Fraser River Dikes Holding Back Water SMITHERS HOME SAVEVD Over Danger Level SMITHERS— Quick action

While continued summer-like weather throughout British Columbia is sending the Fraser River in the southern part of the province to still higher danger levels, cool nights are tending to keep the rise of the Bulkley and Skeena Rivers in central British Columbia within bounds and Canadian National Railways offices this morning reported that there was no danger yet. The Skeena rose another eight inches at Pacific in twenty-four hours. Once creek west of Terrace was reported to have flown over the highway but planks were strung across to facilitate motor travel.

Cultural Tonic

A N EVENT such as the Music and Drama Festival which was held in Prince Rupert last week is a great thing for a community. It is desirable that we should refresh our minds and vary our activities and pursuits by taking an interest either actively as a participant or passively as a spectator in things like this. It gets us away from the humdrum and mundane rut of every day life and is a good tonic for our minds. It lifts us out the groove in which we may find ourselves not because we like it particularly but because, being creatures of habit, we do not wish to change or are losing the will or ability to do so.

Things really cultural have been all too lacking in Prince Rupert and we fear the city, in some ways reflects the lack. However, it was a gratifying sign that local people should have taken so much interest in this music and drama festival as witnessed by the substantial measure of their attendance at the various sessions and their active participation, particularly of the young people, in the various competitions.

The support that smaller communities, notably Terrace, gave in the way of active participation is also much to be commended. Ketchikan also showed its enterprise by sending along its choristers and band, even though they were too late to take part in regular program. The visitors contributed greatly to the general success of the event.

It's not good to see things as we prefer to see them rather than as they are.

FAIR PLAY TO ALL

T HAS BEEN and will continue to be the policy of this newspaper to uphold justice and fair play, and to bring to light each week incidents on our political front.

Continuing this policy we are this week asking the C.C.F. to explain why an alleged local incident is now being charged against the entire Coalition organization as their campaign publicity. On what grounds are these charges being made?

It was originally charged that MEN in VAN-DERHOOF had told our native friends of Stoney Creek their churches would be burned, their cattle taken away, etc., if the C.C.F. gained power. No proof supported this charge. Last week, however, Frank Calder, Indian candidate from Atlin, followed C.C.F. Leader Harold Winch on the platform at Prince Rupert and, we quote from the Prince Rupert Daily News: "He charged that COALITION CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY is aimed intimidating the Indians into voting for the Coalition, sayingthat threats had been made that if the C.C.F. were elected priests and ministers would be put off the reservations, church burned and their cattle killed."

While this statement was not made by Mr. Winch it was made by an accredited representative of the C.C.F. party, and in his presence. Plainly speaking, an incident originally charged to men in Vanderhoof has been enlarged upon and is now charged to Coalition Campaign Publicity.

It would appear Mr. Winch has given his opposition cause to hurl back some of the harsh charges he has made against them. From another standpoint, and in all fairness, no statement made by a member of any party without authority can be charged as party policy. However, if the C.C.F. insists on reversing this established rule then they have the grave responsibility of answering to statements and actions of radicals within their own ranks.

Don't be fooled by "The Average Family"!

LACTS AND FIGURES about "the average Canadian family" may lead you to think that most families are pretty much alike.

But of course while families may be similar in some ways, they are different in countless other ways.

Your family, for instance, has its own individual combination of size, ages, income, rent, tax bills and living expenses. It has its own private plans and dreams, its special needs for life

That is why the services of your life insurance agent are so necessary. He is trained to analyze your family's needs and help you meet them with a life insurance plan designed especially for

Often it is difficult to decide how much life insurance you should own, or what kind of policy or policies will best meet your needs. But your agent can help you solve these problems. And he knows how to arrange your life insurance to take care of all the money problems that arise in connection with protection and retirement.

Rely on him. More than a million Canadian families have benefitted by the experience and advice of the modern life insurance agent!

A helpful citizen in your community

When your agent sells you life insurance, he also helps to improve your community. For a large part of each life insurance dollar is put to work, through investments, to build schools, bridges, highways, industrial plants and many other projects that create jobs and make for better living.

You share in these improvements, made possible through the efforts of your helpful fellow-citizen - the modern life insurance agent!

YEARS OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

1889 1949

The blacksmith of 1889 forged a great variety of articles with hammer and anvil and the strength of his brawny arm. Today a giant forging hammer rains 50-ton blows on the anvil. A hammer made of ordinary metals could not stand the strain or vibration. So Nickel Steel and Nickel Cast Iron are used to provide extra strength and durability.

Nickel Brings Dollars to Canada

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the -14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year.

These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada; help create jobs for Canadians.

APPLE BLOSSOM TIME, TRA-LA!—Now that spring is on the wing, our thoughts turn to warmer weather and spring blossoms. It is apple blossom time now and thousands of Canadians each year enjoy scenes like this one when the blossoms reach their full height. Often they travel for miles to see the blossoms.

FEMININE FARMER OF THE FUTURE -- Women have invaded what used to be strictly a man's realm at the Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph, Ont., where 10 girls are studying practical farming. One year's actual farm experience is necessary before entering the college. However, by the time they graduate, these girls will be fully equipped to go back to their own farms and probably show their dads a thing or two. Elizabeth M. Beck of Delhi, Ont., fourth-year student, is busy here pruning tree before grafting.

HERO OF THE BLOCK WITH THIS STORY!—In bed at his home in New York city, sixyear - old Tommy Billings points to scar on chest, memento of adenoids operation. Tommy "died" on operating table, and heart stilled for 10 minutes until the attending surgeon, Lieut.-Com. Richard Gaillard, made incision in chest, inserted finger and massaged heart until it started up once more. His mother, Mrs. Jennie Billings, says it's a miracle. Tommy, for the moment, is the centre of attraction of all kids on his street.

behind the gas for every car

There's a big investment

Finding oil and bringing it to you—in the kind of products you need, and at low prices—is a big job and takes a lot of money. Behind that dependable supply are thousands of Canadians engaged in finding, producing, transporting, refining and marketing—working with tools that cost hundreds of millions. But the investment in those tools is your guarantee of adequate supply and minimum price.

FIRST, the oil must be found. This means expensive equipment and the risking of money in patient search. A single deep test drilling rig is worth half a million dollars and one unsuccessful well in the Alberta foothills has cost more than a million. Then when oil fields are found, they must be developed; just to drill and equip one well in the Leduc field costs about $100,000.

SECOND, crude oil must be transported to a refinery. Tank cars, pipe lines and ocean and lake tankers are the vehicles. A large pipe line. may cost $100,000 a mile; Imperial's largest tanker, just put into service, cost more than $5 millions.

THIRD, the crude oil must be refined into hundreds of useful products. Large and complex refining units are the workman's equipment here. To meet your increasing needs for more and better products Imperial since the war has added refining capacity to process an extra 31,000 barrels per day. The cost was more than $30 millions.

FOURTH, the products must be marketed—this means they must be made available to you when and where you need them. The tools of the marketer are such things as service stations, truck fleets, coastal ships, barges, oil drums and tanks. This equipment, too, adds up to millions. Canadians are using twice as much oil as in 1939. To help meet built ships and pipe lines, erected new refinery units, installed new marketing equipment. It costs more than twice as much to do these things as before the war. The money we needed to do these things came from borrowing, from your increasing needs Imperial has sought and found new fields, the sale of investments and from earnings put back into the business after paying dividends. This money is helping to provide the tools to bring you all the oil you need—at the lowest possible price.

Bringing you oil is a big job—and a costly one.

The price of a gallon of gasoline today is about the same as the price of a gallon of distilled water.

For years before the war the wholesale price of gasoline dropped almost steadily and although it has been caught in the general upswing of costs it has not increased nearly as much as other commodities.

Since 1939 the general wholesale price index has more than doubled but the petroleum products price index has advanced by less than two-thirds. On its 1948 operations Imperial earned a profit equivalent to less than one cent a gallon for each gallon of products sold.
