C.C.F. DRAWS PLATFORM

Would Socialize Banking
Transportation and Packing
OTTAWA v—The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation
national executive yesterday
made public major resolutions which it proposes as a basis of party program for the next federal election. It will cover socialization, control of investment, social security, health
labor, agriculture, international trade, constitutional amendments and program for maritime improvement.

The socialization resolution calls for public ownership of such industries as banking,
transportation and packing.
Encouragement would also be given private business to fulfill its "legitimate functions."

Need for low rental and low cost housing is also emphasized
along with a policy of subsidies
to aid home building.

Is Almost Undecided

ARABS AND JEWS ON "HARVEST LINE"—Under United Nations supervision, representatives of Jews and Arabs meet at a roadside point near Latrun, Palestine, and agree upon a line of demarcation which will make crop harvesting safe for both warring sides. Under the arrangements, farmers of both factions can come up to this boundary to gather their harvests. The meeting was described as cordial, though held in a sector where heavy fighting had been going on before the truce. At left is the U.N. representative, Maj. Gen. George Malizewski, of Lowell, Mass. At right is Lieut.-Col. Herzog, son of Palestine's chief rabbi. The Arab Legion representatives were not identified.

JUNEAU MILL IN OPERATION

Also Spruce Corporation's
Big Logging Camp

JUNEAU—The Juneau Spruce Corporation sawmill is now running again full blast, after a shut-down for 88 days. The number of employees is about 115. All necessary key men have reported back for duty.
It is expected the Edna Bay Logging camp will shortly be reopened, with the addition of a night shift. With this there will be a total payroll of 217,
the number working when the plant stopped.

Nothing appears to be known as yet concerning the shipping of logs south. Barge loads were being unloaded at Prince Rupert
for the east when the mill ceased.

HARVEY MURPHY SEES D.P. PLOT

CALGARY v—Harvey Murphy, vice-president of the British Columbia Federation
of Labor, charged last night that displaced persons were being brought to Canada to "chop down wages and break up trade unions." Speaking at a Labor rally here, Murphy also said that there was no connection between the Labor-Progressive party and the C.C.F.

No Relief In Meat Prices

NEW YORK—The Associated Press, making a survey of living costs in 15 key cities, cites $1 a pound for cheaper cuts of steak.
Choicer selections are $1.30.
There can be no relief for the pocketbook before fall. Pork chops are from four to ten cents more. The price of a pound, in St. Louis, is 96 cents.

NOT WORRIED ABOUT BERLIN

President Truman Will Not Discuss International Affairs
Next Week

WASHINGTON, D. C. v—
President Harry Truman told a press conference yesterday that he did not expect to discuss the Berlin situation or any other aspect of foreign affairs in his message to Congress next week.
He made this statement at the same conference in which he said he thought chances for world recovery were excellent and endorsed fully State Secretary Marshall's declaration that the United States intended to exhaust every resource of diplomacy to get a peaceful solution to the Berlin crisis.

POLICE MAKE RICH HAUL FROM QUARTERS OF CHINESE JANITOR

Jewelry valued at $1,500 and six large bags containing new shoes, doctors' and dentists'
equipment and an as yet undetermined assortment of other goods are being sorted out in the city police station today after police raided a room in a Second Avenue rooming house.
The goods are said by police to have come from the room of Lee Kang, a Chinese who for the last couple of years has been janitor and handyman for a dozen downtown business places.
A charge of theft was laid against Lee Kang after a man's wrist watch bracelet disappeared
from the premises of John Bulger, city jeweller. The bracelet was said to have been found on the man.

Bomb Dropped On U.N. Headquarters

LAKE SUCCESS—An object which police said might have been a home-made bomb was dropped late yesterday afternoon from a small airplane
that buzzed over United Nations headquarters. The object exploded 400 feet from the main U.N. building, housing
the offices of Trygve Lye, secretary general. It did no damage to buildings. No one was injured. The explosion could be heard for considerable distance. The incident is believed to have been the act of a crank. The plane and pilot became known after landing at LaGuardia Field. The pilot is a student at a veterans' school who is said to have been brooding over international affairs.

A 13-state alarm was broadcast for a 36-year old former gunner in the United States
air forces identified as Stephen Supina of Willington, Connecticut, and believed to be the pilot of the craft. The alarm said that Supina was wanted on charges of malicious mischief.

ENGLAND IS IN CRICKET LEAD

Amasses Good Score in Fourth
Test Match at Leeds

LEEDS—At the end of the second day's play in the fourth cricket test match being played at Leeds, England was all out for 496 runs and Australia had scored 63 runs for the loss of one wicket.

At one stage of the game England had scored 423 for three wickets but the remaining seven wickets went down for the addition of only 73 runs. Chief scorers for England were Washbrook 143, Edrich 111, Hutton 81 and Bedser 79.

The first Australian wicket fell at 13 when Morris was caught out but Bradman, 31 not out, and Hassett, 13 not out,
were still together when play
stopped for the day.

Leeds gave the Australian captain, Don Bradman, a great reception when he came to bat.
It was a tribute to his popularity and skill. Perhaps some of them remembered that in previous appearances at Leeds, Bradman
had scored three great innings,
one of 334 runs, one of 304 and one of 103 runs.

Americans Can And Will Stay In Berlin Asserts Commander of U.S. Army

Violation of Flying Rules in Air Corridor
Charged by British Authorities

WASHINGTON D. C. (CP)— Hope increased here today that the Berlin blockade crisis could be solved without a shooting war. General Lucius Clay departed from the capital tonight to resume his post
as United States military governor of Berlin armed with the latest policy decision for dealing with the crisis which the Russians provoked 72 days ago. Clay is stated to have told members of the House of Representatives that "United States has the ability to stay in Berlin and intends to do so." American forces in Germany could and would carry out the government's intention of remaining in the German capital, he declared. Clay was congratulated on his handling of the situation.

Their Terror Career Ends

Ohio Desperadoes Killed Seven
Persons in Fourteen Days

VAN WERT, Ohio v— Two youthful ex-convicts who terrorized Ohio with seven slayings in the last fourteen days, ended their career of crime today at a police road block.

James C. West, 24-year old bespectacled reformatory parolee
from Parkersburg, West Virginia, was killed and his partner, 22-year old Robert M. Daniels of Columbus, surrendered at the road block six miles north of here.

Two police officers were wounded in a wild flurry of rifle and pistol shots which ended the greatest manhunt in the history of Ohio.

Earlier in the day the gunmen had killed two men, a farmer and a 24-year old Navy veteran.

The victims of the desperadoes
included Superintendent John Biebel, 50, of Mansfield Reformatory, his wife, Nollanda, 52, and their 21-year old daughter, Phyllis, who were killed earlier
in the week.

Economic Realities

BBRITISH LABOR is learning in the hard school of experience.

Sir Stafford Cripps is a good teacher. "We would be courting a disaster," he said recently, "if we pursued the will-o-the-wisp of increased personal incomes when we have not got and could not get the goods to match the incomes."

"We must," he went on to say, "exercise the restraint of a democrat unless we are to be forced into methods of totalitarian control." "There was," he continued, "no case whatever for any further general increase of personal income though there might be cases where wages needed to be raised for some special reason."

There is now a stern hand at the controls. Sir Stafford Cripps was the first of the labor statesmen to face the facts. For years labor has been told that wages could be raised substantially. The funds were to be taken from profits. Now a new and more powerful light is being brought to bear on the scene—the light of experience.

The Manchester Guardian Weekly has this to say in a recent issue:

"The main obstacle to be overcome—which, unfortunately, the White Paper ignores—is the belief that profits are excessive and can be squeezed in order to give wage increases without raising prices."

It goes on to add:

"Dividends are quite deceptive; in most companies profits are a very small proportion of the turnover. They cannot be taxed much more severely without causing very real hardship to many people and seriously weakening the incentive on which much of our economic effort depends."

And the Labor Government in England has at last been compelled to recognize the truth. The recent issue of "The Economist" states the case in these words:

"They, (the members of the Labor Government) will have much educational work to do, both on themselves and their followers. They will have to show what the alternatives are: a mere increase in money incomes which secures only a passing improvement in real wages at the expense of other members of the community, or a further impetus to rising costs, stagnation in exports, threatened unemployment and a thriving black market."

This, of course, is only a brief reference to the process going on in the ranks of labor throughout the length and breadth of England. What has brought it about? The force of circumstances. There is no other answer. A government came into power in England with promises more lavish than Major Douglas proffered to Alberta, perhaps as our Socialists now proffer to the voters of Canada. They thought that capital was an almost endless source of supply for higher standards of living for the workers. They thought to combine higher earnings, shorter hours with higher standards of living. Unfortunately or perhaps fortunately they began to realize that wages and salaries are a means of distribution of goods and that production must precede distribution.

The facts are being driven home with telling force. In the absence of increased production, prices rise. With the increase in prices comes the reduction in real wages. The worker has more money but it will buy less goods. The laws of economics are stern and implacable. We reap what we have sown. In the new Nirvana, if it ever comes, labor will cease to fear. It will know that, with increased production, comes prosperity for labor in England and a prosperous world, on which after all England's prosperity depends.

KEEPING CREDIT GOOD

TO KEEP one's credit above reproach is a good thing for a nation, a country or an individual, and Canada, according to the Minister of Finance, may be said to enjoy this distinction. Numerous Canadians, when they read the recent budget, neglected to lavish much praise which was natural enough. When there is a great surplus, relief from soaring taxes is expected. However, the Minister knew his own mind, and proposed to do as he considered best, no matter who might feel disposed to argue the point. So that was that.

Announcement is made that the government has borrowed $150,000,000 from three United States insurance companies, on 15 year bonds, paying three per cent and taken at par. Most of the loan will be used to retire advances to Canada from a bank in Washington.

The transaction, despite all the criticism, this crisis and that crisis, war rumors, confusion and spreading of mischievous half-truths, harmful propaganda, illustrates the cardinal and fundamental fact that in Canada there is stability, and that her credit is sound.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

In future, there will be a lower rank than "Private" in the Army. It will be known as "Recruit." Having memories of chastisement, administered by a hard-boiled, tobacco chewing drill sergeant, we hasten to say that at such a time it was impossible, being a private, to sink any lower, or to feel any cheaper.

The general understanding in Canada that no man over forty years of age need expect to find employment appears to be subject to revision. Quite a number of well known citizens, mentioned as possible successors to Mr. Mackenzie King and Mr. Bracken are known to be even more than fifty.

Social Credit campaigners in Quebec, where the political pot is bubbling musically just now, are said to have no war chest. Supporters all chip in—a bit here, a little there—and generally speaking, the spending of actual cash is kept to the minimum. Often, a speaker is invited to dinner, or stays a few days in somebody's home. Something like the old days when the roving minister would be asked in for the week-end, or longer. Usually, the eats would have the average cafe or hotel badly beaten. And everybody would be so perfectly, wonderfully well behaved.

Jean Wacker, who first saw Kalen Island in 1905 has been revisiting Prince Rupert. After the lapse of 43 years, he had plenty to see. He was here so early, that the G.T.P. had found it necessary to take steps against the attitude of Metlakatla natives who protested the railway claim of exclusive use of the island. The Indians had defied the government. The next to defy the railway was John Houston, and he succeeded in making it stick. He had a grievance, but this was a horse of another color.

Berlin's Currency

BERLIN. — The philosophy that fundamentally everyone wants the same things—comfort, security, prestige and affection—is supported even in this city of rubble and confusion that was once the heart of Germany.

For instance, give candies to a waiter. He'll probably tell you he could sell them for a good price on the black market—but wants them for his children.

Give your taxi driver a cigarette that may be worth two or three dollars, according to the state of the panicky market. More often than not, with a grunt of satisfaction, he smokes it.

I gave a bag of candies to a man on the elevator at Hotel Am Zoo, home of transient newspapermen in Berlin. He said he could sell them for a good price, but I later found he had given them to the receptionist—for her small daughter.

"One gift makes another," said the receptionist. "My daughter will share the sweets with her friends. She is always giving."

A chambermaid described how she would use 20 cigarettes given her in payment for washing a reporter's shirts.

Four to smoke; six to exchange for three loaves of bread, giving her family two extra slices of bread daily for two weeks; three for a new hair-do; five for a new hat for mother; two for her sister.

"I have a gold mine," she laughed.

Futile to Save

With each new currency crisis the value of the mark has changed. So the German treats currency as a farce.

"What use are marks in your pocket?" asked a smoke-grimed factory hand who works in the American sector of Berlin, but lives in the British. "Better to have things you can enjoy and share with your family and friends. I never save. It is futile to save."

Two factors contribute to the high value of cigarettes and candies:

1. They are bought freely by wealthy racketeers frequenting the more expensive night clubs.
2. German farmers pay large

In stores, dealers would rather sell goods for cigarettes and candies than for marks. The day Allies announced a new currency for Western Germany, dealers refused to sell for marks and thousands of Berliners were turned away empty-handed.

"Money has gone crazy in Germany," said a middle-aged Berlin banker. "Only a sane government can restore it to sanity and there will never be a sane government while our city is administered by four different powers."

Aircraft To Count Seals

An aeroplane is being used this season to count the number of seals on the Pribilof Islands, and it is being found much more accurate, an official of the United States Fish and Wild Life Department, R. The seals are now on the beaches where they come each year for breeding.

"NEW LOOK" CHAMPIONED

Rotarians Discuss Variety of Subjects

The "new look" received an unofficial civic boost at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club on Thursday afternoon when Alderman Robert McKay supported it in a debate on grounds that it revived in women the illusion of mystery which the more forthright "old look" had banished for two decades.

The debate was one of four impromptu discussions of topics drawn from a battered hat by Sergeant-at-Arms Fred Scadden under scrutiny of entertainment Chairman P. H. Linzey. Speakers were similarly chosen. Taking the negative side of the proposition "Resolved that the new look is superior to the old," James H. Thompson took the view that the old look had a decided advantage in that it was "long enough to cover the subject yet short enough to be interesting."

A touch of confusion occurred in the debate "Resolved that men drivers should not be required to have pink slips" when J. Harry Black, who was supposed to have argued the affirmative, took a negative stand. He was thanked for his support by G. R. S. Biackaby, exponent of the negative.

C. A. Berner went all out for winter sport as he backed the affirmative side of the proposition that Prince Rupert should have an artificial ice rink rather than a swimming pool. The advantages of a cooling dip in a community pool were expounded by George Green.

Connubial co-operation at work and at play were championed by R. G. Vandersluys who dissented from a resolution that "husbands and wives should go on separate vacations." He drew an inspiring picture of comradeship at camp.

W. D. McAr, supporting separate vacations, argued that man and wife both benefit from getting away from each other for a few weeks in the summer.

Guest at the meeting was Rev. S. J. Green of Vancouver, father of George Green, a club member.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. What is the best method to use when one wishes to interview a business man on a matter of real importance?

A. One way is by letter. The most popular way is to request the interview by telephone. A third, but often unpopular way, is to call at the man's office and ask permission.

Q. If one is introducing two persons, is it good form to say, "Mrs. Wilson, meet Mrs. Jones?"

A. No. It is much better to say, "Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Jones."

USE CERTO TO GET
50% MORE Jam or Jelly from your fruit
WITH NO RISK OF FAILURES

With the cost of living so high, Certo is grand news for jam and jelly makers. The merest beginner can use Certo knowing her jams and jellies will turn out right. And she'll get one-half as much again from her fruit.

These results are easier to understand when you realize that Certo is actually the natural substance in fruit which causes jams to "jam" and jellies to "jell". It's extracted from fruits, in which it is most plentiful, to make jam and jelly-making quicker, easier, more economical.

THE WONDERFULLY SHORT CERTO BOIL
Certo ends the need for long, tedious, wasteful boiling to make sure your jams and jellies will set. With Certo, jams need only a one-to-two-minute full rolling boil ... jellies a half-minute to a minute. This extremely short boil means:

- 1 A 50% greater yield because your precious fruit juice is not boiled down and down to waste away in steam.
- 2 A very short time only is spent in boiling and stirring.
- 3 There's no long boiling to dull the lovely natural colour or spoil the luscious, fresh taste of the fruit. They stay in your jams and jellies.

No Guesswork With Certo
Results are SURE with Certo if you follow exactly the Certo recipes provided. Different fruits need different handling. There's a separate kitchen-tested recipe for each one.

BE SURE OF RESULTS. MAKE YOUR JAMS AND JELLIES WITH CERTO. YOUR GROCER HAS IT. GET CERTO TODAY.

SOCCER STUFF...

The standings in the Gilhuly Cup competitions show how evenly the three teams are matched. At the end of the first round the league standings are:

	W	D	L	F	A	P
High School	2	2	0	10	7	6
Battery	1	2	1	6	5	4
Legion	0	2	2	5	9	2

The second round standings to date are as follows, with two games to be played, the Battery having to meet both the Legion and the High School:

	W	D	L	F	A	P
Legion	2	0	1	4	5	4
Battery	1	1	0	4	1	3
High School	0	1	2	3	5	1

If the Football Association has planned to have the winner of the first half meet the winner of the second half, and that should provide a good game, the High School would be one of the teams to play. The winner of the second half has not been determined yet.

SOCCER TWENTY YEARS AGO HERE

Regiment Won Dominion Day Cup by Beating Grand Terminals

With the Old-Timers' Exhibition football game planned for the near future it is interesting to look back over the files and see what was taking place in football in Prince Rupert twenty years ago. The 1928 Dominion Day cup final was played between the Grand Terminals and the Regiment, with the Regiment winning by two goals to nil.

The football reporter of that day states that the Regiment was lucky to win and owed its success mainly to their strong defence. The teams were:

Regiment—Corbett, Ross, Lambie, Tom Kelsey, Baptie, Hunter, Underwood, Jack Wilson, Bye, Norrington, A. Hodgkinson.

Grand Terminals—Gurvieh, s., Skinner, Howe, Hill, Currie, MacDonald, Harrison, Strachan, A. Diekens, Warren, D. Gurvieh.

Both of the Regiment's goals were scored by Wilson. At that time the Junior Football League was in full swing and, following the sports in the forenoon, an exhibition game was played between Booth and a team picked from Borden and High School who were the other two teams in the competition. The Rest of the League won by 3-2. The teams were:

Rest of the League—Scott, Stiles, Pyle, Thurber, Vaccher, C. Johnston, Wicks, Batt, Cam-

MOOSE FINALLY DEFEAT SAVOY

Lodge Men Take Second Baseball Victory of Season
MOOSE 6, SAVOY 4

By holding their errors down to slightly less than one per inning, Moose won their second baseball victory of the season at Roosevelt baseball park last night, defeating a badly depleted Savoy team, which averaged an error an inning, by a score of 6 to 4. The victory was Moose's first over Savoy.

It was the type of game that would attract only the most hard-shelled baseball addict and even at that there were groans from the bleachers. The recent redistribution of players to balance the strength has, in the opinion of more than one fan, succeeded only in depressing the quality of play rather than elevating it.

For the first three innings, both teams remained scoreless but in the fourth, Moose scored two runs, Vanetta getting base on a single and coming home on an error. Forbes got to first on a fielder's choice and scored off a single by Shier. Savoy scored one run in the fourth when Gurvieh got on base on an error and came home off a single by Jack Sharpe.

Moose marked up another run in the fifth when Doug Kerr singled and was brought in by Vanetta. Savoy tied the score in their half of the fifth when Simundson singled and was brought in by a hit by Gurvieh. Ciccone got on base on a fielder's error and also came home off Gurvieh's single.

Moose's final three runs were scored in the sixth, and Savoy brought their total to four runs in the seventh. Jack Sharpe, who pitched for Savoy, faced 42 batters, striking out six and allowing 10 hits. Forbes, Savoy moundsman, faced 39 batters striking out three and allowing eight hits.

LEADING GOAL SCORERS

Goal scoring records show that in only three games so far this season has any league football team been shut out and on each occasion it was the Canadian Legion who failed to score against their opponents. Wilson, (High School), 10 goals
Pavlikis (Battery), 6 goals

SPICES IN FAVOR NOW

Long Reign of Salt-and-Pepper Monotony Ended

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK — The United States housewife is spice-conscious again for the first time since great-grandmother disguised jerked venison with a judicious measurement of fenel.

For more years than a gourmet likes to contemplate, cooks just reached for salt and pepper shakers when the recipe called for seasoning. Now they are blossoming out with a spice sheaf of some 20-odd spices.

Spices have been rediscovered, violently. In some places—such as New York—spice cooking is definitely a fad. Here and there lies danger that the enthusiastic heavy hand of the fanatics will overdo it.

Fortunately, most cooks have learned about spices the hard way: through war-induced food shortages and the need to fuss over cheaper tougher cuts of meat. They know that spice is designed to enhance flavor, not disguise it.

All this, the American Spice Trade Association feels, means that spices are back in the cottage kitchen to stay—on their own pungent merits.

In pre-war days, almost every housekeeper had a little cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and paprika in her food closet. Now the ladies who thought of cloves for ham and cinnamon for toast can

Drowns From His Boat Near Juneau

JUNEAU—The body of a northern fisherman, Ralph Watts, was brought to Juneau from near Dixon Harbor, where he had been drowned. He had fallen overboard, when his boat, the Emla, hit a rock. He was in the water less than five minutes, but two hours of artificial respiration proved useless in trying to restore life.

PEPPER STILL SCARCE

Most spices were scarce during the war, now they are all back in plenty—except pepper.

Peppercorns, mostly grown in the Netherlands East Indies and India, are still war casualties. The world's supply is down from a pre-war 182,000,000 pounds to 60,000,000.

Spice for the home kitchen runs alphabetically from allspice, fruit of a West Indian tree with a flavor resembling a blend of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves, to tumeric, an Indian-grown root of the ginger family widely used in pickling.

The big mystery in the spice business is saffron, probably the most expensive, retailing for about $60 a pound. It suddenly has become very popular but no one quite knows why. It's prized for its brilliant yellow color and pleasant taste, but heretofore wasn't used for much except Spanish dishes.

What is a spice? It is the buds, leaves, seeds, bark, roots or berries of aromatic plants used for seasoning and usually grown in tropical or semi-tropical countries. Herbs are usually the leaves of annuals or perennials grown in the temperate zones. Condiments refer to a blend of spices or herbs with other things—such as a tomato puree—to make a flavoring sauce. Aromatic spices are anise, caraway, cardamon, cinnamon, cloves, cumin, ginger, mace, nutmeg and a few others. Stimulants among the spices are mustard, pepper and tumeric.

VANDERHOOF

S. R. Yates, casualty rehabilitation officer for the Department of Veterans Affairs, has been a visitor here during the past week on official duties.

Vanderhoof teen-agers are still interesting themselves in the possibility of organizing a summer camp at Fort St. James.

Plans have been drawn up for an attractive children's playground at Alan Park here.

Placer mining has taken a spurt in the Omineca country, particularly around Manson Creek. Many small operations are underway and a few larger operations are also in full swing. An interesting recent development is the purchase of the Ralph Hill properties by Harvey W. Barnhill of Anchorage, Alaska.

Much interest was taken in the annual illustration station field day on the John Andros farm on Tuesday of this week. Many of the districts farmers were in attendance and the feature of the day was an address and demonstration by Prof. J. R. W. Young on the care and operation of farm machinery.

Vanderhoof Cubs defeated Fort St. James by a score of 18-11 in the latest inter-community baseball game here.

Miss Florence Hogben of Milner and Miss Dorothy Heddon of Port Alberni have been appointed to vacancies on the Vanderhoof school staff. Miss M. Switzer has been transferred to Fort St. James at her own request and G. R. Slade of Vancouver has been appointed to the senior grades at Fort Fraser.

Many district people attended a fancy dress dance which was held last Saturday night at Douglas Lodge, Stuart Lake, and proved to be a colorful affair.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Provincial motor launch PML 15 returned to port Wednesday night from a trip to Port Simpson and the Naas River with Staff Sergeant G. A. Johnson, district officer commanding, on board.

Herb Kingston, hotel clerk at Ketchikan, who was shot and killed recently, was formerly employed on Canadian steamers running between Vancouver and Skagway. The trouble that resulted in the shooting, the Ketchikan authorities say, began in an argument over a hotel bill. The accused, charged with intent to kill, is held on $25,000 bail.

The pursuer of the luxury yacht Corsair, making cruises this summer along the coasts of British Columbia and Alaska is R. W. Meldram, who is well known in Canadian west coast marine circles. He was long identified with vessels such as the Princess Alice, Princess Norah, Princess Charlotte, Princess Louise and Princess Mary.

VISITING ENGLISH SCHOOL TEACHERS LEARN RUPERT IS NOT 'FAR NORTH'

Enthusiastic scrutiny of Prince Rupert Thursday by a group of touring English school teachers was climaxed but not dampened when they learned that this so-called "northern port" is no closer to the Arctic Circle than the city of London and in lower latitude than some of their homes in northern England.

Miss Marjorie Ross of London, who with 10 other Old country teachers and two Canadians who have spent the last year as exchange teachers at Toronto and Montreal, exclaimed: "Oh, I thought we were much further north than that until informed that Prince Rupert's latitude is 54 degrees north, approximately the same as the Empire capital."

The party arrived here Tuesday night by train and left last night on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver and Victoria on a tour that will have circled Canada and the United States when it concludes at the end of August.

Miss Ross, an attractive primary teacher, has a double reason for going back to England—to get married and to continue her teaching job for a while at least. "There is such a shortage of teachers in England that it is almost critical," she said. "It wouldn't be fair to stop teaching at a time like this."

However, she admitted that she was fond of Canada and hopes to come back, perhaps permanently some time "if I can persuade my husband."

Children are children in England and in Canada she says, but she was aware of a difference in teaching methods between Toronto and London.

"In Ontario the courses seem stereotyped in a pattern laid down by the Department of Education," she commented. "In England we are allowed to use more of our own discretion in interpreting courses. A British Columbian teacher on exchange in Toronto had the same opinion, so perhaps that is a condition local to Ontario."

Her reaction to Canada? "Until I came here I hadn't realized how much austerity we had in England. The shops here are so full of all the beautiful things from England it thrills us to think that we still have the power to command a high place on the markets of the world."

"It's been an eye-opener to us because we had got used to thinking that the poorer qualities of goods which we are allowed for home consumption might be the standard of English manufacture."

Miss Ross then explained the private "austerity program which made it possible for the group to visit western Canada and a large part of the United States before their exchange year is completed."

"We made plans for this trip months ago and had our itinerary arranged and costs calculated," she said. "Then we set out to save enough money for it. Friends said it couldn't be done on our English scale salaries but here we are!"

Westbound, they went by train to Saskatoon, Calgary and Banff, then over the Columbia Icefield highway to Jasper and by train to Prince Rupert.

"Mostly we have been staying at Y.W.C.A. hostels, but at Jasper we allowed ourselves a real thrill and stopped at Deer Lodge."

From Victoria they will go to San Francisco and Los Angeles, then to the Grand Canyon, Yellowstone Park and Chicago. Some of the girls plan to sail to England on the Queen Elizabeth, but Miss Ross is making the crossing on the Empress of Britain.

Their tour of Prince Rupert included visits to the cold storage plants and various parts of the city and an inspection of the Nelson Bros. cannery at Port Edward.

PR. RUPERT IN FORTUNE MAGAZINE

Celanese Corporation Plan Described

History and advanced plans of the Celanese Corporation of America feature an article of much interest which appears in a recent issue of the widely circulated and elaborate "Fortune" Magazine. The article tells how the pulp mill which the company is building at Port Edward near Prince Rupert is to figure in the plans of this enormous industrial organization.

George Schneider, vice-president and research director for the Corporation, who visited Prince Rupert a year ago, is one of the personalities who figures in the article.

Of the Port Edward project the article says in part:

"There's simple arithmetic as well as poetry behind the British Columbia venture. Wood is cheaper than cotton linters for cellulose acetate. A tree is a big package of cellulose and provides more uniformity than the cotton crops. Celanese has a good deal of research on this score behind it and will use its own process in British Columbia. The new mill will be built on Watson Island which was used by the U. S. Army as a wartime loading station for munitions shipped to the Pacific sectors and to the Russians. Celanese bought it dock and all . . . present plans call for production of around 200 tons of pulp per day."

The article is good publicity for Prince Rupert.
