Newfoundland Signs Up As Tenth Province

Terms of Union Are Pinned At Historic Ceremony Today

Prime Minister St. Laurent Voices His Conviction of Wisdom and Efficiency

OTTAWA—An historic incident took place this morning with the signing of the document setting forth terms for the union of Newfoundland into Confederation with Canada. Prime Minister L. St. Laurent and Defence Minister Brooke Claxton signed on behalf of Canada.

A. J. Walsh, chairman of the Newfoundland delegation which negotiated the terms, penned the document in the name of the people of the Island Colony. Newfoundland is scheduled to become the tenth province of Canada on April 1, 1949.

This was taken another step toward the fulfilment of the dreams held by the Fathers of this great Confederation. The ceremony took place on the floor of the Senate Chamber.

Mr. St. Laurent said he firmly believed that advance towards greater unity and prosperity of the northern half of this continent would be made "steadier and surer" with Newfoundland's entry into Confederation.

"We believe," said the Premier that, with you, we have had the privilege of completing a structure of Union strong and great."

The Prime Minister touched on the subject of the troubled world and said that the Union will bring greater security both to Canada and Newfoundland.

Terms of Confederation provide for six Newfoundland senators and seven members of the House of Commons. No date has been set for the election of the members of Parliament but an official said it would be within six months after the vacancies have been called to the attention of the Speaker of the House of Commons.

Minimum voting age for women on the Island has been reduced from 25 to 21 years.

A Lieutenant Governor will be appointed shortly and he will choose an executive council.

Terms also call for a Legislature to meet not later than four months after the consummation of the Union.

They contained no indication of federal revenues or total of federal expenditures in the new province. When the original terms were released November 6, 1947, it was disclosed that federal expenditures would surpass revenues by fifteen to twenty million dollars annually.

After the Union is accomplished Canada will discuss with the United States government the question of the operation of three American bases in Newfoundland. They will likely continue under United States operation.

Following the signatures by the Newfoundland delegation and the government of Canada there must be ratification by the Canadian and British parliaments.

A member of the Newfoundland delegation, Chester A. Crosbie, who has long been the leader of the anti-Confederation forces, maintained his opposition to signing. His reason for this was based on his views concerning certain features of the financial pact which he considered harmful to the island's interests.

THAW BRINGS RAIN, SLUSH

Prince Rupert's early December snow began to dissolve in a welter of slush today as higher temperatures brought intermittent rain for the first time in two weeks during which some 18 inches of snow has fallen.

The melting snow brought with it awkward walking and driving conditions and made the use of high rubbers and automobile chains imperative.

Numerous cars were stalled during the morning on streets in many parts of the city, although no serious mishaps were reported.

Bad visibility during a snow squall yesterday caused damage to a light truck owned by Fire Chief H. T. Lock which was struck by another car as it approached Third Avenue on Second Street.

Overnight temperature dropped to a low of 32 degrees with a high of 36.

JUST METEORITES

WINNIPEG—In the opinion of L. T. S. Norris-Elye, director of the Manitoba museum, the "flying saucers" reported seen in the skies over Winnipeg are meteorites—particles of meteoric dust ranging in size from a pinhead to a marble.

Canada Not Mobilized

Manpower Should be Directed and Material Stock-Piled Says Preparedness Chief

OTTAWA—No complete plan exists for Canada's industrial mobilization in the event of war, the general manager of the Industrial Preparedness Association said last night as he advocated direction of manpower and stock-piling of essential materials.

Major General G. B. Howard maintained that any "formulation of a comprehensive list of wartime necessities entails the integration of Canadian needs with those of our Allies.

13TH YEAR OF KING'S REIGN

LONDON—King George today entered the thirteenth year of his reign in poor health, fulfilling the Royal functions from his bed.

The King's troop fired a salute of forty-one guns in Hyde Park at noon to mark the anniversary but there was no special celebration at Buckingham Palace. It has not been the custom.

The King is suffering from a circulatory ailment and from his bed has been carrying on the affairs of state.

HOT CAMPAIGN

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, Nova Scotia—Campaign for Monday's federal by-election in Nova Scotia actually ended Friday, closing on a spirited note as national party leaders exchanged heated words. George Drew, Progressive-Conservative leader and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. chieftain, spoke at the University in heated debate after Drew returned to the C.C.F. as national socialist in character. Comments of "liar" were heard as Drew returned to budget and students howled. The angry men as if they were ready to square off until President J. Watson Kirkconnel restored order.

The men were captured last night by guards who cut into the escape tunnel and found the convicts still shovelling their way toward the outside. Officials say that as many as eight men may have been in the tunnel during the last six days.

McLAUGHLIN-VARGA BATTLE TO BE TOP DRAW IN CENTRE WRESTLING CARD

Crowd of 600 See Grunt Artists Mingle—Good Boxing Preliminaries

Battle of titans ended in a draw at the Civic Centre last night when Jack (The Cat) McLaughlin and Bill Varga strained excruciatingly for 45 minutes before a packed house in the first professional wrestling bout of the season, and probably the most exciting one to be shown here.

BASEBALL TONIGHT

Senior Game 8:30 Woodwards vs. Bo-Me-Hi

materialized, the fans expected at more than one interval that Referee George Howe might receive it. As the bout progressed, Mr. Howe's neutral status became more involved although it must be added that he was equally in peril from both contenders as he strove to keep things clean.

Billed for five 10-minute rounds, the wrestling headliner was somewhat shorter owing to the fact that the third and fourth rounds were pinched about nine minutes short when each of the fighters took a fall. (Continued on Page Five)

Churchill Magnanimous

THERE is any criticism of the great old war horse, certainly lack of magnanimity cannot be charged against Winston Churchill. There was something thrilling about certain facets of the former Prime Minister's speech in the British Parliament Friday on foreign policy when he unhesitatingly approved the Labor government on several points in connection with its handling of foreign affairs. It made us conclude that, although he may get somewhat unduly enthusiastic and vitriolic in his politics at times, he would never let political considerations interfere with his expressions of view and action when welfare of his country was at stake.

It was an admirable speech that Mr. Churchill made even if there might have been one or two things with which we might agree such as the proposal to resume diplomatic recognition of Franco Spain. We are inclined to agree with a government spokesman who followed Mr. Churchill and said such recognition would be a "psychological" blunder.

Seeks Support For Hazelton Highway

Walter Wilson of Burns Lake is now endeavoring to win support of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association for his Hazelton-Whitehorse highway project which was approved at the Juneau convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia in the fall. Seattle has suggested that it will support the Hazelton connection to the Alaska Highway provided Vancouver goes likewise.

LETTERBOX

KENNEY ANSWERS BRETT
Editor, Daily News:
My attention has been called to a letter published in your paper on December 2 and written by W. H. Brett, M.L.A.
Had the writer of this letter given me the full information regarding my stand on the Skeena River Highway it would not have been necessary for me to write this, the first and only letter that I have ever written

CANADA'S TEN PROVINCES CONFER ON FILMS—On one subject at least—motion pictures for school use—the ten provinces of Canada as the Dominion will shortly be constituted, are acting in concert. Visual education chiefs from the departments of education of the nine provinces and Newfoundland flew to London, Eng., to confer with J. Arthur Rank. They are working out a combined program for educational films with Canadian and British themes. Photo shows one section of the group boarding an airliner at Dorval, Quebec, enroute to London.

to a newspaper since my entrance into public life.

The only occasion on which I have differed with your member in connection with this highway was when he asked to have it ploughed for snow to make it passable for winter traffic. I took the stand at that time that, owing to the very limited number of cars that would be using the highway during the winter months and the very heavy costs involved in keeping it open, particularly through what is known as the snow belt between Amstbury and Kwinitsa, I would far sooner have the money spent in the spring in re-conditioning the highway and maintaining it throughout the summer months.

Insofar as having this highway maintained, may I point out that I rather think, long before the writer of the letter in question ever saw Prince Rupert, I was working to have this highway established and it is my intention to continue to work to have it maintained in the manner that it should be maintained.

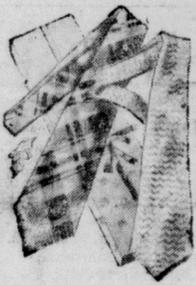

In conclusion may I add that I feel satisfied that if some members were as assiduous in working in the interests of the people of their riding as they are in blindly following a political philosophy that a great deal more progress would be made and the best interests of the people would be better served.

Yours very truly,
E. T. Kenney.

NURSES HAVE XMAS PARTY

A happy early Yuletide season event took place at the Nurses' Home one evening this week when the Prince Rupert Chapter of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia held a Christmas party. Forty-five local nurses, active and retired, were in attendance. One of the features of the evening was the exchange of gifts which were distributed from a gaily decorated Christmas Tree by Santa Claus himself. Enjoyment was derived from the playing of various games during the evening and delicious refreshments were served. A special presentation was made to Miss Olga Sather R.N., an active member of the Association, who is leaving shortly to join the staff of Shaughnessy Military Hospital at Vancouver.

NURSES HAVE XMAS PARTY

A happy early Yuletide season event took place at the Nurses' Home one evening this week when the Prince Rupert Chapter of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia held a Christmas party. Forty-five local nurses, active and retired, were in attendance. One of the features of the evening was the exchange of gifts which were distributed from a gaily decorated Christmas Tree by Santa Claus himself. Enjoyment was derived from the playing of various games during the evening and delicious refreshments were served. A special presentation was made to Miss Olga Sather R.N., an active member of the Association, who is leaving shortly to join the staff of Shaughnessy Military Hospital at Vancouver.

PURGES CIO REDS—Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O., is shown speaking to delegates at the labor organization's national convention in Portland, Ore. Murray, while taking no direct action to oust Communists from high positions in the C.I.O., instead asked them to quit when it is established that they are unable to lead their union organizations properly. He refused a demand that he arbitrarily revoke the charters of 13 leftist controlled C.I.O. unions.

REBEKAHS HOSTS TO ODDFELLOWS

Ladies of the Rebekah Lodge were hostesses Wednesday evening when they entertained members of the Oddfellows' Lodge and guests at a social in the Oddfellows' Hall.

Court whist was enjoyed by the gathering, the winners being Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. A. L. Haines, Mrs. T. H. Priest and Mrs. J. Delorme.
A mock auction followed with H. M. Daggett officiating as auctioneer. This caused a good deal of excitement and resulted in a substantial sum being raised.

A sale of Christmas fancy work was heavily patronized. The evening concluded with refreshments. General convener was Mrs. J. Delorme.

Does your family fit this picture?

INCOME in early married life is never large. You haven't had time to build reserves to provide for your family in the event of premature death.

The Crown Life Guaranteed Family Income Benefit has been designed to meet the needs of the young family. It will give your family this necessary protection—and at low cost.

How? By providing a regular monthly income while the children are growing up and at the end of the income period a further payment in cash of the full face value of the policy.

Get in touch with a Crown Life Representative today. He will be glad to go over the plan in detail with you.

Reminiscences and Reflections
By W.J.

The candidates are off and on the eve of a period of expansion, the scope of which is perhaps today not fully realized. For that matter the same is true of British Columbia. Here, the era of fishing and taking in one another's washing will have competition as enterprise and development increase. For it will

It may come as a mild surprise to learn that salmon was first canned commercially in North America, not out in British Columbia but on the shores of the Bay of Fundy, near the port of St. John. The year was 1839 and the gentleman with the large idea was named Tristram Halliday. Today, more than a century later, the world thinks B.C. is where all canned salmon originates and is canned. But way down in the far-off Maritimes, salmon is luxury and costs money, tinned or any other way.

A quiz, as to preference for rain or snow, appears in a Vancouver paper. The list contains 11 names and the candor shown is quite disarming. Out of 11, eight plump for rain and two for snow. The eleventh is delightfully uncertain. The ratio might stay the same in the event of the population being consulted. Snow is hard to take.

Whoever will be in the council next year and thereafter will have plenty to ponder and de-

MOORAGE AT LOCAL BAYS

Chamber of Commerce Proposal Before Minister of Transport

Proposal of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce to have moorage buoys installed in strategic bays and coves in this area for the benefit of cruising yachts and possibly commercial fishermen is before the Minister of Transport at Ottawa for consideration. The Chamber has received a communication from the executive assistant of the minister stating that the matter will be brought to the attention of Hon. Lionel Chevrier when he returns to his office at the Capital.

The proposal of the Chamber is that buoys and chains left by the Royal Canadian Air Force at Seal Cove and cement anchor blocks from the former marine station at Digby Island be combined to provide such moorage facilities.

HIGH DEFEATS ANNUNCIATION

The only game played in the Juvenile Basketball League on Thursday afternoon saw High II gain their first win of the season with a hard-earned 13 to 12 victory over Annunciation School. The first half was all for High II as they drove to a 12-6 lead. The second half saw Annunciation drive hard for victory, falling short by one point. Poor shooting by both teams, kept down the score.

WRESTLING

Varga, the clean-cut Hollywood kid, had his 194 points pressed to the canvas first. He succumbed to McLaughlin's forthright urging which included a series of body slams that made the building quiver after the round was only one minute old.

CALIFORNIA HERE WE COME!—That's what Canada's Thomas Cup team sang as they arrived in Pasadena where they play the second round in the American zone competition for the Davis Cup of badminton this week-end. After defeating India 7-2, Dick Birch of Toronto, Canada's ranking player, feels they have a 50-50 chance with the U.S. entry. Front row, left to right, are: Birch, team captain; Johnny Sams and Daryl Thompson of Vancouver; and Roy Smith of Woodstock. Back row: Ted Pollock of Toronto; Dr. Charles Godfrey of Toronto, trainer; and Gord Simpson of Montreal. (CP) Photo

Bob Feller is the only American League pitcher ever to have one batter tag him for two home runs in a World Series game. Boston's Bob Elliott was the batter in the 1948 series. When the Giants' Benny Kauff, the only National Leaguer to hit two homers in a series game, did it against the White Sox October 11, 1917, he made one of the homers off Red Faber in the fourth inning and the other off Dave Danforth in the eighth.

These methods proved so popular with the fans that Varga decided to try them himself and, in the fourth round, he flipped The Cat about with corresponding violence for a full minute and equalled the standing.

To suggest that the lights went dim in the fifth round because they could not glare with equanimity on such brutal doings is probably to stretch things a bit but anyway, the lights did go down. The fight however, continued in the half-light and the campaign included a brief skirmish between Referee Howe and McLaughlin who complained bitterly of the unethical manner in which Varga had dumped him outside the ring.

The local fighters were promoters of Joe Ward's boxing gymnasium.

Len Hitchens refereed the first three bouts while Russ Gatzke officiated for the final three preliminaries. Jack Judge and Joe Ward were judges and Jim Nicoll was announcer. Timekeeper was Bob Cameron.

The opener, between two grade weights, Jackie McInnes, 44, and Style Stokes, 46, was a crowd pleaser. The two youngsters had been implanted with the idea that they were in the ring to swing the gloves at the opponent and they did it.

Harold Jackson, 65, took the decision from Dick Bury, 64, in a bout that left the fans doubtful of the judges' decision.

Billy Watmough, 65 pounds fought gamely to a draw against Danny Newfield, 76, despite an 11-pound difference.

Arthur Turcotte, 30, took the decision from Rocky Terry, and Len Haudenschild, 100, was awarded a victory over Gordon Brain, of similar weight.

Princess Machine Works
(W. J. RICHARDS)

"I don't like it. Do it over."

Even the young can make holiday gifts. A little artistic touch in the wrapper adds gaiety to Yule gifts.

The problem of Christmas gifts rises again and a good suggestion to save money this year is to make your own. If you have children and you're short on shopping time and money, or if you like the idea of giving something you have created yourself, there are innumerable gifts you can make, such as dolls, toys, animals, socks, scarves and accessories. You can allow children to make their own gifts, such as the schoolgirl at left is making woven potholders. She will help to take a lot of the troubles of Santa Claus off his shoulders. Gift-making need not interfere with regular classroom work for it can be done after school hours. Remember that Christmas packages should look alluring—mysterious—individual. This can be achieved by getting a big selection of gay papers, ribbons, labels, wrapping paper, string and a non-leaking pen. Go about it in a big way but don't go wrapping on your bed, the surface is too soft and you may cut the spread. Tinkling bells add a festive note to the parcel and you'll probably get a few ideas of your own.

BRIGHT COMEDY SHOWING HERE

"Voice of Turtle" at Capitol Theatre This Week-end

"Voice of the Turtle," screen adaptation of the stage play of the same name, at the Capitol Theatre this week-end, is one of the brightest comedies of the year. Ronald Reagan and Eleanor Parker have the leading roles with Eve Arden and Wayne Morris heading the supporting cast.

Like the play, the screen version confines itself to Sally's three-room walk-up apartment for the most part. Here Sally and Bill find each other over a week-end and their casual introduction blossoms into love. However, the picture allows the addition of a French restaurant, a downtown theatre and a nighterie to the locale.

The romance is that of a jobless actress and an Army sergeant.

REGIONAL RADIO DIRECTOR INVITED

Continuing its efforts to have improved radio broadcasting service here and elsewhere in the area, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is now seeking an early visit to this district of Kenneth Caple, regional director of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

RIVERSIDE IS CLOSING DOWN

Riverside tungsten mine on the Alaska side of the Salmon River valley in the Portland Canal district is to commence its seasonal shutdown for the winter on December 20, according to word received in the city. The shutdown is normal procedure on account of lack of water during the winter owing to cold weather conditions. Riverside has been operating three shifts per day lately, employing a crew of 24 men and shipping concentrates to smelters in the south. This week 100 tons of concentrate went south on the steamer Cardena.

You saw it in: the Daily News!

Wherever there is a white Christmas, which is certain to be across most of Canada, a snow man lends a highly seasonal touch.

LIGHT WAVE LENGTHS
Red is red to the eye because it is composed of light ray vibrations of one wave length. Yellow comes from vibrations of a different wave length, and so on around the spectrum.
