ing the bandmaster, Peter Lien.

EVELOPMENT of freight as well as automobile and tourist traffic from railway and highway terminal at Prince Rupert up the coast to Haines and through the cut-off there to the Alaska Highway and the Yukon Territory is something that Prince Rupert might be working upon. Already steamship concerns which would feed their vessels out of Vancouver are considering the use of Haines and trucks over the cut-off to eliminate Skagway and the monopoly of the White Pass and Yukon Route. It is claimed that considerable savings can be made thereby on the cost of laying down goods in the Yukon.

With through rail rates from the East to Prince Rupert competitive with those to Vancouver and the shorter water haul by half from Prince Rupert as compared with Vancouver, the possibilities of the advantageous use of this port become apparent.

It has been suggested that the co-operation of such communities as Whitehorse and Dawson might be forthcoming in Prince Rupert's representations along this line.

SKATING TOGETHER TO THE ALTAR?—Can it be a blossoming romance? So they say about lovely Sonja Henie, ice skating queen and her new Canadian-born skating partner, Michael Kirby, both shown above in New York. For the first time in her long career on the ice, Miss Henie will skate with a movie star in her 11th annual personal appearance at Madison Square Garden, New York. The movie star is Mr. Kirby, who is under contract to M.G.M. The two have been seen together a lot, on and off the ice.

VILLAGE CLERK THIRTY YEARS

Edward Leighton of Metlakatla Believed to Have Long Service Record

For longevity of service to any native community in British Columbia it is quite likely that Edward A. Leighton, veteran secretary of the council of the nearby village of Metlakatla, holds a record. On Saturday he was elected to his thirtieth consecutive year as secretary of the council, an office that would correspond to the city clerkship in an ordinary municipality.

Born in Metlakatla and now sixty-five years of age, Mr. Leighton is a veteran in his handling of the typewriter and has a system of shorthand all his own for the recording of village council meetings. His office is an example of systematic business procedure.

George R. Ryan has been elected chairman of the village council of Metlakatla for this year and other councillors are Peter Leighton, Robert L. Nelson, Matthew H. Leighton, Alvin Leask and John S. Ryan.
