Anyone is interested in a trip to either China, New boat, Mexico, Greenland, Baffin Land or the Indies, don't lie at home and croon "Farewell" but beat a narrow path to H.M.C.S. and join the reserve unit of the Royal Navy.

has all the facilities for good and thorough training. The Captain should know. This is where he began his naval career in 1925 as an ordinary seaman. His family are former residents having lived here from 1922 to 1927. Since he donned his first uniform, Capt. Quinn has gone a long way in his profession. On his last visit here three years ago he held the post of executive officer on H.M.C.S. Uganda and has since been promoted to his present position with headquarters in Ottawa.

In September of this year, Capt. Quinn said, a new naval division in Newfoundland was commissioned. "The response is excellent and there are more eager applicants than we can handle."

Accompanying Captain Quinn are Commander W. A. Childs, assistant director of Naval Reserve, and Lt. Commander (E) H. Graham, engineer officer, Naval Reserve. The party has so far travelled 5,000 miles and have visited reserve installations at Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Calgary, Regina and Victoria. Final stops will be at Edmonton and Saskatoon.

The western division, Capt. Quinn said, comprises of nine reserve units and begins at Port Arthur, Ont. Following Christmas, he added, they will begin a tour of the eastern division. Captain Quinn arrived in the city on the Prince George Wednesday from Vancouver to visit the local division, H.M.C.S. Chatham, in the course of a tour of Canada on such visitations. He will proceed from here to Edmonton on Friday.

Last night Captain Quinn met local officers at a dinner in the Civic Centre. There, and at other conferences, affairs of the local division will be discussed.

Enfranchisement of Great Benefit To Sturdy Metlakatla Folk, Agent Says

Enfranchisement of the Metlakatla Indian band, which "may come sooner than many of us think," will give the natives involved "a new moral uplift," Indian Superintendent F. E. Anfield told the Rotary Club Thursday.

Speaking at the service club's weekly luncheon meeting, Mr. Anfield declared that the mass enfranchisement will be the culmination of a 30-year struggle on the part of the Metlakatla people to get away from the wardship imposed on them by the Indian Act.

"The problems involved in the change from wards of the government to enfranchised citizens are enormous," said Mr. Anfield, who is a member of the three-man board which met a fortnight ago to make recommendations on the change to the Indian Department.

He listed the major problems as:
1. Revision of the census of the 159 Metlakatla people, some of whom live in Prince Rupert, in order to prove their right to share in the large trust fund which will be distributed.
2. Determination of ownership of estates, many of which are highly involved, so that property will go to the proper people.
3. A health survey.
4. Education. The new $20,000 school will be turned over to the Prince Rupert school district for ownership and administration.
5. Family allowances.
6. Equal division of band funds.
7. Turning of traplines over to the provincial game department for sole administration.
8. Surrender to the Metlakatla people of 17,000 acres of land owned by the band. Much of it is in timber. Included is Tugwell Island, which has been suggested for use as a landing field.

"We have heard complaints regarding the slowness with which the thing has come along," Mr. Anfield said, "but when you realize how complex a thing it is, the reason for deliberation is obvious. Initial enfranchisement move was put forward by the Indians as early as 1917, but the Indian Department felt that the band was not ready for it at that time. The second formal move was made in 1941 and came to a climax early this month when the enfranchisement board met and submitted its recommendations to Ottawa.

"I can't pay too high a tribute to those people for what they have done to bring this fine thing to fruition," the Indian Superintendent declared. "The persistence and constant desire to rid themselves of their wardship has been of great aid in bringing it about."

In paying that tribute, Mr. Anfield paid a similarly conscious one to Father William Duncan, pioneer missionary who went to Port Simpson from England in 1858 and later founded the Christian village of Metlakatla.

"No doubt the strength of that man has made an imprint on those Indians," he said. He outlined the early history of the village, which once contained 1,900 people and of the disagreement which led to Father Duncan taking 1,300 of them to Annette Island to found New Metlakatla, Alaska in 1887. The few who remained were "broken in spirit and skeptical of the white man" but later rallied, he said.

There doesn't seem to be any serooge in the population of Prince Rupert and district as far as the festive season is concerned if overseas parcels and letters mean anything. Postmaster J. R. Morison announced that this year has seen a heavier flow of mail to Great Britain and Europe as compared with 1948. It's too late for parcel delivery to Great Britain and Europe but a warm and cheery post card or letter to the British Isles will be on time. Deadline for first class mail to Great Britain is Nov. 25.

So happy and grateful words will be said for the citizens of Prince Rupert who can imagine what a Christmas can be like over there.

Lillienthal's Successor?

WASHINGTON D.C. (AP)—Resignation of David E. Lillienthal as United States atomic chief left wide open today the question of who will succeed him in one of the most important jobs in the world. He will quit as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission December 31.

President Truman announced Wednesday he was accepting the resignation with "reluctance and utmost regret."

Lillienthal has long been in disagreement with the authorities over extreme secrecy in connection with atomic matters to which he was opposed. He had also favored sharing atomic secrets with Canada and Great Britain.

radio networks, communication and transportation service workers were among the first to go out.

Deplores CCF Move To Cheese-Pare Vote

OTTAWA (CP)—Apparently irked by continued C.C.F. criticism of increased expenditures for citizenship education during discussion of the estimates of the Secretary of State, Ted Applewhaite, M.P. for Skeena, defended the increase. He expressed surprise at the criticism and stated his only criticism was that the increase was not greater.

Russian Peace Plan Defeated

United States Political Committee Rejects Document Accusing U.S. and Britain

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The United Nations today rejected Russia's Big Five peace pact plan that contained a clause accusing the United States and Great Britain of plotting war. The General Assembly's 59-member political committee defeated the Moscow plan by a heavy vote and then approved a counter-proposal for peace sponsored by the United States and Great Britain.

The western plan reaffirmed faith in the United Nations charter and set forth twelve essential requirements for international peace.

Death took place on Wednesday at the Prince Rupert General Hospital of John Henry Dwyer, a resident of Prince Rupert for the past seven years.

Mr. Dwyer, who was born in the United States January 3, 1889, had formerly been a resident of Edmonton for fifteen years. He was a veteran of World War I and was discharged at Edmonton in March 1919.

Mr. Dwyer was unmarried and his only at present known relative is a sister, Mrs. Paul Wright, a resident of Chino, California. Funeral arrangements will be announced later and interment will be in the Soldiers' Plot, Fairview Cemetery.

TORNADO KILLS ELEVEN PERSONS

ALEXANDRIA—Eleven persons were killed when a tornado swept the southeast states yesterday. All the dead were members of a family living in a shack which was struck and shattered by another building which was picked up by the wind and blown against it.

Applewhaite referred to efforts of the Canadian Legion, Daughters of the Empire and such organizations for better citizenship education of immigrants and said: "Economy is very well in its place but cheese-paring in citizenship education is poor economy."

Death Sentence For Espionage

BUCHAREST—Four persons were sentenced to death yesterday on charges of carrying out espionage for the United States. Fourteen others were given prison terms on the same charge.

FINE WINTER IN PRINCE RUPERT

After a week or so of weather that has resembled September more than November, it is beginning to look more like winter in Prince Rupert. For some days the sky was more overcast than sunny but the mildness of the temperature discouraged the use of overcoats.

Much different has the weather been this late fall than last. A year ago there had been heavy and blustery snowfalls and heavy frost, then changing to rains and gales with slush aplenty.

Time to Use Rupert

THE Minister of External Affairs, Hon L. B. Pearson, has stated in the House of Commons that early restoration of trans-Pacific traffic will stimulate the economic well being of Western Canada. Recent developments suggest that the Minister's announcement was not at all premature.

When the builders of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway planned the line, they saw a wide extension of Canada's transportation system both land and sea. Advantages in northerly routing in Asiatic trade had already been long demonstrated in the ports of the south coast. The coming of a new deep sea centre was looked forward to with live interest for, it was reasoned, its effect should be direct.

All this was forty years ago. With the exception of a few ships loading wheat about the time the elevator stood completed, the situation has remained unchanged.

The Grand Trunk Pacific was built to what was to become a new ocean centre that would take its place in world travel and commerce. In forty years it has become nothing of the sort. The course of shipping has remained the same as it always has, precisely the same as if Rupert had never been heard of.

The old Prince Rupert has vanished. A new, a busy and an alert Prince Rupert carries on, with faith and pride. Local growth is rapid, and today's community tone is not one of endless patience. Making use of Prince Rupert as one of Canada's most important transcontinental terminals should be something for continued aggressive study.

CHINA SAVES FACE

ANGUS WARD, the United States consul-general to Mukden, is being released, even though convicted by the "People Court" of Soviet China on an assault charge, and is being deported from China. At least, he is presumably safe and will be yielded up, whether or not the disposition of the case may be to the satisfaction of the American government. The Communist government of China, suspected of being puppet to Soviet Russia, has also saved face.

The important thing is that the tenseness of a challenging incident has been lessened. Possibly, it was merely a draw in one round of the widespread cold war which so long now has come to be one crisis after another such as this.

MR. GORDON'S JOB

THE appointment of Donald Gordon as chairman of the board and president of the Canadian National Railways is not a reflection on the excellent services of retiring President R. C. Vaughan. Mr. Vaughan's record is one of triumph over the unprecedented and unequalled difficulties of operating North America's greatest railroad as a vital war service. His outstanding achievement will remain a monument to his great ability and unsparring devotion to duty.

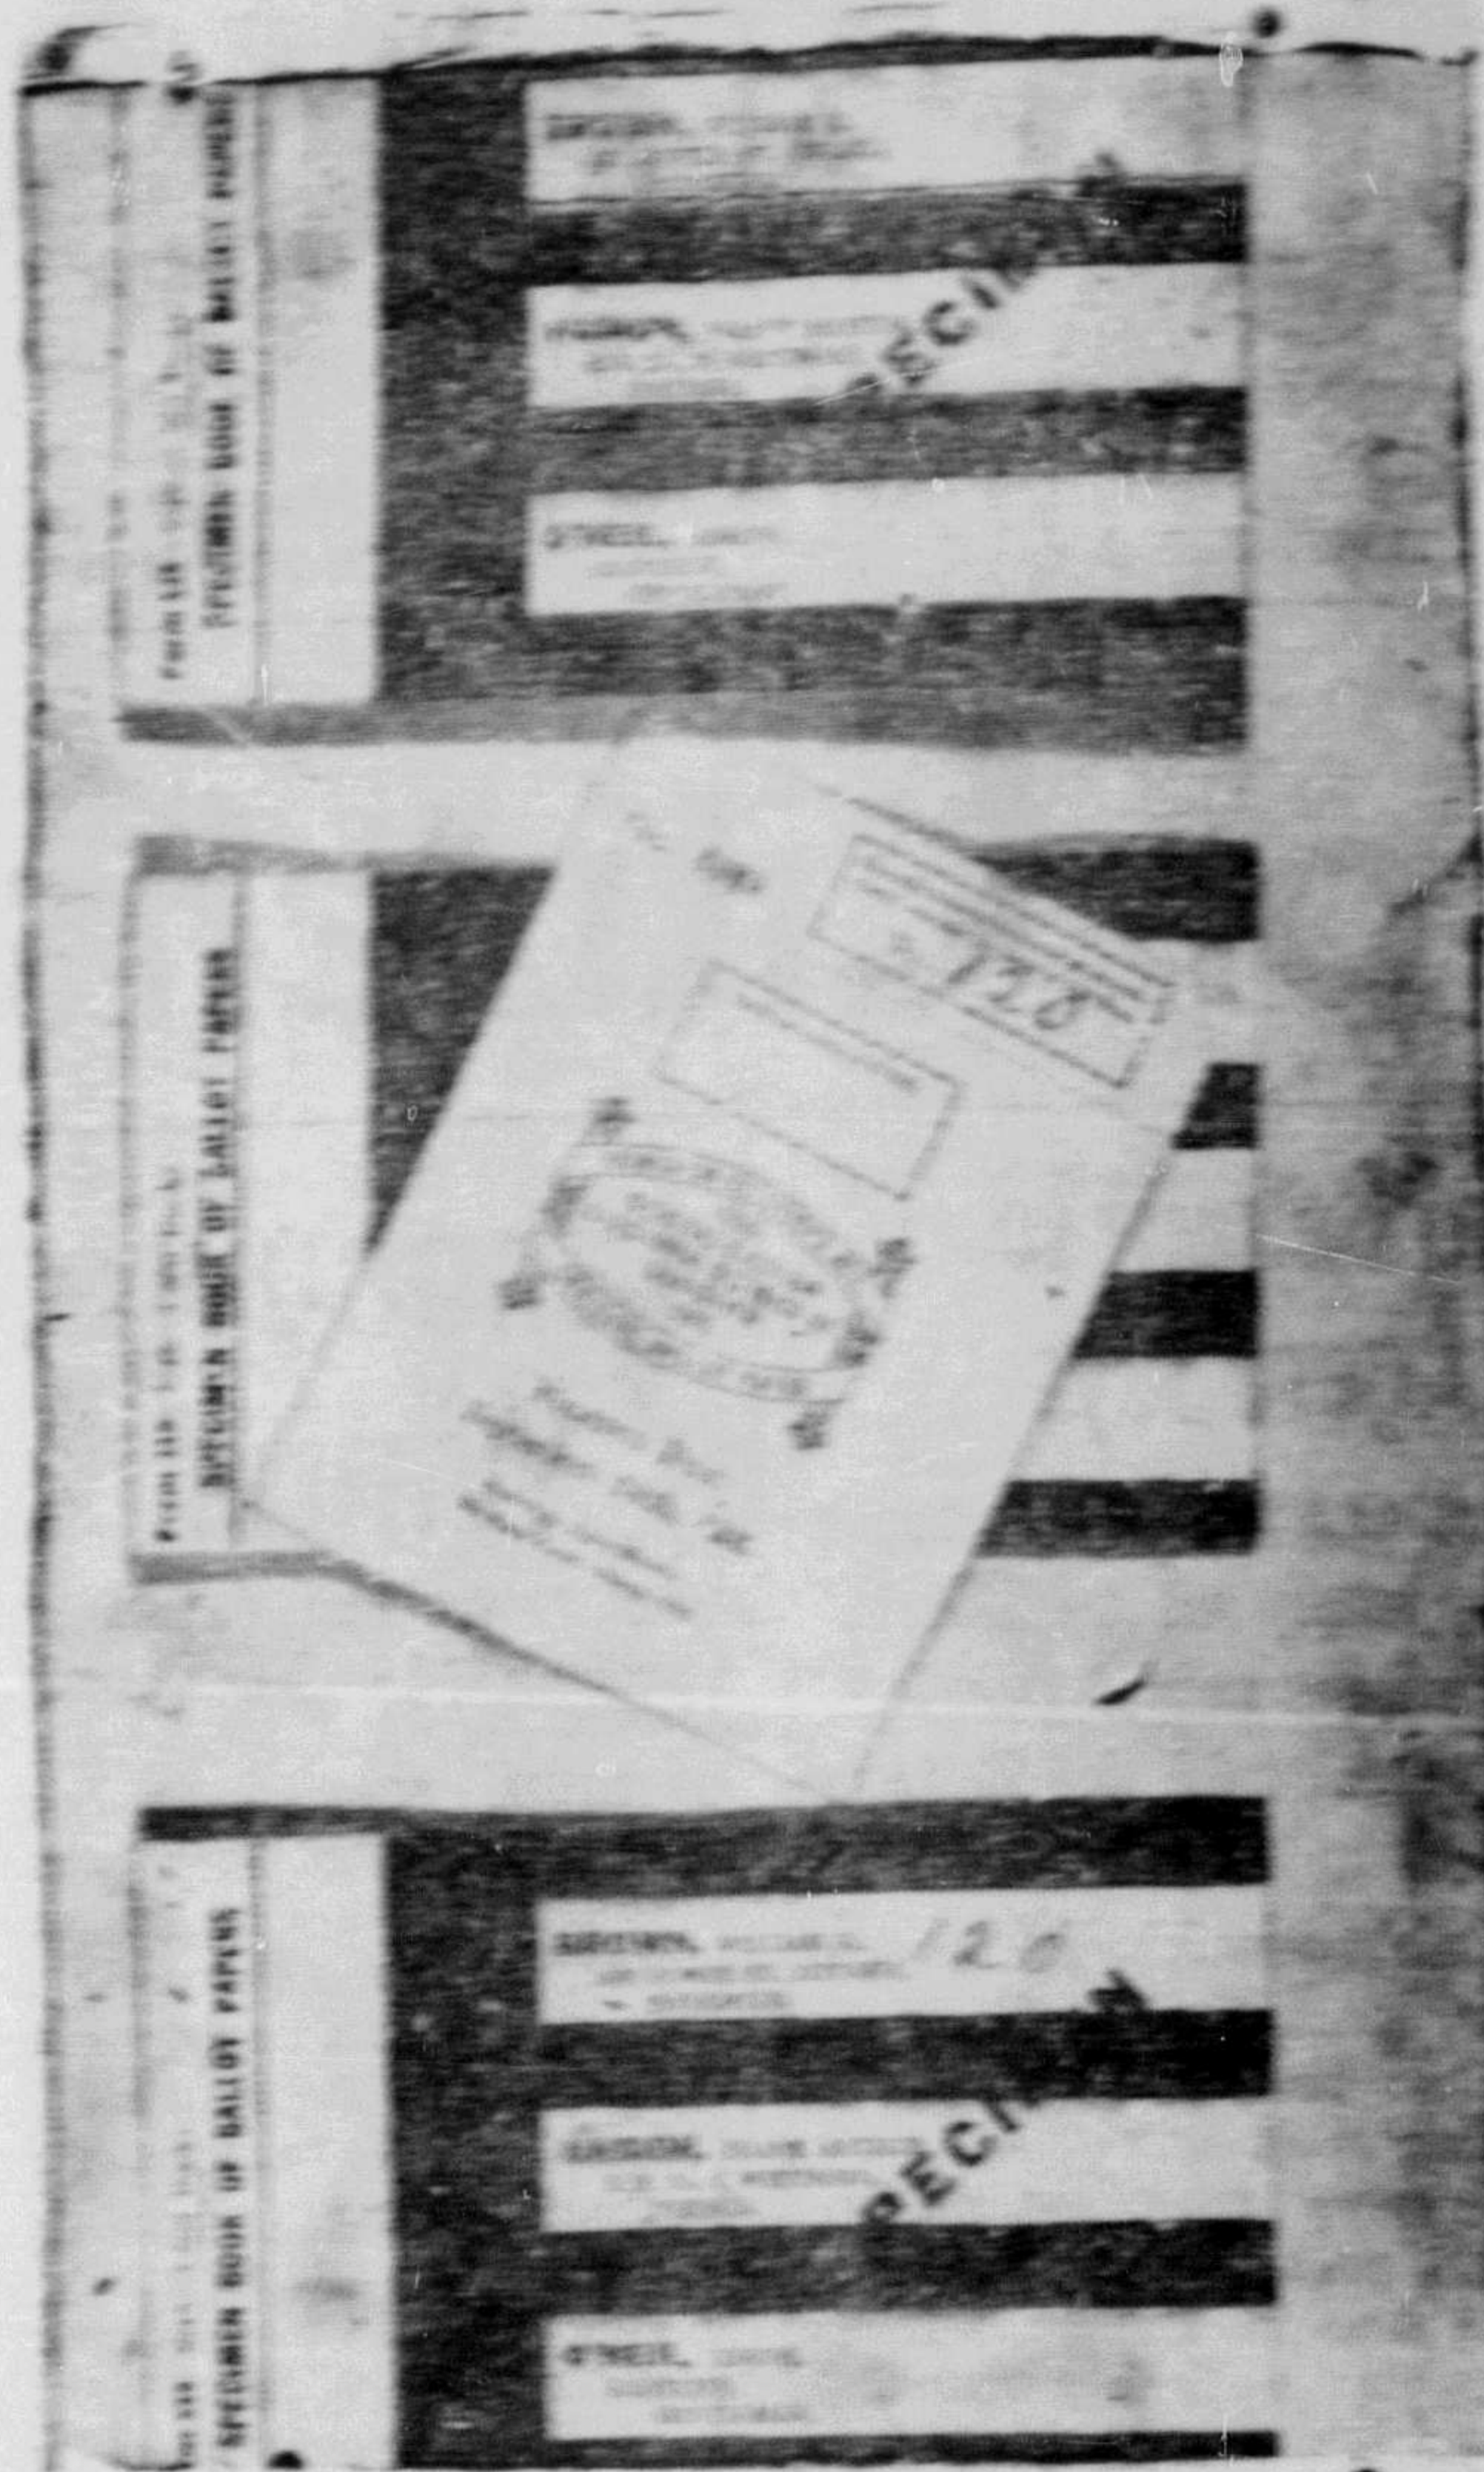

The operating efficiency of the Canadian National Railways has been established and will be maintained by the capable executives and personnel who staff its divisions and departments. The co-ordination of their work will be Mr. Gordon's task and he will also be expected to keep up with the demands of Canada's development and expansion.

MARITIME REPORT

PRINCE Rupert takes a keen interest in the report of John V. Clyne, chairman of the Maritime Commission of Canada and himself a former Prince Rupert man, on the matter of shipping and shipbuilding in Canada. From the standpoint of shipbuilding, it is not a very encouraging document, nor from the standpoint of the operation of ships and the employment of seamen.

It is to be noted, however, that Mr. Clyne recommends a "small and efficient" Canadian merchant fleet. He also advocates that this country keep its shipping and shipbuilding industries on a sound nucleus basis for sudden expansion if needed in case of emergency.

Prince Rupert dry dock would be, doubtless, one of the plants to be kept in such readiness.

BALLOT TROUBLE—This photo shows how the secrecy of the ballot was innocently violated last June. In 490 cases, officials said in a report tabled in the Commons at Ottawa, small "carbon copy" numerals appeared on the ballots.

STEPHEN KING MARRIES AGAIN

Word has been received in the city of the recent marriage in Victoria, following a trip to England of Stephen King, former well known Prince Rupert business man. The bride was a former nurse at Shaughnessy Military Hospital in Vancouver. Capt. W. J. Thomas, also formerly of Prince Rupert was groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. King have taken up residence at Ganges in the Gulf Islands.

WOMEN OF MOOSE DANCE ENJOYED

Approximately 200 people attended the last Women of the Moose dance held in the Oddfellows' Hall. Music was supplied by the Dukes orchestra. Two committees of the organization the hospital guild with Mrs. E. Elmer as chairman and the home making committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. B. Skinner, were responsible for the evening's success. They also served refreshments.

The Curriculum

(This is the first of a series on the courses taught at South Memorial High School setting out what the School is doing)

English

English is the one subject in the curriculum requiring five periods a week that is compulsory for all grades. In a sense all courses in the school are English courses and all teachers, teachers of English, since all studies are necessarily concerned with expression. Expression is the prime objective of English: to teach the student how to speak and write clearly and convincingly. The Department of Education divides the course into two main divisions: language and literature. Language includes those topics most directly concerned with the student's activity: spelling, grammar, composition, vocabulary. Literature embraces what has already been produced in prose, poetry and drama.

Grammar is presented as the rules and regulations governing a language. Being able to drive a car and having a license are not enough; a person must also know the traffic regulations, otherwise violations may be incurred unintentionally. The price of ignorance may be a fine or imprisonment. Similarly the price of a lack of grammatical rules may be failure to make the impression a student hopes for because strangers will judge him by his language, oral or written. Grammar is studied for one purpose: to insure correct usage which can only be established through practice. The principle of practice is as important in English as it is in type-writing or in basketball.

The aim of composition lessons and assignments is to secure variety, economy and accuracy in expression. The student is counselled to think clearly, organize his material and write.

Vocabulary building is another point. We need . . . . the Protection of Over-Worked words, words such as "awful," "nice," "got" and "very" are worn threadbare. "Difficult," "attractive," "charming," "replete" and "exceedingly" are suggested as fresh and specific substitutes. Some pet expressions—"okay," "swell," "loopy," "hot stuff," "real guy," "baloney"—at one time considered effective, but now made to serve on any occasion, have degenerated into slang; their use is properly discouraged. To a slang is frowned upon even for informal written English was exemplified only just recently by an editorial in one of the Vancouver daily papers deploring its use and stating that the

More Books At Library

At the regular meeting of the Prince Rupert Library Board this week, the Librarian reported a total circulation of 1,542 books during the month of October and the addition of 44 new borrowers. Fifty-three new books were added, making a total of 8,141 volumes in the Library.

Young Canada's Book Week was marked at the Prince Rupert Library with a display of Canadian and other worthwhile books. Quite an interest was shown in the display and books were borrowed which under ordinary circumstances are often overlooked.

In giving a report as Chairman of the Book Committee, Mrs. W. S. Kergin informed the Board that she and the Librarian had met on several occasions for the purpose of choosing new books for both adult and Juvenile Sections and when ordering had endeavored to select books which would appeal to all tastes. A special attempt was made to build up the various sections of the non-fiction, also the young people's.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. M. M. Roper, chairman, Mrs. H. Procter, secretary, Mrs. H. Kergin, Messrs. T. B. Black, Bruce Stevens and Olive van Cooten, librarian.

Europe. They will sail from New York February 16 on the Queen Mary and will visit France, Italy, Switzerland and possibly Sweden as well as the British Isles including Mr. Brooksbank's birthplace of Bradford, Yorkshire. Conrad Street P. T. Meeting

After the showing of the sex education films Monday night a short meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Council was held with Mrs. A. J. Dominato, vice-president, in the chair, in the temporary absence of M. F. Stuart, president. The members present expressed gratification at the capacity audience which had witnessed the showing of the films, and moved to express their appreciation to the Department of Education for sending them.

T. G. Bateman, chairman of the Council's Traffic Committee, reported that the dangerous corner on the top of Sixth Avenue and Donald Street had now been examined closely by the City Engineer and action was to be taken to make the corner into a safety zone for the sake of some 96 children who use the corner every morning, noon and after school.

The next meeting of the Council will be held on January 23. There will be no meeting in December.

Those present at the meeting included Mrs. A. J. Dominato, John Jenkins, J. S. Wilson, Mrs. H. Marchildon, Mrs. Halvorsen, Mrs. H. C. Flood, Mrs. Greisel, Mrs. E. W. Becker, Mrs. W. MacLeod, Mrs. R. E. Mortimer, Mrs. Nan Parent, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sykes, Mrs. T. G. Bateman, Mr. R. D. Cleland and J. Goscoe.

agent for eleven years and then became identified with the real estate and insurance firm of Dybhavn & Hanson. He served for years as secretary of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and also as an alderman and as a school trustee. He has also been holding the office of Swedish vice-consul for several years.

Coming to Canada as a young man, Mr. Brooksbank was not unused to hard work in Ontario and Manitoba and gradually made his way west. He was located at various times in the East and West Kootenays and was also on Vancouver Island for a time.

Ralph Johnson, now in the service of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. will be in Dybhavn & Hanson office here after Mr. Brooksbank's departure.

Three Teams Are Leading

With the exception of Blain's, who won four points by default from Commercials, all Tuesday matches resulted in 3 to 1 point victories. Brownwoods, Home Oil, Cold Storage, C.P.A. and D. & S. each won three points from Watson Island Stages, Grand Cafe, Triple C's and Rupert Motors respectively in Men's Five Pin League Bowling on Monday night. Home Oil produced the high bowling for the night with eight of their scores well over two hundred and the high single and three game totals scored by N. Stromdahl of 326 and 742.

In Men's Five Pin League bowling at the week-end, four teams copped four points apiece although bowling was quite poor across the board which is indicated by the evening high scores.

Men's high single—254—was by W. Peterson of Philpott Evitt while high three game total was by M. Halverson of Crescents with 621. Philpott Evitt, Scotians, Manson's and Mallets won four points each from J. C.'s No. 2, Undesirables, Crescents and J. C.'s No. 1 respectively. Oddfellows won three points from Commercials and Ambassadors and Canadian Legion split two points apiece.

prises. For instance, only 373, of an eligible 450 votes, were cast. Surely the other 77 pupils were not absent on election day.

As a result of one spoiled ballot Edna Ronald was defeated as an alderman. The total number of spoiled ballots was 5 1/2 per cent of those cast. This is an extremely high total for a school of intelligent students. A little care in reading directions would have prevented this. Fortunately we were not electing a provincial government.

The next elections could be improved by allowing each student more than one vote for aldermen. Under the system used in the late election it is possible for less than the eligible nominees to receive votes. It also favors the tendency of students to vote for their friends. The sole advantage is the ease of counting ballots. However, Returning Officers would not object to spending extra time if it would result in a fairer election.

If you've noticed anything we haven't, let us know. All contributions will be handled with care.

Jacquelyn Moore, better known as "Jackie," is the class representative of Grade 7-2. She was born in Penticton, on February 6, 1937 and came to Prince Rupert in 1944. At first she attended the Annunciation School and later Borden Street School. Last year in Grade Six, she won the "Miss Mills Trophy," for being the best pupil in her grade. Jackie is also in the "Glee Club." Her favorite sports are swimming, skating and basketball. She plans in the future to become a teacher. She has ash blonde hair, large blue eyes, and is five feet, five and a half inches tall. She is always passing notes to her friends during classes, but invariably gets caught in the act.

MARION HORN

Marion Horn is the class representative of grade 7-3. She is five foot two, has brown hair and eyes. She was born in Prince Rupert on April 29, 1936. She attended Borden Street School for six years and came to Booth in Grade 7. Her favorite subject is mathematics in which she gets high marks. Marion plans to become a nurse in the future. Her athletic interests are playing basketball, skating and swimming. She belongs to the Civic Centre and takes a great interest in it. She has joined the dancing club and is now taking ballet dancing.

Music Makers

If you go to school you've doubtless noticed the numbers of otherwise normal Grade 7's and 8's who pack little plastic song flutes in their back pockets. However, they don't keep them there. The young musicians can be depended upon to pipe "Yankee Doodle Dandy" while the rest of the school is engrossed in its studies. This is hair-raising for listeners, especially, we imagine, Mr. Hubert, music teacher, who introduced the instruments to his classes. Seriously, we realize that Mr. Hubert is doing a good job in interesting his pupils in music, but we are glad he didn't choose to teach the violin.

The handsome teacher who has been heard to remark that he "couldn't stand to have Bobby-soxers chasing" him?

Bill Harvey (The Ear Ring) is giving all the girls a thrill?

While she cavorts as in ballet. "Fastest game on earth," they trill

Grable, Dailey
In Color Hit

Based on one of Broadway's most famous romances about the show business, "When My Baby Smiles at Me," starring Betty Grable and Dan Dailey, much-acclaimed musical hit in color, comes this Friday and Saturday to the Capitol Theatre here. It is a warm heart-tugging story of the flamboyant life and love of a stage couple when burlesque was at its height. It is also an excellent vehicle for the dancing talents of its stars.

Betty Grable is seen as a beautiful soubrette whose devotion to a loveable but undependable comic is the theme of the story. It is said to be a dramatic field day for both Miss Grable and Dailey.

The supporting cast includes Jack Oakie, a jaunty comedian;
June Havoc, Betty's chorus friend. Richard Arlen, a wealthy rancher who comes to town;
Jimmy Gleason, a sympathetic stage manager.

Prince Rupert used to find a few grains of comfort when, indignant at non-use of her elevator, we would be told that any wheat destined for the Orient would be shipped by way of this port. Wednesday it was learned a 600,000 bushel order for Japan will be handled through Vancouver.

Fear of the Germans is at the bottom of the Soviet Russia attitude, says Field Marshall Earl Wavell, visiting in Canada. He says the nature of the Germans, aggressors in two wars, has not changed. Russia has been invaded twice in a generation. The Soviet, he feels, cannot be charged with world domination ambitions. Russia today is looking for security and trying to build a defence against Germany.

The best evidence of more active times in Prince Rupert is seen in the sharp interest shown in municipal affairs now that the candidates are being groom-ed for next month's race. But public meetings, it can be safely expected will be neither as numerous and verbose as they were when the city was new and noisy.

The cost of keeping a family for a year is being recorded in Canada, and, to date, it would seem that a summing up of the annual outlay shows expenses exceeding income. The difference may never be more than a few hundred, if that much, yet it's always there—on the wrong side of the tracks so to speak.
There are prospects of some folks discovering what they can do without and still live. Presumably, they will call it the hard way.
