Story Of Our Times

THREE MEN were travelling along a road known as the political highway. They were in search of a place known to some persons as Peace, to others as Prosperity, and to still others as Security.
Here, it was reported, was a state of great happiness, where such things as work and taxes were seldom mentioned, where selfishness and crime were just things of human fancy, and even the housing situation was adequate.

Now it so happened that each of the travellers had a chart which showed the route to their destination. Eventually, they came to a crossroads, hoping to see a road sign to guide them, but, alas, the sign had been a war casualty, and had not been replaced, so the travellers halted to consult their charts.

One of them claimed they should take the road to the left. One said they should go straight. The third said, "Follow me, I'll take you right." This, of course, led to some confusion until a fourth traveller arrived, and suggested that they jump straight up to see what lay ahead.

After some debate they all agreed to turn back the way they had come, and consult the home folks. So it came about that after a certain number of days, the great decision was to be made. Now, the argument spread among the home folk. There were many speeches, some of fine debate and some of petty invective, all of which created a stir among all the people, who were asked to choose which of the travellers they should support, or which road might lead eventually to their ideal location.

The choice is finally to be made in a contest known as the battle of the ballot. Each individual has a right to express his own views, reach his own decisions, and a right of privacy or secrecy in marking his ballot. These are traditions of long standing, which, fortunately, do not seem to be questioned.

To some, the so-called issues are clear and certain, to others they are somewhat confused. There are some who will claim that it is a contest of personalities. There are others who just as seriously maintain that great principles are involved. There are those who will declaim at length, without breadth, and some with heat, without light. Some will be attractors and some may be detractors. Many will use the platform and the radio for the spoken word. Many will use the newspaper or other literature for the printed word. Logic and emotion will each find their place.

Three men are travelling along a road known as a political highway. They are really searching for your help and mine to make this Canada a more ideal country. Let us work and vote for what we can find best, not only for ourselves, but for our children as well.

NOVA SCOTIA VOTES

THINGS WENT just about the way it was expected they would in Nova Scotia's provincial election yesterday. There was no serious anticipation that Premier Angus Macdonald's government, which has given the Maritime province good government since 1933, would not be returned to office. The only question was the size of its majority which is still substantial although cut from last time. The Progressive Conservatives are back from the wilderness with a tidy group of eight members and the C.C.F. has two seats as before.

If trends can be taken from the result in Nova Scotia, the two old parties can take comfort and encouragement—the Liberals because their majority of seats, while clipped, is still very strong. The Progressive Conservatives can really boast for all their eight seats were gains. The C.C.F. showed diminishing strength, losing the official oppositionship and, according to early indications, dropping in popular vote.

Now the British Columbia provincial election will be watched with national interest next week in view of the fact that it precedes the federal election by only twelve days.

Miss Frances MacKenzie, a cousin of Alex MacKenzie from Cumberland, England, sailed last night on the Prince Rupert enroute to her home in England after a three weeks' visit here. Miss MacKenzie flew from Prestwick, Scotland to visit her relatives in Canada. She has been in Lethbridge, Edmonton and Prince Rupert and is now going to Vancouver before returning to her home in England on the Empress of France in August.

KING AND QUEEN ATTEND WEDDING AT WINDSOR—King George and Queen Elizabeth are shown as they left St. George's church, Windsor, London, Eng., after attending the wedding of Caroline Lascelles, 20-year-old daughter of the King's private secretary, Sir Alan Lascelles, and Anthony Lyttleton, son of Oliver Lyttleton, M.P. The princesses were absent, Margaret was still on holiday in Italy and Elizabeth was in Scotland.

BLOOD STORAGE UNIT IS BEING INSTALLED HERE

Services of the Red Cross blood bank will be available to Prince Rupert people before they will have the opportunity to say "thank you" by donating some of their own blood for the province-wide humanitarian cause.

Information to this effect was received here Thursday by D. C. Stevenson, secretary of Prince Rupert General Hospital who was authorized by Dr. F. G. Amyot, director of the provincial hospitalization service, to purchase refrigeration equipment to store fresh blood.

The storage unit is expected to arrive here about the middle of July, while the mobile blood donor clinic will not make its first annual call here until August 1.

In the meantime, fresh blood—donated by someone in another part of the province—will be available here for medical use. It may save the life of someone in Prince Rupert.

Doctors here say that greater use of blood therapy would be made locally if they were assured of a reliable supply such as that which the Red Cross will contribute free of charge when the refrigeration is installed.

Constable L. Rossiter of the city police returned to the city on the Coquitlam today from a brief trip to Vancouver.

Ray Reflects . . . and Reminisces

Why can't we sometimes be on the right sian. People take for granted, "the sunny south." They also believe firmly in "the frozen north." But how many know that the general average rainfall annually in New Orleans is between sixty and seventy inches (little less than Prince Rupert) and that in Prince Rupert, severe cold is exceedingly scarce.

"Beer parlors in Canada have no dignity," says Myra Bridge, Yorkshire bar-maid at an English pub on display at the international Trade Fair in Toronto. "You can't go to a party here and be friendly and easy. If you don't get tight, everybody is terribly disappointed." Myra, from Yorkshire, can hardly be said to be overdrinking the picture.

The lighthouse tender Al-berni will come to Prince Rupert drydock for general checking over and repairing. And speaking of leakages, by the way, nothing has ever leaked out to even hint of a proper coast guard service to be maintained on this coast.

Not only from the standpoint of national defence but also as a great new force to American economy, Alaskan statehood is imperative, comments the San Francisco Examiner. As has always happened, admission to the Union would be followed by swift increase in population.

Does anyone suspect that cold war, hot war, or no war at all or that what they call registration could ever get the slightest foothold in Canada?

"CLOTHES OF DISTINCTION"

TENDER PLANTINGS—It is now about last call for planting or setting out those tender flowers and vegetables that will not stand any frost. Dahlias, gladioli, penulias and other soft-stemmed started flowers are in this category, and also squash, melons and pumpkins. Some of these, it is true, will survive a light frost, but usually the damage sets them back so that they will never really catch up. With the seeds and bulbs, of course one can plant a week or ten days before the last light frost because the plants will not be exposed above ground. There is not much advantage in early planting because none of these tender things really start to grow until both soil and air are warm. One safe shortcut, however, is open to the amateur. Using special waxed paper caps, which are placed over individual hills or plants, one can plant seed or set out plants from two to three weeks ahead of normal. These caps act as miniature outdoor greenhouses.

The melons are usually grown in hills. These are beds a foot or so in diameter and about two to three feet apart. They are heaped up a few inches above the surrounding earth. This allows them to drain well and also to absorb more sun, which they love. Hills are made by scraping out about six inches of the surface soil, filling with rotted manure or some similar rich mixture, then topping off with an inch or so of fine, light soil in which the seeds are planted.

RIGHT SEED IS ESSENTIAL—No matter how favorable the weather or soil, results are sure to be disappointing unless one uses good seed. This costs but a few cents a packet but it is vital. It is also vital to use seed that is suitable for local conditions. Something that might give wonderful results in other places may be far too tender when planted in Prince Rupert.

HEALTH HINTS—The cleaner and healthier a garden the less liable it is to be attacked by pests. Frequent cultivation and proper spacing of plants, as emphasized earlier, is most important. A little chemical fertilizer, specially recommended for the garden, will also help to keep plants robust. As this may burn if it comes in direct contact with roots or leaves it should be applied carefully and according to directions. One of the safest ways is to dissolve in water and apply as a liquid. Fringes about the flower or vegetable garden should not be neglected. If weeds are allowed to thrive here they may harbor a lot of insects and other pests which will give trouble at the first opportunity. If possible trim with mower or scythe, or at least spray with some chemical weed killer. Another precaution is to have a sprayer or dust-gun handy.

Voters' List Hits Record

With two small rural divisions with votes not exceeding sixty, having yet to report their registrations and courts of revision still to provide their additions which will probably number a couple of hundred, the federal voters' list for Skeena in the forthcoming election already exceeds that of 1945, it was announced last night by Returning Officer Rod MacLeod. The 1945 roll included many transient dry dock workers so the increase for this election is taken as an indication of substantial and permanent growth in populatio.

The total of registrations so far in this election is 14,918 as compared with the final total says MRS. P. K. LEITCH, graduate dietitian of Alexander, Man.

"Both Were Contented Carnation Babies"

MANY, many mothers with dietetic training and experience have used Carnation formulas for their babies. But you don't have to be a dietitian to use a Carnation formula.

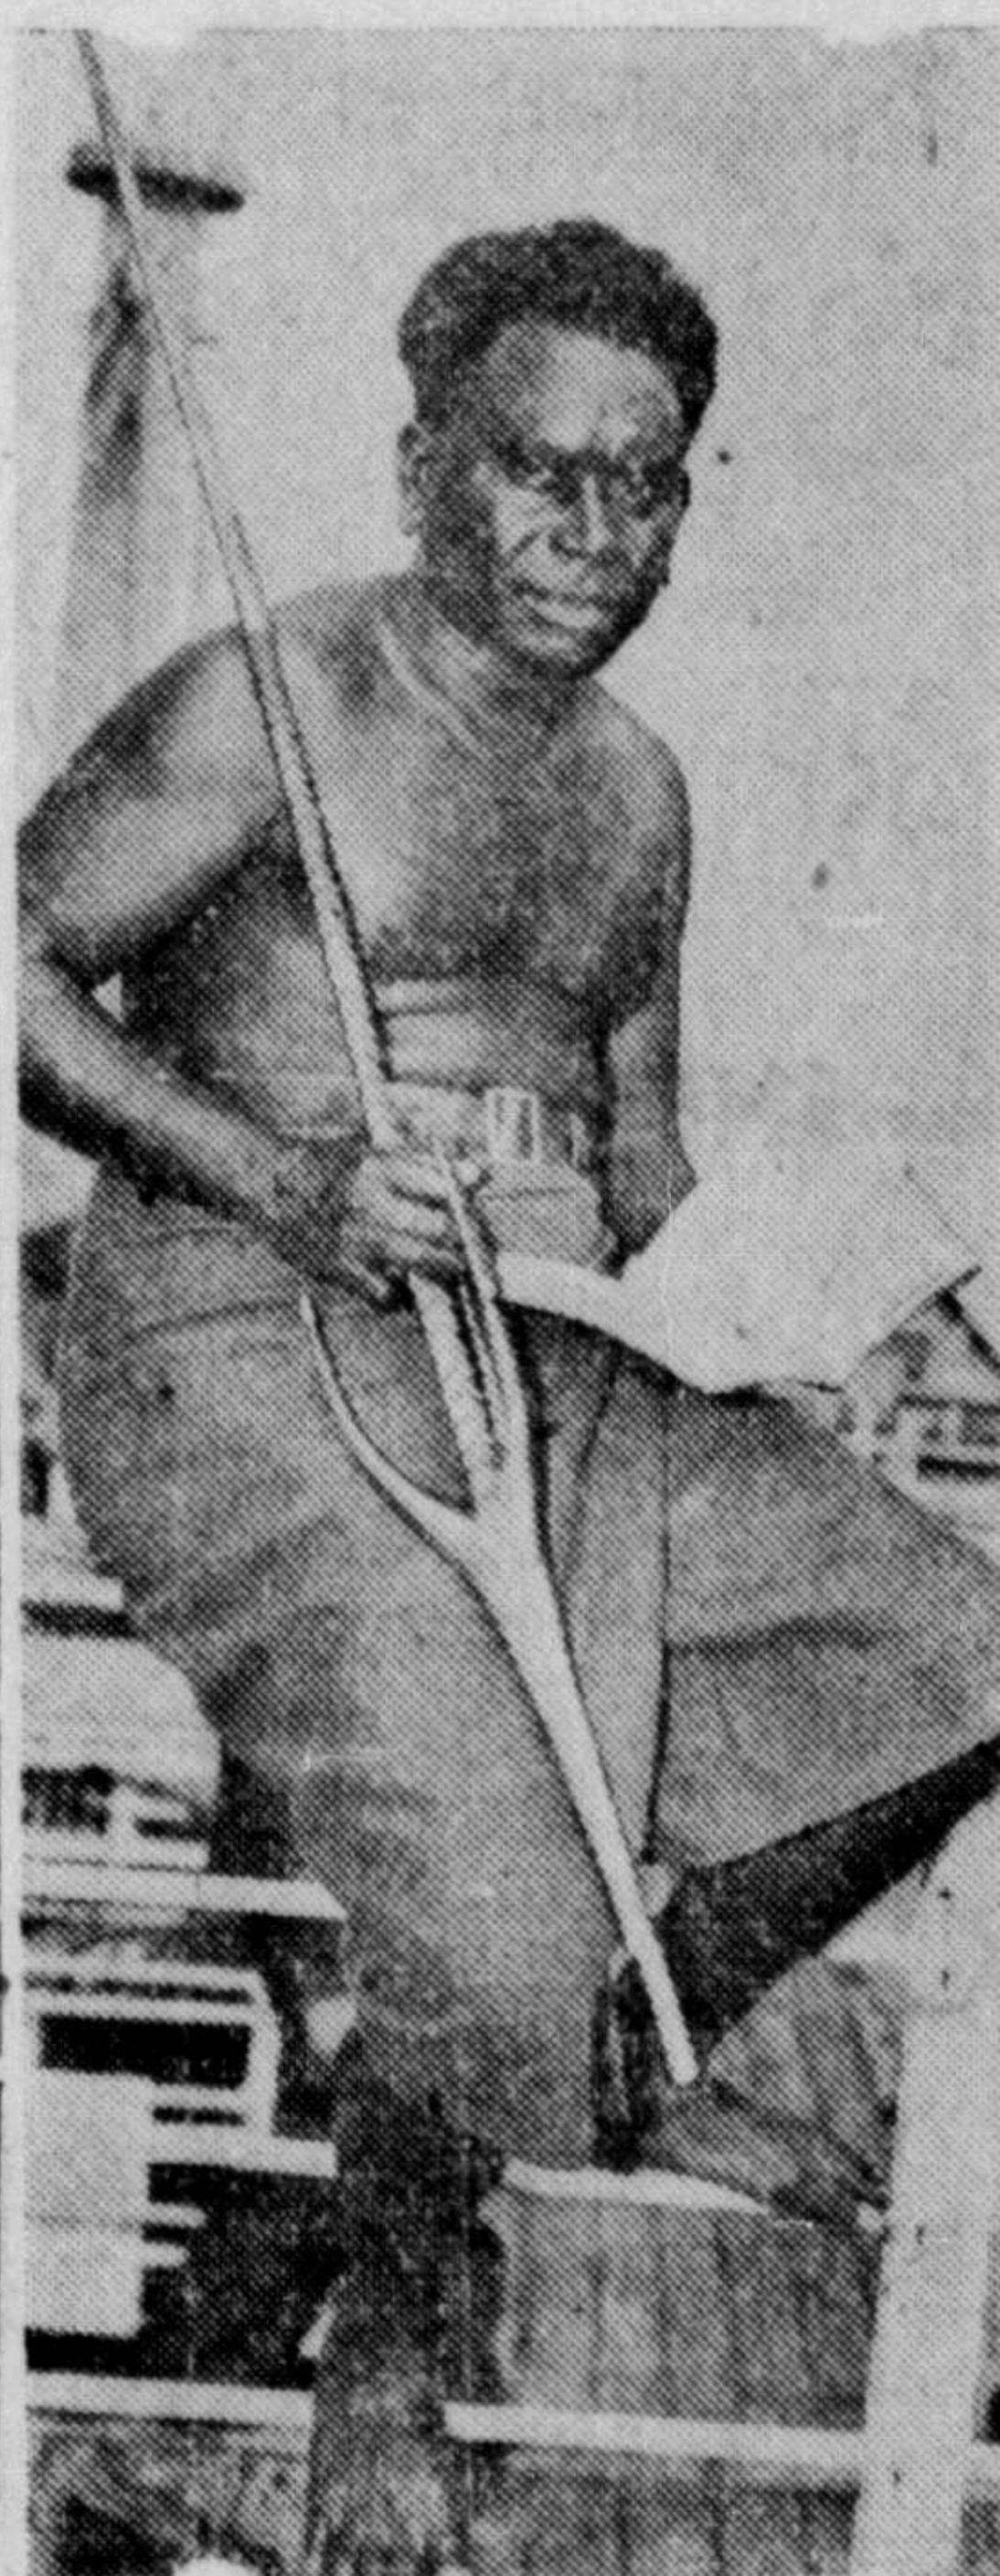

Carnation is widely accepted as the preferred milk for infant feeding. Homogenization and heat refinement make Carnation unusually digestible so that it agrees with babies; evaporation makes it double-rich so that it can be exactly diluted to suit each baby; and sterilization brings it to your home absolutely safe and pure. Ask your doctor about a Carnation formula for your baby.

LEGION IS IN SESSION

Many Matters Receive Attention at Monthly Meeting

Fairly good attendance was recorded at the regular monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion on Wednesday night, when, in addition to ordinary routine business, several more important matters came up for discussion.

The Branch will take part, as usual, in the annual Decoration Day ceremonies organized by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire scheduled for Sunday, June 19, when members of the local Branch and its Ladies' Auxiliary will parade to the Cenotaph to lay a wreath, afterwards proceeding to the soldiers' plot at Fairview Cemetery where the decoration of graves will take place.

On Dominion Day, the Legion will stage a brief ceremony at Roosevelt Park, fitting for that date, arrangements for which are in the hands of a committee composed of J. S. Wilson, Len Hitchens and F. C. Hill. Details will be announced later.

On Friday, June 17, the Branch in conjunction with the Auxiliary will hold the final "Bring your Missus Night" of the season.

After considerable discussion it was decided to abandon plans for holding the Annual Legion picnic this year. In "the world of sport" matters concerning the Legion's football and boxing clubs came up for discussion and tentative plans were made for the Legion to enter rinks in the Bowling League next season.

It was announced that plans are contemplated to arrange a war brides' pilgrimage to Great Britain as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

Three new members were elected to the Branch, Allan R. Horne, Walter H. Sedgwick and Valerian Baltz, the last mentioned as an Associate Member.

J. S. Wilson gave an interesting report on the B. C. Provincial Convention recently held by the Canadian Legion in Victoria which he attended in his capacity as Zone Commander. Prince Rupert and District, and reports were also read from G. J. Dawes and Jack Scott who also attended as delegates from the local Branch and with proxies from the Terrace and Stewart Branches.

Alex Haig and Edgar Woodward, Legion representatives on the committee organized by the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society in connection with their Blood Donors Campaign, reported fully on the arrangements made at the inaugural meeting.

TWO TOURIST PARTIES VISIT CITY TODAY

Two cruise parties arrived in Prince Rupert today for brief stops enroute to Alaska and found the city weeping with pleasure at their arrival.

First to arrive was a party of 122 members of the Union Pacific Railroad Old Timers Club from Utah aboard the Princess Norah which docked at 10 a.m.

"We came for a change and we are getting it," said a cellophane-wrapped lady from the dry hills of the Mormon state. "Utah was never like this."

The Princess Norah, under command of Capt. Peter L. Leslie, sailed at noon for Ketchikan, Juneau and Skagway. Her passengers plan to take in a trip to Taku Arm before returning south on the same vessel.

Half an hour after the arrival of the Princess Norah, the Canadian National cruise vessel Prince George docked here on her second trip of the season. She carried a party of 250, consisting of Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce members and their wives and friends. The cruise will take them as far north as Skagway and will include a trip through Gardiner Canal and Douglas Channel on its way southward.

Both parties used taxis and busses to tour the city while their ships were docked.

At the conclusion of the meeting, members retired "downstairs" where refreshments and a brief musical program wound up the evening.

TITLE FIGHT SET FOR JUNE 15—Those big smiles displayed by Promotr Nick Londes (left) and Middleweight Champion Marcel Cerdan of France are probably over visions of a big gate at Briggs Stadium, Detroit, Mich., June 15, when Cerdan meets Jake Lamotta of the Bronx in title fight.

TRY TO BEAT PACE SET BY CHAMP—A group of would-be track stars try to keep up with Mrs. Fanny Blankers-Koen, Olympic champ and mother of two children, at Macomb's Dam Park, the Bronx, N. Y. The Dutch matron, winner of three events in the London Olympics last year, was selected by U.S. sports writers as the "Woman Athlete of 1948." She is on this continent to compete in New York and California exhibition races.

Sport Shots

"We'll win our 1949 pennant right here at Ebbets Field," said Burt Shotton just before he sent his men out on the field to open the season. The genial boss of the Brooks thinks that home surroundings, with the most loyal fans in baseball urging them on, should be conducive to an outstanding Dodger record at home this year. It wasn't so in 1948, for some strange reason that still puzzles Shotton. "We won the pennant on the road last year," he says. "We won 48 games on foreign fields—more than any other club in the league. But when we came home to Ebbets Field, we blew the flag; we won only 36 and lost 41 in our own back yard."

So the Shotton platform—WIN IT AT HOME—takes on special significance as his team makes plans for the June home stay against the four clubs from the west, as well as the Boston Braves. Four big night games—one with the champions and one each with the Cards, Pirates and Reds—highlight this portion of the schedule.

It's no wonder that Shotton wants to make this an outstanding "home" club. Last year's sorry Ebbets Field record was quite a comedown from 1947, when the Brooks hit a .675 pace (52 won, 25 lost) at home as they sped to a flag. That year they really won it at home, because their road record was surpassed by the Cardinals. The Dodgers got off to a fast start in their first home stand against the Western clubs in May, winning six and losing three. Shotton wants to keep them moving at this pace in front of the home fans.

SONS OF NORWAY DANCE ENJOYED

The Sons of Norway Lodge held another of its enjoyable dancing parties with a large crowd in attendance. Dancing was in progress from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. with music by Mike Colussi on his piano accordion. Delicious refreshments were served at midnight under the direction of the committee which consisted of Mrs. C Strand, Mrs. A. Jensen, Mrs. Knut Slatta, Mrs. O. Giske, Mrs. J. Freidheim, Mrs. Gunnar Selvig, Mrs. B. Roald, Mrs. J. Peterson, Mrs. Leon Sandvar, Mrs. H. Helland and K. Slatta.

CANADA'S NORTH READY FOR TRAPPING BEAVERS—It's opening season for beaver trapping in the James Bay area and Indians in the north have high hopes of getting their share. The beaver provides both treaty and non-treaty Indians with an annual income ranging from $700 to $2,000 on government and Hudson's Bay Co. preserves in the James Bay area. To the native who depends solely on trapping, the beaver is the backbone of his existence. The other animals he traps are merely side lines. The beaver population was almost wiped out in the early 1900's but now the population is increasing. Sam Cheena, above, is ready for trapping trip.

GYPSY JAMBOREE, OPENING THREE-NIGHT STAND, DRAWS HAPPY LOT

Five hundred people followed the Gypsy trail to Job's Daughters big three-day jamboree which opened last night at the Armory and, amid merry and colorful surroundings, with plenty of novel diversions for their enjoyment, spent an interesting and happy evening.

One of the outstanding entertainment undertakings of the season, Honored Queen Lorna Donaldson and Guardian Laura Mitchell, with numerous willing and enthusiastic helpers—member girls, mothers, fathers and friends—rallying around, received the congratulations of the many who gathered last night in spite of weather conditions which were none too auspicious.

The big carnival affair continues tonight and Saturday.

Besides providing the home town folks, old and young, with a good bill of fun and entertainment, the Job's Daughters are expecting that, as a result of the affair, they will be able to augment substantially the fund being raised to finance the trip of the Bethel's colorful drill team to Spokane for an international gathering, as a result of which it is assured that Prince Rupert will be very much in the limelight of publicity.

Entering the armory through a verdant forest lane, the visitors to the jamboree find within the spacious auditorium a variety of booths, ranging from sale of useful and novel articles of handiwork through hot dog and refreshment stands to bingo tables and other carnival devices. All are staffed by girls of the Bethel and their parents and friends in gay Gypsy raiment. Upstairs is the tea room where one may relax and enjoy a cup of tea or coffee with delicious sandwiches and cake, the Gypsy motif again being predominant.

Fenced off the centre of the floor is a dancing square which attracted many last night, couples enjoying themselves to the enlivening piano music of Mrs. Norah Thompson. Mayor Nora Arnold set the merry carnival ball rolling last evening after the Prince Rupert Shrine Band had bravely led a parade from Civic Centre to Armory.

Each evening there is a stage show of diverting variety numbers, here again all the participants being in Gypsy costume. Last night, with Lorna Donaldson as mistress of ceremonies, the program included various group harmony numbers including a double sextette in the popular vocal mood with Edith Jordan, Diane Kennedy, Monica Holby, Marjorie Eby, Jeanne Husoy, Lalla Husoy, Don Ritchie, J. A. Teng, J. T. Langridge, Alex Mitchell, Robert Strachan and N. S. K. Brewer taking part; duets by Jeanne and Lalla Husoy and by Joanne Langridge and Alex Mitchell and solos by Barbara Teng. In addition to these Mrs. Norah Thompson's piano and vocal act and Margaret Murray's Highland Fling, with William McKay as piper, went over strong. Tonight there will be a change of program.

URGES SUPPORT OF COALITION

KITWANGA—Harold Sinclair, vice-president of the Skeena district of the Native Brotherhood of B. C., told a meeting here that in the coming provincial election the natives are being asked to choose between the C.C.F. and the Native Brotherhood itself.

hood of improving the conditions of the province's Indians during its 19-year struggle had been partly achieved due to the action of the Coalition government which gave them the vote, he declared.

"It was through the provincial government that the door was opened to us with the right to vote," he said. "Now we are offered increased benefits of education, hospitalization and an opportunity to take part in the industrial expansion of the province. This is the work of the Coalition government."

By standing firmly behind the aims of their own organization, Mr. Sinclair said, the natives could have no other choice but to support the Coalition party.

"Are we to look after our interests or are we to go wildly after the C.C.F. which has given nothing but promises? That is the choice we must take," he declared.

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

Asparagus is on the market in good supply. The aristocrat of the vegetable family is in season for so short a time that it is a veritable spring treat.

There are two types of asparagus. Practically all of the green, thin variety is edible when in season. Of the thick, green kind, which shades to purple and white at the stem end, only the green portion is edible. The edible portion of both is about 4 or 5 inches from the tip. When the lower stalks are pithy, with hollow places, the asparagus has probably been cut so long that the juices have dried up. Bud ends that have opened slightly are an indication of over maturity. Wilting spears are easily detected. Asparagus that is not fresh will be stringy and flavourless when cooked.

The stem should be cut or broken off, a little at a time until the juicy section is reached.

Because asparagus grows so close to the ground it is necessary to wash it very thoroughly to make sure there are no particles of sand under the scales. It is usually necessary to remove the scales as particles of grit cling beneath them. Tender asparagus should not need to be scraped.

Asparagus heads are extremely tender and therefore easily broken, so the spears should be the tips up. The tall top of the double boiler makes a good asparagus cooker. Some home-makers purchase an enamel coffee pot for this purpose exclusively. The water is never allowed to cover the tips, rather let the lower part of the stalks boil in the water, while the tips steam. Salt, added at the beginning of cooking, tends to toughen the asparagus so it is better to add it after the first 10 minutes of cooking.

The water from cooked asparagus is one exception to the oft-repeated rule "save the vegetable water." It is apt to be acrid in flavour.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, say that asparagus is definitely a luxury vegetable and it may be desirable to extend the flavour to make a small amount serve a larger number of people. Here are some of their suggestions.

- Asparagus Timbales
- 2 eggs
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 teaspoon onion juice
- Baked Asparagus
- 2 pounds asparagus
 - 4 tablespoons fat
 - 4 tablespoons flour
 - 2 cups milk
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - Pepper
 - 1 cup grated cheese
 - 4 hard-cooked eggs
 - 1/2 cup buttered crumbs
- Cook asparagus in boiling salted water. Melt fat, blend in flour and gradually add milk. Cover over direct heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add salt, pepper, and grated cheese to sauce and cook over hot water until cheese is melted. Arrange a layer of asparagus in bottom of greased casserole, cover with a layer of sauce, add a layer of sliced hard-cooked eggs, repeat until dish is full. Sprinkle buttered crumbs on top and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 20 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Asparagus Potato Puffs

- 1 cup chopped, cooked asparagus
- 2 cups hot mashed potatoes
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup bread crumbs

Combine asparagus, potatoes, salt and well-beaten egg. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Brush surface with melted butter and sprinkle lightly with bread crumbs. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees F., until golden brown. Yield: four servings.

WIND AND RAIN PAY VISIT WITH CALIFORNIANS

It shouldn't happen at any time but it happened to Prince Rupert—right at the time the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce decided to pay a visit. A gale with accompanying rain blew up.

The gale whipped things up during the night, reaching maximum velocity of 24 miles an hour from the southeast, according to the Digby Island weather station but the rain fell heaviest this morning.

In the 24-hour period up to 4 o'clock this morning 34 inches of rain fell, followed by 37 inches in the six-hour period between 4 a.m. and 10 a.m.

But the Angelinos were ready for it apparently. They all came equipped with cellophane slickers and rain hats over their gaudy California clothes. Some of the rain gear looked as though it were pretty well used, too.

DANCED WITH CZAR, NOW AMONG D.P.'S—Saying she "danced twice with the Czar and slept with pigs," a 79-year-old former Russian princess arrived in New York, one of 344 D.P.'s. She told newsmen she was sentenced to death in Moscow in 1941 but avoided execution when friends hid her until she could escape the country. The former princess refused to give her name, fearing the Russian might harm her relatives, but said she plans to enter Russian orthodox convent.
