MOSCOW SAYS BOMBER ARMED, FIRING FIRST

LONDON (CP)—Russia today rejected a United States demand for compensation for the loss of an American plane which was fired at by Soviet fighters in the Baltic Sea area April 8. The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics also insisted that the plane was a B-29 bomber, not an unarmed privateer, and that it fired first.

The note was handed to United States Ambassador Alan G. Kirk at Moscow from Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky and declared that the plane was "trying to photograph Soviet defence installations." It also fired first, the note said.

The note said the Soviet government cannot accept the United States demands for compensation for a guarantee against recurrence of the incident.

Jets Home From Pentiction Trip

"It was a good trip. There was really something wrong with it though. We didn't win" was the simple comment of one of the members of Prince Rupert Jets' all star basketball team which returned home on the Princess Louise this morning from its unsuccessful defence of the British Columbia senior "B" basketball championship at Pentiction.

Returning today were coach George Howe, Joe Davis, Jim Flaten, Rupert Holkestad, Everett Pierce, Sid Scherk and Bill Sunbers.

Res Lavigne got back by plane Wednesday.

Manager Don Forward, Ted Arney and Sonny Beynon will be returning Sunday.

"Framed" Says Geo. McKnight

George McKnight, charged jointly with Stewart Thompson on a breaking and entering charge, stood in the witness box this morning and declared that most of the crown witnesses were lying and suggested that he was "framed." He even called one of the crown witnesses a "rat."

He stated he would believe Dr. Thomas Davis of Victoria, senior analyst with the Department of Mines. Dr. Davis experimented with evidence submitted by police regarding the case. But, he declared, he would not believe any of the other witnesses.

Makassar Is Recaptured

The surrender was without bloodshed following the landing at Worang, about 40 miles south of Makassar, of a battalion of 90 federal soldiers.

Statement On Doukhobor Problem

No Further Trifling In Law Keeping

Committee To Seek Long Solution — Deportation Proposed

OTTAWA (CP) — Attorney General G. S. Wismer of British Columbia announced today that one of the solutions being sought to put a halt to Doukhobor terrorism is to get them to emigrate to another country but, while these and other solutions were being considered, "the governments are determined that the laws of Canada must be observed."

Mr. Wismer issued a 12,000-word statement after discussion with Minister of Justice Stewart Garson on the best means of solving the Doukhobor menace which has taken on new importance with the resumption of "criminal terrorism" in British Columbia.

The Attorney General blamed one sect and one alone — the Sons of Freedom. Other groups merited great respect, he said.

If the Doukhobors wanted to emigrate and any other country was ready to receive them, the Canadian authorities would make no objection, Wismer said.

Another proposal was for a mass rehabilitation along the lines of special, economic and spiritual outlook.

Mr. Wismer announced that there would be a special scientific investigation with a view to devising a long term plan to solve an extraordinarily difficult problem.

It was very "disappointing" that a new and "intolerable situation" had arisen.

Meantime tight police cordons and road blocks surround the

Premier Indignant—House Has Hot Scene

OTTAWA (CP) — Flushed and angered, Prime Minister St. Laurent clashed with noisy, jeering Progressive-Conservative members in the House of Commons yesterday, expressing bitter resentment at a charge that he had evaded a question.

In a sharp exchange of afternoon debate, Mr. St. Laurent told Howard Green (P.C.-Vancouver-Quadra) who made the charge, that he resented it and was prepared always "to meet him head-on here or anywhere else."

Advancing into the aisle with color darkening and voice rising and hands gesturing, the 67-year old Prime Minister defiantly told the Chamber in tones of anger rarely used before in his eight years in Parliament that "I would rather lose my temper than my reputation."

The blow-up stemmed from an attempt by the government, finally successful, to remove the private members bill period for several days which is the usual routine as the House hastens to clear away the work.

APPEAL FROM HEALTH OFFICIALS SENDS SCOTS QUEUEING FOR VACCINATION—When a ship docked in Glasgow, Scotland, with a smallpox case aboard, health officials immediately sent out an appeal for mass vaccination, and residents of the city responded wholeheartedly. In one day more than 13,000 were vaccinated at the rate of 600 an hour. This scene shows thousands of residents of the city queueing for vaccination. The line was over 200 yards long, starting from around the corner, at the public health office.

THE WEATHER Synopsis

Frost was quite general throughout the interior overnight as the mercury plummeted from the highest point reached this year to below the freezing mark as skies cleared rapidly at night. At Pentiction for example a maximum temperature of 73, recorded yesterday, brought in a rush of cool Pacific air over the province. A rather weak disturbance crossed the coast will allow this cloud and a few showers to persist today and overnight but Saturday should see clearing conditions again.

With nearly clear skies and light winds in the interior tonight temperatures once more should fall below the freezing mark.

Forecast
North Coast Region—Cloudy with sunny intervals today and again tomorrow. A few showers today. Little change in temperature. Winds—Southerly (15 mph) shifting to westerly (15 mph) this afternoon. Winds light tomorrow. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy 36 and 50, Sandspit and Prince Rupert 34 and 50.

Where We Are Losing

WE THE WESTERN DEMOCRACIES, are losing the cold war through our failure to project to the free peoples of the world the ideals that made us great, says Bruce Hutchison writing in the current issue in Maclean's Magazine.

Charting the onward course of Western influence during the past few years, Hutchison writes that superficially the answer lies first, in our complete miscalculation of Russia and secondly in the altruism, and ballyhoo of San Francisco where we thought peace could be realized and guaranteed on paper. Disillusionment followed with the massive economic transfusion of the Marshall Plan.

Says Hutchison: "It is now obvious that the Marshall Plan, after its spectacular beginning, will fail of its purpose to make Europe stable by 1952. In the dollar defeatism of Europe, in its secret distrust of American prosperity and intent, the dollar gap is not being closed and will not be closed, as planned, by increased exports into America. . . ."

In armaments, Hutchison quotes Dr. Harold C. Urey, architect of the hydrogen bomb plans that "we may have already lost the armament race. . . ."

Sums up Hutchison: "It is in the realm of ideas, not in the realm of military power or economics, that we are in peril, for if we were winning the war of ideas, the military and economic problems would solve themselves." "The North American technique but not the North American idea is conquering the world. . . ."

More potent, more valuable than money or techniques to the world is our Democratic Idea—that upon which our civilization was built from the beginning: the supreme importance of the individual human creature in a society which places him above everything else, Hutchison writes.

He adds: "We cannot force this concept upon other people . . . we can only live it, then share its fruits with those who find our life worth imitating. It is right here where we have failed. Whatever individuals may have done, as a people, as a system, we haven't shared anything with anybody."

By giving only to the point of convenience, by giving only an amount which would not imperil for a moment our own standard of living, by giving—not sharing—we have encouraged only suspicion, resentment and envy where we sought to achieve goodwill and imitation of our way of life.

SMALLPOX

SMALLPOX has not been conquered although so great has been the reduction in the number of cases that there did exist the assumption that the disease had been practically overcome.

The recent outbreak in Glasgow, still being fought, and which has included a number of deaths, makes it plain that defeat of a malady of this nature, should never be taken for granted.

It is just as well to remember the old maxim "that eternal vigilance is the price of safety." It is thought that in the present crisis the malady came originally from Europe where, still suffering from the effects of war, the country can spread affliction and distress.

In view of what is happening in Scotland, deep sea shipping is taking precautions. The less infection in distant ports the better.

THE DOUKHOBORS

IT MAY BE REASONABLE to inquire if fifty years of boundless patience, forbearance and temporizing where the Doukhobors are concerned have been to Canada's credit or discredit. But, whichever, the time has come to call a halt and do something.

It is doubtful if anywhere else on earth, these misguided migrants could have gone to the same lengths they have here.

About all that can be done now is make the punishment fit the crime, with fearlessness and understanding. They must be rid of the apparent notion that fanaticism and nudity can induce clemency in a court of law. If they contemplate spending much of their future life in a penitentiary, they are going the right way about it.

Fluorine in Water—

Cure For Bad Teeth

P.T. Ass'n Mearns 30 Experiment Suggested
A total of $179.72 was netted by the Conrad Street School Parent-Teacher Association at its annual white elephant sale in the school on April 1, according to a report submitted by treasurer, Mrs. Darrow Gomez at the regular monthly meeting of the association Tuesday evening. The money will be used for improvements or additions to school equipment. The final decision as to the spending of the money will be referred to the new executive next September.

President Harold Thom reported that, according to information made available to him, Dr. Duncan Black, director of the Prince Rupert Health Unit, had conducted a survey of the condition of the city's Grade One children's teeth at the request of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Council.

Dr. Black's survey showed that approximately 80 percent of Grade 1 children in this city have defective teeth, a condition labelled "appalling" by the Conrad P.T.A.

A possible solution to the problem was suggested by President Thom. This was that to the effect that the Parent-Teacher Council be asked to communicate with the Provincial Department of Health in Victoria, requesting that this city and vicinity be used as a test district in which to conduct experiments in the use of fluorine in drinking water, experiments over the past five years having shown successful results in decreasing tooth decay. This suggestion will be brought to the next Parent-Teacher Council meeting for action, if Council considers it practicable.

P.T.A. members decided to hold a "Wind-Up" party to close off the term's activities, on June 2.

Poultry Scourge In Fraser Valley

NEW WESTMINSTER — A poultry scourge, new to British Columbia, has caused destruction of almost 50,000 egg-producing and breeding stock of chickens in the last few weeks.

The slayer—Newcastle disease—threatens the existence of one of the major industries of the fertile lower Fraser Valley which supports an estimated 3,000,000 chickens.

The disease is a virus infection comparable to influenza in humans. It attacks mature stock.

Egg sales are not wavering but Dr. E. W. Wyde, New Westminster health officer, advised last night that eggs be well cooked in case the disease could be transmitted.

Stamping out of the disease takes time, authorities say.

Strict quarantine, plus ruthless eradication of infected birds, are the chief counter-measures now in force. Infected farms and such equipment as feed trucks are fumigated.

Ray Reflects . . . . . . and Reminisces

Iron curtains are quite unnecessary along the borders of Russia in Europe. Where they are really needed is in the Kootenays of Canada to throw around a mob of dangerous, indecent fanatics—that, together with a few detachments of well armed patrols, under strict orders.

Who remembers James J. Jeffries? Plenty, evidently. The former heavyweight champion is seventy-five this month, and greetings, gifts and salutations are coming to him good and plenty. He lives in California. He had enough sense to save his money. Had he not, his finish would, like enough, been similar to the end of other leather-pushers—broke and forgotten.

New telephone directories are being distributed in Prince Rupert. Imagine not having a telephone—or a radio—or a car—or air travel—or television—or double time—or a movie—or ice cream. We couldn't. Yet, it's not so long ago, all were totally unknown.

New York went air but in welcoming three ships of the Royal Canadian Navy. There has been a fast growth. When the coasts first beheld the well-worn Niobe and Rainbow—it seems like yesterday—and Borden also thundered in Ottawa, the great majority of Canada's youths had never even seen the sea, let alone wear bluejackets.

COMMUNITY AFFAIR—

Port Day And Dominion Day To Be Combined In Big Way

Prince Rupert will have its annual Port Day on a larger and more comprehensive scale than ever this year and it will probably be held as a fitting and peculiarly appropriate observance of Canada's national holiday on Dominion Day, July 1. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has sponsored Port Day with varying degrees of success in past years, will now seek the active co-operation of local organizations which it is felt should be particularly interested and they will be asked to name strong delegates to a central Port Day executive and to head specific committees on various departments of the marine demonstration and celebration. A further meeting will be held next Thursday to get arrangements in active motion.

Such was the decision of a Port Day organizational meeting which was held in the Civic Centre last night. Immediate resolve of the meeting was that there should be no entertainment of any idea of permitting Port Day to elapse.

Ald. Douglas Frizzell came up with the suggestion that Port Day should be extended to the scope of a community effort on Dominion Day. There should be no such thing as letting Port Day lapse and it was also ill-fitting that the annual Dominion Day celebration should be permitted to languish as had been done. He suggested that certain organizations be made responsible for organization of each branch of the celebration. The international aspect with competitors from Alaska in fishery demonstrations, speed boat races might be developed.

Harold Thom emphasized the importance of the co-operation of the fishing industry being obtained in regard to suitable timing and such phases.

In view of the new and increased logging activity in the area due to the celanese mill operation, it was felt that log rolling and booming contests might be added.

Organizations, which it was suggested might be specially interested, included the Sons of HOME MOVIES—A new interest to be added to the Hobby Show this year will be the introduction of home movies as one of the leading hobbies in field of recreation and pastimes. It is understood that there are a large number of residents of Prince Rupert who have a large supply of home movies which would prove of interest to those visiting the Hobby Show. These 8 mm. movies will be shown in the Common Lounge in the evenings along with some 16 mm. pictures which have been obtained for the occasion.

Those who have any reels of interest which would be suitable for a general showing are being invited to put them at the disposal of the committee.

Harry Davies, general agent for Canadian Pacific Railways here, returned to the city on the Princess Louise this morning from a holiday trip to Montreal. Ronald Attwater, who has been relieving here sailed on the Louise for Juneau to relieve the agent there, William Feero, who is going on a vacation to the interior of Alaska.

B. C. and the Class of '50

Many important milestones in B.C.'s exceptional progress can be traced to the know-how qualities of leadership provided by university training of the past. A great majority of the Province's university graduates have chosen their work here in B.C. This year, the 1950 graduates need all the openings we can uncover.

A large proportion of these young men and women are veterans—some with families.

You can employ a graduate, or offer summer employment to an undergraduate, please phone or write the Provincial and Professional Liaison Officer at your nearest NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE office, NOW.

The Experts Say

By KAY REX

Fish Dishes—Here are several recipes for turning sea-food into tasty meal-time fare.

Fresh or frozen cod fillets may be served "au gratin," with tomatoes or cheese.

Cut fillets into portions and place in greased baking-dish. Cook in hot oven (500 degrees Fahrenheit) 10 to 12 minutes for fresh fillets and 15 to 22 minutes for frozen fillets.

Fillets Au Gratin—Dip fillets in well-salted milk (one tablespoon of salt to one cup of milk). Roll in dried bread crumbs. Bake in oven.

Fillets with Tomatoes—One tin cream of tomato soup; one tablespoon of shallots (cut in small pieces); two teaspoons sugar.

Salt and cover with cream of tomato soup to which shallots and sugar have been added. Cook during required time.

Fillets with Cheese Sauce—Ingredients of sauce: two tablespoons butter; three tablespoons flour; one cup hot milk; one-third cup grated cheese; one-half teaspoon powdered mustard and salt. Mix until cheese is melted. Cook five minutes. Pour over fish and place in oven.

Fish Chowder—Ingredients: four tablespoons butter; two onions (finely chopped); three-quarters cup minced celery; two cups uncooked potatoes (diced); two cups uncooked codfish (chopped); four cups boiling water; three cups milk; one tablespoon minced parsley; one tablespoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

Cook onion and celery five minutes in melted butter. Add boiling water, potatoes and fish. Cook until potatoes are soft. Add milk, parsley and seasonings. Do not let boil after having added milk.

Fillets in Turbans—Ingredients: small fillets of sole or cod; prepared mustard; one egg; dried bread crumbs; vegetable fat.

Wipe fillets with a damp cloth; cover with a light coat of mustard. Roll into turbans. Fasten with short skewer or toothpick. Dip in egg beaten with two tablespoons of water. Roll in dried bread crumbs, place turbans on a greased baking-sheet. Cook 12 to 15 minutes butter, not browned. Pour over fish while still bubbling. Garnish with parsley.

Terrace Rate-Payers Meeting

TERRACE—The Ratepayers' Association held its monthly meeting in the Fire Hall on Wednesday evening with an attendance of thirteen presided over by Harold Smith.

The report of the delegate to the special meeting called by the commissioners to deal with the Civic Centre fire insurance was presented and the satisfactory conclusion of that matter reported.

The new water rates were announced by Commissioner Haugland who also stated that it might be a point of interest to the ratepayers to know that it is costing the town approximately $200 per month for power for street lighting and water pumps.

Adequate street lighting for Greig Avenue was brought up, but this matter had already been dealt with by the commissioners. Two lights will be installed on Greig Avenue and one at the railroad crossing on Kalam St.

F. Fisher and H. Smith were appointed as delegates to the Directorate of the Civic Centre.

Until recently 97 per cent of the 31,000 mining properties in Mexico were foreign-owned.

$100,000 Business By Terrace Co-op

TERRACE—The Terrace Co-operative Association decided at Wednesday night's meeting to start free delivery of groceries and feed to their customers. The matter of purchasing a truck which has been offered to them at a reasonable price was left in the hands of the directory as were all other arrangements in connection with this innovation. This will mean a certain amount of restrictions on credit and the whole policy on credit will have to be revised.

The meeting was held in the Credit Union Hall and was fairly well attended. C. Kofod president and Floyd Frank was there in his capacity as secretary.

Alex Gillanders gave a report of the Co-operative annual meeting in Vancouver to which he was the local delegate.

It was revealed that the sales in the local store had amounted to $100,000 last year and business was steadily increasing.

A decision to take out membership in the Provincial Co-operative Union was made by the local Association. Following a lengthy meeting refreshments were served by the committee.

Three Kids Are Born at Terrace

TERRACE—Triplets were born on Wednesday morning to a Saarnen doe belonging to Hans Amand. The birth of triplets appears to be something unusual in the goat world but, these three kids are thriving amazingly.

Kenneth Leckie and Stewart Marrs of the federal income tax department from Vancouver, who are here to assist local people in the making out of returns, will keep their office open on Saturday afternoon. They expect to return to Vancouver Sunday night.

Pat Bolton, who has been in Vancouver for the past three months receiving treatment for leg trouble returned to the city on Wednesday.

Miss Glenna Moore returned home on the Camosun this afternoon from a holiday trip to Vancouver and Seattle.

Burial Service for Late J. E. Boddie — New Legion Building Going Ahead Town Gets Laundry

Funeral services for the late J. E. Boddie of Prince Rupert were conducted at the graveside in the Kalum Cemetery by Rev. Canon Basil S. Prockter. Conducting the Oddfellows' rites were H. King and Jack Barman. Pallbearers were W. Bailey, J. H. Smith, W. Warner, J. Barman, Will Robinson and C. J. Norington. Chief mourners were Mrs. J. E. Boddie, Mrs. R. Burnett and daughter of Vancouver, Robert Boddie, D. C. Stevenson, Mrs. James of Prince Rupert. Also from the coast town were Wilfred McLean and Albert Dalzell. Following the funeral the mourners returned to Prince Rupert immediately by car.

A laundry is now operating in the municipally owned building near to the Civic Centre, one part of which is occupied by the R. Baxters. Mr. and Mrs. Wynne are operating the laundry.

Mrs. Lloyd Johnstone is a patient in the local hospital where she had an appendix operation on Monday.

Mrs. F. Eve and Lynne Gordon of Prince Rupert spent last week in town looking over several properties and finally purchasing the Billson place on Eby Road.

Pearl Faugland had an appendix operation at the local hospital on Wednesday morning.

Gordon Little, Edith Little and Mary Crawford arrived back in Terrace at noon on Thursday driving in from the east over very bad roads. George Little left the party at Vanderhoof and proceeded to Terrace by train. Since leaving Terrace several weeks ago, he and the two ladies have travelled over 8,000 miles.

The Firemen's ticket selling and fund raising campaign is now on. These volunteer firemen, both young and old are doing a splendid job in the town and it is surprising how many householders there are who owe a debt of gratitude to these men for saving their homes from possible destruction by fire. The money they are trying to raise now is for their own insurance and to buy a 2 1/2 inch fire hose which will cost about $2,000. The sum total of their donations up-to-date is $90.

Mrs. Martin Miller is spending the week in Prince Rupert with her daughter, Marion. Under her maiden name of Anna Louise Cerf, Mrs. Miller has written some beautiful poems some of which have already appeared in the daily press. Her friends hope that more of these will be forthcoming soon, in book form.

Work is going ahead on the new Canadian Legion building, the old guardhouse of the army camp, to have it ready for early occupancy. Tom Turner is putting in the windows all of the old ones having been broken.

No Pile Torture

Now that modern science has the new Pythone Treatment, a common-sense way, that removes the inside cause, by internal treatment, a liquid (by mouth), gives amazing results even with the first bottle, or price refunded at once. Today, with Pythone, that torture is needless. Pythone, $1.75. Ask your druggist. He knows.

through a revolving door, and into the storage section of the establishment. Mrs. Hardy testified that she asked the two men the nature of their business in the rear section of the building—not open to the public. She identified McKnight and reported him as saying: "I got the wrong store." She asked him what store he did want. He asked the location of the B. C. Butchers.

All three witnesses testified that McKnight was one of the men. Defense counsel pointed out that none of the three witnesses could identify the other man.

The establishment was closed at about 6:50 p.m., testified Mr. Rance. All doors and windows were locked. Returning at about 1 p.m. the next day, he found the safe ruined, the back and only window broken and what he thought was plaster, upon the floor. He was later informed that the substance was ballast, used in safe blowing. The safe till, statements and two wills, belonging to Mr. Rance and his wife, disappeared.

Roste Holmquist, a carpenter testified for the prosecution that he was walking home along 3rd Avenue on the night of December 24 when he heard a blast. Holmquist said he had had experience with dynamite, having worked in mines for a number of years. He testified "the sound struck me as a charge".

"It went off in the general direction of the Three Sisters Cafe or the store," he said (Rance & Hardy's adjoins Three Sisters Cafe). Two other persons stood in the doorway of the Victory Cafe nearly opposite Rance and Hardy and remarked about the blast. Holmquist said. He was told by one of them that the time was about 11 p.m.

Native Girl
A 23-year old native girl Violet Sampare testified that late on Christmas Eve in the King George Hotel, McKnight told her that he had blown some safes open.

"He showed me some money," she testified, "and said he got it from what he did". The girl asked McKnight: "What would you do if I went to the cops about it?" She reported him as saying that it would be the last time that she would go to the police. "He tried to give me $20 but I wouldn't take it," she said. "He gave it so I wouldn't go to the police."

She said she saw McKnight in the Grand Cafe on Christmas night and that he told her to be careful. "I think he meant not to talk," she said. In front of the St. Elmo Hotel that night she saw Stewart Thompson and McKnight. The latter was showing Thompson a piece of iron. She said she overheard them saying:

CHURCH'S FIRST MINISTER

The first ordained Presbyterian minister came to Nova Scotia from New England in 1764.

BEGINS IN U.S.

The ultimate source of the St. Lawrence River is in the state of Minnesota, at the head of the St. Louis River.

"if we had that before, everything would be alright."

Bought Acid

George Castagner testified he was approached by McKnight at approximately 9 p.m. prior to Christmas eve in a Sixth Street and Second Avenue pool room. McKnight, the witness said, asked him to purchase a quantity of nitric acid and handed him a five dollar bill. Castagner said he bought 20 ounces for $1.50 and returned the change receiving 50 cents for services.

Clifford MacDow had quite a bit of difficulty answering questions put forth by McKnight who is acting in his own defence. Even Mr. Justice Coady leaned back and pronounced that he was not able to follow the witness. The matter of a midnight show helped to clear the matter up.

MacDow said he ate with McKnight in the Grand Cafe at approximately 1 p.m. Christmas Day. McKnight was carrying a pair of trousers which appeared to be dirty, MacDow said. He testified that McKnight had remarked that they (McKnight and Thompson) had completed three jobs but that there was not much in it—about $300.

MacDow said McKnight started to say more but finished off by telling MacDow to read it in the next edition of the newspaper.

After completion of cross-examination by McKnight, MacDow was asked by Prosecutor T. W. Brown if anyone connected with the prosecution "told you to say anything untruthful. MacDow said no one had. McKnight earlier in cross-examination, suggested that MacDow had been influenced.

Daniel James Lippett, McBride Street service station operator, identified Ernest Jabour as the man who came to his garage on Christmas Eve to borrow a crow bar which was returned to him an hour or so later. Jabour drove up in a car but whether there was anyone in the car with him witness was unable to say.

Constable White

John Robert White, city police constable, told of the call to the Rance and Hardy store on Christmas Day. A badly damaged safe had been found. There was ballast (safe packing) on the floor. The safe was open. It appeared to contain little of value. A high window at the rear of the store had been forced open. On the window sill had been found fibres adhering to splinters of wood. An almost indiscernible footprint was seen below the window. Two electric bell wires with explosive detonators attached were also found under the ballast close to the safe.

Vials containing files and other items were offered as exhibits including the inside metal door of the safe, badly torn, bent and buckled.

On December 28, witness testified, a visit was made to the King George Hotel with Cpl. Wales and Constable Redhead. McKnight, Thompson and John Waldon were in the room, apparently all occupying one bed. Wales picked up a pair of rubber shoes (they were presented in court.) Accused said the shoes were his. Later at the police station a pair of pants were taken from McKnight. Dust and wood taken from the cuffs of the pants were tendered as evidence in vials. The trousers were produced in court.

Cross-Examination

Cross-examined by Mr. MacLeod, witness said he had no knowledge of Thompson in connection with this charge.

McKnight inquired as to how long White had been in the force. The officer replying thirteen years with the exception of time out for Air Force service.

"Absolutely not," declared witness when asked by McKnight if he had manufactured evidence in this case. Nor would witness do anything to hinder a proper defence. All effects had been taken from McKnight in the usual way.

McKnight asked White—You wouldn't want a fair trial, would you?

White—Certainly I want to see a prisoner given a fair trial.

Question—Wouldn't you go to any length to convict us?

Answer—No.

Question—Isn't the police force prejudiced against us?

Answer—Not that I know of.

Question—Was it possible you put evidence in the pants?

Answer—No.

White said "we were fortunate" in finding so much evidence in the pants. It had not been considered necessary to send accused's jacket as well as pants to the analyst.

In answer to McKnight, White admitted frankly that he had once been in trouble—an auto accident with a police car for which he had been reprimanded and fined.

The hour being nearly 5:30 p.m., Crown Prosecutor T.W. Brown suggested that the jury must be not only tired but bored so adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

The following are the jurymen: Foreman, William Seuby; Alex. Bill, Robert Armstrong; James Clarke, Norman Edwards; John Willan, Richard Brash; John Christensen Jr. Michael Eckland, Liberté Basso-Bert, William Tooth and Allan Armstrong.
