BEFORE RED STORM BROKE IN KOREA—On his arrival in Tokyo, President Syngman Rhee of Korea is greeted by General Douglas MacArthur, Allied commander in Japan. Just a short time later in Seoul, the Korean capital, rumblings of trouble grew to storm proportions as Communist-led rebels provoked a revolt in which two cities in the American-occupied section of South Korea were captured. Flying home, Rhee convoked an extraordinary cabinet meeting to deal with the critical situation.

WHAT IS OLD AGE?

THERE ARE 25,000 PERSONS in British Columbia seeking old age pensions and the provincial premier says some plan to bring about fulfilment of a more adequate compulsory pension plan must be worked out. What is old age, anyway? An exacting question. Few, if any, persons are exactly alike. Sometimes circumstances come when, in sudden emergency, a man astonishes himself with what he is capable of doing. How much of the soicalled burden of years is mental and how much of it physical?

WARS_THEN AND NOW

A GENTLEMAN with a love of research is out with the statement that in the past twentyfice centuries the world experienced about 900 international wars and 1,500 domestic disturbances. No one will go to the trouble of disputing him. The fact of it is that, apparently, the further back a war can be traced, the more harmless it becomes. There is no comparison between an atomic bomb and a bow-and-arrow and it'is certain a tank would make a knight in armor feel uncommonly dizzv.

EXPERTS, OF LATE, have been suffering re-- verses. The United States elections afforded the most outstanding example in generations so far as public life was concerned of where practically every major calculation and conclusion went opposite to the way in which it had been intended, fostered and fully expected it would and should go.

The result, so astounding, should have a chastening, a sobering effect on a class of individuals who, through long years of experience denied others and possibly with a gift for foresight and acute understanding, had come to regard themselves as superior progresticators. Presumably they knew about all there was to know respecting an almost sacred region spoken of as "the inside."

There were a million explanations, ranging from the fact that corn is plentiful and cheap, to the fact that customers were scarce and wouldn't buy. Anyhow, it adds up to the first real break in the meat price spiral in nearly two years. The next qustion is whether the price break will last. severed, Col. Keith Dixon, Prince Rupert agent of the Department of Transport Marine Section which administers the lighthouse service, made appeals to passing boats to learn what had happened.

The Vancouver tug Edward J. Coyle responded, making an effort to approach the island on Thursday but was unable to get close on account of rough weather. On the same day, the tug P.W. reported that it had seen what was believed to be a light but, on account of rain showers, its crew could not be certain. They also were unable to approach.

Col. Dixon radioed the steamer Prince George, southbound, for information as it passed the light station. On Friday, Capt | Ernest Caldwell replied that he had been unable to see a light.

BC. Packers cannery at Namu was then contacted, but it was not until yesterday that they could get a boat to the island. The packer Sunny Boy landed and rescued the Wilkins family.
