SCAN ANGRY WATERS—Practically the entire population of Inverness, N.S., a small mining town on western Cape Breton turned out to search for the bodies of four people drowned in choppy seas Wednesday night. The tragedy took place after a 40-man chain, attempting to save the victims, was broken by the force of the waves. Ten persons were swept out to sea and later thrown up on the beach slightly injured. Here a group of Inverness residents scan the ocean for bodies of the men who were swept out to sea by a strong undertow. (C.P. Photo)

COBBLER'S DEATH PROVES MYSTERY

ST. CATHARINE'S, Ont.—An air of mystery today surrounded the police investigation of the death of a man whose badly decomposed body was found under the cement floor of a patent medicine store. The body was discovered late yesterday and neighbors said they were certain it was that of John Sanbornski, 50-year-old Russian-born shoe repair man, who disappeared July 18.

ATTACKER OF GIRL SOUGHT

Police are continuing the search for a moron who criminally assaulted a 13-year-old Indian girl at Port Edward on Saturday. The girl was commencing to regain consciousness yesterday at the Prince Rupert General Hospital where she has been a patient since she was found unconscious after the attack. ### BODY IS TAKEN FROM HARBOR

Members of the crew of the seiner Wortham T., from which Christopher Matthews, native fisherman from Masset, was believed to have fallen overboard last week, recovered the body by means of dragging operations late yesterday afternoon. Grappling hooks brought the body out of the water from below where the vessel was moored at the Cow Bay floats. Constables G. Redhead and F. R. Gibson of the city police took charge of the remains and delivered them to the B. C. Undertakers. An inquest will be held.

LANDING GEAR JAMMED

TORONTO—After its mechanical landing gear had failed, the new Canadian jet transport plane had to circle for three hours in the air over Malton airport today and finally the gear was operated manually. One of the reasons for the plane staying up was of fire from a possible crash. However, it was brought down safely.

CANNOT RETURN HOME

He appreciated the warmth of the invitation to go to Washington, he said, but a sense of duty impelled him to remain in Japan at this critical time.

Serious Crime Rare

IT WAS A SHOCKING week-end in Prince Rupert. In this long law-abiding community we are not used to such chapters as was experienced including murder and criminal moronic assault. But we cannot always be free of crime such as we have been over a long period of years. As we progress in other ways it is to be anticipated that undesirable elements may at times crop up. The thing is we are not used to them and, when they do occur, they create more of a stir than might be occasioned in more hardened places than this.

SCHOOL BYLAW VITAL

PRINCE RUPERT needs many things but it needs nothing more badly than new school buildings. It has reached a point where such new buildings are completely essential in carrying on efficient and effective educational work in Prince Rupert.

With school population, according to official figures of the school board, now at a point exceeding even the peak of war years when it became necessary for the federal government to step in and provide accommodation, the city is getting along with ancient buildings long outmoded and indeed in state of near collapse.

The school board is making out a strong case in support of the bylaw which it is proposed to present to the taxpayers next month for their approval, this bylaw to provide for the financing of two new modern buildings—one a new 10-room King Edward School and the other a modern replacement unit for Booth Memorial High School.

Prince Rupert for years has had the doubtful distinction of having the poorest school buildings in the entire province of British Columbia.

The program calls for an outlay of $815,030 of which the provincial government will pay half, the remaining $407,515 to be financed by Prince Rupert school district—83.1 percent the city portion and 16.9 percent the rural portion.

The net annual cost to the taxpayer per $500 of land assessment will be $7.65—which would appear to be a reasonable enough charge in view of the benefits to be derived.

The school bylaw is one which should receive a complete measure of support.

ON DRINKING TEA

ALTHOUGH TEA is strictly rationed in Britain, there is still more tea drunk there than in any country in the world. Tea drinking, of course, is almost ritualistic in Britain. In British history it is recorded that the first words Queen Victoria said when she came to the throne were: "Bring me a cup of tea." Believe it or not during the war tea was more popular with soldiers, sailors and airmen than any other beverage. When sirens wailed over Britain tea was the drink that air raid wardens and the bombed-out demanded.

High adventure, big business and homely charm are all blended with the history of tea drinking in Britain.

THE BIG WAREHOUSE

PERMITTING a building the size of the war-installed warehouse on the local waterfront to remain empty and unused and to have its future a matter of uncertainty is not a very satisfactory situation. But prospects of its being utilized, indeed, appear nebulous. Since then, its utility has ceased. Efforts to dispose of the place, or to attract the attention of any group, or individual with a practicable plan or idea have not been encouraging. The plant, one of the largest and finest in Canada cannot be left unemployed indefinitely. Yet, idle it is, and how much longer, no one, apparently, is able to say.

The city deplors this, but facts are facts. To see such a splendid structure dismantled and disappear cannot but arouse regret after we had hoped it might mean so much.

FRUIT WORKERS STRIKE THREAT

KELOWNA — A $25,000,000 fruit crop in the Okanagan Valley may rot on the trees if a strike, threatened by picker and canmery workers, is called during the next week. The possibility loomed last night with announcement by W. Sands, secretary of the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers, that the strike may be called on a few hours notice.

LOOKING BACK

25 Years Ago

(August 16, 1924)
Squadron Leader Stuart MacLaren, British round-the-world flier, who crashed on the Kommandorski Islands on a west-to-east globe circling flight, was invited to visit Prince Rupert while en route to Vancouver by boat.

Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, said in an address here that he would recommend not only that a new ship be built at Prince Rupert for the coastal tourist trade, but that a second vessel and a suitable hotel for the tourist business be constructed.

Mrs. F. G. Dawson, wife of one of Prince Rupert's pioneer business men and a director of the C.N.R., died in hospital after a sudden seizure. She was 48 years old and had been active in social and community organizations.

10 Years Ago

(August 16, 1939)
Two carloads of wheat, the first to be delivered to the local elevator since the winter of 1937 were expected here daily. It was the intention of the government to fill the elevator from the 1939 crop.

A seaplane carrying H. R. McMillan and a number of B.C. Packers executives on a canyery inspection tour was unable to get off the water and was forced to taxi back to a wharf here. The group sailed later on their trip on a company boat.

Fear was felt for the safety of Mrs. John Brentzen and Carl Brentze of Port Simpson after their gas boat was found drifting off Tsimpsean peninsula. The boat was found with its engine running but no one aboard.

Italian Children Aided by U.N.

A young street musician plays to a cafe on a Naples piazza, while his crippled "partner" collects the money. Sights such as this one are common in postwar Italy, where lack of proper food and treatment is turning many youngsters into professional beggars. To counteract this situation, the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) is now providing meals, clothing and to almost 1,000,000 and expectant mothers inoculating against tr-

Ray Reflects . . . . . . and Reminisces

Queen of the Hudson Bay Company fleet is called Prince Rupert, the new vessel replacing the Nascope for service in Hudson's Bay and the Arctic. She is an all-steel ship of 1,020 tons. The selection is fitting, seeing Prince Rupert was first chairman of the Company of Gentleman Adventurers. The company should show a natural enough interest in a namesake city on the Pacific coast by looking things over out here, every now and then.

The fact of the British House of Commons having recently sat for a straight 36 hours is regarded in some quarters as an achievement, but it's far from equaling what took place in Ottawa in 1913. There, the House met at 3 p.m. on a Monday to consider Borden's bill to present the British Admiralty with three dreadnoughts and sat right through without a break until midnight the following Saturday—a stretch of 115 hours. One member appeared once, with pillow and night cap. The bill, of course, was lost. Some were on their feet six or seven hours at one time.

Germany held a general election during the week-end and Communist support was not strong. It looks like admission to the Council, representing Europe, at Strasbourg, for without Germany, such a political structure is not possible. This much was noted about the election. The war did not end German arrogance and presumption. There must be a direct drop of at least twenty feet and that's a long way to fall.

Whether or not the annual exhibition at Prince Rupert were its welcome out is a matter of opinion but it is a fact that some feel it would have been good judgment to have kept the fair going. It has been years since a fair, and it won't be long now before this city and district, with so much later development having taken place Prince Rupert would be well advised to exhibit again.

Masset Man Succumbs

A Masset business man, Harry Robinson Frost, died in hospital here Monday after a long illness. He entered hospital a month ago, being flown in a seriously ill condition from the Islands. He was 76 years old.

Born at Snaite, Suffolk, England, Mr. Frost came to Canada at the turn of the century, planning to go to the Klondyke. He settled, however, at Kenora, Ontario, where he lived until 1920.

In that year, he moved to the Graham Island community of Buckley Bay where he entered the logging business. Later, he settled in Masset where he opened a store. He was also a notary public and stipendiary magistrate. He was always active in community work.

During the last decade, illness forced him to withdraw more and more from business.

He is survived by his wife, who is in the city at present, and one son, Stephen Frost of Nanaimo.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon.

RESPONSE FAIR TO T.B. CLINIC

The two travelling tuberculosis x-ray clinics which began a survey in this district Monday handled 355 persons on the first day at Prince Rupert and Port Edward. The mobile unit at Nelson Bros. cannery gave x-rays to 205 during the day while the "breakdown" machine in the Health Unit building handled 105.

Health Unit officials described the number as "fair" and anticipate a better response to the free health service during the week.

The "breakdown" unit will remain at the Health Unit building for the next fortnight while the mobile van will visit various industrial plants in the city before proceeding to the interior.

The mobile unit remained at Nelson Bros. up to noon today, then moved to the city. The Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. plant is scheduled to be the first industrial plant to be visited.

INDUSTRIAL DISPLAY IS INTERESTING

Small, but varied array of industrial exhibits featured at the Civic Centre carnival offers a fair indication of the craft and industrial products being manufactured in this growing area.

Housed in the apparatus gymnasium at the rear of the Civic Centre building, the display ranges from handicrafts to fishery products and includes a table of models of two proposed new district schools.

Primitive native handicraft with its resultant articles of unique beauty is demonstrated by Mrs. Eliza Abraham of Masset and Port Edward who sits making native baskets out of spruce roots and cedar bark. She also has on display a quantity of crocheted work. Both of these claim public attention.

The school display features models of replacements for King Edward and Booth Memorial High School with literature in support of the forthcoming bylaws.

Locally manufactured office furniture is the centre of the display of Woodbilt Products Ltd. while Mattison's Upholstering has examples of fine, locally-made home furniture. Brydes, McLean and Rudderham have a showing of office equipment.

Philpott, Evitt and Co. have a display of paint products and W. R. Love Electric Co. shows a selection of outboard marine motors, batteries, magnetos, chain drives and roller bearings.

The wide selection of seafood products produced on this coast are the basis of the Nelson Bros. Fisheries and British Columbia Packers displays.

The industrial exhibition, which is being held this year for the second time since the war in connection with the carnival, was organized by Ed. Mussellam chairman of the committee.

Battery Heads Soccer League

Defeated Canadian Legion 1-0 Monday Night

A brilliant run by Darrow Gomez in which he beat four players and then drove the ball well clear of Krause gave the Heavy Battery the only goal of last night's Mobley Cup football fixture. The win puts the Battery at the head of the competition.

The Battery started with only eight players but Krause was the first keeper to be tested. Sunberg and Eby defended well as the Battery forced play down hill. The Legion had only ten men. Gomez defended well and then Dunbar just managed to block Cornwell. Bond came out to save when a goal seemed assured and Dunbar relieved the pressure by driving the return shot outside his own upright for a corner. Greer stopped Gomez but Murray shot past from Bowman's pass. Morgan then came on. Krause saved well after Ward and Pavlikis had engaged in good combination. Gomez made a good run and Pavlikis shot clear across the goal with no one up to convert. Pavlikis hit the crossbar. Eby cleared well. Murray's free kick was fisted away by Morgan. Pavlikis and Ward got away but Krause saved on the line. Sunberg cleared strongly and Morgan had to have. Greer broke up an attack and Eby stopped Ward.

The Battery had eleven players for the second half but the Legion had only ten. Play opened fast with both forwards lines attacking well. Morgan fisted the ball off Cornwell's head. Eby and Sunberg stopped Pavlikis and Vuckovich. Murray centred dangerously but Dunbar cleared. Morgan fisted away a corner kick. Pavlikis and Ward broke through and Pavlikis beat his man but his shot hit the bar. The Battery forwards got away again from Gomez's pass but Pavlikis's shot went right across fruitlessly. Smith broke through but shot weakly. Sunberg cleared in grand style but Gomez beat four men and finished with a shot away out of Krause's reach to give the Battery the lead. The Legion attacked and, from a free kick on the penalty line, Cornwell drove just past a grand try. Krause saved well and then Mazzone just spoiled Cornwell by driving the ball past for a corner. Smith, Wyatt and Cornwell attacked but Dunbar cleared. Following a corner, Morgan just saved right on the goal line—the Legion's ten men were putting on pressure. Mazzone cleared and then Veitch broke up an attack. Krause saved from Ward. Dunbar miskicked and Cornwell was through but Morgan saved. It took the combined efforts of Veitch and Morgan to check Cornwell a moment later. Greer and Sunberg defended well. Krause saved from Pavlikis and Veitch stopped Murray. Cornwell forced a corner but it was cleared. A hard-fought match ended in a 1-0 win for Battery who are now at the head of the Mobley Cup League.

Canadian Legion—Kraus, Sunberg, Eby, Bremner, Greer, Bowman, Wyatt, Smith, Cornwell, Murray.

Heavy Battery—Morgan; Mazzone, Dunbar, Bond, Veitch, Gomez, Vuckovich, Lister, Pavlikis, Parkhouse, Ward.

Referee—S. P. Woodside.
Linesmen—Halvorsen, J. N. Kelly.

FIRST CLASS MATCH

It was a first class match to watch but the Battery had the more constructive and dangerous forward line. Both defences were very good. Krause did well in goal. Sunberg turned in an grand job all through and in at his best too. Greer did a effective game at back with Eby the second half was outstanding. Bremner tried hard and Bowman did well. Wyatt was an aggressive player and very dangerous in the second half. Cornwell was the best forward was fair but ineffective at close but got little support. Murray quarters. Smith tried hard but lacked ball control. Still for ten men they did well.

Morgan was good and on one occasion lucky. Mazzone and Dunbar tackled aggressively and kicked hard. Veitch was a strong defender. Darrow Gomez was erratic at times but his great run and goal was the feature of the game. Bond did a very good "Jack of all parts" stunt. In goal at the start he saved what seemed a sure goal. Later he did well out in the field. Pavlikis and Ward gave a grand display of progressive forward play. Their passing and return passing were well controlled and effective but neither could beat Krause. Parkhouse was fast and aggressive. A newcomer Lister tried hard. Vuckovich was not as effective as usual.

The Humanities Research Council, in a brief prepared for the Commission, said much of its research in literature and ancient and modern languages could not have been undertaken without grants from the Carnegie Foundation of the United States.

The Council said it was a "significant commentary on the maturity of our culture that such an organization as the Humanities Research Council should have been financed almost entirely by grants from the United States."

Struggle In Labor

It May Come in September

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there is to be a major labor struggle in the United States, steel, coal and automobile industries it probably will come in mid-September or late September.

Simultaneous strikes in all three could set the country's economy on its ear but many industrial and union leaders are counting on a seasonal economic upturn which may ease the tension and avoid such a showdown.

Industry by industry, it looks like this

STEEL

Despite the torrent of bitter words from both industry spokesmen and Philip Murray, President of the C.I.O., before a fact-finding board in New York, there remains considerable optimism on both sides that a settlement can be reached without a shutdown of the mills.

The three-man board has a difficult job—to make recommendations which both sides will find palatable and face-saving. Murray has asked for a 12 1/2 percent increase in hourly pay.

The board may decide in the quarterly reports that at least 10 or 10 1/2 cents would be justified and that a group-insurance plan should be negotiated at once.

COAL

John L. Lewis also is interested in what Murray decides to accept. He and his soft-coal diggers, now on a three-day work week, apparently are marking time until cold weather orders spur the coal market and until stockpiles are lower.

That won't be for at least a month. Some operators want a slowdown right away but a majority indicate they would rather work three days than not at all.

Lewis wants more money for his welfare and pension fund—probably a boost from 20 cents a ton to 30 or 40 cents—and a shorter work day or week.

AUTOS

Walter Reuther and his auto workers seemingly want to wait too and see what Murray gets from the steel industry. Reuther's major contest appears to be with Ford but he can't strike at Ford before Sept. under a new Michigan State law.

Meantime, he's pressing for concessions from Chrysler. The General Motors contract is fixed, except for cost-of-living adjustments, until 1950.

Seamen Are Thrown Out

TORONTO (AP)—The Communist Canadian Seamen's Union will be kicked out of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada next month, according to indications shaping up today with the Trades and Labor Congress.

The Canadian Seamen's Union, storm centre of the ship strike which has had repercussions around the globe, has been under suspension from the 400,000-member Congress since June 3 following a year-long internal battle in the Trades and Labor Congress over communism in that organization's affiliated unions.

Next development in the fight, it is learned here, is that the Congress will recommend to the Trades and Labor Congress annual convention, opening in Calgary September 15, that the C.S.U. be ejected altogether.

The anti-communist executive has been supporting the C.S.U. as a matter of Union solidarity until pressure of the American Federation of Labor and from within its own ranks forced it to throw the union overboard.
