W. G. Connelly Looks For Heavy Tourist Traffic This Year

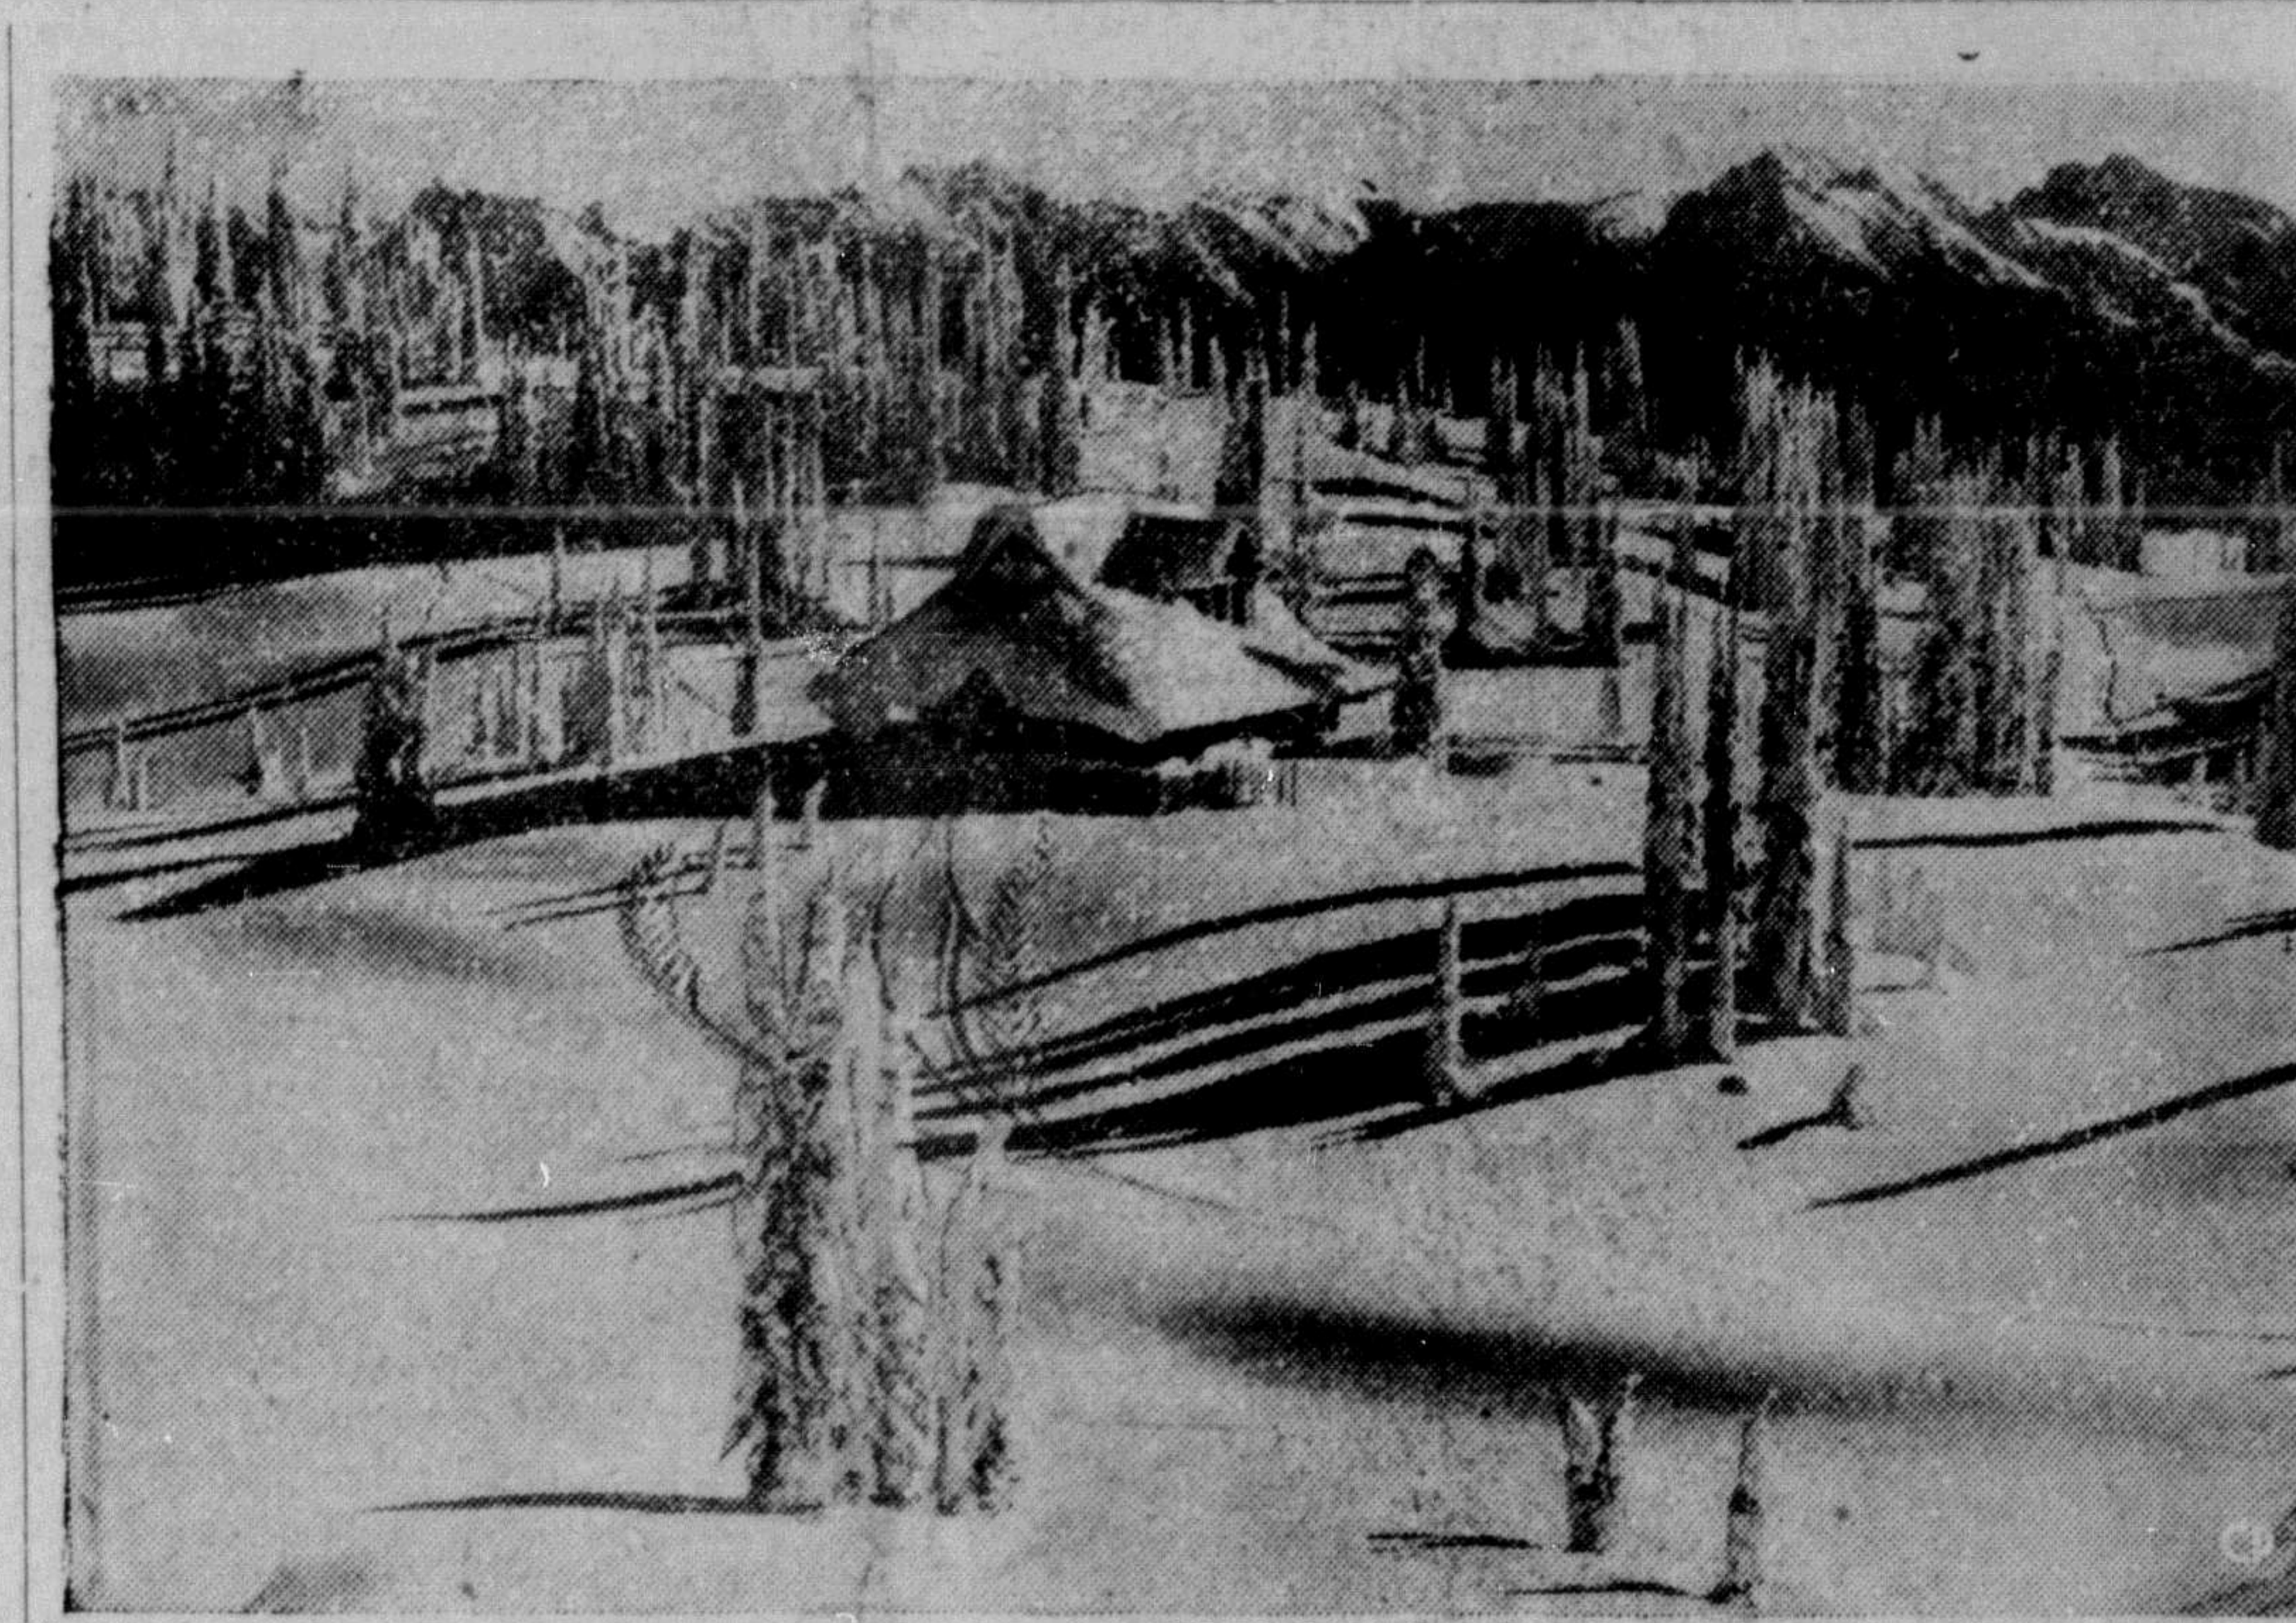

Judging from the appearance of the advance reservation lists, this should be a bumper year for tourist travel to Prince Rupert and Alaska, according to W. G. Connelly, passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, Winnipeg, who is a visitor in the city today.

Train Service for Prince Rupert Will be Similar to Last Year or the Same as at Present.

In fact, there are few changes of importance anywhere on the system this year. Mr. Connelly mentioned the new type of roomette sleeping cars, containing 24 lower berths, which will be operated on the Vancouver-Winnipeg trains this year for the first time.

Accompanying Mr. Connelly is S. M. Green, general passenger agent, Vancouver. They arrived on last night's train from Jasper and will sail on the Prince Rupert tonight to make the round trip to Ketchikan and thence on to Vancouver tomorrow night.

Lincoln Wood of the committee on publication, Christian Science Society, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert today from Vancouver. He will return south tomorrow night after visiting the local Society.

DO YOU REMEMBER?—With warm spring breezes soothing Canada, it takes a bit of memory work to think of winter scenes like this. It's the summit of Mount Revelstoke, 6,350 feet above sea level, in Mount Revelstoke National Park, British Columbia. This photo from the federal department of resources and development shows Heather Lodge, almost smothered in snow. Though principally a summer playground, Mount Revelstoke and its snowy slopes have become a major attraction for skiers. (C. P. Photo)

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Southern coastal and interior regions of British Columbia are expected to enjoy another two days of pleasant weather. Some cloudiness is present in these areas but this is not likely to prove any serious threat. Afternoon temperatures will reach the upper fifties at the coast and mid-sixties over the interior.
A moderate disturbance in the Gulf of Alaska is causing strong southeast winds over the Queen Charlottes. Rain is expected to become general over the northern coastal areas during the day with cloudy skies extending into the central and northern interior. There will be scattered showers in the northern interior tonight and tomorrow.

Forecast

North Coast Region—Intermittent rain today. Variable cloudiness and a few showers Thursday. Little change in temperature. Winds southeast (30) today, decreasing to southwest (15) overnight. Lows tonight and highs Thursday—at Port Hardy, 40 and 56; Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 40 and 50.

More Clashes Possible

WASHINGTON—The possibility of further American-Soviet air clashes along the uneasy front of the cold war in Europe is being carefully studied by top officials here. They are also deeply concerned, it was learned today, about the reasons why the Russians allegedly shot down a United States naval plane in the Baltic Sea April 8. They have demanded but doubt they will get—Soviet assurances that no such thing will happen again.

Weather Causes Colds

BOSTON—The common cold is probably not caused by a virus as people have been told for many years, nor by germs of any sort. Instead grandfather was right when he said it was caused by the weather. This surprising view of colds was given by Dr. William J. Kerr, of San Francisco and of the University of California School of Medicine.

Stop U.S. Information

PRAGUE—The Czechoslovak Government today requested the American Embassy to stop immediately the activities of the United States Information Service in the country, the Prague radio said. The broadcast said the request was made in a note handed to the U.S. Embassy here by the Czech Foreign Ministry. The Information Service, operating offices in Prague and Bratislava, distributes a news bulletin of the U.S. State Department, operates libraries and circulates filings and recordings.

The British Budget

BRITISH Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps adheres resolutely and realistically to the austerity line. His budget yesterday offered little new in the way of surprises — pleasant or otherwise.

On first consideration, the moderate sounding budget would appear to offer little for the Opposition to attack. The trades unionists may have something to say about the continued policy of holding the line on wages.

Even the beer tax is to be unrelieved but the patient Briton will have something of a sop in the increasing of the strength of beer to help him bear under his continued sorrows and sacrifices.

THE U.S. PROTEST

What is termed the "unprovoked" shooting down DEMANDING action against those responsible for of an American patrol plane over the Baltic Sea far out from Russian territorial waters, that indemnities be paid for the ten lives lost and that there be guarantees against further such violations of international law, the United States has stepped out rather far in its solemn protest to Soviet Russia over the incident.

Russia has already honored the airmen concerned by presenting them with medals. It is unlikely that even the United States protest will now prompt the Soviet to turn-about on this action.

There is little reason to believe that Russia will do anything at all in response to the protest. And, if she does not, what will be the United States' next move? Even this will probably not bring about a shooting war. It is more likely to prove another loss for our side in the cold war.

THEY'RE IRISHMEN FIRST

U.S. NEWSPAPERS are speculating on what may happen if some day in Washington John Hearne, ambassador for the Irish Republic, should bump into Sir Basil Brooke, Premier of Northeast Ulster.

Something to make Irishmen smile. For the truth is that, their politics put aside, or on any day but St. Patrick's or the anniversary of the Boyne, the Irish, North and South, they get on together famously.

Even in the old bitter Home Rule days the personal friendships of the Nationalists and the men from the North seldom were disturbed. When T. P. O'Connor was threatened with a libel suit which might have ruined him financially it was Sir Edward Carson, then at the height of his legal fame, who offered to take his case without fees. It was the same Carson, then an old man, who shook the hand of Kevin Higgins, erstwhile rebel, and said to him: "You and I have one thing in common; we both love Ireland". And it was Lord Craigavon, Ulster's first Premier, who, when John Redmond died, spoke of him: the finest of all tributes: "A great Irishman is dead; God rest his soul".

And so outside of Parliament, Shane Leslie (cousin of Winston Churchill) tells how when Carson, at the height of the bitter battles over Home Rule, visited a remote part of Northern Ireland, the local Ancient Order of Hibernians loaned the Orangemen their band "so that the place be not let down in welcoming a great Irishman".

That is the Irish way. Rival factions of them might riot in Belfast, and heads be broken, and many a nut or bolt be hurried outside Harland and Wolfe's ard, or in the Falls Road division; but heaven help the unfortunate Sassenach who tried to interfere with the fun.

So if Hearne should run into Brooke there will be nothing like wigs on the green; nothing but a friendly chat between two Irishmen who understand things that those who don't know Ireland or the Irish can never quite get through their heads.

Ray Reflects . . . and Reminisces

Hundred of young families are growing up in Prince Rupert. Parents are young and so are friends and associates. For that matter, as cities go, Prince Rupert is also youthful compared with some centres. Many of the new, fresh faces will take on the stamp of multiplying years, as people grow with a community and the far off town, once so strange and unfamiliar, slowly becomes home. One can do worse than settle in Prince Rupert. Here are elements of development as well as health and opportunity. Both are beckoning. This is said to be a first class travel year should one's fancy turn toward the British Isles or Europe. The pith of the situation appears to be that you can live well and see more for less money. That's saying a lot in a few words—and so easy to remember.

Construction of what will be an eleven story apartment block started last week in Juneau, capital city of Alaska. Juneau, as a townsite, is cramped and narrow, and not to be compared with Prince Rupert. But be it remembered that only a few years ago, Juneau local enterprise built Alaska's finest hotel, said to have paid for itself already. And now, up with an eleven floor structure that will provide more than a hundred housing units. And Juneau is nearly 500 miles from the nearest railway.

Four thousand years ago Moses said to the people: "Pick up your shovels, load up your camels, mount your asses and ride with me to the promised land." Four thousand years later John L. Lewis said to the people, "Throw down your shovels, sit on your donkeys, and light up a camel. This is the promised land."

If anyone could recall the money spent on the Acropolis, since the beginning of Prince Rupert, the total might be surprising. True, the view from the ball park, so called, has its undoubted value and charm. Getting there, by motor, is, of course, all right. But thousands do not have a car, nor can they often patronize a taxi. It all amounts to this: people do not like hill climbing. Had the city playground been picked somewhere down on the level, to be eventually surrounded by residential districts and conveniently reached, use of the area in all likelihood, would have meant far less cost and effort, and certainly more popularity.

Three of Canada's most important military bases on the Atlantic coast, all in Newfoundland, are controlled by the United States. It could not have been thought of a generation ago. But today, when anything is done for protection, it is as much for the defence of two nations, as it is for one. That's only common sense.

Sanitarian's Report—

Prince Rupert Cleaner Now

"All city property has been inspected and found to be in fair condition," says the monthly sanitation report of the public health unit. "Since the return of garbage collection to normal schedules, lanes and private property contain less litter. However there is still a certain amount of indiscriminate dumping of garbage in vacant lots in the city. This policy helps to encourage rat infestation. The Health Department deplores this irresponsible action of certain sections of the community and requests the co-operation of all householders in helping to keep down to a minimum the number of rodents.

"The new sewer by-law has helped in the cleanup program and a good response has been received from householders in connecting up with the city sewer lines.

"The new clause to the milk by-law has been put into effect and all restaurants have co-operated to the best of their ability.

"Two new eating and drinking permits were issued during the month.

"A routine trip was paid to the Terrace district accompanied by the Medical Health Officer who received an introduction to the sanitary problems affecting the community. Much satisfactory work is being accomplished," the report says.

"During the month the milk from all milk producers in the Smithers-Hazelton area has been regularly tested and found generally satisfactory. A certain amount of trouble has arisen regarding the supply for Smithers. This, it is thought, will be

Modern Etiquette

Q. If a girl has been corresponding with a number of young men, and becomes engaged to be married, should she stop the correspondence?

A. Yes, the girl should stop this correspondence immediately upon announcement of the engagement.

Q. What is the proper thing to say when two persons separate after an introduction?

A. "Good-by, Mrs. Wilson," is sufficient. Try to avoid the trite phrase, "Pleased to have met you."

Q. May one ever lay a piece of bread on the table to butter it?

A. Bread must be broken into small pieces which are held between the fingers while being buttered.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "Others beside Dick and I came late."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "combatant"?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Resurgence, resuscitate, resurrect.

4. What does the word "multitudinous" mean?

rectified by the installation of better cooling system.

One dairy in Hazelton was closed due to insanitary conditions.

A number of camps were inspected including one at Burns Lake during the month—all recommended improvements are being carried out.

Routine inspections of restaurants, bakeries, stores, etc were carried out and apart from one cafe which has now been brought into line, were found to be generally satisfactory.

Music And Discussion

Musical items and a discussion on reading formed a program of interest and variety at a successful meeting of the King Edward School Parent-Teachers Association Tuesday evening.

Grade Six choir under the direction of Mr. Goscoe sang four numbers—"Cuckoo Song", "Be You to Others Kind and True", "Rose of Tralee" and Bless This House".

The singing was in two and three part harmony and unaccompanied.

Mrs. H. M. Lindseth accompanied by Mrs. J. Bowman sang "Oh What a Beautiful Morning" and "My Devotion".

The musical part of the program concluded with two violin duets by Robert Jensen and Murray Boas, accompanied by Mrs. J. Bowman. "Song of Thanksgiving" and Norwegian Lullaby". All the musical numbers were very much appreciated by the large audience which applauded heartily. Mrs. P. Mark, program convener, was in charge.

The second part of the program was taken over by the teaching staff. The subject was "Reading" and the discussion was conducted along the lines of a staff meeting with Principal R. G. Moore acting as chairman. Many pertinent questions were asked and answered by those taking part: Miss Rogers, Miss Patterson, Miss Caldwell, Miss Robertson, Mrs. Andrews, Mr. Goscoe. The subject created such interest that discussion continued into the social hour which followed.

The program was preceded by a brief business session conducted by the president, Mrs. R. E. Mortimer. Mrs. F. J. Hensworth reported a good sale of calendars and P-T. A. magazines. J. Goscoe reported from the Central Council and reminded members of the joint P-T. A. meeting at Booth High School on Monday to hear the report of the delegate to the P-T. A. Convention. Following the treasurer's report read by Mrs. S. Veitch the sum of $200 was added to the fund to instal a public address system in the new school. A novel pussy willow centre piece graced the tea table in the lunch room here Mrs. B. Royal and her assistants served tasty refreshments.

Rind of ½ lemon, grated

Rub duck inside and out with salt mixed with a grated clove of garlic, pepper, paprika and a few grains of ginger. Roast in an uncovered pan in a slow oven, 325 degrees, allowing 30 minutes per pound. Prick the skin with a fork from time to time. Make a good brown gravy with the drippings in pan in which bird was roasted. Melt currant jelly in saucepan; add bay leaf, whole black pepper, one half cup gravy, orange juice and orange and lemon rind. Let boil for ten minutes. Add rest of gravy and boil a minute longer. Strain and pour over duck.

DETROIT ONE UP—Larry Wilson, a rookie with Detroit Red Wings, shoots for a goal but New York's rearguard, Frankie Eddolls, is "Johnnie-on-the-spot" in the third game of the Stanley Cup finals played in Toronto Saturday. Detroit beat the Rangers 4-0 giving the N.H.L. champions a two-games-to-one lead in the four-of-seven finals. New York evened the series again two-all Tuesday night with a 4 to 3 victory over the Red Wings. (CP Photo)

Penticton Wins Second Game To Take Senior B Title From Pr. Rupert

PENTICTON (CP)—Penticton Vets last night tagged the defending champion Prince Rupert Jets with their second consecutive loss to sweep the British Columbia Senior B basketball crown from the north coasters.

Last night's 57 to 42 victory, tied with their 69 to 60 decision Monday night, gave the Vets a two-game total point series.

Both wins were paced by inspired teamwork of Centre Chuck Raitt who got 47 points, altogether. Despite two guards assigned against him, the tall captain last night netted nineteen points.

But it was no one-man team that outcharged the coast champions. Prince Rupert again showed the effects of playing on a smaller floor than they used during the regular season. They abandoned their zone defence early in the game last night but could not match the interior team's drive.

Prince Rupert made twelve of eighteen free throws while Penticton netted thirteen of 23.

Prince Rupert had twenty fouls and Penticton fourteen.

Line-ups:
Penticton—Raitt (19); Essleman (8); Russell (16); McGannon (6); Kelly (6); Kincaid (3); Assley, Drossos.
Prince Rupert—Hotkesad (14); Davis (3); Lavigne (2); Spring (14); Senterk, Pierce (2); Beynon (2); Arney (7); Sunberg (6).

Trundling Marks Made

On Sunday, the W.E.A.C. rolling against Grotto in the Ten Phi playoffs, went literally "crazy" as they shattered three season's records and tied another. Chalking up a grand total of 2733 which broke the high three team mark with handicap record, they also broke the season's high three without handicap record by scoring 2994. Team member Don Arney broke the season's high three record by rolling 613. He also captured the season's high single with 244 points.

In addition, the team tied the season high single game team with 916.

On Friday, the team played 99 Taxi and nosed out the latter group in a tight game. Scores were 2472 to 2417.

Also on Friday, the City Transfer matched against Paramount broke the season record for total pins of 2611, a record held by The Leftovers. Transfer on Sunday was victorious with a 10-0 record earned the right to Smith Thursday semi-finals.

On Friday the team played and winter recipient of the Fraser trophy. The game ended the 1950 season fall.

Terrace Women Awarded Badges

Red Cross in Session—Sum of $1100 Raised in Drive

TERRACE—A Red Cross executive meeting was held in the Outpost Hospital, with President J. Stevenson in the chair. The report of the annual meeting in Vancouver, at which the secretary of the local branch, Mrs. J. Harris was the delegate, was deferred until the May meeting. The names of six workers in this branch had been submitted by Mrs. Harris to the council at the annual meeting, and these were all approved as being eligible for service badges which will be presented here at a later date. The workers who will receive these badges are Mrs. D. G. Little, Mrs. C. W. Alger, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. I. Frank, Mrs. C. J. Norrington, Mrs. E. T. Brooks.

The final report of the Red Cross campaign for funds was made. Approximately $1100 of the $1400 quota had been collected.

Mrs. R. Thomson, Works Convener, reported that 200 articles had been made so far this year. This was a favorable comparison with last year's complete total of 200 articles in all.

Mrs. L. Newhouse was appointed to the executive as publicity chairman on the resignation from that office of Mrs. C. J. Norrington who is also chairman of the Blood Donor committee.

Terrace Likes Shriners' Band

TERRACE—The Prince Rupert Shrine Band created quite a stir in Terrace on Saturday evening as they paraded through town to the Civic Centre where they gave a very enjoyable concert in the Auditorium. Very smart in their red jackets (which caused some of the youngsters to believe that the Mounties had come to town) the band was introduced to the audience by George Peters. A very fine program of old and new music delighted the listeners, following which a word of thanks and appreciation was given by Bandmaster Peter A. Lien. Presiding at the door was J. H. Stevenson and the proceeds will be equally divided between the Band and the Terrace Civic Centre.

Timely Topics from Terrace

Mrs. C. R. Newhouse, Terrace Reporter

At the April meeting of the Anglican W.A. which was held at the home of Mrs. Giggay with Mrs. West presiding, plans were made for the Spring tea and sale which is to be held in the Odd-fellows' Hall on May 13. Instead of the usual novelty stall, small, potted, flowering house plants will be on sale for Mothers' Day. The delegates to the Diocesan Annual, which is to be held in Prince Rupert in May, are Mrs. West and Mrs. Laird, Mrs. Whitaker, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Macklin were welcomed as guests to the meeting. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

With Nick Schmeling as their trainer, local boys are taking up boxing at the Civic Centre. A training room has been provided above the bowling alleys with a ring, mattresses and punching bag as part of the equipment of which a lot more is needed. Nick talks of taking two or three of the boys, who show promise of being boxers, to the Golden Gloves contest in Vancouver next year. He also plans on having a boxing show, as an added attraction at the next big gala day at the Civic Centre when he will have bouts for the smallest to the oldest boxers. An ex-fighter himself, he will give some exhibition boxing.

Gordon Little left for Vanderhoof on Tuesday morning's train where he will meet his father, George Little who, with his daughter and her friend Mary Crawford, is returning from a six weeks' trip touring in some of the western states of the United States. He will return immediately with the party by car.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Philip left on

SHIPS and WATERFRONT

Skipper Reg Good and Engineer Tom Moorehouse left early this morning with the local provincial police boat P.M.L. 15 for Vancouver where the vessel will be taken into Menchions yard for an annual overhaul. The P.M.L. 15 is expected to be away about a month.

Accompanied by her two children, Mrs. Tom Olson drove to Prince Rupert on Saturday where she will spend the week seeking donations to the Terrace Fall Fair prize list.

Nick Schmeling and Wally Peterson drove to Prince Rupert on Tuesday morning on matters of business returning on Wednesday.

Alanna Cushing, Rose Marie and Suzanne Tetreault have returned to their studies at the convent in Prince Rupert.

The volunteer fire brigade was out on Tuesday night canvassing from door to door to sell tickets for the Firemen's Ball which will be held in the Civic Centre on May 5.

Jap Skipper Tells Of Coast Attacks

VANCOUVER—Captain Meiji Tagama, a former submarine commander, speaking in Tokyo recently, described the shelling by Japanese during the summer of 1942, of certain points along the British Columbia and American coasts. The attack on Estevan Point, Vancouver Island was carried out by a sister ship of his own. This was in June. There was no serious damage.

It was Tagama's own ship that fired on Fort Stevens, Washington, in August. It was also his own submarine, carrying a plane that took part in a raid at Cape Blanco, Oregon. The plane carried incendiary bombs. Forest fires followed the raids. He said he believed the fires were caused by the bombs.

Prairie Gas Bills Through

OTTAWA — Two contentious bills to incorporate prairie gas pipe line companies were hurled through Parliamentary barriers in the House of Commons Monday but it took four time-consuming House votes to do it.

Bringing lengthy debates to a close, two measures, privately sponsored, received second reading—approval in principle—and went to committee for detailed study. They were for the incorporation of the Alberta Natural Gas Co. and Prairie Transmission Lines Limited, both of which seek the right to build a gas pipe line from the rich Alberta oil fields to the industrial markets of British Columbia.

STEWART NEWS
Latest from Portland Canal Mining Centre

Dale L. Pitt, managing director of the Silbak Premier Mine, has been here relieving J. C. McCutcheon who has been on a brief trip. The operation is again beginning to show signs of improvement according to reports emanating from the property.

Al Phillips, Bill Boedecker and John Lehto left for Tide Lake in the early part of last week. It took them two days to make the property. Wally Herman, speaking to Phillips on the radio-telephone, reported that the going was soft as some fresh snow had fallen, but they found everything in good shape at the property. Herman will be going out to the property as soon as he has sufficiently recovered from his recent operation.

Mrs. Robert Barwise and child returned on the Union boat Monday from Vancouver.

Miss Isabelle McLeod arrived Monday for an extended visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. John McLeod.

Miss Joyce Hawkins, accompanied by two friends Miss Mabel Gault and Miss Jean Anderson, paid a visit to Stewart during the stay of the boat last week. It was somewhat of a surprise to her father, J. P. Hawkins, and a disappointment that the visit could not be extended. Miss Hawkins and Miss Gault are teaching at Smithers and Miss Jean Anderson is employed at the Royal Bank, Smithers.

Stewart Legion Women's Party

STEWART—The Women's Auxiliary of the Stewart Branch of the Canadian Legion initiated four new members at their last regular meeting on Thursday in the Legion Clubrooms. After the meeting the members of the Stewart Branch joined the ladies for a cribbage contest and supper.

The ladies again demonstrated their superiority at crib by defeating the men by a score of 6,118 to 5,424.

Individual results were: Ladies first, Mrs. Vera Lawrence; consolation prize, Mrs. M. Bolovick; Billy Orr won the men's first prize followed by Casey Williams from Hyder.

There was a whist section also. Mrs. Ann Geddes winning first prize and Mrs. F. Hunger the consolation prize.

A fair amount of success is attending the efforts of the Legion Branch and the Parent Teachers' Association to provide entertainment for the people of this community, by operating a 16 mm. show. The hall is also thrown open twice a week for the badminton club free of charge. In addition a public library service is provided every Friday night when ping pong and other games can be engaged in by the young people.

The drinks made me feel good, Rozin said, and eased his nervous state.

Dunlop Cross Examined

Oscar Dunlop, was on the stand for cross examination Tuesday morning and told the court that Rozin had never complained to him about the financial state of the business of which he was a partner. He did, however, complain to Dunlop, in reference to the estate of Louis Locker. Dunlop and Rozin formerly worked with Locker in the logging business. Dunlop stated that he never settled the Locker accounts as far as the accused was concerned.

"Neither of us ever got anything out of it," Dunlop said.

R. M. MacLeod, defense counsel, suggested to Dunlop that the accused never saw the financial account of operations of the Crow Lake logging camp for the past two years. Dunlop replied that the account was available at Prince Rupert accountant's office.

During Tuesday's session, Mrs. Dunlop had testified she had not attempted to warn her husband that Rozin was allegedly dangerous. In court yesterday morning, Dunlop said his wife remarked that "He's acting funny—I'll tell you about it later." "But," Dunlop said, "I didn't pay any attention to it."

After Rozin was pulled out of the water by Ernest Musto and Ray Jetter, employees, they changed the accused's clothes and bound him. Dunlop admitted he picked up a poker when he walked into the cabin where Rozin was tied up. Defense counsel asked if he was going to strike Rozin.

Dunlop said he was not. But Dunlop added, I wasn't going to take any chances." Defense counsel suggested that if his wife had not intervened Dunlop would have struck him.

"Not then," replied the victim. Other witnesses testifying were Mrs. Ray Jetter, Ernest Musto, Ray Jetter and Charles Jetter.

Defense Counsel

In addressing the jury, R. M. MacLeod, counsel for the defense, suggested that the accused was under the influence of liquor at the time. He gave evidence, said Mr. MacLeod, that he had consumed a quart of rum—a quantity of vanilla extract some home made wine and two bottles of beer. He also gave evidence that he was afraid of Mr. Dunlop.

"He saw Mrs. Dunlop make certain movements to him (Dunlop) which indicated to (Dunlop) that Rozin had been discussing financial arrangements with her." Mr. MacLeod explained that when Dunlop got up quickly, Rozin, whose mind was inflamed by liquor, became frightened.

The defense counsel pointed out it was highly unlikely that Dunlop had had the blankets in his hand when he stepped out the door. Rozin testified that he had not seen the blankets.

"The accused felt he was to be attacked," Mr. MacLeod said. "He picked up the closest thing. He just brought it up when Dunlop made a swipe at it."

Mr. MacLeod contended that "the accused did not intend to kill Oscar Dunlop. The accused was mentally unbalanced at the particular time and there was no real intention as the charge states."

"I ask the accused be found not guilty as charged."

Crown prosecutor T. W. Brown suggested to the jury that accused had worked himself into a rage and had decided to go through with "a foolish and vengeful plan" which he had in mind. Accused admitted that it was the "Long Tom" in his hand which had done the snooting. "Accused," submitted Mr. Brown "is very fortunate that Dunlop was agile and quick enough to get out of the way. Otherwise, accused might be facing the most serious charge in the Code." Mr. Brown contended that Rozin had been telling the truth when he told police officers that he had got mad and had shot Dunlop and was sorry for it.

Lengthy Charge

In a charge to the jury which lasted for an hour and a half, Mr. Justice Coady pointed out that it was for the jury to pass upon the facts and make such inferences as were reasonable from the evidence. It was the duty of himself (judge) to instruct the jury on the law. He asked the jury to use its own common sense in drawing deductions from the evidence.

His Lordship emphasized three factors:

1. Presumption of innocence until accused had been found guilty on the basis of evidence submitted by the crown.

2. Degree of proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

3. Circumstantial evidence to be consistent with and pointing to the guilt of accused if he was to be found guilty.

The jurge emphasized the importance of intent being established. At the same time a man was expected to consider the consequences of his own voluntary
