'O, Canada'

ANADIAN retailers are a vital link in the merchandising chain. The retailer is playing and can play a still greater role in the economic welfare of the country.

Behind every Canadian label is a story of humming factories, employment and buying power. Behind every foreign lobel is a story of money leaving the country contributing to employment and its restiltant benefits outside of Canada.

So long as economic indices have been high in all categories, it has mattered little enough whether domestic or imported goods got the play. There was plenty of business for all.

The importance of selling the Canadian label becomes apparent as the buying power declines. We do not suggest, however, that there should be a blanket discrimination against the imported product.

What is suggested and what the retailer will clearly understand, is that, where all things are equal, it's just enlightened self-interest to sell the Canadian label.

IT'S NO MYSTERY

ISS THE BLARNEY STONE, if you like-Visit the wishing well if there's one in your neighborhood-Keep your fingers crossed if it comforts you—But above all be sure to develop sound public relations.

In a simple Utopian, non-competitive society, there would be no need for public relations, just as there would be no need for lawyers and accountants. Society, however, is becoming more complieated, more competitive. Therefore, the need for public relations is becoming increasingly necessary.

There is no mystery to public relations. Public relations gets all the verifiable facts and communicates them to the public by advertising to make and keep friends by deserving them.

The more friends a business has, the better the profit and loss statements. The more friends an association or trade organization can acquire, the more certain that it will succeed.

UNECONOMIC CITIES

ANADA'S largest cities are too big. Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver cannot provide facilities for the maximum production of goods and services at a minimum of overall cost. There is a point of diminishing returns in the growth of cities as in all other enterprises. Our largest cities have passed the point of efficiency and some of our secondary cities are nearing it. The time to stop, look, and listen, is now.

While laying plans for subsidized housing and transportation which will foster further economic growth, the cities, provinces, and the Dominion should be adopting policies which will arrest the growth of oversize cities and stimulate the growth of communities which can provide better living and working conditions for the misplaced persons now existing in city slums.

When the Dominion or a provincial government faxes people in underdeveloped areas, to subsidize people in overgrown cities, it encourages harmful expansion in the one and discourages healthy growth in the other. Subsidizing housing and transportation could aggravate bad conditions, adding to the taxes and burdens of all other citizens and increasing the overall cost of goods and services produced in elephantine communities.

Aside from the fact that another war would compel frenzied decentralization, the health and well-being of Canadian workers call for an immediate reversal of the trend toward metropolitan obesity. Economic equity demands that production should be diffused throughout the provinces and the Dominion to the economic limit.

THE ORIGINAL 10 OF HOCKEY'S HALL OF FAME

HOWIE MORENZ, whose dazzling speed and scoring artistry made him the most colorful of all hockey's heroes • GEORGES VEZINA, the Chicoutimi Cucumber, rated by old-timers as the greatest of all goalkeepers . EDDIE GERARD, all-round athlete, 60-minute-man as forward and defence star of Ottawa Senators, later coach of Montreal Maroons, New York Americans and St. Louis • HOD STUART, one of the greatest defencemen of all time and the hockey idol of the masses around the turn of the century . CHUCK GARDINER, the goalie who revolutionized netminding, setting the pattern for the modern style of daring blocking in contrast to the stand-up style of the Vezina days. TOMMY PHILLIPS, as well known as the premier of Canada in the early 1900's and such a great star with the Rat Portage (later Kenora) Thistles that his worshippers chanted: "Never a man like Phillips, never a man like he." • HARVEY PULFORD, one of Canada's greatest all-round athletes: defence star of the famed Ottawa Silver Seven and, like Hod Stuart, one of the pioneer rushing defencemen . FRANK MAGEE, the player oldtimers say was the greatest of them all and the scoring wizard (he had only one eye) who scored 14 goals in a Stanley Cup game . HOBEY BAKER, the first truly great American-born hockey star and a man who did more to popularize the game in the United States than any man before him.

HALF OF STABLE-Max Bentley, Toronto Maple Leaf forward who has won two race horses for scoring goals against the Detroit Red Wings, is shown here claiming half of his stable. The donor of this horse is Charlie Hemstead, Toronto breeder, who promised the animal if Max scored last Saturday against the Wings. Max, who denned a 10-gallon hat for the occasion, selected Four-bo from 14 others because "the name was the nearest I could get to tying in those four goals I scored last week-end." The race horse will be presented to Bentley by George McCullagh, Toronto, publisher, for scoring against the Wings in an earlier game.

Kindergartens Are Needed

Parent-Teachers Would Have Board Provide Them

The need for more kindergartens and more instruction for the pre-school children of Prince Rupert was stressed by Rev. R. A. Wilson at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Council held in the Civic Centre last evening.

Kindergarten does not mean starting school early and consequently prematurely, as many erroneously believe, Mr. Wilson said. It is an opportunity for children to learn co-operation with the teacher and one ans other so that when they enter school they will be able to derive the utmost benefit from their instruction.

At present there is only one Look New! Feel New! | kindergarten in Prince Rupert. Mr. Wilson stated, that sponsored by the First United Church here, which is operated purely voluntarily by Mrs. C. J. O. Olsen. That kindergarten was started in 1946 with 25 children and has now doubled to 50, the utmost capacity for the small

"Someday" comes closer with every dollar you save Most of us have to plan for the good things of life. And a big part of that planning is a matter of dollars and cents—of carmarking a certain part of our earnings for the things we want most. It's not always easy, especially these days?

But the fact remains that what you save is still the most important—the most satisfying part of what you earn.

Are you hoping for something...or saving for it?
