Molotov and one with V. Zorin, deputy foreign minister for Russia.

Meanwhile there was a disquieting note in a dispatch from Berlin saying that the British - licensed newspaper Telegraf had said today that the Russians were digging trenches and mounting weapons, including rocket guns, on the border between the Soviet-occupied zone and western Germany. The newspaper reported feverish activity in the woods along zonal frontiers where, it said, Russian engineers and construction troops are "building a security border."

American military officials in Berlin said that frequent reports have been received of the Russians strengthening their border installations.

ONTARIO MAN LOSES LIFE IN LAKELSE LAKE

A drowning mishap at Terrace Saturday evening claimed the life of an Ontario man, bringing to two the number of water fatalities near the interior town this summer.

Murray Stewart, 34-year-old logger, lost his life while swimming at Lakelse Lake, despite immediate rescue efforts by other swimmers to revive him by artificial respiration.

Stewart was swimming a short distance offshore when he suddenly disappeared. Other swimmers nearby saw him go down and immediately went to his aid. His body was recovered five minutes later. Artificial respiration was applied for 40 minutes but he failed to rally.

Coroner Will Robinson conducted an inquiry which determined accidental drowning.

Deceased came west from Guelph, Ontario, where his parents live. He had been at Terrace only a week, arriving from Queen Charlotte Islands. He was employed in the Little, Haugland & Kerr camp at 17-Mile, Kitsumkalum. The body is being sent to Guelph on tonight's train.

Last month a 10-year-old boy lost his life in the Skeena River not far from Terrace when he accidentally fell into its swift current.

Skeena Delegate Would Resume Some Controls

Seconder of Amendment at Liberal National Convention In Ottawa

OTTAWA (Special to Daily News)—Where price increases in any field have been proven to be unreasonable, selective price controls should be reimposed for the protection of consumers. Such was the effect of an amendment to a long resolution on the cost of living that was submitted to the national Liberal convention here on Saturday. The amendment was adopted.

Moving the amendment was President Macdonald of the Eastern Ontario Liberal Federation. It was seconded by E. T. Applewhite, Liberal candidate for Skeena in the next federal election.

A Worthy Choice

CANADA, particularly the West, had a golden era during the regime of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Liberal government. Under that happy administration the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was conceived and actuated. Prince Rupert came into being and the great central interior country was opened up. There is no point in speculating now upon how different things might have been for Canada and this part of the country had the election of 1911 not gone as it did. After all, there were factors of vaster and more overwhelming proportions than mere Canadian politics which shaped the course of events and the destinies of this Dominion during the ensuing decades.

Possibly, it is a good portent that the leadership of the Liberal party is now assumed and the Prime Ministership will soon be taken over by another great French-Canadian whose broad mindedness and ability and understanding have been well proven despite the comparative fewness of his years in public life. There might have been sentimental favor among some westerners for a westerner as the leader and Prime Minister. But, on the other hand, will western Canada be at any disadvantage with an easterner with broad vision, such as admittedly was that of the late Sir Wilfrid, in those influential positions? In the end, who knows we may be better off! So there is good reason to believe that the choice of Louis St. Laurent at Ottawa on Saturday was good and timely. Remembering Laurier, the omen would not seem unfavorable.

And, if there are those who look skeptically upon the choice of a Quebecer and a French-Canadian (incidentally Mr. St. Laurent is half Irish and half French by parentage), the overwhelming vote on the first ballot and the quickly developing unanimity of his choice were indication that his was no mere Quebec choice. In fact, two of the three candidates were from the French-Canadian province.

Now that the choice has been made, it is not unreasonable comment to contemplate under Mr. St. Laurent, a stimulated Liberal party and a government unified in purpose—well equipped and able to deal with the weighty problems, national and international, that lie immediately ahead.

Mr. St. Laurent, it is true, is not a young man, nor is he excessively old. However, he will be able to surround himself, when he forms his administration, with many ministers of youth, some of whom, youth notwithstanding, have already great experience and proven ability and may well prove to be equipped to carry on as leader when Mr. St. Laurent's time to retire comes. In fact, Mr. St. Laurent has every opportunity of organizing a "cabinet of the talents." Mr. King told the convention that he would be happy to carry on "in the ranks" after returning as "commander-in-chief." Mr. Gardiner was quick to offer to remain as "spark plug" of the Liberal party.

The choice of the Liberal leader has been made with clear decision and in fully democratic manner. It was a choice for the Liberal party alone to make and, if any exceptions are made, they will be only from political bias or some sort of prejudice rather than from any legitimate misgivings or feeling from a broad-minded point of view that the welfare of the country or its administration is in any way endangered.

A good captain, we would say, takes over the helm from such illustrious predecessors as Laurier and King.

NEW DOUBLE WINGS FOR RCAF RADIO-OFFICERS

NEW DOUBLE WINGS FOR RADIO-NAVIGATORS

NEW RCAF WINGS—It has been decided that all RCAF aircrew are to wear double wings in the future. The new wings will be similar to the familiar Air Force pilots' wings. RCAF Headquarters, Ottawa, announced today that radio-officers and radio-navigators, who together with pilots, make up the present peacetime list, are to wear double wings resembling those worn by pilots, but with distinctive centres indicating the aircrew branch.

GUIDANCE IS WORLD NEED

Speaking from the text "The Lord God shall guide thee continually," Rev. A. J. Lawton, minister of Port Simpson, who is occupying the pulpit of First United Church in the absence on vacation of Rev. R. A. Wilson, gave an impressive and thought-provoking sermon yesterday morning. It was the first of a series of two on the same subject.

Mr. Lawton pointed out that there was the implication that guidance was needed. Children often thought that they needed no guidance but as they grew older, they realized the need for it. The world needed it today, possibly more than ever before. Much of the feeling of frustration and even fear in the world was the result of lack of guidance. Did the peoples of the world but follow the guidance that was so freely and fully offered by Jesus Christ there would be an end to struggles between nations and the Kingdom of Heaven would be an actuality.

During the service the baptism of John Carroll was conducted by Mr. Lawton. This was of unusual interest to the congregation as Mrs. Carroll was the former Miss Swanna Olafson, the accomplished organist at the church for many years. Miss Way accompanied Mrs. Carroll during the ceremony. Soloist for the morning service was J. S. Wilson, who sang "Lord, Make me Strong," with Mrs. Dakin as organist.

City Artist Back From Alaska Trip

With two successful art exhibits behind him and an invitation to remain and paint in Alaska, Bjorn Selvig, Prince Rupert artist, returned to the city Friday from a month's trip to Ketchikan and Juneau.

He plans to proceed to the Cariboo district in the near future on another painting expedition, but not before he holds an exhibition of his work here next week. Later he will go to Seattle.

"The people of Juneau particularly seemed to like my work," he said. "I sold a number of paintings and was invited to come to Alaska to live and work."

The Juneau show, which he described as "very successful" was sponsored by the Arts and Crafts Association of the Alaskan capital. The Ketchikan exhibition was under sponsorship of the Ketchikan Professional Women's Association.

While in the Juneau area, he found time to paint four pictures, all of which were sold during his exhibition there. The Alaska scenery, he said, was extremely beautiful.

Mr. Selvig flew from Juneau to Ketchikan and returned from Ketchikan on the fish packer Sydney. He was accompanied by Mrs. Selvig.

LETTERBOX

Editor, Daily News:

I have become quite interested in the so-called "beauty contest" now in swing, having read about it several times. At first I thought it was a very good idea, admitting anyone and offering high awards. But as I read on I was disappointed to realize it is the usual thing—a popularity contest disguised behind the inviting name of "beauty" contest.

Perhaps when the contestants gather at Vancouver they will enter a real beauty contest—one with chosen judges who know beauty and know nothing whatever of the girl—or her family. After all, the people of Hollywood, people who are interested in beauty, photogenic beauty, are not at all impressed by the girl's friends or her social standing. They look at the girl.

It is rather foolishly idealistic to hope that the patrons, no matter how sincere they may be, will study the girl herself. Will they look for personality, poise and naturalness—all a part of beauty—or will they consider which is most well-liked?

Even at my age I've seen quite a few so-called beauty contests and find them all alike. I have seen girls with great beauty, not prettiness, poise and charm lose those contests because they were mere farmers' daughters.

How about a fair contest? A real beauty contest. I'm sure it would be a much more worthy goal for a girl to work toward.

EDITH CAVELL MEMORIALIZED

JASPER PARK LODGE—In the beautiful little stone Anglican Church of St. Mary and St. George, Jasper, Alberta, nestled in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, a memorial service took place Sunday morning to honor the memory of Nurse Edith Cavell, who was a member of the British medical unit operating in Brussels in the early part of World War I, when the Germans suddenly took over the city on their march upon Paris, the French capital.

Rev. W. E. Harrison of St. John Church, Edmonton, Alta., assisted by the Rev. G. D. Kelley, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Edmonton, who have taken over this parish for the summer months, officiated. Mr. Harrison chose as his subject the last words of Nurse Cavell:

"Patriotism is not enough. I must have no bitterness or hatred toward anyone," spoken just before she was taken out of her cell in Brussels at five o'clock in the morning of October 12, shot, and buried in a shallow grave where she fell.

Mount Edith Cavell, Glacier of the Angels, named after this heroic woman on August 5, 1921, for devotion to God and mankind, stands 11,033 feet above sea level and reigns resplendent over the Athabasca Valley. Its snow-capped peak may be distinctly seen from Jasper Park Lodge. Situated on Lac Beauvert, Jasper National Park, 20 miles distant, in addition to the mountain itself, there is neighboring Mount of Sorrows, on its breast lies the other wing of the great Angel glacier, nestling between these two rugged rocks while Lake of Forgiveness, with its green waters shimmering in the sunlight, lies at the foot of this majestic peak.

FATHER CARROLL IS FAREWELLED

Parish Bids Good-Bye to Popular Priest

Annunciation School Hall was filled on Thursday night when a large crowd gathered to bid farewell to Father James A. Carroll, the parish priest, who will be leaving shortly for Fort St. John.

Father Carroll came straight from Ireland to Prince Rupert in May 1942, becoming parish priest in June 1946 when Father Lantagne was transferred to Vancouver.

A short program, arranged by Miss Frances Moore, opened the evening with four selections being sung by the school choir, accompanied by Miss Moore. Mrs. J. L. Blain gave a recitation in French. Miss Pat Clarke danced the sailor's hornpipe and Alan Forman played a piano solo.

Father Edward Green was chairman. Bishop Anthony Jordan introduced the new parish priest, Father Frank Rayner, formerly of Ottawa, who recently arrived here from Vancouver. His Excellency then gave an address, paying tribute to Father Carroll's talents and splendid work during his seven-year period in Prince Rupert. The Bishop spoke for himself and on behalf of the whole parish of the great esteem and affection one and all had for Father Carroll.

His Excellency spoke in praise of the great work accomplished by the Sisters of St. Joseph, three of whom are leaving shortly—Sisters Mary Gervaise, the superior who has been 11 years in Prince Rupert and Sister Saint Isadore and Sister Sabina. To them too went the best wishes of all who knew them.

On behalf of the entire parish John Comadina, president of the Catholic Youth Organization, read a beautiful illuminated address in booklet form, the work of the Sisters. This he presented to Father Carroll with other gifts from his parishioners as tokens of appreciation and gratitude for his never-failing help and kindness. "It is with the deepest regret we say farewell to Father Carroll and all wish him happiness and better health in Fort St. John," said Mr. Comadina. Father Carroll, in his inimitable Irish way, expressed sincere thanks and appreciation to the ladies, the men the C.Y.O., the altar boys and children of the parish for their generosity and co-operation in every way.

Mrs. E. Telseth, president of the C.W.L., was general convenor of the affair and, with Mrs. C. Schaeffer and Mrs. St. Amour, took charge of the hall, which was beautifully decorated with masses of flowers. On a table covered with a lovely lace cloth were white candles and a huge iced cake made by Van's Bakery, with the words "Best Wishes and bon voyage Father Carroll."

The evening ended with serving of tastefully prepared refreshments in charge of Mrs. J. Bruce, Mrs. N. R. Young, assisted by Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. R. E. Moore, Mrs. L. Dolron and Mrs. G. R. Brett. Many others helped with the serving.

MRS. REDDIE PASSES AWAY

After an illness of several years which several months ago necessitated her removal south, Mrs. Mary Reddie, well known pioneer Prince Rupert woman, died on Friday in hospital near Vancouver. The funeral is taking place in the south.

Mrs. Reddie, who was a native of Scotland, came to Prince Rupert in the very early days with her husband who was one of the city's pioneer medical practitioners. Dr. Reddie died in 1912 and Mrs. Reddie had resided here since that time. Before coming to Prince Rupert, she and her husband had been for twelve years at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Mrs. Reddie lived in her small cottage on Fifth Avenue West which was at one time situated on Church Street, an offshoot of old Centre Street. This was before the original townsite lots were put on the market in 1909.

Deceased was 87 years of age. She had many friends from pioneer days here.

WIDE INTEREST IN CITY RITES

Edmonton and Victoria shared interest in a wedding solemnized here Saturday eve when Patricia May Crowne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Chowne of the Alberta capital, became the bride of Douglas B. Fawcett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Fawcett, of Victoria. The rite was performed at First United Church by Rev. A. J. Lawton.

Attired in an afternoon dress of pearl grey crepe with pink accessories, the bride was given in marriage by Lawrence Dakin. She was attended by Mrs. Diana Blair who wore a dove grey dress with turquoise accessories.

Ronald Stewart was groomsmen.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Lawrence Dakin played an organ solo "Because."

Following the ceremony a number of friends attended a reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dakin. Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett will reside in Prince Rupert where the bridegroom is on the staff of Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

"THAT'S A VERY SENSIBLE PURCHASE M'LOVE — WHY DIDN'T YOU BUY A COUPLE?"

"Huh? What'd you say? Oh — you mean those malty-rich, honey-golden Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes?"
"They're some dish!"
"They're so cleverly made — of two grains, you know — really divine Canadian wheat and malted barley!"
"They sure taste out of this world, darling — but you're forgetting that other reason why I go for Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes."
"Energy, you mean? The carbohydrates that load you up with energy so they call you the human dynamo?"
"Right! And what are those things that help build up the old muscle?"
"Proteins, Hercules. And Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes sure have got 'em!"
"And phosphorus — what's that for?"
"That's for sturdy bones and sound teeth!"
"Eating Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes every day — no wonder I'm such a husky guy!"
"And Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes give you iron for the blood — and other food essentials!"
"Say — Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes are ready to eat right from the package, so let's have some, quick!"

A Worthy Choice

CANADA, particularly the West, had a golden era during the regime of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Liberal government. Under that happy administration the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was conceived and actuated. Prince Rupert came into being and the great central interior country was opened up. There is no point in speculating now upon how different things might have been for Canada and this part of the country had the election of 1911 not gone as it did. After all, there were factors of vaster and more overwhelming proportions than mere Canadian politics which shaped the course of events and the destinies of this Dominion during the ensuing decades.

Possibly, it is a good portent that the leadership of the Liberal party is now assumed and the Prime Ministership will soon be taken over by another great French-Canadian whose broad mindedness and ability and understanding have been well proven despite the comparative fewness of his years in public life. There might have been sentimental favor among some westerners for a westerner as the leader and Prime Minister. But, on the other hand, will western Canada be at any disadvantage with an easterner with broad vision, such as admittedly was that of the late Sir Wilfrid, in those influential positions? In the end, who knows we may be better off! So there is good reason to believe that the choice of Louis St. Laurent at Ottawa on Saturday was good and timely. Remembering Laurier, the omen would not seem unfavorable.

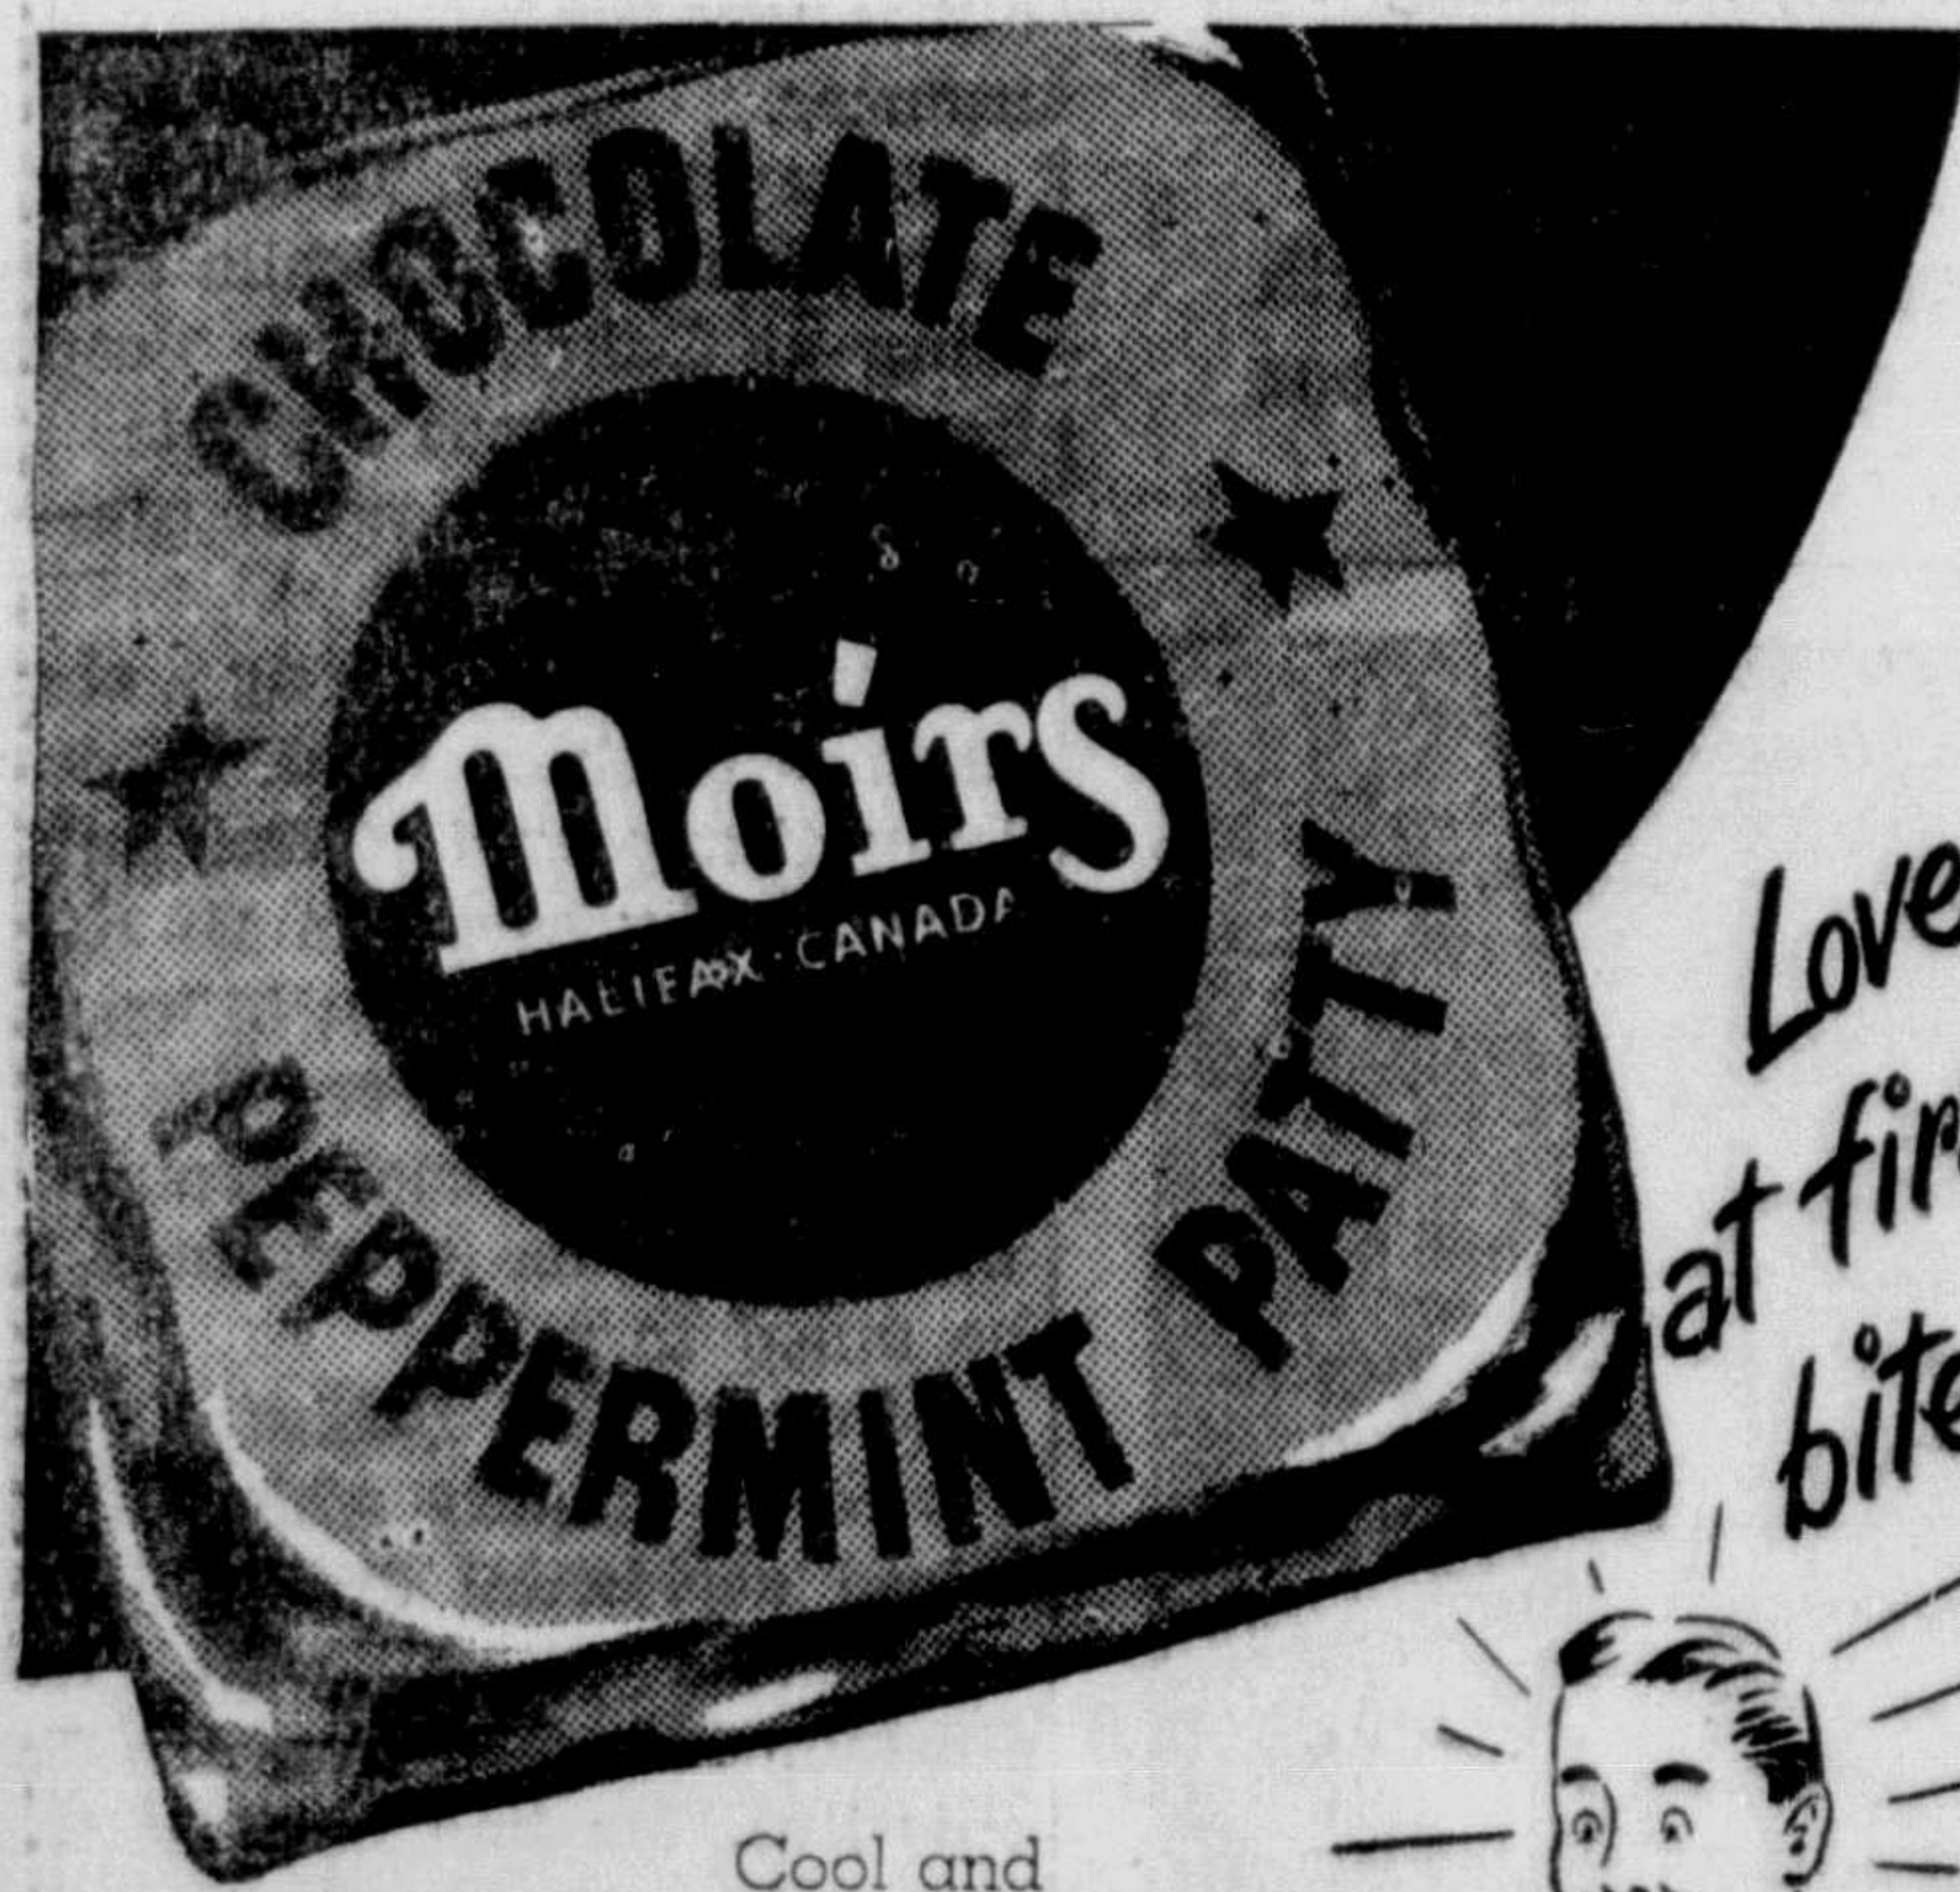

And, if there are those who look skeptically upon the choice of a Quebecer and a French-Canadian (incidentally Mr. St. Laurent is half Irish and half French by parentage), the overwhelming vote on the first ballot and the quickly developing unanimity of his choice were indication that his was no mere Quebec choice. In fact, two of the three candidates were from the French-Canadian province.

Now that the choice has been made, it is not unreasonable comment to contemplate under Mr. St. Laurent, a stimulated Liberal party and a government unified in purpose—well equipped and able to deal with the weighty problems, national and international, that lie immediately ahead.

Mr. St. Laurent, it is true, is not a young man, nor is he excessively old. However, he will be able to surround himself, when he forms his administration, with many ministers of youth, some of whom, youth notwithstanding, have already great experience and proven ability and may well prove to be equipped to carry on as leader when Mr. St. Laurent's time to retire comes. In fact, Mr. St. Laurent has every opportunity of organizing a "cabinet of the talents." Mr. King told the convention that he would be happy to carry on "in the ranks" after returning as "commander-in-chief." Mr. Gardiner was quick to offer to remain as "spark plug" of the Liberal party.

The choice of the Liberal leader has been made with clear decision and in fully democratic manner. It was a choice for the Liberal party alone to make and, if any exceptions are made, they will be only from political bias or some sort of prejudice rather than from any legitimate misgivings or feeling from a broad-minded point of view that the welfare of the country or its administration is in any way endangered.

A good captain, we would say, takes over the helm from such illustrious predecessors as Laurier and King.

NEW DOUBLE WINGS FOR RCAF RADIO-OFFICERS

NEW DOUBLE WINGS FOR RADIO-NAVIGATORS

NEW RCAF WINGS—It has been decided that all RCAF aircrew are to wear double wings in the future. The new wings will be similar to the familiar Air Force pilots' wings. RCAF Headquarters, Ottawa, announced today that radio-officers and radio-navigators, who together with pilots, make up the present peacetime list, are to wear double wings resembling those worn by pilots, but with distinctive centres indicating the aircrew branch.

GUIDANCE IS WORLD NEED

Speaking from the text "The Lord God shall guide thee continually," Rev. A. J. Lawton, minister of Port Simpson, who is occupying the pulpit of First United Church in the absence on vacation of Rev. R. A. Wilson, gave an impressive and thought-provoking sermon yesterday morning. It was the first of a series of two on the same subject.

Mr. Lawton pointed out that there was the implication that guidance was needed. Children often thought that they needed no guidance but as they grew older, they realized the need for it. The world needed it today, possibly more than ever before. Much of the feeling of frustration and even fear in the world was the result of lack of guidance. Did the peoples of the world but follow the guidance that was so freely and fully offered by Jesus Christ there would be an end to struggles between nations and the Kingdom of Heaven would be an actuality.

During the service the baptism of John Carroll was conducted by Mr. Lawton. This was of unusual interest to the congregation as Mrs. Carroll was the former Miss Swanna Olafson, the accomplished organist at the church for many years. Miss Way accompanied Mrs. Carroll during the ceremony.

Soloist for the morning service was J. S. Wilson, who sang "Lord, Make me Strong," with Mrs. Dakin as organist.

City Artist Back From Alaska Trip

With two successful art exhibits behind him and an invitation to remain and paint in Alaska, Bjorn Selvig, Prince Rupert artist, returned to the city Friday from a month's trip to Ketchikan and Juneau.

He plans to proceed to the Cariboo district in the near future on another painting expedition, but not before he holds an exhibition of his work here next week. Later he will go to Seattle.

"The people of Juneau particularly seemed to like my work," he said. "I sold a number of paintings and was invited to come to Alaska to live and work."

The Juneau show, which he described as "very successful" was sponsored by the Arts and Crafts Association of the Alaskan capital. The Ketchikan exhibition was under sponsorship of the Ketchikan Professional Women's Association.

While in the Juneau area, he found time to paint four pictures, all of which were sold during his exhibition there. The Alaska scenery, he said, was extremely beautiful.

Mr. Selvig flew from Juneau to Ketchikan and returned from Ketchikan on the fish packer Sydney. He was accompanied by Mrs. Selvig.

LETTERBOX

Editor, Daily News:

I have become quite interested in the so-called "beauty contest" now in swing, having read about it several times. At first I thought it was a very good idea, admitting anyone and offering high awards. But as I read on I was disappointed to realize it is the usual thing—a popularity contest disguised behind the inviting name of "beauty" contest.

Perhaps when the contestants gather at Vancouver they will enter a real beauty contest—one with chosen judges who know beauty and know nothing whatever of the girl—or her family. After all, the people of Hollywood, people who are interested in beauty, photogenic beauty, are not at all impressed by the girl's friends or her social standing. They look at the girl.

It is rather foolishly idealistic to hope that the patrons, no matter how sincere they may be, will study the girl herself. Will they look for personality, poise and naturalness—all a part of beauty—or will they consider which is most well-liked?

Even at my age I've seen quite a few so-called beauty contests and find them all alike. I have seen girls with great beauty, not prettiness, poise and charm lose those contests because they were mere farmers' daughters.

How about a fair contest? A real beauty contest. I'm sure it would be a much more worthy goal for a girl to work toward.

EDITH CAVELL MEMORIALIZED

JASPER PARK LODGE—In the beautiful little stone Anglican Church of St. Mary and St. George, Jasper, Alberta, nestled in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, a memorial service took place Sunday morning to honor the memory of Nurse Edith Cavell, who was a member of the British medical unit operating in Brussels in the early part of World War I, when the Germans suddenly took over the city on their march upon Paris, the French capital.

Rev. W. E. Harrison of St. John Church, Edmonton, Alta., assisted by the Rev. G. D. Kelley, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Edmonton, who have taken over this parish for the summer months, officiated. Mr. Harrison chose as his subject the last words of Nurse Cavell:

"Patriotism is not enough. I must have no bitterness or hatred toward anyone," spoken just before she was taken out of her cell in Brussels at five o'clock in the morning of October 12, shot, and buried in a shallow grave where she fell.

Mount Edith Cavell, Glacier of the Angels, named after this heroic woman on August 5, 1921, for devotion to God and mankind, stands 11,033 feet above sea level and reigns resplendent over the Athabasca Valley. Its snow-capped peak may be distinctly seen from Jasper Park Lodge. Situated on Lac Beauvert, Jasper National Park, 20 miles distant. In addition to the mountain itself, there is neighboring Mount of Sorrows, on its breast lies the other wing of the great Angel glacier, nestling between these two rugged rocks while Lake of Forgiveness, with its green waters shimmering in the sunlight, lies at the foot of this majestic peak.

FATHER CARROLL IS FAREWELLED

Parish Bids Good-Bye to Popular Priest

Annunciation School Hall was filled on Thursday night when a large crowd gathered to bid farewell to Father James A. Carroll, the parish priest, who will be leaving shortly for Fort St. John.

Father Carroll came straight from Ireland to Prince Rupert in May 1942, becoming parish priest in June 1946 when Father Lantagne was transferred to Vancouver.

A short program, arranged by Miss Frances Moore, opened the evening with four selections being sung by the school choir, accompanied by Miss Moore. Mrs. J. L. Blain gave a recitation in French. Miss Pat Clarke danced the sailor's hornpipe and Alan Forman played a piano solo.

Father Edward Green was chairman. Bishop Anthony Jordan introduced the new parish priest, Father Frank Rayner, formerly of Ottawa, who recently arrived here from Vancouver. His Excellency then gave an address, paying tribute to Father Carroll's talents and splendid work during his seven-year period in Prince Rupert. The Bishop spoke for himself and on behalf of the whole parish of the great esteem and affection one and all had for Father Carroll.

His Excellency spoke in praise of the great work accomplished by the Sisters of St. Joseph, three of whom are leaving shortly—Sisters Mary Gervaise, the superior who has been 11 years in Prince Rupert and Sister Saint Isadore and Sister Sabina. To them too went the best wishes of all who knew them.

On behalf of the entire parish John Comadina, president of the Catholic Youth Organization, read a beautiful illuminated address in booklet form, the work of the Sisters. This he presented to Father Carroll with other gifts from his parishioners as tokens of appreciation and gratitude for his never-failing help and kindness.

"It is with the deepest regret we say farewell to Father Carroll and all wish him happiness and better health in Fort St. John," said Mr. Comadina. Father Carroll, in his inimitable Irish way, expressed sincere thanks and appreciation to the ladies, the men the C.Y.O., the altar boys and children of the parish for their generosity and co-operation in every way.

Mrs. E. Telseth, president of the C.W.L., was general convenor of the affair and, with Mrs. C. Schaeffer and Mrs. St. Amour, took charge of the hall, which was beautifully decorated with masses of flowers. On a table covered with a lovely lace cloth were white candles and a huge iced cake made by Van's Bakery, with the words "Best Wishes and bon voyage Father Carroll."

The evening ended with serving of tastefully prepared refreshments in charge of Mrs. J. Bruce, Mrs. N. R. Young, assisted by Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. R. E. Moore, Mrs. L. Dolron and Mrs. G. R. Brett. Many others helped with the serving.

After an illness of several years which several months ago necessitated her removal south, Mrs. Mary Reddie, well known pioneer Prince Rupert woman, died on Friday in hospital near Vancouver. The funeral is taking place in the south.

Mrs. Reddie, who was a native of Scotland, came to Prince Rupert in the very early days with her husband who was one of the city's pioneer medical practitioners. Dr. Reddie died in 1912 and Mrs. Reddie had resided here since that time. Before coming to Prince Rupert, she and her husband had been for twelve years at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Mrs. Reddie lived in her small cottage on Fifth Avenue West which was at one time situated on Church Street, an offshoot of old Centre Street. This was before the original townsite lots were put on the market in 1909.

Deceased was 87 years of age. She had many friends from pioneer days here.

WIDE INTEREST IN CITY RITES

Edmonton and Victoria shared interest in a wedding solemnized here Saturday eve when Patricia May Cowne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Cowne of the Alberta capital, became the bride of Douglas B. Fawcett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Fawcett, of Victoria. The rite was performed at First United Church by Rev. A. J. Lawton.

Attired in an afternoon dress of pearl grey crepe with pink accessories, the bride was given in marriage by Lawrence Dakin. She was attended by Mrs. Diana Blair who wore a dove grey dress with turquoise accessories.

Ronald Stewart was groomsmen.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Lawrence Dakin played an organ solo "Because."

Following the ceremony a number of friends attended a reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dakin. Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett will reside in Prince Rupert where the bridegroom is on the staff of Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

"THAT'S A VERY SENSIBLE PURCHASE M'LOVE — WHY DIDN'T YOU BUY A COUPLE?"

"Huh? What'd you say? Oh — you mean those malty-rich, honey-golden Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes?"

"They're so delicious!"

"They're so cleverly made — of two grains, you know — really divine Canadian wheat and malted barley!"

"They sure taste out of this world, darling — but you're forgetting that other reason why I go for Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes."

"Energy, you mean? The carbohydrates that load you up with energy so they call you the human dynamo?"

"Right! And what are those things that help build up the old muscle?"

"Proteins, Hercules. And Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes sure have got 'em!"

"And phosphorus — what's that for?"

"That's for sturdy bones and sound teeth."

"Eating Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes every day — no wonder I'm such a husky guy!"

"And Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes give you iron for the blood — and other food essentials."

"Say — Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes are ready to eat right from the package, so let's have some, quick."

PRINCE RUPERT, SMITHERS DIVIDE
DOUBLE-HEADER IN SWAT SERIES

PRINCE RUPERT 7, SMITHERS 1
SMITHERS 13, PRINCE RUPERT 12

The classic baseball argument of Smithers versus Prince Rupert was settled for the season at Smithers on Sunday when a Prince Rupert all-star team invaded the interior town and took the first game of a double-header by a score of 7-1, dropping the second game to Smithers by a 13-12 count.

The games were the second and third of the annual series which began at Prince Rupert on July 25 when Prince Rupert took the first game by a score of 2-1, giving the city team the margin for the series.

Prince Rupert had clear domination in the first game in which they held Smithers without score until the ninth inning. Jack Lindsay, who was on the mound for the full nine innings, gave up only four hits to the Smithers squad. Smithers' only run resulted from two errors which allowed Sherrit, Smithers' centre-fielder to get on first, and then later to proceed from second to home.

Prince Rupert scored its initial run in the first inning when Bruce Simundson went to first after being hit by a pitched ball. He stole second base and was scored by a single by Jack Lindsay.

In the fourth Lindsay scored off an error. Lindsay made the circuit again in the sixth off a double, being brought home by a single by Wndie. Wndie got to second on an error and was scored by Doug Kerr.

In the ninth, Smithers pitcher Carl Spicer slackened off noticeably, allowing three hits which brought in three runs Morgan singled and was brought in by Pavlikis. Bruce Simundson also singled and scored off a single by Pavlikis. Pavlikis came in on Wndie, who got to first on an error but was left on base.

SECOND GAME

Prince Rupert started off strong in the evening game, scoring three runs in the first and five runs in the second. Smithers, however, followed up with three runs in the second and five in the third, tying the score at 8-8 at the end of that inning.

In the fourth inning, Prince Rupert garnered two more runs which were offset in part by a run scored by Smithers. Smithers tied the score at 10-10 with a run in the sixth.

Neither team scored in the seventh and eighth, but Prince Rupert got back in the groove again in the ninth, bringing in two runs. Smithers retaliated, with three which gave them a 13-12 lead at the game's end.

Prince Rupert had youthful Jack Sharpe on the mound for the first two innings, then replaced him for a short time with Eluik. Eluik then was replaced by Lindsay who pitched five and two-third innings.

SOCCER

Play opened in Friday night's Mobley Cup football game which High School lost 3 to 1, with the Legion pressing. Boulter was called on several times but was safe. The High School forward line, however, got away in a fine piece of combination with every one of the line taking part and with Brodie saving at close quarters from Wilson (sr.). The Legion came back and Olsen and then Hebb did well to hold them in check. Bill Murray opened the score for them with a shot that swerved into the goal when the Legion back division slacked a moment. Shortly afterwards a great drive from Armstrong was too high. Olsen and Halverson got away and Brodie stopped Owens' fine cross. A moment later Brodie had to save twice and showed good resource in coming out to cut off a good shot by Pat Wilson. But the Legion went further ahead when Bill Murray got his second goal. He was lucky to get the chance for the ball was beating him but struck his arm and, regaining control, he gave Boulter no chance.

Brodie was the first goalie to be tested, saving a treacherous high shot from Wilson (sr.). Owens got a good cross over but Nelson was very safe. Then the Legion forwards got away and Bill Murray missed an open goal. Charlie Currie broke up another Legion attack and Pat Wilson was squeezed out when he nearly broke through. Boulter brought off the best save of the match when Bill Murray headed a great cross in. The shot seemed to have goal written all over it but Tommy got one hand to it and brought off a sensational save. Wilson (sr.) and Greer were having many a tussle. Glen Smith got away and forced a corner. He placed it perfectly and, when Boulter and Olsen both went to clear it, Boulter punched the ball against Olsen's head and it rebounded through for the Legion's third goal. High School came back hard and Bob Currie and Pat Wilson gave the Legion defence an anxious time. The students were deserving of a goal and it came when Wilson (sr.) took a throw-in, quickly passing the ball to Bob Currie who touched it on to Pat Wilson. He took it in his stride and had the ball past Brodie before the latter could make a move. It was a picture move. Full time came three minutes later with the students pressing.

Teams:
Canadian Legion — Brodie; Nelson, Dawes; Yelland, Eby, Greer; Glen Smith, Burnip, Bill Murray, Armstrong, Dave Murray.
Sid Woodside refereed in his usual capable manner. Bob Murray and Jim Bremner were linesmen.
Goal scorers — Canadian Legion: Bill Murray 2 (other goal scored by defender), High School: Pat Wilson 1.

Brodie kept a grand goal for the Legion and seemed to be on the way to his first shut-out but he certainly had no chance with Pat Wilson's shot. Nelson was again a tower of strength in defence, tackling with judgment and kicking strongly. Dawes backed him up well. Eby was a good spoiling centre-half. He tackled well and fed his forwards neatly. Yelland also was very sound and Greer was always in the thick of things. A great header of his in the first half, gave the High School defence an anxious moment. Bill Murray did a nice job at centre forward, opening out the play but he missed two great opportunities in the second half. Armstrong was a very good inside man, dropping back to tackle at times and then going ahead. Glen Smith made dangerous runs and was usually too good for Large. Dave Murray was fair. Burnip did not show up so much.

The High School were shot when several of the boys were working overtime and they rang in two old-timers, Magnus Halverson and Jack Wilson, other places being filled by spares. Boulter did a grand job in goal though someone was at fault

Pioneer Personalities

Appropriately enough, Prince Rupert's first city clerk arrived away in advance of incorporation and in many ways was well equipped to take over his exacting and important duties from the very beginning of municipal business.

He was not present, however, at the first meeting of the first city council. This took place in the Court House, or government Agent's building, which is now used as a museum. At the first sitting of Mayor Stork and aldermen, a gentleman named Tattersall performed the duties of clerk and it was after this that Mr. Woods took over as the regularly appointed city clerk.

Woods had plenty to think about, and be responsible for. The first council had weighty matters to consider when deciding on and carrying through to completion a variety of services and accommodations necessary to the health and convenience of an incoming population.

"Ernie" was an Englishman. It was his job to keep the records, correspond, attend meetings, submit reports, meet people of varying degrees of importance and listen to all sorts of questions. And these were only a few of his obligations.

DATED at the Land Registry Office, Prince Rupert, B.C., this 29th day of July, 1948. A.D.

ANDREW THOMPSON,
Deputy Registrar of Titles. (211)

ERNEST A. WOODS

Woods came from Carlton, in Nottinghamshire, England. He landed in Prince Rupert prior to 1910, coming north from Victoria. His first job was that of stenographer for the harbor master, Mr. Bacon. A year or so later, he resigned to hold a similar post with David H. Hays, a brother of Charles M. Hays, and at that time, in private business here. It was in the summer of 1910 that he began work as city clerk. He remained clerk for years, useful at all times to the changing councils.

An attractive dwelling at the Junction of Fifth Avenue West and Borden and Taylor Streets was built by Mr. Woods. Then, that part of the city had far fewer homes than it has today. There, he raised a family and later he sold out and moved south.

Drum Majorettes Aid Civic Centre

TERRACE—The Civic Centre ticket selling campaign got away to a good start on Saturday afternoon when four pretty girls, dressed in the costume of drum majorettes, circulated through the busy main streets selling tickets to cheerful buyers. There were very few refusals. At the busiest corner of the town a booth had been erected and music over the loudspeaker entertained the afternoon shoppers. George MacAdams and A. Yoxall were the announcers and helping in the booth were Mrs. S. G. Mills, Miss E. Head and Mrs. C. R. de Kergommeaux. Two weeks from today there will be another afternoon for the selling of tickets and on September 4 the girls and Civic Centre officials will go to Prince Rupert to sell tickets there and the drawing for the lucky ticket will take place at the dance on Labor day.

TERRACE TAXI CAR IS BURNED

TERRACE, (Special to Daily News)—Fire of uncertain origin, starting in the upholstery of the front seat, destroyed the interior of John Sikler's taxi car at 2:30 Sunday morning four miles from Terrace on the Lakelse road. Sikler, who was returning alone from a trip to Lakelse, was unhurt.

Bert Bartlett returned Sunday night from a motoring trip to Burns Lake where, he says, more construction is going on than anywhere else in the interior. In addition to a good-sized hotel, there are eight or nine other new buildings, making good progress.

With a party of 37 'teen-age boys from various parts of the United States whom he had organized for an eight-weeks' summer vacation camp near Vancouver, Dr. M. V. While here the group were taken on a visit to the plant of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. and to other points of interest around the city, their tour here having been organized by Inspector F. B. Woods-Johnston, provincial police, who is interested in boys' work.

The cruise north through the "Inside Passage" on the Catala is topping off in a highly thrilling way the memorable holiday which the boys have been spending. They came north from San Francisco to Vancouver in their own bus.

If the watch doesn't come up to your expectations, why you always know where to have the trouble adjusted or the watch exchanged.

If we guarantee a watch that guarantee is binding.

Also we have been in the business so long that we have a chance to know which are the ones which give satisfaction the longest.

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

United States visitors, looking over Roosevelt Park, have sometimes inquired, with a twinkle in the eye what Prince Rupert ever had against the late President. It's pleasant, however, to reflect that, after a lengthy delay the area will be converted into a place easy on the eyes and not necessary to apologize for. Nature intended it to be Rupert's out-of-doors show place.

Mr. King is 74 years old and he's been a busy man most of the time. In retirement, he will be older; but that doesn't mean he won't be occupied with something. An empty life would be punishment. He was out in Prince Rupert years ago. A group of the faithful including the late Fred Stork, and a band, met him at the railway station and that evening in the Westholme Theatre he expounded for about two hours.

The way affairs are shaping now, a powerful naval telescope will be needed to detect the difference between Port Day and Sport Day.

Fishermen earn a living the hard way. Sure it is that now and again there are substantial earnings when fishing and markets are both good but, on the whole, losses and hardships can, and do, come their way. To be washed overboard and never seen again, to experience burns and broken bones, to go short of sleep and wear wet, as well as dry, clothes—yes, they know all about these happenings, and call it all in the day's luck. There's a lot of action, behind a halibut or a salmon steak.

Many persons who dwell in Alaska travel over the Canadian National Railways through Prince Rupert. Shipments from Alaskan lumber mills pass through here. American-caught fish for the U.S. markets go this way. There soon will be Alaska pulp mills and a fleet of freighters in northern waters is foreseen. Why sail 600 miles south to unload?

A proportion of industry in Canada has been selling raw material to be shipped away and converted into numerous manufactured articles. This meant gainful work and wages from year end to year end, leaving Canada with less raw material

STEPPING UP PRODUCTION

Riverside Now Turning Out
About 50 Tons of Tungsten
Concentrates Weekly

J. H. Scott, San Francisco, managing director of the Riverside mine on the Alaska side of the Salmon River Valley, was a passenger aboard the Camosun last evening going through to Stewart for one of his periodic visits of inspection to the property. He said that it was planned to step up production at the property as rapidly as men could be obtained. At present it is producing milled tungsten concentrates at the rate of about 50 tons weekly, the crew numbering about 25 men. The concentrates are shipped from Stewart by Canadian vessels under a special suspension of the Jones Act which was recently extended for another year.

Accompanying Mr. Scott north are Mrs. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. T. Barton of San Francisco. They will spend a week at the mine.

Miss Evelyn McNab arrived in the city on the Camosun last evening from her nurses' training duties at Essondale to spend vacation here.

Bishop Anthony Jordan O.M. I. left on the Prince George Saturday night for a trip to Vancouver on ecclesiastical business.

SALT LAKE IS IN FAVOR AGAIN AS POPULAR SWIMMING RESORT

Now that Tony Crawley has started up a snappy and frequent ferry service and that limited improvements have been made to the floats and walks, the Salt Lake is once again proving a popular haven for local natators, old and young, and not a few spectators. Yesterday, with its beautiful weather, was a fair example of what the Salt Lake means to Prince Rupert as the only immediate swimming resort.

Boats, large and small, were massed around the float, even making it awkward for the ferry boat to make its landing which is something that should be rectified with due consideration for this public carrier and its passengers.

At the Lake, the crowd of swimmers was almost reminding

James H. Thompson, who was in Vancouver recently, met J. A. Kirkpatrick, who was in business here during pioneer times and who has been living in Vancouver since. They talked on another old timer, George Morrow, and enjoyed a chat about early days in Prince Rupert and Skeena.

Miss Ruby Seymour of Vancouver arrived in Prince Rupert Sunday evening on the Camosun and is the guest of Mrs. James B. Gibson, Bishop's Lodge.

Charles Morris of Smithers, after a six weeks' stay in Prince Rupert General Hospital, was able to leave on Friday night's train on his return to his home in the interior. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. F. McGeachy.

Agreement was reached in a property settlement with her husband, Robert A. Smith, who recently was divorced from the red-haired mother-to-be. Mrs. Smith explained she would like to have her baby, but can't see her way clear to support the expected child, herself and a four-year old daughter by a previous marriage.
