MEET MOLOTOV AGAIN

MOSCOW—Envoys of Great Britain, United States and France called today on Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia. Premier Joseph Stalin was not believed present at the meeting which the western diplomats sought with the foreign minister. There has been no official announcement as yet regarding the outcome of the conversations on the future of Germany and Berlin.

SUSPEND PUBLIC HEARINGS

WASHINGTON—United States senators investigating Communist spy ring charges today suspended public hearings because they said the administration refused to give them necessary facts. Chairman Homer Ferguson of the Senate investigating sub-committee, in announcing the decision, also made public refusal by Attorney General Tom Clark to supply official Federal Bureau of Investigation records on William Remington, prominent civil servant accused of communism.

GLOBE GIRDERS HOME

TUCSON, Arizona—Two globe-girdling Superforts, first to fly around the world, landed at their home base here today. They had made the trip in 15 days and in 10 hops. Enroute a third Superfort went down in a crash near Aden in which seven of the 18 men aboard were killed. The final stop before here was in Alaska.

FLOODS DOWN 3500

NANKING—Flood waters of the Yellow River drowned nearly 3,500 persons and left 400,000 homeless in rich north Honan province, official reports today said. North Honan magistrates described the flood as the worst one in 100 years. More than one million fertile acres were flooded.

JOHNNY GRECO WINS

DESTROYERS TO VISIT HERE FOR PORT DAY

One and possibly two Canadian navy vessels will attend Prince Rupert's Port Day on August 26, it was announced at a meeting of the Port Day committee last night. They will be the destroyer Cayuga and possibly the Crescent.

Announcement of their visit was made by Lieut. John Quinn, R.C.N., executive officer of H.M.C.S. Chatham, who is co-operating with the Port Day committee on plans for the marine gala.

A letter from Commander John Robertson, captain of the Cayuga, latest addition to Canada's destroyer fleet, said that the vessel would leave Esquimalt on August 16, probably accompanied by Crescent, and that they would arrive on August 25 for a three-day visit.

Commander Robertson expressed willingness for his crews to take part in the Port Day festivities by providing a guard of honor for the Port Queen and taking part in the competitive events.

Commander of H.M.C.S. Crescent is understood to be Lieut. Commander Pat Nixon. Both Lieut. Commander Nixon and his ship are known in Prince Rupert, having visited here several times before.

Three American destroyers which will be in these waters later this month also have been invited to be here for Port Day.

PROSECUTING T.B. PATIENTS

HALIFAX—Twelve Halifax persons who refused to take treatment for tuberculosis are to be prosecuted under provincial law. They are liable to be sentenced to hospital.

GEN. CLAY REPORTS TO TRUMAN—Gen. Lucius Clay, U.S. commander in Germany, shown arriving at the White House in Washington, D.C., to make his report on the Russian situation in Germany. At right is Kenneth Royall, secretary of the U.S. Army.

TWO SEINERS ARE UNABLE TO LIFT BASKING SHARK

Two seine boats, using their five-ton booms, were unable to hoist a 36-foot basking shark from the water after it had been caught in the seine net of the Great Northern VII recently in Verney Pass, near Wright Sound.

Capt. Jimmy Adkins Jr. and his crewmen Riley Vierck and Bill Petersen, threw a rope around the monster's enormous tail but the power of the boat's five-ton hoisting machinery did little more than bring its tail section out of the water. Then the seiner Argent, skippered by Jimmy's father, James Adkins, pulled along side and both boats tried to lift it.

"We managed to get about half of it above water, but both boats pulling together couldn't bring it all the way up," recounted Riley Vierck. It's flat tail fluke was about 10 feet across and its body was about three and a half feet in diameter about half-way along its body.

To show the size of the shark they brought pictures taken by Mr. Vierck to the Daily News. Its huge body dwarfed the fishermen standing on the decks of the adjoining boats.

"We cut 1,190 pounds of liver out of it and we could have taken more if we had been able to get it further out of the water," the younger Capt. Adkins said. "I figure that we got about three-quarters of the liver."

As far as the men know, the shark was the largest to be caught in northern waters, at least in recent years. None of the men were able to estimate its weight.

Business Tax May Close Co-opage

VANCOUVER—Leo Sweeney stated yesterday that, unless the new city business tax is cut, he may have to close down his co-opage which employs 100 persons.

SHIP OPERATORS BREAK WITH C.S.U.

MONTREAL—The Canadian Shipping Federation yesterday announced termination of its agreement with the Canadian Seamen's Union effective October 15.

CROP OUTLOOK IS IMPROVED

WINNIPEG—Conditions have improved over the prairies during the past week as a result of the cool weather and showers which has been fairly general, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways. Warmer weather is now needed to ripen the crops. Nearly all points report rye harvesting under way or about to commence. Wheat harvesting will probably not get under way for another ten days to two weeks in most districts.

As a result of recent rains the feed situation is much improved in west central Saskatchewan and in some districts they even hope to harvest a fair crop.

The weather has been warm and dry in the Okanagan during the past week and conditions are quite normal. Apricots and early peaches are now moving freely.

WOMAN CREATES OLYMPIC RECORD

Dutch Fanny Blankers-Koen Captures 200-Metres for "Triple"

WEMBLEY STADIUM—The outstanding event of the Olympic Games being played in London has undoubtedly been the performance of Mrs. Fanny Blankers-Koen. Mrs. Koen is the first woman athlete to win three firsts in any Olympic series. She won the 100 metres in 11.9 seconds and then the 80-metre hurdles in 11.3 seconds. Today she won the 200 metres from Miss Williams. Mrs. Blankers-Koen is a Dutch matron, the mother of two children, and is thirty years old. She is trained by her husband who was at one-time hop-step and jump champion of Holland.

An American woman has won a second Olympic medal. She is Mrs. Graves who today added the spring board diving championship to her high diving championship.

The final of the 400 men's metres provided a thrilling contest. Arthur Wint of Jamaica, who was an R.A.F. officer during the recent war, overtook and beat his fellow countryman, Herb McKenzie, with Malvin Whitfield of United States of America third. The winner's time equalled the Olympic record of 46.2 seconds. This reversed the placings in the 800 metres which was won by Whitfield with Wint in second place. In that event Whitfield established a new Olympic record of 1 min. 49.2 seconds against the former one of 1 min. 49.8 seconds.

MINISTER IS COMING HERE

Northern British Columbia Agricultural and Industrial Association, which had extended an invitation to the Minister of Agriculture to come here for the annual Horticultural Show at the end of the month, has been advised that Hon. Frank Putnam will be unable to be here on the show dates but will be arriving August 23, proceeding from here to the Bulkley Valley, Prince George and the Cariboo country. With Mr. Putnam will be the supervising agriculturalist at Abbotsford, G. E. W. Clarke, and the assistant deputy minister of agriculture, W. R. Robertson.

Decision To Withdraw From Leadership Of Party, Gov't, Final, National Meet Is Told

Charges Party to Renewed Effort As Only Bulwark Against Communism—

Resolutions Are Now Being Framed—To Choose New Leader Tomorrow

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King told the Liberal party flatly in a farewell address today that he could not be drafted into the party leadership, however kindly any such movement might be.

P.G.E. Extension To Be Discussed

OTTAWA, (CP) — Premier Byron I. Johnson of British Columbia will meet in Montreal with President R. C. Vaughan of the Canadian National Railways and W. A. Mather of the Canadian Pacific Railway to discuss the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Peace River Block of British Columbia.

Russians Seek Share In Ruhr

MOSCOW, U.—Activity among the embassies of the western allies at an early hour today suggested something unexpected had happened or that a stalemate had developed between them and Russia over the Berlin situation. Another visit to the Kremlin by the United States, British and French representatives had been expected.

Henry Shapiro, British United Press correspondent, reported today that Russia was demanding a part in the administration of the Ruhr industrial area, now entirely in the western orbit, as her price in the lifting of the blockade of Berlin. Such a demand might impose another crisis as serious as that of Berlin.

Soviet action yesterday to relax the financial blockade on Berlin for the present came on the third day after the western envoys had talked in the Kremlin with Premier Joseph Stalin. It indicated that the Russians might be willing to compromise in the east-west currency war which the Russians originally assigned as the reason for imposing the land blockade on the strife-torn city of Berlin. However, there was no sign of Russian relaxation in any other direction.

SKEENA DISTRICT NAMES DELEGATES FOR CONSERVATIVE NATIONAL MEET

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Harvey of Prince Rupert and Michael O'Neill of Smithers were appointed by the Skeena Federal District Progressive-Conservative Association, at a meeting last night, to represent Skeena at the national convention to be held in Ottawa at the end of next month for the purpose of selecting a new national leader.

Alternate delegates were named in the persons of A. M. Harvey of Ocean Falls, R. L. Brash of Telkwa and George L. Rorie of Prince Rupert.

The only resolution passed by the meeting was one calling for the dropping of the "Progressive" from the title of the party and the reversion to straight "Conservative."

Delegates were uninstructed as to the choice of a leader. The meeting received reports of renewed activity in the interests of the party through the interior and at Ocean Falls. Among those present at the Addressing some three thousand party adherents in the second day of the national Liberal convention and receiving ovation after ovation, Mr. King reviewed his twenty-nine years of stewardship.

The Prime Minister criticized party organization although he placed no blame on officials of the National Liberal Federation. He attributed recent by-election losses to lack of organization. The party had "barely begun" reorganizing its election-winning machinery after the wartime lapse.

"Your duty tomorrow is to choose a successor to myself in the party's leadership. When your choice is made, I shall return to the party the trust which it placed in my hands twenty-nine years ago," the Prime Minister said.

Once a new leader had been chosen, Mr. King said he planned to confer with him at a time at which "all circumstances considered I should seek from His Excellency acceptance of my resignation as Prime Minister." This would carry with it the resignation of the entire ministry and involve the formation of a new administration.

In a stirring one-hour address Mr. King compared the position of the nearly mortally wounded party of 1919, when he assumed leadership, with its strong position today. It was representative of all provinces from coast to coast and was faced by a divided opposition.

Mr. King described Liberalism as the only bulwark against totalitarianism—fascism on the one hand and communism on the other. He described Communism to be the greatest menace facing the country and the world today.

His decision to retire was not new, Mr. King said. It was not due to any new situation, deterioration in the party or change of attitude to members of government or party.

Continuous strain through the years could not but be followed by some unfavorable reaction. (Continued on Page Six)

'Rotary' Park

WITH MUCH HURRAH and celebration, Prince Rupert three years ago took its traditionally named Acropolis Hill and renamed it Roosevelt Park in honor of the memory of the great man whose forces manned this port during World War II. We warned then that, while the most was being made of the publicity of that event, there should be acceptance of the continuing responsibility of making and maintaining a beautiful shrine which would be a credit to the city and a lasting honor to the man whose name was memorialized. But what has Roosevelt Park become—a dilapidated, grass overgrown debris-strewn barren, such as to actuate the now famous remark of a tourist who saw the name on the cairn and said: "So you didn't like Roosevelt either?"

But all that should be ended now. The Rotary Club yesterday decided to adopt the beautification of Roosevelt Park as its primary objective for the coming year. We congratulate the Rotary Club on the choice of this objective, a choice which had to be made from among other very worthy suggestions which it is to be hoped will find other sponsors. The Rotary Club, in investing the money this year, will, doubtless, take steps to see that the investment is protected by continued maintenance, either by its own undertaking or effective guarantee. Otherwise, next year or the year after it would have been just so much money wasted.

It will now be "Rotary" as well as "Roosevelt" Park and we again express the hope that it will be a lasting credit, rather than an eyesore stuck on the height of land which is Prince Rupert's best panoramic viewpoint to which visitors, especially, climb to view the grand scenic prospect there afforded.

EVENTS OF YEAR

MORE THAN HALF of this year has gone. Comparatively short now is the time until 1949 will commence to unfold itself. For weal or for woe? Some try to read the future by a close study of the immediate past.

To date, 1948, starting with the tragic fate of Mahatma Gandhi, has been replete with events of moment and significance.

And there are five more months to go. It is just a question if there has been anything toward an international clearing of the air. So far as Canada is concerned most of the provinces have had elections.

The Liberal Party is choosing a new leader now and the Conservatives will do so in September.

The question of Newfoundland has been settled or will be shortly.

RIGHT KIND OF SETTLERS

CANADA NEEDS SETTLERS who do not whine, complain, and feel that everything on the Lord's green earth is wrong except themselves. This type of refugee, who are Latvians, succeeded in sailing the Atlantic Ocean recently, to escape having to bow to the will of Soviet Russia. There were 27 in the party, and they crossed, without a compass. They arrived at Boston and, but for a technicality, would have been received there. It is now understood they may seek admission to Canada. There are only 27 and so far it appears that little is known of them and their fitness to live here, with advantage to themselves and the Dominion. But they have demonstrated they are prepared to risk their lives for the same kind of liberty this country enjoys. That, in itself, is a recommendation.

SIMPLE REASSURANCE

SIMPLE THINGS are reassuring, an ocean of rolling waves or a sky flooded by dawn. Instinctively one knows the profoundest things about them, their peace and innate harmony.

It might be well to reason less and feel more. The stars are sending out their message of calm; the sun its trumpet of joy; the rivers a melody of peace. And a host of things speak with smaller voices: flowers with happy faces; waving grain; blue haze; clean wind; rain; twilight.

Theories and doctrines fail, but these things remain. Their message is as true as it is good. Their peace is real. Their joy is fundamental.

Imprecipitously but surely they bring one into contact with that which is harmonious and enduring.

Letters to the Editor

WOULD TAKE OVER POWER

Editor, Daily News:

I am much interested to notice that the city council contemplates spending some half million dollars upon the telephone service. This brings to my mind many reflections as I was largely responsible for the city owning its own telephone service as well as other services.

A private corporation had been given the right to operate a telephone service in Rupert by the provincial legislature. The domestic water supply was in private hands and power rights also given to corporate interests.

Before civic machinery had been set up I made a proposal to the Board of Trade that, as the telephone service apparently was to be operated by private interests, I thought some of the citizens of Rupert should also have such a right and I offered to instal a system holding a three-fifths interest myself and giving citizens of Rupert the opportunity to subscribe two-fifths. Would you believe that there were people in Rupert who would rather see an outsider operate than a local citizen? Finally it was suggested that citizens of Rupert should subscribe and put in a system to be turned over to the city after a city government had been established. This course was pursued. We made it so hot for outside interests that they did not pursue their rights. The telephone system was installed. Subscribers got their money back but no interest.

Upon my initiative also we secured Rupert's present water supply and the provincial government charged up to the city $15,000 which had been paid to extinguish the right of the private holder.

The city also undertook development of power at the same time as it developed its domestic supply and a power company which had spent large sums of money for the development of power for Rupert was forced out through public opinion brought to bear on the provincial government.

While I had opposed the company operations, I advised the city council to submit a bylaw to the people agreeing to the company taking over power operations in Rupert. I did this because we would have had one of the most powerful financial groups in Canada working for Prince Rupert. The electors turned down the bylaw. After some years of municipal operation the city sold the power system to private interests. A second mistake I think. I would advise the council and the people of Prince Rupert to make representation to the B.C. Power Commission and the Provincial government that the undertaking of the Northern Power Co. should be taken over by the B.C. Power Commission. Prince Rupert is not in a position to supply power to industry today. The Cellulose Company should be the forerunner of others and power should be available.

The tide is at the flood.

T. D. PATTULLO.

ROTARY CLUB TO BEAUTIFY ROOSEVELT PARK

Development of Roosevelt Park as a place of beauty was adopted by the Prince Rupert Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon as its primary object for the coming year. The project was approved by club members in a vote involving two other proposals.

Club President D. C. Stevenson announced, after the voting, that a committee would be formed in the near future to handle the park development project.

Proposed by P. H. Linzey, the Roosevelt Park plan won out over two other suggestions—financial aid to worthy and needy students and financial assistance to the Prince Rupert District Boy Scouts' Association. The former was proposed by Ald. Robert McKay and the latter by F. E. Anfield.

All three members spoke briefly in support of their projects. A number of other projects had been put forward in a canvass among the members but were cut down by the club executive to these above three which were put to a club vote.

In speaking to his proposal, Mr. Lindsay pointed out that the project would be carried on in co-operation with the city and the civic Parks Board. He saw it as "a first class opportunity for the Rotary Club to make this splendid site a major attraction and beauty spot in our city."

Going Steady...with Success

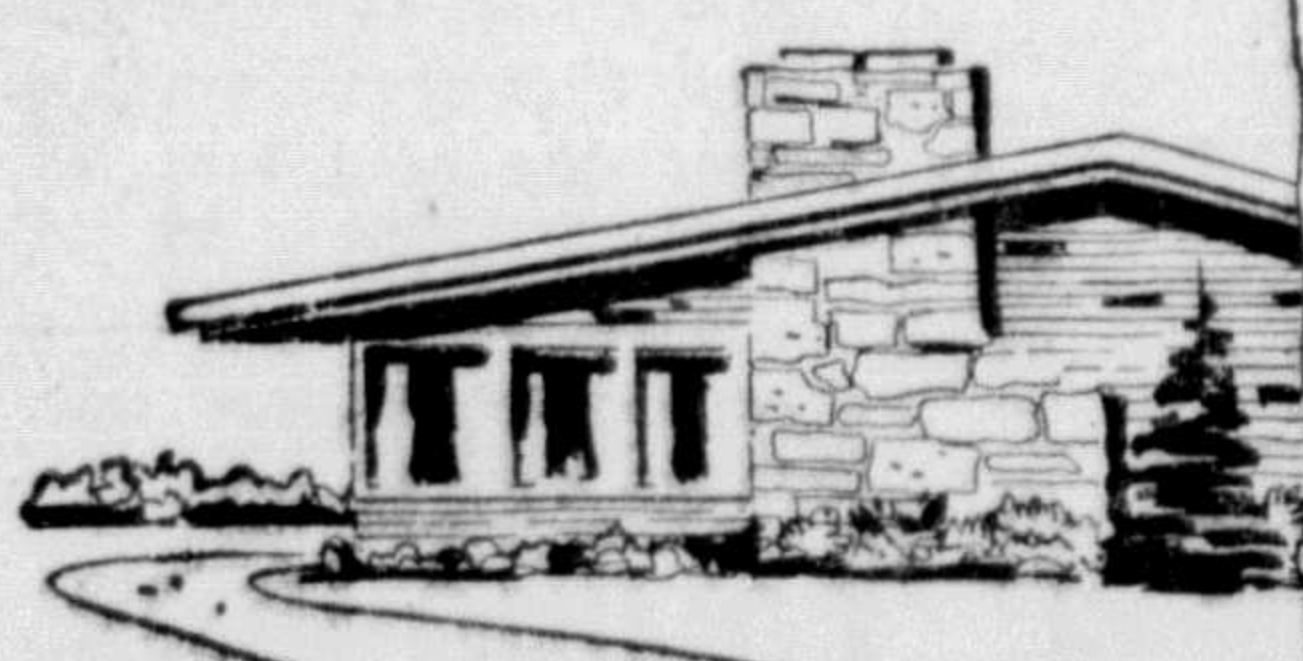

Jack Service is a businessman in Community Centre, B.C. His premises are painted in the familiar Cream-Green-and-Burgundy colors of all Chevron Gas Stations. Like many others, he borrowed to get started. Now he's paid that loan back, and is both boss and owner ... one of 333 independent dealers who sell Standard of B.C. products.

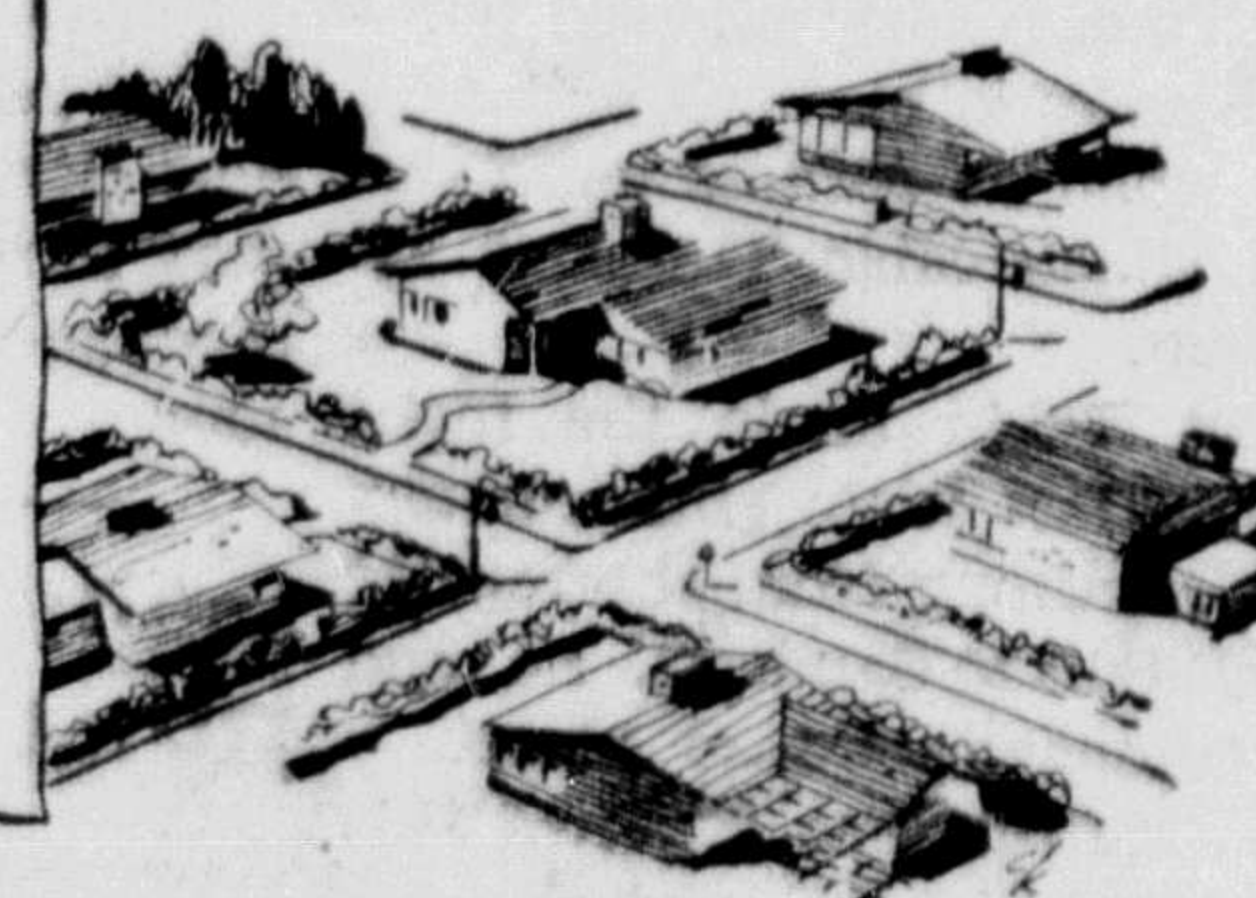

Why did Jack decide to join this particular family? Chiefly because he wanted a business of his own and Standard of B.C. had a reputation for favoring and supporting the principles of Free Enterprise. Standard helped him get started, for he seemed to have the qualities Standard looks for. But the story doesn't end there.

Jack is honest, hard-working, decent. He wants to succeed so he can give his youngsters a good start in life and normal security. To help him get ahead, Standard's merchandising experience is at his disposal. This spirit of friendly teamwork pays off, for with this information he can give better service to his customers.

"Going Steady with Success" is Jack's motto. He's doing a great job. Both he and Standard of B.C. are examples of venture-capital, soundly managed, contributing success to an expanding British Columbia. Our system of opportunity, we believe, offers Jack and all of us greater freedom, security, and more lasting benefits than any other.

BABIES BORN BEHIND BARS

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (AP)—Hundreds of children have been born in a strange, obscure world. They are the infants of women prisoners in penal and correctional institutions.

This has been a virtually unknown chapter in the story of life behind the bars. But now the information has been gathered by the John Howard Association, a private agency that seeks to rehabilitate released prisoners, improve prisons and prevent crime.

Questionnaires were sent out to get the answers to such questions as these: How many such babies are born? How long can the mother keep them? Can mothers, when freed, regain their little ones?

The survey, made in the U.S., covered 65 state penitentiaries, women's reformatories and girls' training schools in 39 states, the District of Columbia and Hawaii.

The study showed 326 babies were born last year to prisoners of 31 institutions. The women were pregnant when they were imprisoned. Some had husbands. Some were single.

The babies were delivered in prison hospitals in only eight of the institutions. In the other cases the births were in state, county, city or private hospitals.

Officials use a variety of means to avoid leaving a blot on the child's formal record in reporting the place and circumstances of his birth. In most cases the birth certificate just lists the name of the hospital and city, or only the name of the city or county.

But illegitimate youngsters don't have such a good chance to escape a stigma. The birth certificates bear a stamp of "illegitimate" in a dozen states.

At training schools, the prisoners are minor girls. In seven places they can keep their babies as long as they are in the hospital. The period ranges from two weeks to three months. In one school the mother never sees the child. In two others the babies are taken away at birth if they are to be adopted.

Adult women in reformatories and penitentiaries can keep their youngsters longer. Mothers in two prisons can keep their children two years. In all places, babies remain with the mother until weaned.

Relatives have first call on babies sent out into the free world, and they get most of them. The bulk of the others go to adoption or foster homes. But in eight places they can end up in orphanages.

Are any arrangements made for the mother to be reunited with her child after her release if she so desires?

Three institutions replied "no." The answers from the others were "yes"—in cases where the mother is able, fit and willing and has not signed away her rights through adoption.

MANY EVENTS, PRIZES FOR PORT DAY

Trophies and prizes ranging as high as $50 have been set aside for winners of the competitive events which will be the backbone of Prince Rupert's Port Day on August 26. Nineteen events will take up most of the day, beginning at 10 a.m.

The celebration will begin with a grand parade of boats led by the Port Queen's barge, on which will be Queen Agnes MacIntosh and her court. It will be followed by a line of decorated vessels. Best decorated boat will receive a $25 prize.

Highest cash prizes will go to the first and second prize winning boats in the halibut gear setting contest. The winner will receive the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. trophy, plus $50 and individual trophies for each crew member. Second boat will receive a $50 award.

In the races, the boats this year will run a straight course for prizes of up to $25, plus trophies. The $25 prizes will be for larger boats such as fish packers over 60 feet long and for fishing vessels in the 45 to 60 foot class. There will be many $10 prizes.

Two bands will keep the crowd entertained during the day. Arrangements have been made to have the Prince Rupert Shrine Club Band and the Greenview Gold Medal Band in attendance at the wharfside.

A refreshment booth will be set up on the Armour Salvage Co. dock near the position of the judges' scow.

A number of features have been planned to hold the interest of the crowd in the periods between the water events.

Miss Bartelle Jeffery Becomes Bride of Archie Thompson

Miss Bartelle Jeffery, daughter of Mrs. Jessie Jeffery of Vancouver, and Archie J. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Thompson, pioneer residents of Prince Rupert, were married in Vancouver at Ryerson United Church on Saturday evening last. Rev. E. D. Braden, pastor of the church, conducted the marriage ceremony which was followed by a reception in the Georgia Hotel.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left for a motor trip through the Okanagan after which they will return to Vancouver to take up residence in a home they have purchased on St. Kilda Avenue in North Vancouver. Mr. Thompson is engaged in the practice of law in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Thompson returned to the city by air Tuesday afternoon from Vancouver after attending the wedding.

CANADA WINS OVER URUGUAY

Rough and Tough Olympic Basketball Game Last Night HARRINGAY ARENA.—Canada last night squeezed out a 52 to 50 win over Uruguay in the Olympic basketball eliminations. However, the Dominion was already out of the championship race, having won only two of the first four games. This was their third victory.

Last night's game was a rough affair and Ben Lands, Montreal guard, was disqualified after a display of fistuffs. There was another fight when Harry Ker-mode of the University of British Columbia was, apparently, tripped. Other Canadians were fouled.

Canada led 34 to 28 at half-time and top scorers were: Ker-mode 14, Pat McGeer 10, Doodie Bloomfield 7, and Ole Baaken 3. Belgium defeated the Philippines 37 to 35 and Hungary defeated Great Britain 60 to 23 in other games.

BALL RACE IS EVEN TIGHTER

NEW YORK.—The race for American League leadership became more close and complicated than ever as a result of yesterday's play. Cleveland Indians, who blanked the Washington Senators, are ahead in percentage but in games won and lost, are actually half a game behind Philadelphia Athletics who, in the percentage column, are tied with New York Yankees. The Athletics took a double-header yesterday from the lowly Chicago White Sox.

In the National League the Boston Braves won over the Cincinnati Reds and increased their league leadership to four-and-a-half games, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeating Chicago Cubs to move into second place ahead of St. Louis Cardinals.

Yesterday's Big League scores: National League Cincinnati 4, Boston 6. Chicago 4, Brooklyn 6.

American League Washington 0, Cleveland 3. Boston 8, St. Louis 7. New York 2, Detroit 1. Philadelphia 3-7, Chicago 0-4. The standings to date:

HOME RUN BY ABEL SETS UP MERCHANTS TO BEAT SAVOY

MERCHANTS 8, SAVOY 3

"Happy Birthday to You" was the heartfelt theme song of Merchant supporters at Roosevelt Park last night when Merchant Catcher Dave Abel celebrated his natal anniversary by clouting a fourth inning home run that brought in another runner and tied the score, enabling his team to progress to an 8-5 win over the league-leading Savoy.

The victory had considerable significance for Merchants for it puts them in a position to tie Savoy for top position at the end of the baseball schedule which is only two games away.

Savoy now have 10 wins and five losses with one game to play against Merchants. Merchants now have eight wins and six losses with two games to play—one against Savoy and one against Moose. If Merchants win both games they will stand even with Savoy with 10 wins and six losses at the threshold of the playoffs.

So, blessed was the name of Abel whose short, but churning legs carried him around the bases in time to make a safe dive to home plate before the ball returned from a position 400 feet out in centre field where his forthright blow had placed it. The ball was air-borne for a full 350 feet before it hit the dirt and rolled another 50 feet. At the time, Merchants were trailing 2-0. Eliuk, Merchant pitcher was on first through a fielding error. Abel's homer tied the score at 2-2.

Merchants got off to a rather bad start. Eliuk was badly off form on the rubber in the first inning. He walked the first four men to face him and his fourth home forced Bruce Simundson walk, giving Savoy their first score.

Merchants then put Lambie, the Old Master on the mound to give Eliuk a chance to reorganize. Lambie came in from centre field to pitch to Gurvich who lined out to Hartwig at second. Hartwig threw to first and caught Pavlikis off base. Morgan grounded out, Forman to Lambie.

Eliuk returned to the mound in the second, still a bit wild, but good support from his team. Neither side scored in the second.

Savoy got their second run in the third when Pavlikis got on base on a fielders' choice and was scored by a single by Gurvich.

Savoy pitcher Jack Sharpe held Merchants hitless in the third but in the fourth Abel's homer tied the score.

Merchants carried their break into the fifth inning, scoring three runs off two hits. Linney scored on an error. Dominato, who got on base on balls was brought in by a single by Abel. Hartwig, who singled, also was brought in by Abel's hit.

Two Savoy errors led in two Merchant runs in the sixth, while a third was brought in by a sacrifice by Hartwig.

Savoy's third and final run came in the fourth. Savoy filled the bases with one down. Post-tuk hit to Hartwig who threw home, forcing out Alex Bill. Eliuk then gave Bury a base on balls, forcing Vukovich home.

DOUBLE SOCCER BILL IS PLANNED

Trial Game and Old-Timers Games to Provide Feature

Plans were laid at the Prince Rupert Football Association meeting last night for the match that will be played for the Hanson trophy when H.M. C.S. Cayuga comes to port. An invitation has been sent to the ship but, while no reply has been received yet—actually the ship is visiting California ports at present—it is fully expected that it will field a team. In preparation for this outstanding event of the football season the meeting last evening decided that there should be a practice game to enable the selection committee to choose the best team to represent the city. This game will be between the "Probables" and the "Possibles." As an added attraction it was

SHADES OF YESTERYEAR

"Aunt Emma's Voice... just as plain!"

We turned the crank... two and three rings for Aunt Emma's. And, there we were... talking, actually talking with her... and she a good five miles distance. Land's sake! What won't they think of next?

In the early 1900's, as today, folks were just as likely to call Aunt Emma and the friendly neighbors for an evening of whist or cribbage. With, of course, the "trimmings": Good food, Princeton Beer and friendly talk completed the evening. Princeton is brewed now, as then, of the finest available grains and hops... the famed Tulameen waters... to the same exacting high standards. People still insist on Princeton in these times... it is the "just right" beer.

PLANES COLLIDE, ELEVEN KILLED

MIAMI, Florida (C)—At least eleven persons were killed when a United States Navy plane and a Stearman trainer collided near here. Two occupants of the Stearman were unhurt.

The Navy craft crashed into the field and ripped into the ground. An eye-witness said the smaller craft had shot up into the Navy plane.

MILL EQUIPMENT AT TORBRIT MINE

The equipment for a 300-ton cyanide mill has been delivered to the mill site at Torbrit Silver Mines Ltd., at Alice Arm. General work there continues to go along well, the camp buildings having been built and work on the tram from mine to mill well advanced. The pole line for power transmission is about finished. The 2050 level at the mine has been unwatered and a number of diamond drill holes put down.

CANADIAN PROFESSOR ON 3-MONTHS VISIT TO AUSTRALIA — University of Toronto's Australian-bred Professor of Geography, Thomas Griffith Taylor, has been revisiting Australia. The Australian government invited him to Australia for three months to help in setting up a new National University for post-graduate research at Canberra, the federal capital. Professor Taylor (centre) with the Canadian high commissioner to Australia, Mr. Kenneth A. Greene, O. B.E. (right) and the registrar of the Australian National University, Mr. R. G. Osborne, B.A., LL.B., are shown above.

DECISION TO WITHDRAW

tion. Something of the old resiliency had gone. Fatigue was taking its place. "My resistance and capacity for sustained effort are not what they were." Serious as conditions might be today, he felt he owed it to the party, country and himself to give the party the opportunity to choose a new leader. He did not like to feel that he was not carrying his full weight and what might be expected of him.

However, he hoped to still have some years ahead for service to country and cause from an atmosphere less charged with contention and with duties less exacting and responsible.

"After I cease to be commander-in-chief of the Liberal party, I shall be only too happy to find some place to work amid its ranks," Mr. King continued.

As for the party's political prospects, Mr. King said there was "no possible party or group of parties strong enough to form a government now, nor was it likely there would be after the next election (applause)—provided the party remains united and brings into being an effective nation-wide organization."

WORKING ON PLATFORM

The national convention, with choice of a new leader still a day away, began work today on new plans of party platform.

Preliminary proceedings completed, 1,299 voting delegates started to study and discuss resolutions presented by Liberals from various parts of the country and accepted by 138-man resolutions committee.

Meanwhile the choice of a new Liberal leader appeared to centre on one of three men—External Affairs Minister L. S. St. Laurent, Agriculture Minister James G. Gardiner and Hon. C. G. Power, former air minister. The race shaped this way after other possible contenders—Hon. Paul Martin and Hon. Angus Macdonald, Premier of Nova Scotia—said they would not be candidates.

Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, Trade Minister C. D. Howe, Defence Minister Claxton and Transport Minister Chevrier all said they were not in the running.

An expanded trade program was offered at the convention today as the first plank in the party's new platform. Trade Minister Howe moved the resolution which declared the prosperity of every part of Canada depends on enlarged world commerce.

A second resolution was for the encouragement of industry with a minimum of state interference.

A resolution by W. E. Tucker of Saskatchewan calling for increased production by private enterprise went back to the committee for further consideration after young Liberals had said it was "just a mass of platitudes."

APPLEWHAITE ON COMMITTEE

Edward T. Applewhaite of Prince Rupert, Skeena district delegate, is one of three British Columbians among the scrutineers appointed to act at the election of the new Liberal leader tomorrow.

Yesterday the western provinces, led by Alberta and British Columbia, successfully obtained an amendment to convention procedure whereby each candidate for the leadership will address the convention for 20 minutes. Westerners claimed they wanted to see and hear the delegates before deciding how to vote.

An early form of guillotine, last used 1710 was then called the "Maiden". Its ax moved in grooves in a frame 10 feet high.

WHEN YOU BUY A WATCH FROM US

There is one main advantage over getting it away from home.

If the watch doesn't come up to your expectations, why you always know where to have the trouble adjusted or the watch exchanged.

If we guarantee a watch that guarantee is binding.

Also we have been in the business so long that we have a chance to know which are the ones which give satisfaction the longest.

Watch prices are as low here as anywhere in the land.

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

There are not so many around today who can clearly recall the early nineties when old Sir John passed on. The "nest of traitors" pained Canadian politics, the Conservative party became acquainted with grief and the Liberals, emerging from a stony wilderness of opposition, soon had Canada basking in the warmth of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's smile. His leadership, commenced with what was fondly called the cabinet of all the talents.

It might just as well be admitted that the general run of people like to watch a fight or now and then fight among themselves. In a stuffy home, perhaps a good clean scrap clears the air as nothing else can. And surely there must be a wonderfully satisfying kick in kissing and making up.

R. W. Service and family are in Vancouver for the Klondike sourdough reunion on which occasion Mr. Service will be the guest of the evening. It was not by wandering among the hills—or by handling pick, shovel or sluic-box, that Service struck a fabulous vein or creek. He was a bank clerk. To this day, his "Songs" of 48 years ago remain tops, whenever people idly muse or dream and talk of a faraway region, and an era. "Lou," "Dangerous Dan" and the rest provide the rich picture you feel, yet somehow cannot be put into words that fit.

It's a pleasure to be able to note the satisfaction felt by Ketchikan in having landed a pulp mill. The feeling is not unknown in Prince Rupert. Ketchikan is and always has been a first class neighbor. For example, when the ss. Prince George burned to a crisp in her harbor, there was nothing overlooked or forgotten in giving a hundred per cent help and hospitality when both were badly needed.

A contemporary says there are 15 key cities in Canada, each a bright and shining example of what should not be. Had they been built according to a plan that had some vision or prescience, the sorry spectacles of today could have been avoided. There is a lesson here for Prince Rupert. The city is still new. It is better to be alert now, than to have to confess to a collection of headaches in the future.
