Australia Turns Out Labor Government

Victoria For City Manager

George Re-Elected Mayor After Close Contest

VICTORIA (CP)—Mayor Percy George was re-elected in the civic elections here Thursday, defeating Ald. M. Aubrey Kent in the closest mayoral election since Victoria was incorporated in 1862. The vote was:

George,	4,846
Kent,	4,615

Mr. George has been mayor since 1944.

The voters, by plebiscite, also chose the city manager form of government by a margin of four to one, the vote being 6744 for and 1,691 against.

Elections were held in twenty of British Columbia's cities. Mayors elected include N. C. Stubbs, Nelson, Ald. E. C. Westwood, Nanaimo; E. G. Fletcher, Trail.

Some other cities, including Vancouver and Prince George, will hold elections next week.

Representative Sent To Jail

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Representative J. Parnell Thomas Republican, New Jersey, Friday received six to eighteen months in jail and a $10,000 fine for cheating the government by "padding" his office payroll.

Immediately after sentence was pronounced, Thomas' wife announced: "I intend to seek the Congressional seat about to be vacated by my husband."

Mrs. Thomas told reporters that her husband's resignation was in the mails.

Drill 500 Feet Down

Royalite Losing No Time On Graham Island

Drilling for oil on the Queen Charlottes has begun. Robert E. Stanhope, chief tool push with the Royalite Oil Co. at Skidegate, announced yesterday a depth of over 500 feet has been reached with the outfit that was recently set up.

Geologists have not determined the name of rock formation that has been reached, but it is of a hard sandy shale nature.

The drill was spudded in November 30 shortly after the third and final load of equipment was delivered from the beach head. A 10 3/4 inch casing is being used which required 145 bags of cement to construct.

Location of the drill is just north of Skidegate Mission on Graham Island.

No Homeland, But Urge to Study Lives On

Snow Falls On Highway

Flowing Gully on Today And Incoming Visitors Predict "Perfect" Condition

Charles Finney, who is engaged in sinking a shaft near usk for contractors Wood, Parr & McClary so Dominion Water Power Branch may measure rise and fall of Skeena River water, drove into the city this morning from the interior through one-and-one-half feet of snow in the snow area east of Kwinitsa. Government snow plows, however, were out and by noon it was expected to have completed the plowing. "Then the road should be in perfect condition," Finney thought.

Snow started falling on the road Sunday and there was more Thursday and Friday. It was soft and damp but was firming up today with cooler temperature.

BURGLARY TRY IN LADIES' STORE

Attempt was made some time before 11:45 last night, when police patrol found a rear basement door forced open, to enter the main store of Sweet Sixteen on Third Avenue. There were signs of a pinch bar indicating an attempt to break open another door leading from the basement to the main store floor above. This, however, had been, apparently, given up. A check of stock indicated that nothing had been taken.

Mrs. Dutton Passes Away

A resident of thirty-four years standing in Prince Rupert, Mrs. Charlotte Dutton passed away Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Michaloff, 534 Eleventh Ave. East. She had been in failing health for the last three years.

Mrs. Dutton was the widow of the late Llewellyn Dutton, who was with light department in the early days and who passed away in 1926. Born in St. Paul, Minnesota, seventy-three years ago, she came west as a young woman to Seattle and then to Victoria from which city she came to Prince Rupert. After the death of her husband in 1926 she moved to Kitwanga and had alternated residence between there and Prince Rupert since that time. There are four sons—Eugene Dutton, of Prince Rupert and Emory, Russell and Leon Dutton of Kitwanga and the one daughter, Mrs. C. Michaloff of Prince Rupert.

There will be a service Monday evening in the Grenville Court chapel of the B.C. Undertakers prior to the forwarding of the remains to Kitwanga where interment will be made.

Letter to Santa—Critical Situation At Civic Centre—Santa's Suit Is Lost

DEAR SANTA:—

Thanks for your letter. It is such a comforting thought to know that you have not forgotten your old friends after being away so long. I guess it is not unusual for some of us to have a bare Christmas and this year will be no exception with the price of things at such a high level. But if we think that our past Christmases have been bare they won't be a patch on the situation facing you this year. You see, when you left your special red suit with us last year to keep in good repair until you needed it again, we very carefully put it in the vault for safe keeping in readiness for your big 1949 Christmas when you require an extra suit for dress occasions.

However, when some gentleman came and asked for it on that memorable Saturday afternoon we thought that he was going to remove the mothballs and air the suit in readiness for our favorite Santa and I let him have it without asking too many questions.

Well, when I got your letter the other day asking to have everything in readiness for you this year, I went to the vault to get it out and, Lo and Behold, no suit. To add further to my amazement, I could not recall the name of the gentleman who took your garment and, as he has not returned it, I simply cannot forward it to you.

But, listen, Santa, both Irene and I remember the forgetful fellow borrowing it so don't worry too much if it is a little late. He may be having trouble getting all the mothballs out. There is no real cause for alarm as, if the worst comes to the worst, we have a carnival queen robe you could wear or perhaps a clown suit would do in a pinch.

So there you have it Santa—the naked truth so help you. I'll admit that the burning question around here for the past few months has been "Have you the Santa Suit?" I don't think under the present meteorological conditions that I should try and talk you into being a nudist but it looks as if it might be a forced play if we don't get that suit back. Is there any chance of your postponing Christmas until May 24 or July 1. You wouldn't need the suit then and I am sure that Norton could get you a bathing suit.

Don is fine, thank you, and sends his regards. Marg is married but she sure hopes that you can come but "suit yourself".

We've just had the Civic Election. It's windy outside too. However, you are still my favorite candidate and the kiddies are all expecting you to get in, in time for Christmas so "bare" that in mind.

Well Santa, it's really all my fault and as I go into my third sleepless night and fourth day of questioning innocent citizens, I rejoice in the fact that the person who is getting your suit in readiness will have had that much more time to prepare it and you should be even more debonaire and dashing than in years gone bye.

St'long Santa See Ya Soon . . .

Rowley Miles—Civic Centre

NOTE TO THE READER—This is a critical situation. Will the borrower please return the Santa Claus suit to the Civic Centre at once. Thank you!

First Speeches Since Election

Mayor and Aldermen Elected Heard at Future Citizens Dance

Members of Prince Rupert's new 1950 council were asked to give their first official speeches last night at the Civic Centre during the course of a "Future Citizens" dance when Mayor-for-a-day Eric Moore introduced Mayor-Elect G. W. Rudderham and Aldermen-Elect Donald Fitch, Douglas Frizzell, W. A. McLean and H. F. Glassey.

Each expressed the opinion that "Future Citizens' Day" was an excellent idea and should be repeated. Mayor N.E. Arnold also spoke, commending the "future citizens" on the way they conducted the council meeting and expressing the hope that, in due time, they would take a real and active part in civic affairs.

The "Junior" Mayor was introduced by Harold Hampton, President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who played host to the teen-agers and the several businessmen who had co-operated in making Future Citizens Day a success.

Officiating at the door were Eric Spears and George Tomlinson with A. M. Hurst as Student Card inspector. Music was rendered by the Five Dukes' Orchestra.

New Plan On Tugwell Isle

As being more suitable for development, particularly with a view to possible extension as a defence project, W. R. May, director of development, Canadian Pacific Airlines, is now working on a site along the southeast edge of Tugwell Island instead of the northeast section as was at first considered.

"You will notice that it is the more practical way for easy construction," Mr. May mentions in a letter to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. "What we are planning on at present is 4000 feet but you will notice (from plans and photographs, that it is possible to get six thousand feet which is all the Air Force require for a fighter strip).

Mr. May is working with the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce with a view to having an estimate obtained for the clearing and levelling of the site and may be back in Prince Rupert shortly in connection with the project. This may be after the return to the city from Ottawa of E. T. Applewhite, M.P. for Skeena, whose co-operation is being enlisted.

Coalition Winner In Election

"Sane Vote," Says Winners—"Tragedy," Say Losers

SYDNEY (CP)—Australia has ended eight years of Labor government by voting into power a two-party anti-Socialist coalition led by Robert Menzies. The Liberal-Country Party coalition, led by Menzies, former Prime Minister, which made the election a straight fight against Prime Minister J. B. Chifley's Socialist policies, today had won or taken a commanding lead in sixty-four seats, enough to give them control of the 125-seat House of Representatives. Labor appeared to have won fifty seats.

Menzies, aged 54, who was Prime Minister from 1939 to 1941, was successful in his own riding of Kooyong, Victoria. He made his campaign a straight attack on the government's socialization policies.

Chifley, 64, veteran trade union leader, went to the country on his government's record. He himself was re-elected to his old McQuarrie seat in Parliament.

"The people will soon realize the tragic mistake they have made," commented C. Anderson, vice-president of the Australian Trades and Labor Council. "They will be glad to return to Labor when the next appeal to the people is made."

Competing for 123 seats today were 122 Labor members and one Independent; 89 Liberals, 33 Country Party candidates and 68 from minor groups including 35 Communists.

The people also voted for 42 senators but the results of the Senate vote are not expected for some days.

In the last House of 75 seats, Liberals had 17 seats and Country Party, twelve. There were no independent Labor members and one Independent.

In the last election three years ago Labor won 43 seats.

"Basic principles of Menzies and his policy were more than vindicated by the sane vote of the people," said Arthur Fadden, leader of the Country Party. "The verdict shows that the core of Australia is sound."

Defeat of the Labor government in Australia followed by less than two weeks a similar verdict in New Zealand where the general election resulted in the defeat of the administration which had lasted fourteen years.

GETTING BETTER RADIO

PRINCE Rupert's radio listeners, who have suffered in silence so long now that they have just about resigned themselves to accepting anything that goes and do nothing about it, will be gratified that the member for Skeena has taken right to the top of Parliament the demand for better radio service here. More gratifying still was the statement of the minister who hinted that something might be done right soon to remedy the situation.

Everyone will hope that, as a result of Mr. Applewhaite's importuning, we will at long last get the full CBC network programs from CFPR before Christmas. It would be a real accomplishment for the Member for Skeena.

HOW TO BE HAPPY

BE up to your ears in things. This is the one sure way to happiness. It doesn't much matter what you are up to your ears in. Babies, ideas, driving a truck, tating—these are all ways to happiness if you really work at them.

People are generally happiest in early middle age. They may feel better and be more hopeful in youth, and they may know more when they are older. But in middle age, on the average, they are too busy to ponder long on whether they are happy or not.

Resourceful old people get around this by planning ahead. They lay out jobs for themselves that will take less physical and nervous energy, but will still be a shade harder than they can conveniently do. Young folk with their long, long thoughts and longer college educations have a hard time of it. But eventually most of them get working at something and brighten up. By the time they are short-winded and aching they will have too many troubles to be unhappy.

DISINTERESTED

NEWSPAPERS all over Canada have been commenting unfavorably on the affair of the federal minister of justice and the delay in making public the report of the combines commissioner on the flour milling industry. Many newspapers have been talking about the incident which has also been receiving much candid discussion in Parliament.

However, the public, which should be most deeply concerned, has not become very excited and the general effect upon the country seems to be about as impressive as a bucket trying to stop the flow of a river. This is typical, it seems, of the day in which we live. We become excited about hockey, baseball and such like but Canadians do not get interested in public affairs any more. The fight for freedom of speech and freedom of living was won so long ago that the victory belongs to history. Public-spiritedness and determination, we think, seem to be getting obsolete. Even a government scandal doesn't bother us very much. — Printed Word.

JACOB'S VISION

Archdeacon E. Hodson, St. Peter's Church.

Verses in Genesis tell the story of a crafty schemer who gained his brother's birthright by smart treacherous dealing. We see how man's extremity becomes God's opportunity. First we note 'the benighted wanderer.' Jacob fleeing from the wrath of his brother Esau, "went out from Beer-sheba . . . and he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set—a terrified fugitive running for his life. A crafty, selfish, over-reaching schemer, with a keen eye to the main chance, trying to avoid the result of his treachery.

But schemer or no schemer God was seeking to gain a hold on Jacob, the supplanter, for in him God saw "Israel a prince of God."

So "he lighted upon a certain place." Ah! Those certain places, experiences and places into which we run unawares, yet we often find that they are places where God has arranged to meet with us.

It may be a chance meeting with some Christian soul, or a Message that comes to us in God's house, or even some deep affliction or sorrow. Jacob, like the self-righteous sinner that he was, thought that he could make a success of life by deceit and smart dealing. He needed a lesson to show that the way to really successful living had its top in heaven. So, as he sleeps with a stone for his pillow, he sees a wonderful "ladder set up on earth and the top of it reached unto heaven."

This ladder becomes a type of Him by whom alone we can ascend into the heavens. Jesus said "ye shall see the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man." "I am the way" he says.

The ladder had its base on earth for man's salvation was purchased there by the Son of Man Himself but the top of it reaches up to heaven for the ladder of the cross reaches up to the throne of God's holiness. Jacob's ladder of human smartness and cleverness failed to connect earth and heaven as do all the ladders made by men "For being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they do not subject themselves to the righteousness of God." Rom. 10, 3.

The ladder formed a means of communication for the service of angels "behold the anlest a promise having been left to us of entering in any of you come short of it through unbelief.

Further there was a promise of protection "Benoua I am with thee and will keep thee." Jacob was a fear-stricken fugitive, fearing the anger of his brother for the dirty trick he had played on him. Twenty-years later he still says "I fear him" when he is about to meet his brother on his return to the homeland God promises him protection, and equally he promises the same to us, for the sense of fear, both of the known and of the unknown is a common heritage of us all. Yet there is promise after promise in the Bible to soothe all a Christian's fears.

Have you ever tried reciting the one hundred and twenty-first psalm when fear has taken hold of you? Well may our Lord ask us "Why are ye so fearful, O ye of little faith?" Then God promised to Jacob His own abiding presence. "I will not leave thee until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of." When Jacob awoke he had made a great discovery. "And Jacob awakened out of his sleep and he said: Surely the Lord is in this place, this is none other than the house of God and this is the gate of heaven."

To Jacob living in that rude age it was a surprise to find that his father's God is to be found so far from his father's tent. It takes men a long time to realize that no matter where we roam we can never get away from God. Read for yourself the 139th Ps., verses 7 to 12. From every spot on earth there is a means of contact with heaven.

He receives a revelation of God. "Behold the Lord stood above it" (i.e. the ladder) and makes three promises to Jacob. He is to be given possession of the land whereon he is lying "the land whereon thou liest to thee will I give it and to thy seed." Later God said to Jacob's posterity: "Behold all the land is before thee, go in and possess it." Through lack of faith in God's promise Israel failed to do so, and wandered for forty years in the wilderness because says the writer of the Hebrews of their belief. "Let us fear"

Murray Sez -

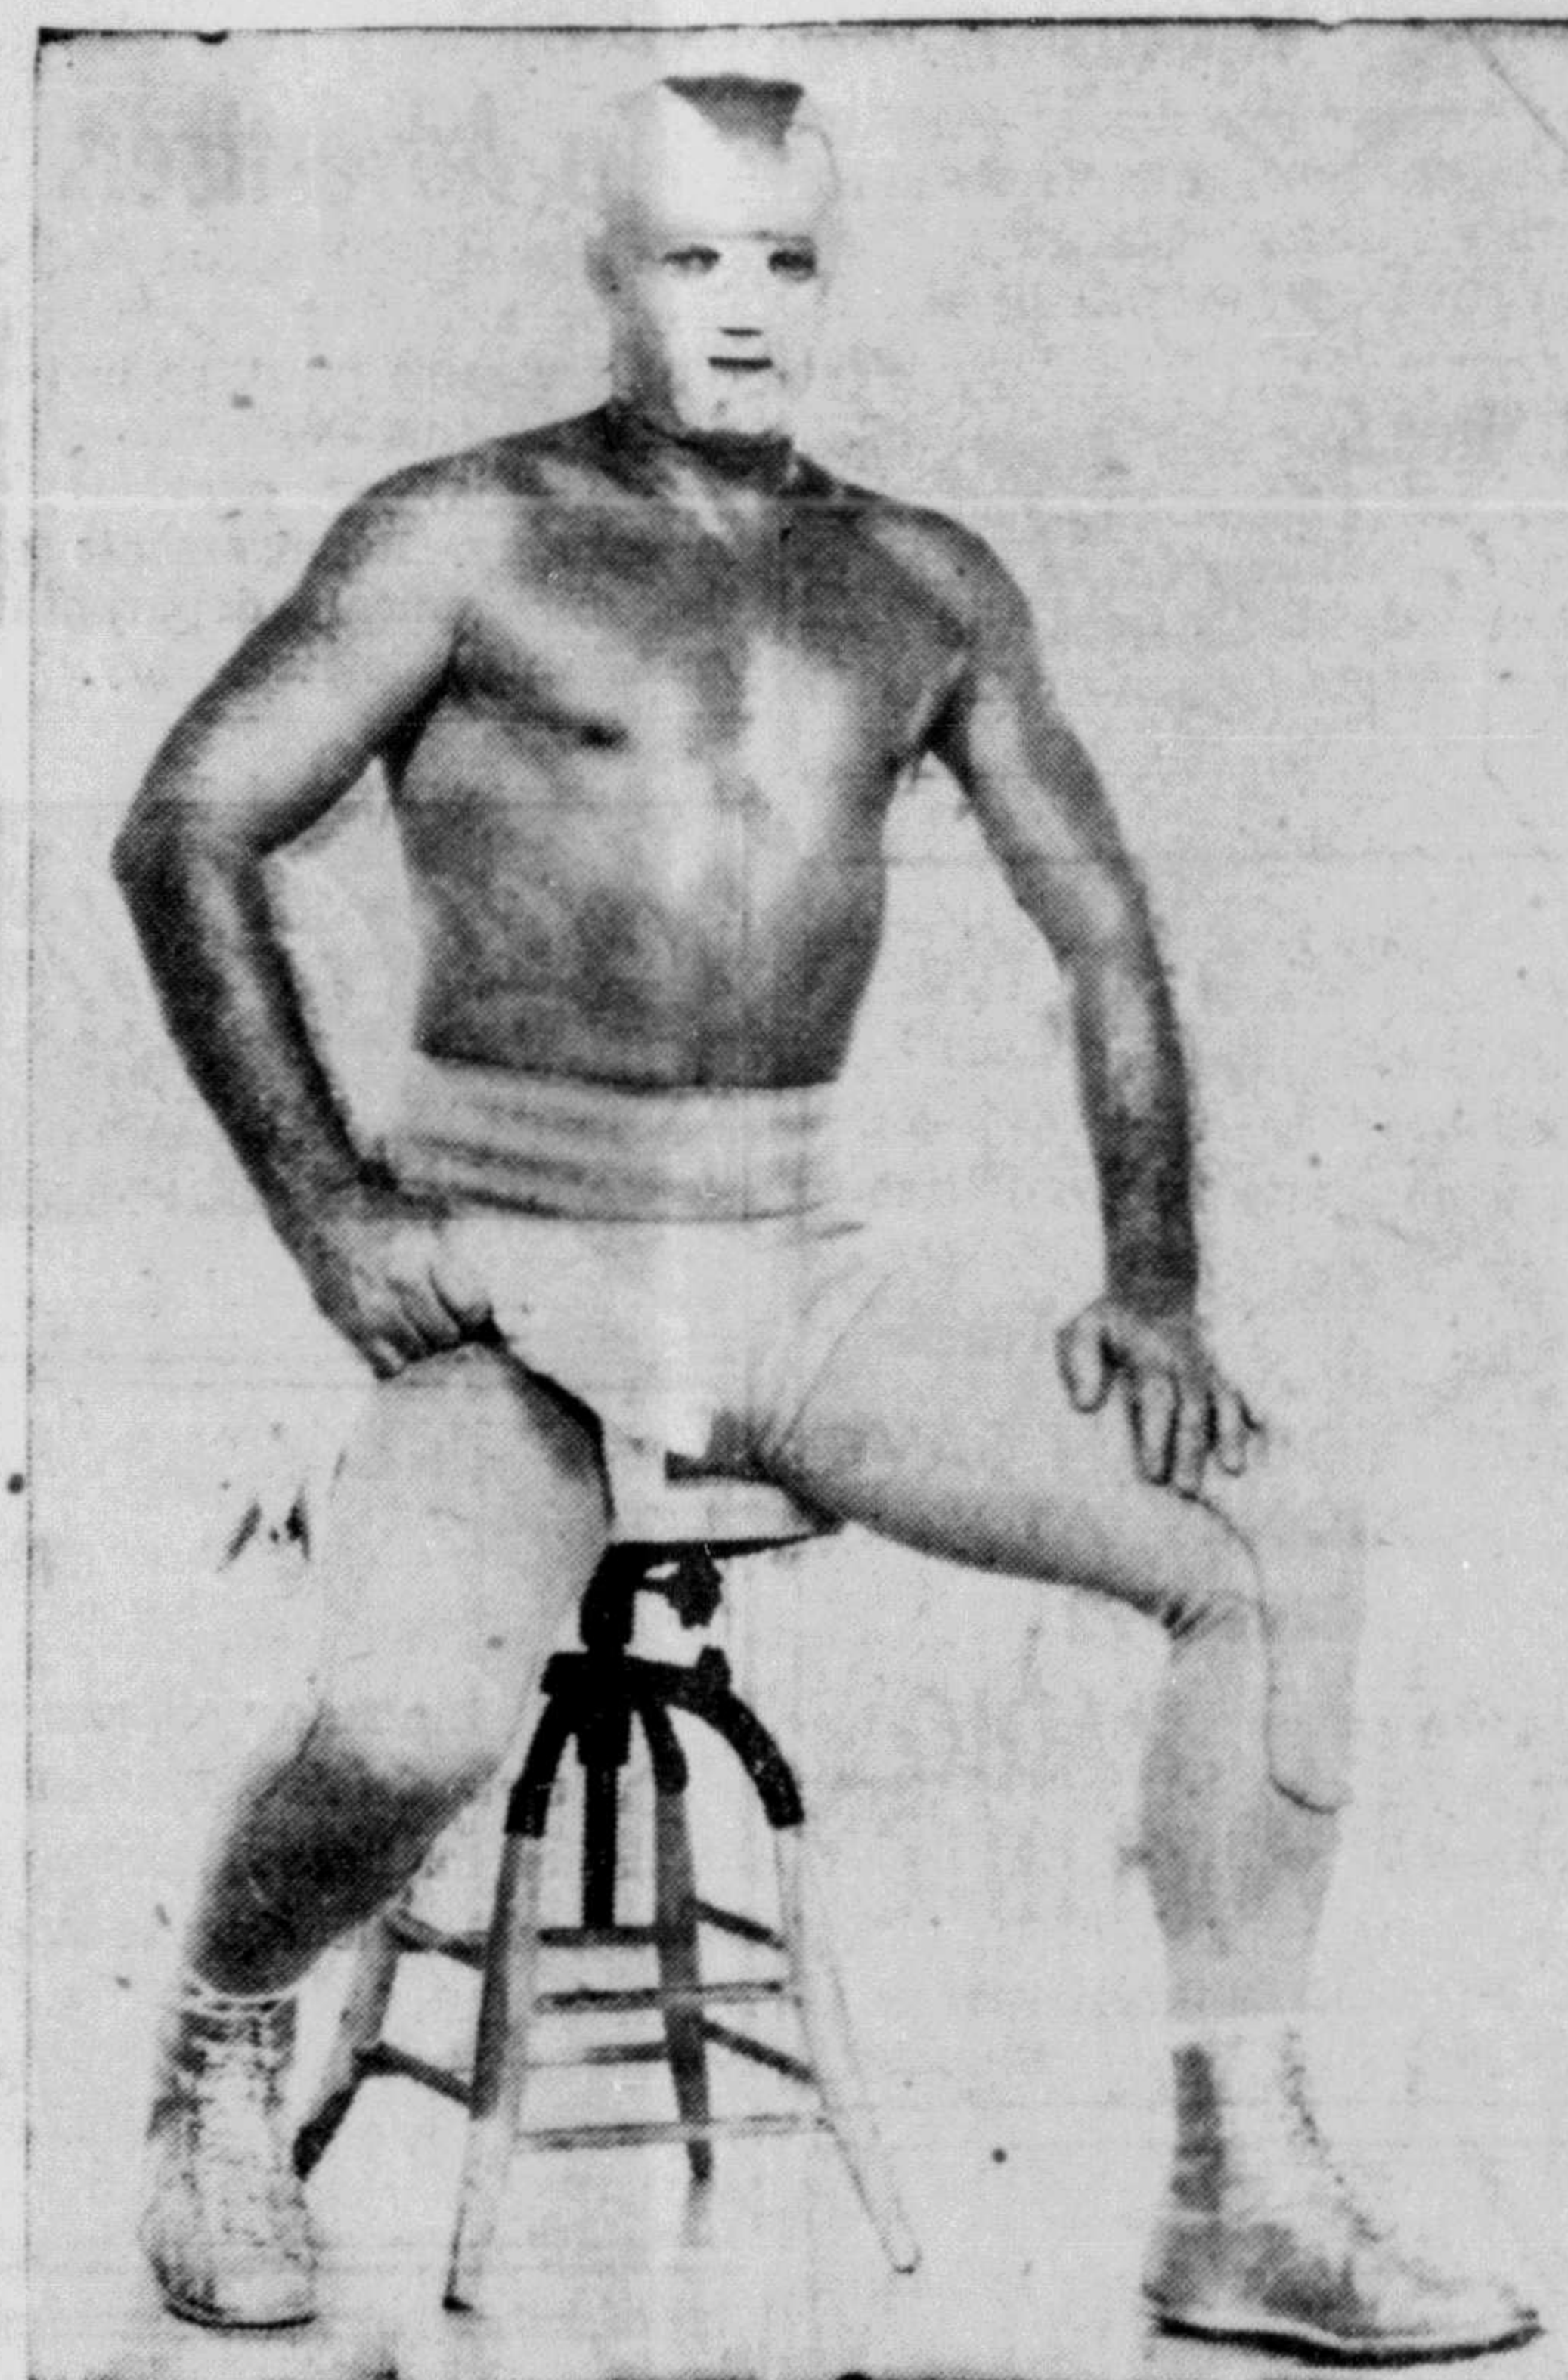

All of us know that wrestlers are the craziest peoples. Yet Don Forward expects a packed house tonight at the Civic Centre for his current showing of the fugitives from the house of horrors. This gang carries with it a rather personable character in a lad known as "The Saint" who is masked, obviously to hide his sins and refuses to admit his place of origin. Now if he were from where most saints hang out I could be convinced he is being modest but, according to reports, he just couldn't be. He just isn't the type Peter would go for.

I mention the Saint as he is probably the most interesting of the gang because of his disguise yet I know many will be eager to see Mr. Karlenko, the Undesirable, who took a bit of a whipping from Jack McLaughlin a few weeks ago. If "The Saint" is billed as being from up above it should be easy to bill Mr. Karlenko. He has all the earmarks of one that has been hanging around spots Peter might banish one for, say, wrestling for a living. By the way how did Peter get into the wrestling game anyhow. In case you are confused, however, he will not show tonight.

I don't know why it has taken until now to tell you that we have Chief Thunderbird on show also and a better showman we have never had. Thunderbird is Chief of the Saanich tribe of Indians and although Saanich is known as the home of the clams and not the home of Thunderbird, it is because Thunderbird has never been canned. He has been exported though and has travelled the entire Globe trying to rove something or other by wrestling.

The other victim of this terrible disease called "Rasslin" is a Mr. Konke who hails from the Williams Lake country originally and who in my way of thinking might end up the goat in this deal.

Tonight's show is lined up in this manner. In the opener, we have Messrs. Kohnke and Saint mixing themselves for a full 20 minutes or one fall. Then we have the other two chaps, the famous Karlenko and the Thunderbird chief doing much the same only at a different time. They will wrestle 20 minutes or until one

THE SAINT—This colorful wrestler will appear in two bouts tonight at the Civic Centre. He meets Felix Kohnke in the first bout and it will be twenty minute or one fall decision. The semi-windup will be another one fall bout with two of wrestling's main stars as opponents, in the persons of Leo Karlenko of Fresno, California, and Chief Thunderbird of the Saanich Indian tribe. The third and main event will be a tag team match with all four wrestlers in the ring. The winners of the first two bouts will flip for partners, and from there on it will be a wild free-for-all, with the final decision going to the winner of the first two falls. There will be no time limit. Referees for tonight are George Howe and Tom Andrewchuck. Bob Cameron will be timekeeper, and Graham Alexander is providing the handlers from the Legion Boxing Club. Art Murray will be announcer.

has secured a fall. After this is all over and the wife says "Let's go dad," there is an excited gang busy up on the ring tossing to see what will wrestle what and who and this will all end up in the winners tossing to see who they will pick for their partners. Now if one can imagine how lows are gonna be they wanna enter.

The contents of news stands

It took years of agitation and finally a world war to link Prince Rupert with a highway which when finally completed, was a source of great satisfaction. It could be that all the time, if maintained.

Once, people looked at Sixth Avenue, saying that while they were length, there might be some question as to lack of breadth and growth of retail trade. For the time was coming when Sixth Avenue would not seem so far out of town. True enough, today, when cars and those on foot mingle at the junction of Third Avenue and McBride Street and Third Avenue and Fulton Street. And it is not always peaceful, especially if umbrellas are in action. Another few years shall roll, and the old timers will be shown to have been dead right.

LETTERBOX

TEACHERS IN OFFICE

Editor, Daily News:

In reply to your report of the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting and specifically referring to Mr. Black's reply to the question from the floor regarding the right of teachers to hold office, may I state that Mr. Black didn't say anything that we, the teachers, did not already know, nor did he reply to the question asked.

Mr. Whalen and Mr. Daggett came out into the open with their support of the teachers' contention that they too should be allowed to hold municipal office. This was the answer to the question.

Mr. Wright, president of the Prince Rupert District Teachers' Association, asked for an expression of opinion from the candidates on this vital matter, with a hope that individuals would come forward and state their views and not the views as a whole of the council.

Teachers are citizens of this community, some are property owners just the same as the rest of the population, and contribute a good deal to the community in many different ways. If a teacher could be elected and was elected to the council surely it would just be a matter of abstention from voting if School Board estimates were up for approval by the council which is only once a year, similar to the way in which, let us say, Mr. Black abstains from voting on matters affecting the Northern B. C. Power Company.

Yes, Mr. Editor, Teachers want to contribute to municipal affairs and they have something to contribute. They will not rest until this prejudiced situation is rectified, not only to their satisfaction, but also to the satisfaction of all clear thinking citizens.

F. ADLEM,
Public Relations Officer,
Prince Rupert District Teachers' Association.

Puzzled Drivers

Editor, Daily News:

In reply to "Puzzled Drivers" letter in the Daily News recently the first man signifying his intention of making a right hand turn should have the right of way. Any other right hand turns would come next, the straight through drivers would follow and the ones making left hand turns could have least priority.

In the case that everyone intended to drive through the intersection, the car travelling either on Third Ave or McBride St. would have the right of way over the car coming from the Court House because it is travelling on the Prince Rupert-Prince George highway—a main thoroughfare. The reason for the first solution is that any car making a right turn has nothing to stop for and has less distance to get out of the situation.

Australia Election

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Nearly 5,000,000 Australian voters are choosing today between the present Labor government and the anti-Socialist coalition of the Liberal and Country parties.

Labor Party Prime Minister J. B. Chifley, former locomotive driver, has been in power for eight years. It has a long range program of nationalization and it believes that government controls are needed to stabilize the country's economy and insure full employment.

Opposition forces promise to halt nationalization and the Australian Socialist trend.

Fishing Quietens Up—Alaska Prince Brings Freight—New Smoke House Talk

With the holiday season nearing the fishing industry here is quiet and around Christmas and New Year it will really be dead. Flat fish are in abundance but mild weather has been forcing most draggers to return to port. Heavy gales, coupled with rain, present a problem to the skippers of various craft.

Only two draggers are still out. The B.C. Producer and the Combat are expected in Prince Rupert by the middle of December. Other fishing vessels have called it a season and sailed for their respective ports.

In Hecate Straits are four American draggers which have been after flat fish for the past two or three weeks. These are the Sunbeam, Paradise, Coolidge II, and Dakota. It is expected the four U.S. other trawlers will deliver their loads at Seattle and Bellingham by Christmas.

In addition to abundant flat fish catches, small loads of shrimp and crab have been brought in.

The B.C. Steamship's freighter Alaska Prince, Capt. T. Garrett, arrived in port from Vancouver at 9 a.m. Friday carrying a shipment of materials for city and Port Edward. After unloading lumber for Mitchell & Currie, contractors; wire to be transferred to a camp at Cumshewa Inlet, and a buoy for the department of transport, the Alaska Prince left Friday afternoon for Port Edward. At the dock there, 600 tons of cement was unloaded for the Columbia Cellulose Co. and Nelson Bros. received a shipment of oil tanks. The Alaska Prince is expected to return to Vancouver early next week.

As far as the male sex is concerned, it is an accepted fact that women and gossip are like Mother and apple pie. But in and around fish packing offices, many a critical word regarding the installation of a new smokehouse is being kicked around by the men.

A recently overheard conversation went like this:
First Man: The only difference between the new smokehouse and the old type, is the revolving chain.

Second Man: Quite right.
First Man: Can't see myself how the contraption is any better than ours.

Second Man: Quite Right.
First Man: I can remember when a fishing concern in Vancouver tried all types of smoking methods and then decided the old stationary kind is the best.

Second Man: Quite right.
Third Man: Now here's how I look at it, the... etc., etc., yakata, ya ka ta...

First Man: Those are very good points.

Second Man: Quite right. Which goes to show that business is like the man who lost his hat in a snowstorm—it's cold.

A. J. Dominato returned to the city on yesterday afternoon's plane from a business trip to Vancouver.
