PLANE IS DOWN AT HARTLEY BAY

Skeena Air Transport Machine Has Engine Trouble—Another Ship Coming

Skeena Air Transport's Sea-Bee flying boat is sitting today at Hartley Bay, down the coast from here, where it came down yesterday morning when engine trouble developed while a charter flight was being made from Prince Rupert to Bella Coola with J. P. MacDonald, fire inspector of the local forest branch. A flight engineer is coming north from Vancouver by this afternoon's Canadian Pacific Airlines flight and will be taken by boat to Hartley Bay to make the necessary repairs. The SeaBee will then return to Prince Rupert.

Meantime, a British Columbia Airways plane from Alert Bay came to Hartley Bay to pick Mr. MacDonald up and take him to Bella Coola where he is to direct operations of fighting a rather extensive forest fire which has broken out on the Noosatsum River, a tributary of the Bella Coola River from the south. Pilot William Cooper is in charge of the stranded SeaBee. Skeena Air Transport's other pilot, Ronald Angus, is now in Vancouver taking delivery of another SeaBee for service out of Terrace into central and northern British Columbia.

Mutch Ends Life In Lake

PENTICTON, (CP)—Robert D. Mutch, 52-year old fruit rancher, sought in the slaying of his wife and two sons, ended his life in Skaha Lake. Police today reported the finding of the body after a ten-hour search.

Previously Mutch's automobile had been found by searchers on the lake shore, three miles from his Kaleden corner ranch home where Mrs. Mutch and sons, Robert, 18, and Grant, 14, were killed Wednesday.

A warrant charging Mutch with the murder had been issued by British Columbia provincial police yesterday as the officers started the search of the lake district.

The mother and sons were bludgeoned and burned from fires started in the mattresses of their beds.

Police believe the blows were from an iron bar.

Yvonne, 20, daughter, is in hospital here still in a critical condition with head wounds and burns.

To Steam Into Prince Rupert Tomorrow

S.S. PRINCE GEORGE

PLENTY OF MEAT HERE

Despite Railway Tie-up, Says Head of Company

Prince Rupert will not go short of meats and other table provisions despite the rail and highway tie-up which is hampering transportation with the prairies and eastern Canada, the Daily News was assured yesterday by the president of Burns and Co.

R. J. Dinning, of Calgary, head of the provision company, and H. T. Anderson, manager of the Edmonton branch, which supplies Prince Rupert with the company's products told of their arrangements to keep the city eating. They were here on an inspection visit to the local Burns and Co. plant.

"A picture of devastation" was Mr. Dinning's description of the flooded lower Fraser Valley which he saw from the air at the week-end on a flight from Calgary. "It's a heartbreaking thing to see thousands of acres of farmland under water with just the roof-peaks of barns showing."

As far as his company is concerned, however, coast people will suffer "no hardship." "Every possible effort is being made to get supplies to the coast," he said. "We have flown thousands of pounds of butter to Vancouver and are arranging for rail and bus shipments of meats."

Mr. Anderson, whose office handles shipments to Prince Rupert, said that plans are in motion to bring supplies to Prince Rupert from Edmonton. The products will be shipped by rail to Smithers, then either taken by bus to Terrace and flown to Prince Rupert, or flown here direct to the city from Smithers.

A shipment of meat will arrive at Smithers tonight.

R. E. Moore, manager of the city plant of Burns and Co., said that meat supplies in the city are generally adequate.

"There is lots of beef and pork, but lamb and veal is in shorter supply."

Prince Rupert To Welcome New Liner And Her Party

SS Prince George Coming Here Tomorrow Morning On Maiden Voyage

With a capacity passenger list made up of members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and their wives, the handsome new Canadian National liner Prince George will steam into Prince Rupert Harbor tomorrow morning on her maiden voyage to Alaska. She is due at 10 a.m. and a fitting welcoming of June 16 southbound.

The distinguished party of Americans headed by Charles P. Bayer, assistant to the president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and included in the group is Hon. Clyde A. Watson, California State Senator, and several members of the California Legislature.

Prior to the departure of the ship from Vancouver last night, Captain E. B. Caldwell received a large floral horseshoe of good luck from a group of friends in Ketchikan with a message of good will attached.

A message was also received from the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce that on arrival at British Columbia's most northern port a presentation of a silver rose bowl would be made to the ship with personal recognition in the form of pen and pencil set to the captain.

Canada's latest cruise liner, and the largest and finest passenger ship ever to be constructed in Canadian waters on the Pacific Coast, won general acclaim here at Vancouver when hundreds of Vancouver citizens inspected the Prince George.

With first class passenger capacity of approximately 300 and with every passageway, public room and stateroom beautifully paneled with native and imported woods, Prince George will prove a great addition to Canada's tourist industry. The ship will operate a series of cruises from Vancouver to Skagway every ten days throughout the summer and in winter months will make its northern terminus at Ketchikan, Alaska. It is 350 feet in length, has a gross tonnage of 5800 tons with a speed of 18 knots.

Messages of good wishes were also received at Vancouver from R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president C.N.R., Montreal, Captain Frank Smith, master of the Lady Nelson, of the company's Carribean fleet and Ernest Gruening, Governor of Alaska.

The Prince George will return here from Alaska on the evening of June 16 southbound. The vessel will make calls at Ocean Falls, Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Wrangell, Juneau and Skagway on her regular schedule.

TEMPERATURE TODAY HITS 79

Official temperature at Prince Rupert rose to 83.8 degrees yesterday afternoon according to the Digby Island weather station, establishing a mark exceeded only by the 86 degree high of August, 1946. The reading at noon today was 79.5 degrees, according to the Digby Island weather station.

TONY ZALE IS CHAMP

Regains Middleweight Title With Knock-out in Masterly Fight

NEWARK, New Jersey, (CP)—Tony Zale, 12 to 5 underdog, consigned to the fistic scrap heap before the fight, regained his middleweight championship Thursday night by knocking out Rocky Graziano in one minute, eight seconds of the third round.

The ex-Gary, Indiana, steel mill hand dropped the befuddled Rocky on his back for the ten count with a left hook to the head.

Zale, cool, polished battler at 158½ pounds, rallied strongly in the second round after taking the three-count in the first.

150 Drown When Danish Ship Hits Old War Mine

AALBORG, Denmark (CP)—About 150 Danes were drowned today when the passenger vessel Kjoebenhavn struck a second world war mine and blew up in the Kattegat. The vessel, carrying 400 passengers, went down ten minutes after the dawn explosion ripped her apart.

Scores of sleeping passengers were drowned in their berths. Many saved their lives by diving from the deck of the sinking vessel.

The 1,668-ton steamship, owned by the United Steamship Co., was enroute from Copenhagen to Aalborg, Jutland.

The company published the names of 261 survivors including crew members and spokesmen expressed the fear that all the rest were doomed.

Divers went to work quickly but, long after they began their search, there were no reports that any of the survivors had been picked up.

Rescue crews said that nine corpses were found by patrolling craft at sea.

THE WEATHER (Synopsis)

Cloudy skies and showery weather appears to be in store for the southern and central sections of British Columbia over the week-end although slow and gradual clearing is expected. Isolated thunderstorms are probable over the Kootenays today and tonight. By contrast the northern portion of the province will remain clear and warm.

Further Fraser Dykes In Danger Of Collapse

Situation At Trail Critical—$100,000,000 Damage, 323 Dead Down Columbia River

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four thousand Sumas Prairie residents early today bade goodbye to their fertile Fraser Valley acres and struck out for higher ground and personal safety. Sponge-soft dykes on the Vedder Canal, 60 miles east of Vancouver, were in imminent danger of collapse and flood control authorities had ordered mass evacuation.

A 32-foot wave of ruinous water threatens the 20,000-acre Canadian Eden and menaces the northwest corner of the State of Washington. Only flood-fighters manning the dykes remain. An estimated ten thousand head of cattle have been moved to higher ground.

For the residents of Queensborough, a suburb of New Westminster on Lulu Island, it was another night of fear but the dykes held.

At Prince George the Fraser River rose six inches in 24 hours under blistering warm weather. The Fraser's tributary, the Nechako, was also on the rise again.

Torrential rains have added to the critical situation in Trail where the Columbia River roared past the West Kootenay smelter city nearly a foot higher in the last twenty-four hours.

Far further down, the flooding Columbia broke through another dyke on Portland's outskirts today and raced over a rich lowland area extending ten miles to the east.

Doomed are the Portland airport, four golf clubs, a lakeside resort and homes of several thousand persons.

All residents were ordered to evacuate several days ago but the sheriff's office feared that some might have returned.

Oregon's refugees now total more than 60,000 persons. There are 323 known dead and damage exceeds $100,000,000.

BRITISH COLUMBIAN BECOMES NEW MINISTER OF FISHERIES

OTTAWA, (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today announced the resignation from the cabinet of Hon. J. A. Glen, minister of mines and resources, and that Hon. James A. MacKinnon had resigned as minister of fisheries to succeed Mr. Glen as minister of resources.

R. W. Mayhew, Liberal member for Victoria and Parliamentary assistant to Hon. Douglas Abbott, minister of finance, succeeds Mr. MacKinnon as minister of fisheries.

Tom Reid, now Parliamentary assistant to the minister of fisheries, becomes Parliamentary assistant to Hon. Dr. J. J. McCann, minister of national revenue.

Watch Uncle Joe

THERE ARE THOSE who believe that as Marshal Stalin has made a few clumsy gestures of goodwill we should be quick to accept this gesture at its full face value. We have a feeling however that, even should we get to sitting down in amity, it might be well for us to watch our hat and overcoat.

There are other facts beside this apparently open gesture. There is the knowledge that the Soviet Union has spent a billion and a half dollars in atomic bomb research and nine billion on new military equipment. She has 500 German scientists working on guided missiles and other weapons—among them, new super tanks. She has more than twice the number of men under arms that are so employed by Britain and the United States and France combined. One and a half million of her troops are on duty in occupied territory. Others are a training force at home. By 1955 there will be a trained reserve force of from 15 to 20 million men. These facts are on the authority of Brigadier-General Edwin Sibert, Assistant Director of the Central Intelligence group of the United States Army.

We hope and believe that Mr. Stalin has achieved what he wished to achieve and is ready to be friendly. All the same we might keep a wary eye on a friend who carries a very big stick.

GOING NEAR THE WATER

BATHING SUIT DESIGNERS are at a dead end. Their efforts to reduce women's swim costumes to a patterned film of sheer nothingness have been so successful that mermaids cannot possibly wear less without being totally indecent.

Now the designers are turning to conservatism in their creations.

Glancing back into history, it is found that up to the middle of the 18th century bathers wore only what Nature endowed them with. The Greeks would have thought anyone mad who dressed up to go in the water. When civilization became more "civilized" sea bathers ventured out into the brine under cover of a "bathing machine"—an umbrella-like contraption which supposedly protected them from the curious. But even in those days ladies wore floor-length flannel robes tied around their necks, as a further measure of protection.

A radical departure from these was a voluminous suit with baggy pantaloons, thick, long-sleeved dress to the throat and an abundance of frills and flourishes.

In the mid-eighties the leading designer of the time popularized a daring one-piece, short-sleeved affair which covered the wearer from knees to neck. Bound to maintain their shapeliness at all times, women wore their corset beneath this stunning outfit.

The "briefies" of today were promoted by the sun bathing craze which resulted in diaper suits, sarongs, strapless types and countless other "G" string varieties. In addition to seeing how scant their creations can be, designers are giving careful consideration to the materials best suited for this application.

LETTERBOX

POLITICAL FRUSTRATION

Editor, Daily News:
I read with approval your editorial in which you stated "it is the eleventh hour" for our older political parties. Truly it is.

Ours is supposed to be a democratic government. Does that not mean that our Parliament is supposed to govern as the majority of the people will? Do they? A recent example is the margarine question which should not be a question. A minority is against it, the majority for it, yet the minority wins. A past example was the conscription issue. You will recall others too numerous to mention.

A few members in the cabinet decide to put through a law. Then the party followers are told they must abide by it. Can you see a resemblance to the Moscow politburo? I can. During a year's residence in Ottawa, I attended regularly the nightly sessions of Parliament from the Ladies' Gallery. I am only sorry that it is an experience that every Canadian citizen cannot have at least once. Perhaps it would shake the lethargy from many Canadian voters.

Our representatives seem to care more for political prestige (whatever that means) than for trying to do good for us and our country.

I do not believe in Socialism, not for Canada. I think our party system could be the best form of government in this world if our party members would forget party politics and the dishonesty and corruption that goes with them and do the job for which they are elected and paid—the job of governing as we wish to be governed.

What choice have I and thousands more in the next election? To vote for the same thing again as is in now, the counterpart of it or the alternative—Socialism? Yet it is my duty to vote and, however I cast my ballot, it will be with the knowledge that I am voting for a party in which I have no trust, respect or belief.
MRS. M. STRAND.

DUSTY ROADS

Editor, Daily News:
What is the city going to do about dusty roads? Couldn't they get a water sprinkler to take away this filthy dust. It is not sanitary when our children have to swallow this dust into which men spit on the street. We come out clean but we go home as if we have been rolling in the dust.

Thanking you for your space.
MRS. ROSE BOXALLING.

LONDON, 9.—The Thames Embankment will have a new landmark when the sloop Wellington, which was required by the Honorable Company of Master Mariners for use as headquarters is moored at Temple Steps.

IXWORTH, Suffolk, Eng., 9.—Ashes of Roman fires believed lit 1,700 years ago were found here.

THE BATTLE OF THE FLOOD

The cattle grazed on hillside green,
And orchards hung in bloom;
With hopeful heart, the farmer stood,
Upon rich land, and all looked good,
No thought there was of gloom.

But the mighty river Fraser,
Which can be friend or foe,
Did see the havoc she could play,
And with her power night and day,
She filled men's hearts with woe.

Towns and farmlands, highways all,
Of these she heeded not;
In her path she left but fear,
Uprooting homes with memories dear,
While owners refuge sought.

Yet as this battle forth does rage,
Men harken to the call;
They rally forth in time of need,
To fight a single cause indeed,
While selfish thoughts do fall.

Courageously they man the dykes,
And pass bags filled with sand;
Into the night with all their might,
They sweat and toil to win the fight,
And save their precious land.

There still is hope for all mankind,
Where greed does oft prevail;
For here men work as waters roar,
Side by side till the battle's o'er,
We pray they may not fail.

—Helen Wylie.

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

(June 11, 1913)

The civic finance committee recommended to city council that the speeding bylaw be enforced and to "prosecute offenders regardless of who they may be." Alderman Collart suggested that speed limit signs be placed on bridges.

The highest temperature was recorded when the thermometer reached 78 degrees, according to Dominion Meteorologist H. O. Crewe. The highest reading for 1922 was 82.

The Northern B. C. Agricultural and Industrial Association indicated at a meeting that it would have to have greater financial assistance from the city if a fair was to be possible in 1923.

(June 11, 1923)

The Borealis, of Atlin Fisheries, arrived in port with between 50,000 and 60,000 pounds of halibut. The captain reported rough weather for the time of year. On one day, he said, the sea was so stormy that he had trouble picking up the men in the dories.

According to the monthly weather summary, average temperature for May, 1913, was 48.4 degrees. Highest temperature was 62 and lowest 36. Precipitation for the month was 6.75 inches.

CIVIC CARNIVAL MARINE EXHIBIT

Date of Port Day Set for August 26

Marine industrial exhibits will have a prominent place at the Civic Centre Carnival this year, if plans of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Port Day committee mature. The display will be a part of the committee's 1948 project and will feature marine engines, ship's gear and sea products.

At the monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber last night, Port Day Committee Chairman Stuart Furk said that the date for Port Day had been set for August 26, the Thursday of Carnival week. He appealed for the active support of Junior Chamber members.

Al Manson, treasurer of the Port Day committee, said that plans were being made to have the industrial exhibit in the Civic Centre and that space had been tentatively allotted. The exhibits would remain on display for the whole of Carnival Week as part of the show.

Industrial firms are being contacted to have them prepare exhibits.

The meeting went on record as favoring the restoration of chlorination of the city's water supply and voted to inform City Council of its position in the matter.

Three voting delegates will be sent by the Junior Chamber to the 1948 convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, which will be held at Juneau, Alaska in the third week in September. No delegates were named last night however.

The meeting welcomed two new members, Robert Howard Hoban and Douglas Pitt-Brook. Attendance at the meeting was 20, with two guests.

Guest speaker was Frank T. Davies, of Ottawa, superintendent of radio propagation for the Defence Research Board, who spoke on the background and uses of ionospheric research in short wave radio transmission. Dr. R. G. Large, president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, represented that body.

DYING GAUL.—This classic of antiquity is perhaps the best known of the Pergamon school where the sculptors Isogonus, Phrymachus and Antigonos celebrated in a series of bronze statues the victories of kings over the Gauls. The Gallic warrior has just stabbed himself after defeat. This masterpiece is in the Capitoline museum at Rome.

Highly delighted with the reception which had been accorded them here and evidently imbued with fine impressions of Prince Rupert, nineteen prominent club women from various parts of the United States passed through here Wednesday afternoon on the Princess Louise returning south after making the Alaska trip.

It was a week ago today that the party was greeted here by Mayor Nora Arnold and others as they passed through the city bound north. Mrs. Arnold, Miss Muriel Vance, Mrs. L. M. Gordon, Theo Collart and Alf Rivett provided cars to drive them around the city and they saw various points of interest. The drive ended up with a visit to the Civic Centre where refreshments were served.

Copious notes were taken by the visiting women and Prince Rupert will, no doubt, derive some valuable publicity.

TAXIMEN DOWN HIGH SCHOOL

The High School fastball team went down to defeat before 99 Taxi Wednesday night in their first game of the season at Gyro Park when an eighth-inning error allowed the Taximen to bring in two runs to settle the score at 10-9 in their favor.

No example of inspired fastball, the game was well larded with errors on both sides, especially in the second base position where Laurie of High School and Gurvich of 99 Taxi each marked up three boners.

For 99 Taxi, the game was the second victory of the season. They defeated Gordon and Anderson 10-9 on May 29.

The Taximen opened the scoring in the first inning with two runs, then subsided until the sixth when they scored four more. They marked up two more in the seventh and two in the eighth.

High School failed to score until the fourth when they brought in two runs. The fifth was their big inning when five runners came home. Their eighth and ninth runs were scored in the seventh.

The students apparently had the game well under control until the eighth. Art Olson pitched until that inning, then was relieved by Sunberg, who plainly had tough luck.

Sunberg had two down in the eighth when Pierce got on base on an error by Laurie. Then Forman singled and Gurvich got on base on an error which allowed Pierce and Forman to score.

Olson allowed seven hits, struck out six and walked five in seven innings, while Pilfold, who pitched for 99 Taxi, allowed 13 hits, struck out four and walked two in nine innings. Sunberg in one inning allowed one hit and struck out one.

SCREWBALL FASTBALL TONIGHT

What is being billed as the "Battle of the Century" is scheduled to take place tonight at Gyro Fastball Park when the City Fastball Association puts on a benefit display in aid of the provincial Emergency Flood Relief campaign.

Whether it will be fastball or not is a moot question since it is to be a costume affair with a considerable amount of clowning. Billed to clash in this epic are Alex Slater's Seagoing Slaves and Frank Hicks' Fraser Street Farmers.

According to Rup-Rec Director Neil Ross, Lionel Holtby is to be umpire-in-chief and may administer justice with a cane. It may be that type of game.

Anyway, for those who take their fastball seriously, there will be a "legitimate" preliminary featuring Bob Moore's Mighty Mites from King Edward School and Jack Evans' Grade Sevens from Booth Junior High.

Art Murray will handle the public address system.

Savoys Defeat Lodgemen 10-6

Easy Victory in City Baseball League

Savoys claimed their fourth victory of the baseball season at Roosevelt Park when they vaulted over the drooping Moose to win the regular Thursday night fixture by a score of 10-6 after taking an early lead that was scarcely challenged in the nine innings.

The win gives the Hotelmen a record of four victories against one loss and clear-cut leadership in the league. Merchants with three wins and two losses are second and Moose with four losses and no wins, bring up the rear.

Savoys took an initial lead of two runs in the first inning when Bruce Simundson and Nick Pavlikis got on base on fielders' errors. In the second, however, they really got into their stride, clouting Moose

SHORT SPORT

Temperamental Chuck Campbell, Canadian and United States singles sculling champion, resigned by request from the Toronto Argonaut Rowing club 12 years ago following a fracas with coach Don Paul. "Lone Wolf" of Canada's 1936 Olympic team, Campbell made his own way to Germany but failed to win major points for the Dominion.

Archworth and about $12,000 of the bettors' money were left at the post in the running of the $5,000-added Orpen Memorial Handicap at Toronto's Long Branch track nine years ago today. The 1939 King's Plate winner slipped far behind in a race that saw the runner-up in the 1938 Plate race, Mona Bell, head the field.

Reminiscences

By W.J. and Reflections

This is the height of the flood crisis. The news from the Fraser and the Columbia continues ominous. By no spurt of "wanting to believe the best" could it be reasoned that the situation there today is getting any better. It's all just plain bad. Those who are in a position to give aid keep on trying to picture themselves in the same plight.

Broom began in Prince Rupert in an insignificant way but, by the Lord Harry, how it has flourished. The bright yellow flowers, shaped like pea-blossoms, never need attention. The hardy little bushes increase and multiply, giving touches of golden glory to whole hillsides and vigorously cheering up the sober changeless green.

More pulp mills are being planned in different parts of British Columbia with the great industry at Port Edward already advanced. It seems like only yesterday since a promoter who was a stranger to discouragement would arrive here two or three to be pursued by reporters who would, after listening to a brief reference to the weather, receive an announcement. It was that nothing, that day, could be given out for publication. Subject to confirmation, an analysis of what it was proposed to do, would be available not later than one more week. Well, that ought to be good for pretty fair headlines.

Men still chew tobacco but somehow cuspidors appear to have gone out of style. Anyway they are less frequently seen (and heard) than in the past. We looked up the dictionary to see how cuspidor is spelled and could not even find the word. Located custom, and cushion and custody but cuspidor simply was not there. Reckon it will have to be spelt. Well, if they are really disappearing, it will be just too bad. For one thing it will mean extinction of a unique reform of marksmanship performed through sudden compression of the lips with the cuspidor for target. There were many excellent shots. Sometimes the range might be all of twenty-five feet.

Suggestions have lately been heard to the general effect that the radio should be given a spot of improvement and all that sort of jolly banter. Still, as the parrot said when he glanced into the stew, there's something in it. Weather was warm and stuffy, the other evening, and after writhing through the play of jumbled, frenzied senseless jazz, one felt all hot and bothered. An then came refreshment. And how! A sweet voice, singing "My Ain Country." It was even better than a cool gin fizz.

Southern California possesses an interesting history and material riches, a famous climate and a progressive people, scenic beauty and Hollywood, far-reaching trade and the fruits of the field—but Southern California has no thousands miles of winding blue waters, mountain guarded and unfolding new gems of loveliness at every turn.

STUART FURK IS J.C. PRESIDENT

Term of Office to Be Extended in View of Convention

Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce last night elected S. J. Furk president for the 1948-49 term of office. Mr. Furk, who was formerly secretary of the organization, replaces A. P. Crawley who retired after more than a year as president.

The meeting also elected four other officers and a slate of eight directors who will assume their duties July 1. Because the B.C. regional convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada is to be held at Prince Rupert in August, 1949, the newly elected officers and directors will carry on as a convention committee until September 1, 1949, instead of retiring after 12 months in office. The new officers were all elected by acclamation after being

CEEING... with CEE

There was a time when artificial breezes were hard to create but now that electric fans are in better supply one can have a little wind disturbance all one's own and remain coolly aloof to the sun's best efforts.

When the Sherman tanks rolled into battle to help chase Hitler's bad boys from their European strongholds, a little gas stove went with them as part of the crew's cooking equipment. Today a similar stove, that will almost go into a coat pocket, is available. When set up it looks very much like a gasoline lantern but it has a heavy metal case the top of which can be used for heating water or for boiling small quantities of food.

Cutting onions is a chore that brings tears to most people's eyes and for those who weep in profusion a manufacturer has turned out a remedy. It is a small glass jar with a handle like a cup. In the bottom of the jar is a chopping block and running through the metal cover is a plunger with crossed cutting blades attached. The plunger is fitted with a spring so all one has to do is push the plunger down and it bounces up again as soon as it is released.

Finding a cloth to wipe up dirty marks around the house is often a problem. Of course, a rag can be used and discarded but that is waste. Sometimes the dish cloth or floor cloth may be used for mopping up operations but then there remains the chore of trying to get the cloth clean again. Now some smart manufacturer has utilized a combination of plastic, rayon and cotton and produced a washable cloth which will come clean after a dipping and a squeezing in warm soapy water. They come in small and large sizes and in a variety of attractive colors. They can be used as towels, face cloths, window wipers and in numerous other ways. Two-piece play togs are catching the eyes of girls who are holiday-bound. The main garment is a romper-like affair with blouse and bloomer shorts joined. When you want to look dressed up there is a matching skirt to complete the outfit.

Kilts are an oddity in Canada and even the Highland Regiments are being parted from their plaid skirts but Scotchmen and others who like the tartans may brighten their shirt with a bit of Scotland in the form of a genuine all-wool tartan tie. Each tie has the tartan name on it so one can be sure of one's clan when they wear one of these new imports.

SCREEN STARS ARE COMPARED

Actor Says Personality Depends on Brains, Ambition and Loveliness

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Actor Wendell Corey, a brave man, has dared to compare Manhattan's show girls with Hollywood's cuties.

"They're brighter on Broadway," said Corey, "but they're lovelier in Hollywood."

Corey is the boy that produced Hal Wallis drafted from the New York production "Dream Girl" to appear opposite Loretta Young in "The Accused" at Paramount. He's supposed to make a villainess of Miss Young in the picture.

"Every girl with or without talent heads for New York when the yen to see her name in lights outweighs her innate modesty," Corey expounded. "No one will ever be able to lick that small-town-girl-makes-good-in-big-city legend."

"That's why New York's show girls are so ambitious. They've thrown away practically everything they ever had to make a go of it in Gotham. They can't go home without soliciting ridicule."

After making certain that no talent scouts were listening, he added his opinion of Hollywood talent.

"They're gorgeous. But they don't have the drive exhibited by New York girls. Like Helen of Troy, their faces and figures are their fortune. They are photogenic, and they know all about cameras and microphones. In a way they are far more sophisticated than their eastern sisters."

"There's only one answer, and it's simple," he concluded. "Put brains, ambition and loveliness in one person and you have a star. The three adds up to personality, and that's the commodity—sometimes erroneously referred to as sex appeal—which keeps show business in business."

er Hal Wallis drafted from the New York production "Dream Girl" to appear opposite Loretta Young in "The Accused" at Paramount. He's supposed to make a villainess of Miss Young in the picture.

"Every girl with or without talent heads for New York when the yen to see her name in lights outweighs her innate modesty," Corey expounded. "No one will ever be able to lick that small-town-girl-makes-good-in-big-city legend."

"That's why New York's show girls are so ambitious. They've thrown away practically everything they ever had to make a go of it in Gotham. They can't go home without soliciting ridicule."

After making certain that no talent scouts were listening, he added his opinion of Hollywood talent.

TO AN ELEPHANT'S BACK ON WINGS OF LOVE—Leave it to a French girl, the daughter of a well-known French circus manager, to come up with a new twist in wedding day transportation. Miss Josette Bouglione, and her animal-tamer husband-to-be, Roland Prin, are shown astride an elephant, on their way to be married at the Cathedral of Bordeaux, France.

TERRACE MILLS KEEP CUTTING

TERRACE—In spite of the tie-up of the railway due to flood conditions, Terrace sawmills have been able to keep in steady operation. Fortunately, there were about thirty cars in the local yard when the railway went out of commission and the sawmills were able to keep loading their shipments to Eastern Canada which will start moving within the next few days when trains start moving again. Principal lumber shippers from here now include Little, Haugland & Kerr, Sande Sawmills, Carl Pohle, Fraborne Sawmills and Lakelse Sawmills.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

EARLY KILLING OF GARDEN PESTS SECRET OF SUCCESS

Most insect enemies of the garden can be killed by D.D.T. By spraying or dusting with these two insecticides, either singly or in combination, the amateur gardener can keep his garden free from insects provide that he follows the most important rule of all, which is to spray or dust before any damage is done.

How often the beginner, sadly inspecting a row of plants which have been decimated asks: "What can I do to protect them?"

"Too late now," must be the answer. "But if you have dusted them with rotenone or arsenic when you saw the first beetle, you would still have fine plants."

Thus time is, as the lawyers say, of the essence; and that is one reason why dusting is favored by many veteran gardeners rather than spraying. When trouble is spotted, the duster can be at work in a fraction of the time it would take to mix a spray.

Just mix your rotenone and D.D.T. and have it ready as soon as the plants in your garden are tall enough to be toothsome.

Lay the dust on the plants lightly about as thickly as a coat of face powder; but be sure to get it into every joint and crevice, and on both sides of the leaves. A duster which blows the dust from near the soil surface upward is most effective. It gets the underside of the leaves as it rises, then falls on the upper portions.

The same kind of dust will dispose of flower garden pests, also; and the rules apply for the protection of flowers, as for vegetables. But while vegetables grow in rows in sunny gardens have relatively little trouble, flowers have a good deal. Dusting sulphur and ferimate are the fungicides which are easiest to use and most effective in the flower garden.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Local interest in the arrival of the ss. Prince George tomorrow is increasing fast, and no doubt about all who are able to, will be on the waterfront Saturday morning. The many Los Angeles visitors will be given an appropriate welcome. The new steamship is 350 feet in length.

Huge catches of king crab continue to be made by the Seattle cannery ship, Pacific Explorer, now in the Behring Sea. One dragger said it caught 2,400 crabs in a one hour's drag. The Pacific Explorer sailed from Seattle, March 26, and when last heard from was near Amak Island on the north side of the Aleutian Peninsula.

A Tacoma Congressman, T. C. Tollefson, is charging that lack of federal appropriations is causing a depletion of the United States fisheries. He is urging an organized federal fisheries program similar to that of agriculture. He says that too long, Washington has looked on the commercial fisheries as "a forgotten stepchild, rather than a vital part of economic life."

The halibut fishing vessel Cascade, Capt. Albert Strom, recently caught a 43 pound red snapper. The weight does not often exceed anywhere between 6 and 12 pounds. It was brought up from a depth of 600 feet between Coronation and Warren Islands.

TROWBRIDGE, Eng.,—The Cheverill family have buried 15,000 peopole in Trowbridge in 92 years.

WOLLASTON, Northamptonshire, England,—When Charles Huddle, 86, visits one of his six daughters at Bedford, 16 miles away, he walks there and back—four hours each way—the same day.

CHAPTER HEARS FROM PRINCESS

Duchess of Edinburgh I.O.D.E. Holds Meeting

At a meeting of Duchess of Edinburgh Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, at the home of Mrs. Ivette, 8th Avenue East, a letter was read from H.R.H. The Duchess of Edinburgh in answer to the one written telling the Duchess of Her namesake new Chapter. The letter from Her Royal Highness' lady-in-waiting said:

"I am pleased by The Princess Elizabeth to thank you for your letter and to say how interested Her Royal Highness was to hear that you have formed a Chapter for British Brides of Canadian Soldiers.

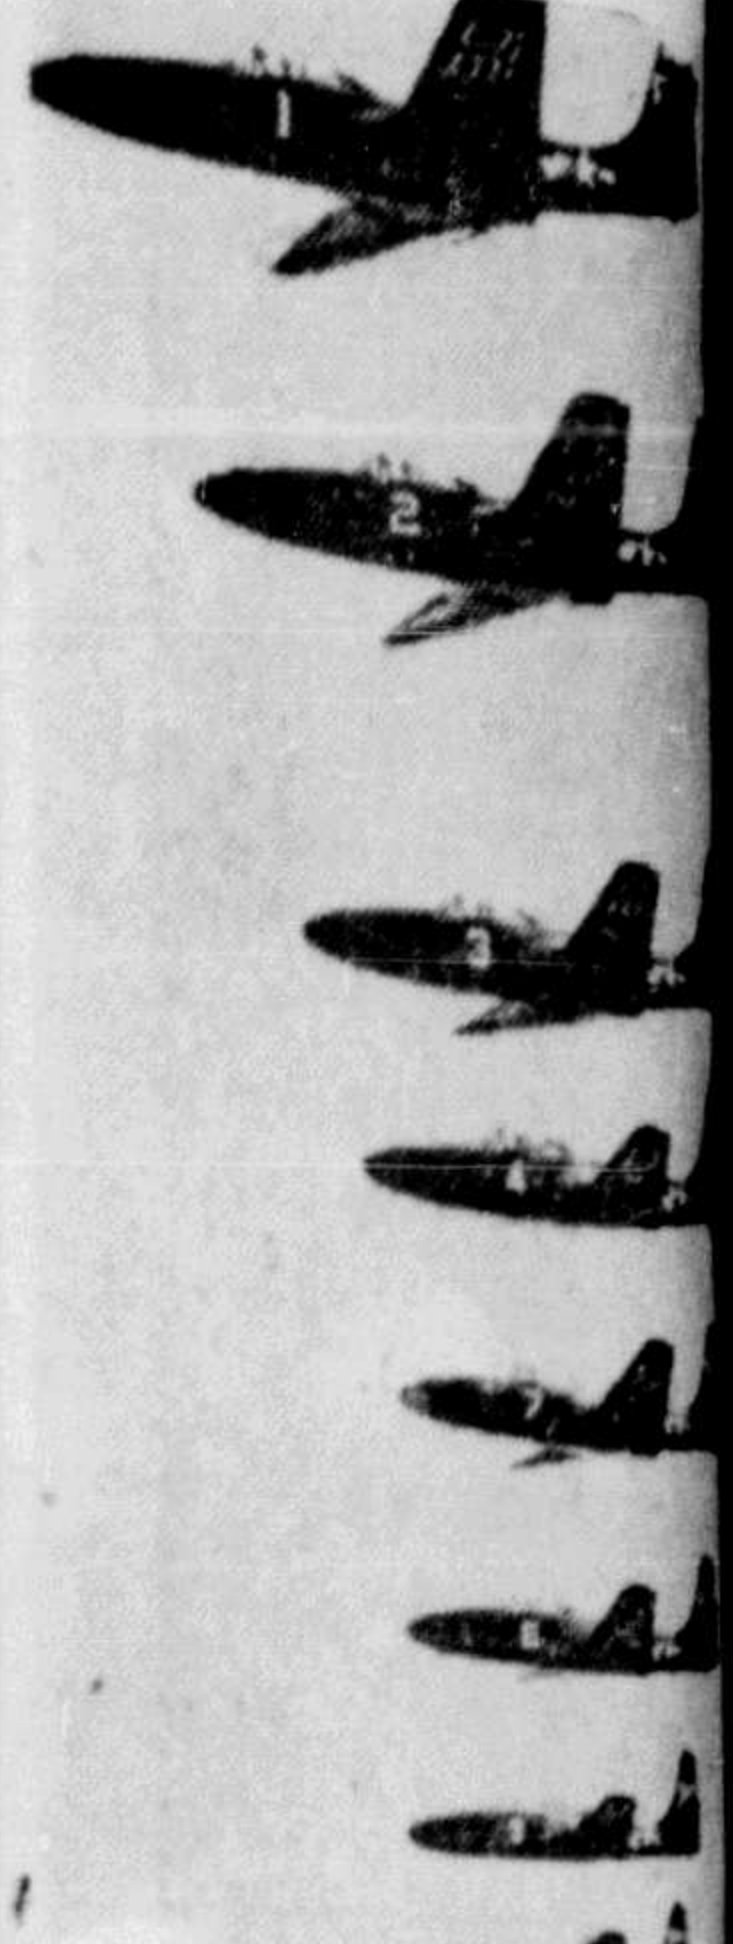

The Princess very much appreciated your kind thought in writing to tell her of the Chapter's activities."

The forthcoming tea and musicale in aid of the B. C. Flood Relief Fund was discussed and all the members showed keen interest that the affair should be a great success.

Two new members were initiated into the Chapter, this making a total of 11 since the Chapter was first started.

All members were in favour of keeping the Chapter open for the summer months instead of closing as is the usual practice. Delicious refreshments were served. The monthly raffle was won by Mrs. Irene Stiles. The singing was adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem.

AIR PIGGY-BACK—A group of U. S. marine "phantom" fighters are shown one after the other as they stream through the North Carolina skies. The squadron is stationed at Cherry Point, North Carolina, with the holder of the world's speed record, Lieut-Col. Marion E. Carl, Hubbard, Ore., as its commanding officer.
