Bill Parnell Mile Winner

AUCKLAND, New Zealand—Twenty-one year old Bill Parnell of North Vancouver scored another victory for Canada in the British Empire Games today. He won the one-mile championship with a record of 4 minutes and 11 seconds.

The world record is 4 minutes 1-4/10 seconds.

Parnell beat Les Ayre of England with a spurt in the last twelve yards. Jack Hutchins of Vancouver was seventh.

I.O.D.E. Has Anniversary

Prince Rupert Joins Rest of Canada in Celebrations of Order's Birthday

Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, in Prince Rupert like elsewhere in Canada, is about to commence the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of its founding, the actual date of which falls on Monday next.

The order was founded by Mrs. Clark Murray of Montreal and fifty years ago the first chapter was organized by Mrs. John Black in Fredericton, New Brunswick. Now there are 930 branches with a total membership of 32,000 women and the organization has spread abroad to the West Indies, India, England and even the United States.

In war and peace, the Order has built up a splendid record of achievement in many causes both at home and abroad concentrating on the central theme of betterment of country and people and the development of high standards of citizenship.

Here in Prince Rupert the observance of the fiftieth anniversary is being led by the municipal regent, Mrs. Jens Munthe. Principal events will be a special church service tomorrow morning in St. Andrew's Cathedral and a Jubilee tea Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jens Munthe.

The first chapter in Prince Rupert—Queen Mary—was organized in 1910 by the late Mrs. F. H. DuVernet. Chapters have come and gone since then and today there are Municipal and three primary chapters in addition to one junior chapter with a total membership for all of some seventy-five women and girls.

Queen Mary Chapter is now one of the six oldest chapters in the province and Mrs. D. C. Stuart, an outstanding I.O.D.E. worker here over the years, has written its history which will be published in "Echoes," the national magazine, and the Daily News.

Thirty Killed In Train Wreck

PARIS — Thirty persons were killed and 38 injured—many severely—when two local trains met head-on at Latours, near Toulouse, in southern France before dawn today.

Passengers, sitting in front of diesel trains, were crushed when coaches telescoped.

Six hours after the crash rescue workers were still digging in wreckage to uncover bodies.

REMOVE BARRIERS
NEW YORK—Canada's St. Laurent, said last night, that reduction of United States tariff and other trade barriers "might make a tremendous contribution to security of the free world generally and United States in particular." The Prime Minister spoke before the Canadian Society of New York.

DOUKS PLEDGE PEACE
NELSON — Six Doukhobors, members of the radical Sons of Freedom, took an oath in Sunmen Court yesterday before Mr. Justice A.M. Mansfield pledging themselves to never participate in violence again. All six swore the "oath of peace" on bread, salt and water. On each a $3000 bond was imposed to keep the peace for two years. Failure would mean a year in jail.

Canada Humbled In Empire Games, Finishes Up In Poor Fourth Place

AUCKLAND — Canada trailed Australia by a staggering 403 points at the finish of the British Empire Games today. The Aussies amassed a 634-point total to take the unofficial team championship while the Canadians had only 231 for fourth place. New Zealand was second with 376 and England third with 341.

DOMINION PROVINCIAL CONFERENCE—Social security was the principal point of discussion in the dominion-provincial conference in Ottawa recently. Agreement at this conference on principles of social measures has provided solid basis for definite proposals at the conference slated for next autumn. Here Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan and Premier Campbell of Manitoba discuss some aspects of social security problems peculiar to Canada.

SENT SNOW PLOW, WITH CHAUFFEUR—In a formal ceremony, regained the speed title for non-stop transcontinental flying, dock-side at Naples, U.S. ambassador to Italy, James Dunn (2nd from right, next to naval officer) formally presented a snow plow to the people of Capracotta, a gift from the people of Jersey City, N. J. In 1949, Capracotta's mayor, Dr. Gennaro Carnevale, appealed to Mayor John V. Kenney, of Jersey City, telling him that the residents of this town were in danger of isolation and starvation during a severe storm, due to the fact that the Germans had stolen the town's snow plow. The residents of Jersey City contributed $20,000 for the purchase of a new snow plow, which was sent to Italy. It is fortunate that Capracotta is enjoying summer-time weather at the moment, because they don't know how to handle the snow plow. Armand Gaito of Jersey City, has been sent to Italy to teach them how to use the machine.

HERON RESCUED—This blue heron was saved from starvation by Fred Smith who found the bird while skating on Burnaby Lake near Vancouver. Too weak to move, its beak full of ice and frozen shut, the heron was taken home by Smith, thawed out and fed. Fred's mother, Mrs. H. Smith, is shown holding the bird before it was set free. (C. P. ### Shoot At Officials

Mysterious Attacks on Automobiles in Britain

LONDON — Great Britain's director of naval intelligence said today that the windshield of his automobile had been smashed, apparently by bullets, but detectives who examined the car decided that bullets could not have caused the damage. Rear-Admiral Eric Longley-Cook said the missiles came from a moving car. He chased the attackers nine miles in his own automobile before losing them on the outskirts of London.

The Rear-Admiral, as director of naval intelligence, is in charge of security for Britain's latest announced atomic project—the building of atomic energy plants for ships.

In a similar incident a few hours earlier, a bullet was fired at an automobile containing Lord Moylan, leader of Britain's Liberal party.

Worried Over Communists

OTTAWA — External Affairs Minister Pearson said yesterday that delegates to the recent Commonwealth Conference in Colombo felt there is a real danger of the whole Far East falling under Soviet imperialism.

Mr. Pearson, who returned Wednesday from a six-week tour of the Far East, told a press conference that the Colombo Conference of Commonwealth External Affairs ministers had been largely concerned with what should be done about communist advances in that part of the world.

No Relief For Power

Austerity to Continue Until Really Milder Weather Comes To Hydro Sources

For the first time since Christmas the temperature at Falls River, Prince Rupert's principal source of hydro-electric power supply, rose above freezing point yesterday when thirty-six above zero was recorded. Thomas B. Black, general manager of the Northern British Columbia Power Co., reported. That is a hopeful change, Mr. Black said, but for anything in the nature of a substantial run-off, thawing weather at night as well as in the daytime is required. It froze again last night. Glancing at Prince Rupert's flowing and slushy streets late yesterday afternoon, Mr. Black commented: "If there was anything like that at Falls River, our present troubles would be over."

Milder temperature at Woodworth Lake has not yet resulted in a run-off up to this morning, Mr. Black stated.

Until there was a further improvement in the run-off conditions both at Falls River and Woodworth Lake, Mr. Black was cautious in suggesting when it might be possible to do something about relieving the power cut-off restrictions which have been in force in the city for the past two weeks.

Meantime, the capacity operation of the dry dock steam plant which has been receiving substantial shipments of coal during the past week, has been holding the crisis which moderating weather should soon relieve.

Power shut-off for a short time on Thursday night was due to a temporary failure of the Falls River transmission line.

As far as city water supply is concerned, Mayor G. W. Rudderham is not worried. The city reservoir, he announced, contains five feet of water and, with the milder weather continuing, the picture is looking considerably better.

ALASKA FERRY IS LIVE MATTER

VICTORIA — Establishment of a ferry service between Haines, Alaska, and Prince Rupert, British Columbia, is under serious consideration. Alaska Road Commissioner Col. Jim R. Noyes said here today. The service would be an international affair, Noyes added. He is conferring with provincial government officials on highway matters including the Haines cut-off.

Helicopter And Dakota Carry Out Rescue Work

Continued Distress Signals Might Still Be from Missing Transport

WHITEHORSE — Nine of ten Canadian and American service men were safe in Whitehorse today after they had been picked off a mountainside, southwest of here, where their Dakota plane had crashed more than three days ago while engaged in the search for a United States army transport which has been missing for more than three weeks now.

The nine men were brought out by another Dakota after a helicopter had moved them from a point nearby the scene of the crash.

Three of the survivors have broken ribs and one is suffering from frostbite sustained in the 60 below weather. The others are in good shape in spite of exposure.

A tenth man was still at the rescue camp.

Distress signals continue to be received from a point believed to be near the Yukon-British Columbia border which may be from survivors of the missing plane. However, no trace of it has yet been sighted.

MEET A GENUINE TALKING DOG—David Beattie, of Geres, Scotland, poses with his dog, "Blackie Boy," a 4½-year-old pekingese, whose fame has crossed the Atlantic. "Blackie" has put Geres on the map with his habit of gossiping—if you can call it that. Witnesses vouch for the dog's ability to speak. His vocabulary is limited, of course, but he does say "hello" and indicates his desire for sugar by saying "yum yum." According to Beattie, the dog admonishes visitors who start to leave the Beattie home when it's raining by ejaculating "no, no, not now." Another story goes that the dog once orally greeted a judge at a dog show. A woman exhibitor who heard him keeled over in a dead faint.

Alaskan Statehood

STATEHOOD FOR ALASKA is receiving some all-out backing in influential quarters in the United States these days. Nearly 100 big-name Americans, composing a cross-section of prominent citizens, have formed themselves into a formidable committee in support of the enabling act to make Alaska a state which is due for action in Congress within the next few days. The next step after congressional approval will be a territorial convention which will be held at Sitka. The process of Alaskan state-making is just about one year behind schedule but in 1950 it is expected that definite progress will be made.

Illustrative of the big campaign which is being waged in important quarters in the United States is a copy of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph which devotes two full pages to strongly advocating Alaskan statehood on the ground of national interest, arguing that statehood is vital to United States defences. A graphic half page cartoon depicts Alaska and Hawaii as two firemen fighting the flames of Communism.

Statehood for Alaska is also held as being in the economic interests of the United States. Further the Sun-Telegraph looks on its immediate granting as fulfilling a virtual promise to the territory.

Supporting the Sun-Telegraph's campaign is a special article by Ford I. Crawford, a representative to Congress from Michigan who says:

"Congress must grant Hawaii and Alaska statehood now."

"The reasons are imperative.

They are key areas in our strategic defence against Russia.

"They are key areas in our cold war against the world spread of Communism.

"As territories they are weak.

"As states they would be strong.

"Japan struck at both territories in World War II.

"Hawaii and Alaska are today the prime targets under the American flag of the most powerful enemy that has ever threatened the United States.

"Statehood would vastly strengthen America's position in the ideological and economic conflict now being waged throughout the Pacific."

All of which is very interesting to Prince Rupert which, in view of its position in relation to Alaska, is vitally concerned in an early raising of the territory to the status of a state.

LESSON OF AUCKLAND

WHILE THERE HAVE BEEN some good wins such as those of Dr. George Athans in the springboard diving and Bill Parnell in the one-mile, two British Columbia men incidentally, Canada's showing at the British Empire Games in New Zealand is a matter of keen disappointment. However, there are some lessons, no doubt, that can be learned and one of the most important of these lessons seems to be the need for a different training technique than is now followed in the Dominion.

After the last Olympic Games, sports writers advocated a more consistent system whereby training would be on a round the year basis instead of seasonally which is now the general rule in this country.

With the next British Empire Games coming to Canada, it is to be supposed that Canada will learn the lessons of London and Auckland so that Canadians may be as good participants as they will be hosts.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

Editor, Daily News:
A few days ago the Daily News carried in its "Ray Reflects" column a paragraph reading "Old age pensions must come from some tangible place. And the answer is taxes. That's why more people looking back over a lifetime might feel more comfortable could they reflect they had contributed something regularly to the state."

The inference, I take it, is approval of a contributory system to a pension plan. That would provide a meal ticket to those in the evening of life. Such a plan, I believe, should meet with the approval of the most able.

But who is the person, man or woman, who has spent a lifetime of toil in the production of wealth that has enjoyed more by schemers and exploiters than by the actual producers? They, in truth, produce all the wealth that pays all the taxes. They provide the workers for the succeeding generation. Why should the hands of such men and women tremble when they endorse an old age pension check here and now?

GEORGE B. CASEY.

COASTING SPACES

Editor, Daily News:
I am writing this on behalf of many mothers and myself who see their children take their sleighs for a ride down a hill some place and wonder if they will get hurt. We could, of course, stop the children from doing it but it seems silly to do that after spending money for a sleigh which must have been meant to be used. Every year there are one or two children run over. Couldn't this be prevented by blocking off one hill in each section of town for coasting. I am sure the car owners would not object to going on a different street.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for publishing this and let's hear from somebody else about it.

A MOTHER.

SATURDAY SERMON

SINCERITY.

(By Archdeacon E. Hodson, St. Peter's Church)
"Be to thine own self true and it shall follow, as the night the day. Thou canst not then be false to any man."

So says the poet and the Bible agrees with him. (See Psalm 51, Verse 6). "God desires truth in the inward parts." God desires sincerity of life in all his people.

In this psalm the hypocrite David, King of Israel, has been revealed to his "fittest self" by the words of the prophet Nathan. For nearly a year since he had committed murder and adultery he had been living a hypocrite's life but the words of the prophet unveiled him and revealed the demand of God that this people should be at least sincere with themselves. Repentance for his sins had revealed that to David.

There are some hours in life when we are blind; hours when we see nothing and forget everything; and all our past, our honor, our duty to God fade away and are blotted out. But when repentance comes then our blind eyes are opened, our deaf ears unstopped. We realize the sin that we have done, the hypocrites we are.

It is always a hard thing to be sincere with ourselves. Life is full of little insincerities for most of us and it is often the man who is seriously struggling to be true to himself who feels most keenly his lack of sincerity.

But God demands sincerity of us and we must ever strive to be sincere at whatever cost to our success or popularity. For the penalty of insincerity is loss of the dignity of our life. We fancy that putting a bold face on our insincere life can trick men into believing anything but the truth of us.

But we cannot fool our fellows. They can read us as easily as we read them. Men will forgive us our sins of passion, our inconsistencies, but they cannot forgive our insincerity. Better be dead than insincere.

Another penalty of insincerity not always vox dei. The voice of the people is not necessarily the voice of God and in the tremendous pressure of public opinion about a thousand and one things it is hard for a man to be true to high higher better self. Most of us follow the noisy leader like a flock of sheep. It is a difficult thing to be an individual to be true to our real self when the world and its opinions are pulling in an opposite direction.

W. H. Brett leaves aboard the Chilcotin Sunday for a business trip to Vancouver.

Miss Cora Vance, of the Miller Bay Hospital staff will leave aboard the Chilcotin Sunday for Vancouver.

is that no sin so surely saps and undermines our influence. Perhaps we think we have no influence. Most of us think too much of our abilities and far too little of our influence. We are all so interwoven in the web of life that we are influencing, moulding and making each other every day, and strange to say the people who influence us are usually those who never try to influence us at all. The one thing that can shatter this unconscious influence of character is insincerity. We may be narrow and still command respect, we may be ignorant and men may not dispise us. But ignorant or learned, narrow or broadminded, once let men feel that we are insincere and all our influence for good, and for God is gone, and so once more we repeat our text:

"Be to thine own self true, and it shall follow as the night the day. Thou canst not then be false to any man."

Basketballers Off To Alaska

To resume a closely contested international basketball competition, Prince Rupert All Stars are leaving next Monday on Princess Norah for Ketchikan. The series started here Christmas week with Prince Rupert taking a one-point lead on two games, the first of which the locals took by a two-point margin while Ketchikan won the second by one point.

Team selections will be made at a practice tomorrow morning.

The locals will be away until Friday and, in addition to playing Tuesday and Thursday at Ketchikan, will be at New Metlakatla Monday and Wednesday to start a series which will be continued here in March.

Hollywood is giving an untrue and damaging picture of American life, says Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature. In different parts of the world he has noted harmful reaction to films, and writes: "We don't all work in swanky buildings with private offices, though large enough to house small army. We don't all live in plush duplex apartments with elaborate cocktail bars and refinements of servants, don't all sleep in king size beds with silk topsheets, nor do we all arise languidly at noon time, in the shape of provisions, be squandered, for breakfast in bed. (Every week something new appears on the shelves of the stores and business houses of Prince Rupert and through this column the Daily News will try and keep you up to date on just what's new in Rupert.)

The beautiful new ladies' expansion bracelet is the answer to a Valentine or birthday present for that certain someone. These sensational new watch bracelets are set with individual birthstones in each link of the bracelet and there's one for each month of the year. The base is of yellow, white or pink gold. George Cook, jeweller, is showing these in his window this week.

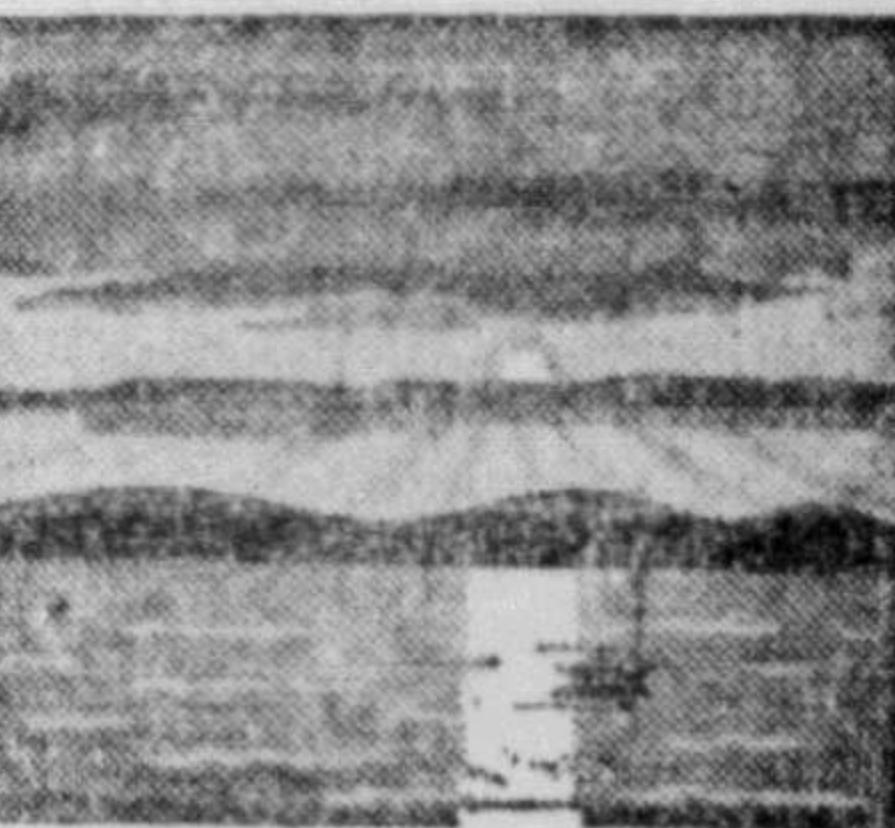

Mouth savoring treat treat will give your meal time a lift are Swift's Premium Veal Rolls. Made of the finest of veal this new Veal Roll is processed with a coating of beef fat, Oleo etc., which produces a hard tasty crust on the roll when roasted, and the resultant fat makes delicious gravy. The Locker Plant are featuring Veal Rolls this week.

A sleek new green alligator shoe with triple instep straps, is the latest for the ladies. These alligator shoes come in 4A to B sizes with a high Cuban heel and are designed by Julia Arthur. They are in the window of the Family Shoe Store.

To smarten up that attic spare room or den the new Etchwood plywood is worth a look. Etchwood is made by sand blasting out the soft grain of the wood leaving the embossed grained effect on the surface. The finished product lends itself beautifully to various desirable finishes. The Island City Builders up on McBride Street handle the new plywoods.

To insure publication of display or classified advertising, copy for same must be in the office of the Daily News by 4 p.m. the day previous to advertising. Requirements of the mechanical department make this rule necessary.

Waterfront - Whiffs

Herring Fleet Moves Southward—Power Shortage Hits Waterfront

Last catches of herring from the northern subdivision were taken late Tuesday afternoon off Butler's Cove as the 30,000 tons quota for that area was reached. Between Sunday noon and Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. seiners off Butler's Cove netted 10,225 tons. Most seiners and packers headed for Helmcken and Surf Inlet in the Central subdivision as the catch there to date is 27,741 tons, less than 12,000 tons short of the 40,000 tons quota. The catch in that area from Sunday noon to Friday was 4,590.

Following the ceasing of seining in the northern subdivision, the Canadian Fishing Co.'s packer "Cape Beale," Capt. Barney Arnt, arrived at the Atlin Fisheries dock and unloaded 5 tons the same day. On Friday the "Waterfall," Capt. Elias Wold, tied up at Atlin Fisheries and deposited 6 tons of herring for bait. Harold Thome, assistant manager at Atlin announced deliveries so far have amounted to about 2500 tons.

D. C. Stevenson, in charge of herring investigation for the Pacific Biological station at Departure Bay on Vancouver Island, was in the city on an inspection visit this week. He returned to the station by plane Friday.

Notwithstanding the cold snap which a few weeks ago stopped herring seining in this area, this year's operation is considered good. No packers were lost, as is the case in some seasons, but at least one case of overloading caused concern among crew members. The Canadian Fisherman's Cold Storage and Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative, has led to power on alternate days for each plant so that herring can be received for bait. Nelson Brothers at Port Edward are operating, but at a reduced capacity. They have been taking herring during the week. The Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative will receive a large batch of fish bait next week.

Meat packing establishments along the waterfront are not suffering due to the power outage for the vessel arrived in Prince Rupert's herring buyers are irked by the fact that, due to the power shortage, a capacity batch for the year cannot be used. Most loads have been taken at Namu, Butdale, Stevenson, Vancouver and Vancouver Island ports. But according to one buyer here, the shortage of electricity has not caused him too much grief. But, he is only one of them. The others may hold a different opinion. Of course money is being lost by the industry here, as is also the case with city merchants and other business concerns.
