American Solons Want to Know More on Aid

A Program Would War From Present Nation---Harriman

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—W. Averill Harriman, U.S. ambassador in Europe, called on the United States Congress to approve the growing foreign arms program promptly to meet the growing generation from war.

Representatives of the Democrats joined Republicans on the floor in calling for the President Truman to help friendly countries re-arm against Russian aggression.

They were not forthcoming. They do not want to know any iron-clad guarantee that the countries re-arming will use their arms only in self-defense.

Harriman, however, indicated that the details of the program are not forthcoming. He said that the countries re-arming will use their arms only in self-defense.

"I think it is unnecessary to her attempt," he added.

B.C. - California

BRITISH COLUMBIA is sometimes called "The California of Canada." It can be hardly said the comparison is extravagant. Her western shores front the Pacific. British Columbia has experienced gold stampedes. Asiatics have been here since early days. Eastern provinces still regard B.C. as a sort of glamor land. Huge trees grow in B.C. Her mountain scenery is little short of matchless, and her gardens rich and fragrant. Perhaps we should say "California is the British Columbia of the United States."

'GRACIOUS' Q.C. ISLANDS

THE Queen Charlotte Islands are gradually and persistently being discovered. It's a long, long process for anywhere north of Vancouver. It's always that way. Monday, The News printed a letter signed by W. N. Giegerich. It corrected a grist of misleading impressions concerning the Islands and incidentally lauded the climate. Mr. Giegerich may not already know but others have beaten him to it. Long before any of us were born, the old navigators and explorers in their cruises this far rarely failed to make mention of "the gracious clime" and healthfulness of these northern isles.

RED, RED FACES

AMETHYST rejoins fleet. No casualties! No damage! God save the King! Communist China, when Saturday's terse message became known, would not like it a little bit. It was thought the sloop of war, 200 miles up the Yangtze River, might stay there. It was a narrow squeeze however—with a handful of men, shortage of power and everything else, and watchful Reds. But this time, dictatorship shells failed to score. But loss of face did.

President Quirino said he would canvass the attitude of other countries toward formation of a Pacific union.

The Experts Say

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

FREEZING—The market is filling rapidly these days with quantities of fruits and vegetables, many of which the housewife is anxious to preserve for winter use.

Home economists note that freezing is gaining popularity as the ideal method for home preserving.

Fruits and vegetables are quickly prepared for freezing and the kitchen keeps cooler than is possible with canning methods. The fruit also retains its natural color and fresh flavor, and vegetables, quickly cooked before serving, are almost garden fresh.

All fruits and vegetables do not freeze well. The housewife should be wary of pears. And peaches require special treatment to prevent discoloration. Berries, sour cherries and rhubarb, are excellent when frozen.

As for vegetables, asparagus, beans, peas, spinach and whole kernel corn, turn out well. But corn on the cob has a tendency to develop off-flavors during storage. Vegetables usually eaten raw, such as celery, tomatoes, lettuce and cucumbers, should not be frozen.

Freeze only high quality fruits and vegetables. Always use garden-fresh vegetables and freeze within a few hours after gathering.

Select fruits and vegetables which are at the ideal stage of maturity for immediate table use. Fruits should be ripe but firm. Do not freeze any fruit that is green, over-ripe, bruised or beginning to spoil. Vegetables should be young and tender.

Heavily-waxed, cylindrical-shaped cartons with slip-over or slip-in lids are excellent for products packed dry or in syrup or brine. Rectangular-shaped cartons with moisture-vapor-proof bag linings are more suitable for dry pack vegetables or fruits.

Glass jars may be used for packing vegetables or fruits, but they are wasteful of locker space. There also is danger of jars breaking, especially if used for fruits packed in syrup or vegetables packed in brine. As a precaution against breakage, at least one-inch head space should be allowed.

Transparent or heavily-waxed papers and other moisture-vapor-proof wrappings may be used for corn on the cob or rhubarb. All wrappings should be sealed securely to exclude as much air as possible.

SOUR MILK—Housewives may not know it but the sour milk which gives such good flavor to gingerbread and muffins, has most of the nutritive value of fresh milk. Health and welfare officials say that in view of this it is even more important to use up any sour milk on hand—for good economy as well as for good health.

MISSION WORK AT HOME, ABROAD

Two interesting special speakers were heard at Sunday services in First Baptist Church—one a young Mennonite missionary from Abbotsford who is heading for torrid Borneo on the equator in the East Indies, the other a church social worker from Edmonton.

Elmer Warkentin has not yet been in Borneo but he has acquainted himself sufficiently about it to be able to deliver a highly interesting discourse. He appealed for support of the church's missionary work.

Miss Mae Benedict told of organizing a new church among the oil workers in the Jasper Place section of Edmonton.

Mr. Warkentin spoke again before an interdenominational meeting last night in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Young people of five local churches attended to the number of about fifty with Henry Vanderheide presiding.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Advice from Victoria says a national housing plan will be placed before the Federal authorities. A good place to start might be a large, new frame building in Prince Rupert, light on all sides and with a grand view. It is empty, and could be converted into a dozen or more handy-size apartments.

Rex Beach is reported seriously ill at his home in Florida. He is the logical team-mate of Robert Service for in prose he described the Klondike in much the same way Service pictured it in verse. There is the same vivid, masterly touch. Somehow, "The Spoilers" and "Songs of a Sourdough" make one think of a blood relationship. Beach paused in Prince Rupert one morning years ago. He gave an interview, speaking slowly, and then inquired, with the ghost of a smile, if the press would mind being interviewed in turn.

This is the week "Operation Eagle" will be staged in Alberta and British Columbia, with Grande Prairie and Fort St. John becoming a war zone. There will be 1,400 troops, a hundred planes and sufficient brass. It seems the general idea is to test the movement of fighting units by air—or that's the way the military editor of this column understands it, as flashed by courier stationed at Hole-in-the-Wall.

HELEN KASPER IS SHOWER HONOREE

Mrs. John Thompson and her daughter, Miss Kay Thompson, were hostesses at a delightful shower in honor of Miss Helen Kasper whose marriage to Jack Furness will take place this Friday. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Sam Haugan, Fifth Avenue East. Contests and music were enjoyed by friends of the bride-to-be who gathered for the pleasant occasion. The highlight of the proceedings, however, came during an interval when Miss Kasper was presented with a lovely decorated basket containing many beautiful gifts. Delicious refreshments were served with Mrs. R. Haugan, Mrs. J. Knowles, Miss B. Macaulay and Miss Pat Thompson acting as serviteurs. Those present included Mrs. F. W. Grimble, Mrs. Terry Grimble, Mrs. J. T. Kasper, Mrs. H. V. Tattersal, Mrs. P. Shannon, Mrs. V. Norberg, Mrs. B. J. Bacon, Mrs. C. McIntyre, Mrs. T. Thomas, Mrs. H. Stewart, Mrs. F. Gunn, Mrs. G. B. Casey, Mrs. W. V. Tattersal, Mrs. K. Nesbitt, Mrs. J. J. Little, Mrs. F. Reid and Mrs. B. J. Smithson.

ANOTHER FOUR PERFECT HANDS

A local ladies' bridge foursome recently had four perfect hands in one deal. A parallel incident has been reported from Newport News, Virginia, where four ladies of a bridge club picked up their cards and each found a perfect hand. First seven clubs was bid, then seven diamonds and seven spades to shut out the perfect heart hand. The chances of four perfect hands in one deal is put at one in $15,829,600. Mathematicians can challenge the figure. It is not vouched for here.

OIL HALTS SWIMMING—With temperatures in the 90's Torontonians faced another hot-weather hardship when two of the city's bathing beaches were closed as a two-mile patch of oil drifted along the waterfront. Oil slicks have been reported along the lakefront for the past two weeks but the source has not, as yet, been established. Here Jack Sullivan of the Sunnyside Beach staff, one of the two closed, pulls his rake through the slick as swimmers Sheila Hill and Dorothy Haney show why swimming is impossible. (C. P. Photo)

SAW ALUMINUM POWER DAM SITE

Excessive rainfall during the past month was not confined to Prince Rupert, it is reported by District Forester M. G. Gormely who returned to the city at the end of the week after a three weeks' trip to the remotest areas in the east end of his big district. He went south from Burns Lake into Tweedsmuir Park and also visited the Babine Lake country.

The streams were so high owing to the heavy rains that Mr. Gormely was unable, as he had intended, to make the Great Circle boat trip in the Whitesail-Eutsuk Lake country. He saw the site near the headwaters of the Nechako River where Aluminum Co. of Canada has a party of ten or fifteen men taking soundings of a proposed great dam site.

Mr. Gormely tells of the good use that is being made by a forest survey party out of Hazelton of a helicopter, making it

STRONG TEAM FOR TROPHY
Hanson Cup Selection Game Played Last Night
Just whose team beat whose team in last night's Hanson Cup trial football match is subject to conjecture. Strategists Alex Haig and Jock Davidson did everything with their squads from juggling players to trading forward lines. However, the Blues scored four goals against the Yellow's one.

Sport Shots
Victory of Dick Chapman of Massachusetts in the Canadian amateur golf championship at Saint John, New Brunswick, marked the first time the Oxterville stock broker has competed in the Canadian amateur and the third successive year that the title has gone to the United States.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. J. McPhail and family of San Rafael, California, having come in by motor over the highway, sailed on the Camosun this afternoon for Vancouver en route home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reid left on last night's train for Vancouver where they will visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davie. Mr. Reid will return next week while Mrs. Reid will remain in the south for an indefinite period.

Mrs. George Reid, formerly Miss Edith Brewerton, of Vancouver, a sister of Len Brewerton of this city, is in town on a holiday visit. Member of a pioneer family of Prince Rupert, Mrs. Reid, who has not been here in 17 years, finds the trip one of decided interest and notes numerous changes.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Little of Terrace were overnight visitors in the city. Coming in yesterday morning, they brought Hon. E. T. Kenney, who explained yesterday afternoon for Victoria after a visit to Lakelse Lake. Returning to the interior this afternoon, they will be accompanied by Thomas Connolly, Chicago pole buyer, who is arriving in the city by today's plane.

James Stevenson, manager of the Terrace branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, and Mrs. Stevenson and son will sail from here on the Catala this Friday night for a vacation trip to Vancouver. H. M. Wightman, accountant of the local branch, will be relieving at Terrace during Mr. Stevenson's absence. Mr. and Mrs. Wightman and family are already at Lakelse Lake, having been holidaying there.

TORRENT OF BLOOD

bottle of soda pop to increase the fluid content of the body and then into the auditorium, which has taken on the appearance of a dressing station, where you relax on one of the ten donor beds.

There, one of the clinic's staff administers a mild local anesthetic in either of your arms, just below the elbow and a hollow needle is inserted. This is attached to a rubber hose which connects with a special type of bottle for the blood. Soor, without any particular sensation, the blood begins to flow. Actual time required to fill the bottle is between five and six minutes. After it is over you are conducted to another bed where you relax for 10 minutes and then, into the teen-age room where coffee or tea and cookies are waiting.

Overall time, including the rest period: about 20 minutes. Reaction: generally none whatever.

During the two hours and a half which the clinic was open last night, there was one complete donation a minute, using, of course the ten beds. There were only five rejections, two for low haemoglobin count and three for other reasons. One lad was rejected because he was under the 18-year minimum age limit.

VOLUNTEER NURSES
Volunteer nurses from Prince Rupert are playing an important part in taking care of the donors after they have given blood. Last night's volunteer nurses were Mrs. O. L. Murray, Mrs. James Field, Mrs. N. A. S. Pett, Mrs. Walter Smith and Mrs. Walter London.

Scores of other jobs, including serving of refreshments to the donors were done by the following ladies, organized by the Women's Co-ordinating Council: Miss Ellen Kinnaird, Soroptimist Club; Mrs. M. Willa Ray, Soroptimist Club; Mrs. M. O. Kullander, Mrs. M. Hopkins and Miss Frances Partridge, Business and Professional Women's Club; Miss Margaret McLeod, Soroptimist Club; Mrs. T. J. Boulet, Mrs. A. L. Haines and Mrs. T. Glenn, Women's Co-ordinating Council.

NEW COTTON IN WEAVE PATTERN

LONDON (AP)—A British cotton mill has developed an entirely new type of cloth which has already found a good response from Canadian and United States buyers.

A director of the firm describes it as "a fine cotton in which the pattern is created by the weave, in both checks and stripes and a combination of the two."

It was first shown at the recent British Industries Fair, and is suitable for women's dresswear, children's clothing and curtains.

C.N.R. FIRST AID WORKERS GET DIPLOMAS

Tribute to the unselfish spirit which prompted them to guard the well-being of their fellow employees was paid to fourteen Canadian National Railways and Prince Rupert dry dock workers by Divisional Superintendent C. A. Berner Monday afternoon when he presented first aid diplomas in a ceremony at the divisional office.

The group comprised men who had studied first aid under company instructor Jack Cook on his periodic visits to the city and passed tests given by Dr. J. A. Macdavid in recent months.

"The unselfish concept of service shown by you men is a most Christian and commendable attitude," Mr. Berner said. "I am proud to be associated with men who are taking part in this useful work. These certificates are justly earned and should be displayed with pride."

Special 10-year long service certificates were given to J. A. Teng and W. N. R. Armstrong in addition to current proficiency certificates. Railway employees receiving diplomas were: First Year Certificates—William Spark, Percy A. L. Downing, Ray K. Olsen. Voucher, Second Year—Harry L. Quick. Medallion, Third Year—Joseph F. Bugyinka. Interim Labels—J. A. Teng, William N. R. Armstrong, Albert E. Blackhall, Percy A. Bond. Dry Dock recipients were: First Year Certificates—Ivar T. Fossum, William D. Griffiths, Norman Skogmo. Vouchers—John Davidson, George Scott.

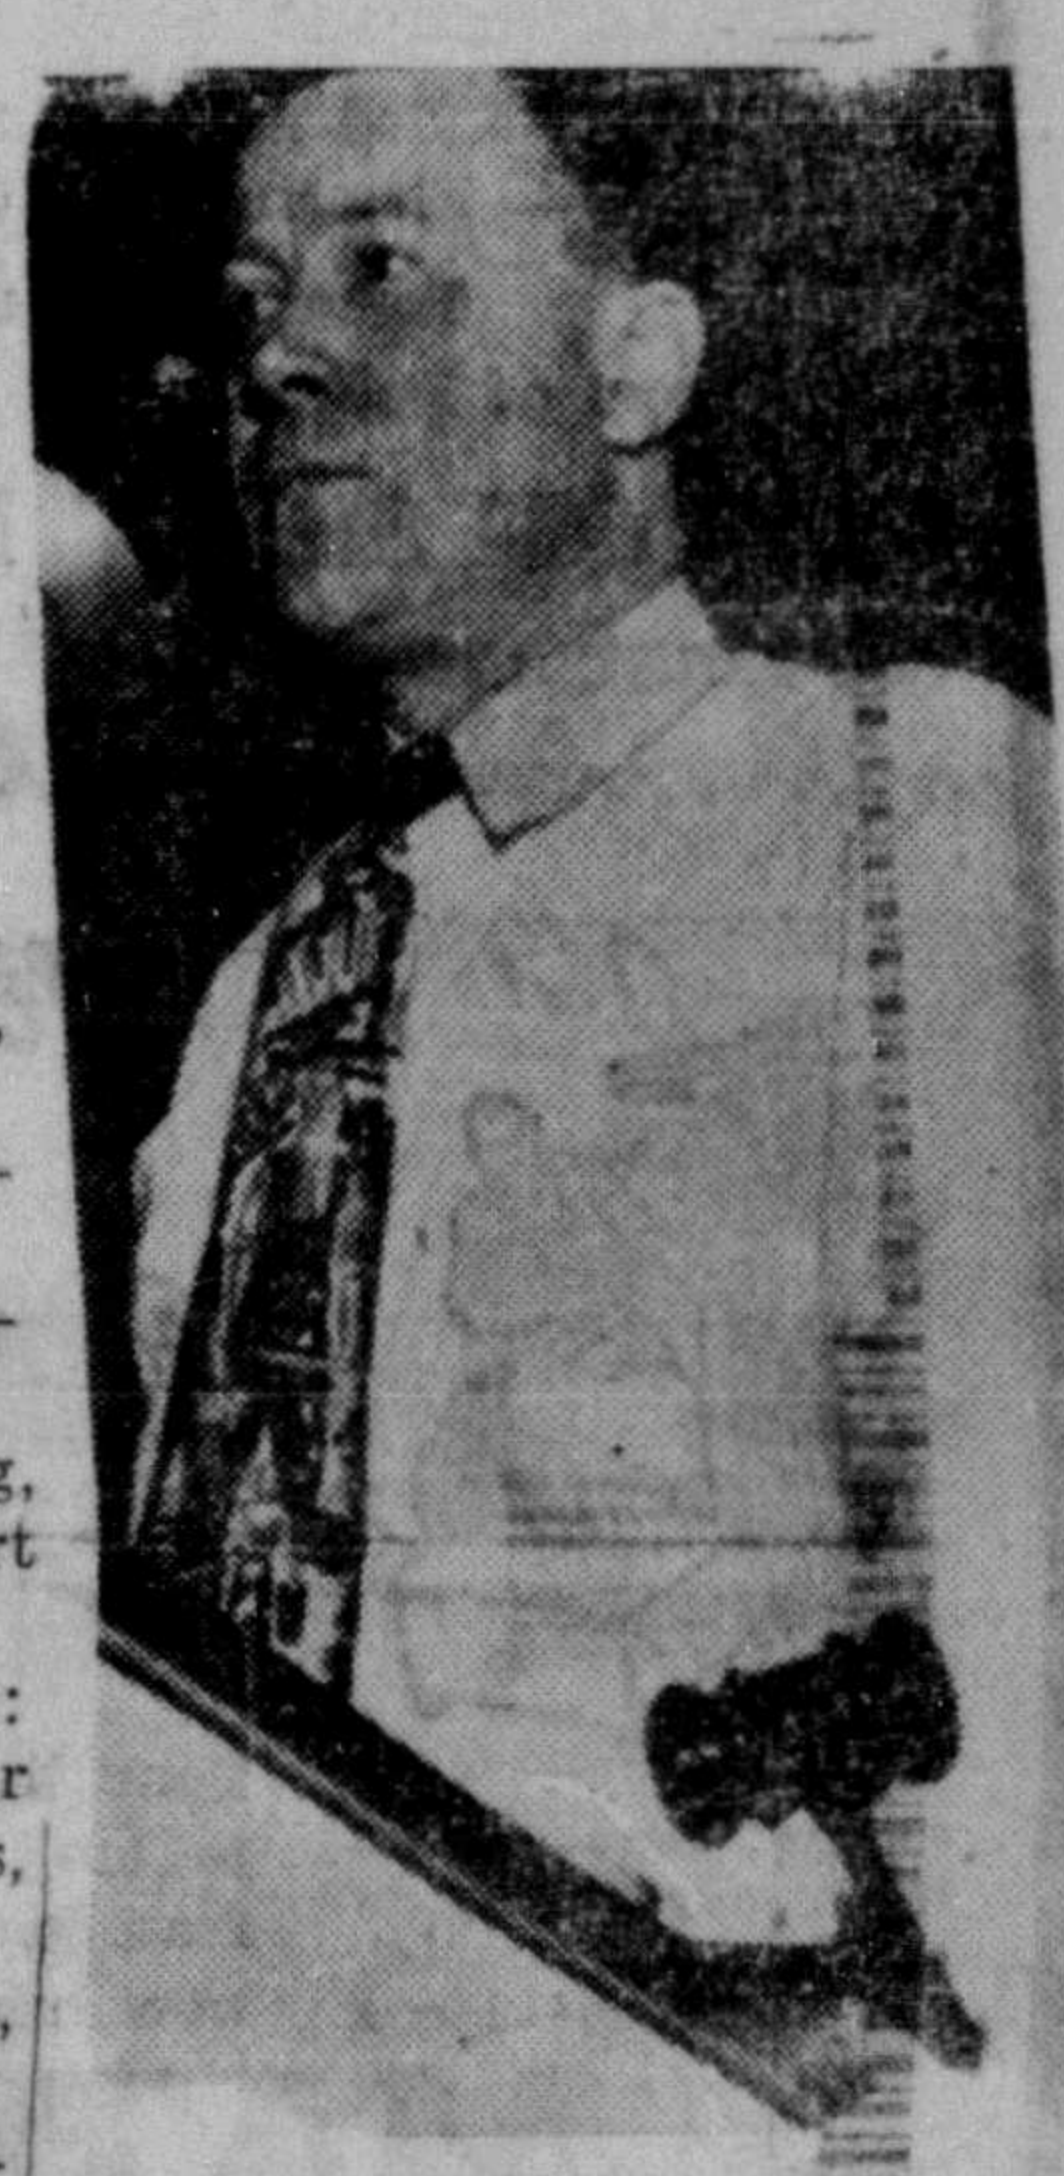

At the conclusion of the ceremony, J. A. Teng thanked Mr. Cook for the instruction he had given over a number of years and wished him happiness in his retirement from the company service which is due next year. Interested spectators at the ceremony were Charles McNab, car foreman, Thomas Priest, locomotive foreman, and Thomas Boulter, assistant superintendent at the Dry Dock.

EARLY CANNON IS DISCOVERED

An ancient muzzle-loading naval gun of a model current 150 years ago has been presented to the Museum of Northern British Columbia by Jack Scott, provincial forest ranger, on the Queen Charlotte Islands who believes that it was once mounted on a British warship.

Because it is made of cast iron, a metal notable for its resistance to the ravages of rust, the weapon is well-preserved although its markings are almost impossible to discern. However, on the trunion are stamped a series of letters and symbols indicating British naval origin.

About 30 inches long, the barrel is some seven inches thick at the back, tapering down to about four inches, then flaring out to better than five inches at the muzzle. The unrifled bore is two inches in diameter, indicating that it hurled a ball of one-pound weight.

Method of firing was to ignite a fuse inserted in a firing hole at the back after loading. The gun was given to Mr. Scott by a man at Skidegate who found it on the Islands. Two iron legs attached to the trunion indicate that it was mounted on a swivel, probably on the bow of some navy long boat used for landing on the beaches by some early explorer.

C. E. Cullin, curator of the Museum, says that the markings on the trunion indicate that it is likely that the gun is of British origin but that he cannot be sure. It is possible, he says, that it may have belonged to some early Spanish explorer who visited this coast.

STOTFOLD, Bedfordshire, Eng.—Alan Bygrave and Bernard Allen, army cadets, have invented and built a training gun. They hope to get financial backing to have it patented.

TURN ABOUT!—Germany's post-war hercules is a chap named Milo Barus, whom you see here carrying a 300-pound pony on his shoulders up a flight of steps. He can also lift an automobile with his chest and let 20 men bend a chunk of railroad track on his head. However, his most spectacular act is a wrestling match with a bull, which he usually wins.
