

RE DANGER HIGH DURING WATER CRISIS

Water Supply Is Short Pipeline Repairs Made

Service Restored Within Hours
Shawatlans Break—Economy
Water Use Urged By City Engineer

Low-pressure trickle from Prince Rupert's during the next week or two will pulsate cylinder beat of the city's pumping station with the normal, high-pressure roar of the B.C. Power Co.'s Shawatlans power plant. Result, householders and industrial concerns exercise economy in water until the 45-inch line which was knocked out at midday, is put back in full operation. It will be a difficult, lengthy, job.

City Engineer Stewart and Northern B.C. Power Co. manager T. B. Black visited the scene of the break shortly after noon Friday and began laying plans for the replacement of the huge pipes which were knocked out of position by a mudslide, loosened by the week's heavy rains.

Three sections of the 45-inch line which supply the Shawatlans hydro plant and the city's 13-inch main, were pushed out of position, two of them into the bed of Shawatlans Creek which is now a rain-fed, raging torrent. The third points disconsolately into the undermined area, one end still partly connected to the line below the break.

First concern of City Engineer was the planning of shifts to operate the steam pumping station, which early Friday morning was manned by emergency crews from the city and the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co.

The plant, which was repaired a year ago, had not been used for more than 10 years but, under the cajoling of Canadian Fish and Cold Storage plant superintendent Jack Boddie and City Road Foreman George Geddes, its unused cylinders began to move at 11 a.m.

The two stationary engineers with Syd Alexander, Jack De Wagd and Leroy Row of the city works crew and Bob Boddie, Bill Cummings and Bob Shearer of the Cold Storage plant, began a heavy rainstorm at 4 a.m. and immediately began firing the boiler.

Without rest, they worked until late last night until other engineers and firemen were organized into a shift system which will operate until normal service is restored.

To aid the laboring steam plant, the city's booster pump on Frederick Street was put into operation. It will act as a secondary pumping station, reducing the pressure head on the steam plant.

RECORD HIGH WATER
Water conditions on the Woodworth-Shawatlans watershed were described as unprecedented since the hydro plant and the city's waterworks were installed there in 1914. Level of the lakes and the streams are more than six feet above normal. (Continued Page 6)

POCKET-SIZE RIOT—A miniature donnybrook erupted at the final session of the Canadian Congress of Labor convention in Ottawa over the expulsion of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. Here the leader of the left-wing disturbance, pert and tempestuous Pat Rooney of Hamilton, is seen wrestling with C.C.L. President A. R. Mosher for possession of the chairman's microphone. Failing, she later pushed aside J. E. McGuire, a member of the executive, and grabbed the main microphone to berate the executive for the expulsion. Mr. McGuire, hands in pockets, stands before the microphone, while behind him Alex McAuslane of Vancouver, watches the Rooney-Mosher struggle. (C. P. Photo)

Communists Are Guilty

NEW YORK—Eleven top American Communist leaders were yesterday convicted of conspiring to teach the forcible overthrow of the United States government. Immediately after the verdict, five defence lawyers and one of the defendants were convicted of contempt of court.

Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party, who acted as his own counsel, was the defendant judged in contempt. He got six months on the contempt charge.

The jury deliberated exactly seven hours.

The maximum penalty possible for each defendant is ten years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine. No date was set for the sentence of the communists.

Mrs. Thelma Dial, foreman of the jury, in announcing the verdict said: "We find each and every one of the defendants guilty." The jury entering the courtroom after deliberating exactly seven hours.

The jury was polled at the request of Defense Counsel Harry Sachser. Immediately afterward, federal judge Harold R. Medina found five of their lawyers guilty of criminal contempt during the nine month trial and sent them to jail for terms varying from 30 days to six months.

It was hinted during the trial that conviction of the leaders, who are certain to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, might drive the Communist Party underground in the United States.

New Inspection of Fish Bill

OTTAWA (Special to Daily News)—A resolution by Hon. Robert Mayhew, minister of fisheries, to the effect that it is expedient to present a measure for the purpose of regulating and inspecting of fish and fish containers and of marine plants or export and import and to provide for the appointment of inspectors and other officers and employees required for the proper administration of the Act, passed the House of Commons last night and the proposed bill was thereupon introduced.

The bill will replace and repeal the present fish inspection act.

CO-OPERATION WITH U.S.
TROY, New York—Prime Minister St. Laurent said last night that Canada cannot make most effective contribution to continental defence without some arrangement for exchanging of arms with the United States.

MOCH APPROVED
PARIS—The National Assembly yesterday approved Socialist Jules Moch as the next Premier of France by a narrow margin of two votes. Official announcement said that 311 votes were cast in Moch's favor and 223 against. He needed a bare 310 votes.

PLANE MISSING
VANCOUVER—A full-scale land and air search for a missing plane is on today in the rugged mountainous Fraser Canyon district. The plane, piloted by Max C. Sheridan, 38-year-old Yakima, Washington, real estate agent, and carrying an unidentified passenger, disappeared yesterday on a flight from Quesnel to Vancouver.

GRANT FOR SMITHERS
OTTAWA—Bulkley Valley District Hospital, Smithers, has been allotted $6000 from the federal health grants to assist in enlarging accommodation. Hon. Paul Martin, minister of National Health and Welfare, announced here. Quarters formerly occupied by nurses have been altered to provide space for six extra beds for patients. This hospital serves about 9000 people.

FEWER SEAMEN NOW
MONTREAL—The number of seamen employed on Canadian merchant ships has dwindled from the wartime peak of 8,000 to about 3,000, shipping men said today. They said a large number of the 5,000 who lost sea-going jobs are going ashore because Canadian ships were sold or laid up because of foreign competition. During the war Canada had 200 merchant ships at sea. Shipping men said this figure has been whittled down to 75 vessels. Twelve vessels are at present idle in Halifax harbor and Montreal shipowners have announced they soon will be forced to add their vessels to the immobile fleet. Mariners say that each time a ship is laid up another 40 men are unemployed.

Miss Elliott Head and Miss Marion Head have returned to Terrace from a holiday trip to Kamloops, where they visited their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Knapp. They also spent a few days in Vancouver and Victoria, returning to Prince Rupert by plane.

Thunderstorm Ends Tempest

The north coast's freak weather topped off its wild antics early this morning with a thunderstorm which punctuated the rain-swept darkness at 3 o'clock waking many in their beds. The unseasonal fireworks were followed by a heavy hail shower that rattled on roofs and turned the ground white.

In the 24-hour period ending at 4 o'clock this morning 31 inches of rain fell, according to the Digby Island weather station. That however, was far from a record. A couple of times during the last week more than an inch of rain has fallen within a period of six hours. More than two inches fell during the 24 hours of Thursday.

The early-morning hailstorm was the second since yesterday. At 3:45 Friday afternoon, a five-minute hailstorm blanketed the city, but soon turned again to rain.

Telephone Superintendent J. F. Edwards said this morning that 300 telephones were still out of order, largely by line failures as a result of the stormy weather. Among them was that of the Digby Island weather station which could not be reached yesterday for official report on rainfall and wind velocity. However, it was restored today.

Following Thursday night's storm the department was successful yesterday in getting 120 telephones back into operation but the storm during last night sent down another 100, so the situation today is just about "as is" with the departmental workers seeking some week-end respite after the strenuous recent days.

Efforts are being concentrated at first to restore telephone cables and thus restore service in multiples of lines. Drops on local lines will then be attended to.

Hardest hit districts as far as telephone service is concerned is the east end of the city across Hays Creek where most of the phones have been out and in the area of Cow Bay and beyond.

Damage to the water main between Woodworth and Shawatlans Lakes was a direct result of the heavy rainfall which loosened a rock mass above the line.

No new reports of damage or loss of life at sea were forthcoming from the district, other than the loss of the gillnetter Rowena and her skipper George Powell of Metlakatla.

Near Ketchikan, however, the gale was responsible for washing two men from the deck of a small boat. It is believed that both may have survived, since they were both said to be strong swimmers.

Ample warning of the approach of the series of storms gave boats opportunity to seek shelter.

Meanwhile the weather looks like an improvement today over what was inflicted on Prince Rupert earlier in the week.

All day long Thursday it was nothing but gales and rain and those enjoying the privilege of the half holiday were wise to stay at home. There was a little street work going on. But there were some occupations, however that could not stay sheltered.

Transportation, for example. Busses were certainly packed.

LEAVE FOR OTTAWA MEET

Lt. Walter Smith of H.M.C.S. Chatham left by air today for Ottawa to attend the annual conference of commanding officers of the 21 Naval Divisions across Canada. He is going in place of Lt. Cdr. J. D. McRae who was unable to make the trip.

Hazard 'Great' Fire Chief Declares As Shortage Keeps On

Fire hazard in Prince Rupert, enhanced by depleted water pressure in the city mains, was termed "great" today by Fire Chief E. W. Becker, despite abnormal rainfall.

While sufficient water is being carried by the mains in lower levels of the city to enable the fire department to fight a blaze with the aid of the booster pumps on the fire trucks, some of the higher levels have so little water that it would be almost impossible once a blaze gained headway.

The Fire Chief urged caution upon householders in preventing fires.

"While each of the trucks carries 200 gallons of water, sufficient to put out small fires, we wouldn't be able to do much in the higher parts of town if one got a good start," he said.

The low pressure in the mains in the lower part of the city could be built up by the booster pumps on the fire trucks to make adequate fire fighting streams providing that the volume now being carried is maintained.

Chief Becker today urged proprietors of hotels, rooming houses and other premises where exceptional fire risk exists to exercise particular care in guarding against fires. Special watchmen were suggested in view of the unusual conditions existing in the water crisis.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis

Rapid clearing was the main feature of the weather over the western portion of the province last night as an active storm moved inland. The remains of the storm is now crossing the Kootenays and clearing conditions are forecast for this region this evening. Generally clear conditions will persist in most sections of the province tonight and Sunday.

Temperatures will fall to freezing at most interior points tonight as clear skies prevail. However a much colder Arctic mass of air which has moved into Northern B. C. is expected to move eastward into Alberta and to have no effect on southern interior points.

Forecast

North Coast Region—Cloudy with showers today. Cloudy with a few sunny intervals tomorrow. Little change in temperature. Winds westerly (20 m.p.h.), decreasing to light this evening. Winds light tomorrow. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy and Sandspit, 40 and 50; Prince Rupert, 39 and 52.

Mrs. W. Osborne has returned to Terrace from Trail where her brother passed away.

Communists Move on Towards Hong Kong After Taking Canton

HONG KONG (CP)—The Chinese Communist conquerors walked into Canton today and spearheads shot southeast of the late Nationalist capital toward the boundaries of Britain's crown colony of Hong Kong.

The Communist forces slashed along the Canton-Kowloon railway leading to the mainland borders of the crown colony. Hong Kong calmly awaited the approach of the Reds which is expected some time tonight. No trouble is expected.

Speaking of Water

IT IS AN OLD OBSERVATION that we never miss the water till the well runs dry. The truth of the saying was vividly illustrated during the several hours yesterday when Prince Rupert, as a result of the water main break, experienced its drought amid plenty of water. Long since the good old days when the pioneers lugged their murky H2O from the nearest muskeg hole, which might not be so near at that, and were happy to get their bath in the round zinc tub in the middle of the kitchen floor on Saturday night, we did not realize just how much it meant to us to have a regular and handy water supply such as we have enjoyed and which we put to such a multiplicity of uses in the daily routine of our places of business and our homes. In fact, some of us wondered what to do and were not too quick about thinking of the natural thing—to get out the buckets and the barrels—if we had them—and catch the good, pure rain water which was descending upon us all so copiously.

We were also constrained, as the faucets gurgled or sighed empty, to think of the blessings of organization which brings within reach of us all the crystal liquid cold and hot and which, in these times, we take so much for granted.

But, to be serious about it, Prince Rupert's water crisis, despite a partial restoration today for which we are grateful, is not over by any means. There are still those today on the higher points who have no water at all and it may be days before they have any.

Possibly more serious than anything, of course, is the extreme fire hazard which prevails wherein the city even runs the risk of possible destruction.

It has been known for years how perilous the water supply situation is because of the run-down system.

The present crisis is crystallizing a demand that every step and recourse be taken to restore the water system to a reasonably safe position.

It is all part of a big problem which must be faced up to and with which all citizens can well feel deeply concerned.

NEW SATURDAY NIGHT

TORONTO SATURDAY NIGHT has come to be known as one of Canada's most staid and steady publications so it is particularly interesting to note the drastic new format and make-up with which it makes its appearance as it starts on the sixty-third year of its publication. A special copy has been received at the Daily News editorial desk from Editor-in-Chief Bernard K. Sandwell.

Long regarded as something of a paradox in successful publishing ventures because of its 62 years of active operation in a restricted Canadian field, the smooth paper weekly Saturday Night has undergone a complete change in editorial approach for wider readership.

Although reduced to standard magazine format, the paper has been noticeably enlarged in number of pages to include each week an interpretative news round-up in over twenty-five fields of readership interest ranging from Canadian art, religion and sports to medicine, science and literature.

With its re-establishment as a national news magazine Saturday Night has a unique opportunity of contributing to Canadian east-west unity.

It should enjoy a new and greater measure of popularity.

TENGs BACK FROM EAST

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Teng are back in the city after a vacation trip to Eastern Canada in the course of which they visited at Pontiac, Michigan, with Mr.
Teng's brother, Eric O. Teng. It was forty-two years since the brothers had last met in Kenora, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Teng were also in Toronto and met there Rev.
George E. Sendak, until recently pastor of First Presbyterian Church here, who has entered Knox College to continue advanced theological studies.

In Toronto Mr. Teng took occasion to visit with the Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. A meeting of the local congregation, now without a pastor, is to be held next Wednesday to consider the future status of the church.

LETTERBOX

PRAYER TO VIRGIN MARY

Editor, Daily News:

The article "Why pray to Virgin Mary?" from the pen of Most Reverend Anthony Jordan
O.M.I. in the News of Saturday was very interesting and illuminative—also intriguing to the undersigned and possibly to most Protestants.

Without any thought of starting a controversy on the subject it seems reasonable for a good Catholic to ask "Why do Protestants not pray to Virgin Mary?"

It would be quite impossible here to enter into anything like a full discussion of the subject so I shall confine myself to three Biblical, so salient reasons, why Protestants do not pray to Virgin Mary. The Bible, not the Church, is the Protestant's Rule of Faith and Morals. "Whatsoever is not read therein nor may be proved thereby is not to be required of any man to be believed . . . as necessary to salvation."

First, Mary is Blessed and Honored in that she was chosen of God to be the medium of His incarnation in the Person of Jesus. But Jesus himself tells us that potentially there were (and the writer believes still are) women pure and holy enough to be His mother. Read St. Luke VIII, 20-21; XI, 27-28. "And it was told him (Jesus) by certain which said: Thy mother and thy brethren stand without desiring to see thee and he said unto them: My mother and my brethren are they which hear the Word of God and do it." See also St. Mark III:35 and St. Mat.
XII:50. "Whosoever shall do the will of my Father, which is in Heaven The same is my brother and my sister and mother."

Second, the good Bishop admits that Virgin Mary is still human. The very highest and noblest human attributes have their limitations and suppose Mary could hear (she is dead so we are compelled to suppose) and suppose she should ask a favor of her Divine Son every second of time she could only present some 86,400 every twenty four hours yet there are many millions clamoring for her favour every second of time.
She would not have time to present even the petitions of His Holiness The Pope's Cardinals, the Archbishops, the Bishops and Priests. How the many poor monks, nuns, sisters, brothers and the laity can possibly get a hearing one cannot conceive. Kind, loving, Blessed Mother, Human so unable to bear the burden thrust upon Her!

Protestants pray directly to God in the name of Mary's Divine Son, Saint John, to whom Jesus from the Cross committed the care of His mother, tells us I, John II 1 "We have an advocate with the Father Jesus Christ the righteous; and he is the propitiation for our sins."

See also Ephes. II, 18. Through Him (Jesus) we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father." There are many other definite affirmations that human access to God the Father is through Jesus Christ alone.
Third, The Immaculate Conception of Virgin Mary. To Protestants this Roman dogma is a figment. It is not Scriptural.
For its Biblical rebuttal read
Saint Mark X:18; Mat XIX, 16-20; Luke XLIII, 18-30 Sinlessness by birth, as in Jesus and in attributes, belongs to God alone.
The Dogma of the Immaculate Conception was not accepted by the Roman Church until 1854, less than a hundred years ago, under Pope Pius IX. It was, however, a moot question in the Church since the XII century. It received a tremendous boost from the visions of Theresa (Her visions practically determined the Dogma). She was born in Avila, Spain 1515, died 1582, came a noted Carmelite the author of "The Interior Life" (made a saint)
Gregory XV in 1622.
This is submitted for the benefit of branches of the Church and with God may abundantly Church's magnificence a Spiritual prayer to

MISS LESLIE RETIRES FROM HEALTH WORK

Resignation of Miss Joyce Leslie, for the past three years senior Public Health Nurse on the staff of the Prince Rupert Health Unit, and her replacement by Miss Freda S. Hilton of Vancouver is announced in the monthly report of the Unit.

Miss Leslie is taking up residence at Hazelton following her retirement. The monthly report paid tribute to her work in behalf of public health in this district and terms her resignation a distinct loss to the unit.

Prior to her resignation, Miss Leslie shared her wide knowledge of the district and its health problems with her successor.

Miss Leslie's resignation followed a visit to the district by Dr. C. L. Hunt, assistant director of the division of venereal disease control, Vancouver, and J. D. Scott of the provincial Department of Vital Statistics. In company with members of the local Health Unit staff, they visited points as far east as Smithers.

Other staff changes include the replacement of Mrs. C. Vetterli by Miss Helene Boehme in the Hazelton-Smithers nursing district and the arrival here of Miss Shirley Main to replace Miss Jeanine Coupal, who was transferred to the Langley Prairie district.

Child health centres in the city were well attended during September. A large number of measles cases were reported and quantities of anti-measles serum supplied through doctors' offices to children under the age of three who had been in contact with the disease.

Attempts to find a full-time public health nurse for the Terrace district so far have not been successful. Lacking staff, the Terrace district can be served only four days a month.

Inspection tours of the district from Smithers to the Queen Charlotte Islands were made during the month by Unit Sanitarian A. G. Boas.

A survey of more than 10,000 accidents involving trucks and commercial cars in nine industries shows that backing improperly is the most common of accidents.

Rallying to Civic Centre

Membership Drive Has Now Reached 800

The Civic Centre membership drive reached a total of eight hundred members last evening, well ahead of the total reached at the same time last year. The Centre has a minimum objective of two thousand for this year, last year's membership having been 1600.

The drive was hampered by weather throughout the week but received a boost Thursday when it was announced that the Olympic Games Films would be shown to members at a special Capitol Theatre performance this Sunday evening.

The membership committee will be on hand Sunday in the theatre lobby to register new members.

It is anticipated that a large number will turn out to see this Technicolor picture of the 1948 Olympics. The film has several special features, including musical accompaniment by the London Philharmonic, and choral singing by a huge mixed choir. There is thrill after thrill as world records are smashed, and outstanding feature being the four-way triumph of Blankers-Koen of Holland, who won the women's 100 metres, 200 metres, 8 metre hurdles, and the relay. Mrs. Blankers-Koen, the mother of two children, broke two records, and pictures of her achievements are highlights of the film.

Safety is my business!

"I'm a safety engineer in the biggest lead-zinc mine in the world—the Sullivan Mine at Kimberley, B.C. This is part of the Cominco* organization and Cominco takes MY business very, very seriously.

Right now, we've got over 50 people working full time on health, safety and first aid.

We worry as much over safety, health and accident records as a mother over her kids. You see, our work is terribly important—it deals with people—people who can get hurt or sick if we fall down on the job.

You can't measure this in dollars. Our measurements are records showing fewer accidents per thousand shifts worked and less lost time for accidents.

But what makes us feel good is that these records have shown a steady improvement since the war. That means better and safer working conditions for Cominco employees.

the prairies but came to Prince Rupert as a small boy during World War I and, except for a while at Smithers and during the war, has lived here all his life.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Each parliamentarian in the Canadian Commons found on his desk the other day, a red, ripe Ontario apple. It can now be found how emphatic any honorable member is feeling by noting the vigor with which he takes a bite when making an important speech.

A marine note in the Empire dated November 1928 says the wheat movement to the Prince Rupert elevator is setting in, in earnest. A newly built ship is due before December to await cargo. It's just as well the freighter is new. It may be a lengthy wait.

A guide book for tourists is a handy object. Also, serving as an undoubted convenience that is known as a pocket book.

Prince Rupert was barely a year old when a rat plague developed so rapidly residents had to take time off in order to organize and distribute poison on a wholesale scale. This reduced, but did not exterminate the pests. They have always been with us. The present movement, involving co-operation and close study in an effort to destroy utterly these property destroyers and disease-breeders, is deserving of all praise. There is said to be a reason for the existence of every animal, but why the little beast called the rat lives, is mighty hard to explain.

American Army fliers have given up further attempts to provide rain by dropping pellets of dry ice on clouds. The notion is unsound. Before there can be moisture, Nature has to be on the point of making a splash, anyway. Moreover, it is just as well to suggest that so far as the army in South Eastern Alaska is concerned forget the dry ice, and wait a day or so. Or perhaps, not quite that long.

They know their own minds, down east, even if there is hardly any such thing as keeping an appointment. For only half the population went back to Standard Time. The rest remained with daylight saving for another month, or longer. But it will be a grim nuisance to try and slumber an extra hour with your bedroom partner making ready for the day.

Rudolph Valentino received more fan mail than any other movie star before or since his time.

FALL FIRES DANGEROUS

Mr. D. F. Ford, the fire insurance adjuster for the Province of British Columbia, on his visit here, said that one of the few things that had gone down in price this year was general fire insurance but he warned that between now and the year-end was the worst time of the year for house fires due to inadequate precautions being taken in the home.

One of the most common causes of fires is found to be in the furnaces. Especially those that are in poor state of repair.

EVERYBODY IN CARIBOO BUSY

There is much activity and plenty of work in the Cariboo district these days, reports Frank Clark, Liberal organizer for northern and central British Columbia who is a visitor in the northern ridings. Work of extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway between Quesnel and Prince George and highway reconstruction work are important employment factors.

There has been a falling off in lumbering activity in the Prince George district, reports Mr. Clark, but that interior city is still booming and bustling and flight left at noon as scheduled.

looking forward to an early commencement of the contract for the building of the P.G.E. southward towards Quesnel.

Mr. Clark also visited the Peace River district recently. A good harvest is now about 95 percent in. Seven elevators at Dawson Creek, head of the Northern Alberta Railway, are now plugged with grain.

WEATHER HALTS FRIDAY FLIGHTS

Bad weather on the route from Vancouver to Sandspit caused cancellation of flights between Prince Rupert and Vancouver yesterday on Canadian Pacific Air Lines. Today's flight left at noon as scheduled.

Harbor Master To Be Named

Position to be Created at Prince Rupert with $3300-$3900 Salary

Consideration is being given by the Minister of Transport at Ottawa to the formal establishment of a position of harbor master and shipping master at Prince Rupert at a salary range of from $3300 to $3900 per year, according to advice received in the city from E. T. Applewhite, M. P. for Skeena. Prince Rupert has been without a full-fledged harbor master since the recent death of Capt. J. R. Elfert whose widow is at present carrying on.

Mr. Chevrier explains that some delay has been necessitated by the initial statutory requirement that the harbor be designated by the Governor General in Council as a harbor and port at which the appointment as harbor master and shipping master might be made in legal manner with the provision for the payment of a stated salary.

"It is the intention," says the minister "that the successful candidate serve as instructor of navigation during such periods as a navigation school may be deemed necessary at Prince Rupert, also measuring surveyor of shipping and port warden."

OPPORTUNITY AHEAD—Ernest Bevin, United Kingdom foreign secretary, received a rousing ovation when he appeared before the delegates to the annual Canadian Congress of Labor convention in Ottawa. ARE MARRIED AT HAZELTON

A pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized on October 1 at St. Peter's Church in Hazelton when Ralph Ernewin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ernewin of New Westminster, took as his bride Muriel Anne MacDougall, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. MacDougall of Telkwa. Canon E. V. Bird of Hazelton officiated.

The bride was very becoming in a teal blue dress with white accessories and carried white carnations with red roses. Miss Randi Reimer of Winnipeg was bridesmaid and was charming in dark blue taffeta with pink accessories, carrying white and pink gladioli.

William Kirkpatrick acted as groomsmen and Jack Lyons as usher.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the New Hazelton Hotel where many were present to greet the young couple.

The bride was a well known member of the community, having been a telephone operator for over a year at Hazelton some time ago.

After the reception the couple left for Smithers and Telkwa to visit the bride's parents.

The groom is employed with Campbell Bennett at Prince Rupert and the bride was formerly employed with the Cellulose Co. They will make their home in Prince Rupert.

mal. Shawatlans Creek, normally a stream controlled by the outlets of the Woodworth dam and the penstock which leads from it, yesterday was over its bank as it roared down to Shawatlans Passage at tide-water.

Between the pumping station and Shawatlans Lake, where a narrow gauge rail line runs uphill, the track is covered by a full-sized river and it was necessary to walk along the pipeline, which, although it normally is many feet above the stream, yesterday was half covered.

Shawatlans Lake itself is so high that it is necessary to go by rowboat from the short to the wharf at the west end. At the wharf, the Power Company's boat runs up the lake to the east-end wharf where similar condition exists.

In the three-quarters of a mile between the lake and the power plant, the narrow-gauge track was under water in several places and it was necessary to walk along the half-submerged pipeline.

Above the power plant, where the 45-inch main runs to the Woodworth dam, the creek runs in a bit of a ravine. The break is about a half-mile above the plant.

There, a section of hill-side—a mass of oozy clay and sand, has slid down pushing two sections of the pipeline into the stream. The stream itself has cut right under the line, making it necessary to put up some sort of a trestle before the sections of pipe can be re-installed.

Fortunately, there is plenty of spare pipe nearby, so it will be

PRINCE RUP

To my fellow Canadians

On Monday, October 17th, for the fourth time, a new series of Canada Savings Bonds is being made available to the people of this country and I want to personally bring the merits of these popular bonds to everyone's attention.

The habit of personal saving is important, not only for the security, comfort and training in prudence that it gives to the individual but also for the stability that it gives to industry and the nation as a whole.

By the Payroll Savings Plan and other methods of regular instalments, everything possible has been done to make systematic saving easy for everyone.

Having no speculative features, Canada Savings Bonds are the safest and surest investment that you can make, because they are at all times worth every cent you put into them. They are truly an investment in Canada and in yourself.

Minister of Finance.
