THE WEATHER

Synopsis The northern half of the province is extremely cold today. Prince Rupert overnight reported 9 above for the lowest December temperature since 1933. Just south of the Yukon border, Smith River touched 57 below. The cold air stalled north of Vancouver last night then swept through the city this morning with winds up to forty miles per hour. Mild weather is still entrenched in the extreme southern interior valleys of the Okanagan and Kootenays. Snow there today will end tonight and temperatures will fall sharply. Mostly clear and very cold weather will usher in the New Year in most sections of the province. Forecast North Coast Region—Clear and extremely cold today and Sunday. Northerly winds, 20 miles per hour, increasing to northerly, 30 miles per hour, this afternoon. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—Port Hardy, 20-30, Sandspit, 15-20, Prince Rupert, 10-18.

St. Laurent Deplores Further Inroads Against Democratic Freedoms

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent said today in a New Year message to the people of Canada that there is still some reason for concern over the international situation.

"A year ago I said that the international situation was very grave, that war was not inevitable but we would be lacking in the most elementary realism if we considered war an impossibility," said Mr. St. Laurent in his message. "The year which is just ending has brought with it new reasons for uneasiness. Human freedom has lost more ground in countries that ignore the advantages of genuine democracy. In many countries honest people continue to be prosecuted for their religious beliefs or their political affiliations."

NEW YEAR MESSAGE—Prime Minister St. Laurent concerned over international situation.

Ambrose Reid—Port Simpson Leader Dies

One of Port Simpson's best known residents and for many years a leader in the affairs of his own community as well as of the natives generally, Chief Ambrose Reid passed away on Christmas Day, according to word brought to the city today. The funeral took place on Thursday with the whole village paying tribute.

educated in Victoria. On the death of his uncle, Chief Herbert Wallace in 1928, he succeeded as Chief Nees-Gesh-Yaga-Haad but owing to his activities in trade union work in Vancouver, he was unable to come home to fulfill his duties with the tribe until 1932. In the meantime, Joshua McKay was given the title as Chief Nees-Gaumma-Laa in 1928.

Prince Rupert Ushering In New Year With Coldest Weather Yet

The New Year will be ushered in with cold northerly winds and temperatures around the 16 above level. New Year's eve celebrations will be carried out early Sunday morning in temperatures expected to hover around 9 above mark or lower.

The weatherman predicted this morning that the outlook for the next 24 hours or more will be extremely cold with clouds dotting the sky here and there. Very cold air is moving down the B.C. coast with cold northerly winds at 30 miles per hour. The last morning of the year 1949, in Prince Rupert, was also the coldest. People hustled to work today. If they walked, they moved fast, and no one paused for more than a few words. "I hear it was four above around six o'clock" said a man making a bee line for the post office lobby to see what the post office box had for him and to warm his hands. The official mercury at Digby Island dropped to nine above at 7 o'clock this morning setting a new low mark for the present winter.

TEST PARACHUTE, AIR BRAKE FOR JET PLANES—The U.S. air force has just permitted release of this photograph, the first to show the use of the novel parachute braking technique on its new Martin XB-51 three-jet ground support bomber. The bomber made its first test flight on October 28 and has undergone several other test flights since. For landings, the plane has a parachute towed aft which may be released at the pilot's discretion for faster stops. In takeoffs the bomber is equipped to use jet-assisted features giving the bomber greater versatility in operations to and from smaller combat area fields or landing strips. Neither feature is regularly used for normal operations.

Crossing Permitted

A least one of the obstacles which has been holding up the new fishermen's floats at Fairview Bay is being cleared up with advice received by E. T. Applewhite, M. P. for Skeena, from Hon. Alphonse Fournier, public works minister, that construction of a level crossing signal at the Canadian National Railway tracks has been authorized at the point where the proposed road will cross the tracks.

Mr. Fournier explains that it will take some little time before the signal is installed and, until such time as it is, the road cannot be opened. Mr. Applewhite has not been advised as to the type of crossing signal that is to be installed.

The city's road to connect with the road across the railway tracks has long since been completed.

It's Been a Good Year

THE YEAR 1949 which comes to an end today has been a good one to Prince Rupert and its people. We have prospered and, apart from the normal vicissitudes of life have had little to mar our happiness. As a community we have progressed. Our city and district has won new recognition as the growing importance of northwestern Canada in the national scene has been freely admitted.

From the industrial standpoint we have done well with the outstanding development a very tangible and realistic one in the progress of construction to a vividly impressive stage of the huge celanese pulp mill at nearby Watson Island—a project which by the time another New Year comes around, will have been almost completed and ready to go into operation as a permanent industry.

Our basic industry of the fisheries has, on the whole, had a satisfactory year with nothing spectacular yet few disappointments. If 1950 is as good there will be no reason for complaint.

The timber industry has had a steady year with expansion of logging operations, particularly on the Queen Charlotte Islands, and the manufacturing plants of the interior—at least the well established ones—coming through a changing situation with satisfaction. The prospect for 1950 may not be so rosy owing to uncertainty but there should not be any serious depression for the period of the coming twelve months at least.

Mining has staged a considerable comeback with such properties as Silbak-Premier, Torbrit and, Polaris-Taku the major bright incidents. It may well be expected that 1950 will be an even better mining year with other properties added to the list of operators and more activity in the field of exploration. The re-establishment, after several years, by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of exploration headquarters at Prince Rupert has been a significant feature.

Unemployment has been practically no problem here during the year.

On the whole, it has been a good business year in Prince Rupert. The retail trade has entered a more competitive phase but progressive businesses have thrived. Banks have done a rushing business in view of the new industrial activity.

Building has had a good season and many improvements are to be noted.

A bumper tourist year brought many visitors to the city and there would have been more and they would have stayed longer but for the continued lack of facilities to accommodate and interest them, the improvement of which situation might well be a major objective for next year. Prince Rupert still seems to be somewhat unappreciative of the potentialities of this important industry.

From a municipal standpoint we have still had our vicissitudes yet the year has not been without progress, notably in the improvement of the downtown streets and the steps that have been taken towards betterment of school facilities through the erection of new buildings as well as the extension of sewers and the decision for a modified scheme of telephone service improvements. There is, of course, much yet to be done and, as has been suggested before, it is to be hoped that some new financial deal may be made whereby the civic needs, so many and so pressing, may be to some measure achieved.

We have had in 1949 no major calamities, the sickening rumbling of a considerable earthquake in late summer notwithstanding. The most of our people have had a good reason to be happy although some have had the griefs and trials of normal existence.

Even the weather has been kind to Prince Rupert when we consider what other places, usually treated more favorably than ourselves, have had to put up with.

Yes, 1949 has been a happy old year in Prince Rupert. The new year of 1950 may dawn in the midst of disturbing uncertainties and may appear to be loaded with perplexities. We can but hope that it will be as satisfactory as the dying one has been. We have at least one satisfactory certainty and that is the knowing that we sit here today in a more solid position than we ever did before to share in all good things. Yet, if things should not be so good, we should also face the future with courage and good cheer.

We may be sure that, if any place in the world is going to have a happy 1950, it will be Prince Rupert.

The Salvation Army Citadel

SPECIAL WATCH - NIGHT SERVICE COMMENCING AT 10:30 P.M.

Saturday, 31st December, 1949
Conducted by S/Captain W. Chas. Poulton.
Address by Rev. F. Antrobus.

The Congregations of First Baptist Church and The Salvation Army are uniting for this service and extend a hearty welcome to any other Christian groups who will not be having a similar service in their own church building. Let us thank God for His 1949 Blessings and Dedicate ourselves to His Service for the Year that will be born as we conclude the Service.

IRANIAN SHAH VISITS TRUMAN—On his arrival in Washington, the Shah of Iran is welcomed by President Truman. The 33-year-old Iranian ruler pledged that his country, rich in oil and bordering Russia, will "work with the U.S. in the maintenance of peace in the Middle East." President Truman said that U.S.-Iranian friendship, cemented "in the struggle against fascism" will "become closer in the years ahead."

COLDEST WEATHER

During the afternoon yesterday snow on sidewalks began to melt but that was no indication of decreasing temperatures. The Digby Island forecaster stated temperatures at the Wireless Station were around 16 above yesterday while Prince Rupert readings were slightly higher—but still far below the freezing level. So New Year's Eve and day will be dry and very cold and no rain or snow is expected in this area as far as the weatherman predicts.

Numerous parties of private and semi-private nature will mark the farewell to the old year and the welcoming of the new. Major events will include large dancing parties at the Chatham and at the Prince Rupert Aero Club. Another large affair will be a party at the Moose Temple.

The chafing wintry weather brought joy to the hearts of the lovers of such winter sports as skating and coasting. Excellent skating on good smooth ice is attracting the skaters to the various sheets around the city as well as to the Salt Lake across the harbor.

The continued cold weather and the intensive stoking up of fires brought a warning from the city fire department today that extreme caution and watchfulness should be observed.

There was grief for many people this morning as they rose to find water pipes frozen after the coldest December night in seven years. Burst pipes in some instances accentuated the discomfort.

Train Cut Is Explained

MONTREAL — Effective Monday January 9 a system-wide reduction of twenty-five percent in steam-operated passenger trains will become necessary on the Canadian National Railways. This drastic curtailment of train service is due to serious depletion of coal reserves of the company because of work stoppages and shortened working hours in United States mines upon which the company relies for huge quantities of fuel.

In making the announcement N. B. Walton, executive vice-president of the Canadian National, stated that in August last the company had reserves of coal in stock equal to four months' supply and that this quantity was more than sufficient to see it through an average winter season providing the flow of coal to the company from the mines was also normal. However, the coal strike followed by the severe reduction in miners working hours, have combined to drastically reduce the inward flow of coal and the four months' reserve has dwindled so that now the stock pile is only sufficient for 30 days operation and this the management regards as a critically dangerous margin with the winter season ahead. No alternative except curtailment of train service is possible.

The Canadian National is the largest consumer of coal in Canada using between six and seven million tons a year.

In Eastern Canada the Canadian National spreads westward as far as possible the use of coal mined in the maritimes and the practice is followed also on the western region with coal from local mines. The company is, however, dependent practically wholly on the U. S. mines for the supply of the heavy coal tonnage required in central Canada.

"A review of our present position," said Mr. Walton, "indicates that the diminution in the limited supplies of coal which we are presently receiving from the U. S. mines has made our situation precarious. The reduction now ordered will result in a weekly saving of approximately 95,000 miles in steam passenger train service. If the Next May the ship will start a voyage around the world to sell American products. The trip will last about a year, with the ship spending a week in each foreign country. The plans provide for 500 exhibitors, who will have an opportunity to meet, entertain and sell to buyers all over the world, the same as they would have if exhibiting at an industrial show on terra firma.

Basketball— Rupert Wins Second Game

But Ketchikan Takes Series By One Point
This scribe predicted a win for Prince Rupert in last night's game with Ketchikan and win they did by a one point margin, the final score being 41 to 40. Today the boys flew back to Ketchikan, this being one reason for bringing a seven man team, that being the passenger capacity of the plane.

Young Boxer Badly Hurt

NEW YORK ©—Carmine Vingo, 20-year old Bronx boxer, was slightly improved today "but still definitely on the critical list" in hospital here after suffering the first knockout of his brief pugilistic career last night. Earlier he was given only an even chance of surviving.

Vingo was knocked out in the sixth round of a fight at Madison Square Garden with Rocky Marciano. Dr. Vincent Nardiello, New York State Boxing Commission physician, said he had suffered from repeated blows to the right side of his head, causing paralysis of the left side of the body and concussion of the brain. Marciano is a ranking heavy-weight contender. He had knocked Vingo down twice for the count of nine before the sixth round.

1950 LOOK FOR RAILWAY COACHES—Plastic murals, as shown above, decorate the end walls of new Canadian Pacific Railway day coaches now being turned out. Featuring reclining chairs, extra-wide picture windows and an all-glass door separating the smoking compartment from the rest of the car, the new coaches are now rolling out of the shops in Montreal and it is expected 64 of them will be in system-wide mainline service within the next eight months. Four murals like the one pictured here decorate the end walls of each car.

MEET THE "GOLFER OF THE YEAR"—Happy Sam Snead, professional at White Sulphur Springs, W. The smiles were generated by the news that Sammy had been named "golfer of the year" by the P.G.A.

FOUR MEN AND A JEEP—These four modern musketeers in search of adventure left London, Eng., in a $500 jeep to play their way through the 23,000 miles to southern Australia. Instead of swords they will rely on a set of drums, a ukelele, harmonica and a concertina to gain their passage in strange countries. The four men—all ex-officers—are Major Dennis Wright, 31; Captain John Davey, 31; Captain Peter Blake, 30, and Captain John Cocks, 30. Each has travellers' cheques for £100, but to buy fuel they will do odd jobs en route, and give entertainments. They expect to get as far as Burma in their jeep, and then change to horses to cross the roadless part of Siam on the way to Singapore. They are prepared for emergencies—their kit includes a short-wave radio and a rifle.
