BEATEN AND ROBBED

NEW WESTMINSTER—Two armed thugs held up a 24-year old man in his own home here, beat and bound him and escaped with $530. Marples Hurst told the police that the gunmen beat him into unconsciousness after binding his hands and wrists. "After considerable slapping around," he told them where the money was.

BLIZZARDS IN WEST

BURNED TO DEATH

NEEDLES, B. C.—Three children were burned to death when fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vrn Taylor Saturday night. Unable to escape from the fireswept building were Phyllis, aged 10; David, six, and Glenn, two.

VANCOUVER WEATHER

VANCOUVER — Vancouver had six inches more snow at the week-end to further complicate traffic conditions. It turned milder today but still there is no prospect of immediate heavy rain which is essential to relieve the electric power crisis.

FIRST TRAIN ON TUESDAY

Major Phase of Snow Removal from Railway Track Completed

Canadian National Railways snow battle on the line to Terrace continued over the week-end and its major track-clearing phase is expected to be completed this afternoon although an overnight snowfall may add to the delay. The first passenger train is expected to leave here at noon Tuesday. This morning the rotary snow plow had penetrated as far east as Salvas, 22 miles east of Kwinitsa, where the heavy snow trouble began last Wednesday night. The line will be cleared of heavy drifts and slides through to Terrace by this afternoon.

However, a heavy snowfall during the week-end piled snow to a depth of more than two feet between Amsbury and Shames while, farther west, new snow covered the tracks to a depth of more than a foot behind the plow.

"We are taking no chances of having passengers stuck along the line so we have set the departure time of tonight's train back 16 hours," Superintendent C. A. Berner said this morning. "It will leave at noon tomorrow."

Mr. Berner said that the snow removal crews had encountered "innumerable slides" in the 22-mile stretch between Kwinitsa and Salvas, an area renowned for its heavy snowfall. Proximity to almost sheer mountain-sides causes the avalanches to pile up on the rails in many places.

As the snow plow cleared the track over Sunday, fresh snow continued to fall, covering the track in its wake.

The snow plow will continue on to Pacific for reconditioning and to give the crew a rest. Then it will have to make a run back to clear the line again, Mr. Berner declared.

There has been no train movement on the line since early last week. A number of Prince Rupert passengers were marooned in the interior when the line went out. Some came back at the week-end in a chartered Skeena Air Transport plane.

WAGE DISPUTE CONCILIATION

Government Official Considering Case Between City and Firemen

To conciliate a dispute over wages which has arisen between the City of Prince Rupert and the local International Association of Fire Fighters, Robert Forgie of the provincial Department of Labor is in the city today. He is acting under his appointment as conciliation officer under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act of 1947.

The firemen are asking for the Vancouver wage rate plus an additional $25 which the Vancouver firemen are seeking. This involves an increase of $60 per month across the board.

The city council has offered a counter-proposal of 7 1/2 percent which would mean $15 a month increase for a first class fireman. The city's offer is based on the increase in the cost of living index as from 148 1/2 in December 1947, when the last adjustment was made, and the present 159.6. The city holds that the situation at Prince Rupert is not comparable with Vancouver because conditions, applying to firemen here are different.

The special committee of the city council on wages met with the conciliator this morning with Ald. H. M. Daggett presiding. The firemen are meeting Mr. Forgie this afternoon and this evening, prior to the fortnightly council meeting, there will be a joint session.

LONG NORTH CAREER—

Jarvis McLeod, Canada's Senior Customs Officer, Enters Into Retirement

Jarvis H. McLeod, Collector of Customs at Prince Rupert since May, 1913, and from the standpoint of length of service, the oldest Customs officer in Canada, retired today from active work. For the next six months he will have leave of absence after which his retirement becomes official and permanent.

Mr. McLeod, throughout his long and interesting career, has shown unfailing fidelity and ability. Few possess wider friendships and knowledge of affairs in the northland for all of his many years as a servant of the Crown were spent in Yukon and Northern British Columbia. He has been a witness of the general growth and development of Western Canada, beginning in the memorable days of '98, when the gold stampede turned the world toward the creeks of the Klondyke, and Dawson became one of the most colorful camps in the whole history of mining discoveries.

As customs officer, his duties, always exacting and responsible, were particularly so during the First and Second Great Wars. He was active, personally, in both the Army and Navy, and in connection with the latter, between 1939 and 1945 was active in the founding of the Fishermen's Naval Reserve, a unit that contributed in no small degree to the security of the north coast.

Jarvis Hartley McLeod was born in Southampton, Bruce County, Ontario, on August 30, 1883. His parents were Captain John C. and Elizabeth Ann McLeod, both being members of the first pioneer families of Bruce County. He was named after Sheriff Jarvis, the first sheriff of York (Toronto) and identified with a family some of whom have long been prominent in Toronto affairs.

JOINED IN 1899

Mr. McLeod joined the customs service at Skagway, Alaska, September 12, 1899. He was stationed at Log Cabin, British Columbia, then at Forty Mile, Yukon Territory, and then at Dawson, Y.T. It was from Dawson that he was transferred to Prince Rupert, arriving in this city October 20, 1909. He has served as Collector of Customs at the Port of Prince Rupert since May, 1913, thus becoming the oldest customs officer, in point of service, in Canada—a period of 50 years.

On May 6, 1935 he received Their Majesties' Silver Jubilee medal for 30 years' service to the Crown. On July 1, 1946 he was honored with the decoration M.B.E. for long and meritorious service in the Customs Service. During the First World War he was one of the Dominion Police Commissioners at this port, checking and interviewing (Continued on Page 3)

Power Company Asks For Curtailment Order

Northern B. C. Power Co. has applied to the provincial power commission for a curtailment order which will be invoked on the use of electricity in Prince Rupert if the present power shortage continues, Power company General manager T. B. Black revealed at noon today.

The curtailment order will authorize the company to take what measures it sees fit to conserve electricity until the reservoirs at Shawatians and Falls Rivers are replenished by rainfall, need of which is critical. The order will pave the way for a rationing system, possibly similar to the one in effect on the lower mainland.

The Falls River plant, main source of the city's electric energy, is still in operation and under present conditions can continue for "a day or two," Mr. Black said. After that, the dry dock steam power plant and the Shawatians hydro plant will supply the city's power.

However, the water level at Shawatians, from which the city also draws its domestic water supply, is also down. Today the water level was 3.8 feet below the normal head. Maximum draw-down at Shawatians is 15 feet.

Freezing temperatures, and rainless weather persist at Falls River where the water level behind the dam is 17 feet below normal. Complete draw-down at Falls River is 22 feet, although Mr. Black said that some water will have to be left in the reservoir to cover the penstock head.

"We can go down another two feet at Falls River before we have to shut the plant," he said. "I think that with conservation we will be able to operate it for another day or two."

At Shawatians yesterday, one-tenth of an inch of rain fell then the precipitation turned to snow. There was no penetration, so it was ineffective in raising the lake level.

Conservation measures by city power users has caused the reduction below normal consumption to hover about 15 per cent. A reduction of 25 per cent is sought by the power company.

On Friday, the reduction was 16 per cent. Saturday's saving was 15 per cent and Sunday's 12 per cent of normal Sunday usage.

In applying to the power commission for the curtailment order, the company is preparing for the unhappy possibility that rationing may have to be invoked. However, it is the hope of the company that weather conditions will change sufficiently so that it will not have to be used, Mr. Black said.

Must Work to Live

THE ONLY EXAMPLE of a state of society that we have heard of where there is plenty of everything for everybody and it is equally distributed is a tribe of pigmies in the jungles of Central Africa. They have everything they need, but their needs and their desires are few. They live chiefly on bananas that grow on trees they do not plant, and which yield their fruit all the year round.

These little privileged people wear no clothes, and they live in kraals made of sticks and rushes. They pay no rent or taxes—they have no money. They have no means of transportation, other than their feet, for they never go anywhere and have no desire to go beyond the jungle in which they have always lived. They are happy and content, and all they ask—if they ask anything—is to be left alone in their primitive paradise.

Why can't we all live like that? But, alas, we have been thrust out of this Garden of Eden, for we have eaten of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, and have wandered over the face of the earth. We live in climates where we have to wear clothes, build houses, and have no bananas, except what we import—we couldn't exist on them, anyway. We have to work for our living; plant cotton and raise sheep for clothing; quarry stone, make brick, cut and draw lumber for our houses; plough and sow, reap and grind for our bread, and raise cattle and pigs for meat.

In short, we live in a perennial state of necessity, and necessity is the dictator of work. If we refused to obey its dictates we would starve, and if we did not work hard enough, constant enough, and save enough, we would live in a perpetual state of scarcity. On this earth there is no land "flowing with milk and honey," not even in the Middle East, as the ancient Israelites discovered. It was only a Promised Land but there are people today who are still looking for it.

Even the people of Britain have landed in a state of growing scarcity. They have distributed what they thought was "wealth," but it has turned out to be mere paper money which has less purchasing power than the old coinage. It is possible to distribute real wealth on an equality basis but the trouble is that in doing so the total amount and the real value of the wealth may be reduced.

Granting that there is a wide field for reducing inequality, the springs of human action must not be ignored. There is no escape from exertion in this world. The gates of the Garden of Eden are guarded by angels with flaming swords. There is not sufficient room or food for us in the jungles of Central Africa, and how many of us want to go there and live the life of the pigmies? The demands of necessity and the fear of starvation have forced us to work for our living, and work has raised our stature, mentally and spiritually. In other words, necessity and work have civilized us and we have developed into enterprising, inventive and progressive human beings. We have achieved dominion over the earth, the air and the elements, and over the beasts of the fields, and all that we require for our peace is to subdue the beast in ourselves.

JARVIS McLEOD

AS FAR AS active service is concerned, Jarvis Hartley McLeod retires as collector of customs at Prince Rupert today although he still has a few months to go which he will spend on retirement leave. Mr. McLeod, still a young man in appearance, spirit and physique, has the distinction of being, from standpoint of length of service, the oldest customs officer in Canada.

Of all pioneer Prince Rupert figures, there is none better and more favorably known than Jarvis McLeod. That is because he has always been, through good times and bad, through easy and trying days alike, a zealous, efficient, helpful and friendly official. Ever genial and courteous, treating everyone with equal due, he made many lasting friends.

It is in the nature of our daily avocations that the newspaper people and the collector of customs should always be in close contact. The Daily News, reminiscent of many years of such intimate, friendly contact, sincerely wishes Jarvis McLeod a full measure of happy days to enjoy his retirement. We are glad that he is still active and youthful enough to have such full enjoyment. We are especially happy, as his many friends are, that he intends to keep closely in touch with the north if not maintaining his permanent future residence here. And, if we know Jarvis McLeod, we would say that he is too confirmed a northerner and soundough to ever be permanently happy elsewhere.

EMPLOYING OF OLDER WORKERS

Trades and Labor Council Takes Up Their Case

Provincial and federal governments will be urged by the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council to pass legislation making it compulsory for government and municipal services to employ a certain percentage of so-called "over-age" workers.

The resolution resulted from a discussion of alleged practices of some municipalities in giving employment preference to men and women under 40 years of age despite qualifications of older applicants. The matter was brought up by the Fire Fighters Union.

Several delegates expressed the opinion that superannuation and group insurance regulations were responsible for the attitude of preference for younger workers being taken by municipalities and employers.

The meeting heard a report of Labor Relations Board activities throughout the province and also the minutes of the last meeting of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council. Several union delegates reported wage and other amendments to agreements that negotiations were under way.

The council's civic election committee reported a small amount of money left over from the December elections campaign and this was ordered held in the fund for future use.

Chairman of the meeting was August Wallin, Trades and Labor Council president.

ART EXHIBIT AT CIVIC CENTRE

"Modern Painting" is the title of an art exhibit which is on display in the Civic Centre lobby until this Wednesday.

The pictures in this exhibition show some of the important approaches to contemporary painting. They do not represent a history or a survey of modern art but are grouped according to the ideas they express such as variety of expression, impressionism of light and atmosphere, dream and fantasy and color as a means of design and expression.

The text on each panel assists in the explanation by pointing out certain aspects of the pictures that might be overlooked otherwise and information about the artists that sheds some light on their work.

Among the American artists are Winslow Homer and John Marin while the display includes exhibits by French, Spanish, Italian, Swiss and German artists.

This group of paintings is loaned to the Civic Centre by the National Gallery of Canada whereas the previous one was sent from the Vancouver Art Gallery.

The Story of Family Security that Figures can't tell

A message from the more than fifty British, Canadian and United States life insurance companies in Canada and their agents

Why so many people own life insurance
More than any other type of financial protection, life insurance brings freedom from worry about the future. It offers the easiest, most dependable way to provide security for the family and income for old age. No wonder almost all of the nation's families are protected in this way!

Cheques that start a new life!
When life insurance payments are made to policyholders, countless dreams come true! These payments make it possible to set up a new business, travel, send a boy or girl to college, or retire. This is how most policyholders and their families benefit from their life insurance.

Living policyholders in Canada received life insurance payments totalling $115 million in 1948.

Homes are kept together
Imagine what life insurance payments mean to families that lose their breadwinners! Such payments mean that widows and children can be kept together, mortgages paid off, children kept at school. In many instances, life insurance is the only sizable asset left by many Canadians at death.

Last year, the life insurance companies paid out $75 million for death claim benefits.

It should be obvious to any person who examines the structure of life insurance operation in Canada that the whole range of its activities is conducted in the public interest.

Life Insurance Served You in These Ways Too!

Building for progress

Last year millions of dollars were invested for policyholders by life insurance companies. Result: new schools, roads, power plants, bridges, industrial plants and many other projects were constructed, promoting progress and creating jobs from coast to coast.

Aiding war against disease

By subscribing substantial sums to medical research projects last year, the life insurance companies contributed to help science to fight cancer, tuberculosis, heart ailments and polio. These and similar projects were supported to help Canadians live longer, healthier lives!

Basketball— Fight For Play-offs

BO-ME-HI WINS OVER BROWNWOODS—MORGAN'S DEFEAT FASHION

Senior—Bo-Me-Hi 53, Brownwoods 34
Intermediate—Fashion Footwear 24, Morgan's 37
Junior—High School 17, Rupert Hotel 26

The fight for basketball play-off berths in the Senior and Intermediate Leagues was tightened up Saturday night as Bo-Me-Hi soundly trounced the high flying Brownwoods Senior quintet and Morgan's defeated the depleted Intermediate roster of Fashion Footwear.

Although staying in the cellar with their win over Brownwoods, the Bo-Me-Hi victory tightened up the race for the playoff positions and put the onus on all up coming senior games as with each one played, the standings can be changed.

Brownwoods were close only in the first quarter. Both teams played fast breaking ball with the Rainmakers coming out on top 10 to 2.

Ray Spring's hard driving play led his team to a 9-point lead at half time 23-14. Brownwoods offense in the quarter was completely stalled as their poor passing game nullified their fast breaks.

The Bo-Me-Hi's sharpshooters got going in the second half with Spring sparking his team with an 11 point outburst which brought his scoring to 21 points for the night. It was his best game of the season. The score at the quarter's end was 44-23.

Brownwoods tried to get their team play clicking but just couldn't and this threw them off on their passing and shooting. Bo-Me-Hi worked slower in the final quarter as they tried out their fast short passes and bucket plays. Art Olson worked the pivot to good advantage, feeding his forwards and getting in some hook shots for himself.

Brownwoods took 62 shots and scored with 13 of them. They made 8 of 19 free throws. Bo-

Me-Hi took 103 shots and made 20. They sank 13 of 23 free throws attempted.

Intermediate
The 37-24 victory of Morgan's was over the front running Fashion Footwear which was bolstered with four players from the Junior North Star team. This was necessitated by the absence of five regulars stranded in the interior where they played a series at Telkwa last week.

The first half was close with Fashion giving the Morgan's quintet a hard fight for the lead. The score at the half was 16-13. A gift score to Morgan's came in the first quarter when Ole Slatta forgot which way he was playing and sank a lay-up shot in the Morgan's basket.

In the second half the regular Fashion players couldn't keep up the fast pace of the first half and Morgan's sprinted home with a big last quarter scoring drive that gave them the win.

The Junior players gave a good account of themselves although they did play against heavier and experienced players.

Fashion scored 10 baskets from 57 shots. They made 4 of 11 free throws. Morgans scored 14 field goals from 54 shots. They canned 7 of 12 free throws.

Junior
In the Junior League game Rupert Hotel walked over the High School squad by a 26-17 score. Rupert Hotel were led by Don Jordan who scored 12 of his 14 points in the first half. The Hotel players turned in a fine passing game and had excellent teamwork. In the second half the scoring was even although Rupert Hotel had the edge in play.

High School came up with poor team play which is getting to be their habit. They have the playing material but when they get on the floor they all play too much as individualists. They play hard but it isn't the right kind of playing.

High School scored 7 field goals from 43 shots. They made 3 of 8 free throws. Rupert Hotel scored 11 field goals from 50 shots and made 4 of 10 free throws.

Individual scoring:

Senior
Bo-Me-Hi—Platen 3, Scherk 7, Sunberg 7, Spring 21, Webster 3, Bill, Davidson, Olson 6, Carlson—53.

Brownwoods—Brown 2, Pavlikis, Johnson, Forman 12, Gurn—34.

their early season uncertainty at the week-end by scoring two decisive victories and now seem surely headed for position in the Stanley Cup play-off although it is all but impossible to wot them to be serious contenders for the league championship since the Detroit Red Wings are so far ahead.

Saturday night at the Maple Leaf Gardens the Maple Leafs humbled the proud Red Wings and came on to Madison Square Garden here last night to blank the Rangers.

Consequently, the Maple Leafs have now bounded up into third place ahead of the Montreal Canadiens whose measure was taken by the Black Hawks

TWO-WAY TIE FOR TOP SPOT, MIXED LEAGUE

Pioneer Laundry moved into a second-place tie with Maceys XXX by defeating the Coffee Shop three points to one. The session was a decisive one, with B.C. Messenger, Dodgers, Clover Leafs and Pushovers all taking four points from their respective opponents.

High team scoring honors went to Dodgers with 1,400 for a single game and to Pioneer Laundry with 3,870 for the three-game aggregate. Sam Davison of Maceys XXX took the individual single game high score with 338 while Islay Garner of Dodgers and Chuck Maundrell of Brownwoods shared the high three-game honors with 784 each.

Reminiscences

By W. J. — and REFLECTIONS

Following a period of scouting and reconnaissance, Generalissimo Berner authorizes the statement that the situation on the fighting front is distinctly discouraging to the enemy. Within the past week several severe assaults, directed from elevated positions were repulsed. It may be said, of all ranks, that their morale continues excellent. An early armistice seems practically certain.

Once upon a time a certain type of valentine could mean undesired suspicion, permanent dislike or an annoying worry. Yet, they sold. Many a sensitive soul, such tripe could reduce to a state of acute misery.

"As soon as the winter weather breaks you will see plenty of activity. Employment will climb rapidly." So says Dr. R. W. Ball of New York, assistant to the vice president of the Celanese Corporation. Only seventeen words, but they mean work and wages and work and wages speak a prosperous Prince Rupert and so on and so on.

ORANGE LADIES SPONSOR SOCIAL

Members of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association were hostesses to Orangemen and their wives at a social which followed the regular monthly meeting of the organization in the Oddfellows' Hall

Thursday evening. The period was spent in contests, games and bingo. Winners of the various events were Mrs. N. McLeod, Mrs. George Howe, Mrs. J. Anderson, Mrs. H. Paulson and D. Morrison.
While that gathering was enjoying refreshments, Mrs. H. Paulson, worthy mistress of the lodge, cut an attractively decorated Valentine cake. Mr. Morrison, speaking for the men's lodge, thanked the ladies for their hospitality in a brief address.
Committee in charge of the function consisted of Mrs. Fred Barber, convener, Mrs. William Denton, Mrs. J. Feasby, Mrs. P. Ellison and Mrs. C. McIntyre.

60 YEARS OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

1889 1949

The pioneer woman made her own soap. Water seeping through wood ashes in a barrel or piece of hollow log, produced lye. Soap was made by boiling this lye with fat in an iron kettle. In the soap plants of today, soap is made by boiling vegetable oils with caustic soda (lye). Salt is added to cause the excess alkali and by-products to settle to the bottom. Lye and salt corrode most metal vessels. Corrosion affects the color, purity and keeping qualities of soap. So most vessels and containers are made of Nickel alloys. They resist corrosion, last longer, protect the purity and color of the soap.

Nickel Brings Dollars to Canada

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year. These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada, help create jobs for Canadians.

Davis Raft Nearly Lost in Hecate Strait—Union Liners in Port

A Pacific Mills Davis raft of logs from the company's Cumshewa Inlet camps was almost lost in Hecate Straits during a sudden storm Sunday. Having broken partly loose, the remnant was towed to Captain's Cove, Ogden Channel, by the company's new tug Sudbury. Some logs got adrift in the Straits off White Rocks but the rest were brought in safely. The Sudbury is the former naval corvette which was recently acquired and remodelled to replace the former J. R. Morgan, one time the Prince Albert.

Union steamer Camosun, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 5:30 last evening from Vancouver and waypoints, sailing at 11 p.m. for Alice Arm, Port Simpson, Stewart and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning to sail at 1:30 p.m. on her return south. Another Union liner, the Coquitlam, Capt. Harry

CHURCH, PASTOR, PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The young Air Force veteran pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Rev. E. G. Sendall, put himself on record before his morning congregation yesterday as to where he thought the clergyman and the church should be in public life. Since the Christian Church was intended for the uplift and betterment of the people, it could not be detached from civic and political affairs. It could not fulfill its function without active interest and participation in these affairs. The attitude of those people who said that the "sky pilot" should "stay in his pulpit" and keep out of active interest in public affairs, Mr. Sendall described as "shallow." Too long, he felt, had there been such complacency on the part of the church before the dynamic enemies of God. The inclination of the generation, in spiritual affairs, seemed to have been to "elect" rather than "assume" responsibilities, accepting only those of selfish liking and easy fulfillment rather than the duties which required exertion and sacrifice. Then there was the tendency of some to look backward instead of forward.

Christian life was one of paradox—it offered peace, joy and gladness but it also required exertion and enthusiasm. Radiation of personal enthusiasm was a most effective weapon which could be employed in the battle against selfishness and greed which were the "causes" rather than the "effects" of war.

STAFF HONORS JARVIS McLEOD

On Friday evening Jarvis H. McLeod, retiring Collector of Customs, was entertained with a farewell staff dinner in the Broadway Cafe. The banquet and presentations to Mr. and Mrs. McLeod were tangible expressions of the high esteem in which they are held by the members of the Customs Service—those still stationed in Prince Rupert and officers formerly assigned here.

Communications offering best wishes and congratulations were read by S. P. Woodside who presented handsome gifts on behalf of fellow members of the staff.

The list of Customs associates, past and present, who were present or associated with the event were O. I. Smith, F. W. Grimble, S. P. Woodside, N. Krook, S. Tordiffe, O. N. Wingham, John Wilkie, J. T. Bowman, A. R. Hunter, W. J. Nelson (Tulsequah), Don Norton, John Bouzek (Stewart), Percy Homewood (Prince George), Noel Taylor, (Masset), W. G. Broad (Victoria), C. Houldsworth (Vancouver), Duncan Campbell (Vancouver), F. N. Feero and E. L. Dale, United States Customs, Prince Rupert.

Those present at the dinner included O. I. Smith, presiding, guest of honor Jarvis H. McLeod, F. W. Grimble, S. P. Woodside, N. Krook, S. Tordiffe, O. N. Wingham, John Wilkie, J. T. Bowman, E. L. Dale (United States Customs), John Bouzek and W. J. Raymond.

Mr. Dale conveyed the good wishes of the Alaska Division officers.

In a few introductory remarks, Mr. Smith made fitting reference to his long association with the retiring collector and of how this relationship had always been along most agreeable lines. He felt he was voicing the sentiments of all his colleagues in the Customs in saying Mr. McLeod would take with him their sincere good will and best wishes for future happiness and good fortune. Each of the others in attendance at the dinner gave brief but appropriate expression to the regard they felt toward their guest as well as recognition of his long and valuable record of service.

In acknowledging what had been said, Mr. McLeod expressed his cordial thanks. In the many years he had been performing the duties of Collector of Customs at Prince Rupert, it had been his happy lot to have a staff with whom it had been a pleasure to be identified. There had always been efficiency, trustworthiness and loyalty. No Collector could ask more. He hoped to be in Northern British Columbia again and, if he could, at any time, be of any assistance, he would gladly give it. Mr. McLeod took opportunity to thank the United States Customs representatives here for their co-operation at all times.
