Worse Fraser Floods Than Ever Are Feared

Death Withdrawal From Trieste

MOSCOW (CP)—Russia has demanded the withdrawal of British and American troops from Trieste.
The demand was contained in a nine-page note handed British, French and American envoys in Moscow by Andrei Gromyko, first deputy foreign minister.
The note charged the three western countries with failing to fulfil obligations in the strategic Adriatic territory under the peace treaty with Italy, also insisted on the appointment of a governor for Trieste, a matter on which the United Nations security council has consistently failed to agree.

EAST-WEST FEUD PITS GERMAN AGAINST GERMAN — Demonstrators of the East German Communist youth organization, left, jeer a police man who stands just across the border in West Berlin after the young Reds had been bailed in efforts to storm the border. There have been many such demonstrations and rallies along the line that separates the western and eastern zones of Berlin since the threat was made that 500,000 Communist youth would march across the border into West Berlin on May 28. Western authorities say they are prepared to deal with any such eventuality.

Floods In Manitoba Situation Looking Serious As Reserve Army Hits Danger Mark

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wheels of flood prevention machinery gathered speed today as the turbulent Red River waters continued to swell. The flood level was reached today and observers said the rise was not yet over. There could be a serious situation.
Southern Manitobans in the Red River valley are prepared to move their families, livestock and furniture to higher levels. Barricades and dikes are being raised and Reserve Army units are standing by for emergency flood duties. Blasted ice jams are being dynamited.
The picture today belies an optimistic forecast of less than a week ago.

Truman Sees No Third War

FORT BENNING, Georgia (CP)—President Truman said today that he does not believe there will be a third world war. He made the declaration shortly after the United States Army had put on a flashing demonstration of its "hot war" techniques.
The President spoke informally at a luncheon before most of the top military and civilian brass of the United States armed forces.

McKnight Is Convicted

Young redheaded Stewart Thompson was acquitted yesterday afternoon in Supreme Court Assizes on a charge of breaking and entering Rance and Hardy, a grocery establishment on 3rd Avenue, on the night of December 24 while the elder, black moustached George McKnight was found guilty by a 12-man jury after an approximate 40-minute deliberation.
The jury, shuffling back to the jury section at 5 a. m., had for two days at and listened through many statements by crown witnesses and one defense witness. A short trial was expected, but unforeseen events arose such as the recalling of a few crown witnesses by George McKnight.
As the verdict was read by Foreman William Scuby, none of the two prisoners appeared too expectant.

Consulate Is Closed

United States Retaliates For Action of Prague Govt
WASHINGTON D. C. (CP)—United States Friday ordered Communist Czechoslovakia to shut down its consulate-general in Chicago not later than May 1.
The action, announced in a note to the Czech government, is in direct retaliation for orders closing libraries of the United States Information Service in Czechoslovakia and the American consulate-general in the city of Bratislava.
Joseph Chell, inspector of schools, returned to the city on the Camosun yesterday afternoon from a trip to the Namu area on official duties.

Trygve Lie— Sees Ending Of Cold War

LAKE SUCCESS, (CP)—The United Nations Secretary General cautiously indicated today that he hopes to lay some groundwork for ending the cold war during his trip to Europe and, possibly to Russia.
Trygve Lie told a final weekly press conference before sailing tomorrow that he does not expect any immediate results from scheduled talks with European leaders.
"I believe that all decent people desire in their hearts that the cold war be ended," Lie added "but it will take time. I do not expect too much."

Trouble Coming Unless Run-Off Starts At Once

VANCOUVER (CP)—There will have to be heat soon or "we may have a bigger flood than we saw in 1948," C. E. Webb, chief engineer for the Dominion Water Power Bureau, said today. Describing flood possibilities on the Fraser River, he said there is more snow on the mountains now than there was last year or the year before.
"If the Fraser River isn't well on its way up shortly after the first of May we can look for trouble."
Floods caused $30,000,000 damage in the Fraser Valley two years ago.

Large Theft Case Started

Preliminary Hearing of Former Clerk at Butedale Cannery
Preliminary hearing of Charles Alexander Taylor alias John Barrie Sanders, 41-year old former clerk at Butedale Cannery of the Canadian Fishing Co., commenced in Stipendiary Magistrate H. F. Glassey's court here today and, after hearing of two witnesses, was adjourned until next Wednesday.
Sanders is charged with stealing approximately $11,042.81 from his employers at Butedale on or about September 6, 1947, at which time a large consignment of cash disappeared from the company's office at Butedale.
The shortage was discovered after Sanders had disappeared from Butedale over a week-end allegedly without notifying the manager.
Fred Reich, who was assistant to Sanders as bookkeeper at Butedale, was one witness. He told of the money which had arrived at Butedale where Sanders had been in charge of cash. He did not see Sanders with the money or cash bag. The shortage was established following an audit.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Very unsettled weather still continued over all of British Columbia this morning as cool Pacific air continues to flow in from the west. The clouds and showers which are so general this morning should decrease slowly this afternoon and evening and the prospect is that Sunday will be sunny in nearly all sections. Temperatures will continue a little below normal although the sunny weather expected on Sunday should raise afternoon temperatures above the low fifties reported yesterday.
A Pacific storm now entering the Gulf of Alaska will be approaching the north coast tomorrow and increasing cloud and some rain is forecast for these regions by Sunday afternoon.

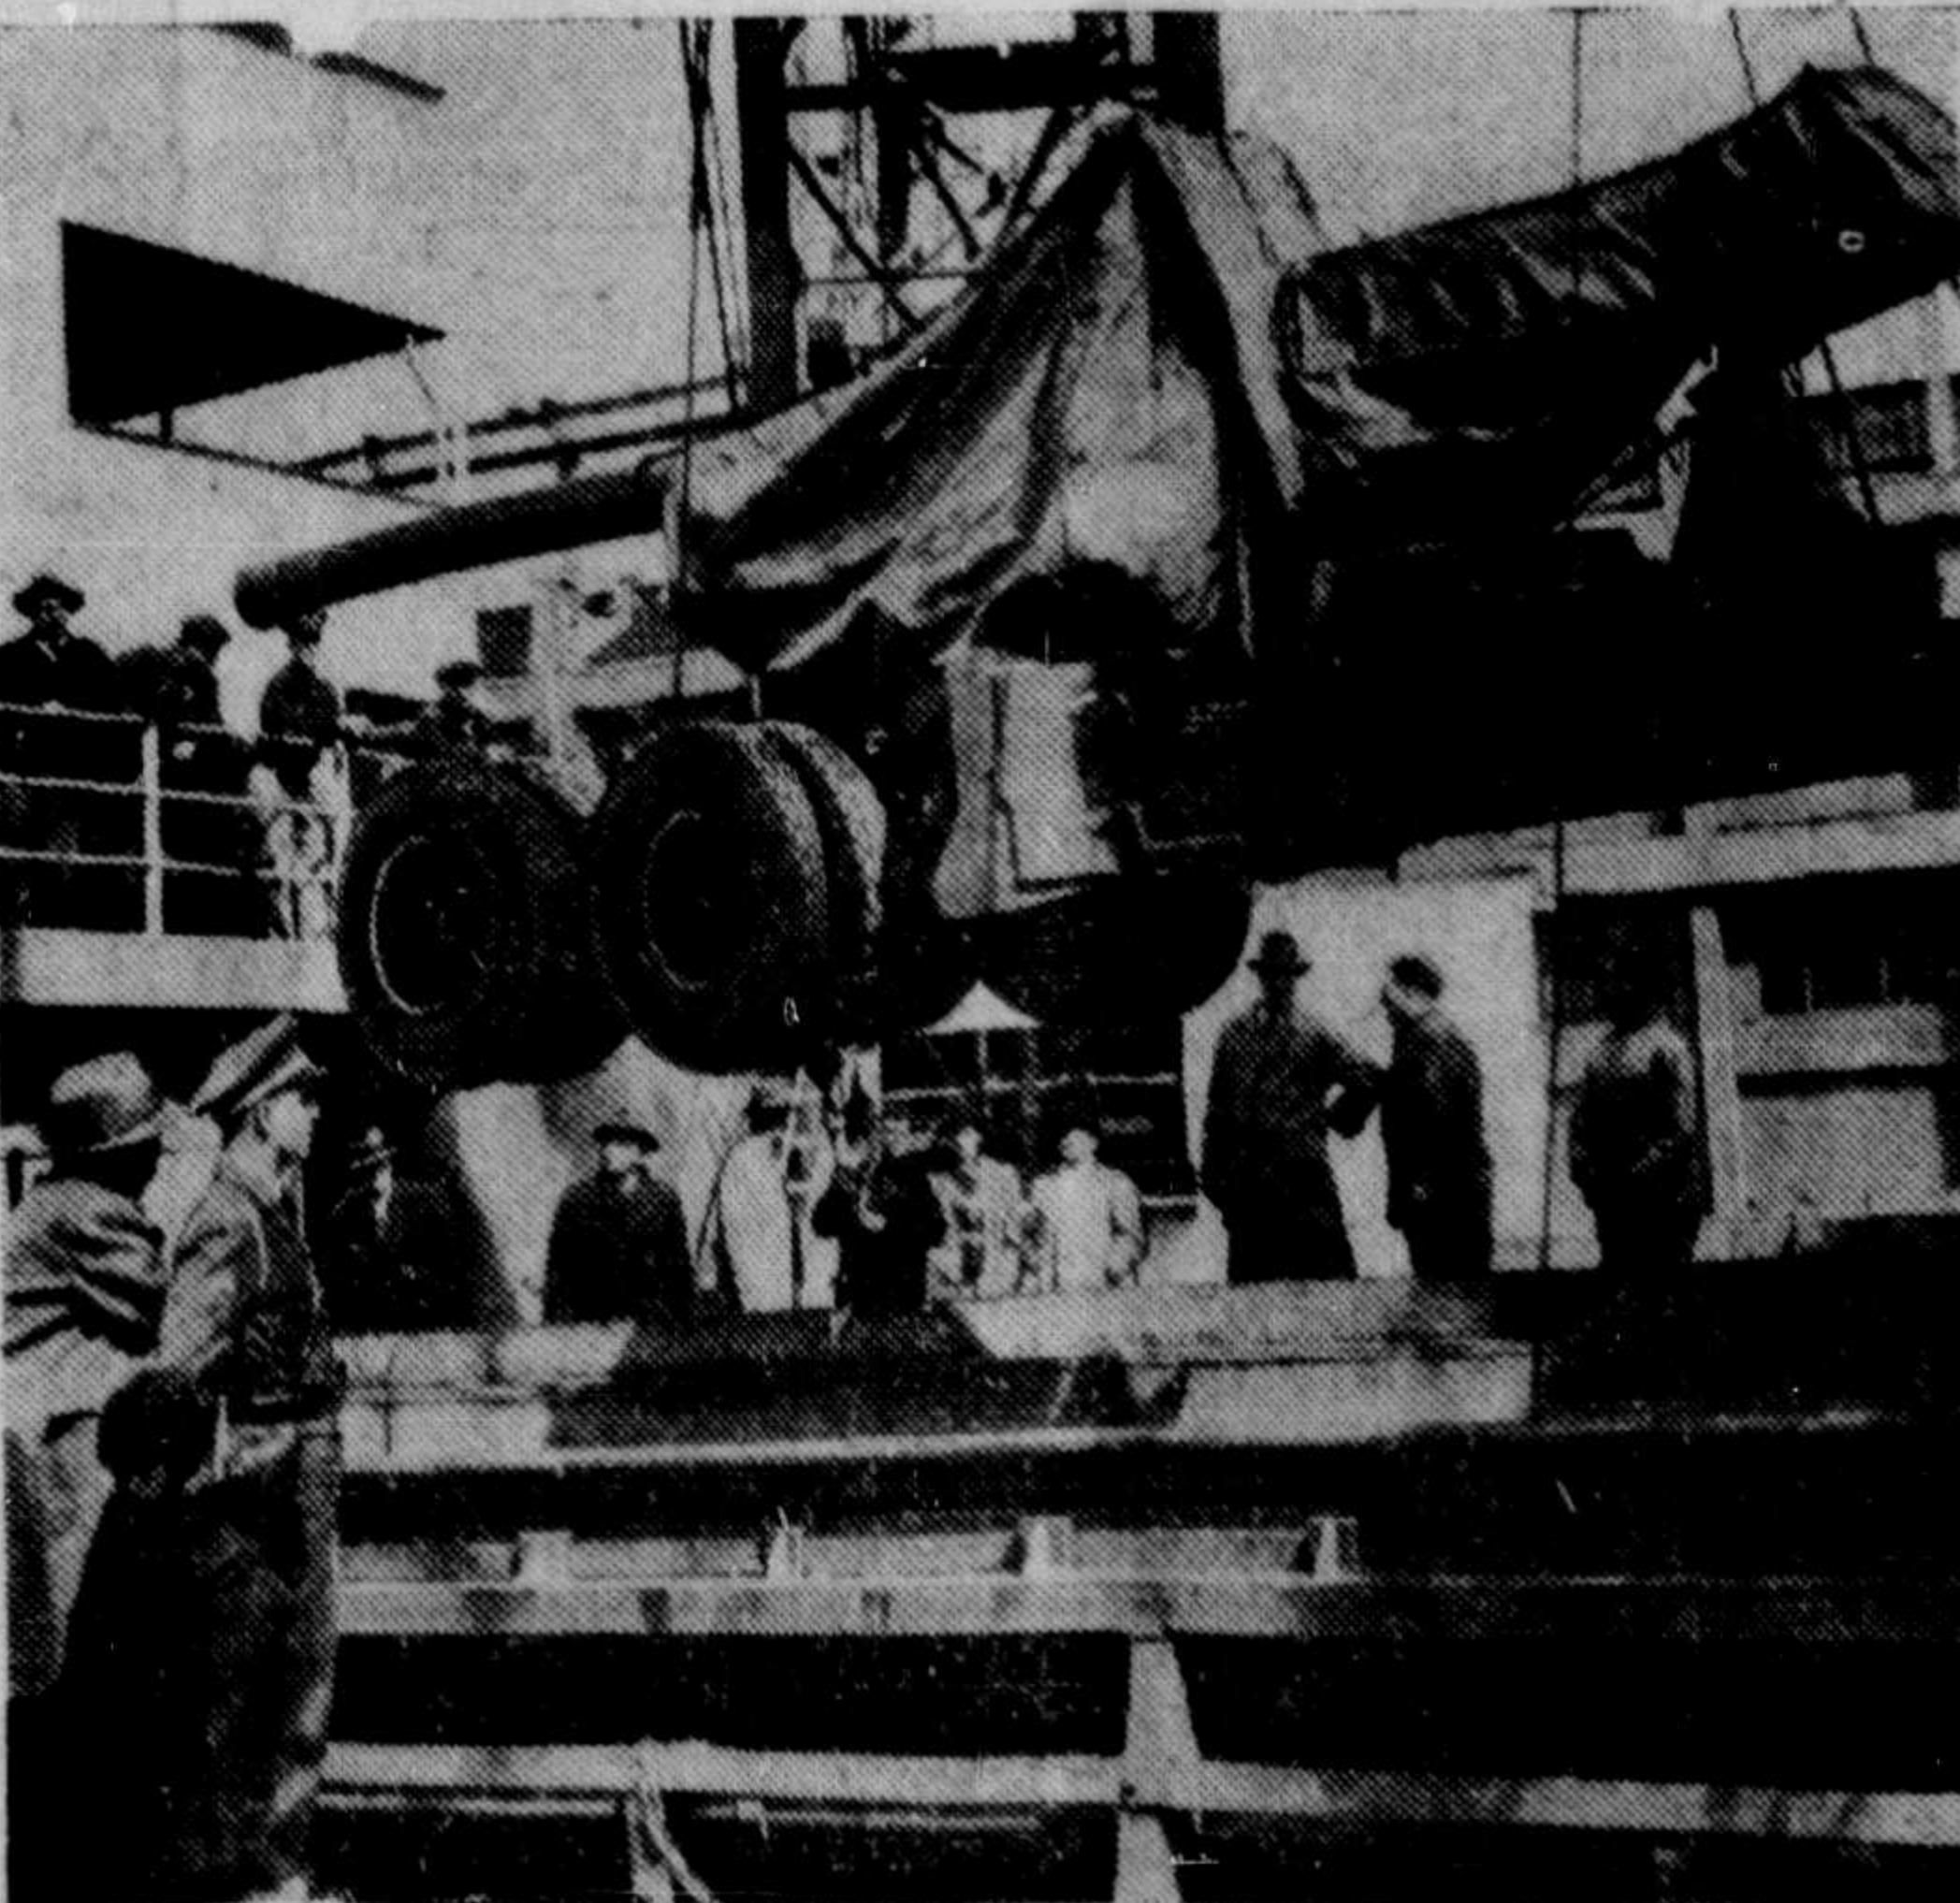

Forecast
North Coast Region—Cloudy with sunny intervals and an occasional shower today. A few clouds overnight and tomorrow morning becoming cloudy in the afternoon. Light rain beginning in the afternoon. Continuing cold. Winds light becoming southeasterly (20) tomorrow afternoon. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 32 and 45.

About Fish Regulations

Executive council of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is wiring Hon. Robert Mayhew, minister of fisheries, asking what steps, if any, are being taken to implement recommendations to the International Fisheries Commission, especially in regard to a split season, with a view to spreading out the season and taking better advantage of conservation quotas.
Recent statements in Ottawa by Mr. Mayhew in answer to questions prompted the executive to make the inquiries.
E. T. Applewhite M.P. is also being contacted.

Second B.E. Case Now On

McKnight and Thompson Being Tried in Connection With Gordon & Anderson Burglary
At the second trial of George McKnight and Stewart Thompson on a breaking and entering charge, which began in Supreme Court Assizes this morning, taxi driver Ernest Jabour told the court that around the hours of 3 p.m. Christmas Eve, he drove George McKnight to the rear of the Gordon & Anderson premises on Third Avenue. After a signal was given, McKnight was admitted through the rear door. A short while later, said Jabour, McKnight and Thompson emerged and with several articles entered the waiting taxi. McKnight and Thompson are jointly charged with breaking and entering the establishment.
McKnight, in cross-examination, asked Jabour if previous arrangements had been made with him (McKnight).
Jabour said "No."
Jabour testified that McKnight had told him to keep the articles for a few days. He reported McKnight as saying: "We didn't get anything."

ARMS CONTINUE TO FLOW TO FRANCE— A massive 155-mm. Howitzer is lowered aboard ship at the Brooklyn, N.Y., army base pier, bound for France under the billion dollar mutual defence assistance pact. A number of big field pieces and a quantity of rifles were in the shipment, one of the many which French Communist organizations are attempting to prevent delivery in France.

An independent daily newspaper devoted to the upbuilding of Prince Rupert and northern and central British Columbia. Published every afternoon except Sunday by Prince Rupert Daily News Ltd., 3rd Avenue, Prince Rupert, British Columbia.

Still Our Backbone

PRINCE RUPERT'S MEN OF THE SEA, her good fishermen, will soon be heading westward and northward again and with them will go our good wishes. Other industries and businesses may develop and sometimes we may take our fisheries as a matter of course as we do things with which we have been associated for a long time and which have become a part of our normal existence.

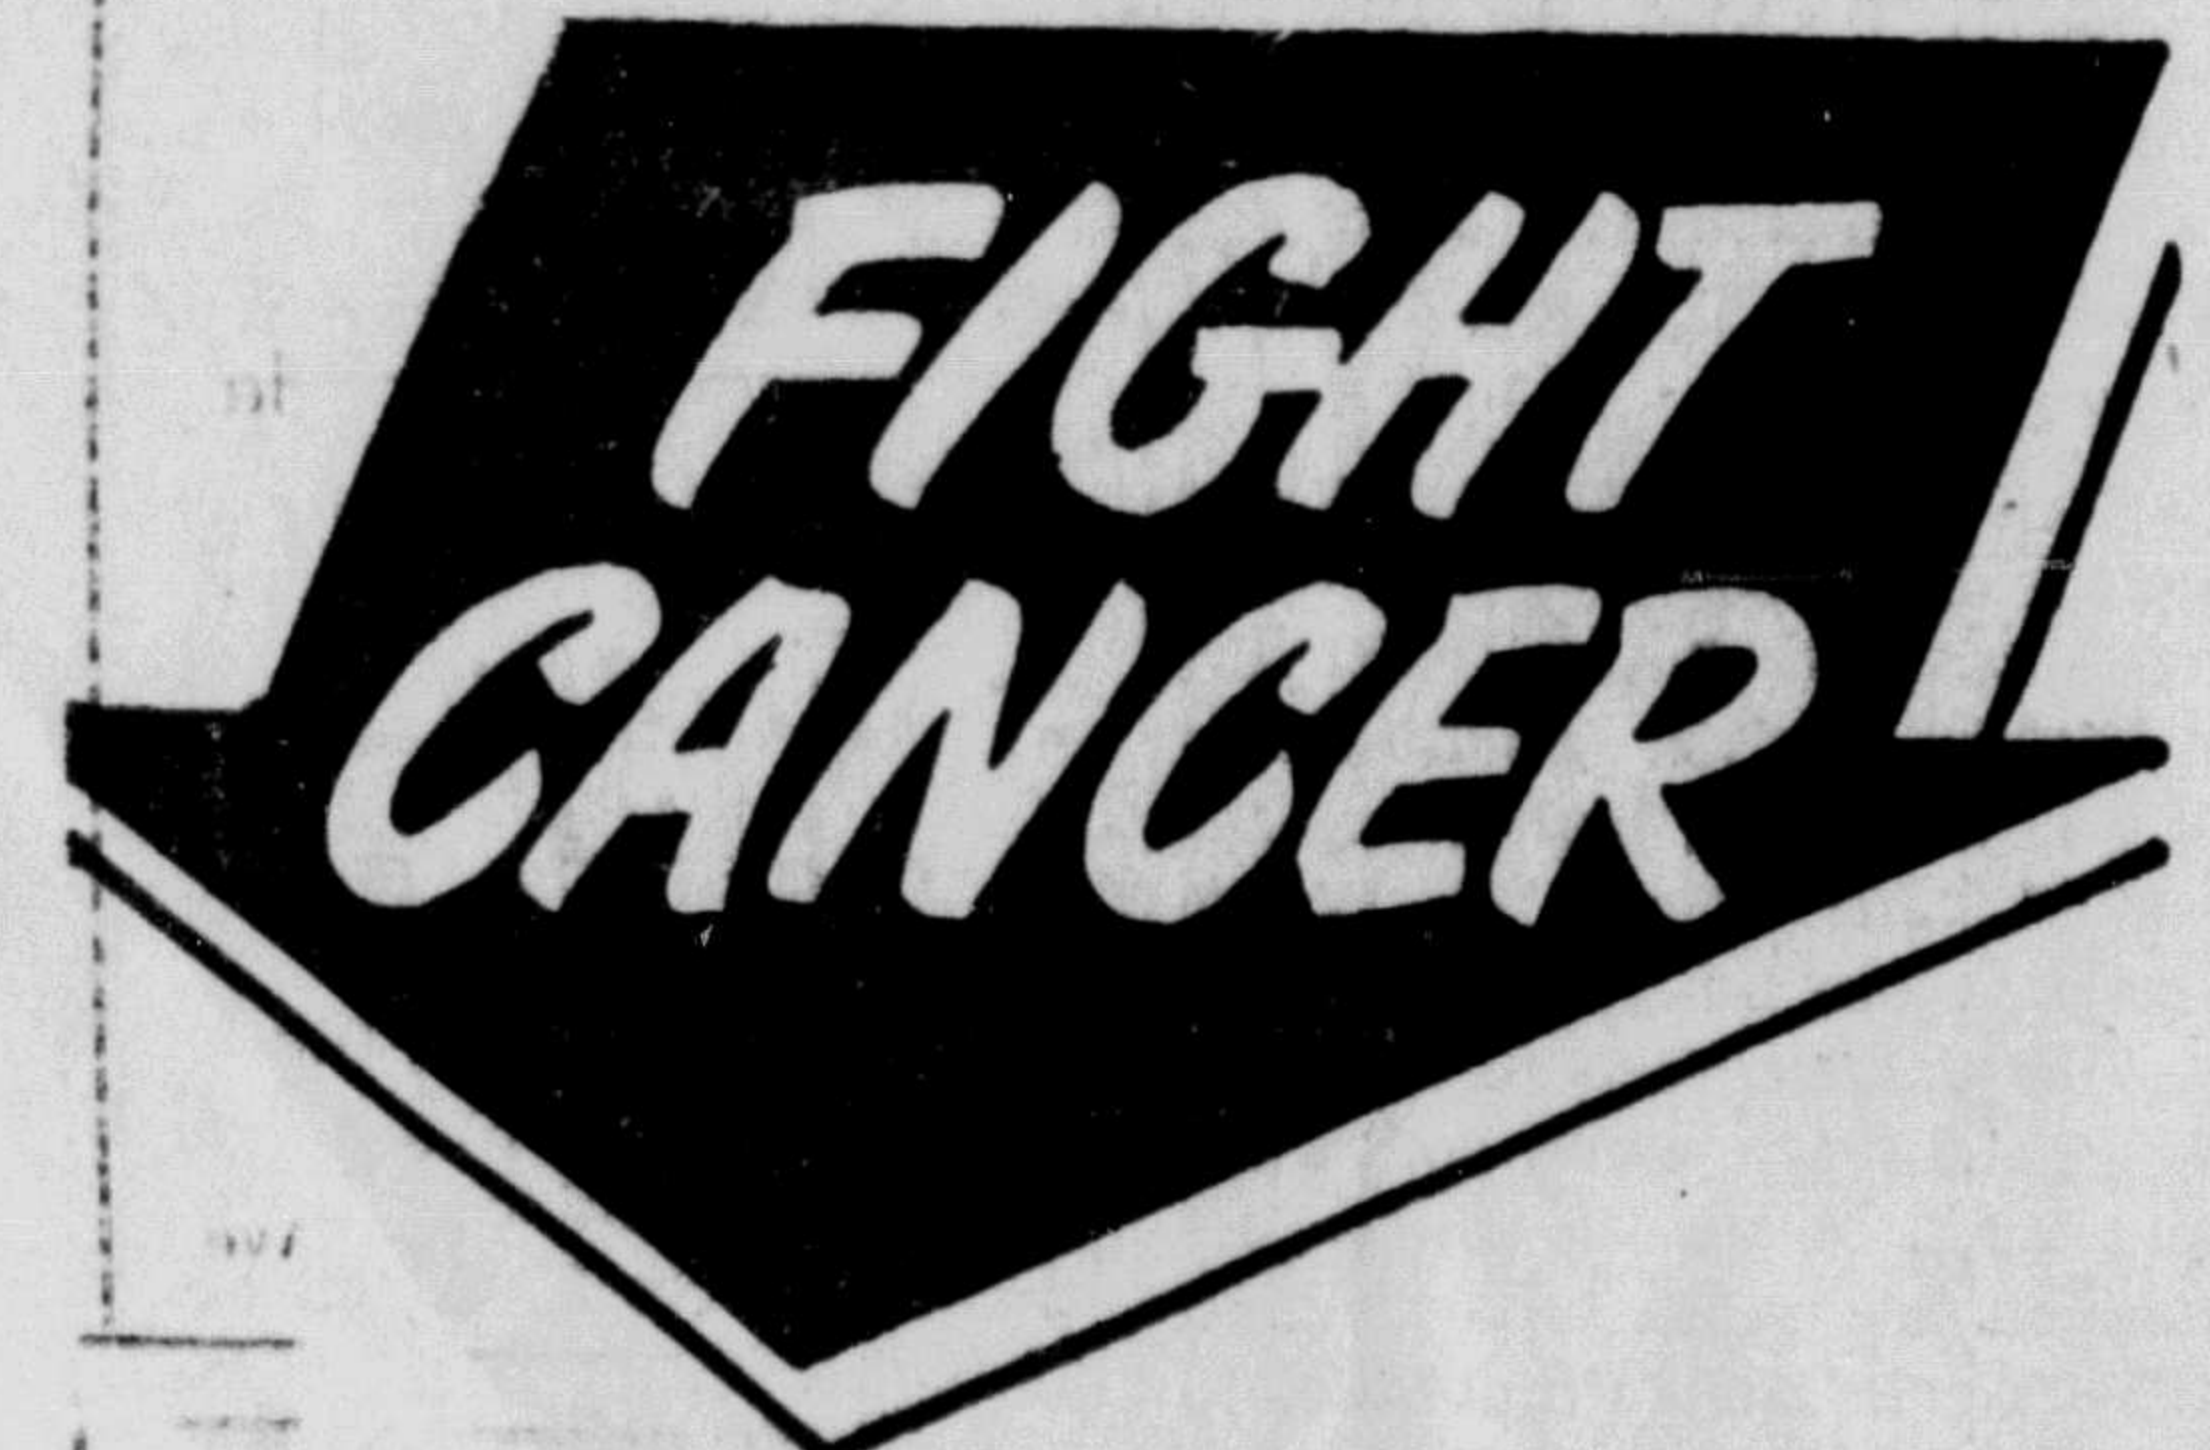

Prince Rupert has grown and expanded these last ten years or so and, perhaps, we do not realize that our fishing industry has done likewise, having developed in ratio to the increase in our population and our economic growth. All we need to do is to look at our waterfront today and compare its appearance with what it was a decade ago.

Look at our new fish processing buildings, our marine service establishments, our fuel stations, our floats today and picture them against those of a few years ago! All have their basic foundation on the fisheries which, indeed, have kept pace and are still our economic mainstay.

A SMILE

A smile costs nothing but gives much. It takes but a moment, but the memory of it may last forever. None are so rich that can get along without it—and none are so poor but that can be made rich by it. It enriches those who receive, without making poor those who give. It creates sunshine in the home, fosters good will in business, and is the best antidote for trouble. Yet it cannot be begged, borrowed or stolen, for it is of no value unless it is freely given away.

Some people are too busy to give you a smile—Give them one of yours—For the good Lord knows that no one needs a smile so badly as he or she who has no more smiles left to give.

THE CHRISTIAN'S PRIZE

(By Rev. Earl Solland, St. Paul's Lutheran Church)

The Apostle Paul calls our attention to the fact that there is a prize offered to every Christian who successfully lives a Godly life here on earth. In the ninth chapter of First Corinthians he compares this Christian experience to that of a man who is running a race. The athlete makes himself fit for the trying ordeal and does away with any form of self-indulgence which would make him physically unfit. Then he tells us that we should use the same logic regarding spiritual fitness.

Physical fitness, together with proper effort, is required to win. At one of the contests between the track men of the college which I attended and another school one of our athletes was well in the lead as he was running the home stretch. Then he looked around to see where the other runners were. In that other moment he lost his stride and came in second at the finish. He was so concerned to know what the others were doing that he was not able to do his best. So also we find that if we are to compete successfully for the prize God offers, we must learn to do our utmost without regarding what others are doing.

The prize for the Christian is pictured by Christ in the twentieth chapter of Matthew. It is called Heaven, God's gift for man. Elsewhere in the Bible we find brief descriptions of this wonderful place. It should be a matter of interest to learn about this prize. And, as we learn to know its value, we should be certain that we do not lose it. The prize is so precious that it is worth striving for. The price of that award is the price of personal self-denial which is required to live a Godly life.

Perhaps we can ask ourselves some profitable questions. Since we want the prize of Heaven, can we afford to do anything which would rob us of such a prize? A man does not need much religion if he does not intend to spend eternity with God in Heaven. If, however, he wants to spend eternity with God in Heaven, he needs Jesus Christ to be his ever present companion in life. The presence of Christ will enable him to do that which is required to live a Godly life. Certainly it means a different kind of life from that which would otherwise be lived. It means the denial of many of those things which seem to please so much, but which later rob us of true joy. Is there anything which gives temporary pleasure that is worth having in place of the prize of eternal life? No there is not.

Who can have this prize? God says that it is available to all who want it. If you want it badly enough you can have it. You should remember that you can't live an ungodly life and also enjoy God's blessings now and in eternity. Run the race well. Keep your body in subjection. Look towards the goal which is your calling in Christ Jesus. Then you shall win.

Organization of 'teen age clubs by the mounties is reported to be working as slick as pie. Teen age troubles are disappearing. To start with, any young fellow respects that jacket with all its impiles. Then, he has a friend in the other young fellow—tallish, active, shapely and capable of knowing and doing so many different things, and popular without half trying. Yeah! A good guy to have on your side.

Whoever, in Prince Rupert, thought of allowing Port Day to fade away and gradually die is going to suffer a grievous disappointment. A port like this ought to be celebrated anyway, on general principles, for there are few better. Enough is going on here, with more activities on the way, to take as a matter of course, the eager looking forward to the annual summer blowout. Naturally, Port Day and Sport Day go together.

It's wet enough for the most exacting Manitoban to "remember the Red River valley" just now when floods are sweeping the pioneer prairie province for long distances. There come times when wheat fields look like washed-out.

city. This was decided at a meeting of the council Thursday night. The Commission has granted a permit here for transportation of tourists along a certain designated route. Steamship companies, Secretary H. F. Glassey said, would offer the $1.20 tickets to tourists aboard vessels and transportation would await them at the dock.

The meeting began a few minutes late due to the late arrival of President Ed Mussellam. But Mr. Mussellam was hastily forgiven. He had been attending a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Port Day committee and announced that Port Day has a chance of survival.

It was announced that two or three sites in the city are available as tourist camp areas. The council is taking the matter up with persons concerned with a view of having an auto camp established in the very near future. Prince Rupert is the only major point on Highway 16 that does not boast an auto camp.

Secretary Glassey and John Sims were appointed to draft information about Prince Rupert to be forwarded to Kate Alken in Eastern Canada. She recently contacted the Jaycees here for information about the city that could be used on her Dominion-wide broadcasts. The letter was turned over to the Public Relations Council.

A finance committee was appointed with N. R. Young as chairman.

Comes advice from Toronto of an increase of four cents in the wholesale price of tea which, in Toronto, would bring it to $1.19 retail. But then, gossiping gracefully, is not always a discouraged art.

Front pages down east scream with scareheads telling about the tear-gas, rifle shooting story in the Quesnel mountain country, between police and a young couple who felt so friendly to each other. Northern B.C. could do with a different type of publicity—and far better scenery.

The twenty-fourth of May, this year, falls on a Wednesday and July 1, Dominion Day, on a Saturday. It has already been suggested that Ottawa amend public holidays legislation, whereby observance of the twenty-fourth and the first will always be on a Monday. Already, Labor Day and Thanksgiving have it that way. There is no good reason why the change could not become effective. Where's the harm in enjoying more extended leave from noon Saturday to Tuesday. You have your outing, change, rest and resume the job, feeling that after all, it's not such an unmitigated nuisance of a world.

McKNIGHT

consideration the fact that McKnight was defending himself and, although some questions to crown witnesses were rough, no objection was made.

Mr. Brown strongly pointed out to the jury that, if they believed Violet Sampere's story, then the Crown's case was out. He referred to Const. White's evidence. The constable stated that normally Indians have no clock time sense. "She was completely wrong of the time," Mr. Brown declared, "although the episode is probably right."

There was very little evidence against Thompson, the prosecutor said. Only things linking Thompson with the crime was the crow bar. Jabour testified he was carrying, and an overheard conversation by Miss Sampere. (The native girl testified that she saw McKnight holding a piece of metal and saying to Thompson: "If we had this last night, everything would have been alright".)

Defense counsel for Thompson, R. M. MacLeod, delivered a very short address to the jury. He pointed out that it was never established by the Crown that Thompson was in the store on Christmas Eve. Mr. MacLeod declared that Jabour's and Miss Sampere's evidence was questionable.

"If you find Sampere's and Jabour's evidence not truthful, then there is no case against Thompson."

Mr. Justice Coady explained to the jury that a person is liable to be arrested on a similar charge although he does not actually commit a crime.

"If Thompson were assisting McKnight, then he would be as guilty although he may never have put foot in the building. But, the Judge later stated, if after the crime was committed the bar was carried by Thompson, then he is not guilty. He would not be a principal offender, Mr. Justice Coady said.

Mr. Coady declared that circumstantial evidence was important in the case as that there was no direct evidence of commission of the crime.

He warned the jury panel that, although McKnight and Thompson were always together; lived in the same room, and ate together; it did not mean a relationship exists as far as the charges are concerned.

Accused on Stand

Taking the stand, McKnight recalled Ernest Jabour, Violet Sampere, W. J. Rance and defence witness V. G. Dow. He asked if they could identify clothing which he was said to have worn Christmas Eve. They could not recall his attire at that time.

Const. Jack White was first crown witness and he testified

LEAVE CANADA TO WORK FOR NIPPONESE — Four hundred pure-bred angora rabbits from Kitchener, Ont., are flying to Tokyo, Japan, to start a new industry there. Here, a young Vancouverite makes an Easter food offering to the long-haired, pink eyed rodents, before they took to the sky to Nippon.

that the safe in Rance and Hardy Coady said Jabour would be protected by the Canada Evidence Act.

"Do you still bootleg?" asked McKnight. "In a small way," replied Jabour. The court room engaged in muffled laughter.

All witnesses were dealt with shortly after 12 noon and at 1:45, pleaded with Mr. Justice Coady T. W. Brown, R. M. MacLeod and that he should not be forced to McKnight commenced addressing answer the question. Justice the jury.

Royal Hotel Are Champs

With both teams rolling slightly below par, the Sunday Section League winners—Royal Hotel—edged out the Friday nighters, A. E. Smith, by 118 pins last night to take the Ten Pin Leagues' Fashion Footwear Trophy.

The Royal Squad played a slightly more steady game than their opponents as both teams found it a little difficult to relax.

Although A. E. Smith's John Schroeder was the high bowler for the night with a commanding 530 pins, the Royals presented a much better showing all round.

Tonight the league will officially end with a big banquet to be held in the private room at the bowling alleys. The various trophies and prizes will be presented to the winners by the League President Lance Potterton.

Members of the winning Royal Hotel squad are: W. Smith, J. Ciccone, V. Ciccone, N. Gundersen, S. Bury and M. Simondson. A. E. Smith's runner-ups had in their line-up: L. Hemmons, C. Dixon, J. Schroeder, J. Paul and E. Garner.

THE WINNING GOAL—Centre, Don Raleigh slides along the ice after scoring the winning goal for New York Rangers in an overtime battle against Detroit Red Wings. The game was played in Detroit Tuesday night and the victory lifted the Rangers into a tie with the N.H.L. champions in the Stanley Cup finals. Red Wing goalie Harry Lumley is shown making a desperate but unsuccessful effort to block the puck. Rangers won 4-3. (CP Photo)

By building up a substantial lead in the first two games the Royal squad could afford to drop the last game which the Smithmen took, but not by enough.

Plan Library For Hospital

At the first regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Prince Rupert General Hospital in the Ladies' Lounge of the Civic Centre Thursday night, business includes the election of three members to the executive committee—Mrs. L. W. Kergin, Mrs. C. G. Ham and Mrs. E. A. Wales.

The purpose of the Auxiliary is to render any assistance it can to the General Hospital. With this in view plans were made to hold a rummage sale on May 6. A tea will be held on June 1.

The first project of the newly-formed Auxiliary is to start a library for the hospital. A committee of four ladies—Mesdames W. S. Kergin, A. G. Boas, M.

Brydges and R. G. Moore—was set up to get the library underway. Children's and adult fiction books are needed and may be left at the Public Library or the Hospital or by contacting any member of the library committee.

The Auxiliary feel that their work for the benefit of the local hospital is necessary and desirable and are seeking the help and support of the public generally.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

There are a few people who are inclined to wait too long before planting but, say the experts, for everyone in that category there are at least twenty who will rush. Both extremists lose. Generally there is no need to hurry planting, a few days or even a few weeks in most parts of Canada will not make much difference. And with very tender things that will not stand any frost, it is always best to wait until soil and air are really warm.

In the vegetable line some further explanation is needed. Here the good gardener always spreads out his sowings of the different kinds. The sound plan is to divide the seed into at least three parts. The first is sown a little on the early side, the second about the normal time, the last at least two weeks later than usual. With a standard long season, vegetables like carrots, beets, beans, and so on, even more spreading out is advisable, as this lengthens the season for fresh-from-the-garden crops.

First Plantings
Aside from those extra early jobs, which should be carried out just as soon as one can get a spade in the ground—lawn work, sweet peas, planting nursery stock etc.—the other garden routine divides itself into three spring phases. There is the planting of the very hardy flowers and vegetables which do not mind a bit of frost or even snow. There are the semi-hardy sorts that can stand a little frost, though they do not like it. Finally there are the very tender plants that frost will kill and even severe cold will damage.

In the first category come flowers and vegetables that under normal conditions would seed themselves. These are things like Alyssum, cosmos, poppies and scores of other flowers. They are all specially listed as hardy in any good Canadian seed catalogue and are similarly described on the seed packet. Among vegetables in this tough group will be lettuce, spinach, carrots, parsnips and, of course, garden peas. In the second group there is a great variety of flowers. It is at this time, when danger of serious frost has passed, that we get started plants transplanted outside—things like petunias, zinnias, etc. In the vegetable line, beans, the first corn and potatoes, the main planting of beets

"Black Hand" Is Exciting

Gripping drama of a young Italian who comes to America early in the century to avenge the murder of his father comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here from Monday to Wednesday next in "Black Hand," the feature picture for these days. Gene Kelly has the principal role and other leading members of the cast are Thersa Celli and J. Carroll Nash.

"The Black Hand" will be remembered as an underworld organization in New York which preyed upon new immigrants. Teresa Celli is Kelly's childhood sweetheart whose pleas he ignores. J. Carroll Nash is a friendly policeman who also endeavours to advise him. A series of exciting events culminates in a dramatic trial and a desperate chase and hand to hand fight.

The hero comes through without committing crime and is reunited at the end with his pretty sweetheart.

SPRING SALE IS BRIGHT SUCCESS

Beautifully decorated with daffodils and harmonizing spring colors, the Women's Auxiliary of St. Peter's Anglican Church held a highly successful spring sale in the parish hall Thursday afternoon. Archdeacon E. D. Hodson opened the affair and Mrs. A. J. Croxford, president of the Evening Branch, received the many guests.

Mrs. W. B. Skinner and Mrs. J. W. Moorehouse were in charge of the tea room, assisted by Mrs. Darrow Gomez and Mrs. D. Gable. The serviteurs were Mrs. Robert Kelsey, Mrs. William McLean, Mrs. Wilfrid Taylor, Mrs. James Mellor and Mrs. H. A. Thorsteinsson. Acting as cashier was Mrs. W. D. Griffiths.

In charge of other departments were:

Home Cooking — Mrs. A. E. Taylor, Mrs. E. D. Hodson and Mrs. David Owens.

Sewing — Mrs. William Davidson and Mrs. H. V. Tattersal.

Candy — Mrs. J. Prince and Mrs. D. Sievert.

About $105 was realized.

Waterfront Mourns Passing Of Esteemed Figure—And Now The Halibut Season

Prince Rupert waterfront during the past week has mourned one of its best known and most esteemed figures—Jack Boddie, long time chief engineer of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., whose sudden death on Sunday last came as a shock to many friends. There are not so many left now who were identified with the waterfront and the fisheries in Prince Rupert as long as Mr. Boddie had been. Not only as chief engineer and later marine superintendent as well of the "Cold Storage" was he a prominent figure. He was also well known as a yachtman in his earlier days and had much to do with the organization of the Prince Rupert Swimming Club and the development of the Salt Lake resort. His quiet but stout and sound personality will be missed.

Vessels of the halibut fleet will be heading again for the banks during the coming week with the season, as set by the International Fisheries Commission, due to commence on May 1, a week from Monday. Process of departure and pattern of operation will be much the same this year as in previous seasons. There will be the usual quick clean-up, it is supposed, of the quota in Area No. 2, which is now only a matter of a few weeks, and, ere June is passed, it will, no doubt, be exhausted, leaving the smaller vessels to turn to some other line of endeavour while the larger vessels proceed to Area No. 3. The past week has seen a number of vessels arrive from Vancouver on their way to the grounds.

On her initial voyage of the year in the Alaska service, C.P.R.
